Chapter 1021 The Bug Catcher and the Ghost Island Carnival

HUMAN CLASSIC QUESTION - Please prove that you are you.

Usually, to ask this kind of question is to make trouble.

And Ivankov is indeed doing something. Sanji didn't offer a reward order, but Luffy himself is a person who can't hide his words. On the way to the Navy headquarters, he mentioned his companion to Ivankov.

The ladyboys on the island also brought new information to Ivankov. These two people were sent from the sky by a bear-like air mass.

As a friend of Xiong, Ivankov is very aware of Xiong's abilities. There is no doubt that the two were sent here deliberately by Xiong.

Ivankov's purpose is not to really make Sanji prove that he is him, but to see the determination of these people, and whether they really follow their own captain.

Although they are only cadres of the Revolutionary Army, the help Xiong and Ivankov gave to the straw hats is not weaker than that of the dragon. Except for seeing off in Rogue Town, the dragon has not given any help to Luffy, while the bear and Ivankov are the rescuers. Luffy's life.novelusb.com

After a series of torture, the two began to learn the profound meaning of the new Shemale Boxing on the island.

The Boing Islands, here is where Usopp arrived. There are various dangerous man-eating plants and convenient food plants on the island. Here, Usopp met a man wearing armor similar to a unicorn fairy-Hercules .

Besides him, there is a whole group of Heracrosses on this island. After being dispersed, a few Heracrosses came here and multiplied their own group, gradually occupying the top position of the food chain on the island.

"It's so awesome.. Luffy should like it here, no.. I have to go back quickly."

Due to the particularity of the food on the Boeing Islands, Usopp's size has grown rapidly, and now he can go to Wano Country for sumo competitions.

Maybe not strong enough, but the tonnage must be qualified.

Fortunately, the Boeing Islands are also the service area of Newsbird. Usopp can still see news from other places, and he has strengthened his determination to lose weight and practice. Then he saw his partner, a three-meter-high Heracross .

"Why is it so big!"

"In the beginning it wasn't that big, maybe it was the food on the island, but this Vigorous unicorn grew bigger and bigger, and finally it became like this, and your goal is to exercise off the excess fat, it Say you're willing to help."

Hercules himself is also an insect lover. After Heracross entered the island, he also became a glorious insect catcher and became one with Heracross. The name the attribute gives them.

Although Usopp is already familiar with the characteristics of Heracross due to Hero's relationship, each Heracross has a different personality.

Because of the different living environments, Heracross in different regions also have different development directions.

Uta's Heracross is better at flying, and Luffy's Heracross is forced to develop intelligence, but here Heracross seems naive, and started Usopp's new life with simple and rough beatings.

Kraigana Island, Hawkeye also returned to his comfort zone, just when he was planning to go back to the castle kitchen to make a side dish to relax, but found something dirty in his home.

"Roronoa? What are you doing here?"

"How do I know? Is this your home? Why did you make it look like a maze? Where is the exit!"

Different from others, Sauron has been in a state of being lost. If it wasn't because he strayed into the kitchen of the castle while looking for the exit, he would have collapsed from starvation due to the physical exertion.

Even so, he still failed to leave the castle smoothly, and he was not saved until Hawkeye returned.

Even the newspapers were brought over by Hawkeye. After all, Perona is now living in Wano Country. Without her leading the way, how Sauron would leave here is a very metaphysical question.

If he is not careful, the place where he and Luffy meet may change from Chambord Islands to Ralph Drew.

When the Straw Hats started their own practice one after another, the cadres of Hundred Beasts also returned to Onijima one after another, but this time they were only high-level cadres.

With the end of territorial expansion and the advent of the era of turmoil, a large number of cadres have been dispatched to other islands to be responsible for guarding the security of the territory.

Except for the big cadres who returned to Onijima, that is, the main team of Wano Country and the pirates who performed well in this war and won the opportunity of divine grace.

Kaido returned to Onijima on time as agreed at the beginning.

According to the feedback from the officers stationed in other territories, Kaido circled the territory during this period, destroyed an unknown number of pirate ships as a fortress in the air, and sank all the pirates who tried to provoke him into the sea.

With the return of the pirates, the empty ghost island is full of life again, and the news of Kaido's victory is also sent back to Wano country.

After all, Wano Country is still in a state of a closed-loop economy. Newsbird will not send newspapers directly to Wano Country, but will only stop at nearby islands.

The people of Beasts will reorganize the content of the newspaper after receiving the news, and then publish their own newspaper in Wano Country, so that the citizens have a certain understanding of the outside world.

When Kaido and others went out to fight one after another, this work also temporarily stopped, and it was not on the right track again until Kaido and Arceus returned.

"Little ones! We have won! This war, we are the winners!"

"oh!"

On the ghost island, Kaido repeated the results of the battle that everyone already knew, but it still made the pirates below excited.

"Hey hehehe, I can see that you are still very excited, but this war is over for the time being, and it's time for the banquet!"

There are still seven hours before dark, go to rest, there is still a carnival waiting for you tonight! "

"oh!!"

The battle belonging to the pirates has ended, but the battle of the chefs of Onijima has just begun. In order to feed those pirates who are in a state of excitement, the kitchen of Onijima is already busy.

Large pieces of sea animal meat were thrown into the oven, and the soup pot was constantly bubbling. They had to prepare a luxurious banquet in the remaining seven hours.

Altar after jar of spirits was sent to the banquet venue. Some pirates couldn't wait any longer, so they rushed here to drink before the banquet started.

A big battle has just ended, no one forbids this kind of thing, but when the banquet starts, other people will not give up the opportunity to drink these people.

Shaina went to the monastery, Jhin went to the capital of flowers, and Yamato was checking the situation of King Yanwu and Bankira.

Relying on the carapace on his body and the ability to create sea stone sandstorms, Bankira was not injured, but King Yanwu had two scars on his body, and there are still some capable people in the sea.

Quin returned to his laboratory, intending to check the operation of his defense agency first

Chapter 1022 A small group of girls, live exercises in Wano Country

Onijima, and the main control room of the defense system, Quinn returned here with ease, and also saw Setsuna and Zeraora in the main control room.

"How is it? The defense system made by my uncle is still easy to use. Have the lackeys of the world government learned their lesson?"

Quin knew that CP0 had invaded Ghost Island when the large army was leaving. Now he is very concerned about the power of his defense facilities, after all, it is really related to his life safety.

"The monitoring system is fine. Those CP0s were discovered as soon as they entered Wano, but the attack system is not good. Your weapons are fine against ordinary people, but they are useless against those well-trained CP0s.

They can break through your firepower network and destroy the weapon system. Those laser cannons are useful, but in the end they have to be shot.

This thing is still a lot worse for high-end force. "

Jeraora answered Quinn's question truthfully. He didn't have any complaints about Quinn himself, and he got along pretty well. At most, he just pretended to be stupid when his wife was doing things.

"Is that so? It's expected, automatic defense weapons are still a little bit worse."

This is what Quinn obtained from O'Hara's books. It can automatically identify the enemy and attack. It's just that his ability is limited and he can't reproduce the things of the past.

He could only combine the laser cannons he had researched based on the blood factor, and finally perfected a similar system, and then modified the Rotom generator so that Rotom could reside in the two laser cannons.

It was also Rotom's intelligent system that made that weapon work.

Sit back in his seat, Quinn opened his drawer, looked at the location of those files, and noticed something unusual.

