

Arceus 1101

Chapter 1101 Creator and Black Onion, Old Friends Reunited

"Ah, it's Kuzan, haven't we seen you in twenty years?"

Sauro didn't seem particularly excited, because Sauro already knew that Kuzan had come here before, otherwise Sauro should be running his own small farm on the sky island above, not on the land of Wano Country.

But Kuzan is different. After Kuzan was recruited by Yamato with a strange purpose, Onijima opened up a lot of things to him accordingly. He was allowed to set foot in most areas of Wano Country, except for Quinn's experiment. Chamber and the Sky Islands above Ghost Island.

According to Kuzan's character, even if he knew that O'Hara's scholars were on top, he might not do anything. In terms of attitude towards O'Hara, Kuzan and Sauro are the same.

But there is still no need to disclose this kind of thing in advance. Although Sauro came to see Kuzan, he kept the matter of O'Hara even higher than the members of Beasts. After all, it was because of this that he left the navy. thing.

"Hey, I said, we haven't seen each other for 21 years, is this your reaction?"

Kuzan's tone was still calm, but it revealed a kind of dissatisfaction.

Human beings live in groups and will always meet people with high compatibility. 21 years ago, when they were still in the Navy, Sauro and Kuzan were very good colleagues.

But since the O'Hara incident, Sauro, who escaped from prison, has disappeared, but this disappearance is not good news for him.

Kuzan didn't see Sauro in O'Hara at that time. Even the giant race seemed insignificant on an island. Before Sauro was discovered by the large army, he was taken away by the beasts. gone.

But there are many people on the island. According to the intelligence statistics afterwards, before O'Hara was destroyed, someone had seen Sauro appear in O'Hara.

In Kuzan's perception, it is impossible for anyone to survive under that kind of firepower.

The disappearance is just a fig leaf for the navy to ease the relationship with the giants. After all, the results of death and disappearance are completely different. The disappearance can always give people a glimmer of hope.

Kuzan thought Sauro was dead, and even set up a tomb for him.

"Hey hehehe, you still look like this, Kuzan, long time no see, so do you want to hear such an answer?"

Sauro's way of answering hasn't changed, but the tone of voice has become completely different.

Familiar laughter appeared in Kuzan's ears, and that strange tone made Kuzan feel very kind.

When I first joined the Navy, Sauron's unique laugh still made people feel strange, but now, everything has changed.

"I thought you were dead. Someone saw you in O'Hara before. How did you escape and how did you get here?"

"I also thought I was going to die. As for why I apologized to Kuzan here, there are some things I still can't tell you." NovelUsb.com

"It seems that you should have lived here for a long time?"

Saulo was dressed like a farmer, with a huge * on his shoulders and a bamboo hat on his head. If he had just come here, he would never be dressed like this.

"And your tone, I'm afraid you already know that I'm here? You've been hiding here?"

Judging from the traces on the side, he should have been farming for a while. If the camels hadn't come here, Kuzan might not have been able to see Sauro who was blocked by the mountain.

"You have too many questions. I wanted to surprise you, but I didn't expect this penguin to be related to you."

Saulo only knew that Kuzan was here, but he didn't know that Kuzan had brought his pet with him.

"When I first came here, I just wanted to find a quiet place to live. At that time, I didn't understand and couldn't accept the behavior of the Warring States General, but now I see new hope here.

And you? All I know is that you had a fight with Sakalski, why are you here? "

"Why. I said someone told me that you can assassinate Kaido when you come here. Do you believe this reason?"

"Hey hee hee hee, it's Ms. Yamato, it's indeed something she can do, but Kuzan, I advise you to calm down."

Saulo lived on Kosora Island, where he could clearly see Kaido fighting against Arceus. At first, he was shocked, but as time went on, this feeling gradually became numb.

Saulo couldn't even think of how to defeat those two monsters.

"I know, I just want to see other things too, as for other things. Let's talk about it later."

"You are still like this, let's go, no matter what, I came here earlier than you, so I should find a tavern and have a good chat with you."

After a while, in the tavern in the capital of flowers.

Sauro and Kuzan were talking about the past and the changes in the world. At the same time, Sauro was helping Kuzan understand the changes in Wano.

He witnessed 20 years of history with his own eyes, watching Wano country move from a closed ancient country to today's modernization.

"Sauro, did I drink too much and those two ducks are fighting?"

"Oh, that's the onion ranger, you should have seen it, there are countless magical creatures in this country, and the people who created them call them Pokémon, which is an extremely magical species.

Your penguin has a similar change, you should have noticed it a long time ago, right? Some things have long been beyond the scope of science, but that is the mighty power of the Creator. "

"God, that's really shocking. You want to tell me, is there really a * in the religion inside the beasts?"

"Kuzan, I'm not joking with you. Why do you think a country ruled by pirates has become like this? Your time here is too short. After a while, you will understand my words."

Saulo's expression became serious. The leisurely time in the wine had been forgotten by him, but Kuzan still looked lazy.

"I see, I'll see for myself.

But the things in their hands are green onions, right? Why is the color of that scallion so strange. "

In Kuzan's sight, the green onion leaves in the hands of the onion rangers seemed to be a little black, but that didn't directly add domineering appearance. He is also an admiral of the navy, so he still has this vision.

"Maybe your eyes are dazzled, or it may be that the varieties of green onions are different."

"Perhaps, yes, what was said just now, let's continue."

Saulo continued to pass on his experience, and Kuzan also put the thought behind him. At that moment, a word appeared in his mind-black knife.

As the name suggests, a sword with a black blade is a black sword, but the color of these swords is not inherent, but gradually changes.

The biggest feature of black knives is their strength, and the root of their strength is domineering.

Every sword has the possibility to become a black sword. A swordsman can temper his own sword into a black sword with his own arrogance. Kuzan knew that the two dueling onion rangers would use arrogance, but no matter how he thought about it, the duck It is too outrageous to refine black onions.

But in fact, Kuzan's unbelievable thing is the truth. The scallions used by the onion rangers are very special plants, and even the onion seeds were created by Arceus.

Normal onion rangers need to regularly look for green onions to replace their wilting weapons, but these onion rangers are different. In life, they have learned domineering, and found that onion blades are more easily soaked by domineering than metal blades.

Now it is just a prototype. Given time, they may really be able to develop a durable black onion. In a sense, this can be regarded as a new regional form of onion rangers.

Holding a shield and sword soaked in arrogance, a brand new group of onion rangers who practice kendo in Wano country.

All of this is not impossible, and the regional form Sea Tower Stone Rock Pokémon has already explained it all.

It's just that these are not easy for Kuzan to accept now. Even if Sauro clearly pointed out the Creator, everything in front of Kuzan is reshaping the three views he has built for decades.

Kuzan's thoughts Arceus himself didn't know. At this time, Arceus was receiving a report from Assier. Assier's material science had made new breakthroughs and invented some very meaningful things.

Chapter 1102: Slate Tickets

"Asie, is this something new you invented?"

Shaina reached out and grabbed a little colorless transparent powder from the bottle. Looking at the unknown material, she didn't understand what kind of breakthrough Assie had made.

"Miss Shaina, don't underestimate this thing. Due to the extinction of pure gold raw materials, I originally wanted to use other materials to replace it, and then create a new radar.

This plan has failed, but the product of this failed plan is also meaningful. Lord Arceus, please release a slate that belongs to you, so that you can understand what this thing is for. "

The purpose of the experiment is to create an object that responds to the slate. If you want to detect it, you can only use the slate.

Arceus himself doesn't mind borrowing the slate, let alone this kind of loan for his own service.

It's just that if you borrow something, you have to repay it. If you don't repay the loan, you will be in bad luck.

In order to make it easier for Assier to experiment, Arceus will temporarily lend him a slate to observe the reaction when he has new results.

It's just that the slate is still in Assier's laboratory, and Assier feels that it is unreasonable to report with a slate on his back.

As Arceus released a stone slab from his body, the powder Assie brought also reacted, and a pale golden light began to shine.

"Is this light the reaction you mentioned?"

"Yes, Lord Arceus.

It's just that this is not as accurate as the slate radar, it will only appear this golden light when your slate is nearby. "

"How close is your vicinity?" NovelusB.CoM

Assier's words made Arceus feel a little wrong. This kind of reaction is already a good reminder, but Assie's reply lacked confidence, which shows that there is something wrong with it.

"This...this is about tens of meters."

"So you want us to spread this powder around at night, in this way to reduce the difficulty of searching?"

