

Aspen's P.O.V.

I feel his cock slam into me to the hilt and I can't help moaning at the intrusion of his thick, long cock into my pussy. I didn't think I would be able to go another round after his Lycan took control, but my body seems to think otherwise.

His cock feels so huge inside me, stretching me wide open as he slowly pulls out and then he slams back into my pussy with force. It hurts a little, but it feels so good and I whimper as he slowly pulls out again.

I raise my hips to meet his thrusts into my core, he pounds my pussy with every thrust, pumping harder and deeper inside me. Ripples of ecstasy flooding me as he changes the angle of my body, going deeper in to my hungry pussy.

With one hand he holds himself up as his other hand slides down my waist to my hip and as his hand travels toward my ass I remember what his Lycan had done. I liked the feeling of pressure on my backdoor and I feel a bit disappointed when his finger passes on to my pussy.

His finger doesn't stay there long as it slowly makes its way back to my ass and then he slowly pushes his finger in side my backdoor. It stings a little, but I love the feeling and I moan out loud as he pushes deeper.

My body is writhing under his ministrations, taking me closer and closer to my orgasm. I can feel that he is not far behind me, he pounds my pussy harder as he pushes his finger harder and deeper in to my backdoor.

I pull his head down towards me and with my tongue I draw circles on the spot where I will mark him. I feel my teeth elongate as he pushes me closer to my orgasm with his fingers and as I come undone I bite down on his neck.

He starts to lose control of his rhythm and his mouth is kissing from my jawline to my neck. I feel his teeth on my marking spot and as he punctures my skin I come again on his cock with his release close behind.

As we clean our marks he slowly pulls out of me and I whimper at the loss of contact as he lays down next to me. After a few minutes he lifts me up and takes me to the bathroom to shower.

I am glad he is with me, because once we are done cleaning each other up I am barely able to stand on my own. "I got you, Baby." He whispers as he lifts me up bridal-style.

We don't bother with clothes as we get back in to bed and before I can say anything to Daniel I drift off to sleep. I sleep straight through the night and when I wake in the morning I am confused at first, until I remember the events of the day before.

His arms are wrapped tightly around me and I wish I could stay in his arms a little longer, but my bladder doesn't allow me to snuggle into his hold. I try to wriggle out of his hold, but he pulls me even tighter to his chest.

"Where do you think you are going, Beautiful?" He asks, still half asleep. I tell him I have to go to the bathroom and reluctantly he lets me out of his embrace as he says, "Hurry back."

On my way to the bathroom, I see that it is nine in the morning and I link Hunter "Are you awake, Sweetie?" I ask. I have to repeat the question before she answers me "Awake and at the breakfast table with Brent and Gabe."

After I am done in the bathroom, I walk back to the bed and crawl under the covers to snuggle up to Daniel. "Do you think the others are awake?" He asks and I tell him that they are awake and having breakfast.

"I linked Hunter on my way to the bathroom, she has a tendency to sleep in if I don't wake her." He smiles at me before he devours my mouth and soon we are both breathing heavily. Suddenly the front door slams open and I hear Hunter yelling from outside.

"You really hate your life, don't you Gabe?" Daniel and I start laughing as we hear someone mutter and then the front door closes again. "Looks like he doesn't hate his life that much." Daniel chuckles in my head.

For a moment I am stunned, because I forgot that with us marking each other we can mind-link and that is when I start laughing uncontrollably. The look on his face makes me laugh even louder and it takes me a while before I can explain myself to him.

He chuckles as I explain myself to him and he pulls me back in to his arms, he peppers my face with kisses making me giggle. "Mom, can you tell Dad that Gabe is becoming impatient. No idea why he has his pants up in a bunch." Hunter says in our mind-link.

"Daniel, Hunter just linked me," I say and then I repeat what she wanted me to say to him. Yesterday I thought I had imagined it, but now I see it again in his eyes. Hunter referring to him as Dad means the world to him and I kiss him on his forehead.

"She never had a Father in her life and I know she has waited for me to find my Mate for most of her life. She is a handful; she is stubborn and annoying and she most definitely misses a filter.

I love her with all my heart and she is the one good thing that came out of my nightmare. I don't know if I would have been able to survive all these years if it had not been for her." My voice breaks but the look in his eyes tells he that he understands.

"Let's safe our Daughter from our Gamma, before she kicks his ass again." He says with a devilish smile on his face before he pulls me out of bed with him. We don't waste much time as we get ready for the day and ten minutes later we are on our way down the stairs.

I walk into the kitchen to make coffee, while Daniel heads to the front door to let them know that they can come in. "Goodmorning, Dad. You look well rested." I hear Hunter say and as I turn around my eyes water at the sight in front of me.

She is on Daniel's back as he walks into the kitchen, followed by his Beta and Gamma. She kisses his cheek before she jumps of his back and rushes over to me, pulling me in to a hug as she says "Goodmorning, Mom." I hug her back and kiss her forehead before I turn back to the coffee machine.

Daniel, Gabe and Brent are in the living-room talking about the quarrel, while I ask her if she behaved herself. "Mom, I promised Dad that I would behave myself." She says as if I have just offended her and then we both burst out in laughter.

"It means the world to Daniel that you call him Dad. He will love you and care for you as if you are his own, despite all your flaws." She looks at me with watery eyes and I pull her in to a hug as Daniel rushes into the kitchen.

"What is wrong, Hunter?" He asks panicked and for a moment I stare at him. Bella is the one to point out to me that he can feel my emotions and I somehow reflected Hunter's emotions to him.

Without warning she pulls out of my arms and jumps in to his as she softly cries on his shoulder. Through our mind-link I tell him what I told Hunter, but that I don't understand how he was able to sense her emotions.

"Brent, can you get the coffee?" He asks. "I think we have to clarify a few things to Aspen and Hunter." After we get to the living-room Daniel sits down on the couch with Hunter on his lap and I snuggle into his side as I hold her hand.

Daniel wipes away her tears as Gabe puts creamer and sugar in a mug of coffee before he hands it to Hunter and to my surprise she doesn't hand it back after the first sip. "I watched her last night and this morning as she made her coffee." Gabe explains to me.

We drink our coffee in silence and I wonder what it is Daniel thinks he needs to clarify for us. Hunter has a small smile on her face as she drinks her coffee and I can feel that both she and Daniel are happy and content.

I always wondered why I was able to feel Hunter's emotions, but I never had anyone around that could tell me anything about her Lycan or how certain things work for a Lycan.