"What are you doing with this log? The defense system doesn't need this either."

"Oh, this, Ms. Yamato asked me to help you find evidence of your crime, so that I can find a reason to take revenge on you."

Su Mo answered Quinn directly, and this sentence directly burned Quinn's CPU, making him a little overwhelmed.

"Wait! I can understand that Yamato-san wants to do this, but why are you telling me directly?"

It was within Quinn's expectation that Yamato would take revenge on him. Who made him play a hand before and die together.

The change in the file made him understand why Yamato suddenly remembered the old story of Murloc Island, but he didn't understand why Setsu said it.

"Well, Ms. Yamato said she changed her mind."

"change idea?"

"Well, she said that she didn't want to find an excuse anymore, and planned to learn from Mr. Kaido, and beat you simply because she didn't like you."

Blinking, Quinn's expression became a little dull, and Hawkins' words resurfaced in his ears again.

【Master Quinn, you can't hide from it. According to my divination results, the plague of blood and light is still lingering on your head. 】

This is the result of the divination that Hawkins left for Quinn when he left him on another island. Now, it seems that it is really accurate.

"No! Then why did you tell me?!"

"Huh? Haven't you heard of it? Compared with the moment when the slap hits the face, you know it's going to fall, but the time before it falls is more scary.

I wish you good luck. I took the children back first, and Mandelfisch also brought his daughter. I'll go and see that little guy. "

"Condolences."

"I'm not dead yet! Really, can't Ms. Yamato learn something good?"

Quinn scratched his face with a headache. Kaido's ability to mess around is superb. As long as he decides what he wants to do, basically no one can stop him.

Originally, Yamato was still looking for a reason, but when she saw Kaido, she had a sudden epiphany.

"Repay the sins you made yourself, who told you to die with her during the war."

"How do you know about this?"

This sentence should only be known by Yamato, but now it is said from Zeraora's mouth, which makes Quinn feel that something is wrong.

"Setsuna told me that they seem to have a small group to deal with you. Shaina should be in there too. Don't worry, you won't die."

"I don't want to hear that consolation at all."

Sitting in his chair as if discouraged, Quinn began to think about the future, and no matter what he thought, Hawkins' ability was crucial to him.

Unknowingly, Quinn found that he couldn't do without this newcomer who hadn't officially joined yet.

"Forget it, let's talk about it when it really comes. It's useless to think about it. After all, how did those CPOs get in?

Isn't there a monster like the Lord outside? In addition to Gyarados and Good and Bad Stars, there are Steel Armored Crows and Kuailong in the sky, those people have the ability to break through this defense? "

"They released a few boats as bait, which attracted the attention of Gyarados and Good and Bad Stars, and the Elephant Master didn't notice them either.

Besides, some of them seem to have the ability to block their sight with thick fog, and then those people used Yuebu's ability to climb in from the wall. "

While talking, Zeraora pressed a few times on the monitoring device, and brought up several monitoring screens.

"I have to say that the monitoring you have arranged is very comprehensive. Although they have entered Wano Country, all their actions are under surveillance.

As for their goal. It is still you, and the goal is also very clear, which is the result of your experiment.

"You didn't shoot directly?"

"Then a few people won't be able to commit crimes. Just test your defense facilities and the vigilance of people from Wano Country. You can see the specifics yourself."

With a wave of his hand, the monitor screen began to zoom in, and Quinn also knew what happened in Wano Country.
nOvelusB.CoM

A small group of CP0s dispersed after entering Wano, and the first thing they did was steal clothes.

CP0's costumes are eye-catching, and anyone can see that there is a problem. In order to sneak in better, they chose to change to the same costumes as the locals.

Logically speaking, it is impossible for Wano Country's millions of people to know all of them. As long as they talk less, their identities will not be exposed. Unfortunately, they don't know that the closed Wano Country has a unique identity system.

The CP who sneaked into the town met the inspectors of the Shinsengumi. Since he couldn't produce his ID card or tell him his number, he was completely exposed in a few words, attracting a large number of warriors to hunt him down.

Another CP0 managed to find a laboratory and saw a palm print-shaped depression on the door.

Based on his experience, this CP0 thought it was a special door that needed palm prints to open, so he didn't break in from the front, but found the entrance from the side.

"Mhahaha, that guy was fooled. He never thought that this is not a fingerprint lock at all. The correct way to open this door is to push hard."

Chapter 1023 The Mire of Wano Country

The most reliable door is definitely the Rotom electronic door.

But since the previous combination lock achieved miraculous effects, Quinn has studied various strange door locks.

For example, in the previous discharge fingerprint lock, if the fingerprint is correct, it will be charged. The correct way is to open it and use the key to unlock it.

Similarly, there is a safe that will explode if you enter the correct password. You have to turn the key over and use the crosshead on the back to insert the special keyhole.

This door is also a series product. It has no lock at all, and its only feature is that it is heavy.

The only way to open this door is to use brute force. The palm prints on the outside are just a cover. There are actually hidden poisonous needles in the palm prints that look like brilliance. Inside are the paralyzing toxins he isolated from Alola's stinky mud.

If there are people who owe it to them to try, they will experience what it means to be unable to move.

"I really don't know what you think, can a normal person make this kind of door?"

The cadres still know about Quinn's invention, but Zeraora doesn't understand why Quinn always thinks of such abnormal settings.

"Being helpless, I figured it out. Those people in the CP agency have brain problems. Since they like to think too much, let them think a little more. The more they think, the more mistakes they make. ."

Quinn's tone was full of resentment, and his bounty was part of the pot, but the self-imagining of the CP agency was also an important factor.

Quinn believed that if it weren't for those guys' wild guesses, he would never have fallen to where he is today. In order to deal with this kind of wild thinking, he chose this alternative method.

Even repaired a fake door that looked like a gate but was actually a wall.

These materials are all new materials manufactured using Diance's ability, and they are extremely dense. If you don't have any strange power, it will not be easy to break them apart.

Even Quinn himself would use Winch Green's ability when opening this kind of door.

If Yamato came, it would be a breeze to open this kind of door. She might not be able to handle a lock, but she could directly smash a door.

It's just that the CP people overestimated Quinn's intelligence, thinking that this is also the same style of combination lock and fingerprint lock as Vegapunk's laboratory, so they put their energy into the wrong place.

The CP0 went around in a big circle, and finally failed to find the correct entrance to the laboratory. Instead, he ran into the mechanism left by Quinn, and was finally wrapped up by the firepower net arranged by Quinn, covered by laser cannons and other firepower. Beat into a sieve.

"It deserves it, what about the others? CP0 is all team operations, this time it won't be the only one."

Quinn has long been used to seeing death, and he doesn't feel that there is anything cruel, but he just feels very relieved, and this experiment made him realize that his firepower seems not strong enough, and he should increase the caliber of some weapons.

Compared with this, he was more curious about the other CP0.

There were no traces of destruction in Wano, and with Setsuna and Zeraora staying here, Quinn never thought that there would be any accidents here.

Even if the elephant master is excluded, the fur tribe's combat troops are not easy to deal with.

"It was solved by others, the video is here, if you are interested, you can watch it slowly."

Picking up the shawl on the hanger at the side, Zeraora also left the laboratory, leaving Quinn alone to continue flipping through the videos.

For his own safety, Quinn has installed hidden cameras with no dead ends in almost all places where surveillance can be installed. Those CP0s seem to be hidden, but they have already been exposed.