"Not good, Miss Shaina, although the production of this is not as difficult as pure gold, it is not realistic to mass-produce, and it cannot withstand that kind of consumption.

And this powder cannot be recycled, as long as it appears near the slate, it will permanently change the color. "

"If you say that, it seems that your help to Lord Saint Beast is limited."

Responsive but not large enough, energy production but very low production capacity, it can be used as a sachet or pendant for the crew, and it can be regarded as a reminder when sailing outside, but this does not substantially change their search methods .

"No, Shaina, this thing is still useful, Assier, this thing won't fail for no reason."

"Current experiments suggest not."

"Very well, then if the powder you made is fused into other things, it won't lose its effect."

"No, Lord Arceus, do you have any arrangements?"

"Make it into a lottery ticket, the golden one is the first prize, and you can arrange other awards as you like.

Tell Tezolo to start running a lottery program and sell the lottery tickets made of this powder to the world. As long as someone comes to us to claim the prize, he will naturally find out the news.

Make the winning area smaller so you can save on material. "

Listening to Assier's description, Arceus felt that this was an excellent lottery ticket material, not only could it borrow the power of various forces, but it could even generate income.

Based on the powder made by Acière, add some other colors of paint on it, no slate is an ordinary award, once there is gold, it is a grand prize.

"Understood, I will inform Tezolo right now."

Shaina didn't say anything, but went to perform the task according to Arceus's order, and Assie also received orders to continue making powder and preparing lottery tickets, but Assie still had something to say.

"Well, Lord Arceus, if this thing is valuable."

"Why, is there anything you want?"

Arceus is not afraid of his subordinates having desires, as long as they can bring what they need, rewards in terms of benefits are a normal thing.

"I personally don't have one, but Olga told me something about Naiqin yesterday. Lord Arceus, do you think she can give her an ability if she officially joins?"

"I see, go do your thing, if appropriate, I will give her what she deserves."

With the distribution of tasks, even Quinn, who was "hibernating" in the laboratory to avoid disaster, also ushered in new tasks, specifically the style of lottery tickets and anti-counterfeiting issues.

Tezolo received a new sales task, and his artists also had more advertising tasks. As for how to arrange other awards, Tezolo decided to use the money directly.

Ready-made banknotes are what ordinary people prefer. In order to satisfy the fans of its artists, Tezolo also included some peripherals in the scope of prizes.

After the lottery coupons are ready and find two trustees to make their names known, they can be sold to the world.

"Father, will this lottery ticket really not lose money? One ticket only sells for 500 Baileys, but the consolation prize is 10,000 Baileys. If there are too many lucky people, won't we lose money?"

Looking at Tezolo's detailed plan, Yamato began to think about business issues.

"Why do you feel that way?"

"Because this promotion has to be done on every island. We can't arrange our own people on every island. In that case, we will definitely have to give away a lot of things for free."

"The truth is this, but you have overlooked a few issues. The cheap lottery tickets are sold in order to take advantage of people's mentality of small and big. If you see hundreds of Baileys, you will have the opportunity to exchange for huge profits, which will attract people to buy.

Those who bought the coupons may scratch them off immediately, or they may take the coupons to various places on the island, so that they can expand the area explored by the powder made by Asie and obtain these "voluntary" labor.

Even if they throw away the unwinning lottery ticket, once it is blown to a suitable area by the wind, it will become a winning lottery ticket. If the person who picks it up wants to claim the prize, we can always receive a message. "

"But if someone wins the lottery, we still have to take out the bonus."

"That's right, the problem is that we are the publisher, and the probability of winning the lottery is always in our hands. For example, Yamato, let's play a game. As long as you win, I will give you a 100% way to defeat your father." ."

Listening to Arceus' promise, small stars almost appeared in Yamato's eyes. This matter is almost her long-cherished wish. If it is resolved, many things will be solved.

But according to convention, this kind of thing will never be so simple.

"Father, tell me what game it is first."

"It's a very simple game, just guessing punches."

"no problem!"

"But, you go first."

Chapter 1103 The expelled star, jealous of Kaido's aunt

Listening to the weird rules of the game, even Yamato understood that Arceus was joking.

"Father, aren't you playing tricks? There's no reason for others to come out first."

It was originally a fair game, but just the word "first out" has broken the balance.

"This is the reason for the lottery. We are the issuer, and the winning ratio can be arranged. No matter what happens, we will not lose money.

In general, the prize money is originally contributed by other people who bought lottery tickets.

If the lower limit is lower, you can even arrange for insiders to take away all the prizes, but this is not necessary, and it is not good news to lose your reputation.

As long as I find my things, the price of money is nothing at all. "

Mere money is nothing compared to stone slabs, and Bailey is just a piece of waste paper compared to absolute power.

"Indeed. But adoptive father, you mean what you say."

"I never lied to you, what's wrong?"

"I'm thinking about how to win the boxing game in the first-out situation. Maybe it will be realized sometime."

"Don't think about it, unless the opponent wants you to win, otherwise this kind of thing is unrealistic.

Instead of hoping to win in a first-out situation, think about winning the mirror image of yourself. "

After finalizing some details, Ghost Island's lottery ticket has entered the production stage, and Tezolo is also preparing to build momentum. With the current name of Beast Fruit, it is not difficult to issue lottery tickets, but it needs to contact some channels. OK.

Kuzan is still accepting the situation of Wano country bit by bit, Yamato is taking a leisurely vacation in Kaido's absence, Kaido is wandering around in the sea, acting as he pleases, and his cadres are in Yamato The sea continues to build its reputation.

In this new turbulent era with a surge in the number of pirates, the status of the beasts has not been affected in any way, but has forged a new reputation under the baptism of blood.

Jack quickly achieved the same record as the original three disasters through fighting day after day.

Although Jack hasn't beaten any super heavyweight opponents outside, he has fought more.

Jack's quantitative change did not achieve a qualitative change, but he also completed the accumulation of quantity, and the name of the drought became more and more famous.

Kaido is happy that his little brother has become stronger, and ordinary pirates are also celebrating for Jack, but on Cake Island, some people seem very unhappy.

"Snag, you failed, you actually lost to a newcomer."

"Mom, I was careless, give me another chance, please give me another chance!"

A man with a long nose, looks a little fat, and a gourd-like hairstyle on his head is kneeling on the ground. The armor on his arm has become dilapidated at this time, and the outer clothes are also damaged in many places. It can be seen that he has just experienced a battle.

He is Charlotte Snug, one of the Four Stars of Dessert, with a bounty of 600 million Baileys.

Not long ago, he was knocked down by Urki who broke into the territory of BIG MOM, and at this time he was facing the wrath of BIG MOM.

"Snag, did you know that Kaido's brat recently had a fourth disaster, and those newcomers are no match for Kaido's subordinates at all.

Even the newly promoted Jack can easily defeat Drake who was in the same era as Urki, but you, as one of the generals, lost to such a "newcomer"! "

"It's not my mother, it's his ability, the ability of that strange monk."

"Enough! Snug, you make me feel ashamed. Except for Becky who chose to join us these years, no newcomer can pass the first level, and you let me down.

From now on, there are no four generals here, only three generals, Snug, you are expelled. "

Kaido used to be Charlotte Lingling's little brother, even though this little brother has grown up, Charlotte Lingling still has this feeling.

The former little brother is now doing well by himself, and the cadres under his command are also very powerful.

Originally, her four generals were one more than Kaido's three disasters, but today, Kaido made up for the fourth disaster, but her fourth general was defeated. This is a big problem for Charlotte Lingling humiliation.

So she decided to learn from Kaido. If the strength is not enough, she would rather have a vacancy than increase the position of senior cadres.

Today's Snag is no longer worthy of serving as a senior cadre. Since he is defeated, he should abdicate honestly.

"Mom. Me."

"Snag! Shut up!"

Hearing that he was about to be removed from his post, Snag was very panicked and wanted to continue explaining, but Katakuri interrupted him.

"Katakuri brother."

"Mom, I will punish Snug for you, but for now, let's get rid of that intruder first."

Today's Charlotte Lingling has not lost control, and is still within the controllable range. If Snug is asked to justify a few more words, once Charlotte Lingling gets really angry, Snug will definitely be even more miserable.

Compared to the punishment of taking lifespan and taking away a certain body part, removal from office is already a very light punishment.

"You are right, Cracker, you go, as Katakuri said, get rid of that intruder for me, and let him know the price of the invasion."

"Yes, Mom."

Cracker, hiding in the biscuit armor, gave his answer, and then walked towards Ulki with his "pretzel".

