

Apocalypse 2571

Chapter 2571 That Sword!

In the hidden folds of space near the Apex Battlefield.

The visage of Ahpuch was spat out of purple flames with an ashen gaze as the figure of Extremity Ariana appeared soon after, her gaze ferocious as she spoke.

[Did you manage to track all the Extremities that made a move?]

The question was not for Ahpuch, but towards a communication channel that held the will of another Hyperversal Extremity who had not even appeared on this Battlefield!

And the answer Extremity Ariana received was a special one.

[For the most part. The Genesis Institute seems to be tainted along with an unknown portion of the Sima Clan, Infinite Extremity, Immeasurable Mystery, and two more that I need to verify the signatures to be 100% sure.]

...!

The reason for their actions.

The purpose of their probe!

Extremity Ariana's eyes flashed as she heard these words and she nodded while replying just as quickly.

[Then we can begin pulling out now. Remember, our goal isn't to fight today!]

She allowed this message to flow freely across the multiple Hyperversal Extremities she was working with as when she gazed at the complete darkness before her brought about by the Extremity Expansion of Adjudication, she could see the struggling figure of Destruction as she snorted without feeling too sorry!

Mind you, this was a Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity.

His authority was raging around him and barely hanging on as the Gavel of Adjudication swung down, but if it was a Tier 2 Hyperversal Extremity that was placed on the scales...Svetlana would have been able to easily crush them and erase their Recorded History by now!

But...

[Continue to be weak...]

She didn't target any of the Tier 2 Hyperversal Extremities as the moment she did so, it would mean that an Adjudicator had actually made a move to kill a Hyperversal Extremity of the Seven Havens!

How grand would such an occasion be?

How fantastical of an opportunity would it be! They could have utilized such a reality to actually shake her seat of an Adjudicator as thereafter, someone they favored would be supported to step up and be elevated to this grand pedestal!

But Svetlana moved carefully as she chose one of their stronger combatants and pressed down Adjudication unto them, this authority penetrating directly into the Soul of Hyperversal Extremities as its damage was directly on the Concepts one expanded to Extremity!

This was the type of power awarded to Adjudicators- one that made them powerhouses nobody wished to go against in the Seven Havens.

Because of their granted Hyperversal Extremity Authority that didn't touch one's Vitality Values, but they simply attacked one's records and scorched even Concepts that had achieved Extremity to oblivion.

It was utterly dreadful.

Even Extremity Ariana felt a sense of apprehension when she gazed at it as at this moment, she reached out to the person moving behind the scenes.

[Emperor Shao, can you move to provide an opportunity for retreat? Destruction seems to be in a tight spo-]

OOOOH!

Before her words could even finish, the situation seemed to change dramatically on the Scales of the Expanded Extremity as Destruction cried out in immense shock and anger, his voice chilling and seething as it echoed out!

[You...would actually dare?!]

It was a voice of shock as it realized the length that this Adjudicator was willing to go.

It was because at this moment, The Hyperversal Extremity of Destruction felt the Gavel of Adjudication swinging down targeted none of the Concepts he had achieved Extremity in...but a single one.

The concept he defined himself with.

The concept that became his moniker.

The concept that was his name!

BOOOM!

The Gavel of Adjudication actually had its unstoppable authority attack the very concept of Destruction within him!

[You all seem to think I will not act as you move rampantly...so let me show you.]

...!

Svetlana's voice was cold as even while her figure couldn't be seen, the gavel above seemed to press down with even more gravity as Destruction screamed out!

Destruction's body was bathed in crimson splendor as he roared out maddeningly, but he seemed to be anchored onto the scale he was on as he could not leave- being forced to watch as the Authority of Adjudication seeped into his soul and burn his most prized concept.

It was stably entrenched in Extremity as he had elevated this concept to stand far above any others at the same stage.

Yet now, it seemed to be forcefully burnt from his very soul while the defenses he set up continued to be bypassed!

This was the terror of a Zenith Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity.

Once one made their mind and faced another existence that was also Tier 3...

their victory would be a certainty!

[OOH!]

Destruction's roars continued to resound as in the next moment...

All sound was canceled.

In the center of the Extremity Expansion of Adjudication, Svetlana raised her head as her eyes turned sharp.

There, in the midst of all this darkness, a point of light appeared.

It very quickly brightened as its appearance was seen by all, taking on the form of a dazzling white sword that seemed to be formed by tendrils of multiple Unique Absolute Dynamis of Extremity that had at their base terrifying concepts that had achieved Extremity!

The moment this sword appeared, all Hyperversal Extremities present felt as if their souls could be cut the moment it swung- with the weaker ones getting a feeling that it could eradicate everything about them and their history with a swing!

It didn't seem like an illusory sword.

It seemed as if an Armament of Extremity had come to life as an instant later, it swung down.

...!

Blinding endless light radiated from it as shockingly, the moment it swung...

the vast and endless domain of Adjudication laid out...was cut.

Cut!

Cleanly, a brilliant slight of light formed in the skies and only expanded from there as from a reality of immense darkness, it seemed like this sword shimmering with endless white light was the only thing that was here!

A single sword of white light...cut through the Extremity Expansion of Adjudication.

The cornerstone of an Adjudicator!

When seeing this scene, the scalps of all Hyperversal Extremities present tingled.

The being behind that sword strike...

It seemed like very few if any of them would be his match as at this moment, complete white brilliance covered everything!

Chapter 2572 Overpowered At Its Best! I

In this moment of blinding brilliance, Hyperversal Extremities began to make their retreat as barely any senses could be perceived.

Even sound seemed to be cut off, and yet towards the last moments...a hoarse cry could be heard echoing out across the lands!

[17th Layer...17th Layer!]

A voice cried out amidst the blinding whiteness as it was not a joyful one.

It was one of utter shock and pain as if it was a parent witnessing the death of their child.

As if a poor pauper had suddenly gained all the riches in the cosmos only to lose it all a moment later! As if a sentient pig could see the butcher's blade while they were being led to slaughter!

Very few people understood what this cry meant, but those who did were shocked at its significance.

It was the voice of Destruction as it was in so much pain because incredulously, his main authority that granted him his very distinction and standing...Svetlana had used Adjudication to take it from its standing within the grandeur of Extremity to the extent that it came down to the 17th Boundary Layer!

17th!

And it would have been erased entirely if the blinding white sword didn't come.

The cries were full of pain to hear as with this single action, it was hard to say whether Destruction could keep his standing as a Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity.

It was hard to say if he would even keep his distinction!

The blinding white brilliance that cut through everything seemed to also reach the pocket of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority that Noah's visage of Alexander and the short and stout white gold masked Extremity were in.

Thus being seemed like he wanted to converse with Alexander a bit more, but the blinding sword strike caused him to make another move as his body began to fade.

As for Noah's will in Alexander...it was entirely focused on within as a Quintessential change was about to take place.