As Quinn guessed, these CP0s were indeed team operations, but the fate of the others was not so good.

One of them encountered the combination of Perona and wearing a bear. The gothic girl and a doll bear didn't make him too nervous, and then he knew the horror of this combination.

The negative ghost made him kneel directly on the ground, feeling like he was a paramecium in his heart.

Although he was not restrained by the power of this emotion, after a few seconds of freezing, he understood why wearing a bear is a very dangerous Pokémon.

The doll-like fist has an explosive power that doesn't match its appearance, and the negativity in his heart makes him instinctively give up his defense, and has been receiving beatings from bears in an undefended state.

Finally survived, the negative ghost passed through the chest again, and the scene just now was reproduced again. This CP0 also gradually lost in the process, and was finally dragged into the prison of the rabbit bowl by wearing a bear.

In Baiwu's monastery, the CP0 who came here met the combination of Pedro and Lamy. Generally, the end was the same as that of Jiuli's CP0, but in a different way.

Lamy's lethal toxin and Pedro after the Moon Lion also made him unable to fight back, and the effect of the toxin was far more deadly than that of the negative ghost. Without any chance, he died under the poison and slash.

After his eyes were healed, Pedro completed his "conversion", and he was very decisive in his actions.

There are four people in this CP0 team, two of them died and one was seriously injured, and the last one left has entered the capital of flowers, but his experience is also the most special.

Koga Ninja has been following this CP0, just to test the attitude of the people in Wano, and deliberately put him in the capital of flowers.

Clothes can be stolen, accents can be imitated, and hairstyles can be changed, so this CP0 was not exposed at first, until he started to inquire about some information, and the people in Wano Kingdom noticed the abnormality.

Later, it was discovered that this person did not understand what an identity card was at all, so it was determined that this person was an outsider.

At this time, the long-rooted influence of beasts appeared.

The propaganda theory of Beasts is very simple-[We are here to change your life, we can bring you a better life, if there is an outsider, he just wants you to return to poverty. ]

The national conditions of the Wano country are quite special. They have a special kind of worship for the general. Due to the reason of the light, the moon and the sun, there is no question of whether the beasts are orthodox, so the matter returns to the fundamentals.

Ordinary civilians seldom care about who the ruler is. They only care about whether they can live a happy life. Whoever dares to destroy this beautiful life will dare to fight with their lives.

These people are not strong, but there are a large number of them, which directly caused this CP0 to fall into the quagmire called Wano Country.

Under their cries, a large number of patrolling warriors gathered here, forcing this CP0 to flee in embarrassment.

He didn't kill anyone, but it wasn't because he was merciless, but because he couldn't kill all the witnesses in the Flower Capital, and doing so would only delay his retreat.nOvelusB.CoM

In the end, Koga Ninja still didn't make a move, because the CP0 was blocked by Heigoro.

"The hard-won life of Wano Country cannot be destroyed by you guys, let me worship you in anger!"

Chapter 1024 Our time is here!

Heigoro is also considered to be the strongest among the natives of Wano Country. Although he is not young, his muscles are still very muscular.

He doesn't understand the world government, the navy and CP agents. Many years ago, he also opposed the occupancy of beasts.

But today, Heigoro's attitude has already changed.

From an opponent at the beginning to a staunch supporter today.

There is no hesitation in his blade. For Heigoro, this time the sword is not for the beasts, but for the Wano country and the future of the residents here.

Domineering is scattered like cherry blossoms, which is why Wano Country called the armed color Ryuzakura. As a talented teacher who can let people master Ryuzakura in just half a day, Heigoro himself also has a good attainment of Ryuzakura.

Before the blade touched, Liu Ying had already caused decent damage from the air.

Then there was a group fight of a group of samurai. When facing an enemy that might destroy the stability of the Wano country today, Heigoro was not interested in single-handedly fighting him, and led a group of samurai to quickly defeat the enemy.ηovelusb.com

All of this was recorded on video, and Quinn saw it in the end.

"Muhahaha, the Wano country guys are quite interesting, but this old man can rest assured."

Seeing the citizens of Wano country work together to solve the final CPO, Quinn showed a satisfied smile. At least this means that his safety factor has increased to a certain extent.

If you can't defend against your own people, it's fine if you can defend against outsiders.

"Okay, it's time to prepare the banquet. Uta is not here, An is not here, Tezolo is not here, I want to see who else can steal my limelight this time."

Quinn still has a special obsession with hosting the show, but the younger brothers are a bit shameless, and are more interested in the stars of the Beast Fruit entertainment department.

This made Quinn very puzzled. He recognized that the two little girls Uta and An could mobilize their hormones, but recently Tezolo was more popular than him, which made him very uncomfortable as an "art disaster" understand.

Now that he has no competitors, he is ready to show his talents.

It's just that changes are always faster than planned.

The buildings on Onijima began to deform, and the appearance of the banquet hall reappeared on Onijima.

"Queen! Queen! Queen!"

Accompanied by the calls of the little brothers, Quinn's exaggerated dance appeared in front of everyone again, which was the opening activity of this banquet.

But just as Quinn finished dancing and was going to host the event, the show-robbers came.

"Brother Kaikaido?"

Looking at Kaido who suddenly stepped forward, Quinn was a little confused. Kaido, who usually only likes to drink and would not take the initiative to hold a banquet, actually walked up to the stage at this time.

"Quinn, go to the banquet and come back later."

"Brother Kaito, I think I can still do this work for you."

"If you are told to go, then go, where is there so much nonsense?"

"yes!"

Seeing that Kaido was a little impatient, Quinn put down the microphone neatly. At that moment, the words "bloody disaster" suddenly appeared in his mind.

Under normal circumstances, there would be no surprises at this kind of celebration, but Kaido has never been a normal person, and Quinn still gave up this position.

There are still many banquets, and he will have countless opportunities to host in the future.

"Hey, good, I saw a lot of familiar faces, which means you survived the war!"

Scanning around the pirates attending the banquet, Kaido showed a happy smile. He couldn't remember the names of the pirates below. Some of them even only remembered a code name, but the more people they knew, the more they lived in the war. The more people come down.

"I said before that what we have to do is to bring those who are born nobles! Those in power who are addicted to peace and happiness to the battlefield!

A battlefield where there is only life and death! Regardless of high or low, no matter who you are, there is no difference!

This is "equality" and "freedom"! Only war can determine value! "

To this day, Kaido still adheres to the original logic, if he does not have enough ability, then he is not worthy to sit in the original position.

"You are the victors of the war, you have demonstrated your own value, so you are entitled to enjoy this banquet to the fullest and enjoy the results of victory!

However, this war is just the beginning, this is just the appetizer of the banquet!

Get ready, little ones! When the next war comes, we will be the real protagonists!

The guy with the white beard pushed the era again before he died, Roger and the white beard, these two guys once represented an era, and the future era is ours.

Little ones! Let the world know that the new era is called Hundred Beasts! "

Kaido is still good at mobilizing emotions. The world government has developed for 800 years, and its own class has long been solidified.

The descendants of Tianlong people are still Tianlong people. Unless they voluntarily give up their status, they will be born aloft.

The officials of the world government are similar. Spandam is useless, but he can still become a high-ranking official because of his father.

For ordinary people, it is impossible to break through this limitation, but Kaido wants to directly overturn this table and reshuffle the world. In this way, he can naturally attract a large number of followers and mobilize their militant spirit. heart.

