Chapter 1081 World Conscription

A well-known person said that when a person is killed, he will die.

Navy is also human, in the process of carrying out the mission, the navy will also be killed by pirates, and even encounter the backstab of the civilians they protect under special circumstances.

The war on the top damaged the elite of the navy. After the war on the top, in order to suppress the rioting pirates everywhere, the death rate of the navy has increased significantly, whether it is the four seas or the great route.

Coupled with the vacancy of the position of general, the navy has a shortage of both grassroots and high-level combat power.

As the largest violent organization under the command of the world government, the navy's personnel supply can be recruited by itself, and the naval branches in various places have this power.

But the largest conscription still relies on the world government, and the world government has to play its role. This institution is not just a funding center, it is the center of power for the entire world.

It is not the first time that the World Government's conscription has been carried out. At the beginning, Kaido caught up with the Navy's World Conscription, so his king planned to send him to the Navy in exchange for the right to participate in the World Conference.

Perhaps he was wiser at the beginning and did not arouse Kaido's inner resistance, but if he tried his best to cultivate him, the Kingdom of Volka could also become a first-class power with Kaido.

However, the original king did not expect Kaido to grow to this point. After Kaido made his name, the king died of illness not long after. According to the court doctor's diagnosis, it was sudden death caused by excessive worry, commonly known as death from fright. .

World conscription, in addition to those who voluntarily join the navy, there are also some people who are forced to join the navy under the coercion of the local king. After all, the world government also has targets. If a country cannot recruit a single soldier, their face will not be good. .

But the people recruited by this kind of force are usually ordinary soldiers. The strong have their own dignity and ideas, and the method of persecution will not work.

And this world conscription is also the most special one. This is the first time that the navy has directly recruited general-level combat power for many years, which can be said to be unprecedented.

Since the start of the World Conscription, the overall progress has been very smooth. The turmoil of the pirates has caused many people to lose their precious things. Friends, wealth, and family members have all been wiped out in the flames of war.

Those who hated pirates chose their own way of revenge, and rushed to join the navy. With the assistance of countries around the world, the lost soldiers of the navy were quickly replenished, but the quality was poor.

The untrained stragglers are not a bit worse than the elite lost in the top war. Compared with these ordinary people, people with outstanding strength are more eye-catching.

In the first half of the great voyage, a spring island, with a smile, took his blind stick and walked quickly on the road in the town. The smell of blood had already entered his nose through the sea breeze, and he also noticed the scattered corpses at the port.

"It's like this again. It's getting too much, even islands without wealth can't be spared?"

The blind stick in Yixiao's hand has gradually become a decoration. Even without relying on it, Yixiao can accurately avoid obstacles and walk to the location where the fighting sounds come from.

"Hey! Uncle! Stop! There are pirates in the port ahead! Why did you come here? Didn't you go to evacuate with the others?"

"Compared to caring about me, you should care more about yourself. I think you are hurt quite badly."

"Don't be joking, uncle, you can't see it, go back quickly, we still have our security team here, we will drive those pirates away."

"Young man, do you know that whenever I meet someone like you, I really want to see what you look like."

With a smile, he slowly pulled out the weapon in the cane. His knowledge and knowledge had locked on the enemies on the pirate ship, and the pirates who had already landed were included in his attack range.

"Uncle, if you want to cure your eyes, I heard about a very famous doctor."

"But it's a blessing not to look at things. There are too many dirty and lowly people in the world who can't bear to look at them. Seeing the faces of those guys will only make me sick."

Having said that, Yixiao's weapon has been pulled out of the blind stick. ,

"Young man, I have to ask you to help identify which ones are pirates later, Gravity Knife Tiger!"

With a smile and one arm waved forward, the terrifying pressure swept across the entire pier immediately. The pirate ship was directly reduced to fragments under the sweep of gravity, and the pirates on board were also pushed into the sea. As for the people on land, whether they were pirates The soldiers from the guard were all crushed to the ground with a smile.

He is not familiar with the people here, so he can't tell who the two sides are. If it is a familiar force, he can also identify the opponent by sensing the outline of the clothes, but now, Yixiao can only choose to crush everyone and deal with it slowly .

"Uncle, are you too strong?"

"I can still do something meaningful, but young man, after dealing with the matter here, can I trouble you to take me to a navy recruiting office? I haven't been able to find out where it is."

Almost at the same time, Shinsekai, the G14 branch of the Navy.

"Lieutenant General Duolu! There is a strange person outside."

In front of a short-haired woman in a leather jacket, a navy soldier is reporting what happened at the branch gate.

"strangeness?"

"Yeah, a weird man with a lot of sucked up weirdos"

"Don't say that, you will make the beauty think that there is something wrong with me. Let me introduce myself. My name is Huang Mu. You can report for the world's conscription here."

A man with slightly messy curly black hair, wearing sunglasses, and a cigarette dangling from his mouth walked in.

He is tall and strong, with slender legs. The upper body is naked, with a tattoo of "Death River's Heart" printed on the left side, and his own lips are slightly thick. At this time, his right hand has turned into several vines, and the end of the vines is a string of pirates who have been sucked dry.

"This guy seems to be worth 500 million Baileys, so can I see His Excellency Sakarski? I hope he can praise me."

Araki, a natural-type Sensen fruit capable person, agrees with Akainu's philosophy very much, and is a fan of Akainu. After hearing that Akainu has become the new admiral of the navy, he has the idea of joining the navy.

The way the two choose is different, and the difference in personality is not small, but one thing is the same, they both have monster-like strength, and there is an abyss-like gap between them and ordinary navies.

The conscription audition was just a joke to them, and the strength of the two was quickly recognized by the high-level.

The new newspaper also informed the whole sea.

The new Admiral of the Navy Headquarters - Yixiao, codenamed Fujitora.

The new Admiral of the Navy Headquarters - Huang Mu, code-named Green Bull.nOvelusb.cOm

Through the global conscription, the navy once again filled the vacancies of the three generals.

Chapter 1082 Yamato's ice substitute plan

"Let me see, that blind uncle Fujitora is really strong, and he became an admiral directly, and this green bull, well, I haven't heard of it, but it should be very strong, there are indeed many monsters in this world."

New World, Galapagos Island, Yamato is reading the latest issue of the newspaper on the second-floor terrace of a tavern.

Compared to the incident on Hive Island, the world government has spent more pen and ink on this matter.

It is enough to say that there is a new disaster in the Hundred Beasts Pirates. The world government will not promote the pirates every day. As for the topic of young heroes, although it is good, its deterrence is far less than that of the new general.

The information circulated inside Rotom made Yamato know about the Hive Island, not to mention the new admiral who also knew her acquaintances-smiles who had met a few times.

At that time, she had already noticed the difference in the opponent's strength, but she never thought that Yixiao would take advantage of this world conscription to go directly to the position of general.

"It doesn't seem to be a problem. It's quite normal for that uncle's character to make such a choice. I hope there will be more monsters in this world, so that old **** will be busy."

While talking to himself, Yamato leaned limply on the chair behind him, showing an expression of lovelessness.

According to the news sent to her by the Pokémon who stayed on Ghost Island, Kaido has entered a periodic "exercise mode", and can even feel the energy fluctuations of Arceus from time to time.

This is definitely not good news for her, no matter what Kaido's purpose is, it will definitely fall on her head in the end.

"I said Lacey Ram, how about you reveal what the truth you know is like?"

"Think about it yourself, there is no shortcut in reality, and there has never been one."
nOVeLus.b.cOm

After hard work, Yamato managed to upgrade Lacey Ram from ignoring her to occasionally replying, but the progress was still slow.

"I always feel that there are other meanings in your words, you are always so secretive."

Yamato grabbed a frozen fish in the bucket beside him, and then threw it to the bay outside the terrace. This is the special business of the tavern owner here. You can buy a bucket of frozen fish for 500 Baileys to feed the penguins.

500 Baileys are not expensive. It is considered a special entertainment activity in Galapagos Island. In this way, the tavern owner saves the human resources required for feeding and also obtains additional revenue.

Those penguins can be fed by the feeding tourists every day. If you are interested, you can also participate in the penguin surfing competition here. You can participate in the competition here as long as you rent a penguin. The champion has a mysterious prize.

As for how to use Penguin Surf.

The penguins on Galapagos Island are not ordinary penguins. These penguins are generally a few meters tall, and some of them are more than ten meters tall. They are unique species in this sea area. They are best at swimming standing up. An important tourism pillar of the island.

"Spend my own money to help them feed the penguins. The boss here is really good at making money. I should ask Tezolo to set up a similar project. Those tourists should not mind feeding the motor lizards. Just ask Robin later."

At this time, Yamato and Robin have separated. After the tour, Robin started the boring archaeological work again. Even if she can use Huahuaguo to manipulate dozens of brushes to clean up the ruins at the same time, it is very boring to Yamato. process.

So not long ago, they had separated, and the motorcycle lizard had been sent back to Gulan Tezolo.

Recently, Yamato also plans to end his trip, and has sent a message to Speed and the others, asking them to come by boat to pick him up and return to Ghost Island.

However, in the process of feeding the penguins, Yamato suddenly saw an "acquaintance" standing on top of a large penguin, and had already spotted her. He patted the penguin's head, and the penguin moved towards the shore. Swam over.

From the surface of the sea, this penguin is panning on the surface of the sea, but from the underwater, you can notice the penguin's rapidly swinging feet. This is the unique way of standing and swimming of the penguins here, which has nothing to do with elegance, even Somewhat funny.

"Ala, ala, isn't this a ghost girl? How could she appear in such a place?"