"karma!"

Urki, who had endured multiple attacks from the big cracker, bulged his arms and was attacking the person in front of him.

It's just that this punch only hit the cracker's biscuit shield.

As Ulgi's moves continued, not only did the * in front of him not get hurt, but he manipulated the biscuit to add a few arms to himself, and even doubled the number of weapons inexplicably.

Cracker is a superhuman biscuit fruit capable person, Biscuit Man, with a bounty of 860 million Berry.

Because he is extremely afraid of pain, he usually hides in the biscuit warriors he made, and uses the biscuit shell to protect his body.

Therefore, most people don't know his true face, so that the portrait on the reward order is his biscuit warrior.

With the ability of biscuit, Cracker is confident to defeat Urki here. .

Unlike Snuggle, who was defeated by Ulki, the * is still intact even with the biscuit shield.

Finally under the attack of Cracker, Urki was defeated miserably, and escaped from the territory of BIG MOM in embarrassment. NOVEL 118b.com

On another island, with the middle as the dividing line, a raging fire is burning on one side, and a weird scene of ice and snow on the other.

This is Punk Hazard, also known as Ice and Fire Island at this time. At this time, the nuns and Tiger have arrived near this island.

A thunderbolt flashed across the hazy sky, the torrential rain poured down, and the sea lost its former calm under the influence of the strong wind.

Huge waves wash up on the deck from time to time, and after the baptism, some gifts from the ocean will be left behind.

"Be careful next time, don't get caught up again."

Tiger on the deck picked up an unfortunate snapper, and then threw it back into the ocean. Although he was a murloc, he was one of the few murlocs who could communicate with fish.

Under the impact of the sea water, the deck undulated very seriously, but the crew had long been accustomed to such waves, and it was nothing more than a storm, which was an appetizer for the new world.

It's just that not everyone can survive this kind of weather, as evidenced by the debris of the ship that appeared on the deck.

"Nun, are you sure this is the destination? This kind of place doesn't look like there are people living."

Not long after, a light appeared on the dark sea. It was not a lighthouse on the coast, but a sea of fire.

Everywhere you can see, raging fires are burning, and under the influence of the fires, the sea even turns a strange fiery red.

Boom!

The volcanoes on the island spew out magma from time to time, and it seems that they are all active volcanoes.

The volcanic ash was knocked down by the rain, but the pungent sulfur smell still drifted over with the sea breeze, making Tiger, who was used to the smell of the ocean, frowned.

"The flames have not been extinguished under such heavy rain. This island has a big problem"

"It should be right. According to the information I got from Your Excellency Quinn, the person I'm looking for is here."

The person Misu is looking for is naturally Luo, but Misu only knows that Luo has become Shichibukai, but he doesn't know where he is.

In order to find Luo's location, Misu can only use other methods.

According to the theory of six degrees of space, there will be no more than six people between a person and any stranger.

That is to say, any stranger can be known through at most six intermediaries.

But this is only a theory, and the relationship between them may not be clear even to the parties concerned. Even if they know this theory, it will be difficult in practice.

But for Misu, this matter is not complicated. Misu submitted his request to Quinn, and Quinn quickly found Doflamingo.

It stands to reason that Doflamingo himself is very concerned about Luo's safety due to the fruit of the operation.

After all, this matter is closely related to the ageless surgery, but he truthfully gave Luo's location.

Luo's location is relatively secret, but not all secrets. There are always people in the world government and navy who know where Luo is. Even if Doflamingo doesn't say anything, Tezolo's activities can still find some clues.

What's more, Doflamingo knew that Beasts had some overlap with the original Frevans incident. Referring to Luo's background, he still had some guesses about what Beasts wanted to do. It was precisely because of this that Doflamingo Very happily confided Luo's location.

Luo went to Punk Hazard for the purpose of investigating some research materials of the world government, and indirectly contacted Caesar, who was conducting experiments in Punk Hazard, and thus established a new connection with Doflamingo.

In a sense, this is also part of Luo's plan.

Doflamingo has some kind of business relationship with Beasts, Luo is clear about this, it should be said that the entire underground world of the New World is aware of this matter.

Luo wants to deal with Doflamingo, the first thing to deal with is this issue. He wants to get rid of Doflamingo's deal and make him lose value to Kaido.

In Luo's view, it is impossible for a person like Doflamingo to establish a solid friendship with Kaido. The only thing that can maintain all this is profit. As long as this chain of interests is broken, Doflamingo who fails to deliver the goods may directly get burned .

"That's what I said, but no matter how you look at this island, it doesn't look like it's inhabited."

"Mr. Tiger, this island used to be an experimental island of the World Government, but there was an experimental accident before. Later, the duel between Aokiji and Akainu in the Navy was also chosen here."

"Then I take back what I just said. There should be no living things on this island, but there are always exceptions in this world, murloc karate · hollow drum!"

Tiger didn't believe that there were creatures here, but he still came to the bow and punched forward. He wanted to open the way for the ship.NovelusB.CoM

For some reason, the flames on the island even extended to the sea. The main material of their ships is still wood. It is not a wise choice to drive directly into the sea of fire.

After the wind of fists parted the flames, their ships moved on.

"You guys stay here, we'll be back soon."

"Sister, don't we go together? This island seems to be a lot of trouble."

"No need, it's enough for you to guard the ship. Your Excellency Tiger and I won't delay for long."

After the ship docked, Misu didn't bring a large number of people, only Tiger followed her to the interior of the island.

Although it has been abandoned, you can still see the barbed wire fence left by the world government on the periphery, and the dangerous signs seem to warn people who come here.

There are dilapidated ruins all around, some houses even appear to be melted, magma flows in the cracks on the surface, and the nearby high temperature environment makes Tiger very uncomfortable.

Not long after, he took off his coat and followed behind Misu naked.

He doesn't like this hot environment. The murlocs yearn for sunshine, but the temperature of the deep sea makes Tiger feel more comfortable.

"Nun, don't you feel hot?"

He was sweating profusely with his shirtless upper body, but the nun in the heavy nun dress seemed to be okay.

"Your Excellency Tiger, what are you talking about? Don't you have any patience?"

"Well, if you release the ability first, nun, and then say this sentence, then the credibility will be higher."

Looking at Misu, half of his face covered under the mask, in the form of the Cangyan Blade Demon Beast, all Tiger's doubts were dispelled.

"The fire element is really capricious"

Looking at Misu whose hair has turned into purple flames, Tiger has already figured out everything. Naturally, Misu whose body is burning with flames will not feel the heat of the flames.

"So, sister, where is the person you found?"

"I'm not sure about this. Someone said they would come to pick us up, but they never met, and the phone bug didn't work either.

But it doesn't matter, Your Excellency Quinn gave me a map of the island, which marked the location of the laboratory, we just go there by ourselves. "

Miscommunication will lead to accidents in receiving people. At this moment, when Misu and Tiger are still advancing, someone has already stood in the snow for a long time.

On the other side of Punk Hazard, Monet helplessly rubbed the phone bug with his wings. After Luo came here, he replaced Monet's hands and feet with the ability of the fruit of the operation, and replaced her with bird wings and paw.

Because the phone bug is a biological communication tool, the individual quality will also have problems. The one in Monet's hand fainted due to frailty.

"Caesar, this trash, can't even keep the phone bug warm. It's a waste of the young master's energy."

While complaining about Caesar's ability, Monet looked towards the sea.

"Why haven't you come yet? Didn't you say you're coming soon?"

This was a communication error between Monet and Missu. Punk Hazard's regular port is on the side of the ice and snow. After all, it's easier to live in a cold area than in magma.

Monet is not afraid of the cold, Misu has the ability of Cangyan Blade Ghost without fear of heat, and Monet is a natural snow fruit ability user, as the lower level of Kuzan's ability, Monet also lives like a fish in water in the severe cold climate .

She also thought about whether she came to the wrong place, but she had been waiting for a long time. She was worried that the other party would come over as soon as the front foot left, so she continued to wait with this mentality.

And the guest she was waiting for encountered some strange things at this time.

"This thing is a dragon?"

In the sea of flames, a red dragon suddenly ran out and attacked Misu and Tiger involuntarily.

"Maybe, but why is this thing so similar to Mr. Kaido's Hachi?"

Tiger grabbed the dragon tooth bitten by the dragon with both hands, and then threw it flying. He could see clearly that it definitely broke its neck, but not long after, the twisted tooth The neck recovered strangely.

This expression is very similar to the regeneration ability of the eight-headed dragon, which is the creation of Vegapunk.

