Chapter 1011 Hawkins who wants a chance, the coming BIG MOM pirates

Hawkins has decided on his goal, but there is a problem. He has nothing to do with beasts. The name of supernova is quite strong in the first half, but in the new world, there are too many such people.

With the bounty offered by Supernova, it is not difficult to simply join the other party, but that is not in line with Hawkins' ideas.

Comparing Beasts to an enterprise, they are no longer a grassroots team in the early days of their business. There are a large number of senior cadres, and even the second-generation cadres they cultivated have grown up.

Except for the first group of old people who came from various sea regions, almost all the young cadres grew up within Beasts. The cronies cultivated by Beasts themselves, the difficulty for outsiders to enter the top ranks can be said to be lower than it was more than 20 years ago. Straight up.

If you want to get mixed up to a certain position, you have to have something that the other party likes.

If you have neither ability nor potential, you can only be an ordinary soldier.

While Drake was still worrying about how to get Beasts to notice him, Hawkins had already found this opportunity.

"The appearance of subduing demons."

Hawkins' body began to swell, and gradually turned into a giant scarecrow with a hideous appearance. Five huge nails were inlaid between his fingers, and he waved towards the pirate in front of him.

"Huh? Is this the trouble you mentioned? It seems to have been resolved."

Quinn held a small folding fan in his hand, pretending to fan himself. Under normal circumstances, Quinn would not come here, after all, he is also a guest of Fishman Island.

Both Jinbe and Tiger are capable of handling the affairs here, but this time the situation is special, as soon as the flag of the beasts is hoisted, someone provokes troubles, and it would be embarrassing for the beasts not to show up.

And Quinn volunteered to come here to ensure his own safety.

Now that Kaido is drunk, Yamato can avoid risks by Arceus, but he can't. Who knows if Kaido will dance swords casually because of drinking, and then pull him over to be a sparring partner.

Although Miss Mermaid dances beautifully, he might go up and dance with him in normal times, but the excitement of Kaido's war has not passed, so something might go wrong, and it's more important to live comfortably.

When Quinn arrived at the scene, what he saw was the scarecrow Hawkins beating those pirates violently. As a member of the extremely evil generation, he still has some skills, and his extremely weird ability makes many opponents helpless.

It's just that facing Quinn, Hawkins' ability may be played to death. Quinn can completely drain Hawkins' physical strength without hurting him. When he is unable to use his fruit ability, he can slowly deal with him.

"Don't worry, Uncle Quinn is here, if you dare to violate our rules, I will let him know the price.

Now let me see, who dares to make trouble in our territory? "

Quinn pushed aside the Neptune army in front and walked over, comforting the frightened young mermaids along the way.

Beautiful things are always pleasing to the eye, and the mermaid race is full of the talent of beauty. Except for a few African catfish spirits, mermaids always attract the attention of most people.

"A super monster appeared, Plague Quinn, with a bounty of 3.2 billion Baileys"

Some of the Four Emperors' rewards were less than 3.2 billion Baileys, and Quinn even got a reward of this amount in 1520. Although Quinn's status can be called the floor among the high-level beasts, in the outside world, Quinn has long been It has reached a height that ordinary people cannot touch.

"Dead, those guys must be dead."

"Does it need to be said? They can't even beat the magician Hawkins, but the nail eyebrow seems to be lucky. If they can hang the banner of the beasts, they can walk sideways in the new world."

Some humans next to him whispered, discussing what might happen next, and Quinn had already come to Hawkins.

"Hey, kid, did you do all of this?"

"Yes, they want to prey on the population here."

"Interesting, so boy, tell me, what do you want to do?

You will never tell me that you want to act chivalrously on a whim, right? "

"I want an opportunity, an opportunity to show myself more."

No nonsense, Hawkins indirectly clarified his purpose.

"Hawkins, born in Beihai, has a bounty of 249 million Berries."

Taking out his information booklet, Quinn quickly found Hawkins' information, and he still pays attention to the outstanding newcomers.

"He's a smart guy. Take care of your people and follow us for a while, but it's not that simple to join us."

It is impossible to rely on this kind of thing to reach the sky in one step. At most, Hawkins chatted with the interviewer downstairs in the company for five minutes in advance. study.

Hawkins himself had no objection to this arrangement, and then Quinn threw the group of pirates who violated the rules directly into the sea, letting them fend for themselves in the deep sea.

When he was about to go back to continue attending the banquet, he saw a strange dessert-like ship.

"Peros Pero? Why did you come here with a long tongue?"

"Fatty man, show me some respect, do you know what you're talking about?" novelUsB.com

"Huh? Of course I know, but you are a weak chicken with a reward of only 700 million Baileys, why are you so arrogant in front of this uncle?"

"call"

Perospero took a few deep breaths to calm himself down. The relationship between him and Quinn is still relatively bad. Although they are each responsible for the business dealings of the Pirates, when the two of them communicate, it is inevitable to ridicule each other. .

It's just that time has changed, his bounty is only 700 million, but Quinn has soared to 3.2 billion, which makes him even more disadvantaged in verbal attacks.

Looking at the pirate flag hanging at the entrance, Perospero's expression also became ugly.

He didn't come here for tourism, but according to Charlotte Lingling's order, he took Murloc Island as his own territory.

She has been coveting the dessert of Murloc Island for a long time. She used to be unable to do anything because of Whitebeard's status. Now that she received the news of Whitebeard's death, she naturally acted.

Peros Pero has arrived fast enough, but he did not expect that the movements of the beasts are faster.

"I'm here to buy desserts, why are you here?"

Perospero held back his temper, and didn't say that he was here to grab the territory. He saw the Shiyuan on the side. With Quinn's status, he was not qualified to sit on that ship at all. Beasts must have more Scary people are here.

That is not something he can provoke, and he is not qualified to make that decision for Charlotte Lingling, so he changed his reason.

Just listening to Perospero's reasons, Quinn showed a sinister smile on his face.

"Unfortunately, the foreign trade here is what I say now."

“.”

Chapter 1012 The narrow-minded Quinn, the exclusive assessment from the plague

As she grew older, Charlotte Lingling's temper became more capricious, especially for Perospero, the eldest son. He hadn't realized what "maternal love" was for many years. Exclusive to his younger siblings only.

With Charlotte Lingling's character, even if the children do something wrong, or fail to complete the tasks assigned by Charlotte Lingling, they will be punished heavily.

The flag of beasts has already been hung on Murloc Island, even if Charlotte Lingling came here, it would be useless, so Perospero changed his tone.

Just bring back some desserts, make Charlotte Lingling happy first, and then explain to her, the most is to be lectured.

But if you go back empty-handed, you may face some punishment.

But seeing Quinn's sinister smile, Perospero already had an ominous premonition.

"What do you mean by that?"

"It means literally, the foreign trade here, I have the right to speak."

This is the condition for all beasts to shelter an island, and control the island's foreign trade rights.

Wano Country is the most typical country. Since it has been built as the headquarters of Beasts, the domestic economy is completely closed-loop circulation, and Beasts is the only way for citizens to communicate with the outside world.

And their methods are very clever, which greatly improves the quality of life of the people, which also strengthens their ruling foundation.