An astonishing feat that utterly rejected nature was the only way that Noah's path could be described.

The closer one went towards Extremity, the more arduous and slower it was!

But it seemed that Noah was becoming even swifter as he had crossed the thresholds of the 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, and 15th Boundary Layers far faster than when he scaled the 1st to the 9th Boundary Layer!

But the moment that the 16th Layer was in sight, a Hyperversal Extremity had intervened.

This didn't matter as regardless, Noah had swapped Boundaries and infused Infinity and Destruction into his Meridians.

The effects of this bloomed now as in the body of Alexander, he looked at the gradually disappearing figure white gold masked Hyperversal Extremity before him while his visage turned crystalline and translucent!

[Infinity has been added to the concepts that define you.]

[Destruction has been added to the concepts that define you.]

BZZT!

[The upper Layer of all Boundaries in the Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridians has been set to 15!]

...!

Now, the changes of achieving the 15th Boundary Layer of Destruction were being applied as Noah's Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridians activated their function, the 80 other Boundaries within breaking past the 13th Boundary Layer with utter ease!

And one must remember, common existences raised a few boundaries across Layers at a time as they slowly grew in power.

Accomplished Apex Aeonic Lifeforms who held ranges of 10,000-20,000 Apex Soul Values would slowly scale towards 30,000 and 40,000 Values over the years as they further refined their souls with the concepts of Extremity through pristine Circulation Modus Operandi, even adding Dynamis into this as they became more powerful!

Noah took a different route.

Instead of a few Boundaries slowly crossing the layers, 80 Boundaries did so all at once as the explosive rise in power...

Was utterly obscene!

So obscene that his Foundation made his body seem like a celestial treasure, turning crystalline and translucent as the 81 Meridians within could be seen clearly only under Noah's Will!

The Concepts of Extremity within the Meridians were akin to rivers of blood flowing through them, each of them taking a different color as they circulated with profound fervor at this moment!

A Boundary Layer for any of the heightened Boundaries could add a few hundred Values if not more as they became elevated.

Other Boundary Layers unlocked unique features that would only make Noah more broken.

And of course, the Layers of the Decreta, Natural Laws, and Fundamental Natural Laws getting closer to Extremity meant grand transformations for the Infinite Hyperversal Haven as well!

[The 15th Boundary Layer of Quintessence has been achieved.]

[The 15th Boundary Layer of Loot has been achieved.]

[The 15th Boundary Layer of Manadynamics has been achieved.]

[The 15th Boundary Layer of Blood has been achieved.]

[The 15th Boundary Layer of Dreams has been achieved.]

[The 15th Boundary Layer of Infinity has been achieved.]

...!

Every time that one of these shockingly pristine Consummate Boundaries arrived at an even higher stage, his body pulsed and exploded with a shocking aura as either entirely shattered abilities were being granted, or heavy increases to Soul Values and other Values were being added!

And in addition to all this...

[All Dynamis of Extremity converged by your concepts are undergoing Quintessential elevation.]

[New Features have been forged in all Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!]

[Prior Features of all Dynamis of Extremity have experienced a Quintessential advancement!]

His body shone with incandescent splendor as he seemed like a reborn celestial creature from the early eons of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!

His Meridians seemed like pathways for all creatures to follow as 81 dazzling concepts flowed within, a great deal of things coming to fruition as some...

were much more important than others.

There was one thing that could not be missed.

It flowed pristinely along with the countless other prompts, but Noah brought it up to the forefront as it manifested before his eyes at this moment.

[The Fourteenth Boundary Layer of Quintessence]:: Boundaries are the backbone of your strength, and their Convergence into Dynamis elevates them to another level that allows the expression of what they stand for in unfathomable ways. For the expense of 75% of your current Soul Values, this Layer of Quintessence allows you to take already converged Dynamis of Extremity and be capable of modifying their Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity by adding or removing any concepts, the only thing to be cautious of being the resonance and compatibility of the remaining concepts....

Chapter 2573 Overpowered At Its Best! II

The 14th Boundary Layer of Quintessence was simply maddening!

Once a Dynamis of Extremity was forged, it was set in stone.

If one wanted to create something similar but with additional concepts or different concepts, they had to converge a brand new dynamis and examine out its compatibility!

But Quintessence looked at such a reality and chose to give it the middle finger.

It told Noah on its 14th Boundary Layer that he could add and eliminate Concepts from Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity as he wished- the only thing being a high cost as to him, the cost didn't matter!

His Quintessential Hyperversal Mana Value took care of nearly all of his asset costs instead of the required Soul Values.

He would be able to freely add and remove multiple concepts even if the cost was stated to be 75% of his total Soul Values Per concept as the main thing here...was that he could enhance his Absolute Dynamis of Extremity into Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity!

All of these surprises...stemmed from a single Boundary of Quintessence.

What others may consider a dead path because it was simply too grand.

A path that could not be taken to Extremity!

It fell along the same lines as the concept of Infinity.

The Boundary Layers of this concept...were part of the core reason that Noah's visage of Alexander was currently shining with translucent and crystalline light as if his very body was a young Armament of Extremity being forged!

His fantastical changes had only just begun to unfold.

But outside of this, events continued to spill out around the Apex Battlefield as the blinding sword light that cut open Adjudication continued to blind all beings for a few seconds, and when it finally died down...

The scene revealed was one to stare at in wonder and wonder.

Fantastically, the only figure to be seen in the skies was the Adjudicator of Dissolution who currently had tendrils of profound authority raging around her- the auras of other Hyperversal Extremities nowhere to be seen.

It was as if they were never here to begin with!

As if a shocking battle had not just taken place.

The ones veiled with Hyperversal Extremity Authority who attacked were nowhere to be seen, and the ones wearing white gold masks who had appeared were also nowhere to be seen!

The Apex Battlefield below showed rows of Enders of Nature standing fearlessly, valiant Apex Aeonic Lifeforms adorned with white gold Armaments floating in front of them with valor as around them...deathly wheelies ran rampant as a certain lich collected corpses nonchalantly as if nothing else was happening around it.

A few massive Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassals could be seen in the background along with the sorry figures of Primeval Elder Silas, Roan, and other remnants from the Cult of Endless Shadows as they stared around them breathlessly.

The spectators who were blinded by darkness and then light this whole time could finally see again as they drew sharp breaths when the scene became clear!

On the battlefield, the only thing left behind of the Avernus and Singularity Overseer Elders were corpses that a cackling Haven Lich was collecting with glee, all others being whisked away as approximately 15-20% of the forces of powerful Apex Aeon Lifeforms were saved.

But all others faced a devastating loss as the eyes of many beings couldn't help but focus on the man still seated on the multicolored throne in all this.

He hadn't moved a muscle.

He had grandly sat and watched over everything as even now, his eyes seemed to gaze around their audiences with scrutiny as if he was looking for the attackers that had come and gone from among them!

