

ARCEUS' PIRATE JOURNEY

Chapter 11: What does it feel like to eat your own bananas?

Chapter 11 What It's Like to Eat Your Own Banana

Quinn did not directly enter the beast form, but chose the human-beast form. The main body was still a brachiosaurus, but he was sensitively aware that there was something on his chin, and he grabbed it with a hard grab.

According to his observation, this looks like a banana.

In addition, the upper shoulders and top of his body are wrapped by green leaves, and four huge banana leaves are also extended behind him.

The moment a devil fruit is eaten, the eater will acquire its most basic abilities. Although the extent to which it can develop in the future depends on oneself, the fruit ability becomes part of their body at that moment.

Among the different types of Devil Fruits, the superhuman system is undoubtedly the most widely used, while the use of the ordinary animal system is relatively simple, and it does not take too long to master the three transformations.

And the phantom beasts have to gradually explore their abilities. Compared with Shaina's high temperature flames and jumping power, Jhin's ability to make rocks, the bananas on his chin always make people feel very strange.

But the power coming from his body told him that was not the case, he incited the broad banana leaf behind him, and he found himself flying.

"This is unscientific. How can this kind of banana leaf be able to move such a huge body? Is this the ability of the phantom beast? It seems that my transformation can consider more aspects."

Flicking his tail behind him, Quinn was thinking about many things.

The tropical dragon itself does not have a tail, and the tail behind Quinn is retained from the Brachiosaurus fruit itself. Arceus's transformation is not a complete replacement. He used part of the energy to stimulate the power of the Brachiosaurus fruit in Quinn's body and let him do it himself. Undirected mutation.

Although Quinn's Brachiosaurus has become a tropical dragon, before the transformation is completed, Arceus is not sure what form this Brachiosaurus will be transformed into.

However, this mutation is bound to be based on the body structure of Brachiosaurus. Geranium (big chrysanthemum) or ice giant dragon is also possible. The reason why it will become a tropical dragon may be because Quinn likes sweets and has a The heart that wants to fly.

Shaina, Jin, and Quinn are three different types of individuals. Although the ability was successfully granted, too few reference standards made Arceus unable to determine what the changing conditions were.

Although he has this ability, it does not mean that he knows the operation process of this ability. Just like Sanctioned Light Gravel is engraved in his mind as his exclusive skill, it is instinctive to use Sanctioned Light Gravel to eat and drink water.

But he doesn't know the every step of the process of sanctioning Guangli. Arceus is called the * of creation, but * is only a range of power, and has never been omniscient and omnipotent.

For example, can God create a stone that he can't lift. There is a saying that he couldn't lift the stone before creation, but he can lift it after creation.

Arguing and arguing can't get a real result. .

and several more transformation targets, the principle will naturally be clear under the reference.

And looking at Quinn flying in the sky, Arceus had a new idea. Before he regained the ability to fly, Quinn might be his special mount.

There were five people present, and now he can't fly, Shaina is a girl, and Jhin is not big enough now, even if he becomes a pterosaur, he can't take him.

As for Kaido, although he can create flame clouds to fly with everyone, he is now the captain. Well, there is no ship yet. The governor of the Beast Pirates cannot be a groom every day.

The Quinn Brachiosaurus-turned-tropical dragon was big enough to hold everyone except Kaido on its back.

In addition to Kaido, it can be seen that Shaina and Jhin have opinions on him. Who made him one of the members of the research institute at the beginning? If his main research project has nothing to do with the Lunaria clan, I am afraid it is not A fight can turn things around.

It is inappropriate to say something, pets have feelings for a long time, let alone people, Shaina and Jhin may be the last Lunaria people in the sea, so Arceus can't say how kindness to Quinn.

Such a labor force is not really suitable if it is not squeezed.

Quinn, who was thinking about his body modification plan in the sky, didn't know that he was about to be labeled as a royal mount.

After a brief adjustment to the new body, Quinn fell back to the ground.

And he released his ability with him, but the banana in his hand did not disappear.

He also tried something in the sky just now. Although the bananas on his chin can be picked off, they are extremely strong. If he didn't want to pick them off, those bananas would be as solid as a part of his body.

There are three bananas in total, and after picking one, it did not regenerate.

First of all, things made from devil fruits can be eaten. Long bread can be eaten by eating fruit transformed food, biscuits made from * biscuits fruit, and even cabbage drawn from Kanjuro pen fruit can be eaten.

But those are all superhumans, and the parts they eat are not part of their own bodies, but things they made.

Superhuman Devil Fruit can actually be divided into several categories, which can be roughly divided into three types: superhuman body, superpower, and creation.

Superpower refers to the use of all kinds of magical powers, slowness, vibration, etc., but these have nothing to do with food.

Superpowers and creations sometimes have overlapping parts, such as eating fruit, which can be said to create new food, or it can be said to use superpowers to turn inedible things into food.

But the creation refers to the ability that people can fabricate all kinds of things out of thin air. The food made by this type of superhuman fruit is naturally edible, biscuits, rice cakes, cream, they have nothing to do with the body.

Superhuman simply changed his body structure. For example, Gaspardi's soft candy real, although the body has turned into soft candy, it can't make soft candy, and the taste is also unpalatable. verify.

And there is no doubt that the animal system belongs to the category of superhuman beings. The body of animals can bear fruit, which is really too phantom beasts.

Looking at the banana in his hand, Quinn made his own choice, pulled out the banana peel, then threw the banana into his mouth, and then showed an expression of enjoyment.

Sweet, soft and glutinous, this is the best banana he has ever eaten.

But from this banana, he felt a unique sweetness that seemed to bring together the sweetness of all fruits, and with the taste of that banana, he found a food that could rival the rice cake azuki bean soup.

After that, he used his ability again and picked the remaining two bananas.

(end of this chapter