The penguin brought Kuzan closer to the tavern, and he also jumped directly from the top of the penguin to the terrace.

"Travel. Ah, no, I was looking for something, and didn't you show up here too? If you can, I can't? Admiral Aokiji or ex-admiral Kuzan."

Looking at Kuzan on the top of the penguin, Yamato felt very relaxed. Ever since Kuzan and Sakaski fought for ten days and ten nights to decide the position of marshal, she had confirmed a conjecture that the two worlds have something in common. .

She saw the world of "Yamato" in 1521. To some extent, she already knew some information in advance.

After leaving the navy, Kuzan started his aimless journey, and met a penguin by chance.

Because of the frozen fruit, he got along very well with this penguin, and finally got another mount besides the bicycle-a camel, a penguin named camel, came to this island to take his mount home to have a look.

Looking at Kuzan in front of him, Yamato suddenly had an idea. According to another Kuzan's attitude, Kuzan was wandering aimlessly after the Marshal's War. If it was suitable, he might be able to fool him.

As a former admiral, Kuzan's force value is still very high. Coupled with this status, it may be able to divert Kaido's attention and plunge them into a new struggle.

Quinn is no longer enough to share the firepower for her, and she urgently needs a new target.

Passively activate Kaido, within a few tenths of a second, a plan has appeared in Yamato's mind, and she even gave it a name.

How to use the frozen fruit ability to divert Kaido's attention, referred to as the ice substitute plan.

"Boss, have a bottle of Sherry!"

"I said, I don't have much spare money these days."

He said he had no money, but Kuzan sat across the table unceremoniously. He leaned over to communicate with him.

"It doesn't matter, I am treating guests today, but is the savings of the former general so humble?"

"It's just spent on other places. I'm too lazy to act recently, otherwise I will have money to catch two bounty criminals."

"The bounty offender I seem to be a huge bounty offender."

"Forget it, I am not your opponent, my ice can do nothing to you, let alone now."

Kuzan pointed to his broken leg, and then continued: "Did you see it? The scars left by the previous battle, do you know what Sakaski said?"

"I think about it, what he said should be. It's quite hot to fight each other during the same period?"

Chapter 1083 Fishing Kuzan with a Straight Hook

Yamato's answer completely disrupted Kuzan's train of thought. It wasn't that she was wrong, but that she was too right.

【It's quite hot to fight each other during the same period】

This sentence is the original sentence of Akainu. The question is why Yamato knew this sentence. Neither of them kept their hands in the battle of Punk Hazard, and even the terrain was permanently changed. Moreover, this sentence is similar to private in the exchange.

Unless Yamato was by their side during the previous battle, how could he know such a thing.

But the battle between the two of them has always been a full-fire mode. For natural ability users, the color of knowledge is far more important than the color of arms. Using the color of knowledge to get out of the body in advance is the best way for them to avoid damage.

Being able to avoid the knowledge and knowledge of the two generals, and not being affected by magma and extreme cold, this is no longer a strong problem, it is an outrageous problem.

"Mind reading? Is your knowledge so special?"

If Kuzan had to guess, he could only guess in this direction. The ability to read minds was born, but that should not belong to Yamato. The only thing Kuzan can figure out is the particularity of knowledge.

Different from the uniformity of armed colors, knowledge colors can always give birth to some special powers.

"No, I don't know how to read minds. If I could, I would have escaped from that old man's clutches a long time ago."

"So why do you know this sentence. Is your intelligence capability so terrifying?"

Kuzan never thought that this sentence was said by another "Kuzan" himself, and that kind of thing has exceeded his ability to associate.

"How is it possible, how can there be intelligence to achieve this level, by the way, it is very troublesome to use ice to make prosthetics, should you consider installing a prosthetic, because it may not be convenient in battle, prosthetics cannot be elementalized."

"You really can read minds, don't you know that, I replied [Then it's because you are magma]."

Kuzan's expression was a little stiff. For the first time, he felt that his thoughts were completely understood, and what he wanted to say was said in advance. This feeling is not good at all. He also told Luo Tuo what he thought She shouldn't know about it.

"I can't remember clearly, don't care about such details, it's just a coincidence, but you are no longer a navy, do you want to change your career to become a pirate?"

"Are you kidding me? I just saw an "acquaintance" come over to say hello. Although I am no longer in the navy, I am not interested in looting pirates."

"Don't talk nonsense, looting is something only the lowest pirates do." nOvεl.us b.CO m

"Low-level pirates. But you are still pirates after all, and it's not the way to do whatever you want. Even if I say I want to join you, can you trust me?"

A person who has been in the navy for decades, no one will feel at ease. "

"I didn't intend to trust you..."

"What did you say?"

Yamato's words made Kuzan even more incomprehensible. He felt that his thinking was not in the same dimension as Yamato's. Soliciting someone who he couldn't trust was outrageous no matter how it sounded.

"Ahem, I mean, let me analyze the benefits of joining us for you. First of all, we assume that you are an undercover agent, so your real identity is still a navy.

For the Navy, my father is the most troublesome big pirate right now, so is the opportunity to backstab him particularly valuable?

You can cheat my father's trust, and then find an opportunity to backstab him. "

"Stop and let me slow down, are you teaching me how to backstab your father???"

"Kindly weird. But that's about it."

It's a pity that Kuzan can't read minds, otherwise he would know what Yamato is thinking. Backstabbing Kaido sounds like a good idea, but the difficulty of implementing this action is ridiculously high.

Even she may not be able to successfully attack Kaido by herself, let alone Kuzan who is weaker than her. Although there are reasons for restraint, Kuzan's success rate against Kaido is infinitely close to zero.

Assuming Kuzan really wants to backstab Kaido.

Bing's explosion is not enough to instantly kill Kaido, and it is unrealistic to completely control Kaido. In this way, he cannot achieve an effective backstab at all, and can only irritate Kaido.

Let Kuzan slip out at that time, Kaido will divert his attention because of anger, and she can get a new peaceful time. This is Yamato's idea.

Besides, there is not only one Kaido among the beasts. Even if Kuzan wants to make moves in other battles, they are capable of stopping it.

It doesn't matter whether Kuzan is a real mutiny or a fake mutiny, whether he really left the navy or wants to be an undercover agent, she just wants Kuzan to block the knife.

If Kuzan really doesn't want to be in the navy anymore, then let Kaido train this "newcomer".

As a biological daughter, Yamato understands Kaido's abnormal strength too well, coupled with the increasingly powerful overall strength of the beasts, she dares to do this kind of thing.

"Once in a thousand years, otherwise you would not be able to get close to him. By the way, Uncle Quinn's reward is still only alive, and he is usually very careful. This is a good opportunity to catch him alive."

Quinn, who was far away on the ghost island, felt a chill in his body. He felt as if he was being targeted by something dirty. Yamato was not selling Quinn, but fishing. According to the defense regulations of the ghost island, she, Kaido, and Arceus There must be one person staying behind on Ghost Island.

No matter who it is, Kuzan does not have the ability to take people away in front of them. Quinn here is just a piece of fat bait. It may be frozen for a while, but nothing will happen. His own life-saving means are enough to deal with it for a long time .

"Do you know what you're talking about?"

"I know, haven't you always wanted to know our secret, this is the best opportunity, you have to seize it."

Ghost Island has secrets, but since Arceus fought grandly on the top, the mysterious veil on the beasts has gradually disappeared. Arceus didn't want to make too much noise just to find the stone slab quietly.

But with the gradual return of the slate, his actions have also increased. Quinn's career as a pot will eventually come to an end. Even more terrifying results.

Of course, the announcement time is not determined by Yamato, so Yamato only said half of what he said. Even if Kuzan decides to join the group, it is unrealistic to directly enter Onishima.

This has little effect on Yamato, anyway, Kaido would be wandering around, as long as she is in the territory of beasts, her ice substitute plan can be realized smoothly.

Yamato's out-of-the-ordinary thinking made Kuzan's thinking almost stagnant, and told him in front of him that we doubt you, but we don't mind you joining the gang, and even taught him the specific way to do things.

If it wasn't for the other party's identity, he would have to wonder whether Yamato is an undercover agent of some organization.

Chapter 1084 The downtime white dragon, the hidden "karma"

"I think about it, I remember that you are a liberal now, and I didn't expect you to want to be a pirate, but isn't it good to come to the quagmire to see? You in high positions don't understand the reality of this world at all Bar.

Take a look at another place, maybe you will get something different. "

Kuzan hasn't said anything yet, but a dragon's brain has crashed.

In the space of the dragon, Lacey Ram, who was watching the fun, suddenly choked himself, and Zekrom, who was watching from the side, snickered.

"What's the matter, didn't I say that the people chosen by the Lord will always give us little surprises."

"No, you who admire ideals don't understand at all how much impact that sentence has on me."

The impact of this sentence on Lacey Ram is no less than that of elementary school students teaching university professors to solve problems. It is a rare shock in his life.

In order to deal with difficulties, or to postpone the crisis from Kaido, Yamato's brain is overclocking, trying to fool the ice double to block the knife.

Outsiders never know, to be precise, even Yamato himself doesn't know how active her thinking can be under such circumstances.

"Speaking of which, Zekrom, I suddenly had an idea."

"what you up to?"

"If this state can be turned into a normal state, then her growth rate should be doubled, no, maybe more."

"It's not like you to be so active. You obviously don't recognize her very much, but why did you think of it and took the initiative to help her grow up?"

They used to be one, but after the split, there were huge differences in ideas. Although they didn't always fight against each other after they were born here, it is also interesting to watch each other suffer.