Far in the distance, the figure of Erikson grandly fell back on his seat as...

"Fucking hell..." He put his slippers back on his feet while rubbing his brows, this whole reality being an utter headache as too many significant things happened.

Ayame's eyes shone brilliantly as beside her, Atlas had a clouded expression as moments later...

"You guys will have to excuse me for a while."

...!

He rose from the vessel of Erikson and disappeared into a burst of Plum petals as too many things seemed to be on his mind!

CAA!

And at this time, a fearsome cry of authority rang out as the figure of the Adjudicator of Dissolution gazed at the masses.

Her piercing eyes seemed to cross across all veils and land on the souls of all beings here as her fearsome voice reverberated out with a hint of clear anger!

[Today, multiple parties from a Clan and Inheritances violated the Investiture of Extremity as they believed their power and standing would mean there would be no consequences!]

WAA!

[You may disguise yourselves and use the darkness as a cover, but you know who you are! You know...since today, I stripped the very defining Concept of Extremity from one of you. Since you do not seem to hold the decorum of a Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity, you can back down to Tier 2!]

...!

Her words were utterly callous as the skies seethed at her taunting!

She knew who the culprits were.

The culprits knew exactly what she was talking about.

In the distance, one could almost hear the howls of a maddened Hyperversal Extremity who seemed to be getting held back from appearing due to the taunts of the Adjudicator!

As for the audiences across the myriad of Inheritance and Clans here...

They drew sharp breaths at the words of the Adjudicator.

She had stripped the authority of a Hyperversal Extremity from Tier 3 to Tier 2.

Very few beings even knew the true distinction between Tier 1 Hyperversal Extremities and those who were Tier 2 and Tier 3!

But it was broadly known that the requirement for one to be elected as an Adjudicator of a Haven was to be at the Tier 3 at the very least!

Such beings were the cornerstones of the Seven Havens.

And for one reason or another...the Seven Havens had deprived a being of Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity!

Chapter 2574 Overpowered At Its Best! III

When one truly thought about it in the larger picture, it was a very, very sad day for the Seven Havens.

And yet it also seemed appropriate for the punishment of today's incursion to at least be this as an example had to be made!

If the Adjudicator of Dissolution had granted True Death to any Hyperversal Extremities today due to this, it was hard to say what the outcome would be and what storm would be raised among those truly powerful.

Yet her actions had shown her power and decisiveness cleanly today!

She gazed at all those in the surroundings and then towards the figure of the True Emperor of Quintessence seated on a grand floating throne.

He was akin to an ancient Commander with Recorded Histories of countless victories with the way he coldly gazed at everything, his eyes locking with the Adjudicator as he made his intentions clear!

And an instant later, the voice of the Adjudicator rang out again.

[The Apex War of Annihilation could have been considered over and done with had unruly beings not interfered, but because of their incursion...the War of Annihilation between the Lernaean Lineage and the Noblesse- along with all those who supported them...has still not ended!]

WAA!

[The feud remains open until a clear victory is obtained from either side- and this time without the interventions of anyone.]

...!

A shocking judgment was made as the Adjudicator made something very clear for those listening.

The Noblesse were nowhere to be seen on the battlefield, and yet she proclaimed the war wasn't over.

The only combatants remaining were the Lernaean led by the True Emperor of Quintessence and the forces of the Avernus Clan and the Singularity Overseers!

She effectively claimed that there was an ongoing war with this small unknown Lineage that held a grander faction name known as the Infinite Hyperversal Haven and the behemoth that is the Avernus Clan and the Singularity Overseers too!

A fantastical proclamation.

After it was said, the Adjudicator of Dissolution gave a cold look to all those here as if she could see the faces of the Hyperversal Extremities who had pulled away and hidden as if nothing had happened, her gaze then turning up to where the white sword that had cut her Extremity Expansion of Adjudication used to be.

It was as if she could see the being behind it.

It was as if she was committing it to memory and she would never forget!

Thereafter, her figure disappeared into a flash of darkness a moment later as only now...did many beings feel like they could breathe again.

The majesty and anger of a Zenith Tier 3 Ultra-dimensional Extremity was that terrifying.

Yet not long after she left, the multicolored throne of the True Emperor of Quintessence buzzed as the watching wills came to focus on him.

Some observed what they saw with their eyes and transmitted it across the walls of different Havens!

"It seems very easy for those unidentified and with no apparent backing to be bullied and even given the decree of death from others sitting on their high pedestals."

...!

His words began slowly as he gazed at the many peering eyes around him, continuing with grandiosity as behind him, rows of Ultra-dimensional Extremities lined up!

"Today, we make ourselves known."

"Known as those from the Infinite Hyperversal Haven! For any beings daring to seek trouble with us or plot for our demise...you should be entirely prepared for the annihilation of your Inheritance or Clan. Just as the Avernus Clan and the Singularity Overseers should be prepared for what is to come!"

WAA!

He spoke without fear. Those behind him seemed ready and even thirsting for battle, especially the seven Chthonian Sinners of Thanatos who wanted to fully unveil their monstrous forms and power!

The Infinite Hyperversal Haven.

Their introduction into the Seven Havens was a grand one as many knew them from this Apex War of Annihilation, with their entrance being paved by the blood of hundreds of Apex Aeonic Lifeforms and even the bloody authority of a Tier 3 Hyperversal Extremity being stripped away!

At the untimely conclusion of the Apex War, they stood as the clear victors. Victors that others dared not to even approach since they had declared themselves along the same lines as an Inheritance or Clan, and they had even made the Avernus Clan and the Singularity Overseers as their clear enemies.

If they were associated with such a group...others simply didn't even dare to be.

Others.

But then there were the fearless and exceptional ones.

SHAA!

Multiple flashes of light went towards the battlefield that had deathly energies being swept away by a cackling Haven Lich who carried away the remnant corpses of Apex Aeonie Lifeforms who had reached the 14th or 15th Boundary Layer- these corpses not being turned into Emperor Tier Thanatos Vassals right away as the Lich seemed like it had something else in store for them!

In the midst of such an atmosphere...

"Let me be the first to congratulate you on your victory!" The boisterous voice of Erikson thundered out as he arrived gallantly in beach attire, the figure of Ayame not being too far behind as they were among the very few who didn't fear being seen merely associating with the beings who made a Clan and Inheritance their enemy!

On the surface, things seemed to be entirely done as the battlefield quieted down...but they were far from over.

Within the Haven of Oceanus.

In the white gold Plane of Existence where the main body of Emperor Shao remained, the Extremity Soul Clone of Extremity Ariana nodded with somber acknowledgment while beginning to leave.

[The favors Emperor Shao has to fulfill are nearly depleted...but we look forward to working with you whenever fate permits us to utilize the last favor.]

...!