Most of the completely ruled islands also follow this path. These islands have vaguely formed a kingdom of beasts, and there is no chance for outsiders to intervene.

Islands that only hang flags are not as strict as this, but the sale of items on the island also requires the consent of Beasts. Beasts provide * services and take their own commission from it.

Whitebeard didn't ask for anything when he took refuge in Murloc Island, but only because of personal relationship, so he lent the flag to Neptune.

Although there is no financial burden in this way, the protection provided by White Beard is also limited.

Although the beasts collect benefits, they bind themselves and the island they shelter into an economic community. Although it costs money, this is more reassuring.

Perospero is not interested in the system of beasts, after all, they also have their own management methods, but the problem is that Quinn's words are threatening him at all.

"So what do you say you want to buy? Why did you call me just now?"

"Handsome handsome guy Quinn, can you let me buy some desserts from Murloc Island?"

Perospero struggled to speak the words that made him painful, and when he finished speaking, he even covered his chest.

Even if he is a vicious and cruel pirate, this sentence has already violated his conscience.

If he was not worried about being punished by his mother, he would never have said this to Quinn.

"Well, you guys are quite honest."

"The Dessert Thing"

"Not for sale."

"What did you say?"

"I said not to sell, the weather in Fishman Island is not very good recently, the workers are not in the mood to work, the output of dim sum is not high at all, it is not enough for us to digest internally, how can we sell you extra shares.

You think so, Minister Zuo? "

Quinn looked solemnly at the Minister Zuo who was in charge of the finance of Fishman Island, and Minister Zuo also gave an affirmative answer.

These people in front of them are all pirates, and Perospero and the others are not familiar with them, so they must want to speak for Quinn.

"Quinn! You * is kidding me!"

Listening to Quinn's joking remarks, Perospero's anger also rose.

"Yeah, I'm just kidding you. You ruined my banana orchard. I won't forget about it."

"When did I destroy your banana plantation?"

"Have you forgotten that time more than twenty years ago?"

Under Quinn's reminder, Perospero recalled that incident.

"How many * years has it been! You've been making trouble with me because of such trivial things?!"

"A trivial matter? You actually said it was a trivial matter?! If you weren't the son of Charlotte Lingling, I would have killed you a long time ago!"

Moving Quinn's food is a sworn enemy to Quinn. Although the matter has passed, Quinn never turned the page.

"Your banana plantation was destroyed, isn't it because that woman kicked you like a ball! Can it all be blamed on me?!"

"If you hadn't caused trouble, would that woman have done it? Also, you were kicked like a ball, that was a combo! Do you understand the combo! You uneducated long-tongued monster!"

Listening to Quinn's old story again, Perospero also set off Quinn's old background.

To be honest, the original "Quin Bowling" did cause some damage, but Quinn couldn't provoke Shaina, and Perospero's invasion was the root cause of the damage to the banana plantation.

In this case, Quinn naturally put all his negative emotions on Perospero, and began to show off his high education.

"They're all pirates, what are you pretending to be?"

"My uncle has also worked with Vegapunk, and he is not inferior to his genius scientist. Don't you guys read newspapers?"

Using the scapegoat on his body, Quinn silenced Perospero. Seeing that the plan could not be realized, Perospero simply left here.

This guy Quinn is obviously against him, and he won't compromise no matter how much he says, so he might as well go back to Cake Island to be punished.

As long as Charlotte Lingling doesn't go crazy because of cravings, she won't make him miserable because of this kind of thing, at least he doesn't intend to suffer this anger in front of Quinn.

Solved all the pirates who tried to abduct the mermaid, showed the majesty of the beasts in front of the rest of the people, drove away Perospero, and Quinn also ended the mission, and then he saw that he was playing with cards Hawkins.

"What are you doing?"

"I'm divination, and the prediction result of the card shows that I have a 95% probability of successfully joining you. There is a 36.7% probability of becoming an official member, and a 50% probability of being promoted to a cadre."

"Divination? What is the use of this thing?"

"Your Excellency Quinn, divination is a very special thing, and from you, I have noticed something very special."

"Huh? Is this uncle so special?"

"Yes, because no matter how I do the divination, the probability of you experiencing bloodshed is 100%. This kind of thing is rare."

The unpredictable Arceus can be called the master of fate, and Quinn is a special case. The two probabilities of 0 and 100 rarely appear in Hawkins' divination. Even if it is a fatal situation, some people will have a 0.1% chance of survival probability.

People like Quinn are destined to be unlucky, but they are very rare types.

This made Hawkins feel that his decision was the most correct choice. novelusb.com

Listening to Hawkins' words, Quinn froze, and then suddenly understood something.

The implication of the word * disaster is very clear. Judging from the fact that Kaido is already drunk, it is not surprising that Quinn is unlucky.

The appearance of Hawkins made Quinn see a brand new path, and this kid might be able to predict danger.

"Boy, I suddenly feel that you are very talented, and I can consider letting you follow me, but you have to understand that we are the Beast Pirates, and the Beast Pirates don't believe in fate.

Even if fate tells you that the future is a dead end, you must walk out of the road of resistance.

Next, my uncle, one of the three disasters, will personally assign you an assessment task.

The content of the assessment is very simple, use your divination to find a way to save me from the * disaster! "

Chapter 1013 Danger warning device, the end of the era of the four emperors

If the status is judged only by the bounty offered, Quinn is obviously the third in command of the Beasts Pirates. Except for Arceus and Kaido, even if Yamato is the future successor of Beasts, the bounty is not as good as him, and the other cadres are even worse. so it is.

Even considering some practical factors, Quinn has a very high status in Beasts, which can make him pay special attention to it, which will be of great benefit to the future promotion.

In the original timeline, Hawkins spent two years in the New World, and then was tricked by Kidd and Apu into forming an alliance, wanting to crusade against the red-haired Shanks, but Apu had already joined the beasts as a second-five boy, Lead Kaido to the location of the alliance.

Due to the gap in strength, Hawkins at that time was forced to join Hundred Beasts.

This time is different, he took the initiative to join Hundred Beasts, so he found his own stage to prove that he is different from those miscellaneous fish.

The root of all this is that he is a magician himself, and divination is a huge part of his life. Since he discovered the unpredictable vortex of fate, he has already decided the direction of the future.

What he wants to get in touch with is the group of religious personnel of Arceus, but Quinn is also a good choice, especially the special assessment he offers. If you stay with Quinn, you will definitely be promoted to a cadre faster.

It's just that there is something wrong with the conditions offered by Quinn.

"Your hexagram is very strange, as if it was destined, and you can't get rid of it at all. No matter how you calculate it, it will be delayed at most and cannot be exempted."

Then Hawkins drew cards again in front of Quinn, and a card with a tower appeared on the top.

"Tower, the only card that has no good meaning in both the upright and reverse positions, Mr. Quinn, your fate is very ups and downs, or in other words, very stable."

Hawkins has rushed to call on Mr. Quinn, but the result made Quinn not very satisfied.

"It doesn't matter, I will give you some time to prepare, and then you can prove your ability to me. Now you can just wait here. When the matter is over, I will take you away together."