Originally, Zekrom was having fun, but Lacey Ram suddenly said this. NovelSB.COM

"In order not to let the truth be too naive, so naive that I can't stand it."

"Really, it really resembles your character, but this matter is very unreal. You should have discovered that this is an accidental situation that only appeared when she was planning on that old man. It is very strange for the father and daughter."

"So, as long as everyone becomes Kaido, it can be wrong. This kind of thing is too weird. I don't know how to express it. You can understand what I mean."

In addition to the differences in ideas, the way of thinking of Zekrom and Lacey Ram is very close, and Zekrom has already understood the meaning of the other party.

"This is not true, this is probably **** for her, I think your entry point is wrong, but the plan is still feasible, I think it should be"

There is always some cause and effect in the dark, and Yamato doesn't know it. When she fooled Kuzan, she was also repeatedly jumping sideways on the verge of being backstabbed.

Kuzan did not have Lacey Ram's reaction, and barely followed Yamato's thinking.

"You are the Pirate of Beasts yourself, and you are the appointed successor, father and adoptive father, neither of you has any objection to your succession. Is it true that you say that your environment is a quagmire? "

Boss, let's have another bottle. No, let's get a dozen. There's not enough wine. "

"Here we come, but the ones at room temperature are no longer available, so I can only bring you iced ones."

The tavern owner didn't care about the identities of the guests, and a dozen Sherry wine was also a big profit, so he brought the wine neatly.

Although one of these two people is a former admiral of the navy, and the other is a monster with a bounty of more than 2.8 billion, the boss did not recognize them.

Whether it is an admiral or a big pirate like Yamato, they are too far away from his life. Even if he can always hear such news in the newspaper, he has never taken it to heart.

He felt that he was just a dutiful businessman, at most he was mixing water with his wine.

That kind of person will never interact with himself in this life. He remembers some key flags, recognizes the sheriff on the island, is familiar with the workers on the dock, and even remembers the alcoholics who often come here.

Can have no impression of these big men.

Only those who have to deal with pirates every day, such as navy or bounty hunters, or merchants in the underground world, can remember the general characteristics of these people.

Sometimes it is easy to pretend to be someone else as long as you put on the other person's iconic clothing. As long as you don't bump into someone you know, most people can't find it. Thin or fat.

After receiving the chilled wine, Kuzan let out a chill in his hands, and completed the process of chilling the wine.

What the boss gave him was indeed "frozen", but this island has a special situation. Galapagos Island is a winter island with a very cold climate. Room temperature wine in an electric refrigerator.

"How should I put it? For me, certain places are also a quagmire. I heard that your navy has its own justice. If the justice of Akainu does not match your justice, do you want to find justice in another place?

There is a saying called, people have to live in the present. "

Flag justice is not Yamato's hobby, but it's a good medicine to fool the navy, burning, lazy, dominating the world, ambiguous, and the high-level navy has its own justice.

And this is also the root of the conflict between Akakenu and Aokiji. In Aokiji's eyes, Akainu is too radical and unscrupulous.

Aokiji in the eyes of Akainu is too lazy and lacks the love of justice.

"Ala God, did I meet you when I drank too much? Who told you these strange things?"

"No, at least you didn't."

"That's really a coincidence"

Live in the moment and cherish the present, this is what Karp taught Kuzan when he was studying under Karp.

Karp always does what he likes as he pleases. Back then, Kuzan envied Karp and wanted to be like him, but after all, he was not as free and easy as Karp. He was restricted a lot when he became a general.

Now that he is free again, he really wants to experience that feeling.

"Your suggestion is not bad. I am indeed homeless recently, and it seems good to go with you for a while."

"I understand, it's because of interests that we are temporarily united."

From the beginning, Yamato was looking for the Swordsman, but even for Kuzan, the time for Kaido to become interested was short. When Kaido lost interest in Kuzan, he was just an ordinary passerby in Yamato's eyes. It doesn't matter if you become an enemy or a friend.

As for Kuzan, he didn't bite Yamato's straight hook. Assassinating Kaido and kidnapping Quinn sounded very tempting, but Kuzan knew very well that she dared to say such a condition because she recognized that she could not do it. arrive.

Compared to these, he is more concerned about another question, where did Yamato find out about himself so clearly is what he wants to know.

Other than that, no one knows what he wants to do. Even if his leaving the navy is a contradiction with Akainu or the plan of the navy, only he knows

Chapter 1085 Oh my god, are you calling? !

"Father, I am Yamato, can I bring some different people back to Onijima this time?"

After flicking Kuzan and getting an affirmative answer, Yamato didn't delve into Kuzan's specific thoughts. Blackbeard dared to let Kuzan, who had an unknown purpose, be the captain of his No. 10 ship, and the current beasts naturally dare .

Not to mention Kaido and Arceus, her own ability can also restrain Kuzan, and there is a dormant Regice in Zeraora's house. Even if the icicle slab has returned to Arceus, Regice's ability The same is not afraid of Kuzan.

Something really happened. Apart from the difficulty in controlling the aftermath, it was not a big problem.

But if something goes wrong after bringing Kuzan back to Onigashima, Yamato will also have a headache, so he called Arceus in advance.

As for Kaido

Yamato has full confidence in this. If something goes wrong, then Kaido will definitely make use of the problem. Regardless of whether she has notified in advance, Kaido will be drawn into training by Kaido.

She just didn't want Arceus to give up her treatment completely, in case he was not happy, he buffed Kaido casually, that would be the real hell.

"How special."

"Former admiral, Kuzan, foster father, let me tell you, when I was sent to that world by you before, I met "Kuzan" over there, and the "Kuzan" over there didn't know me. I've been a bounty hunter again, so chatted about a lot of stuff.

As a result, Kuzan here was caught by me using the words "his own".

Yamato not only clarified the characters, but also directly clarified the cause and effect, and even stated his true purpose without reservation.

If Arceus disagrees, she can only find a less important island to keep Kuzan there, and then try to divert Kaido's attention again.

"You can figure out how to deal with this kind of thing, but Yamato, there are some things I will talk about first."

The fast dragon and the steel armored crow fly in the sky, and the tyrannosaurus wanders in the sea. These things cannot be hidden at all. Many things are no longer secrets, but there is the last veil and Quinn's pot in the middle.

This kind of news has long been reported back by the surveillance personnel on the outskirts of the territory. Arceus doesn't care much about this kind of thing now, and he emphasizes other special matters.

"Father, tell me."

"If he really makes a big fuss, don't blame me for being rude. Zekrom and Lacey Ram discussed a very interesting thing. If you make a mistake in this regard, I will let you experience what it means Kaido is everywhere.

People have to bear the consequences for what they do, and this is something you should understand. "

no17Elusb.com

"Don't worry, adoptive father, that kind of situation will never happen. If it does happen, it must be my father's intention."

She is not throwing blame, but expressing her own opinion. Kaido has a fighting style that does not affect the surrounding environment. What kind of fight depends on his own choice. In order to prevent this situation, Yamato even modified his plan. .

"It's up to you, it's time to come back after you've played. You have been slacking off a lot recently. Just to remind you, your father has prepared a lot of new things."

"Ahem, father-in-law, I have been looking for slates, but your things are too difficult to find, and there has been no result."

"Well, I see."

Yamato's wonderful luck is indeed effective. The icicle slate, the dragon's slate, and the goblin slate are all more or less related to her, which is already one-sixth of the total.

And Arceus didn't care what Yamato did, but Yamato always insisted that he was working and never gave Kaido any excuses.

After hanging up the phone, Yamato did not go back, but closed his eyes to connect with the two consciousnesses in his body.

"Czechrom, Lacey Ram, can any of you tell me what is that interesting thing that foster father said you planned?"

The next moment, Ssangyong looked at each other, and very tacitly ejected Yamato's consciousness, no matter how much she asked, she didn't respond until she stopped entangled in this matter for the time being.

Putting aside the things that haven't happened and the things that are temporarily unclear, Yamato appeared in front of Kuzan again.

"What's the matter, you seem to be in some trouble."

"It's not a big deal, but you shouldn't make any big noise."

"Hey, didn't you take the initiative to invite me? Why did you say such a thing suddenly?"

"It's nothing, but if you really do something to harm me, I will kill you, absolutely."

Kuzan's first impression of Yamato was that he didn't like fighting, and then he was weird. Now this nonsensical words made him even more confused. He didn't know that Kaido, who is everywhere, is half lost for Yamato Sword of Damocles.

"It's really dangerous, but how do you plan to go back? Take a penguin or ride a bicycle? I think there is a bicycle shop on the island. I don't have a boat that I can deploy now. Who knows that you don't bring a boat when you go out."

"The boat will arrive soon, and they are already on their way. What about your penguin? My boat is very fast."

"Don't worry, don't look at the camel like this, its speed is very fast, and it is a very tough guy in this respect."

Kuzan's penguin looks cute and blows a big snot bubble when he falls asleep, but he doesn't like adjectives like cute, and prefers the style of iron-blooded tough guy.

As Yamato said, it didn't take long for Speed ??and the others to come here in the Pokémon. When they saw Kuzan and Yamato boarding together, their first reaction was nervous, and then relieved.

It is reasonable for them to do whatever their young lady does.

The Pokémon and Kuzan's camels started a race, and a ship and a penguin raced on the sea, gradually approaching the Wano country.

After a period of time, they had reached the hinterland of Beasts, and the Pokémon began to dock for supplies. Kuzan also noticed changes in the surroundings during this period.

There is still war on the periphery, but the hinterland is peaceful, no different from the town where the naval base is stationed.

While Kuzan was chatting with a worker carrying fruit, there was a burst of angry reprimand in his ear.