She spoke while her figure disappeared into purple flames, Emperor Shao's eyes calmly gazing forward while stroking a white sword on his lap.

After a while, his head rose as he pondered at the vast cerulean wonder all around him, his voice serene and full of wonder as it portrayed his thoughts that were buzzing with how everything came to be!

[Noah Osmont, is it? Since they appeared and the brilliance you have shown so far, it is likely they have already approached you to be groomed into another Guardian. When I come across you again, will it be as an enemy or an ally?]

His eyes were bright as the picture he saw was vastly different from others.

The Records he viewed were those that others had never seen nor would they ever come to life!

The future he sought...was not something the likes of Extremity Ariana, Destruction, or even the Adjudicator of Dissolution could fathom!

Chapter 2575 Overpowered At Its Best! IV

The Apex Battlefield became abuzz with even grander activity after the War ended.

After Erikson, Ayame, and others took the lead forward, the audience became even more active as this region lit up with discussions!

It was to the extent that a moment later...

BZZT!

A Hyperversal Extremity Authority bloomed as it nearly caused the calm wills of beings to buzz wildly again, their gazes coming to observe the appearance of a man surrounded by tendrils of Shadows besides the figure of Primeval Elder Silas!

His demeanor was calm as he seemed aged with authority, his figure beginning to float towards Noah's visage on the throne as Silas and the other Shadow Elders followed along with complex emotions.

This...was the first Hyperversal Extremity to have stepped forward after the battle had ended as there were too many possibilities with what his actions meant!

Had the Cult of Endless Shadows decided on a path? And what exactly was the connection between them and the Infinite Hyperversal Haven?!

Questions arose as the peering gazes talked of what had just occurred and continued to prepare for the Culmination Step of Extremity Sanctification.

As all of this occurred, Noah's will in the body of Alexander continued to observe the wondrous changes caused by the advancement of 81 Boundaries to the 15th Boundary Layer.

There were many astounding changes, especially to the Dynamis of Extremity that were made of these Boundaries!

Many of them required Noah's will to peruse their details and understand just what shocking extent they had grown, but one Boundary in particular...could activate one of its features passively.

It was the Oraculum Dynamis of Extremity that held the Adumbrative Viewpoint!

It had activated by itself to warn Noah right before the incursion of Hyperversal Extremities unfolded, and as the Boundaries making up this Dynamis received such a thorough advancement simultaneously...the abilities of Adumbrative Viewpoint became even more obscene!

HOONG!

In Noah's will contained in Alexander's visage, a blaring glimmer of authority echoed out as a golden book unfolded- taking a portion of his soul into it as Prompts began to cascade down.

[Adumbrative Viewpoint has independently enabled to show the glimmers of Unrecorded Histories waiting for the True Emperor of Quintessence.]

...!

It wasn't due to an alarming cause. It had enabled simply because of his advancement as Noah's soul found itself drawn into the pages of the golden book!

[Due to the thorough advancements of the Boundaries with Oraculum, the feature of Adumbrative Viewpoint can now have you experience your own Unrecorded Histories in an unknown straightforward path of your choosing in a Quintessentially in-depth fashion.]

As the notification faded, Noah's soul that was absorbed into the golden book felt 9 roads form before it.

Roads that seemed like grand stellar rivers as whenever he stepped on one of them...it would take him on a possible Unrecorded History relating to his future!

He gazed at the nine roads of unknown futures and chose the one at the very center as his soul was sucked into it.

And before even a moment could pass, his soul experienced passing through Annals of Extremity as he delved into a wondrous Unrecorded History, his vision clearing up to find himself within the Hyperversal Haven!

He wouldn't just be reading or viewing the Unrecorded History, but it was like he was right there in the flesh- living in it!

At the same time, a booming voice narrated from above.

[As Extremity Gabriella took his clone to observe the Shadow Sword, Noah's will finally sought an even grander path of power as he turned into his Infinite Forge. There, days worth of Loot Light that was withheld from Ruination finally began to climax and build the Fragments of none other than the Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operandi!]

The scenes were wondrous as Noah truly felt like he was living through this History, the sheer usage and possibility of what he was seeing being amazing as it felt like time was sped up on the path he chose.

[A day passed since the Apex War ended, and the wall of Dissolution still did not relent as the Extremity Vein of Dissolution continued to rise to the skies of the Haven. It foretold of a Culmination Step of Extremity Sanctification unlike any other as even the forces of Clans and Inheritances that continued to increase in number did not know what to expect.]

Noah's vision flitted through a great deal of memories and potentialities as what he lived through constantly changed, until soon after, he found his eyes staring at the glorious scene of 81 infinity symbols rotating in the Forge within the depths of his soul, waves of stellar light cascading down as 100 Fragments of the Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operative formed into a grand scroll!

[He gazed at the Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operandi as he could already feel the nonsensical boosts from it. Instead of being capable of cycling 24 different boundary essences across his atoms with every breath, the number was now 48 as this was only one of its boons!]

The scene was one of wondrous achievement that Noah would only obtain on the second day after the Apex War of Annihilation.

The scene was about to pass as Noah's will gazed at the scroll right before him hungrily as...

'Wait...'

BZZT!

The scene paused.

The Unrecorded History did not continue playing out as Noah gazed at the methodology of Extremity Circulation he would only obtain 2 days away after exhausting all of the Loot Light within his Forge!

His mind seemed to be shining with brilliance at this moment as a sense of profound revelation and potentialities surged within him!

He wanted to try something.

Something unbelievable.

Something others wouldn't even be thinking of, much less attempt.

THUMP!

He felt his heartbeat through his soul as once the idea took root within it, he could not let it go!

As his soul stood in observance of an Unrecorded History...his figure that should have only been an observer rose its hand as a unique golden light of a Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity shone from it.

And while looking at the Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operan di...his mouth moved within this Unrecorded History.

[Hyperversal Plundering].

"..."

Chapter 2576 Overpowered At Its Best! V

BOOM!

The Unrecorded History Noah was gazing at shook dangerously as the fantastical authority of a Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity unfolded.

The authority of Lotra was blinding as it was truly carried over Noah's Soul and into a History that had yet to happen!

Below the dazzling spinning infinity symbols of the forge, a bejeweled golden hand formed as Noah truly tried to plunder a possible fabrication of reality in the form of an Unrecorded History.

And...

[You are attempting to obtain something in an Unrecorded History of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!]

[A grand and impossible goal, and yet the authority of the Lotra Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity seeks to make it a possibility.]

The bejeweled hand pressed towards the completed scroll of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operandi as the Unrecorded History around Noah shook with cataclysmic frequency!

And a moment later...

CRACK!

The scene of the Unrecorded History around Noah shattered under the weight of the actions he sought to do!

Along with it, dazzling prompts came.

[The Unrecorded History accessible through the Oraculum Absolute Dynamis of Extremity was not stable enough for the conducted action.]