Before Punk Hazard was abandoned, Vegapunk created a lot of weird things to guard the island.

As the apex dragon among fantasy creatures, it is naturally also within the scope of Vegapunk.

At exactly that time, the navy sent blood samples of the eight dragons, so the manufacture of the dragon also had a new direction.

Compared to the dragons supplied to the Navy Wyvern Corps, this dragon is obviously higher quality, at least it regenerates faster.

However, when Vegapunk moved here, this dragon was also left here. Although it is stronger than those navy dragons, it is still a failure compared to the experimental materials that Vegapunk got.

As a perfectionist with obsessive-compulsive disorder, Vegapunk didn't take it away with him, and that's how it is today.

Looking at the dragon, Misu seems to have thought of something.

"It seems that some people have stolen the power of the Lord."

She usually doesn't go to trouble the navy, and the navy doesn't have a lot of dragons.

After the top war flying dragon troops were wiped out by the aftermath of their own weapons, they became scouts only equipped on lieutenant-level warships. This is the first time Misu has seen similar creatures.

Purple flames formed two huge arm blades. Before the newly regenerated dragon got up, his neck was cut off by Misu's sword of regret.

The cursed flame continued to burn on the wound of the dragon that fell to the ground again, and the head that should have been regenerated also disappeared in the continuous burning.

Chapter 1105 Luo who borrowed a knife to kill someone

The Cangyan Saber's attack itself has a special effect. Because its flaming double blades are made of cursed fire, the life energy of the creatures cut by the Cangyan Saber will continue to flow out.

The giant dragon born as a replica of the blood factor of Yamata no Orochi has a certain regenerative ability, but this ability is restrained by the giant sword of Cang Yan Saber Demon.

If it was the original ability, the effect would not be so obvious, but this is only the imperfect result of Vegapunk. Facing the flame that consumes life force, the dragon's regeneration ability is completely reduced to nothing.

"Go on, Lord Tiger, this island seems to be more complicated than I thought."

Passing through the sea of flames, this icy lake soon appeared in front of the two of them. From here, the island was clearly divided into two parts. On the other side of the lake, the severe cold air flow had already turned it into a world of ice and snow.

Tiger caught several sharks from the lake, and after a friendly communication, they agreed to act as means of transportation to help Misu and Tiger cross the lake.

Originally, there was no such lake on the island, but because of the battle between the red dog and the blue pheasant, a huge pothole was created in the center of the island.

The seawater poured into the pothole along the cracks of the island, and finally formed this lake, so the lake is full of many creatures that can only be seen in the sea

"Is this the general's ability to permanently change the geography? In this environment, the dragon's regeneration ability can't work at all. Where did it hide and survive?"

"Unfortunately, Mr. Tiger, I don't know your question, but I seem to see something more interesting. Is this a brand new race?"

A large number of "centaurs" appeared on the other side of the lake, and the limbs of various animals appeared on human bodies, which looked very strange.

"I have never heard of this species, but it is somewhat similar to the potion made by Your Excellency Quinn."

Tiger refers to the drug made by Quinn to change the shape of animal-type espers. Many female espers choose this potion for the sake of beauty, and what they finally show is this centaur posture.

The identities of these people are the prisoners abandoned on the island by the world government. The leakage of the experimental gas paralyzed their lower bodies.

After Caesar returned here, he fitted these prisoners who could not walk with mobility-assist devices, thus reaping their gratitude. After Luo arrived, he even replaced them with the limbs of this animal.

"Wait, those people are holding a welcome banner?"

Rubbing his eyes, Tiger seemed to have seen something very strange. Those "centaurs" did not attack, but took out banners instead. If conditions did not allow it, they seemed to have plans to beat gongs and drums.

"Both, I'm sorry, there was an accident just now, and the young master asked me to pick you up."

Monet also landed in front of the two.

Although Punk Hazard has become like this, he still has the ability to monitor the entire island in the central control area.

The people inside the research institute discovered the arrival of the ship, but there was a problem with Monet's phone bug, so they had to send someone to send a message.

It wasn't until Misu and Tiger fought the dragon that Monet received the news and came here.

As for why those prisoners have welcome banners.

Caesar often gets carried away, but he also knows that what he enjoys now depends on Doflamingo, and he can't neglect those who even Doflamingo treats with caution, so he arranges these people to act as cheerleaders.

"Trouble."

With the guidance of Monet, Misu quickly came to the remaining laboratory on the island, where she also found the person she wanted to meet.

"What's wrong? Don't you recognize me? Lo."

After entering the laboratory, the temperature returned to normal under the adjustment of the constant temperature system, and Misu also released her ability, revealing her original face.

Doflamingo knew that Misu was coming to see Luo, but he did not notify Luo in advance. Even though Caesar knew that a distinguished guest came because of his cooperation, Luo did not know about it.

Misu appeared in front of him, but he still didn't understand what happened.

"Your Excellency Tiger, I need a little private space next, can I trouble you to go out first?"

Looking at the slightly sluggish Luo, Misu turned to look at Tiger next to him

"Don't worry, nun, no one will disturb you."

Tiger didn't say anything, just walked out of the room silently, and Monet, who was in charge of leading the way before, was also driven out.

In other words, Missu is targeting people like Monet, and Tiger is a reliable believer for her, but people like Monet are different.

"Luo, you have grown taller. The little guy you were at is now an adult."

Misubi measured the height difference between himself and Luo, and then continued:

"I heard from Lamy. She said that she met a strange man in the Chambord Islands. She tried to strike up a conversation with her in a very low-level way, and she behaved strangely."

"So. she's really Rami, right."

Luo already knew it in his heart, but he still wanted to hear an affirmative answer from the nun.

"Yes, Trafalgar Ramy, your biological sister, she is still alive, but her brain is affected by platinum lead and trauma, and she has completely forgotten about the things in Frevance.

I'm sorry, I thought that memory was painful, so I hid everything from Rami, she didn't know anything about the past, including you and your parents. "

From Misu's point of view, she thinks this is the best result, but for Lamy's brother, who is also her only real relative left in this world, this result is undoubtedly cruel.

"It doesn't matter, nun, it's the best ending if Lamy is still alive. At that time, I was sent out in the pile of dead people. How did you leave?"

"We were lucky enough to meet the Lord, and the believers of the Lord took us out from there and healed the platinum-lead disease in a special way. But Luo, I have a question.

You should have recognized Lamy's identity at that time, but after so long, you didn't make any moves. If I didn't see you become Shichibukai, I wouldn't even know your whereabouts.

What exactly do you want to do? "

"Sister, this is my private matter. If I succeed, I will definitely go to Lamy, but if I fail. Please help me take care of Lamy in the future."

"She lives very well now and doesn't need other people's care, but Luo, tell me, what exactly do you want to do?"

Misu was familiar with the character of the children in the monastery back then, and Robben was a bit of a sister-controller, but now he wants to maintain his independence when he sees his sister. Coupled with the words of Tuogu, it is obvious that he has to do something.

"Sister, the Lord you speak of is the man of beasts, right?"

"Luo, I want to correct your mistake, the Lord is not a man of beasts, but when the Lord came, Mr. Kaido became his chosen agent.

Because of the Lord, there are all the beasts today, pay attention to the order. "

Misu's words were very gentle, but this tone gave Luo a headache. When he was a child in the monastery class, Misu also mentioned the Lord with this attitude, and what he disliked the most at the time was this course.

"Nun, you know me."

"It's not the same, Luo, it was just a textbook before, but now what I said and what you heard are real."

Listening to Misu's pious tone, Luo got a headache instead.

He is well aware of how pious Misu's beliefs are, and it must be an unshakable event for such a Misu to change his beliefs.

No matter how you say it, the sect that Misu belongs to now has a close relationship with Beasts, and Beasts has a certain intersection with Dooflamingo.

In this case, he didn't want to confide his inner thoughts to Missu. The nun was his childhood mentor and a survivor of Frevans. Apart from that, they had no other relationship. .

The root of the hatred between Luo and Dooflamingo is Rosindy, who has nothing to do with Missu and Rami.

And his identity is the navy, but Misu joined the pirate forces from the very beginning, it is better to say that they are hostile themselves.

Put yourself in the shoes of a nun, if he were a nun, he would never kill his original trading partner for this kind of thing, which is not in his interest.

According to Luo's impression, Misu won't betray him, but he dare not bet. Luo doesn't know what Misu's character has become after so many years. If he is not careful, his plan may fall into the abyss , is no longer possible.