"Aokiji?! Raise your hands, you bastard! Don't move!"

Quinn suddenly appeared in front of Kuzan, all the weapons equipped on his body had been activated, and several laser cannons had locked onto Kuzan's head.

"Has the matter of my uncle's going out been discovered again? You marines are really lingering, and you dare to fight in such a place. Prepare to taste the power of this uncle!"

Quinn's weapon began to recharge, and the preparations were completed in just a few seconds.

Chapter 1086 Kuzan Sang, Sisi Dancer Wei Junjie

The hairs on Quinn's body stood up. He just came out to check the situation of his property, but Kuzan appeared in his line of sight inexplicably. How could he not be nervous.

"Damn it, who is the guy in charge of peripheral security these days?! I want him to experience what is called a dark mining career!"

It is undoubtedly the dereliction of duty of the peripheral security personnel to let this kind of person go to this kind of place. It is not a simple mistake that such a big penguin walked here with a Kuzan but was not found.

But this is also something that can't be helped. Of course they can't control the people brought back by their eldest lady. Since it is related to Yamato, the reporting level has also risen to Arceus and Kaido. Of course, Quinn who went out to farm did not know what happened here. .

"Hey, I didn't come to fight, it's better to say that your eldest lady brought me here."

Looking at the nervous Quinn Kuzan didn't say anything, but raised his hands slightly to indicate that he was not hostile, but Quinn didn't relax at all.

Raising your hand seems to mean surrender, but for people like Kuzan, it's all an appearance. If they want, they can instantly switch to fighting mode within a second.

"Uncle Quinn, don't be so nervous. This is a newcomer I recruited. You will be colleagues in the future. I told my adoptive father, and he agreed with me to bring Kuzan into Ghost Island."

Yamato walked over from one side very calmly, patted Quinn on the stomach to signal him not to be nervous.

"No, my eldest lady, do you want to see who you recruited! That guy is an admiral. Although he is a former admiral, how could such a person join us sincerely? You are leading a wolf into the house." !"

Quin put away his weapon, but his mood became more complicated, and the enemy could still keep him out. If he became one of his own, that day would be difficult.

"I know, but people will change. Besides, didn't the foster father always say that even if he is an undercover agent, he can squeeze out his value before he acts."

The two hadn't entered the state of plotting loudly yet, and Kuzan on the side didn't listen to what they were saying, but just paved a path by the sea to tease his penguins, and the completely undefended state made Quinn lower by about a thousandth. One's wariness.

"So you knew he might be an undercover agent, but still recruited him?"

Kuzan and Sakasky's comrades-in-arms for decades, fighting for the position of marshal, Quinn can't figure it out. Jhin and Shaina wanted to kill him directly at the beginning, but up to now they just beat him up. he.

In Quinn's perception, there must be a bigger secret behind Kuzan's separation.

"Yes, and I also told him that this is a good opportunity to capture you alive. If he is really an undercover agent, then he must seize this opportunity."

The petrified voice came from Quinn again, and Yamato's thinking logic seemed to have risen to the height of Kaido at this moment.

There is still logic in what Arceus did. Generally, what decision Arceus made, Quinn can still see the cause and effect, but Kaido can't understand, what will the rash Kaido do? It is completely uncontrollable factor.

Today's Yamato has inherited Kaido's style, and has also become elusive in Quinn's eyes.

"For why?"

"Why? Because over a year ago there was a **** on the top of the war who wanted to die with me, so who is this person, Uncle Quinn?"

"You haven't forgotten what happened for so long."

"Sometimes I hold grudges very much. If my father doesn't know what kind of nerves he has recently, he should have dragged me to sparring. I don't forget this kind of thing so easily."

Yamato generally does not hold grudges, unless it is about Kaido.

"But you don't have to worry, Uncle Quinn, you have to believe in yourself. Back then, Sakasky didn't keep you, and Kuzan was defeated by Sakasky again. Rounding it up, isn't he less scary? "

"Can it be the same! There was Zeraora back then, and that place wasn't Ghost Island!"

Quinn would never overestimate his own strength if he was not on the scene because of rice cake and red bean soup. No matter how you say this kind of thing is too dangerous.

"Calm down, calm down, you have become stronger too, Uncle Quinn."

"So, you recruited him to persecute me?!"

"Of course not, Uncle Quinn, you think too highly of yourself. I want to use him to attract the attention of that **** old man. You are no longer qualified to be a target. This newcomer should still be useful."

【I think too highly of myself】

【not qualified】

Two sharp swords pierced through his heart, and Quinn's heart was also hit violently. Although this was not a good thing in the first place, he still felt that his status had dropped.

And at this time, Hawkins' latest divination also surfaced in Quinn's mind.

【Everything is inappropriate but mixed, and the haze hangs over the head for a long time. 】

When the haze covers the light, the temperature may drop, and being shrouded in haze for a long time means that you will feel severe cold.

Quinn's request was too high-level, he always wanted Hawkins, a person with success rate divination, to divination a more detailed future.

Because Quinn's future will always be unfortunate in terms of success rate alone, so he needs Hawkins to make changes.

Due to limited ability, Hawkins couldn't do this kind of thing, but he made some progress.

In the end, Hawkins was only concerned with fortune-telling and was not responsible for unraveling the lottery. Only when something happened could Quinn understand the meaning of his words.

At this time, looking at Kuzan and Yamato, the two users of the ice ability, Quinn felt that he realized what it meant to be shrouded in haze.

"No, Ms. Yamato is mixed, do you really intend to let him attract Brother Kaito's attention?"

This is the only place where Quinn can experience joy. If he really succeeds, his life will also stop a lot.

Now his armed color is very powerful, but thinking of the source of this armed color, Quinn feels painful.

Kaido's increased strength is a good thing for the beasts, but it may not be for Yamato and Quinn, two special individuals.

It's not that they are unwilling to become stronger, but Kaido will always impose a fire in strange places. If Kuzan can draw away Kaido's firepower, this haze is not unacceptable.

"Yes, this strength should be enough."

"Sounds good, but I still think the future is going to be bleak"

Quinn is very envious of people who can know the future. If possible, he also wants to have this ability.

However, this world is relatively idealistic. With Quinn's current situation, it is not surprising that he will break through to the realm of predicting the future one day.

"Don't worry, if something really happens, I will miss you, Uncle Quinn, I met an island that is very good at making wreaths before. I heard that nearby islands will buy wreaths from there."

". I don't feel at ease with you like this!"

Quinn was not at ease about this, but he was powerless to change the fait accompli that had already happened. After all, Arceus agreed, so it was meaningless for him to say anything, but he still took some "rescue" measures.

For example, the other high-level officials of Beasts were notified of this news, and the ordinary pirates stationed on Oni Island also received the notification, but what they received was that once a large-scale cold wave was found on Oni Island, they would send signal flares immediately, and everything that happened because of this He, Quinn, is responsible for the consequences.

This is also Quinn's current self-confidence. He doesn't believe that Kuzan can kill him without a word. If Kuzan really does something, it's enough for him to sound the alarm.

In the end, Quinn also returned to Ghost Island on the Pokémon, and his attention was almost always on Kuzan.

"I said, staring at others like this affects sleep, am I so attractive to you?"

Putting the blindfold on his forehead, Kuzan's eyes were full of helplessness.

"Heh, do you want to use this kind of words to make my uncle relax his vigilance? Don't dream, let me tell you, don't think that you can do anything after entering the ghost island, you will know that in the face of absolute power, any conspiracy is useless of."

"I heard that those who engage in science are all lunatics, so you, who are known as the number one scientist of beasts, are not normal? Your eldest lady is there, do you think I can do it to you in front of her?" what?"

"You can't, but she'll probably ignore it and wait until after the show."

"ha?"

Now Kuzan has joined Hundred Beasts, but within half a month of joining, Kuzan found that he could no longer understand this matter.

When the Pokémon returned to the Wano country, Zeraora also took her own children and started the return journey. At the same time, the news released by Quinn was also logged on the "Rotom official website" of Beasts, and passed the cadres Notified their subordinates.

"Have you heard? Yamato-san recruited the former admiral, and that Aokiji is now ours."

"Master Quinn said it's only temporary, let everyone be careful about that guy, let's see when the time comes."

The news passed through the Rotom network very quickly, and ordinary pirates also discussed it intensely.

"It doesn't matter. It doesn't matter whether he is a general or not. With Lord Arceus and Kaido, we are invincible. What is it called? It's called knowing the current affairs."

"Are you looking down on Master Guiji? Master Kaido said that time, she is already capable of being alone."

"There is still a gap between Lord Guiji and Governor Kaido, anyway, now we have another big power, don't we?"

Even if there is a problem with that kind of person, at least a big cadre can solve it. The most we can do is send out a signal flare. Don't worry about that, let's prepare for the banquet tonight, hey! Chiqi, don't be in a daze, what are you thinking? "

The pirate looked at Drake who was in a daze, and threw him a bottle of rum.

"Don't worry about that kind of thing, this kind of thing has nothing to do with us, no, you may be able to become a numberer at that time, brother Jack has already promoted you to the battle captain, this is a good momentum."

Ordinary members who didn't know Drake's identity already regarded him as one of their own. Seeing that Drake was in a daze, they thought he was worried about something.

They don't know, Drake is worried, but the content of the worry is different from what they think.

【How can General Aokiji. No. This must be the plan of the headquarters, it must be】

The news that the former general joined the pirates was a bolt from the blue for Drake.

As an undercover mission, he hopes that Kuzan is the same as himself, but he is not high enough to know the actions of people like Kuzan, so he can only comfort himself in this way.