[Oraculum communicates with its Master that its elevation to a Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity may grant enough stabilization to accomplish the sought after impossibility!]

...!

Noah had simply tried an action of utter impossibility through his intuition, and it had actually failed as the final result of it all...was the Oraculum Absolute Dynamis of Extremity telling him that what he tried to do may succeed so long as he adds more Boundaries into it!

Lotra was already set as it could do the Plundering.

Oraculum needed more power to stabilize the Unrecorded Histories as after that...there may actually be possibilities for him to plunder an unknown number and quality of things in the farthest reaches of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!

"..."

Just thinking about the possibilities made Noah's mind buzz as he locked onto the Oraculum Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity and the concepts contained within it, his Will moving along with dense Soul Values and Mana Values as the first Dynamis to undergo elevation was decided!

"What was that performance today?"

Noah's voice echoed out from his clone as it hid the profound brilliance within its eyes that nearly radiated wonder due to what a portion of his soul had just tried to do in the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!

His clone was speaking towards none other than The Adjudicator of Dissolution.

[You call it a show...and I guess that isn't too far from the truth. The response you saw today was the crucial part in all this. The entities that stepped forth to prevent the injustice that would have occurred to you and your people.]

They were in the secluded domain above the Haven of Dissolution, stellar billowing clouds below their feet as while she spoke...her environment began to pulse with spatial light that showed forming gateways emanating auras of Hyperversal Extremities!

[They have been known by few across Recorded History as they do not move for fame or pride. They stretch across Inheritances and Clans as only the truly exceptional beings among all others are chosen. Geniuses outstanding in their stage and outclassing all others. Prodigies blessed by Extremity in ways others cannot fathom!]

WAA!

The portals around her flashed as in the next moment, three dazzling auras of Hyperversal Extremities unfolded as existences adorned in white gold masks and variations of white gold garbs appeared beside the Adjudicator of Dissolution!

One of the Extremities reached towards his white gold mask and slowly took it off as the visage of Extremity Marcellus of the Genesis Institute of Extremity revealed itself!

His eyes were serene and filled with age as he was the next one to speak.

[We move in the shadows of Extremity in order to protect it, only acting when all other measures have failed. We hold Hyperversal Extremities accountable even when Adjudicators fail to do so. We are known as the Curagulus of Extremity, the Protectors of the Seven Havens...the Guardians of Extremity!"

...!

Noah's eyes squinted as he watched these powerful entities unveil themselves before his eyes!

The Curagulus of Extremity.

Existences moving in secret across the Seven Havens as their members were the most powerful individuals across Inheritances and Clans. For them to unveil themselves before Noah at this moment...

He smiled lightly while gazing at them and the figure of Dissolution.

"For you all to be here, shall I assume I made the cut?"

He smiled feely even amidst Hyperversal Extremities as Marcellus stroked his white beard with a similar smile while replying.

[You're chosen as a Candidate along with that First Commander...Alexander King, is it? Exceptional Entities like you will carry the torch forward to make sure the Curagulus of Extremity remains a force of great power over the years to come. So long as you complete your first mission successfully and begin rising through our ranks, you will come to find that holding the position of a Curagulus has its own gains.]

"Oh?" His brows rose with interest as beside Marcellus, the veiled Adjudicator harrumphed while jumping in.

[You do not need to entice him like this. Just know that when you efficiently move to protect these Havens, you can gain access to Resources and even the Armaments of Extremity within the Vaults of Curagulus! With how you've made yourself an enemy of Avernus and the Singularity Overseers, you will come to find that you need all the support you can get.]

Her words carried the same cold authority as she revealed the grand notion of the Vaults of Curagulus!

Caches of treasure Vaults that even held Armaments of Extremity!

Noah found himself in the midst of such a grand reality as there were many questions that remained unanswered.

How widespread was this Curagulus of Extremity? Just how many members did they have to even hold one of the Seven Adjudicators among them? These questions and more buzzed in his mind freely!

And as if they could see the questions through his eyes, the Adjudicator of Dissolution shook her head as she continued.

[As you gain more authority, you will naturally attain more information. For now, the crucial detail to understand is that the Curagulus of Extremity exists to keep in check existences who believe they are above scrutiny. Existences like those who carried out today's incursion...existences belonging to the center of power of the Seven Havens.]

WAA!

The center of power of the Seven Havens!

[The governing body that elects Adjudicators to their positions and has retained dominance across the Aeonic Annals of Extremity. Held together by pillars of all Seven Clans and Major Aeonic Inheritances of Extremity...The Senatus of Extremity!]

Chapter 2577 Overpowered At Its Best! VI

The Senatus of Extremity!

A global group of powerhouses whose reach went across all Seven Havens for as long as Recorded History existed!

They elected the Adjudicators of the Seven Havens and controlled things to an unfathomable level.

Their reach extended across the majority of the Hyperversal Extremities within the Seven Havens as they set they controlled all the infrastructure and the behemoth of an economy across the Havens.

The Adjudicator of Dissolution spoke about such beings as Noah's eyes shone brightly.

Before him, Hyperversal Extremity Marcellus took out a white gold mask that shone with silent wonder, his wide eyes radiating light as he spoke.

[So long as you take the Oath of Curagulus, the first thing you will be granted is this Extremity Relic that grants you whatever form you wish and entirely masks the Hyperversal Extremity Authority emanating from you...among its myriad of other functions. With it, you can navigate through different records as you will see the different tiers of Missions you can take, as well as what the rewards for it will be once completed. Through it, you can obtain high tier Extremity Circulation Modus Operandi, Records of Concepts of Extremity expanded over the eons, Records of Dynamis of Extremity, Records of the Inheritances and Clans along with much more.]

...!

An Extremity Relic!

It was nothing like an Armament of Extremity, but it was a relic that contained traces of Extremity!

"Who could have made such a tool and mass produced it?" Noah's hands reached out to grasp the dazzling white gold mask as he saw a layer of Hyperversal Extremity Authority covering it, and he wasn't able to obtain any information on it until this authority faded away!

His question was answered with a dismissive head shake from the Adjudicator of Dissolution as she replied succinctly.

[A Legend you may or may not know. If your achievements are high enough in the future, you may even be able to meet them and commission a genuine Armament of Extremity.]

WAA!

Fantastical words rang out as up to this point, only the Adjudicator and Hyperversal Extremity Marcellus had revealed themselves and spoken.

The other two masked Guardians that came with Marcellus remained quiet and mysterious this whole time as Noah grasped the vibrant and pulsing mask in his hands while pondering with a thoughtful look.

His piercing gaze passed through all of these beings as he asked lightly.

"What if after all this, I turn you all down?"

Yes.

They had unveiled themselves before him when they were this secretive organization, so what if he didn't join them in the end?!

Extremity Marcellus smiled at this moment as he shook his head lightly.