"Kaido! Kaido! Kaido!"

"A hundred beasts! A hundred beasts!"

The younger brother's voices came and went, gradually forming a sea of sound waves.

And Kaido is not a person who talks in vain. After talking about ideals, the next step is reality.

"Those who are capable are eligible to acquire abilities. It's not the first day you join Hundred Beasts. You already know this rule, but before the divine grace ceremony, I want to announce a new rule."

Waving his hand to signal the younger brother below to keep quiet, Kaido said the next arrangement in a calmer tone.

"Everyone now has a new opponent - your Lord Guiji, who is also Lao Tzu's daughter Yamato.

As long as you can defeat her, whether you poison her or sneak attack, as long as you can defeat her, then everything she enjoys now is yours! I can even cultivate this person as my heir!

This order will take effect after the banquet is over, remember to seize this opportunity. "

Kaido intends to find something for the tired Yamato to do. Now that someone alone is useless, he wants to let Yamato experience the dangers of the world. If there is any kindness in him, it is to stipulate that the banquet ends It was only implemented after that.

It's just that Yamato's reaction was very wrong, as if she didn't hear the order, she just teased Mandelfisch's daughter there.

"Little Melo, do you think this place is interesting?"

Melo-Mandelfish and Rusaka's daughter, a half-mermaid, is five years old this year. She looks no different from a human in appearance, except that she has tiny gill lines behind her ears and some fish scales on her body.

Unlike Meowna and Worf, Mandelfish is a human being, not a fur tribe, and Rusaka herself has not acquired abilities, so she is just an ordinary mixed-race child.

Besides there are Miao Na and Wolf. It can be said that this is the gathering place of the third generation of beasts, and it seems a bit awkward for Yamato to mix here.

"a bit noisy"

"Yes, you are still young, you can go outside to play later"

"Miss Yamato, do you want to listen to what Governor Kaido said just now..."

Mandelfish on the side reminded Yamato that he had no objection to Yamato playing with his daughter. When he retires, Kaido will probably abdicate as well. At that time, the ruler of all beasts must be Yamato, who will be the leader of the future. It never hurts to be a little closer.

It's just that Yamato didn't respond to Kaido's weird remarks, which made Mandelfish feel very strange.

If it weren't for the protection of Arceus on Yamato, he would have wondered if Yamato was caught by something dirty.

"I heard it, and I'm used to it. It's strange that the perverted father didn't come up with some new tricks. At least this time he didn't do it. Ordinary people can't deal with me. Uncle Mandelfisch, you won't be like them. Join This queue, right?"

Ordinary pirates can't threaten Yamato, and ordinary middle-level cadres can't break through her defenses. What she has to worry about is that single-digit numberers will sneak up on her, such as Mandelfish.

Their attacks will still cause her trouble.

"Well, I'm definitely not interested, I don't know about the others."

"That's right, I'd better stay away when the banquet is over."

Kaido's words are to let go of authority, which means that everyone can attack her, not everyone is as Buddhist as Mandelish.

And compared to other pirates of Beasts, she is more worried about Kaido convulsing and giving her gossip about the dragon god. She still hasn't forgotten what Kaido said to Whitebeard during the battle.

She is now ready to use the trial as an excuse to sneak out of Ghost Island. Novelusb.com

It's just that she doesn't know that this is another link in Kaido's plan. Although she is fishing for fish in the top war, Kaido still has judgment on his strength, and ordinary people can't deal with her at all.

Besides poisoning, Yamato's physique is estimated to be able to eat poison as a meal. As for sneak attack, it is even more difficult, and it is not easy to break the defense.

Kaido's goal is not the insignificant sense of tension, but to better fight her.

Only when she leaves Wano country, Kaido will be convenient to attack. Kaido will also leave when she goes out to seek refuge, and then when she encounters her in the wild, she will practice duels along the way. This is Kaido's purpose.

The imaginary is the real, and the real is the false. Kaido has already started to play tactics with Yamato. He will use this method to tell Yamato how dangerous the world is.

But this is all for the future, and then Kaido threw the microphone back to Quinn, letting him continue to host the next work.

"Ahem, Brother Kaidou has finished talking about his affairs, so little ones, before the banquet starts, this is the divine grace ceremony!"

Ferrix, Hamlet, it's time for you two lucky ones to appear! "

Because the divine grace ceremony and the war banquet were merged together, Miso did not appear, but gave Quinn the opportunity to host.

Today's divine grace ceremony has already completed a complete process, and other people are quietly waiting for them to obtain their own abilities.

The first person to accept the ability was Hamlet. He was a young looking pirate who performed relatively well in this foreign war, so he was qualified to acquire the ability.

According to tradition, the abilities he acquired have long been determined.

The streamer radiated from Arceus' slate again, and after the radiation of power, Hamlet's body also changed.

The face is covered with brown hair, with dark brown markings on it, and the exposed parts of the limbs have ring-shaped zigzag-shaped hairs, which have knotted lines like snakes.

There are more sunglasses-like decorations around the eyes-bean raccoon Pokémon-snake bear.

He has a strong sense of smell, and the hair on his back is relatively hard. How far he can use his ability is his own business.

Fretrix's performance is different from Hamlet's. His skin is much darker than Hamlet's, giving people a Latin American feel, but after the same energy radiates on his body, he turns green. up.

A thick cuticle appeared on the body surface as if hardened, and the body was slightly bent forward, showing a crescent shape. Because of the sunglasses, other people could not see his eyes, but this "armored" person attracts attention.

"What ability is that guy? Steel?"

"No, this color is more like a turtle, it should be a turtle."

"How can a turtle have scales on its legs? It should be something similar to Bankira."

People around guessed the ability of Futrix, but none of them guessed it right, because his ability belonged to Iron Chrysalis, one of the Chrysalis Pokémon.

It is also the evolutionary type of the green caterpillar that claims to be able to evolve into Rayquaza.

As the second form of Bug-type Pokémon, Iron Armor Pupa has been waiting for evolution. It will harden the shell to protect itself, although the shell is very hard.

But the armored chrysalis does not have the ability to move, and the skills it masters are extremely rare. In a sense, it is comparable to Mandelfisch's carp king.

But this ability also has its own advantages.

The ability of the armored chrysalis is fundamentally different from that of the iron armored chrysalis.

After becoming capable, Futrix can still move. He is not an armored chrysalis who cannot move in place, but a mobile fortress with a solid armor.

The Iron Armor Chrysalis is best at hardening, and as its ability user, Futrix is also in the same situation.

After transforming, he felt like his body was soaked in water. This was because the body of the wild armored chrysalis was sticky, but when it became an ability, everything changed.

These shells didn't grow on his body inch by inch, but were placed on him, and they were filled with a specialized liquid to slow down the impact of the outside world.

Although it is not a steel type, the increase that the Iron Armor Chrysalis brings to Feltrix is also very objective. The direct increase of this set of armor is much greater than that of Hamlet's Serpentine Bear.

As long as he can evolve smoothly and gain the ability to fly, although he is not as good as Mandelfisch in terms of explosive power and prospects, he also has his own unique advantages.

Chapter 1026 Quinn's face, the way to the future

The armored chrysalis that can knock down Rayquaza with the power grid only exists in the game. For the real iron armored chrysalis, the power grid is just a special means of self-protection, and their most commonly used method is still hardening.