Hawkins was not qualified to participate in that banquet, so Quinn just asked him to wait here, while Quinn himself returned to Dragon Palace City and reported what just happened to Kaido and Arceus.

Provocative people are nothing, but BIG-MOM's actions are worth mentioning.

As for Hawkins, Quinn intends to use time to verify his ability. It is good to be able to avoid risks, but it is impossible to avoid them. It is also great to be able to defend yourself.

"Master Arceus, just now I met the members of the Big Mom Pirates, and they seem to have ideas about Murloc Island."

After returning to the banquet hall, Quinn found Arceus and reported what had just happened. Although Kaido did not perform feats such as sword dancing, he also entered a state of drunkenness. liquor.

If Arceus was not still here, the people of Beasts might have to take emergency evasion.

It's just that Kaido obviously can't listen to the information, and Quinn doesn't want to cause * disasters on him.

"How did you deal with it?"nOvEluSb.CoM

"He has already driven him away. According to the character of the old woman, she will not fight with us. After all, we have already occupied this place, and it is not to compete with her for the territory, but Perospero is going to be unlucky. "

Quinn didn't notice that when he was reporting the information, Yamato was wandering around the banquet hall with a notebook, looking for information with some high-ranking and senior murlocs or mermaids.

After a grand banquet, the Dragon Palace Kingdom sent away the pirates of all beasts, and on the way back, the revenge from the eldest lady began.

"Uncle Quinn, I heard that the Dragon Palace Kingdom had a secret treasure back then."

"Huh? What secret treasure?"

"It's the thing called the evil medicine in the jade hand box. I heard that the thing can stimulate the potential of the human body, but it will pay a heavy price. Back then, Mandelfisch brought that thing back for you to study.

But after so many years, it seems that there is no news at all. "

"This... I remember that I should have researched it. That thing is worthless. It is purely a short-term burst of strength. It is too tasteless. In terms of practical value, it is not as good as the burst of the sword dance team. After returning to Ghost Island, look through the report records. Should be able to find it."

"Well, Uncle Quinn, you are really dedicated."

Yamato made a scribble on his notebook, apparently trying to get hold of his past work, intending to take revenge on Quinn's evil act of "both perishing together" in the war on the top.

This action made Quinn's heart tense. Although nothing happened, if Yamato really caught his pigtail, he might have to be sent to special training by Kedora.

"Miss Yamato, where did you hear about this kind of thing? Aren't you not interested in this kind of thing?"

"Well, secret, I'm suddenly very interested in things from the past."

A very special smile appeared on Yamato's face, which seemed extremely dangerous to Quinn

This reminded Smiling Quinn of the * disaster that Hawkins said before, and he also strengthened his mind to speed up Hawkins' review process and arrange for him as soon as possible.

Strength can be discussed elsewhere, but this fortune-telling ability is of great help to him.

Ordinary people go out to check the weather forecast. If Hawkins is really easy to use, he can also be used as a special office assistant.

Then the people of Beasts began to return to Wano Country, where a grand banquet was waiting for them.

The results of the Dingshang War also began to gradually ferment during this period. Through the efforts of Newsbird, the whole world finally has a certain understanding of this.

【Four years ago, the red-haired Shanks became one of the emperors of the sea, and the four great pirates ruled the sea like emperors. People called them the Four Emperors.

Today, four years later, the oldest Four Emperors - Whitebeard - Edward Newgate ended his life.

This also means the end of the era of the Four Emperors.

Whitebeard's last words are very simple, ONEPIECE is real!

World Economic News Agency-Flame Photographer. 】

There are a large number of daring reporters under Morgans, and the Flame Photographer is one of them. He was the former head of the navy's photography department. After being dismissed by the navy, he joined the World Economic News Agency. When writing this article, he didn't think about any old feelings .

And this is only part of the report. A series of changes surrounding the top war cannot be clearly written in a few articles.

Land of White Earth, Bardigo, the headquarters of the Revolutionary Army, where the dragon commanded the actions of the Revolutionary Army in various places, and today, the phone bug of the Revolutionary Army headquarters rang again.

Chapter 1014 ASL, injured eldest son, idol trainee, fanatical believer

"Dragon, you should have read the news in the newspaper, the world is about to usher in a huge change that has never been seen before."

On a boat full of transvestites who claimed to be new humans, Ivankov called the headquarters of the Revolutionary Army. He did have the private number of Long, but it was easy to be tapped.

In order not to be eavesdropped on key information, he chose to call the headquarters phone bug with a white phone bug to prevent wiretapping.

"I see, Whitebeard's death declaration will inevitably cause more pirates to flood into the sea, and this is also an opportunity for us to expand."

"No, Dragon, what happened on the top of the war is far more than that. The navy hasn't exposed it yet, but on the battlefield, my people saw Zefa dead."

"Zefa. Did you choose such an ending?"

During the war, Warring States did not immediately announce Zefa's death in battle, because Zefa's status in the headquarters is very special. Today's three major generals, more than 90% of elite lieutenant generals, and countless generals are all his disciples.

If the news is exposed immediately, the order to cease fighting may not be carried out.

"More than that, Dragon, tell me, what happened to the bear these years?! Why did that gentle bear become like that!"

"I'll tell you about this when you return to the headquarters, but the attack at the end of the war"

"I don't know what it is, but Long, you were not on the battlefield at the time, and those two attacks were not human-resistant at all. If the World Government can frequently use that weapon, then our revolution will be like a joke."

"Let's think about it in the long run. At least we now know about this thing. By the way, I forgot to mention it. Congratulations on regaining your freedom."

"If you talk about it, Long, your son is really amazing."

"Yeah?"

Hearing Ivankov mentioning Luffy, Long Yi's immutable face also had a smile on his face, but Ivankov can always surprise people.

"Yeah, except for being as brave as you, there is nothing like you in the whole body, hee-ha! Who would have thought I would say that? You must have been scared, right? Hee-ha!"

"Ivankov...you guy, come back quickly, everyone has been waiting for you for a long time."

At the same time, Sabo was also reading the information in the newspaper when Long was on the phone with Ivankov.

"Fire Fist Ace, Straw Hat Luffy ASL"

Sabo felt his head hurting, but he couldn't remember what happened. Ace was not dead yet, so the impact of the information was not enough, and Sabo couldn't immediately remember what happened at the beginning.

Cake Island, Charlotte Lingling is upset because Perospero has brought her bad news.

"Mom, it's that guy Quinn, he is deliberately targeting us!"

"Well~ well, is that so?"

"Yeah, Mom, that guy deliberately didn't sell it, and I can't help it."

"But why did Smoothie complete the deal with them just now?"

"You said it was done."

Perospero, who has not yet returned to Cake Island, has a look of despair. This guy Quinn is stalking him.

First rejected his deal, and then made a deal with other younger siblings, thus labeling him incompetent in Charlotte Lingling's heart.

"Mom! You listen to me explain, this is all the conspiracy of the * Quinn." noVELus&.com

Listening to the busy tone on the phone, Perospero wanted to cry, but he could already imagine what kind of virtue he would be scolded for when he returned to Cake Island. To be precise, as long as Charlotte Lingling didn't do anything this time, she would be fine. Already good.

While on Cake Island, Charlotte Lingling asked other questions.