"Nun, what do you want to come here to find me?"

"On the one hand, I came to see you. On the other hand, Luo, you have to think twice before doing things. I don't know what you want to do, and it seems that you don't want to say it, but I have to remind you that you only have Lamy as a relative. up.

Rami's memory may still be restored. Before doing these things, you should think about the consequences. "

"Sister Misu, I want to show you something."

Listening to Misu's words, Luo pondered for a moment, and then made a new decision. After obtaining Misu's consent, the room released by Luo enveloped the entire laboratory, and he also appeared in another room with Misu. room, a place known as the cookie room.novelusb.com

The room is full of young children, but their size is far beyond ordinary people. If you don't know it, you will regard this place as the territory of the giant race.

"Sister, do you know that this island is Caesar's experimental base, and it is full of places where he conducts experiments.

Including the artificial fruit sold by Doflamingo, one of its core products is also produced from this island.

But Caesar is not a good thing. These children are his test subjects. He injected human body enlargement agents into these children. It is a dangerous drug that Caesar himself does not know the consequences and cannot guarantee that there will be no side effects. "

Luo is making an experiment, he wants to know if Misu is still the Misu he knows, if so, maybe he can find another way to break the relationship between Doflamingo and Beasts from here.

Chapter 1106 Dirty adult world

In order to kill Doflamingo, Luo can give many things, including his own life.

In this matter, he can do a lot of things beyond the bottom line.

If Misu hadn't had a drastic change in temperament, she would never let this kind of thing go unnoticed.

To make Misu hate Caesar, it is best to kill Caesar. Doflamingo without Caesar will not be able to provide what the beasts need. Without the support of this behemoth, Luo's follow-up actions will become smoother.

Even if Misu changes, this kind of thing will not reveal his ultimate purpose.

It's just that Luo thought all of this was too smooth. If it was an outsider, it was really hard to figure out what Luo wanted to do.

But Misu is different. She knows that Doflamingo has some connection with the beasts, and has heard Quinn angrily denounce Caesar as a waste countless times. With a little connection, she can have a certain guess about Luo's behavior.

"Luo, you have changed."

"what did you say."

"You came here earlier than me. If you can't understand this kind of thing, then you have been able to react. Based on your ability to bring people here out of thin air, you want to send these children away. Not difficult, is it?"

You didn't know about my coming here before, but you brought me here suddenly.

You don't care about them, you want to achieve your own goals.

These kids, as well as me, are targets you want to exploit.

From this point of view, from the Rocky Port incident to your becoming Shichibukai, I'm afraid it's all part of your plan. What exactly do you want to do?

What you are going to do is very dangerous, so big that you don't want to recognize Lamy now.

I don't know what you have experienced, but you who have become Shichibukai shouldn't value my strength. "

Misu neither offered a reward nor did anything to show off in public. It is impossible for Luo to value her strength. The only thing that can be valued is her background.

"Caesar's experimental product seems to be related to the deal between Doflamingo and us. It can make you in Shichibukai find it difficult to handle. It must be a character of the same level. Do I need to continue?"

Able to manage an entire religious affairs, and arrange it to run in an orderly manner, except that it is easy to over-associate with Arceus' words, Misu's ability is not a problem.

Being able to do all this, she was not easy to fool.

Misu didn't say everything after she had inferred, but even if she didn't say it clearly, Luo already understood what she said afterwards. Misu had guessed her own thoughts, and what she didn't know was just the reason.

"Nun, it's actually not as complicated as you think, but I'm just curious, can you accept such a transaction partner?"

"Luo, you are already an adult, you should understand that the world is not black and white.

Just as you have your secrets, you don't know exactly what we're up to.

But under the Lord's protection, our success is only a matter of time.

Walking on the road will be contaminated with filth, but the filth will not last forever. When the long-distance running is over, it is natural to change into a pair of clean shoes. "

The way Misu looked at Luo did not change, because he is Lamy's older brother and one of the few survivors in Frevans. Although he cannot make Misu change his mind, he still has a certain status. .

If a stranger does something like this, it's time for someone else to handle it.

"And you've found the wrong target, I'm just an ordinary nun, I don't have the right to decide big things, I just believe in the Lord.

There are many believers like this, and I am just an ordinary person.

But, I am very happy to see that you can grow up healthy. "

"Nun. I."

In all fairness, Luo didn't want to deceive his childhood teacher, but in order to achieve his goal, the hatred in his heart forced him to gradually go to the edge.

"It's okay, you are right about one thing, I really don't like it here, but in the world of adults, everything is no longer determined by one's own hobbies."

Doflamigo, who used to be a human trafficker, doesn't have a good reputation in Beasts, and many cadres don't like him, but now he has his own value to Beasts, so his existence will be accepted.

Comparatively, Luo has no real value to the beasts, just relying on kinship is far from enough.

Unless he can do better with the existing business like Doflamigo replaced other dealers, otherwise, it is impossible for him to borrow a knife.

"But I have a question. Now that your secret has been discovered by me, what are you going to do?"

"What are you talking about, nun? There is no secret, but you are thinking too much. I am also restricted on this island. There is really no way."

As he spoke, Luo lifted off his clothes, revealing his empty heart.

It is impossible to admit it. Now Misu's position makes Luo not believe her very much. In the end, Misu is just guessing. As long as Luo himself refuses to admit it, no one else has evidence.

And he knew very well that Doflamigo had doubts about him now, but he still chose to trust him. In order not to undergo surgery, Doflamigo could endure many things.

The safest way is of course to make the person who has doubts disappear, but Luo can't do it.

At the beginning, Luo Xindi managed to pull Luo out of the abyss of depravity.

For revenge, Luo can take advantage of himself and use others, but he cannot take the initiative to do things that hurt Misu.

Seeing Luo's performance, Misu smiled, and then changed the subject.

"Speaking of which, if there had been no outbreak of platinum-lead disease, I should have taken you to experience society at that time, and to learn the last lesson of your life.

It doesn't seem too late now, but what I taught in the past is not applicable now, so Luo, let me teach you the last lesson now, which belongs to the world of dirty adults. "

As soon as the words fell, a purple fire spread from Misu's feet along the gap in the floor, and the wall beside him cut out a door like cutting tofu. With a huge force coming from outside, Tiger The figure appeared outside.

"Why is he here?"

"Luo, your practice is not yet home. The distance here is too short, and the arrogance of knowledge and knowledge is enough to perceive everything here. Your Excellency Tiger has the duty to protect my safety.

He found out from the moment you moved me. "

If Luo is so mad that because the nun finds out his intentions and takes more radical actions, then the result will not be good, at least in this Punk Hazard, no one can stop Tiger.

"So nun, you have to"

"Of course these children were taken away. Human body enlargement experiment, this kind of thing has nothing to do with us." nOvεlUSb.cOm

The deal between Beasts and Doflamingo is a semi-finished man-made devil fruit. At the same time, Doflamingo is also a very efficient middleman, but from the beginning to the end, Misu never heard about Doflamingo and Doflamingo. What are the interests of the gigantic human body?

Since this is the case, she certainly wouldn't mind intervening.

After Tiger and Misu started their operations, Monet also found anomalies and reported these to Doflamingo.

"Young Master, that's probably the case, what should I do next?"

"ㄟㄟㄟㄟㄟ, let them go, anyway, it's not our funds, and the people from Hundred Beasts destroyed the BIG MOM investment experiment, let them have a headache about this kind of thing."

"But young master, Caesar seems to have moved, and he disappeared after the alarm sounded."

"Stop that idiot, now!"

Chapter 1107 suggests to look through the past newspapers

The phone worm's eyes changed, from calm to angry panic, even if the phone worm in Monet's hand imitated Doflamingo's sunglasses when imitating the form, it could be seen that the Doflamingo was not at peace.

The last thing he wants to provoke are these sea emperors. He is still qualified to negotiate with the navy and the world government. Due to the superficial rules, the world government and the navy have to be scruples when doing things.

But beasts are different, they will only retaliate recklessly if they start a real fire.

Maybe a Kaido will fall from the sky at any time, or a Jack will come close to him while sailing. He can't afford this crime.

"If you can't stop him, then get rid of the relationship. In short, don't provoke them because of this guy."

Although if Caesar had an accident, Doflamingo would lose SAD, but once Caesar really angered the people of beasts, then his accident is a foregone conclusion.

Since Caesar is hopeless anyway, Doflamingo must of course protect himself.

"Whew, joker, you are really ruthless. After all, we are also a cooperative relationship. Are you just abandoning me in such a hurry?"