[I do not think this is an opportunity you will deny. One of the requirements for vetting potential candidates is already discerning what their choice will be.]

...!

His eyes were filled with boundless light as he spoke, Noah's sharp eyes turning into crescents as he smiled.

An opportunity he could not deny, was it? For him, it would merely be another tool for his path of glorious power!

"Let's do it."

He gave the acknowledgment.

BZZT!

And Hyperversal Extremity Authority erupted from the Adjudicator of Dissolution as another Oath of Extremity was about to be born!

[Repeat after me. I vow to utilize my authority for the benefit of the Seven Havens of Extremity and the guidelines of the Curagulus of Extremity whenever acting under their name. To not reveal anything of the Curagulus of Extremity to outsiders!]

A fairly basic and nonrestrictive oath.

Noah's eyes glimmered with the golden grandeur of Oraculum as he spoke succinctly.

"I vow to utilize my authority for the benefit of the Seven Havens of Extremity and the guidelines of the Curagulus of Extremity whenever acting under their name. To not disclose anything of the Curagulus of Extremity to outsiders."

WAA!

Hyperversal Extremity Authority buzzed and raged wantonly as an Oath of Extremity was established and witnessed by four Extremities!

It was an Oath from the True Emperor of Quintessence joining the Curagulus of Extremity as at this moment...nobody knew just what drastic of an effect this would have on the History of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!

[Good...with this, another exceptional member of the Curagulus has been born!]

The Adjudicator of Dissolution proclaimed vibrantly as she radiated immense power and wonder!

Her eyes beneath the veil shone with utmost majesty as they had innumerable thoughts and possibilities crossing through them.

At this moment, a memory passed through these veiled eyes.

A memory that seemed like an entire lifetime ago, and yet she could recall it as if it were yesterday.

The environment were filled with darkness as a single obsidian crystalline disk of earth floated at the very center.

A shadowy figure encased in utter darkness floated above the stellar obsidian earth that currently held a single life force that was pulsing with a distinctive authority.

Around her, only ashes and dust of what used to be Lifeforms could be seen as the voice of the shadowy figure thundered out.

[Sergei and Dimitri could not survive as they have now become fuel for your growth, Little Svetlana.]

...!

The ashes and dust around her were the 11 others who had been on the same path as her not too long ago as nothing about them remained!

Her small figure now pulsed uniquely with an authority of distinctive quality.

It felt devoid of life and reality itself.

SHAA!

Svetlana opened her eyes as crackles of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority erupted out!

It was the same crackling authority of nothingness that had been surrounding this whole region they were in this whole time!

Within her body, it seemed refined and docile.

Like it was natural. Like her very existence aligned and was meant just for it.

[Your Innate Vacuous Hyperversal Meridians will pave the way forward. Even though you have entered your Second Vacuous Awakening, you are still far from Extremity. You are still nothing.]

...!

The voice of the Hyperversal Extremity shroud ed in dense Vacuous Hyperversal Authority boomed on all sides as Svetlana nodded with affirmation.

"Yes, Master!"

Chapter 2578 Overpowered At Its Best! VII

Her eyes were emotionless as she replied, the Hyperversal Extremity floating above her burning with brilliance as he continued.

[You raged against the dying light and became the champion of this batch as anticipations are high for you. Like all other champions, you only have a single mission for your existence! That mission...is to infiltrate the bane of our existence. The Antithesis who spread cancerously and encroach upon our very existence...the Vitalis Malignancies that reject Vacuous Hyperversal Authority in their very nature!]

BOOM!

[They refuse what makes our very existence as their Seven Vitalis Havens continue to spread their authority into our lands. We are greatly weakened when we are even close to their source of authority as you and all the other champions will be one of our weapons against them. You are a weapon that can withstand the Vitalis Hyperversal Authority in their lands as your only purpose is to climb across their ranks and prepare. Prepare for the time when we will reclaim what is rightfully ours!]

...!

A light of zeal crossed the eyes of the veiled figure as towards its words, the reply of Svetlana was an emotionless one.

"Yes, Master."

Not a single emotion could be seen on her face as she replied with affirmation.

This memory, as if it were dust in the wind...quickly faded into nothingness.

In the current time, the veiled eyes of Svetlana blinked as the memory in her mind faded and focused on the scene before her.

The scene of a genius Scion and Ruler of a rising faction who had just joined the Curagulus of Extremity!

Her mind entirely erased and blocked out the rising memories of a distant time as she spoke out.

[Familiarize yourself with the Curagulus Mask and choose your first mission soon. Some may be native in this Haven, others might require you to go to other Havens entirely. But after you are accustomed...bring your First Commander so he can be granted the same opportunity.]

...!

Her words and aura were perfect and free of any discrepancy.

With her usual veiled demeanor, she continued to carry out her duty as her eyes swirled with innumerable complex emotions!

The Oraculum Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity trembled as new branches sprouted out like branching stellar rivers of reality.

Currently, the grandeur of Quintessence was being utilized as massive amounts of Quintessential Hyperversal Mana Values and Soul Values bathed it every second- a new concept being added ever so often!

It began with the concepts of Destiny, Providence, Pathfinder, Moirai, Fate, Karma, Fortune, Kismet, Wisdom, Elysium, and Quintessence.

The first thing that Noah added to the mix was Infinity.

The endless blue of infinity caused the golden tree to pulse with an even brighter splendor as after that, the concepts of Manadynamics, Continuity, Causal Nexus, Dictum, Opulent, Kairos, and Uncertainty were added.

Multiple natural laws were added into the mix for their grand conceptual backing as the number arrived at 19!

It seemed to be just one higher than the minimum required number of Boundaries to form a Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity.

The condition was 18 Crimson Consummate Boundaries at the very minimum to be converted together for such a Dynamis to arise!

After such a grand addition of concepts...the Oraculum Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity released tendrils of halcyon grandeur all around.

[The requirements have been met to elevate Oraculum to an even greater stage!]

The golden light within Noah's soul was retained in as thereafter, the aura of Alexander was retracted as obtaining any information from him would be immensely hard!

[The Oraculum Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity has been born!]

[The feature of Wyrld has been born!]

[All prior concepts of Oraculum have undergone Quintessential elevation!]

...!

A monumental achievement was forged as Noah tackled it first for a single reason.

[Adumbrative Viewpoint]

WAA!

His soul called out grandly.

There were many things to explore as the newly obtained feature of [Wyrđ] was also something making his will buzz, but he focused on the reason for elevating Oraculum first as a portion of his soul was taken into a golden book that seemed even more intricate and refined!

His soul appeared before multiple paths as he chose the same one as before.

And a pathway of an Unrecorded History began to play out as he seemed to be living in the very midst of it!

A myriad of scenes he had observed before passed before him.

They continued to play out until...

[He gazed at the Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operandi as he could already feel the nonsensical boosts from it. Instead of being capable of cycling 24 different boundary essences across his atoms with every breath, the number was now 48 as this was only one of its boons!]