Except for undercover agents like Drake, most pirates are very excited about this, which proves their strength.

A very small number of pirates have similar ideas to Quinn.

But no matter what they were thinking, the Pokémon was sailing as usual, and returned to Wano Country smoothly a few days later.

"Finally back, welcome to our territory - Wano Country."

The Pokémon re-entered Wano Country from the submerged port, and Kuzan's camel swam up the waterfall by itself. This penguin still has the ability to climb the waterfall by itself without the Gyarados attacking it.

"The Wano country, it's really a mysterious place."

The closed-door Wano country has always been extremely mysterious. After all the beasts became the masters here, it added invisible barriers to the Wano country. The outside world has heard of this place, but they never know what it looks like.

"It doesn't look too bad."

"Of course, this is our territory, who would mess up his home."

The Wano country in the original timeline is not counted. Today, the main territories of the emperor of the sea are almost all in this style. Although the cake island needs to charge lifespan, it also needs to prevent Charlotte Lingling's uncontrollable food cravings.

But apart from these two points, the happiness index of Cake Island is also very high. Even Perospero, who has a cruel personality, will give out lollipops to children like a nice man in Cake Island.

The flat but peaceful Sphinx Island, the rich Wano country, this kind of territory is richer than most of the alliance countries.

"Okay, don't read it yet, come and register with me, and I will prepare a special brand for you."

Quinn intends to classify people like Kuzan separately. He is not an undercover agent of Stone Hammer, and it is not easy to completely treat him as his own. He is also different from ordinary strangers. Quinn plans to classify him separately.

But at this moment, Speed came over with a phone bug.

"Miss Yamato, Master Quinn, Master Arceus ordered Miss Yamato to take Mr. Kuzan to register, and Master Quinn to take the penguin to meet him on Oni Island."

Speed struggled with Kuzan's title, and conveyed Arceus' request. Shaina, who conveyed the order, called the phone bug on the Pokémon, so there was a conveyance.

"Master Arceus wants to see me and that penguin?"

"Yes."

"Is it me, not Kuzan?"

"Yes, Lord Quinn, I'm sure I heard the name correctly."

Quinn pointed at himself, and repeatedly confirmed that Speed had not sent the wrong order, and then handed over the task of identity registration to Yamato. Anyone can do this kind of work, and he will change it later.

It's just that he still doesn't understand why Arceus let him go there instead of seeing Kuzan. He didn't understand the truth until he came to Ghost Island, and was even a little moved.

Chapter 1087 Emperor Nabo and the Conserved Pot

Not only Quinn didn't want to understand it, but Kuzan himself didn't want to understand it. There were two people involved in the words of the beasts. This matter is not a secret in the sea.

Before the Dingshang War, Arceus didn't have a strong sense of presence. Except for the actions on Krajigana Island, he couldn't find news of him most of the time.

But all of this changed drastically with the top war, in which the Navy and the Whitebeard Pirates paid a huge price, but the beasts were the ultimate beneficiaries and Arceus also showed that he was far beyond the natural disaster Ability.

Such a person is absolutely impossible to be unknown, and will not be willing to be subordinated to others, so the outside world has redefined the internal relationship of Beasts. There is no doubt about their dual-talker system, and there are even greater secrets in it.

It is not surprising that Arceus can order the big cadre of beasts, but the strange thing is that the other party just wants to see his penguin.

Kuzan doesn't care about the status of a former general, but this is also a luxurious qualification. For the "enterprise" of Beasts, those supernovas are at most fresh graduates with diplomas from prestigious schools.

But the identity of a former general in the enterprise is also the experience of working in a top force, but in the end he is not as eye-catching as a camel.

He is not worried about camels. This kind of penguin is not a sea cat that lives in Alabasta's inland rivers. It is only because of its symbolic meaning that it is respected to live in peace. Wild creatures living in the sea have the ability to protect themselves.

Too fast for the enemy to catch up, too hard for the enemy to bite, no matter how bad it is, there must be enough numbers to feed the foragers, so that the group can continue.

These penguins who like to stand and swim also have a bit of force. Although this kind of strength is meaningless in Guidao, he believes that the people here are not going to target a penguin. No matter what, the target should be himself.

"Is this considered an understatement?"

"No, the adoptive father will not use such a strange method. In short, the adoptive father must have his own arrangements. Come with me first. Identity registration is a very important thing."

"You really trust your adoptive father."

According to Kuzan's incomplete calculations, Yamato scolded Kaido every day on the way back to Wano Country, and terms such as pervert, devil, and **** frequently appeared on her biological father. Respect is very different.

"After a long time, you will understand why. Do you think Kaido's daughter is a very easy thing! The world without a foster father is too scary"

"You seem to have thought of something terrifying."

Kuzan put the blindfold back into the pocket of the windbreaker, and covered his eyes with one hand. He felt that the sun was a little glaring after he had just left the diving port, but Yamato's expression was a little abstract, as if he had seen some kind of **** scene.

"It's not imagination, it's. Forget it, you still don't understand after I tell you, you should register with me."

Thinking about the Wano country in another world, and then thinking about the abstract self of Oden, Yamato only felt a headache.

【I don't know how you are, I hope you are back on track.】

Yamato took Kuzan to the registration office, and Quinn also followed the order to go to the ghost island. When he came to the ghost island, the camel was already standing in the shallows next to the ghost island and fell asleep. In this respect, it was very similar to Kuzan. Like, the ability to fall asleep anytime, anywhere.

"Wake up, your luck has come, come with me, cherish your chance, otherwise you will not be qualified to meet this adult in your life."

"Gah?"

The awakened camel looked at Quinn in confusion, not understanding what he was talking about.

"Oh, I forgot, you're just an ordinary beast, it's always easy to make this kind of mistake if you communicate with Pokémon too much."

Communicating with Pokémon is far easier than communicating with ordinary beasts. A few Pokémon can even speak human words directly or communicate with people telepathically. But facing this wild penguin, Quinn can only do it in the end. Sign language is used in this special way.

Kuzan's camel can't speak human language, but it's somewhat spiritual. Under Quinn's rich body movements, he staggered and followed him into the ghost island.

"Master Arceus, I'm here, and I brought that penguin too. Do you have any arrangements?"

Ghost Island was designed to allow giants to pass freely, even if the camels were huge, it was not affected, but it was a bit difficult to go upstairs, and finally climbed up bit by bit.

"What arrangements do I have, you should guess a little bit."

"A little bit, but Lord Arceus, are you really planning to do this? If there is something wrong with that guy, the news will spread."

"It's time like this, so it doesn't matter anymore, no matter how powerful the "biological warfare weapon" is, it is nothing compared to the means used in the top war.

What, you seem reluctant? "

"No, no, you read wrong, I am actually happy."

Quinn didn't know what Arceus wanted to do, but he also had a little guess. As he guessed, Arceus planned to transform this large penguin.

Different from ordinary people's experiments, the time for Arceus to transform creatures is very short. If Arceus transforms camels, he is almost telling Kuzan that the ability of beasts to transform giant animals has nothing to do with Quinn, but has other means.

As for who did it, of course it was Arceus who summoned the penguin.

This is just a part of the many blames. It may not make Quinn completely throw away the blame, but it also gave him a glimmer of life. After all, if one thing is false, then the other things are not guaranteed.

If Kuzan is an undercover agent and the news gets out, he may not have to be taken care of as a key target like he is now.

Fame is good, but you have to live to enjoy it. Generally speaking, Quinn naturally supports this behavior.

"The person was brought back by Yamato, so you can feel at ease."

"Master Arceus! I will follow you to the death!"

If it wasn't inappropriate, he could arrange a dance on the spot to express his admiration. Compared with the backstab brought by Yamato, Arceus really gave him a hand.

"There is no need to be so moved. There are other purposes in the first place, and this is just incidental."

"No no no, that's enough for you"

At this moment, Quinn reinterpreted Hawkins' words, and there were more joys and sorrows than he thought.

And Arceus also started to transform the camel. As he said, taking the blame for Quinn is only one aspect of the matter, and whether it can be removed is also a problem.

Sometimes the truth is unwilling to be accepted, and the deterrent power of a "genius scientist" is completely vulnerable compared to a real god.

Some people in the World Government have always believed that Quinn is a shield, but more people don't want to believe it.

The transformation of this penguin is just an experiment. If there is no other major change, the outside world's attention to Quinn begins to decline, then there is a certain probability that Kuzan spread the news.

As for how much it has spread, whether the world government pretends not to know about it, and still regards Quinn as a key target on the surface, it depends on how much information the spiny ammonite can dig up.

At the same time, the transformed penguin is also an early warning. The beast transformed by Arceus will instinctively surrender to Arceus, and the breath of the creator will become the leader in their hearts with the status of an absolute superior.

This can also provide timely feedback on Kuzan's actions outside. After all, according to Yamato, Kuzan's dependence on this penguin has surpassed that of bicycles.

Facing the joining of Green Bull and Fujitora, the navy directly gave the position of general, making them the top of the navy in one fell swoop.

So this can be regarded as a small benefit for Kuzan, but the rules of beasts will not change. If you want to gain abilities, you must have meritorious deeds. The former admiral is no exception.

Who told him not to be a cadre reserve raised by his family, but transforming an animal is different.

The camel itself is a penguin, and the overall shape has not changed.

However, its long and narrow beak began to shorten, and began to extend toward the top of the face, gradually forming a golden crown.

The originally short wings became larger and longer, and three short claws appeared on the inside of the front end, allowing it to grab objects more conveniently.

