

Jax's P.O.V.

I felt her eyes on me as I got out of bed and even though Brick wanted me to turn around and show her what I wanted to do with her, I kept walking towards the bathroom.

The second I hear Colt talking to her I know that she is in trouble, but before I can stop him from acting Brick pushes forward and I see that Colt has put himself between her legs. It doesn't take long before he makes her come and I love the look on her face as she comes undone.

We both feel guilty for not stopping our Lycans, but I didn't think I would hear those words come out of her mouth and we both know that she is right. We need to set boundaries and I believe that she is correct in the assumption that only sleeping in the same bed will become more difficult as time passes.

Jayce walks to the bathroom and through the mind-link I warn him to be careful, but he ignores me as he walks in to the bathroom. He strips down and steps into the shower, I shake my head as I watch our Mate.

For a moment I think she is unaware of Jayce in the bathroom, but the moment her hand goes to the faucet I know she is going to make trouble. Jayce growls at me after I tell him that that was not a smart idea and Hunter acts as if she is unaware of her surroundings.

I watch her a little closer and I realize she is actually linking someone, who would she be linking at this time and why. The moment she is done she has a smile on her face and if I didn't know they were far away I would guess she was linking Jason and Justin.

"They will be home by the end of the day." She says and both Jayce and I stare at her. By the look on Jayce's face I can tell he is trying to link someone, but I guess he failed as he looks at our Mate and asks her how she did it.

Her head snaps towards Jayce, making me realize she didn't understand that this was unusual and the look in her eyes tells me she is very uncomfortable with it.

"Princess, don't worry. I am actually glad you can link them, it means you can link us where ever we are.

It makes me feel a little better with your travel plans and being away from you. At least now you can tell us all goodnight, even if we are not with you." I say and a smile appears on her face. She squeals as Jayce pulls her in his arms while he is still soaking wet from his shower.

He buries his face in her neck, which makes his wet hair fall on her shoulder and she tries to wiggle out of his hold. She starts giggling as he shakes his head, making droplets of water fall on her arm and chest and her t-shirt becomes see-through the more droplets fall down.

Her hard nipple is visible and I groan as Jayce's hand disappears under her shirt. Hunter looks from me down to the front of her shirt and her chest starts to rise and fall faster as her breathing becomes heavier.

Her head falls back onto Jayce's shoulder the moment his hand reaches her breast, but she doesn't take her eyes of what he is doing and it is the hottest thing I have ever seen. Remembering we still haven't set any boundaries I tell her to tell us to stop when she becomes uncomfortable.

Her eyes slowly look up at me and that look makes me close the distance between us, my lips locking with hers. I let my hand travel down the front of her body and she starts to pant the closer I get to her panties. Jayce keeps teasing her nipple as my hand reaches its destination and I let it slide into her panties.

Her hips buck the moment my finger touches her clit and I have to slow myself down. Slowly my finger glides towards her entrance and I watch her face to see if she is uncomfortable, but I don't see a trace of it.

I let my finger glide through her folds, her breathing becomes heavier as her moans get louder and I break our kiss to hear her scream out my name in pleasure as I push my finger inside her. I start thrusting my finger in and out of her soaking wet pussy, while Jayce is now teasing both her nipples with his fingers.

I add a second finger as I press my thumb against her clit, her body shudders as I pump my fingers in and out of her and she moans loudly at our ministrations. Jayce and I pick up the pace on our ministrations and within seconds she screams our names as she comes undone in our arms.

A knock on the door makes us jump apart and Hunter starts giggling as Jayce collides with the sink. I close the bathroom door and adjust myself as I walk over to the door, opening it to find Mom on the other side of it.

"Goodmorning, Mom. Are we late for breakfast again?" I ask her and she looks past me into the room, while she sniffs the air. I step to the side and turn my face away from her as I gesture for her to come in, "No, you are not late for breakfast.

At least not yet, you have thirty minutes and after breakfast Uncle Drake and the rest of the family will return home. I think Hunter would like to say goodbye to them and I know Uncle Drake hopes to see her before they leave." Mom says and I hear her walk away.

