

Jason's P.O.V.

Justin and I hated being away from Hunter, but she had been right we needed to do our job and we needed to do it as good as we have always done. Luckily this assignment had been an easy one, because as soon as the Alpha had seen two Princes step out he had offered a solution real fast.

A solution he probably had all along, but had hoped he wouldn't have to give and I am glad he didn't waste too much of our time. We still had to arrange a few things here, but we would be home on her birthday.

We had been ready to head downstairs for breakfast when she gave us the scare of a lifetime, hearing her say Goodmorning through the mind-link had both of us falling on our ass and Slade and Logan had laughed their asses off for a very long time.

A message from Jayce nearly has me jumping out of my skin and Justin has to call him for the entire story, because I have trouble calming Logan down. He is still furious after Jayce has explained everything, but when I ask him what the reason was Mom wanted to talk to them he goes silent.

"Jason, it was not something we planned and you need to understand that we lost control to Colt and Brick." Jax says and after he is finished speaking Justin and I are staring at one another.

They didn't do anything wrong, but damn I wish I had been there and Justin is a bit quicker in his thinking than

I am. "Tonight she will be sleeping in between me and Jason and don't you dare argue with me." He growls and I smile as Jax tells us that they won't argue about it.

Half an hour before we get home I get another message from Jayce, Hunter is awake and they are having dinner with Uncle Luke's team. When we walk into the Palace we hear laughter coming from the dining-room and we both chuckle as someone asks Hunter to warn them so they can run like hell.

The moment her eyes land on us she jumps out of Jax's lap and runs right over to us, I catch her in my arms as I slam my lips to hers. I don't care who sees or what they think about it, she wraps her legs around my waist and I let my tongue snake through her mouth.

Martha ask Justin if the two of us still need to eat or that we will settle for Hunter and the entire room bursts out in laughter, but Hunter doesn't react as she tightens the grip she has on me.

"Okay, that is enough, Princess. Let my Brother breath while I devour you." Justin growls and I growl as she breaks our kiss. We are both breathing heavily, but I know Justin won't give her time to catch her breath and he holds out his arms towards her.

She leans towards him and I reluctantly let her go as I look around the room to see it empty, other than the men from Uncle Luke's team there is no one there. They don't look strange at Hunter kissing me and Justin, making me wonder if someone told them.

Once we are seated at the table Martha walks in with two plates and I thank her for saving us some dinner. Hunter sits down in Jayce's lap and soon I find out that the guy that asked the question is John, Uncle Luke's second in command.

He knows the Pack Aunt Sasha lives at and he doesn't have fond memories of it. His Mate lives there and she rejected him when he refused to stay there with her, we all just stare at him at that admission.

"She rejected you because you didn't want to stay in that Pack or was there another reason?" Hunter asks and the look on his face tells me there is more to this story, something none of us will like hearing.

"I think she used that as an excuse. I believe that the real reason has to do with the Alpha's Son, I could smell him on her and it wasn't a faint scent as if he hugged her." He says and all of us growl at his words.

"John, if that is the true reason than I am glad you got away. You know my Grandmother and you know what she did to Papa, I think she would have done the same to you." Hunter says and I get a feeling our little Mate might be right.

We say goodnight to the men and we walk up the stairs as they make their way over to the cottages they will be staying at. Hunter has wrapped her arms and legs around me and my cock moves against her core with every step I take.

Her breathing becomes heavy and I see Justin smile as he keeps his eyes on where our bodies touch. Jax is walking in front of us and by the movement he makes I can tell he had to adjust himself, not that Jayce and Justin are doing any better.

The moment we are through the door I press her against the nearest wall and I move my hips forward, pressing my raging hard-on against her clit. Her head falls back against the wall as she moans loudly, "Fuck, Princess.. that is the sexiest sound I have ever heard." I whisper in her ear.

I pull my upper body back as Justin moves her face in his direction and he kisses her as a starving man, while I keep grinding my cock against her pussy. Mumbled moans escape her as Justin's hand cups her breast and I grab the hem of her shirt to give him better access to them.

He backs away long enough for me to pull the shirt over her head, he pulls her bra down before he sucks a nipple into his mouth and I groan as she bucks her hips against my cock. With both of us feeling up her body it doesn't take long before she comes undone.

"Damn, I will never get tired of seeing our Princess come." I hear Jax mutter as I carry her to our bed. After I lay her down I step aside to allow Justin to remove the rest of her clothing, he pulls her jeans and panties down and gets down on his knees between her legs.

He spreads her legs before he runs a finger through her wet folds, making her buck as he flicks her clit and she screams his name out in pleasure. He repeats the motion a few times before he lowers his head to let his tongue follow the route of his finger.

He sucks on her clit as he slowly pushes two fingers into her core, I crawl onto the bed naked and suck her nipple into my mouth while Jayce sucks on her other nipple. Her hands are above her head and Jax is leaning over her as he kisses her.

I see his eyes widen and I wonder what is going on. I see him looking into her eyes and without saying a word he gets off the bed to rid himself of his jeans and boxers, after which he climbs back onto the bed. I quickly look at Jayce and Justin to see if they realize what is going to happen.

Jax tilts her head back a little further and as she opens her mouth he places his cock above it, the sight makes the three of us groan out loud. Her tongue licks the tip of his tongue and now all four of us groan as he slides his cock into her mouth.

She moans as her body bucks up and my eyes switch between Justin and Jax, watching them as I suck a little harder on her nipple.

Hunter's P.O.V.

I wrap my arms and legs around Jason before he starts walking up the stairs and after a few steps I feel his cock harden against my core. I can feel Justin and Jayce watching and that turns me on even more.

I know what I want and none of them is going to stop me, one of them better gives me what I want or there will be hell to pay. I feel Justin pull my jeans and panties down and I scream as his finger slides through my pussy lips, but I nearly lose it when I feel his tongue on my clit.

Jax is kissing me as Jason and Jayce are sucking on my nipples and I link Jax, "Jax, I want to taste you." His eyes widen and I see him looking at me to see if I am serious, before he strips down. I hear them groan as I lick the head of his cock.

I take his cock in my mouth and I moan as I feel it glide down my tongue, all the way to the back of my throat. I feel Justin sucking harder on my clit as he picks up the pace on pumping his fingers into my pussy and I suck harder on Jax's cock.

Remembering something I once watched with Emma and Ella I start breathing through my nose and relax as much as I can, taking him deeper into my mouth. "Fuck, Princess.. that is it.. harder." I hear Jax mumble and I do as he asks as I suck even harder.

I feel his legs shake and I realize what is about to happen just before he starts shooting thick gobs of cum down my throat, I swallow every last drop of it. Justin is still pushing his fingers in and out of me and I scream in pleasure and pain as he adds a third finger, stretching me even wider.

"Fuck.. look at her.. stretched nicely around my fingers." Justin grumbles as he starts pushing his fingers deeper inside me, my eyes travel down my body and I see that they are all watching Justin and his ministrations. As soon as he has his fingers in as deep as he can go he starts pulling them out and suddenly he slams them back into my pussy.

He keeps a steady pace, but I want him to go faster and I start to push my hips up to meet his thrusts into my body. "Justin... fuck! Justin... I can't.. I can't hold it..." I shatter into a million pieces as he slams his fingers in one last time.

He slows his ministrations as I slowly come down from my high and after he pulls his fingers out Jayce is there to clean me up, while Jason lays down next to me. He pulls me onto his chest, only moments before I fall into a deep sleep.