Blue lines appeared in the center of the body and the edges of the wings, collar-like feathers appeared on both sides of the neck, and the tail behind it also turned blue.

Sinnoh region Yusanjia, water + steel Emperor Pokémon - Emperor Nabo.

Because of its own steel properties, Emperor Nabo's wings are very sharp, which can easily cut through ice layers and ice floes, making it easier for him to move in the sea of ice. Their sharpness is enough to rival famous knives.

In terms of the size of a camel, it may be more appropriate to describe it with a battle ax or a sword.

"Don't be in a daze, your intelligence should have improved by now, right? Lord Arceus has changed your destiny and given you a new life. What do you mean by being so dazed!"

At this moment, Quinn has a tendency to become a dog-licking dog. Even if he hasn't got the result yet, he has already seen a good future.

Compared to Kaido who occasionally went to train him and Yamato who planned how to get revenge on him, Arceus' camp is already extremely good for him.

Even if the pot can't be removed, he will admit it. After all, these pots still have a lot of honor added value.

Quinn also took out a mirror as he spoke. As a narcissist who loves to dance, it is reasonable for him to carry a mirror with him to maintain his image, but looking at the expression of the camel, Quinn felt something was wrong

"Hey! You're just a penguin, don't show that expression!"

At this time, the camel seemed to be fascinated by the self in the mirror, and changed several actions repeatedly before confirming that it was himself.

Quinn is a human being after all, and he still has his own integrity, but the camel is different. It rolled on the ground, but soon stood up again.

Although their group has a certain strength, they spend most of their time relying on their looks for food. When they swim near the Galapagos Island, they will be fed actively if they show off their cuteness. They have long been used to this kind of life.

But the camel is different. It always thinks that it is a tough guy, but its cute appearance always brings it a lot of trouble.

Now that the camel has changed into the appearance of Emperor Nabo, the camel directly ushered in plastic surgery. At this time, its psychology is the same as that of Dibaru who was kicked by Sanji's plastic surgery. This is the grace of reinvention.

With a resolute face and strong wings, this is the iron-blooded penguin in its heart.

If it wasn't for maintaining its own penguin design, it would still be rolling on the ground now.

The most intuitive change of the Pokémon transformed by the native beasts after accepting the power of Arceus is intelligence. After calming down, they even saluted Arceus. This is what Kuzan taught it when he took him on a trip.

Arceus' power itself is not brainwashing, and will not interfere with their thinking. As long as Kuzan doesn't make any weird moves, the camels are no different to him from before.

"Okay, Quinn, take it back."

"I see, by the way, Lord Arceus, what is its racial name?"

"Nabo the Emperor."

"Is the emperor Nabo? It's really a handsome Pokémon. After leaving the camel, let's give your master a little surprise."

Quinn took the camel and left Ghost Island again, and also experienced the feeling of surfing on the sea.

Due to the crown structure on the top of the head, Emperor Nabo is also worshiped in the Pokémon world. Some people think that this Pokémon can symbolize royal power.

In ancient Sinnoh, that is, the Xicui area, Emperor Nabo was even called the Lord of the Waves by the Xicui residents.

Because it can gallop in huge waves, it is much faster than a jet ski.

The edges of its wings are very sharp, capable of cutting through ice floes, which is comparable to sharp weapons made by famous craftsmen.

"Are you a camel?"

Looking at the emperor Nabo in front of him, Kuzan rubbed his eyes. The difference between this and the previous camel is indeed a bit huge.

"哦~"

"Ah la la, it's really amazing, but is it okay to tell me about this kind of thing? You really are confident."

Kuzan feels that his idea may be right. This is a showdown, but in a different way.

He didn't believe that the beasts trusted him so quickly. The only possibility was that they felt that even if he, the former general, knew the secret, it would not be able to change the situation in any way.

【However, is this the same size as other biological weapons of Beasts? It would be a disaster if they could control the sea kings, is this the ability of that person?】

Thinking of this, Kuzan couldn't help looking at Quinn. Feeling Kuzan's suspicious gaze, Quinn felt very comfortable. At this time, Miao Na and Wolf passed by, and Quinn was in a good mood. He casually took out a bag of **** from his pocket.

"Take it and eat it, the newly made fructose has not been sold outside yet."

There is a saying called extreme joy begets sorrow. Although Quinn is always researching some strange inventions on weekdays, with the rules of Arceus, he is still very restrained towards his own people. Mowna and Worf did not doubt Quinn, and directly What he called a new flavor of candy popped into his mouth.

"It's not sweet, why is it like a glass ball?"

"How is it possible, that is made of peaches. Wait?! Glass ball?? Don't swallow it! Spit it out!"

Chapter 1088 An Unavoidable Disaster, Kuzan's Experience

Not sweet, tastes like a glass ball, Quinn already knows what it is.

That was his blue wave ball Q3.0, the only thing on his body that had that kind of taste. As for why both he and Wolfe knew what the taste of a glass ball was, we had to ask the person concerned.

But this is not the point now, that thing is a failure of his research, and it cannot be said to be a pure failure, but the strategic value is too low, so it is not thrown away.

But he was too happy just now, and accidentally took the wrong bag.

Theoretically, this food would definitely not kill anyone, but when he accidentally gave it to a child, Quinn broke into a cold sweat in front of Yamato, and stretched out his hand to grab Mowna and Worf, trying to swallow the food before they could eat it. Get it out before.

Quinn's words were one step too late after all. The original intention of Rambo Ball Q3.0's design was to take effect quickly in combat. Naturally, such a drug can't take a period of time to take effect like a sustained-release tablet.

Crushing it takes effect immediately. This is Quinn's original intention when he made this thing. So far, he has achieved this.

"Uncle Quinn, what did you feed them? It won't be poisonous, right?"

Saying that Yamato has already picked up Rotom, he intends to inform the doctor and Arceus, as well as Zeraora and Setsuna.

This is not retaliation. If a child eats something bad, it will be a big trouble. It is normal to notify the family, doctor and person involved.

"It's not poisonous, it's definitely not poisonous! Put the phone down first. There are few doctors in the Pokémon Center comparable to me. It's just that this thing is my experimental product for making a modified version of the Rumble Ball. It's easy to make people irritable and irritable. , it's a powerful stimulant, so it should be fine."

"Is there no antidote?"

"This is not poison, who would make an antidote for this kind of thing! Is your navy thinking so strange?"

Not to mention that Kuzan is considered to be in the gang now, even if he didn't join the gang, he wouldn't be hostile to the child who didn't offer a reward, and even asked a few questions with concern.

But Quinn was not in the mood to answer his questions. He also wanted an antidote, but Rambo Ball Q3.0 is not poison in essence, so there is no antidote.

Detoxifying berries can remove poison, but it is ineffective against this kind of stimulant drugs.

"I said, do you two have any strange feelings? If you feel uncomfortable, tell me quickly. This is an accident, and it should be easily remedied."

Neither Miaona nor Worf spoke, but when they raised their heads again, their eyes had turned extremely red, and at the same time they were making deep growls, and their bodies began to generate a strong electric current.

"No way, this thing has this effect on fur people?!"

Red eyes, beast roars, electric currents, when these characteristics appear on the fur family, there is only one result-moon lion.

As the ultimate skill of the fur tribe, the moon lion can bring the fur tribe extremely terrifying strength, allowing them to break through their upper limit in a short time. Under normal circumstances, the fur tribe can only enter this state by witnessing the full moon.

But the current fur tribe already has the Moon Stone, and through the Moon Stone provided by Arceus, they have the ability to direct the Moon Lion under normal conditions.

In addition to these methods, drugs are also a way.

In the original timeline, in the battle between Luo and Blackbeard, when Luo was defeated, Bepo entered the moon lion during the day by eating the medicine given by Chopper.

Relying on the power of the Moon Lion, he led Luo to escape from Blackbeard. Although the medicine had side effects, Beipo had no other choice in that situation.

The Rumble Ball Q3.0 made by Quinn is different from the medicine that Chopper gave Bebo, but they have the same effect under the circumstances.

The shapes of Meowna and Wolf began to change, the white hair began to lengthen, and Kuzan's eyes looking at Quinn also returned to their previous state.

【Sure enough, this guy still has a problem. The fur tribe can enter the moon lion during the day because of this.】

The intelligence of the world government and the navy is still interoperable to a certain extent, so Kuzan knows that the fur tribe has the ability to enter the moon lion during the day, but he doesn't know how this ability comes from. Now Quinn gave him the answer.

He saw with his own eyes that the two fur children entered the moon lion after eating the candy given by Quinn. Kuzan didn't believe it when he said that it had nothing to do with Quinn.

With the friendly assistance of Arceus, Quinn had just removed the pot of the gigantic biological weapon from Kuzan's heart, but within a minute, he buckled the pot of the fur tribe's day and moon lion on himself.

And it is the same as using the grace of nature to activate the devil fruit in front of Akainu, it is a huge black pot that is welded to death and cannot be buckled.

It's just that Quinn is not in the mood to study the question of whether to blame or not.

This is not a meaningful discovery, the fur tribe who owns the moon stone transformation device does not need to use this drug to enter the moon lion at all.

Now there is a bigger problem, if it is a fur tribe who is proficient in moon lions, it will not matter if they enter this state, but for novices, learning moon lions is a dangerous process. teaching.

If you are not careful, this ability will have a serious impact on the body

No matter how you say Arceus can get the bottom line, there will definitely be no major incidents, but if this kind of thing really happens, he will definitely be beaten by the group, and even Zeraola will not persuade him to fight, but the kind that will play in person.

"Yes! Ms. Yamato, freeze the two of them, and they should return to normal when the effect of the medicine wears off."