The glimmering scroll radiating pure majesty could be seen right before him as with a voracious light of tyranny, Noah's soul bellowed out!

[Hyperversal Plundering!]

WAA!

Torrential waves of glory suffused outwards.

A bejeweled golden hand appeared within Noah's Forge as it plucked down towards the completed Fragments of the Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operandi!

[You are attempting to obtain something in an Unrecorded History of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!]

[A grand and impossible goal, and yet the authority of the Oraculum Quintessential Dynamis of Extremity and the Lotra Quintessential Absolute Dynamis of Extremity seek to make it a possibility.]

[An enormous amount of your Mana and Soul Values are being drained!]

The Unrecorded History remained stable.

It didn't fracture and break down like before!

All that was left now was Noah's own capabilities as his portion of soul drew from the source and erupted with magisterial glory!

[Your soul is being put under a great strain!]

His soul felt like it was drawing everything from his visage of Alexander.

Even after endless seas of Quintessential Hyperversal Mana Values bathed everything, thousands of his Quintessential Hyperversal Soul Values were also drained unceasingly!

The bejeweled hand pressed down with tyranny while supported by such grandeur as it grasped the vibrant scroll within it.

And with vigor and unbeatable might, this hand plucked with force a single time!

...!

Time felt like it came to a stop.

The circulation of essence and the beating of a heart felt like it stopped!

Until...

BOOM!

Golden light erupted from all around as if an endlessly burning sun had just been born.

And with it...

[An impossible course of action!]

[The Second Volume of the Quintessential Breath of Extremity Modus Operandi has been plundered!]

Noah's mind buzzed as dense waves of information and authority began to descend.

[An Achievement worthy of being heralded across the Records of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity!]

[Through your actions, your Soul has become exposed to an unknown Hyperversal Authority from the depths of Aeonic Annals of Extremity!]

Chapter 2579 Overpowered At Its Best! VIII

Noah's main body and Alexander King's body were entirely separate, and yet they shared the same soul.

Two pieces of a single being!

While the separation meant some things could only be utilized by one body, there were other things that Noah's main body benefited from.

At this moment, a prompt blazed over the soul within the body of Alexander King about him being exposed to an Unknown Hyperversal Authority from the depths of the Aeonian Annals of Extremity.

Due to the ridiculous actions of Plundering something that did not yet exist- something from the Unrecorded History of a possible future!

It caused his soul to be exposed to a type of Unknown Hyperversal Authority as a vibrant colorless transparent authority washed over Noah's soul!

It didn't differentiate between which parts of him as the moment it washed over the soul within Alexander, it also washed over the soul within Noah's main body.

[The unknown Hyperversal Authority has tainted your soul as unknown effects are beginning to manifest!]

The colorless transparent essence was filled with a profound force of life as Noah's soul cried out with fervor at its mere presence!

And just as it began to express shocking effects onto Noah's soul...

BZZT!

A massive shock erupted within him.

As if something utterly rejected what this authority stood for!

CRACK!

Fissures instantly erupted and began to spread across Noah's resplendent soul as the gazes of all of his bodies changed!

[The Vacuous Hyperversal Authority within your Soul is utterly rejecting the Unknown Hyperversal Authority!]

A dreadful phenomenon unfolded as within Noah's soul, it felt like two utterly opposite authorities had interlinked with him as at this moment, they utterly denied each other.

As if they could never mix.

As if one was the Antithesis of the other!

BOOM...CRACK!

His soul across all bodies splintered as his expression became increasingly grim.

Tendrils of two authorities raged and fought against each other with him as the vessel, threatening to destroy him completely!

In the midst of all this, his multiple Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity born from different Dynamis of Extremity shook and erupted with their authority to protect their Master.

But the instant the authority of the Indefatigable Dynamis of Extremity that was the doorway which led to Vacuous Hyperversal Authority joined the fray to help its Master...

HOONG!

The transparent Unknown Hyperversal Authority roared out as it was maddened even more, its tendrils ferociously smacking down to destroy everything with its abundant life force!

[The Unknown Hyperversal Authority has been identified to be the Vitalis Hyperversal Authority!]

As his soul was getting utterly torn apart, he was at least able to learn of the identity of the authority ripping him apart.

Vitalis.

It was a concept that was the direct opposite of Vacuous!

Vitalis quite literally translated to life or life-giving.

An authority hidden within the very depths of the Seven Aeonic Havens as very few beings knew of it, and there was no record on whether any being could actually manipulate it even though it was the basis of the makeup of the very Havens!

What was complex to understand was the fact that this authority that was the very backbone of the Infinite Hyperversal Haven...why was it that whenever Extremities or even Noah called out Vacuous Hyperversal Authority that rejected reality within the Seven Vitalis Havens- no rejection occurred in their Aspects of Existence?

Why was it that one could unlock and gain access to Vacuous Hyperversal Authority through Dynamis of Extremity or other means while they lived within the Seven Vitalis Havens?!

And now, both of these shocking authorities were in the depths of Noah's soul.

The Vitalis Hyperversal Authority was also the backbone of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity as Noah's recent intrusion and action into obtaining something from an Unrecorded History had caused him to be exposed to this authority, its exposure being something that should have been a grand favorable event as it washed over his soul.

And yet...

'Fuck.'

BOOM!

Even as Quintessence rose in addition to all the authorities of Dynamis of Extremity, the raging polar opposite authorities utterly decimated everything as all of Noah's Soul splintered apart!

He didn't even get a chance to question why these authorities acted the way they did in regards to him as darkness descended.

"..."

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has experienced a version of True Death.]

...!

Death.

True Death!

And yet...

THUMP!

Like the beat of a heart, the countless Fragments of Noah's Soul shone with endless brightness as they slowly came back together!

He died...but not really.

Because so long as the Infinite Hyperversal Haven was not destroyed, he wouldn't die!

When his Fragments of souls were about to be entirely erased from existence, his Record remained untouched as in the Planar Palisades of Extremity, the Infinite Hyperversal Haven roared out like an engine as sources of its essence flowed through the connection it held with its Master.

Noah's consciousness and will felt like it faded for one instance and reappeared in the next instant as the instant his fragmented soul began to come together...

ROAR!

The fucking tendrils of Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authority raged as the battlefield they were on was reconstructed once more, and their fight annihilated the very battlefield they fought on as Noah's soul shattered into pieces once more!

His Concepts of Extremity surged to try and repair the damage as the Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity that were becoming shattered into pieces the same as Noah's soul fought with every ounce of their authority as in a short period of time- in a fraction of an instant....

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has experienced a version of True Death.]

Noah's soul was entirely shattered to the point of true death as once more as just like before, Quintessence shone.

His soul began to repair itself.

His soul glimmered full of vitality as the Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authority raged once more, the same result occurring again as Noah found he could not even separate his soul from either authority!