A large mass of gas gas poured into the crack of the door behind Monet, and as the gas was compressed and condensed, it finally turned into the appearance of Caesar. The ability users of the natural department have always been very convenient in this regard.

Their bodies are invisible elements, and the gas is a gas, which can freely pass through various narrow gaps.

"Caesar, Caesar? It looks like your brain hasn't become a vacuum yet, at least you didn't seek death yourself."

"Are you kidding me, joker, I don't want to provoke monsters like Kaido. It's just a few failed experiments. They are not successful targets in the first place. What can be affected by being taken away?"

Caesar didn't care about those children being taken away, or he was very happy that it happened.

The world government launched experiments on giant medicine many years ago. After all, the giant race is a force that cannot be underestimated for any country.

This technology is almost the technology that the whole world desires, but Caesar thinks it is almost impossible to complete.

These children have indeed grown bigger under the influence of the drug, but that's all. Caesar doesn't know whether they can grow up, whether they can be used on adults, and what side effects the drug will have.

After the Carmelite incident many years ago, the world government has reached an agreement with the giant race and obtained the genuine giant race soldiers, so it naturally gave up this research.

Up to now, the one who is still obsessed with this matter is Charlotte Lingling.

Caesar's research funding was also obtained from Charlotte Lingling. Strictly speaking, this matter is his private work and has little to do with Doflamingo.

When Caesar believed that the experiment could not be successful, he was still collecting a lot of funds from Charlotte Lingling, and he used these funds in his private life.

Caesar called "Girls' Ship" to the island every night, living a life of debauchery.

But as the delivery date requested by Charlotte Lingling approached, Caesar also began to panic.

If the deception of BIG MOM is exposed, Charlotte Lingling will also be furious, and the consequences will be even worse than offending Kaido.

So Caesar's life changed a little bit. He no longer spends his days drinking and drinking every day, but spends his days and drinks in horror every day.

Anyway, the matter has not been revealed yet, and it is still far away from the imminent death.

Worry or relaxation can't change the result. Caesar will naturally have fun before the incident happens.

The arrival of Misu and his party gave him a chance instead, a chance to cover up the truth.

"Dear M! It's bad! The reference room is on fire!"

Caesar's subordinates ran in in a panic and reported to Caesar what had just happened.

"The fire is so fierce that even water cannot put out the fire inside. We are salvaging materials, but it is possible"

"It's okay, my dear subordinates, your safety is much more important than those materials, don't let yourself get hurt because of those dead things, I will be sad if you do that."

Caesar also pretended to wipe away his tears. For him, these subordinates were just experimental subjects that could be consumed at any time. All this was an illusion created by Caesar to make them willing to pay.

Facts have proved that the character set he created was very successful. Seeing Caesar caring about his subordinates, his subordinates were already moved beyond their control.

"Don't worry! Even if I risk my life, I will save the information!"

"No, no, no, your safety is more important, it's just data, let them just disappear."

Even if it has been abandoned, Punk Hazard is an experimental island built by the world government with a lot of money. It has a complete fire prevention system. The reason why the important reference room caught fire was originally caused by Caesar.

If these people really get something out of the sea of fire, Caesar will find it troublesome.

Seeing that Caesar insisted on this, his subordinates did not continue to insist, but remembered another thing.

"Dear M, all the children in the biscuit house were taken away by that woman.

That woman actually failed your trust, not only snatched away those children, but also burned your database. Fortunately, we also prepared a welcome ceremony, and we will make her pay the price. "

This time he didn't wait for Caesar to speak, as if he was afraid that Caesar would soften his heart, he ran out with a weapon.

This is also one of Caesar's goals. If such a big thing happened, if there were no pursuers, wouldn't it seem that he didn't take it seriously.

As long as a group of subordinates are sacrificed, Charlotte Lingling can be fooled better. As for the life and death of the subordinates, he doesn't care about such things.

As long as Charlotte Lingling feels that she takes this matter seriously, but in the end, she can't do anything about it, that's enough.

It's not that I haven't done research, but the results have been destroyed. He can't afford to offend the beasts. If Charlotte Lingling has the ability, she can do it herself.

Thinking of this, a very smug smile appeared on Caesar's face.

At this time, Doflamingo's slightly sarcastic laughter came from the phone bug again.

Since Caesar's subordinates came in, Doflamingo didn't speak. It wasn't until he left that Doflamingo made a sound again.

"Hey, hey, Caesar, you are really brave."

"Whoa, whoa, joker, I don't know what you're talking about."

"It's nothing, but Caesar, I remember that Morgans published a newspaper a few years ago. The title of the newspaper should be [The Lonely Brave]. I can't remember the exact issue, but you'd better go and read it. That's your end."

Chapter 1108 Almighty Quinn is still working overtime

Doflamingo has already heard what Caesar wants to do. Caesar wants to drive away tigers and wolves, and use beasts to divert BIG MOM's problems, but he forgot something. The harm of tigers is far greater than the harm of wolves. Caesar may not have Ability to grasp.

There will even be a worse situation. Once Charlotte Lingling and Kaido choose to sit down and talk, and discover some doubts, Caesar's troubles are really big, and maybe he can reproduce the idiot's feat.

"The Lone Warrior? What's that?"

"It's nothing, you shouldn't want to know, but Caesar, for the sake of cooperation in the past few years, I have one more thing to ask you."

"Um?"

"If you want to die, stay away from me, and don't splash my blood."

As he said that, Doflamingo hung up the phone bug and looked at Torrepol who was standing by.

"Torre Pol."

"Dover, any new ideas?"

"Notify Monet later, let her act quickly, and find out the formula and process of Caesar's SAD production. I have a hunch that this guy won't be around for long."

In Doflamingo's view, Caesar is dancing on the tip of a knife, and if he is not careful, he will be pierced into a sieve. Except for SAD, the core of artificial fruit, Caesar's value is minimal.

Although the weapon he researched called "Death Kingdom" has made some progress, but that technology has not yet been realized, so the value is infinitely close to zero.

Caesar's behavior of playing with fire made Doflamingo feel a sense of crisis, and he was ready to clean himself up.

They formed the alliance out of interests, and there is no friendship at all.

Doflamingo needs Caesar's technology, and Caesar needs Doflamingo's money and protection. For Doflamingo, the crisis that Caesar can bring will soon outweigh the benefits.

If it wasn't for Caesar, he would have given orders to Monet directly. Monet's job as a secretary has such a purpose, but now it's time to speed up his actions.

But Caesar doesn't know what Doflamingo thinks, he hasn't realized the reality yet.

Caesar, Gage, and Quinn, these three people are very conceited, but in terms of conceit, Caesar has to be at the top.

Gage took Germa to work as a mercenary outside, and he had more knowledge. Quinn was enlightened by the knowledge of O'Hara's library, and was often hit. He had a lot more understanding of reality than Caesar.

Caesar is fantasizing about his future, and Misu and Tiger have also left the scope of the laboratory.

"Murloc Karate · Ice Fighter!"

Due to the influence of Kuzan, the water in Punk Hazard's ice area can be said to be ice, and the water hit by Tiger is no exception.

The water blade turned into a sharp blade due to the severe cold in mid-air, knocking down all those who blocked them.

Tiger's simple punches had already broken the confidence of those people, and even some special creatures couldn't stop them, such as some failed experiments.

"Huge orc? How could there be such a thing on this island?"

Amid the ice and snow, a big purple guy appeared in front of Tiger and Misu.

Beast-like head, purple skin all over the body, and a pair of black curved horns on the head, this thing is the failed product of the previous world government's attempt to revive the ancient giant race.

Once wanted to be used to trade with the Hundred Beasts Pirates, but because the quality was too poor, Kaido couldn't catch it at all. After all, these monsters with low intelligence are not as good as giant Pokémon such as King Yanwu.

These things are defective products for Beasts, but they are still good products here. Caesar successfully cheated more funds from Charlotte Lingling by virtue of this creature.

At this time, the members of the Knights on the ship had also arrived here. Instead of crossing the sea of fire, they circled around from the outside and landed on Punk Hazard from the other side of the island.

"Array! Get rid of that guy!"

The members of the well-trained knights showed excellent tacit understanding. The two cooperated in attacking the test giant's knees, and after it fell to the ground, they launched a heavy blow to its neck, easily defeating these empty big men.

The enemies along the way failed to stop them, whether it was Caesar's subordinates or the products of those failed experiments. The biggest problem happened after they reached the ship.

These children are of different sizes, which is the result of Caesar's experiment. The bigger the children, the earlier they come here, and the more they are affected by the drugs.