"I do not want."

"Now is not the time to show your temper! This is good for the two of them, otherwise it will hurt your health!"

Seeing that the two had completely entered the state of the moon lion and had already made an attack, Quinn continued to urge Yamato, but Yamato still had no intention of acting. As a last resort, Quinn fell in love with Kuzan again.

"I said Kuzan, you are a user with the ability to freeze fruits, right? Freeze the two of them quickly!"

"I don't think this is a good idea."

Things that Yamato doesn't want to do are problematic at first glance. The famous fur tribe in Beasts is Zeraora. Kuzan guesses that this is his child, and he doesn't want to get himself involved.

At this time, Yamato finally found a bell from his backpack.

"I found it, the Bell of Consolation. I remember that my adoptive father gave me this thing."

Yamato will not watch the two of them go crazy. If there is no other way, she can only choose to use ice to deal with the crisis, but it will be different with props.

With the harmonious ringing of the soothing bell, Miao Na and Worf, who were caught in the rampage of the Moon Lion, also calmed down, but that mode seemed to have caused a lot of burden on their spirits, and they both fell asleep now .

"Huh, my eldest lady, next time you have a prop, you should tell me earlier, it made me tremble with fear for a long time."

"Don't pay attention to this kind of thing, Uncle Quinn, I will give you two options now. First, I will tell Sister Setsuna and Zeraora about this matter, and let them have a good chat with you."

Yamato said dangerous words in a flat tone. If this kind of thing was exposed, Quinn might be targeted for several days.

"Ahem, what about the second one?"

"Second? It's simple, I'll beat you up for them, and you'll be fine."

Ajian 7.0 appeared in the hands of Yamato, weighing his own weapon, Yamato seemed to be thinking about where it would be more comfortable to fight.

"I don't want to choose any of them! I suddenly remembered that there is still something to do in the lab, so I'm leaving first."

Quinn turned around and planned to run, but before he left, he found that his feet were frozen, and a chill had spread from Yamato's feet to his body.

"Miss, what do you want to do?"

"Hmph, shouldn't you have guessed it, Uncle Quinn? I found that the logic of that **** old man is fine, sometimes hands can solve most problems.

Since you didn't choose either, I will assume that you have chosen both. This is the retribution for you to die with me! "

On the first day of formal joining, Kuzan felt the corporate culture of Beasts, and at the same time became curious about Quinn's ability. He seemed to be more mysterious than the outside world.

"It suddenly occurred to me that Sakasaki once complained about your domineering after the mission ended. Is this how you developed your domineering? It's really hard work."

"Stop making sarcastic remarks there! Oh! Ms. Yamato, you are serious! I will fight back!"

"Come on! We haven't practiced for a long time, just let you experience my skills!"

Kuzan silently retreated to the side. In addition to the things in front of him, the camel that became Emperor Nabo also gave him a lot of thoughts, but he cherished the present and did not entangle too much here, nor did he intend to interfere with the battle between Yamato and Quinn , Instead, I went to experience the hot springs in Wano Country.

This is also a famous feature of Wano Country. You can see many advertisements for hot springs on the side of the road. He became interested in it just now and just happened to experience it.

"Young man, are you a new member of the beasts? I haven't seen you before."

In the hot spring, an old man looked at Kuzan's broken leg and asked questions.

"Yeah, I just came here for a day, and I heard that the hot spring is very good, so I came to experience it."

"It's a pity, you're a nice young man. Your leg has been broken long ago, right? If you can still find the broken limb, you should be able to get it back."

He was referring to the Healing Spring on the Holy Mountain, but it can only be repaired there. It cannot directly recast the severed limbs like living and dead people, flesh and bones. If you want to do that kind of thing, you have to do it yourself.

Many elderly people always like to chatter a few more words. Seeing that Kuzan is interested, this old man simply told the story of the Holy Mountain. Anyone who is not sincere can go to the Holy Mountain and will be bombed halfway. As long as you can climb to the top, you can receive blessings and the like.

"Is it so amazing? That's really amazing."

"Yes, you see, I am over eighty years old, and my body is still so healthy. This is all because of this. The Wano country was not so good. Speaking of which, have you found your broken leg?"

"I can't find it, it must have been burnt to **** long ago."

"Fire? That would be a pity."

"It's okay, I've seen it for a long time, and I have my own method."

As he spoke, Kuzan re-condensed a prosthetic leg with ice, but as he re-entered the hot spring, the prosthetic leg disappeared.

"So you are a sorcerer, what a convenient ability."

"Grandpa, the teacher said that it is called a devil fruit ability user, not a magician."

"It's the same, it's all the same, it's been decades, I'm used to it."

Hundred beasts' school allowed the young people of Wano country to get in touch with the outside world. They also knew that Liuying is called armed color, and magician is actually a person with ability, but the old people still insist on the old name.

Even if their grandchildren will correct them, they will still call them back after a while. The habits of many years are not so easy to change. They are no longer afraid of rare outside races, which is a great improvement.

"But aren't you all afraid? There is fighting outside."

Even in the hot spring, Kuzan could hear the sound of the battle outside, and ordinary people should be able to hear that movement.

"It's nothing, it's just Lord Guiji and Lord Quinn who are dueling. They are both reasonable people, and it will end soon."

Kuzan chatted with the people in the hot spring, and did not leave the hot spring until the battle was over. Through questioning the residents, he also had a preliminary understanding of Wano Country, and after leaving, he also had a new understanding of Yamato's ability cognition.

It takes a lot of effort to develop this ability to make people sore without leaving any trauma.

"It's comfortable, Uncle Quinn. Next, you can ask for blessings. I wish you good luck. Kuzan will leave it to you. You can arrange a place for him."

After moving his muscles and bones, Yamato felt very refreshed, then put away his weapon and walked towards Nyoyu.

"Your daily life is really special."

"Stop sarcasm, just wait, you will experience this treatment sooner or later, muhahahaha!"

Yamato was very measured, and Quinn was not injured at all. Remembering Yamato's plan at the beginning, he could even mock Kuzan a few times, using this method to please his spirit.

What happened today was within his expectations, but the delay was too long. He didn't expect Yamato's revenge to be delayed for such a long time.

"Are you really hard-working, and you have to perform the task just after being beaten?"

"You don't understand at all, she didn't do anything serious, this kind of injury will hurt for a long time at most, and it may not be a good thing."

Quinn spoke in a riddle-like manner, and then began to arrange accommodation for Kuzan.

At this time, Miao Na and Worf had also been sent back to Jiuli, and they had been entrusted by Yamato to the people next to them before Yamato did anything.

When all the dust settled, the two of them also woke up, and Setsuna and Rotom of Zeraora also received the message.

"Quinn bastard, can you still give me the wrong thing?!"

"He probably didn't mean to."

"I know he didn't do it on purpose, otherwise I would have hit him long ago! Zeraora, you are not allowed to speak for him this time!"

"I know, it's really his problem this time, so what are you going to do? Ms. Yamato has already beaten him up."

"Since you've already been beaten up, let's save it in the notebook first. This **** helped Meowna and Worf complete the enlightenment of the moon lion by accident, or take this opportunity to teach them Master the Moon Lion."

Yamato's beating of Quinn was not useless at all, at least it calmed Setsuna's anger a little and allowed Quinn to temporarily avoid the mixed doubles of the couple under the rage. This is why Quinn is still a little happy.

The experience brought by being measured and not being measured is completely different. After deciding to teach Moon Lion, Setsuna and Zeraora also began to struggle with who to be the teacher

Chapter 1089 What is moody

"Can't you come by yourself?"

"No, no, I still know what's going on with me. I'm good at fighting. If you ask me to teach Moon Lion, I'm afraid there will be problems. How about you?"

"I'll forget it, I guess it's not as good as you."

Everything else is easy to say, but when it comes to teaching Moon Leo, Setsuna and Zeraora have nothing to do. Zeraora doesn't know Moon Lion itself. As for Setsuna

She can use it, but she is not good at teaching it. Knowing something by yourself is a different concept than teaching others.

Moon Lion is a berserk skill. Although the soothing bell can prevent the uncontrollable effects of berserk, Moon Lion is not an activity that you get used to after spitting. Mastering it is the fundamental.

"How about. Uncle Yang Jisihan?"

Having been with Setsuna for a long time, Zeraora immediately thought of the tool sheep Yang Jisihan. Recently, Yang Jisihan has completely retired and handed over all the government affairs of Zou to young people. At most, I can help with documents for one or two days.

Other than that, most of the time I spend a leisurely life in Wano Country or Whale Forest.

"Forget it, forget it, he has just been leisurely for a long time, and it was not the Duke of Sheep Gishan who helped other people learn about moon lions in the past."

Due to the special national system, the King of Zou has certain requirements for strength.

Being able to skillfully use the Moon Lion is the most basic requirement. However, due to responsibilities, the kings of all dynasties did not have much time to educate young people. Usually, it is the leader of the Musketeers who does this kind of thing.

"Well, leave it to Pedro. He has been teaching the young people of Zou these few years. Let Garrett and Bepo also study together to see if they have this talent."

The Moon Lion is a racial skill of the fur clan, but it is not a compulsory skill. Some people who are not good at fighting will not expend too much energy in this move, and some people are not born with the ability to control their anger, and they will not Will use Moon Leo.

The increase in berserk has a price, uncontrollable berserk will only make you exhausted and die.

"If you think he's okay, let him come, but is he in Zou or the monastery now?"

"At Zou, bring him back when I get off work tomorrow."

After his eyes were healed, Pedro completed the process of transforming into a believer, and his life is not limited to Zou. Sometimes he still chooses to go out for adventure, but it is much more stable than previous years.