"Katakuri, what happened to the territory problem?"

"We robbed a part, but we acted a bit late, the beasts occupied most of the territory, and were blocked by the red-haired Shanks later"

They refer to the battle for Whitebeard's territory during the Dingshang War. The beasts took the lead, and Olga led her phantom army to make a feint to attract Shanks' attention.

But the members of the BIG MOM Pirates did not go so smoothly. They were kindly dissuaded by Shanks passing by, but they did not achieve very good results.

"Kaido, this kid has grown up completely."

【The World's Strongest - Beast Kaido】

The headline on the newspaper thrown on the ground by Charlotte Lingling is very eye-catching. In the hearts of many people, Kaido is already well-deserved the strongest in the world.

Gulan Tezolo, the temporary office headquarters of Beast Fruit, in order to prevent uncontrollable factors after the top war, the core personnel who originally worked on the Red Earth Continent have been transferred here.

Because of Arceus' strategic deterrence and desire for eternal life medicine, Beast Fruit is still a formal enterprise at this time, but Tezolo has not set foot on the Red Earth Continent, this is just to prevent unnecessary troubles.

"Mr. Kaido is really strong, but Shanks is not bad, Ah Xian, look, Luffy and Hero are also in the newspaper."

On the soft sofa, Uta flipped through the newspaper in front of her, but her focus was completely different from others.

"War is really annoying. It would be great if there were no wars and no pirates."

"Do you want to listen to what you are talking about? Whether it is the people behind here or your adoptive father, they are all pirates, and they are still the big pirates at the top."

"It doesn't matter. Others don't know what we are thinking. Being an actor is a very tiring job. Our essence is nothing more than deceiving. Also, you are just a trainee. You have not yet made your debut. You should respect your seniors more. ah!"

Beside Uta, there is Cavendish who has practiced for a year and is about to make his debut. However, the limelight of the war on top is too great. If he debuts now, he will not be able to attract the attention of the audience at all, even if seniors like Uta give him momentum. It didn't work either.

For the current sea, Cavendish is not as popular as the mysterious medicine department of Beast Fruit.

Mentioning this, Cavendish angrily bit the newspaper in his hand.

"Damn it, I also want this kind of reputation, why can that straw hat kid show off in this kind of occasion, I don't accept it!"

"Hmph, Luffy is different from you, work hard, let's go outside, Xian, let's play outside."

Under Uta's signal, her Heracross took her directly to the outside world, ignoring Cavendish, who had a pink eye attack.

Caring about the future, calculating benefits, and envious of popularity, different people have different views on this war, but in Ghost Island, a group of people have entered the stage of fanaticism.

In the monastery, the scene of Arceus attacking was preserved by the people on the Siyuan with Rotom and sent to Misu, and the miracle also made all believers enter a state of madness.

Chapter 1015 Sect Fantasia and Magical Diary

Before the war on the top, Tezolo was working with Morgans to establish an electronic information platform based on the Rotom mobile phone, but those traditional reporters would not be able to accept this new model for a while, so the external Rotom electronic information is still It didn't develop.

But it is different inside Beasts. The fully functional Rotom mobile phone was distributed to the cadres earlier, and the people of Beasts have become accustomed to this convenient information tool, especially the group chat function in it. convenience.

Most of Arceus's Origin are believers of the Arceus religion. Among these believers, some have a very special task, which is to record the glorious moment of the Lord.

Different from the historians of words and deeds around the king, these people are the most clever people in the sect, and their only job is to spread the glory of Arceus without making him unhappy.

During this process, Shaina will still check, so there are no accidents.

Arceus is very low-key on weekdays. It can be said that the top war is a very small number of shots, and the power of punishment has become the best thing used by the sect members in the process of preaching.

That is a real miracle. For a new religion, there is no more effective means than a real miracle.

"The Lord does not want to judge the world, but to save the world. This chaotic world has no bottom line. Only the glory of the Lord can drive out the 800 years of darkness.

The reward is the enemy's fear of the Lord. The Lord has not yet fully awakened. What we have to do is to contribute to the Lord's recovery and spread the Lord's gospel.

Our efforts will definitely pay off in the future world! "

Under the statue of the monastery, Misu held the teachings in one hand and pointed at the screen projected by Rotom with the other, and there was a neat response from below.

In addition to the believers present, there are also believers from other territories who use Rotom's remote communication, members of the Knights Templar who went out to preach, and disciplinary knights who fought against the God-blasphemers. This can be called the most successful gathering since the establishment of the Arceus religion. .

If a new war is needed, these believers all have the courage to go to the battlefield. Their strength may not be comparable to that of the members of the Knights, but in terms of morale, they are not weaker than any army.

With the support of faith, this team will not be afraid of death at all.

"But don't forget that the Lord doesn't need to die meaninglessly, and outside, your own life is the most important thing.

When you encounter an enemy, the most important thing you should do is to contact the member in charge of the battle instead of sending yourself to death. "

Members of Arceus began their worship under the leadership of Misu, while other areas have a completely different look.

Nine miles, Setsuna's room, Miaona and Worf sneaked in quietly. After realizing that Setsuna hadn't returned, Miaona popped out a claw from her fingertips, trying to open the locked drawer.

"Aren't you alright?"

"Quick, it opened right away, Mom didn't use any complicated locks.

Don't watch here, go to the window and watch the wind. "

Miao Na quickly found the key position, twisted her nails to the right, and opened the drawer smoothly, and what appeared in front of her was a neat row of diaries.

Setsu has the habit of writing diaries, and is the only one in Beasts who has kept those diaries intact. These diaries not only contain her life past, but also include some major events that happened in Beasts.

When the cadres of Beasts forget something, it is always useful to ask Setsuna, as long as they remember the specific date, Setsuna can usually find what they need from the diary.

This is not just an ordinary diary, it has even become a history of the development of beasts.novelus6.com

The reason why the two of them turned over the diary was because they received a request from Yamato.

【Two of you, please help me go to Quinn's laboratory to look at his work log and find evidence that he fished. 】

When he set off to fight the war, Quinn handed over all the authority to Zeraora for the convenience of domestic defense work. Yamato still remembered this, so he asked these two little guys to search for Quinn It is not good for adults to do this kind of thing.

Although the two followed Zeraora into the office, there were too many documents in there, and they didn't know which one Yamato wanted, so they thought of Setsuna's diary.

Because Setsuna has a habit when keeping a diary, she will use tags to mark some extra things, such as Quinn dragging Zeraora to work overtime before her date, and she wrote it down.

Through the diary, they can find the specific date, and then exclude some things from Quinn's work log, and they can roughly guess whether Quinn has put some tasks on hold.

The previous research on the murderous drug was the clue that the brothers and sisters found in the diary.

Sometimes Setsuna would take them to read his diary and recall the past, otherwise they wouldn't know that Setsuna's diary was placed here.

Yamato not long ago sent a letter to his brother and sister, asking them to find out if they had any new clues.

"Mom has so many diaries, more than textbooks."

"Yeah, how did she keep so many diaries."

Before, Setsu just took a book and told them stories. These two little guys never thought that their mother wrote a diary full of drawers. They didn't know that this was just a part of the diary.