After reaching the vicinity of the ship, the larger children fell down holding their heads. As time passed, this symptom appeared on all the children.

And from a simple headache to cranky, irritable, and craving some kind of candy.

Some of these children were abducted, and the other part was deceived.

Caesar first secretly affected them with drugs to make them bigger, and then took Monet to deceive these parents and children, saying that the children had a disease that would kill adults if they were infected, and tricked them to the island .

In order to control these children, Caesar fed them candy, a kind of candy mixed with special drugs.

The accompanying ship doctors on board were helpless. They didn't understand what was going on with these children at all, so they had to choose off-site assistance.

Soon the doctors at the Hundred Beasts Pokémon Center received the news and organized an impromptu consultation, but this group of doctors from all over the world just couldn't figure out what was going on.

"This is the blood sample analyzed over there, and the patient's description of the smoking candy, eating it makes people feel happy, isn't that the one?"

"There are so many types of that kind of thing. I haven't heard of this kind of drug. Go ask Lord Quinn, he should know more."

Soon, a document was sent to Quinn. Looking at the analysis data on it, Quinn gave the answer without thinking.

"Isn't this thing NHC10? Where did you see this?"

"NHC10? Sir Quinn, isn't that poison?"

"What kind of poison, it's stupid to talk about toxicity without talking about the dose. It's a good thing, but it's very dangerous. Only a very small number of countries in the world are qualified to use this drug.

However, if their doctors want to use this drug, they need to be approved. It's normal if you don't know. "

This kind of items can be regarded as Quinn's main direction of attack, and he has done a lot of research on it.

NHC10 is a designated special stimulant in the world, which can be used to treat special diseases, but the amount must be controlled.

In the case of long-term use, it will constitute chronic poisoning. Although addicts will feel a sense of happiness when taking the drug, they will feel severe pain if they fail to take the drug.

Although this is a drug that is banned in most areas, the people in MADS don't have a fuel-efficient lamp. At the beginning, all their experiments were in violation of the regulations of the world government, and mere drugs are not a problem at all.

"It's what happened to Sister Missu. They met a lot of people who overdosed on this drug and are asking for a solution."

"There is no way. Use a sedative to calm them down first, and then spend time slowly clearing up the effects of the drug. This is the most effective method."

Sad: still owe 1800 words (working hard to repay the debt)

ps: Sometimes the comments disappear. It is indeed a metaphysics. For example, a brother who uses traditional Chinese characters, I still think the paragraph you made up is very interesting, but it just disappears

This is an account problem, I have nothing to do in the rain

Chapter 1109 Soul King and Gold Ticket

The ultimate solution is that there is no way. What appears in these children is the withdrawal reaction. Long-term feeding of NHC10 leads to serious addiction in the body. This situation lacks specific drugs and takes time to slowly relieve.

The most direct way to relieve pain is to give them NHC10, but doing so will increase the accumulation of toxins, and the most effective short-term method is to make people faint.

And this has become Tiger's hardest job, and they didn't carry the drugs with them, so they had to use rough physical methods as a last resort.

This is not an easy job. For Tiger, it is easy to break a person's cervical vertebrae, but it is delicate work to stun a weak child.

But the follow-up problem has become a new trouble.

These children are different from the batch of children in the past. In the past, all they adopted were orphans.

But this group of children was lured from a nearby island. Except for a few very young ones, they all clearly remembered where their home was, and they always missed their parents.

This type of child is not the target of their adoption.

"What should I do? There are too many and the locations are too scattered."

"There is plenty of time, but their drug problems need to be treated systematically, and the medical conditions on the ship are not enough. We can't knock them out every time they get sick, right?"

Misu rubbed his head with a headache, sending them back one by one was fine, but it took some time, and he could even preach during the sending back.

But with the condition of this group of children, there may be some troubles along the way.

In the end, she made a relatively appropriate decision to send these children to the Navy Branch.

All groups have scum, but there is a problem of proportion. There are still many groups in the navy that are worth relying on. It is their job to protect civilians.

Besides, NHC10, as a drug strictly controlled by the world government, is a specially-approved drug like morphine on the battlefield, and they already have a more detailed treatment method.

The route of the navy is also more convenient. In theory, there will be information about these missing children, so that their families can be better found.

"Which nearby branch has a better reputation?"

"G5 branch, the vice admirals stationed there are Smoker and Virgo, the outside world has a good evaluation of both, but the G5 naval soldiers are a bit maverick.

Do not obey the orders of the headquarters, act without authorization, kill pirates, sometimes more like a bandit soldier. "

Vergo himself was an undercover agent placed by Doflamingo in the navy. Except for the members of the Don Quixote family, no one else knew about it. NovelUsB.com

Virgo was just a low-level soldier when he was undercover in the navy, and he climbed to this position through merit little by little.

Although he is not a good person by nature, Virgo has always maintained an amiable, personable and approachable appearance for his status in the navy.

As for Smoker, being sent to the East China Sea was a kind of protection and trial in itself. His strength far exceeded the level of the East China Sea. With the damage to the elite navy, Smoker's status was naturally improved.

And due to his personal requirements, he was arranged to be stationed in a more dangerous new world.

Neither Misu nor Tiger was wanted, but they were not interested in taking a trip to the navy branch. After arriving near the G5 branch, they left the children on the nearby reef and caused the G5 defenders to attention.

When the navy sent ships to take all the children away, Misu and Tiger also changed course.

"Lieutenant General Virgo! A large number of children were found nearby. After verification, they were all children who were lost on nearby islands during this period.

Someone left a message on them, indicating that those children were affected by NHC10 and needed systemic treatment. "

In the office of the G5 base, Virgo, who is the base chief, is receiving reports from his soldiers.

"Understood, let's send them to the infirmary for physical examination first. The fish steak in the cafeteria is doing well today, so I'll arrange a copy for them too."

"yes!"

After the soldiers left, Virgo took out a tissue and wiped his mouth, but he seemed to ignore the half fish fillet stuck to it.

After confirming that there was no one around, Virgo took out his own phone bug to contact Doflamingo.

"Dover, it's me, from Punk Hazard."

"There is no need to deal with it specially. Just follow the navy's procedures. Don't meddle in this matter. Someone bigger will end up."

"Yes, I see."

After hanging up the communication with Doflamingo, Virgo turned around and gave a new order.

"Collate the information of those children and let Smoker send them home one by one."

Their military ranks are all lieutenant generals, but Virgo is the base chief of G5, and his position is one level higher than Smoker. He has the right to order Smoker without an order from the headquarters.

At the same time, a grand concert in the new world, the island of performances, opened again.

Brook dressed in gorgeous clothes, holding a special shark-shaped guitar on the stage, from the moment he appeared, there were cheers from the audience.

"King of Soul! King of Soul! King of Soul!"

With his unique appearance and loud singing voice, Brooke has successfully established himself in the past time, and has become the second most popular man in Beast Fruit Performing Arts Department after Tezuolo.

And this also means that Cavendish has been surpassed. At this time, he is biting his handkerchief angrily backstage.

"Bastard, bastard! It's just a skeleton, why is it more popular than this young master! I don't accept it!!"

"There is nothing you can do if you don't accept it. The resources are the same, but Brook's popularity is much faster than yours. Unfortunately, he has no plans to renew his contract, otherwise he might not need you."

Uta was doing preparations in the background, while responding to Cavendish's questions.

Brook's fan growth rate is far faster than that of Cavendish, but it is still far behind Uta, which is an innate difference brought about by gender.

Dreamlike singing voice, contagious voice and his own appearance, at this time, Uta is the biggest traffic code.

Before Cavendish could say anything, Uta grabbed Heracross's arm and flew towards the stage, and what Cavendish heard was another roar like a tsunami.

When it was Cavendish's turn, although the voices were much smaller, he still felt very welcome, but unlike Uta and Brook, Cavendish ushered in more than just voices.

Brooke's unique skeleton design and Uta's cute appearance have always been popular among men and women, except for Cavendish.

While he became a celebrity loved by female fans, he also became a male public enemy.

This has something to do with Cavendish's overly arrogant personality, and he is not a comedian himself. Such a "beautiful man" personality naturally aroused the displeasure of many female fans' male companions.

After all, the reason why Cavendish was exiled by the country was because he was too gorgeous and attracted the attention of too many women, which made young women all over the country unwilling to marry.

Even if he is the prince of a country, this kind of behavior that has caused the birth rate of the kingdom to drop sharply and has endangered the future of a country is not allowed.