Before I can close the door I hear her say, "After they have left I want to see the three of you in your Father's office." I gulp as I realize that she knows exactly what happened here only moments ago and I hear Hunter sigh as I close the door.

"Mom is going to kill us, I just know she will." I see total panic on Hunter's face and within seconds Dad links me to ask what is going on with his Daughter. I don't know what to tell him so I just tell him to ask Mom as she is the reason for Hunter's emotions flying all over the place.

Hunter refuses to go down for breakfast and Jayce and I have seen her this way to often to know there is nothing that will change her mind. I tell Jayce to stay with her as I go down to get us some breakfast.

As I walk in to the dining-room I see that Mom is looking behind me and I decide to tell her the truth, "Hunter refuses to come down here and we both know there is no changing her mind on that. Jayce is with her and I am just here to get the three of us something to eat."

Martha tells me she will bring up some breakfast and I ask her to bring some coffee as well. Before I walk out the room Mom calls out my name and I turn around to look at her, "Why doesn't she want to come down?" she asks and I wonder for a second if she is kidding.

"She heard what you said." I reply and Mom's face pales, apparently Mom had not realized that Hunter had heard her. Everyone shifts their gaze between the two of us and I think even Dad is unaware of what is going on.

Knowing Hunter wants to say goodbye to her family I turn to them and tell them to come upstairs after they are done with breakfast. That way they can say their goodbyes and Hunter doesn't have to face Mom just yet.

Martha places the tray with our breakfast in the living-room and one of the other Omegas puts down the tray with coffee next to it. We eat in silence and for once Hunter doesn't empty her plate, making me and Jayce look at her in worry.

Jayce and I keep a close eye on her as she says goodbye to her family and everyone can see that something is wrong, but no one asks. Uncle Drake gives me a questioning look and I just shake my head.

Half an hour after they have left our floor Hunter gets up and walks out of our living-room towards the door, "Let's get this over with." She mumbles as she opens the door and Jayce and I rush after her.

Jayce knocks on Dad's office door and we wait until he calls out for us to enter. Hunter straightens her shoulders before she opens the door, Jayce and I follow her in and she sits down in one of the armchairs the furthest away from Mom.

Jayce and I take a seat on either side of her, she is looking straight ahead with her eyes on the wall behind Mom and Dad and she doesn't say a word. By the look on Dad's face I can tell that Mom didn't tell him why we are all here and I wonder why she hasn't told him.

"Who is going to tell me what is going on here?" Dad asks as he looks at us one by one, Hunter keeps her mouth shut and I sure as hell am not going to start this conversation. Dad turns to Mom and asks her if she can explain what we are all doing in his office.

"When I went to tell them this morning that the family would be leaving after breakfast, I was about to leave when I smelled something I had not expected. There..." Mom doesn't get to say anything else as Hunter jumps up.

"She smelled that they had both made me come. Maybe if all of you had had the decency of telling me from the start we would have had a bond that could have prevented this, but none of you did.

I was pissed off when Pops told me what he knew and I ignored him for a year. You and Dad have known for almost two years, even though Dad didn't believe you and you even acted as if you were searching for who it could be.

Tomorrow morning I will be leaving for Aunt Sasha's Pack and I suggest both of you stay the hell away from me." She yells as her eyes switch between Mom and Dad, making me realize that she still has a lot of unresolved anger on that subject.

She walks out of Dad's office and Jayce and I just stare after our Mate. Brick pushes forward as I look at Mom and he growls at her, "If this pushes her away from us, you better make sure you stay away from me as well."

I follow her scent back up to our room and I find her in the oversized swivel barrel chair we placed in front of the window, it is the same one as down in the Library. Only in a different color, we chose an emerald green one.

I lift her into my lap as I move into the chair and she buries her face in my neck, I feel the wetness of her tears as she snuggles into my chest. Jayce is on his knees in front of her and has his head on her knees.

Wait! I Have Something to Say!

Send a Gift to the Writer!