But at this moment, Setsuna quietly appeared behind them.

"What are you two doing?"

"mom, Mom, Mom?!"

Meowna looked at Wolf, the meaning in her eyes was self-evident, is that how you let off air?

"Don't think about it, I also came from your age, and what you are using now is what I left from playing.

It's wrong to peek at other people's diaries. You have to respect other people's privacy. If you want to know something, just ask me directly. "

He didn't get angry for a moment, but just raised his attitude and educated the two children. It wasn't until the two began to reflect on their behavior that they asked about their purpose.

"Sister Yamato, let us find out if there is something wrong with Uncle Quinn."

"She said that Uncle Quinn cheated her in the war on the top, so she has to get the place back."

"What, you can tell me no to this kind of thing earlier, come on, mom will help you find it together."

This kind of behavior is at best a fight within Hundred Beasts. If the object of the fight is Quinn, then Setsuna would never mind helping out to settle the grievances of the year.

Although those things have passed, when she thinks about them again, she still feels very uncomfortable.

When Quinn's future was in doubt, near the former Whitebeard's territory, the pirates who heard that Whitebeard had died started their operations, but what was waiting for them was Jack who had just arrived here.

Chapter 1016 You should be thankful, here is qualified to hang our flag

On the day when the war ended, the world government announced the results of the war, but the focus they mentioned was not Whitebeard's final declaration, or the portrayal of a certain pirate's strength, their focus has always been Whitebeard's death .

Whitebeard's death means the end of a legendary pirate, indicating that there will no longer be a monster named Whitebeard in the sea.

Anyone with a bit of knowledge knows what the death of Whitebeard will lead to, but ordinary people are different. They will only celebrate this "victory" that belongs to the Navy.

The truth was gradually reduced during the transmission of the news. In the end, the news people received was completely different from the real situation of the war.

Navy won, Whitebeard died, that's the only perception most people have.

As for the episodes in the war, such as a large number of escaped prisoners from Advance City, the departure of the Whitebeard remnants, and the massive casualties of the navy, these news were gradually forgotten by the world government.

In the final analysis, pirates are also a group of people who make a living by plundering. There are only a handful of pirates who can reach the position of sea emperor and build their own sea empire.

And these guys who don't do production, but only rob are also objects of disgust by the people.

Even if Whitebeard protects a large number of islands with his own strength, in the eyes of others, he is no different from those pirates who only rob houses.

【Very good! Whitebeard is finally dead! 】

【Now the sea can regain peace, let's have a banquet, I'll pay for today's wine! 】

They were excited about the results of the war they had received, and spent a beautiful day in their hearts by celebrating festivals, having fun and imagining the future, but the joy lasted for a very short time.

Ordinary people saw the death of Whitebeard, but those who had ambitions paid attention to the mysterious big secret treasure.

Whitebeard personally confirmed the existence of the great secret treasure, which made countless pirates go crazy.

In order to * the big secret treasure, more people chose to go to sea, and the first to bear the brunt were the people who were celebrating just now.

The war on the top has mobilized elite navies from all over the world, including the few capable generals in the four seas navies.

Before these generals returned to their bases, the deterrent power of the navy plummeted. Facing countless new pirates, the navy could only attack these new pirates frequently.

The dispatching rooms of various local branches have almost entered a state of continuous rotation. Just after dealing with a group of pirates, the new alarm sound reached their ears.

The seas of the four seas are all overwhelmed by these newly emerging pirates, not to mention the new world, the territory of the Whitebeard Pirates has already fallen into chaos.

In the territory of the new world, Whitebeard originally occupied a large part, but in order to rescue Ace, the Whitebeard Pirates can be said to be dispatched by all members.

The sixteen divisions of the team were unreserved, and all the affiliated pirate groups were dispatched, leaving very few guards.

This caused Jack and Olga to limit their distance not by the strength of the enemy, but by the distance when they were playing territory.

Many islands in the New World are used to living under the protection of the Pirate Flag, so the job of Jack and Olga is very simple, find an island, convince the island's administrator, plant their own flag, and leave a few Personal garrison will go to the next place.

The issue of island management will be in the follow-up arrangements. Their task is to siege the land.

As for how to manage the island, someone else will handle it later.

It is okay to let Jack play the territory, but let him manage the new island, that is really embarrassing.

Even if the cadres of Beasts began to divide their troops after entering Whitebeard's territory, the large number of islands restricted their footsteps. Even if the war on the top was over, their mission was not over.

"Brother Jack! Governor Kaido has sent a new order, asking you to return to Ghost Island to hold a banquet after completing the mission."

"I see, Brother Kaito is indeed the strongest, Sipps Head, Jin Rami, you two are in charge of the islands here, I will occupy the nearby islands, and then end our mission."

"yes!"

Beasts have occupied a lot of territory that originally belonged to Whitebeard. According to Olga's feedback on the battle situation not long ago, the newly occupied territories are now close to the limit of Beasts' handling.

For them, it is not difficult to conquer this territory, and it is not difficult to just hang up the flag and collect protection fees, but it takes a lot of energy and manpower to manage the island well, and the limit of handling also refers to this aspect.

With new orders, Jack also planned to return after occupying the nearby islands, leaving only a few people stationed, and Jack's Iron Mammoth continued to sail to the sea ahead.

And here, the flag belonging to Whitebeard has been collected by the residents of the island. Whitebeard is very popular in his own territory, and most people are very grateful for the protection brought by his flag.

Even though Whitebeard was dead, this situation did not change immediately.

The pirates of Beasts didn't insult that flag, even Kaido recognized Whitebeard's strength, so naturally they wouldn't do such meaningless things.

Only from the eyes of some residents on the island, Sipps Head could see an expression of unwillingness.noVELUS.com

When Jack and the others first came to the island, these people also resisted, but they were easily defeated.

"Don't be unconvinced. In a few days, you will be glad that our flag is hung here. Do you think you can defend this island with your three-legged cat skills?"

This is a new world. Without us, there would be other pirates. If it were another pirate group, their methods would not be as gentle as ours. "

Sippshead is fiddling with a piece of ore in his hand, which is one of the reasons why they occupied the island.

Islands without sufficient interest value are not in the priority order of beasts to occupy, unless the geographical location of the island is critical, and not occupying it may cause other territories to become enclaves.

"You give us resources, we protect your safety, everything is the same as before, and you can even live better.

Time will tell, or you can try to see if you can beat us. "

While crushing the ore with one hand and drawing a cake for the residents in front of him, Sipshead also demonstrated his force again.

In fact, what he said is correct. Islands in the New World that have no ability to protect themselves usually end up badly, such as Jack's destination.

Due to the location, he arrived at the island a few days later. When he landed, the originally peaceful island had already become dilapidated. The houses were set on fire, and the sound of crying spread outward in the sea of flames.

Chapter 1017 The only winner

"Brother Jack, it seems that someone got there first."

"I saw."

The flames caught Jack's eyes, which put him in a bad mood.

He didn't sympathize with the residents of the island, that's not his character, he was unhappy only because the island was destroyed like this.

This caused him to be unable to perfectly complete the occupation task assigned to him by Kaido. What he wanted was a complete island, not a broken ruin.