When being targeted by predators, the armored chrysalis usually hardens its shell by continuously hardening, making predators lose interest in them. NoVeLUSb.com

After being capable, Faterix has an extra layer of powerful armor, and it is different from the iron block. Due to the activation conditions of the iron block, most people will become unable to move when the iron block is activated, but Faterix can Move freely.

But when the armor pupa becomes an ability, it means the user's ability to maintain the iron block all over his body and move freely.

Compared to defending with arrogance, the shell consumption of the armored chrysalis is much smaller. After all, monsters like Kaido are in the minority. Grassroots cadres like them still need to pay attention to the state of physical exhaustion.

Although it became green and shiny after being able to become capable, Futrix didn't care about this kind of thing. Instead, he touched his fist and looked at Hamlet next to him. The battle of the new benefactor is also a routine, but this time Not the same.

"Okay, if you want to test your ability, find a spacious place to try it yourself! Now, the banquet begins!"

This event pays more attention to celebration, which can be seen from the fact that Kaido's additional training for Yamato was pushed to after the banquet, so the battle between Fretrix and Hamlet was also postponed.

"Lights!"

Seeing that Kaido has returned to his seat, Quinn also started to let himself go. Quinn snapped his fingers towards the sky, and the originally bright lights suddenly dimmed, and the remaining light sources can only be seen clearly The figure above.

"Cherish it little ones, this is a celebration rarer than golden Kagura! Music!"

zIzIzI~

Accompanied by the sound of taiko drums and electric guitars, a burst of disc playing gradually spread throughout the venue.

"If you lose weight, you will be too popular~ I'm the type who deliberately doesn't lose weight~ Funk! I'm the type who can sing and dance~ Funk!"

On the exclusive seat of the senior cadre, Shaina couldn't control the strength in her hand for a while, and crushed the cup in her hand.

"This guy started again"

"Let's just watch it for fun. It's not the first time, and Sister Shaina and Brother Quinn are very happy."

Olga next to        watched the performance below with a little interest, and threw a few illusions to increase the atmosphere.

"Jin, what do you think?"

"Jack has recently started to challenge the position of the disaster again. I hope Brother Kaidou will stop increasing the position and replace this guy."

The cover of the mask made it difficult for others to see Jhin's expression clearly, but from Jhin's tone, it could be sensed that he felt humiliated by being called the Three Plagues together with Quinn.

That is to say, Quinn is only good at singing and dancing in front of his own people. If he plays this trick in front of the enemy, Jhin will probably clean up the house directly.

"It's time to get to that link again, doesn't this guy feel ashamed?"

"If he can feel embarrassed, the sun will come out from the west tomorrow."

Jin and Shaina have already predicted Quinn's future. After all, he can do some tricks for every big banquet.

"Come on everyone! It's coming soon, and attend the roll call as usual!"

"oh!"

The big cadres are not interested in this, but Quinn still has many fans among ordinary pirates, and there are even little fans who fainted because of being too excited after seeing him.

"Let's start with giving to the endower this time!"

As Quinn shouted, the present givers also gave Quinn a response, and then some of the benefactors, including members of the Arceus cult, and some of the Pokémon gathered on Ghost Island gave Quinn Save face until the end.

"Top benefactors! Single-digit numbers, let me hear your voices!"

"oh."

There was no silence, and Mandelfish replied flatly, but other than that, there was no sound at the scene anymore, and even Quinn's accompaniment team stopped because of this.

"Dad, why are you the only one who cares about that uncle?"

The young Melo didn't understand why he was suddenly cold, but asked his father curiously.

"Well, they are all colleagues. My attitude towards things is just different from theirs."

There are many factions in Hundred Beasts. From the top level, they can be divided into Arceus faction and Kaido faction. Their subordinates are divided into different factions according to the main cadres.

The differences between the Arceus faction and the Kaido faction can basically be ignored. As long as the two of them do not fall out, the Beasts, a combination of politics and religion, will not disintegrate.

As for the factions below, Mandelfisch has always acted as a good old man, and he can talk to anyone. If there is a conflict among the cadres below, Mandelfisch is usually in charge of mediating.

Quin didn't care about this kind of thing, just like Shaina said, every time he did this kind of thing, he would be silent, but he still didn't give up this activity, and turned around to interact with other people.

On the other side, Yamato left her nursery and joined the Sorashima group that was participating in the banquet.

"Robin, long time no see."

"It hasn't been long. It's been less than two months since Alabasta left."

"That's what I said, don't care about such details, but here are the problems I have collected in the past two months, please help me analyze them."

Yamato opened the notepad in Rotom's phone, planning to discuss some brain-requiring activities with Robin.

"Just wait, I'll watch after the banquet is over."

"Hey, are you interested in Uncle Quinn's show?"

"Well, it's quite interesting. I think the image of Your Excellency Quinn is pretty cute."

Yamato suddenly remembered that although Robin's intelligence is very high, his aesthetics is different from ordinary people. Whether it is appearance or name, he has a unique set of standards.

"Let's talk about it later, but do you have any plans for the future?"

"A plan? I plan to go to Charmander Island to study those little charmanders first. I heard that a unique ecological environment has been formed there, and then I will go to the Giant Country to take a look. I got some information from Sauro. I want to Go prove it."

"It's not the same as the itinerary I planned, but there is a place along the way"

While enjoying the show, Robin and Yamato discussed the future activity route, and finally decided to go together first, and then separate after the Giant Kingdom.

On the other side, Asie was also chatting with Naiqin in the senior group at the venue, but he got an amazing news from Naiqin.

"You are leaving?"

"Not sure yet, but I have already planned to report to Mr. Kaido and Mr. Arceus. If the information is accurate, I should leave."

Chapter 1027 New Trial, Another Ghost Island

Aciei is also an unusual veteran of the Beasts Pirates. Although his combat effectiveness is low, he has been carrying out scientific research and has made great achievements in materials science.

Many of Quinn's designs are also inseparable from Assier's improvement of materials. As a veteran, Assier has also witnessed the development history of Beasts.

"It's almost thirty years."

"It's almost there, time flies so fast."

Under Naiqin's reminder, Assier remembered what happened back then. To this day, Naiqin has not joined Beasts, but has been working for Beasts through the employment system. She has been waiting all these years, waiting for Val Germany's comeback.

This was the insistence of the members of the Walder Pirates. If there was no news from Walder, Naiqin would stay here. But not long ago, she received a message from Walder's brother Bin Jack, and Walder escaped from prison. up.

Promoting the escape of a large number of prisoners in the city cannot be concealed, but the World Government hides the specific details, so others do not know that Wald has also regained his freedom.

It wasn't until Wald found Binjack that the matter was finally confirmed.

After that, Binjack began to inform other cadres of the Walder Pirates, and Naiqin also received the message, so he planned to leave.

"It's not a good idea to leave the sea now, is it?"

Asie also understands that the sea is very dangerous today. In this turbulent era, the most stable area in the great sea route is the territory under the protection of the emperor of the sea.

Especially Ghost Island is still the hinterland of beasts, even if it is the royal palace of the franchise country, the safety factor is not as good as here.

"You are not a real pirate, there are some things you don't understand, if I met you first, I would have joined here long ago.

It's just that I met Captain Walder first. "

"Well, I wish you the best of luck"

After struggling for a long time, Assier didn't think about what to say, and only left this sentence.

Naiqin also sighed, and then left the position of the elderly group, intending to take the opportunity of the banquet to explain this to Kaido and the others.