However, this group of Cavendish fans also brings the most income, and every time the peripherals related to Cavendish are sold, they will be sold out instantly.

Even if the number of these people is small, they can compete with Uta's fan base. These people spend far more than others to chase stars.

And the goal of this concert is very simple, to sell lottery tickets.

After working overtime continuously, Quinn has completed the production of the lottery coupons, and started mass production after Assier provided sufficient materials.

When the concert started, the lottery tickets had been shipped to all parts of the world through freight channels, and with the reputation of Baishou Fruit over the past few decades and the influence of this group of top stars, coupled with the publicity of Morgans, It quickly gained popularity.

The amount of the gold prize ticket is set at 500 million Baileys, and the red prize ticket for the second prize is 100 million Baileys.

Just the exposure of the bonus amount has made many people interested.

Then around the world, the Thors arranged by Tezolo also started to act.

【Gulan Tezolo bought lottery tickets jointly with more than 20 merchants, and after winning the first prize, they shared 500 million Berries. 】

【An employee of Seven Water Capital Shipbuilding Company won the first prize. He has resigned and is planning to travel around the world by boat. 】

【A resident of New Fishman Island became rich overnight.】

The winners of several gold prize tickets were exposed one after another, and some people were even interviewed, but those interviewed by Morgans chose to cover their faces.

The low price and other prizes also appear from time to time, which caused a lottery frenzy for a while, and even some specially issued peripheral lottery coupons were rounded up, and they were all packaged and bought as soon as they were released. These are the fanatics. result.

Money touches people's hearts, and under the influence of huge profits, some people also have crooked thoughts.

Fake counterfeiting, selling fake lottery tickets, pretending to win a lottery but have no time to claim it, so sell the lottery tickets at a discount to passers-by.

In just half a month, all kinds of deceptions appeared in the hands of various scammers.

And the matter about the gold prize coupons has become a new key task in the hands of Beasts. The real gold prize coupons mean that it has something to do with the slate and must be taken seriously. come to revenge.

Chapter 1110 Eggherd and the whereabouts of the slate

This is a very deformed world. Laws exist, but there are countless people who can break the shackles of laws with personal force.

Transnational fraud is a difficult thing to deal with, but in this sea, as long as it is caught by the tail, there are plenty of ways for the big forces to deal with it.

Just like impersonating other pirate groups, everyone knows the risk of this kind of thing, but in the face of huge benefits, there are always people who risk their lives to try.

In the first half of the great route, Kekri Island, according to the feedback from Beast Fruit, there have been several fraud incidents near this island.

They are a legitimate enterprise, and they will definitely not do this kind of thing casually, so they naturally arranged another group of people to handle it.

"Master Peggy Wan, you don't need to come here in person for such a trivial matter, right?"

"Say something stupid, how can it be a trivial matter to pretend to be us, the problems in this area are almost catching up with the sum of other places, it is not a good habit to stare at a sheep.

Besides, what if there are some difficult guys behind it? "

Peggy Wan's reasons are very good, but the real reason is that the sea is getting more and more turbulent nowadays, and the cadres and manpower of Beasts are also relatively tight. Let the two go at the same time.

This means that during the execution of the mission, Peggy Wan can reasonably avoid the torture of his sister. He wished that the mission here would be delayed a little longer, but the facts always let him down. In less than a day, the source was destroyed found it.

"Master Peggy Wan, it has been confirmed that the source of the fake lottery tickets is here. That guy is "Three Tongues" Dimar Braque, and the bounty is 26 million Baileys."

"How courageous you are."

Looking at the information in his hands, Peggy Wan admired the courage of these newcomers. If he relied on his own strength to get a bounty of 26 million, he could still be an ordinary soldier in the new world.

But this kind of people who got in by deception are not even considered cannon fodder in the New World, but this kind of people are all outrageously courageous.

Peggy Wan can't waste too much time on this kind of pirate, or he will give Urti an excuse to pester him, so he has no interest in showing up at all, and directly launched the earthquake and dragon star group from a long distance, and the cloth Lark's stronghold was reduced to ruins.

Where there is a fake, there is a real one. After excluding the liars and fraudsters arranged by myself, after a period of fermentation, the lottery ticket also played its role.

New World, Egghead Island-Egghead, surprise cheers came from the island.

"I hit the lottery! Jackpot!"

A man dressed in a slightly sci-fi style rubbed his eyes excitedly. The dazzling golden color said everything.

This is the location of Vegapunk's new research institute after Punk Hazard was scrapped due to an explosion accident. It claims to be an island of technology and the future that is five hundred years ahead of the world.

The population on the island is not large, and most of them are employees arranged by the world government to assist Vegapunk. They are responsible for transporting materials, maintaining the logistics of the island, and acting as some scientific research assistants.

Although many places have been replaced by robots, there are still some manpower left. At this time, the world government has not yet had the idea of obliterating Vegapunk, and the relationship between the two parties is relatively close.

The quality of life in Eggherd is very high. There are automatic cooking machines. As long as the ingredients are in place, 500 kinds of dishes can be prepared in one minute. The chefs on the island do not need cooking skills at all, they only need to deliver the ingredients It is enough to enter the machine.

The disadvantage is that there are insufficient technical personnel. Only Vegapunk and his clone can make this machine, and it cannot be mass-produced.

At the same time, there are various styles of holographic projectors used to change the appearance of the island and bring different life experiences to the residents, including automatic changing machines of various styles of clothing.

But this is just a workplace, and Vegapunk has not accepted the family members of any employees to settle here, and wages are also an indispensable thing for them.

500 million Pele is not a small amount, for them, this means direct financial freedom.

"You are so lucky that you actually won the first prize."

"Hey, I bought it when I was on vacation last time. I kept it in my pocket and forgot to scratch it off. If I knew it, I would have scratched it off earlier."

"Stop talking nonsense, hurry up and ask for leave to redeem the prize, the validity period is only one month."

"Ask for leave? I just resigned! With so much money, who is still working here!"

The next day, this person left Egghead and found the nearest prize redemption office.

"Name."

"Tell."

"Work, where the lottery tickets are purchased."

"Do I need this kind of information to redeem the prize?"

"Of course, we need to verify the information and indicate the source of your funds. You don't want to be dragged away for review with the reason that the source of huge assets is unknown."

"It's because I used to be a researcher at Egghead, and I bought the coupons on a merchant ship that passed by Egghead."

"I see, I see"

The reward redemption staff quickly filled in the information and sent it to Tezolo through the Rotom phone. His Rotom phone still has something similar to his eyes, and it can be seen that it is the original Rotom phone.

This is enough to show that he himself is a member of Beasts.

"Wait a few more days, and the bonus of 300 million Berries will be brought to you immediately."

"Wait, isn't it 500 million Baileys?"

"The world government wants to collect 200 million in taxes, and we can't do anything about it. By the way, it's a routine question. Do you want to donate money?"

"No."

The bonus has shrunk by nearly half, which made him scratch his head in embarrassment. His resignation seems to be a bit early.

The prize redemption process had just begun, but the news of the real golden prize ticket was sent to Arceus within an hour.

"Master Holy Beast, according to reliable information, the test paper made by Assie has responded, and there is a high probability that your things are in Egghead."

Shaina flipped through the information in her hand, summarized the information and reported it to Arceus.

"Egghead Shaina, you and Zeraora have a hard time, go there to make sure, if the thing is there, bring it back.

This operation also brought Kuzan with him. He has been here for a month or two and has never done anything. If there is any battle, let him deal with it. The priority target for you and Zeraora is the slate.

If you are sure it is a slate, you can also contact me directly. "

Jeraora and Shaina are considered to be the two fastest among the large cadres. With their own strength and flying ability, no one can keep them.

At the same time, this is also a test for Kuzan, to see what choice he will make in the face of this situation, so as to determine the future arrangements for him, otherwise Arceus will go alone is the most stable idea.

"Obey, I will take care of everything, please rest assured."

Almost at the same time, when Eggred entered, Lilith had several golden lottery tickets in her hand.

"Lilith, what are you in a daze for?"

The man wearing a helmet with number 01 on his head, wearing a long hoodie with Vegapunk 01 printed on the side and the lettering printed on the back questioned Lilith beside him.

They are all clones of Vegapunk, but they have independent thinking habits, which makes their acting styles different.

Compared with No. 02 Lilith, which represents evil, No. 01 Sakyamuni, which represents integrity, is more serious.

"I wanted to see my luck and see if I could get some more research funding, but now, I have a new discovery."