"Murloc Karate Gun Wave!"

Jack's actions are also very straightforward, they are all pirates, and there is no moral to speak of at this time.

Grabbing the sea water on the beach, Jack directly destroyed the opponent's pirate ship with a strike of murloc karate, and then led his men to the interior of the island.

On the inside of the island, adults held weapons and struggled to resist the pirates in front of them. Above them was a pirate flag belonging to Whitebeard, but this flag could no longer bring them any shelter.

"You should have received the news. This is no longer Whitebeard's territory. You should know this truth, right? This sign is useless!"

Cut off the flagpole that hung the flag, the pirate stepped on Whitebeard's pirate flag under his feet, his words were full of disdain.

"From today onwards, this island is my territory!"

"Who do you think you are? How dare you say such things?"

Before the pirate finished speaking, Jack's deep voice came from behind.

"Who is it?! My uncle is but is"

He arrogantly wanted to say his name, but in the end, he swallowed those words forcefully.

A huge bronze elephant of the king appeared in front of the pirate. Facing an opponent whose strength was far inferior to his own, Jack still loved the beast form.

Even if the metal body is not domineering, most people can't hurt him, and Jack's appearance is familiar in the new world.

Iron Mammoth-Jack, with a bounty of 1,088,000,000 Baileys, is the most eye-catching one among the cadres of the new era of Beasts. Whether it is the degree of belligerence or the frequency of fighting, it is second to none among the cadres of the new generation of Beasts. In recent years, it has been vaguely called the fourth disaster.

Kaido's activities in the top war not only brought about an increase in his bounty, correspondingly, the entire Beast Pirates were influenced by Kaido and Arceus, and the bounty increased to a certain extent.

Quinn's bounty has to deduct the bonus of pot, but now Jack's bounty does not have the bonus of ivory, but real combat power.

"Huh? You said it, why didn't you say it?"

"me."

At this time, a cream fairy emerged from the braid on top of Jack's head, looked at the pirate in front of him, and patted his hands on top of Jack's head, implying that he didn't remember this person.

In a sense, Jack's brain capacity is limited, he only remembers those famous pirates on the sea, other than that, he can't recognize the other party's identity at all.

Frost Milk Fairy is slightly stronger than him. As long as the bounty exceeds 100 million, it will have a little impression. If it doesn't even remember, it means that the pirate in front of it is just one of many miscellaneous fish.

Boom!

After that, looking at the frightened enemy with his tongue tied, Jack swung his trunk neatly and directly drove him into the rock wall beside him.

"Kill them all, this island will be the domain of beasts from now on."

In an instant, the situation on the island reversed. The pirate who was the perpetrator met a stronger pirate,

The war of beasts is coming to an end, which means that there are fewer opportunities to accumulate meritorious deeds. Jack's subordinates are warlike. In order to accumulate more meritorious deeds in this final battle, when Jack just gave the order, they have already rushed up.

"White Beard is dead, and all cats and dogs have jumped out."

Looking at the pirates who were crushed by his subordinates, Jack has no desire to make a move at all, because he is too weak after all.

Taking advantage of this time, he has already arrived in front of the island residents. noVelusb.coM

"Our flag is hung here, you should have no objection."

Although it was a question, Jack did not give them the right to veto, and it was just a process. No matter what the answer was, it would not affect Jack's next move. What would affect the future management of the island.

And looking at the burning island, the speaker on the island did not refuse this matter.

Similar situations didn't just happen here. Similar situations happened in the territory that originally belonged to Whitebeard. The islands that had already hung the flags of Hundred Beasts or Big Mom were not affected.

Whitebeard is dead, Kaido and Charlotte Lingling are still alive and well, and their flags have the same or even stronger deterrence.

Although Charlotte Lingling has excessive requirements for food, under this premise, the quality of life of the residents under the rule can still be guaranteed. Not to mention the beasts, the management team is already on the way.

As for those islands that were not occupied, they became the most unlucky group of people when they lost their asylum.

After the island was settled and the flag of beasts was hung on the island, Jack led his men to suppress the nearby pirates who wanted to make trouble, and then led his team to return.

Olga's actions are similar to Jack's. The biggest difference is the way of fighting. Jack's opponent is defeated head-on after seeing Jack's face, while Olga saw only the pirate flag when the enemy died. .

After being invisible, Qianmian avoids the tail blade and sniper attack, and the internal turmoil caused by the illusion makes them have no idea who the enemy is.

Don't mention the navy and Whitebeard, who had huge losses, and the blackbeard who was wiped out.

Whether it is BIG-MOM or the red hair, there are unsatisfactory places in this war, only the beasts have not suffered any losses, Kaido has a good fight, and the territory has been expanded.

Arceus found the icicle slab, and the Arceus religion added a miracle, and at the same time enriched their teachings.

At most, Quinn was more responsible, but he was already in debt.

Onijima also planned a similar banquet, but it was only for Beasts, and others did not go so smoothly.

For example, Moria, relying on Absalom's ability, he successfully escaped from Marin Fando, but Kaido beat him to nothing.

Kaido has proved with facts that facing Kaido is a joke no matter whether it is his zombie army or his current strength.

This caused Moria to completely become a waste wood, and began to waste his time. Even the source of living expenses was obtained by Abrarom using the ability of transparent fruits to find lace news.

The remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates also began to return to the new world after coating. Just looking at the new flag on the Murloc Island, the Whitebeard Pirates were a little complicated.

Chapter 1018 Sadness and Joy, One World, Different Life

"Papa's flag...is no longer there."

At the entrance of Murloc Island, a new flag stands on the flagpole. The deterrent force of the beasts makes the pirates who arrive at Murloc Island dare not have other thoughts.

Just for the Whitebeard Pirates, this gap is still very big. A few days ago, when they went to Marlin Fandor through Murloc Island, the flag here was still their flag, but now everything is different.

The same goes for the Whitebeard Pirates. After all, they are the pirates who came together because of Whitebeard.

The composition of the Whitebeard Pirates is not like the original Rocks Pirates or the short-lived Blackbeard Pirates. They have no morals at all, but their composition is also uneven.

After the death of Whitebeard, the pirates of the team did not disband, and maintained the original state under the leadership of each captain.

But those affiliated pirate groups are different. Some captains died in the top battle, and the rest of them have their own ideas. Some choose to continue to fly the Whitebeard flag, and some have regained their independence.

Unless someone can carry the banner left by Whitebeard, the Whitebeard Pirates will already exist in name only.

Today they are still a powerful force in the new world, but they have already withdrawn from the first echelon.

Marco expected that Murloc Island would change its flag. He also knew that Murloc Island had a certain connection with Beasts, but the speed of changing the flag was beyond his expectation.

"Marco, there is no way to do this. The Murloc Island must survive. I hope you can understand our approach. To be honest, Newgate's last words have caused us a lot of trouble."

It was still Neptune who received them, and the king was quite busy during this time.

Whitebeard's help to them is real. Even though the banner of beasts is now hoisted, Neptune is not so ruthless, and warmly received Marko and others.

After the death of Whitebeard, Marco has become the acting captain of the Whitebeard Pirates. For the Whitebeard Pirates, their captain will always be that one.