The teaching about the moon lion has not yet started, but the other owner of Oni Island has already returned to Oni Island. Before it was dark, Kaido landed on the roof of Oni Island with eight evil dragons.

"Hmm, isn't this Aokiji? He really is an unexpected person."

The eight evil dragons flew back to their residence on Sky Island, and Kaido came to Kuzan who was watching the sunset on the roof.

"I have already received the news, that girl Yamato actually recruited you, I really didn't expect it."

"Ala, Ala, I didn't expect to encounter such a thing. At the invitation of your daughter, I am now one of your people. Why, do you need me to call you the governor?"

"It's not necessary, I never cared about titles and other issues. People with strength will always have some privileges, but your purpose. Do you want to kill Lao Tzu to avenge your instructor?"

What Yamato didn't mention was said by Kaido himself. During the war, Zefa's death was inseparable from Kaido.

As the former chief instructor of the navy, Zefa can be said to be full of peaches and plums, and Kuzan is also one of the many disciples who has a relatively friendly relationship with Zefa.

"That is. The teacher's own choice"

Kaido's words made Kuzan's face stiff, and then he gave such a sentence.

War will kill people. This is the truth that Luffy understands. Before the war on the top, Kuzan knew that this kind of battlefield is destined to make many people leave this world.

Zefa could have not participated in this war. At that time, Zefa was not included in the calculation of the navy's combat power, but Zefa chose to participate in the war and completed his own ending in the war.

"That guy is a pretty good opponent, a lot worse than Newgate, but he is also a rare strong player.

I don't care what you want to do. If you want to kill me, you can try it and see if you have the ability. However, if you dare to destroy this island, you will know what the price is! "

Hum!

The domineering aura of overlord color was released from Kaido, and all the pressure was concentrated on Kuzan.

Kuzan's windbreaker became taut under the impact of the overlord's color, and Kuzan's face was covered with frost, ready to fight, but after the impact of the overlord's color, only A wine gourd.

"Hey, don't be so nervous, it's just to say hello, but you'd better remember what I said."

On the first day when he came to Ghost Island, Kuzan had already experienced Kaido's moodiness.

Kuzan couldn't understand Kaido's behavior style at all. It seems that in Kaido's eyes, destroying Onigao is more serious than assassinating him.

"What the **** are you trying to do?"

"Didn't you just say hello, as for what to do. Little ones! The banquet is here! Let's welcome the newcomers!"

Kaido's voice spread from the roof of Onijima to the entire Onijima, and under his command, the entire Onijima also started to operate directly.

Many major cadres are not in Guidao. Compared with the celebration at the end of the top war, this banquet was a lot colder, but Kuzan still felt a little uncomfortable for a while.

Although the relationship within the navy is also very strange, the death of a lieutenant general may not be as important as the new taste of rice cakes, but Kaido's thinking jumps the line so that Kuzan can't keep up.

【These two people are indeed the biological father and daughter.】

Reminiscent of Yamato's behavior before, all this seems reasonable again.

Not long after, a drunken Kaido and a confused Kuzan appeared in the banquet hall of Onijima. He just changed his career and didn't like the way of pirates very much, and the one who was confused with him was Yamato.

"No, why did father hold a banquet for Kuzan? Shouldn't he be excited to fight when he sees the former general? Uncle Quinn, don't you want to say something?

No, it's even weirder, why didn't you, Uncle Quinn, host the banquet at Ghost Island? "

"My recent divination is very bad. Brother Kaidou, Kuzan, and you, Miss. I think I will lose half my life if I go up to host, and"

Halfway through speaking, Quinn looked around and found Setsuna's figure.

"Did you see Setsuna? Maybe she will give me a cold arrow to make me look ugly in public."

"Probably not, but even if it was Uncle Quinn, you asked for it yourself, who asked you to put the candy and the experimental drug together."

Chapter 1090 Born for warrior, "resurrected" Wald

"This was a mistake! But what's even more strange is that it's been four hours, and she hasn't called the door yet, and Zeraora hasn't given me any news. This is the most troublesome part."

Quinn didn't know that his actions were recorded in a small notebook for the time being, and he was waiting for the right opportunity to settle accounts after the fall.

"Speaking of which, Uncle Quinn, let's join forces for the time being, and I won't care about the things you wanted to die with me before."

"Wait, what do you mean don't care about it?? This matter hasn't been turned over yet?!"

Quinn keenly discovered the point, and judging from what Yamato meant, that matter is not over yet.
novelusb.com

"Ahem, don't pay attention to such details, my stand-in plan may have failed, and you don't want to be caught by your father who is becoming stronger and stronger, right?"

"I really don't want to, but Ms. Yamato, you seem to have forgotten one thing. Brother Kaito has always paid more attention to you than me, especially these years.

Theoretically, as long as you are here, I am safe. "

"But I can go out casually. At worst, I will go out and run away from home and hide for half a year. I don't believe that my father can always find me. Have you thought about what will happen to you in the past six months?"

Quinn and Yamato grasped each other's weaknesses. After a while of debate, they finally reached a temporary alliance against Kaido's persecution. However, judging from the intrigue between the two alliances, they are both ready to betray their teammates at any time. .

While the two of them were planning follow-up matters, Kuzan came to the bar in the banquet hall and drank by himself. Even if he joined the crew temporarily, he didn't have the idea of immediately getting along with the pirates.

On the contrary, his pet and mount - the camel has been integrated into Ghost Island.

In the kitchen of Onijima, the camel is showing its heroic appearance. It is not as tall as King Enwu and Banjila. After being transformed into Emperor Nabo, it is a medium-sized Pokémon, and it will not feel crowded in the kitchen.

I saw a tuna being thrown into the air by it, and when the tuna fell again, it had been sliced into sashimi by the camel's sharp wings.

Crack, crack, crack.

There was a burst of applause, and the muscular men in the kitchen applauded the movements of the camels. This is not a regular kitchen, but a fitness kitchen for those who are obsessed with fitness and monsters on Ghost Island.

Looking at the muscular men around, the camel seems to have found a new meaning. It is much happier here than traveling with Kuzan.

Kuzan didn't take the initiative to integrate into this group, but he couldn't stand a group of pirates wanting to toast him. Regardless of whether he was a former general or not, since Kaido said he was one of his own, the pirates of Beasts believed in Kaido unconditionally.

After coming and going again and again, Kuzan couldn't keep refusing, and he was abruptly drunk.

The next day, after waking up, Kuzan began to visit Wano Country, observing the places he could see, while Quinn watched Kuzan in the monitoring room, lest he make any big noise.

Setsuna also works in Zou on a daily basis, but Pedro came to Onishima earlier than expected. The elephant owner just moved to a location very close to Wano Country. Pedro, who received the news, directly passed The armored crow taxi returned to Ghost Island.

He also brought four sets of Moonstone belts, which are essential props for Zou to train newcomers to master the Moon Lion.

Compared with the past when there was only one training opportunity per month, Zowu now has more time to teach Moon Lion.

"Your Excellency should have told you, starting today I will help you master Moon Lion, prepare for me, I will be very strict.

Learning the moon lion is a very serious process. Even if you are the children of the Duke, if you can't do it, you can't do it. If you don't use this skill well, it's no longer a reinforcement, but something that will cost you your life.

You should have seen this before. It is a transformation device made of the Moon Stone provided by Lord Arceus. After wearing it, just press this button, and the Moon Stone will come into contact with the body to complete the transformation. "

Pedro picked up the belt and put it on himself, but he just gestured a few times and didn't actually press the button.

"This action is very simple, next."

"Is that so, Brother Pedro?"

Garrett had already pressed the switch one step ahead. As the energy emitted by the Moon Stone affected his body, Garrett's figure became taller, and his short golden hair turned into long white hair in an instant. The tail also began to fluff and grow longer.

Accompanied by the sound of sizzling electric current, Garrett felt a tearing pain, and coupled with a sudden surge of power in his body, Garrett knelt directly on the ground.

"Idiot, I didn't tell you to press it now! You guys have seen it, if you enter the moon lion without training, it will become like a beast that can only kill."

Take out the bell that Zeraola had prepared for him. Pedro just wanted to wake Garot from this state, but Garot's actions made him stop immediately.

"Brother Pedro, I don't seem to be as serious as you said."

"Can you maintain consciousness for the first transformation? Gallot, it seems that you are a natural fighter."

It is not easy for the fur tribe to maintain a clear consciousness after entering the moon lion for the first time, and all those who can do this are the best fighters.

Seeing that his students are so good, Pedro temporarily changed his plan. Based on the current situation, he can still teach more things.

"Gallott, hold on, let me see where your limit is, Beppo, it's up to you next, don't even be inferior to a little girl."

"Master Arceus, excuse me, this is today's information, please read it over."

When Pedro was training several young people, Arceus's office walked into a person who looked like a child. His name was Baohuang, Kaido's secretary. During the days when Shaina was out, the work here was also He took it over.

"Just tell me if there is anything important."

"As ordered, there have been no major events recently, except that the former Admiral Kuzan joined us, which is the "resurrection" of Bondi Wald."

"Walder? What did that guy do?"

"According to accurate information, Bundy Wald attacked the Tianlong people who went out a few days ago, and the three warships and the ships of the World Government were all sunk by Wald, but unfortunately, the Tianlong people were rescued by the navy desperately.

Now the world government is summoning Shichibukai, the king, and seems to intend to destroy it again.

This is a bit strange, according to the usual practice, an admiral should be dispatched for this kind of thing, but I don't know why, the three major generals today have not acted."