At this time, Kaido was looking at the reveling pirates, and Maria was pouring wine for him. Kaido didn't say anything, just drinking jar after jar. No one knew what he was thinking. What.

"Maria, don't you want to play with those young people?"

Kaido's drinking time is the time for other people to take refuge. Under normal circumstances, except for the person who delivered the wine, no one else will stay by Kaido's side, but Maria is an exception.

"No, Mr. Kaido, I would rather be by your side."

"Hey, hey, he's really a willful subordinate, don't you think so?"

What Kaido asked was not Maria, but Arceus who had just arrived here.

"I think you are more willful as the captain, do you have any plans in the future?"

"No, let's see what the navy guys are doing, but the next target should be the **** of the world government, how about you?"

"As usual, the world government's cards should be almost played, and the slate is only three pieces away. After all these years, there is no rush."

The two bosses talked about business, and Maria left here silently. Things related to the future of the entire pirate group are no longer topics that she can participate in.

On the way, she stopped Nairin and signaled her to wait for Kaido and Arceus to finish talking before talking about herself.

"Tezolo seems to have stabilized. You guessed it right, those old guys in the World Government simply can't refuse this temptation."

"How many people can refuse? That is the power of youth. By the way, Yamato, do you have any plans?"

"Hey hehehe, you've got the point. I have prepared a big gift for her. She will never forget it in her life. Don't meddle in this matter."

Listening to Arceus asking about Yamato's arrangements, Kaido showed a very proud look. According to the convention, the more proud Kaido is, the easier it is for Yamato to be unlucky.

"This is what I want to tell you. I plan to arrange something special for her, so that she can experience the reality of the world.

It's just that, with her character, she might be determined to beat you up. "

"This kind of thing doesn't matter. If she can really defeat me, it means that she has the qualifications to become a king, and the whole beast will follow her arrangement. Only the strong can decide the future, and the weak can only rely on charity.

You have already thought about it, so you go first.

By the way, it's time to prepare for my special training, so let's take that mysterious weapon of the World Government as the target. "

While other people were participating in the banquet, Arceus and Kaido had already decided on the future direction, and met Naiqin who resigned after the meeting.

She was originally a contract employee, not an official member. Kaido and Arceus didn't make things difficult for her, and simply agreed to her request, and arranged transportation for her while paying off her wages.

The only advice is to let her control her mouth, otherwise no one will miss the old love.

After this, the power of Arceus began to affect Onigashima, and most of the others were intoxicated by the atmosphere of the banquet, not paying attention to what happened here.

"You are quite troublesome, is it the same as the space above Fujiyama?"

"Similar, but not the same, magic and monsters are not there, otherwise there is no such trouble."

Arceus with 15 slabs is still not complete, but the authority of many things has returned to the body, including some tricks about space and creation.

As the power of Arceus continued to spread, Yamato's figure gradually became unreal, and was finally sent to a brand new place.

In the venue, Yamato felt her head was dizzy, and she didn't care about it because she was big-hearted, thinking that she had drunk too much, but as she closed and opened her eyes, she had already come outside the banquet hall.

"No way, can you still sleepwalk after drinking too much?"

Patted her face, Yamato hadn't figured out the current situation, if it wasn't for Kaido's announcement time, she would have suspected that someone had attacked her.

"Strange, why is the Ghost Island banquet hall closed again?"

Scratching his head, Yamato felt more and more strange. At this time, several pirates passed by.

Seeing the confused Yamato, they were surprised first, and then had very strange expressions, but they finally ran over.

"Master Yamato! Finally found you! Master Kaido asked you to participate in the banquet, please come with us"

"Yes, Master Yamato, after all, this is the meaning of Master Kaido, you should go there."

"What strange things are you talking about? Why did you call me young master? I wanted to go back to the banquet hall. Is my father looking for me urgently?"

Chapter 1028 Those who don't know the adoptive father must be counterfeit

"Isn't that what you mean, Master Yamato? In short, if you want, you can come with us. If Master Kaido is angry, we will be the ones who will be unlucky."

Nervous Yamato didn't notice the difference in titles. Under normal circumstances, except for senior cadres and his cronies who would call her Miss Yamato, everyone else would only call her Master Oniji. words to call her.

If Robin came here with her, she would have noticed the anomaly just by calling her, but she didn't have a partner this time, and the only ones who knew what happened were Zekrom and Lacey Ram's consciousness. she means.

Those pirates were also rough, and they didn't care why Yamato took off his Hannya mask, and the kailou stone handcuffs on his wrists had disappeared, and even changed his clothes, which were no longer the traditional Wano country costumes. .

A Yamato raised by Arceus would definitely not dress like this, but although this is a ghost island, it is not the ghost island that Yamato is familiar with, but a world without Arceus, a ghost island belonging to the original timeline.

Yamato's trials in the Dragon's Space have reached a stalemate. They can't fight, but they can't talk about it. Just like the younger brothers of the super beast team met Hades, they were hanged from the beginning to the end.

When the dungeon was stuck, there was no way to clear the level by swiping it multiple times, so Arceus opened a new dungeon for Yamato, allowing her to see for herself what a world without her is like.

But there is a prerequisite for this. Yamato must first realize that something is wrong here. She just drank a lot of wine at the banquet, and her own alcohol has not gone down. Now she doesn't notice anything abnormal at all.

Although Yamato has changed her style, her face has not changed. The pirates took her back to the banquet hall of Onijima just for business.

"Who is the big Kanban that can sing and dance?!"

"Queen!"

"Who is the center of this Golden Kagura event!"

"Queen!"

Different worlds, the same Quinn, no matter where it is, Quinn is still the character who escapes narcissism.

"Master Quinn! We brought Master Yamato!"

While Quinn was boasting narcissistically, the younger brother's voice came from the side.

Listening to his younger brother's voice, Quinn felt a little strange. There were far less beast celebrations here than Arceus's. The annual fire festival night was a rare opportunity to dance and drink.

Every time Kaido wanted Yamato to come to see him, but she never gave him face.

This group of miscellaneous soldiers brought Yamato, which was far beyond Quinn's expectation, but at the next moment, something that shocked him even more happened. Yamato had no handcuffs on his hands.

Because there is no Arceus, Yamato in the original time accidentally picked up Kozuki Oden's voyage diary, and then he was possessed by the diary, and his whole person became extremely strange, just like Oden's upper body.

Afterwards, Kaido imprisoned him on Oni Island. Although he could move freely in Oni Island, he wore handcuffs that would explode when he was out of the island. Logically speaking, it was impossible for Yamato to get rid of the handcuffs. This was unexpected by Quinn place.

Moreover, Yamato actually changed his clothes, and he didn't even know where to throw the mace that never left his hand. This was also unexpected by Quinn.

It wasn't just Quinn who didn't expect that Yamato was also getting more and more confused at this time. Looking at the decoration style of Wano Country, she was completely dizzy.

"What's going on? How long has it been? Has Ghost Island even changed its decoration? Uncle Quinn, your speed is too fast."

"I can not understand what you say."

Quinn patted her face. Logically speaking, she should call herself Queen. No matter how she thought about it, Uncle Quinn would never say it out of her mouth.

"What year is it?"

"1521."

"1521?! Did I sleep for a year??"

Yamato was shocked by the time in Quinn's mouth, but the black charcoal snake came out from the side with a group of Yingying and Yanyan. That style made Yamato frowned, and when she heard the name "General Orochi", she even revealed An incredible look.