Whether it is now or in the future, the position of captain of the Whitebeard Pirates will probably be vacant.

If Whitebeard is still alive, the successor he appoints is likely to be Ace, but it is impossible for Ace to take over this position now, neither he nor the other crew members can accept this kind of thing for the time being.

Listening to Neptune's explanation, Marco sighed, knowing that he had no reason to say anything.

"I don't know that the future Murloc Island will not need us."

“.”

Nepton didn't reply, but everyone understood that the Murloc Island, which was sheltered by beasts, no longer needed Whitebeard's remnants, and Whitebeard's remnants were also unable to shelter the Murloc Island.

"Then we won't stay any longer, King Neptune, we are going back to Dad's territory."

The territory was occupied by other pirates. This matter was within the expectation of Marco and others. It is not surprising that Beasts and BIG MOM took action. Now they have no ability to offend them who have the power of the four emperors.

And now they no longer need as many territories as before, so the goal of the Whitebeard Pirates is to point to Whitebeard's hometown - Sphinx Island.

This impoverished island can't afford the gold at all, so naturally it is not qualified to become a member country, and it has become a lawless country as time goes by.

Although Whitebeard went to sea and became a pirate when he was a child, he has always missed the land where he was born and transported supplies here from time to time. Even though he has no friends and family on this island, Whitebeard still has a special feeling for his hometown.

What Whitebeard has always guarded is also what Marco and the others want to protect. Only this island, they don't want to give it to anyone.

Sphinx Island is far away from the territory of BIG·MOM. The only risk is the beasts, but the beasts gave up this island, which is what Kaido and Arceus meant.novelusb.com

Sphinx Island is too poor, the geographical location is not good, there is no unique advantage, and there is no gain in occupying it. In this case, they directly left it to the remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates.

It is much better for these people to have a fixed territory than for them to run around the world.

After that, Shanks arrived on the island and participated in the funeral of Whitebeard. As for the future of the Whitebeard Pirates, that is not a question for him to think about.

The actions of the Whitebeard Pirates also possess rationality, and the persimmons are soft. They can't afford to offend the current Beasts and Big Mom, and they can still deal with those pirates who take advantage of the chaos.

Putting grief into their hearts, they began to paralyze themselves with new battles.

On the other hand, in the territory of the Beasts Pirates, the residents of most of the islands are full of joy, and the relationship in the Pirate World is generally deformed. In this case, the Somali pirate banking system of Beasts is also preserved.

Many people got investment dividends when the beasts won. As for the sad people

Wars will kill people, even if they are the attackers, this situation cannot be avoided. Although pensions will be issued, relatives and friends will still feel sad, but there are not many such people.

Most of the pirate groups are alone. There are only a few people like Mandelfish who are full of promotion and retirement, and hedonists like Drake are the norm.

Ordinary brothers will grieve for them for a while, but it won't be long before they throw themselves into the banquet and celebrate their victories.

As the leaders of the Beast Pirates, Kaido and Arceus have not yet returned to the Wano Country. Without special circumstances, Arceus will not speed up the sailing speed, but will only let the Siyuan sail at a regular speed.

Kaido couldn't bear the loneliness anymore and rode the eight-headed dragon to find someone to fight. To be more precise, he went to abuse vegetables. He also heard the news that the sea was no longer calm, and planned to teach those little ghosts a lesson .

Just before leaving, he indicated the date of the banquet and said that he would return to Ghost Island as scheduled.

During the voyage of the Siyuan, some lifeboats would be seen from time to time, and the warm-hearted Yamato would often help them. At first, those people were grateful, but when they saw the pirate flag on her body, their faces The expression on the face was replaced by fear.

"Father, I don't understand, why do these people think that the sea will be stable when White Beard dies?"

This is what she heard from the population on the shipwreck.

【White Beard is dead, why does the sea still not stop. 】

Even she couldn't understand the statement.

"Yeah, even you understand the truth, but most people still don't understand it, or rather, it's not that they don't know, but more people don't want to believe it."

"Right. Wait, adoptive father, aren't you complimenting me?"

Chapter 1019 The external brain is also a tradition, a special interview with pirates

"Yes, you have made progress, you can already hear the meaning in the words, and you are still growing."

"No, adoptive father, I don't want to hear this kind of praise at all. Or it is not a compliment at all."

"It doesn't matter what it is, Yamato, I'm not too worried about your strength, after all, there are not many that can threaten you.

But your character is too easy to be fooled, you may count the money for him when you are sold.

You're not the type who doesn't shine. Don't you have a lot of tricks when facing Kaido? It would be nice if you could turn that state into a normal state. "

Listening to Arceus' words, Yamato thought about the scene, then shook his head.

"Forget it, adoptive father, I was forced to intrigue with that old man, and I think I am quite clever, it is not so easy to fool me."

"It better really be"

"However, father-in-law, I know that ordinary people don't believe in pirates, but people in these new worlds should have some understanding of what Whitebeard is like?"

"People have never longed for the truth. Faced with evidence that is not to their taste, they will walk away. If the fallacy is tempting to them, they are more willing to worship the fallacy.

Pirates are pirates after all, and it is impossible to convince everyone. "

"But the people of Wano country trust us very much, even those stubborn warriors have changed now."

"Otherwise? These years of hard work are not in vain, but if you want people in the whole sea to think this way, that is a long road."

After explaining a few words, Arceus left Yamato, leaving her time to think alone.

The "complex" logic reappeared in Yamato's mind, and she also adhered to the usual style in the past. Since it is too troublesome, she might as well forget about it and discuss it with others slowly when she has time.

Looking around, she suddenly found that there was no one on board.

"Why is Uncle Quinn missing again? Was he dragged away by Father for training?"

"Master Ghost Ji, if you are looking for Master Quinn, he is on the ship behind."

The members of the ship pointed to the pirate ship behind. Strictly speaking, it was not a ship of beasts, but a pirate ship belonging to Hawkins.

He hadn't fully joined the beasts yet, but was brought by Quinn's side, planning to throw him to the island in the territory first, and this period of time was also the time that Quinn used Hawkins for divination.

"Hawkins, Brother Kaito has left, tell me now, has the result of divination changed?"

"No, the probability of your * disaster is still 100%, but the time of occurrence has been greatly delayed."

Hawkins has never seen such a precise fate. No matter how twists and turns the process has, it has not been able to change the final result of the divination. In a sense, this is also a miracle.

"I doubt your ability now."

"But you have seen that, except for the things related to the person on the ship, my divination success rate is very high."

When it came to divination, Hawkins did not back down, and this also broke Quinn's fluke mentality, and had to face reality again.

【After Brother Kaidou left. This thing was delayed, so the root cause should still be on Brother Kaidou.

But it should be Ms. Yamato who suffers first. 】

Quinn kept stroking his beard, thinking about what would cause him misfortune. At this time, a fast dragon landed on the Siyuan, carrying today's newspaper.

"Thank you, you worked hard today."

Yamato greeted Kuailong familiarly. This was not Kuailong's task, but when Kuailong appeared with a newspaper, it meant that they had come to their own territory.

"Let me look at the recent news about the new member of the Shichibukai, Senryodoka-Baki? I remember that he is very weak, can this also be the Qibukai?"