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has experienced a version of True Death.]

Death came once more.

But this time...it took a bit more time before his soul was shattered to pieces.

And not too long within the span of an instant...

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has experienced a version of True Death.]

It began repeating in a cycle!

Chapter 2580 Overpowered At Its Best! IX

Every time, his soul would heal as his Concepts and Dynamis backed him. And every time, he would be destroyed by Vacuous and Vitalis Hyperversal Authorities!

Fantastically, it took his soul longer and longer to be destroyed after every cycle as ever so subtly...traces of Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authority were being infused on the very soul they were constantly destroying.

The Vitalis Hyperversal Authority was originally only going to baptize Noah's soul and elevate Quintessentially due to his actions in the Unrecorded History.

And yet now, it continued to flow into Noah's soul and fight with the Vacuous Hyperversal Authority that had its source stemming from Noah's own foundation and the Indefatigable Dynamis of Extremity!

It was a form of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority as it differed from the potent authority of Vacuous Malignancies- the Vacuous Daimonikos who lived outside of reality, space, and time.

The Authority Noah was working with was barely at the level of potency that Vacuous Malignancies held before their First Vacuous Awakening.

And there were many others over the eons who had attained different forms of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority!

None of them had been destroyed the moment they did so. Noah himself wasn't rejected or destroyed when he first accessed Vacuous Hyperversal Authority as the major powers of Extremity even considered this authority the greatest tool to fight against Vacuous Malignancies!

None of them talked about Vitalis Hyperversal Authority.

None of them talked of it as very few even knew of it!

Frankly...Vitalis Hyperversal Authority was even greater than Vacuous Hyperversal Authority.

Whenever the two authorities met, they would repel or devour each other depending on the concentration as always, Vitalis would come out on top.

Rifts, spaces, or pockets of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority created within the Seven Vitalis Havens would always reduce and be erased naturally as they never expanded.

Vitalis Hyperversal Authority was so potent that Vacuous Malignancies could not survive within the Seven Vitalis Havens- within the Seven Aeonic Havens!

This was how distinguished and astonishing it was!

The reason for Noah in his current state...was him daring to have a foundation infused with Vacuous Hyperversal Authority, for his soul to hold a source of it in the form of an Absolute Dynamis of Extremity, and then coincidentally undertaking an action within an Unrecorded History that awarded him a baptism of Vitalis Hyperversal Authority.

It all concluded with these two authorities being enclosed within the core of a single Entity.

Within the soul of a single existence!

And these two authorities...would never mix. One would always drown out the other.

Like fire and water. Like light and dark...but to an even greater extent!

If ever in any Recorded or Unrecorded History where any soul tried intentionally or by mistake to put these two Authorities in the core of their existence...death was their only reprise.

Like the deaths that Noah was experiencing over and over again.

Normally, Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authority should have clashed as another astounding genius would fall in the pages of the Aeonic Annals of Extremity.

Yet...

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has experienced a version of True Death.]

The anomaly that was Noah came to be.

His soul would continue to be fractured and he would die, but this same soul would be reforged an instant later!

For him, death would only come when a massive Infinite Hyperversal Haven perished.

So during this battle where Vitalis continuously attacked and repelled Vacuous Hyperversal Authority, unimaginable changes were forced to occur over and over again!

The Vacuous Hyperversal Authority that Noah held a minuscule potency of...

was stimulated as after every death, its source seemingly became stronger as it came ever closer towards true Vacuous Hyperversal Authority.

And the Vitalis Hyperversal Authority that should have been cut off from flowing into Noah's soul...continued to flow as it had yet to achieve its purpose!

[Your Quintessential Hyperversal Soul has experienced a version of True Death.]

Death after death.

Cycle after cycle within the span of instants that were carried into nanoseconds.

Every time, the potency of Vacuous Hyperversal Authority increased.

Every time, more of it was infused in Noah's soul as traces of Vitalis Hyperversal Authority were being infused the same!

During all of these cycles, Noah withstood the tremendous pain of his soul being torn apart before it was put together again.

He withstood it all while shouldering the pain because he could see the cycles taking longer and longer!

He could see his soul being subtly different after every cycle as this wasn't the only thing being forcefully altered.

During the cycles of True Deaths of his soul, many things were impacted.

The Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity.

The 81 Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridian Seeds in his Main Body.

The 81 Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridians in Alexander's body.

His Hyperversal Forge.

And as these changes occurred within his soul...their effects to a lesser extent reached his body and Origin as minute traces of Vitalis and Vacuous Hyperversal Authorities made their way over!

The cycles of his soul being torn had been so quick that they had occurred many times within an instant, but gradually, they began to last as long as a nanosecond.

And then as long as 10 nanoseconds. 1,000 Nanoseconds. 1 Millisecond!

On every junction of time past the passage of an instant alone, the number of true deaths exceeded a million.

A million!

And they continued until...

BZZT!

A second passed entirely as the two authorities raged within his soul, but his soul was not destroyed.

It felt like a thick and viscous mass that absorbed the shocks of the two authorities, and every time they damaged him...he healed just as fast as his state no longer deteriorated!

His soul breathed a exhale of tyranny.

He gazed at the authorities still raging within his soul coldly as because of them, too many things had changed.

[An Unfathomable Quintessential Alteration has occurred to your Soul.]

His capabilities came back to life as the profundities around him were quantified, prompts beginning to appear once more.

He gazed at his current Soul as its state was surprising to look at.

After millions of cycles of True Death, changes had occurred every time his soul came back together as the multiple Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity in his soul...were nowhere to be seen.

Instead, a single utterly massive and incandescent tree that screamed out ancientness power rose from the depths of his soul!

The tree had multiple extending thick trunks that bloomed into other fantastically massive trees- with the Indefatigable, Vitalistic, and other Perennial Yggdrasil of Extremity seemingly now coming from trunks of this massive tree!

The 81 Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridians in Alexander's body underwent a astonishing alteration.

But more than that...the 81 Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridian Seeds in his Main Body Were altered to such an disturbing degree that...

[The Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Meridian Seeds within your main body have transformed into the Quintessential Hyperversal Extremity Overlord Meridian Seeds!]

...!

[The Authority of the 10th Boundary Layer of Quintessence is now being expressed within the Aspects of your Main Body!]

...!

[The Authority of the 11th Boundary Layer of Quintessence is now being expressed within the Aspects of your Main Body!]

[The Authority of the 12th Boundary Layer of Quintessence is now being expressed within the Aspects of your Main Body!]

He did not undergo Apexification with his main body.

And yet...!

[The Authority of the 13th Boundary Layer of Quintessence is now being expressed within the Aspects of your Main Body!]

With Quintessence in the lead, the authorities of Boundaries that his soul within Alexander had extended were being expressed in his Main Body in an disturbing turn of events!