"Wait, isn't Orochi dead? Isn't the current general Hiyori?"

Hearing this name, the girl in Heitan Orochi's arms trembled, but Orochi didn't notice this, but looked at Yamato.

"Queen, who is this unreasonable woman?"

"Brother Kaido's son is very strange. His brain seems to be broken."

"Son??? Uncle Quinn, how much have you drunk? Are you unable to tell the difference between a man and a woman? Where is foster father? Something is wrong here."

This is the behavior of Yamato in the original timeline. She who was possessed by the diary firmly believed that she was Kozuki Oden, so she thought she was a man. Kaido in the original timeline could do nothing about it, and finally called her his son.

"What do you want to do pretending to be Master Yamato?"

"I am Yamato! I still want to know what is going on here! Where is the adoptive father? There is something wrong here."

"A foster father? When did you have a foster father? I don't remember having that kind of brother."

On the side stairs, a tall figure came down from it, exactly the same as Kaido in Yamato's impression, except that he had a hideous X-shaped scar on his abdomen.

This sentence also made Yamato realize the reality. This is not Ghost Island. Neither Kaido nor Quinn can forget the existence of Arceus.

"If it's a joke, it's too much, I'll give you a chance, now remove these, I don't have to worry about it."

Yamato said "nonsense" to himself, and she thought it was a pirate who violated the time set by Kaido and carried out a sneak attack. After all, there are people with abilities in Beasts, and Yamato can't count them at all.

Seeing that there was no response, Yamato also pulled out his Ajian 7.0 from his satchel.

"If that's the case, let's blow all of you fakes away."

"I thought you had figured it out after taking off the mask, but it seems that I was wrong. You are still that idiot son, which made me happy for nothing. Didn't I learn enough from the last lesson?"

Kaido took out the mace and threw it at Yamato, which was exactly the same as Kaido in Yamato's impression.

"Thunder gossip!"

"Thunder gossip!"

Facing the attack of "Kaido", she had already formed a conditioned reflex, and instinctively swung her stick back, but when the weapons collided, she noticed something was wrong.

"Although I don't know where you, a counterfeit, learned Lei Ming's gossip, but you are at most the level of Lei Ming's gossip!" NovelUSB.coM

This "Kaido" is not weak, but it is weaker than the Kaido she faces every day. A stick actually knocked him back a step Chapter 1029 Can't beat the genuine version, can't I beat the pirated version?

As we all know, in addition to Leiming Bagua, there may be Leiming 1 to Qigua in the world. This description is usually used to show the gap between the strength of the opponent and Kaido.

In Yamato's opinion, although the thundering gossip of "Kaido" is decent, it is far from Kaido's thundering gossip, not to mention a series of upgraded series such as dragon dance gossip, sword dance gossip, and collapse mountain gossip.

The appearance of the two sides is almost exactly the same, Yamato did not notice any disadvantages.

But when the two sides collided with force, she naturally noticed the abnormality. In her 26 years of life, at least 23 years have been beaten, and in the past few years, Kaido will no longer hold back, and will never fight. That soft thunderous gossip.

There is also "Kaido" who has the same idea as her. Although he doesn't understand how his idiot son broke the handcuffs, even without handcuffs, it is impossible for her to play such a powerful thunderous gossip.

The day before yesterday, "Kaido" beat "Yamato" once, and in less than two days, she would never break through to this level.

"Who are you? My stupid son doesn't have this kind of strength."

"I still want to ask who you are?! Where did your father and foster father go? Also, are your ears and eyes just decorations?? Or is there a problem with the definition of gender here?"

"Who am I? Hehehe, you are really bold to ask me who I am in my place. Of course I am Kaido."

A large piece of blue dragon scales appeared on the surface of "Kaido", and the tail that grew behind him directly flew away a few pirates who were too late to avoid it. From the perspective of "Kaido", this was a fake "Yamato" people.

Although I don't know what her purpose is, but she is very strong. If that's the case, let's fight first.

"You are Kaido, right, then I will not be polite."

Watching "Kaido" enter the blue dragon form, Yamato almost burned his own processor, only one devil fruit can exist at a time, this is still the consensus in the sea, except for the ability of Arceus, Yamato has never seen the same Those who can.

The other party even produced the green dragon fruit. It seems that this matter is more complicated than she thought.

But that doesn't stop her from getting ready to fight.

"I've wanted to beat you up for a long time!"

Yamato's ultimate ideal - defeating Kaido to achieve true independence.

She really can't beat Kaido now, but she confirmed one thing in the fight just now, this is a low-profile version.

If she can't beat the genuine version, can't she enjoy the pirated version?

As for where exactly this is, there is no problem to talk about it after the fight is over.

Thinking so, Yamato also entered the human-beast form. Although this "Kaido" is not as good as Kaido, it is still a bit too difficult to directly use the human form to KO the human-beast form.

"The same ability? No, this is not Dakou Zhenshen. Sure enough, she is not "Yamato"."

There is no difference in the transformation of "Kaido", but Yamato's transformation is completely different. Kyurem's version of God Oguchi has a lot of dragon elements, which is much sharper than the original version of God Oguchi.

"Forget it, let me see what qualifications you have, and say something like Lei Ming Qigua, Lei Ming Gossip!"

"I also want to practice with you, this is a good thing for my real father! Icefall gossip!"

The power of extreme cold emanated from Yamato, and after the return of the icicle slab, Yamato also became a beneficiary again. The previous ice power in her body was obtained after using the jade dragon slab to convert the ice attribute in Dakou Zhenshen's body.

Although this power was gradually perfected with the help of the power of the new Kyurem, it was a bit weaker after all. After the return of the icicles and slabs, Yamato's ice power reached its true peak.

Frost spread on Ajian, and the power of extreme cold was like ammunition, which was hidden by Yamato under the domineering eggshell, and exploded at the moment of contact with "Kaido".

The cold current almost enveloped the entire room. As Yamato's most direct attack target, "Kaido" was directly frozen into a giant ice sculpture.

"Brother Kaito?!"

"Quinn"'s eyes almost burst his own glasses, he couldn't believe that Kaido was "knocked down" by the enemy's blow.

But this is just an appearance.

A burst of flames burst out from the body of "Kaido". Under the blessing of the flame temperature, the ice layer on his body was broken and regained his freedom, but he still shivered uncontrollably. Where no one was paying attention, a ray The cold air dissipated from his mouth.

"Well, it seems that the most is to limit it. This move can't be used as a nirvana, and it's useless to father."

Since the pirated version of Kaido can handle this trick, the genuine version must be easier to deal with, so Yamato redefines the use of this trick.

And "Kaido" didn't care about Yamato's crazy talk, he even forgot how he fought her in the first place.

This is a formidable opponent, and now he just wants to enjoy this battle first, and then talk about other things.

Both of them started fighting with the idea of satisfying their selfish desires, but all this was clearly seen by another ghost island.

"Sure enough, this girl has prepared a lot of things for me, and showing her the truth can still bring a sense of oppression."

Onijima, the top floor, Arceus' own power launched a projection, and at this time he was observing Yamato's performance with Kaido.

Watching Yamato fighting "himself", Kaido showed a meaningful smile on his face.

His Mobo Xun-Dragon God gossip was indeed prepared for Yamato, but he never said that it was his last killer move, and letting Yamato know about it was just to force her to research some new tricks.