The actions of the world government are also gradually unfolding, such as starting to recruit members of the King Shichibukai.

Baki's own ability is not very good, but he can't stand him. He has become an idol in the hearts of prisoners who escaped in Advance City, and there are a lot of dangerous people around him. That's why the world government wants to use this power and prepare to recruit Bucky.

In order to be able to legally hunt for treasure, Bucky did not refuse the invitation letter from the world government, so he became a member of Qibukai.

The World Government also helped Bucky, such as the former crew of One Piece, the brother of the red-haired Shanks and a series of titles on Bucky.*novel.usB.cOm

The purpose of this is just to calm down the new pirates by praising Bucky, and let them know that there are powerful enemies on their way.

"Sister Olga should be happy to see it, after all, her record will become more luxurious."

With the update of Bucky's combat power, Olga's record also ushered in an update, becoming a super monster that Shichibukai and the Sea Emperor could not defeat together.

"There doesn't seem to be anything interesting left."

Yamato then flipped back, and there was much less news about the war on the top. In the past few days, Morgans that should be reported and should not be reported has been made into newspapers, so there are basically no headlines left. .

What can be published in the newspaper is nothing more than the death of a certain navy, the overcrowding of a certain prison, the attack of a certain island by pirates, etc.

But as the newspaper continued to turn backwards, Yamato saw even more outrageous articles.

"Interview with Sea Pirates?! Morgans is really getting bolder"

【Monkey D. Luffy, interview with Pirate Supernova. 】

Several large characters occupied the sub-page of the newspaper, and the content below was even more outrageous.

【One of the participants in the top war revealed the details of the war】

【Evil Bloodline's opinion on its father】

It may seem like nonsensical remarks, but in fact, this is the plan that Hero arranged for Luffy.

Luffy wanted to inform his friends that the assembly time was suspended, but he didn't have the ability to notify everyone, so Hero gave him an idea.

The Straw Hats and their party were photographed by bears and flew to various places. If you want them to see the contact, you must have a world-class intelligence network. Morgans' newspaper is an example.

This is one of the rare things that has been sold to every corner of the world. As long as some big news is published in the newspapers, the goal can be achieved.

But in terms of how to attract attention, Hero thought of a more direct method.

It didn't make Luffy do anything outrageous, but directly contacted the reporter of World Economic News Agency.

When Morgans heard Luffy's self-introduction and the details of the top war he said, he agreed to the interview without saying a word, which indirectly allowed Luffy to achieve the purpose of transmitting information.

Chapter 1020 The Tangle of the Navy, the Difference Between Heaven and Hell

"Excuse me, Lord Luffy, as a rookie pirate, why do you have the courage to rush into Marin Vandro?"

"Huh? Just to save Ace, there are not so many reasons."

"Cough, so, what do you think of the dragon? He is the world's most ferocious criminal in the eyes of the world government, and he has subverted the regimes of several alliance countries so far.

Have you been influenced by him as a pirate? Ivankov, a cadre of the Revolutionary Army, cooperated with you in escaping from prison because of your father's order? "

"Well, actually, I don't even know that I still have my father, after all, I have never seen him before."

The interview was very special, but Luffy's answer made the reporter in front of him very headache. There was no explosive point, and it could even be said to be illogical. He didn't know whether he was interviewing a person or a puppet of the Unicorn Fairy.

After all, after the unicorn tapped Luffy's head with a stick, Luffy changed his posture, revealing the logo on his shoulders, like a marionette.

The tattoo-like pattern is the message he sent to his partner. As long as this photo can be published in the newspaper, other things are nothing.

Although the results of the interview were not good, the reporter did not collapse because of this. He has practiced proficiency in taking out of context. As long as he intercepts a part of Luffy's words, he can always get eye-catching news.

However, in order to prevent himself from being * off, he ended the interview as soon as possible.

At this time, Marin Vanduo has become a barren place, and those residents who moved away before the war have not moved back. Several wars have already turned this place into ruins.

It is an exaggeration to say that there is no need to lay foundations to build a house here, all of which are ready-made.

If they want to restore Marlin Vador, the first thing they need to do is to reclaim the land and refill the destroyed island.

Because regarding how to develop next and whether the location of the Navy headquarters should be replaced, the Navy has not yet discussed a charter.

At this time, Zefa's funeral had just ended, and the navy headquarters buried Zefa with the specifications of an admiral, and Zefa's death further aroused the navy's hatred of pirates.

After the rest, the navy began to mobilize its troops to deal with the flood of pirates, but the effect was minimal. There were too many pirates going out to sea. Even though they were driven by hatred, they put in more efforts, but they couldn't bring the sea back to white. Beard's state before death.

The same is true for the sea area of the new world, the hinterland of the territories of Red Hair, Big Mom, and Kaido is fine.

Even the fringes of the territories of these three began to be attacked by more and more crazy pirates, especially the remaining territories of the Whitebeard Pirates remnants.

The only thing the remnants of the Whitebeard Pirates have the ability to deal with are these territories.

The turmoil in the new world will inevitably continue for a while. Only when the blood accumulates to a certain extent, and the thorns hit their heads with blood, can the limelight temporarily fade away.

Luffy's interview mainly summarized his "crimes" starting from the city of advancement, making him directly the leader of the extremely evil generation.

The results of this interview caused some people to have a lot of fluctuations in their hearts, such as some people in the Navy Headquarters.

"Karp! Look at your grandson, what has he done?!"

The information in the newspaper almost broke the defense of Warring States. Although he is ready to resign, the identity of the next marshal has not yet been determined.

Sengoku himself recommended Kuzan, Karp and other high-ranking naval officials also had a similar meaning, but the Five Old Stars valued Akainu more, and some middle and high-level generals in the navy were also turning into hawks due to Zefa's death, so the voice of Akainu was also different. Low.

And none of them were willing to back down, so they put it on hold for a while, which led to headaches that had to be faced by the Warring States Period.

This time Garp didn't just smile it off, he just chewed the senbei silently and didn't speak.

"Can't the people in your family be more normal?! What's the purpose of his interview? And that * Morgans dared. Forget it, there's nothing he wouldn't dare to do."

Shan Guo suddenly sighed, and sat back in his seat helplessly.

He knew that Garp was paddling on the top of the war, even if he was killed, he didn't believe that Luffy could knock Garp out with a single punch.

But the Warring States found a more fatal problem. In terms of the situation at the time of the top war, even if Garp took a serious action, he might not be able to solve the war. This time it was something he was worried about.

That is to say, it is impossible for the pirates in the sea to cooperate sincerely. Otherwise, as the world government guessed, the red hair is planning a super pirate alliance, and the trouble will be serious.

As the newspaper spread, everyone in the Straw Hat Pirates also saw Luffy in the newspaper.

I have to say that Xiong broke his heart because of the dragon's son.

After seeing Luffy's partners on the terrifying three-masted sailing ship, Xiong investigated their information and arranged a suitable place for them at the last time.

Bear sent these people where they should go as if they had foreseen what would happen today.

Chopper from Trino Kingdom, the island of giant birds, Franky from Mechanical Island, and Nami from Visalia, the small empty island, all found something that suits them here.
