

Brent's P.O.V.

I slowly open my eyes as I wake up with my head on a hard surface and for a moment I wonder if I fell asleep behind my desk, but then I remember what happened when I stepped out of the SUV.

A smile spreads across my face as I smell the intoxicating scent of my Mate, Joey is purring in my head and we both feel content in the arms of our Mate. Gabe is still fast asleep and Joey shows me what he wants, my cock hardening as I slowly get out of his arms.

Sliding down the bed towards his crotch, I lick my lips as I look at his cock and I wonder how long it will take before he wakes up. Gabe is laying on his back with one knee pulled up to the side, making it easy for me to get between his legs and I lick his shaft from the bottom to the top.

His cock hardens as Gabe groans in his sleep and I repeat my action a few times, listening and looking at my Mate. I build up the speed and pressure as I take his cock into my mouth and his groans and moans become louder.

I never take my eyes off his face as I gently bite up and down his cock and I see his eyes open slowly. He mutters before he comes in my mouth, shooting hot gobs of cum down my throat and I make sure I get every last drop of it.

The moment I reach his face after I trailed kisses up his body, I see that he is deep in thought and I press my finger against his ass to pull him out of it. I press harder and harder as I hear his breathing become labored.

As I kiss him passionately I grab the lube and apply it on my cock and his backdoor. "Babe, please" Gabe mumbles and I know exactly what he wants, something we both want. My cock buried deep inside of him.

I push my finger in and out in short little movements and soon I add a second finger, his hole starts clenching around my fingers as I keep a steady pace on my ministrations.

He feels so tight around my fingers and I can't wait to slide my cock into his asshole, making him come as I mark him. I slowly pull my fingers out of him, I push my rock-hard cock against his entrance, once, twice.

I nudge it harder against his backdoor, one more hard push and his ass opens up for me. Gabe screams out in pleasure as I lean forward, pushing down on him and I ease further inside.

He is moving his ass around and with that he opens himself up for me, I go even deeper, all the way into the hilt. He pushes his ass up to meet my downward thrusts and I start to move in fast little jerky movements.

I pump and push into his asshole, embedding myself as deep as I can go and I crash into him from behind. He squeezes my shaft with his butt muscles, milking me as I go deeper.

I flip him on his back again and I push his knees towards his chest to angle his ass up to get better excess to his hole. My hands grip his hips hard, pushing my cock as deep as I can go.

I lean forward to kiss him hard and desperate; I look into his eyes as I slam back into him and he groans loudly. I trail kisses down his neck until I reach the marking spot, I lick and suck on it and I feel his cock twitch against my stomach.

"Please, Babe. I need...oh please.." Gabe mutters as I keep my cock slamming into him without relenting on sucking his marking spot. I feel my balls tighten as my canines elongate and we both groan loudly as we bite down on the other's marking spot.

I feel his cum shooting against my stomach in short little bursts and I shoot my load into his backdoor, spurt after spurt; lasting for ages. My cock keeps twitching until he has squeezed every last drop out of it.

I lick his mark clean as he licks mine and smiling I look into the eyes of a man I have waited for my whole life, a man that I have known for just as long. "Where the hell have you been all my life?" I ask teasingly and we both burst out in laughter.

I lay down next to Gabe, putting my arm over his stomach and my head on his chest as a smile spreads across my face. "I love you, Brent. You have always been the only constant in my life, next to Daniel of course. I am glad that you are my Mate, I don't have to learn what I like or dislike about you.

You know everything there is to know about me and you still put up with me." He says with a laugh to his voice. I look up at him and I peck his lips before I lay my head back on his chest.

"I am glad you are my Mate, Gabe. I just wish we had found this out sooner, even though I have a feeling something else would have kept us apart. The ways of the Goddess are a mystery to all of us." I say.

"There have been times over the years that I wanted to give up, but just looking at both our parents or Daniel and Sarah was enough to hold on. Our Brothers finding their Mates, friends and allies that found their Mates.

They all showed me that I shouldn't give up and settle for a chosen Mate, that it would be worth the wait and tonight I realized that it was more than worth it. I love you, Gabe. I will always be grateful for having you as my Mate."

He pulls me closer to his chest and his hand runs circles on my back, slowly soothing my body as I slowly drift off to sleep in his arms.

Gabe's P.O.V.

Marcel stirs in my mind as we both slowly wake to the most amazing day of our life. I feel his arm on my stomach as I look at the top of his head, his head is resting on my chest near my heart and the sight of his relaxed face brings a smile to my face.

Looking back on our lives I realize that the both of us have always been protective of the other, I just always thought it had to do with the fact that we were both gay. Not every shifter is too keen on same sex couples and we both have experienced their prejudices on the matter.

Daniel always sided with us and anyone that acted against us was told to leave our territory, they were no longer welcome. Daniel would always make sure that everyone knew why someone was no longer invited or welcome.

I always felt a bit off if Brent was away on business with Daniel or vice versa and I would always be happy if we were together again. Maybe on a very deep level I felt he could be my Mate, but I am not sure I had been ready to find out and because of that reason I was willing to travel every Harvest Moon.

"I can't wait for Joey and me to mark each other, to make this bond complete on the next Full Moon." Marcel says and I smile at the thought of our Lycans to complete our bond, to finally be whole.

"Where did you go, Babe." I hear Brent ask and I see that he is fully awake. I tell him what I had been thinking about, he nods his head in agreement. "I think you might be right. I am not sure if I would have been ready to find out.

I do share your opinion that something always felt off if we were not together. But there is no point in looking back, it doesn't change anything. As a matter of fact, it might just frustrate us and right now I just want to look at the future."

I smile at him and I am about to kiss him when a hard knock is heard. "Who the hell disturbs a newly mated couple?" Brent grumbles and I reply, "Someone with a death wish." Making him chuckle as he makes his way over to the door.

He opens the door, only to slam it shut immediately and I look at him in confusion as he rushes into my closet. Luckily we are the same size, so my sweats actually fit him perfectly.

He opens the door again and says "Goodmorning, Princess. I am sorry that I slammed the door in your face, but I forgot I hadn't put clothes on." Hunter looks at him before her eyes glide over to me and the look on her face tells me that she has a nice remark for Brent.

"Is that Mate of yours an idiot, GeeGee? I have seen a cock before." She says as she walks into the room and Brent stares after her with his mouth wide open. "Princess, that is not nice." I say sternly, but I know that she can see the glint in my eyes.