Watching Yamato's battle, Kaido felt that his goal had been achieved, and began to plan a new package.

"However. What exactly is that place? A fictional space like the Dragon's Space?"

"No, that space also exists. If I have to say it, there is a real world without me."

"Is that so? It seems to be true. If you don't intervene, I really want to make Onijima like that. What do you want to send her there?"

For experience, it is better for me to do it. "

"Another kind of trial, her life is a bit too idealistic, just let her see the real world and feel how cruel the pirate world really is." novelusb.com

"Hey lol lol, you really think too much, you guys! Don't hide there and peek, come here if you want to see, but don't disturb me!"

Kaido suddenly yelled to the side, and then Maria and Ulti walked out from there, and Peggy Wan, who looked reluctant, was brought out at the same time.

In a corner unknown to Yamato, a public execution just happened

Chapter 1030 Other people's children, the real Wano country

Maria was just waiting for Kaido's order at first, but she didn't expect to hear something interesting, so she couldn't help but take a look.

Ulti simply felt that the guys at the banquet were too noisy, so she coerced Peggy Wan to find a quiet place, and finally appeared here as well.

The onlookers changed from Kaido and Arceus to five people.

Most people were immersed in the banquet. For example, Quinn didn't notice what happened at all, and was intoxicated by her own graceful dance. Otherwise, based on people's herd mentality, there might be more people coming.

But those who have the courage to come here must be cadres, and ordinary boys can at most shout Kaido's name from a distance to toast.

Those who can watch the "live broadcast" here are all relatives and friends of Yamato, and there will be no outrageous situations.

Otherwise

There are two types of death, one is death in the natural sense of the body, and the other is social death.

Based on Yamato's behavior, it is very reasonable for her to make some situations that make her die, but she probably won't care about such things.

Even if you care about it, you will forget it after a while.

Maria listened to Kaido very much, and kept silent throughout the whole process. At most, she poured wine for Kaido and beat his back, while Ulti kept fighting with Peggy Wan silently.

"By the way, what year was it there?"

"Probably... a year later."

"How long do you plan to let her practice there?"

"It won't be long, a few months at most, I haven't fully recovered this strength, what's wrong?" OverUsB.COM

Kaido seems to be asking Yamato, but he seems to have other thoughts in his heart.

"I originally thought that the World Government's battle might be the last one, and the world would be boring after that, but now it seems that the world is much bigger than I thought.

But let's talk about the future, let's see what the girl can understand. "

At Yamato, the battle is still going on.

"Kaido" has some judgments about the Yamato in front of him. In a sense, he hopes that this is his child.

She didn't say that she is Kozuki Oden, she has a normal gender identity, and although she also likes to use martial arts, she is stronger, which is much stronger than the one in her own family.

During his lifetime, Yamato also became someone else's child in the eyes of "Kaido".

It's just that Kaido figured this out, but others didn't. Facing Yamato who suddenly became stronger, they seemed a little at a loss, and they were taken aback for a moment before starting to evacuate.

This is not the first time this kind of thing has happened, even their evacuation movements are more proficient, there is no Arceus here, Kaido is really terrible when he is drunk and mad.

"No, isn't it? Is Master Yamato already so strong?"

"Master Yamato was able to suppress Master Kaido."

"Impossible! It must be that Master Kaido hasn't done it yet. How could Master Yamato be an opponent?"

In previous battles between "Kaido" and "Yamato", "Kaido" was in an absolute advantage. Although this had a lot to do with the handcuffs of Kailoushi, they never thought that "Yamato" who took off the handcuffs could to this extent.

"Master Kaido! Master Yamato doesn't want to attend the banquet"

At this time, a pirate outside brought his new information, and then he saw a group of strange eyes staring at him.

"What. What's wrong?"

"what did you just say?"

"Master Yamato doesn't want to come to the banquet."

"Then take a look at who is that person who fought with Master Kaido."

There is one more confused person in the world, but his confusion didn't last long, and saving his life is more important than entangled in Yamato's true and false.

"Thunderstorm!"

Roaring thunder and lightning fell from the sky, punching a huge hole in Onijima from top to bottom. There were also a few black lines on Yamato's body, and a pair of lightning wings appeared on his shoulders.

"Ice Dragon Kill!"

Lightning contains high temperature, but the moment Yamato's lightning fell, its nature changed.

The invisible thunder and lightning turned into a thunder and lightning ice dragon exuding cold air as if it had an entity, and its sharp dragon teeth bit Kaido below.

"Shenzu·White Snake Drive."

When the ice thunder fell, Yamato also used his steps to approach "Kaido" in front of him.

"David Binglei Gossip!"

Yamato's moves are still full of Kaido's shadow. Although he has his own variant, the foundation is still laid by Kaido.

"Kaido" had just been freed from the shackles of ice and thunder, when he saw a stick wrapped in a domineering look. This "Kaido" did not hold on to deal with the crisis, and only his body could be relied on.

Although "Kaido" tried his best to resist Yamato's attack, he was a step too slow. He was hit in the chest by Yamato and flew upside down. After collapsing several walls in a row, he fell on the shore of Onijima side.

"Oops!"

Watching "Kaido" being sent flying, Yamato didn't feel joy at the first moment, but realized that he seemed to have demolished his house again, and then realized that since Kaido is fake, Onijima should also be fake right.

The wall was broken, and the outside light came in naturally. The time on both sides was not uniform. The banquet at Arceus had not started for a long time, but the banquet here had been going on for a while, and it was already close to dawn.

When Yamato broke the wall, the sun had already shone into the room, thinking that he had finally beaten "Kaido" once, Yamato's face was already full of joy.

But according to her judgment, even if it is a pirated version of Kaido, it shouldn't be so easy to lose the ability to fight, so she stepped on the gravel and chased him out.

The stick was very strong, and "Kaido" didn't get up immediately, but Yamato didn't do anything like make up the knife, because a smell of chemical raw materials came into her nose.

The stench.

Besides this word, she couldn't think of how to describe this smell for a while, especially when a banquet was being held on Ghost Island. After the combination of this peculiar smell and the smell of wine on Ghost Island, it gave her a headache for a while.

"What's going on, why does Wano Country have such a strange smell?"

Looking up, she saw bursts of black smoke again, but her sight was blocked by ships and other things. As she flew into the sky with her wings, her pupils kept dilated.

From the position of Ghost Island, the area that can be seen directly is Baiwu and Rabbit Bowl, and in Yamato's field of vision, there are only countless chimneys. With the work of the factory, black smoke keeps coming out of the chimneys. That's where the smell comes from.

Moreover, this "Wuno Country" is many times more dilapidated than the Wano Country in her impression. Even across an inland sea, she can feel the barren atmosphere in Wano Country.

But Baiwu is different. Compared with the bustling Baiwu, which gathers Beasts Pokémon Center, Squirrel Fire Station, Haoli Gym and many other institutions, it is dilapidated like a piece of scorched earth.

Looking from a distance, Baiwu hardly has any living plants, either industrial facilities or dead trees, and even the river flowing to the inland sea has a strange color.

This is the "Wono Country" created by "Kaido" and Kurotan Orochi, a weapon-producing country that only serves itself regardless of the life and death of others. Thanks to the efforts of Orochi, "Wono Country" has long been in dire straits.

All of this is a scene that Yamato has never imagined. Seeing all this, she was much more shocked than seeing the pirated Kaido.

"What the *** is this place!"
