

ARCEUS' PIRATE JOURNEY

Chapter 12: How can pirates have no ships?

Chapter 12 How can a pirate be without a ship?

Quinn Brachiosaurus's tropical dragons are even bigger, which makes the size of the bananas bigger, but for those who eat by buckets, these three bananas are just enough to evoke greedy worms in their stomachs.

Quinn's first thing about the development of new abilities was nothing else, but to study how to spawn bananas. After several unsuccessful attempts, he turned his attention to Arceus.

This ability was created by him, so he must know some details.

Quinn leaned over, with a flattering and flattering smile on his face.

Human transformation is one of his favorite things, and in this respect, Arceus's abilities have reached the peak.

The gift of this ability is tantamount to the transformation directly at the genetic level. If he can study this power clearly, he will surely become the most talented person in this field.

Not to mention the amazingly sweet bananas.

"Hey, hey, you must know how this ability spawns bananas, right?"

And how exactly is this transformation done..."

"You bastard, show me some respect for the holy beast!"

The Quinn who came up was facing Shaina's hands wrapped in flames. It would definitely be a dereliction of duty for Shaina to let this fat man like an idiot lean over.

After possessing a new ability, Shaina did not cancel her ability, but remained in this form.

In the human-beast state, the original head features of the flaming chicken form a mask, and Shaina likes this scarlet mask that covers the face. She and Jhin are destined to not be able to show their true faces for a long time in the future, so she has always maintained this state, except for a small piece of chin that is exposed, her hands and feet are wrapped in special bandage-like objects, and the black wings on her back have also become Crimson wings.

The Lunaria family has strong physical strength and excellent endurance, especially Shaina who has been strengthened by her ability. Just maintaining this state is not a waste for her at all.

Her ability comes entirely from the power of Arceus. Although it is similar to the Devil Fruit, it is fundamentally different, and it consumes much less physical energy to maintain this state.

Jhin is also in the state of being stimulated by his abilities, but the Fossil Pterosaur is different from the Flame Chicken and does not have its own mask, so his head is completely in the state of a pterosaur.

This is also one of the differences brought about by Arceus' ability.

The animal fruit of birds has a characteristic, which is different from the human and beast form of other animals, which changes the head of the person and retains the limbs.

Birds, plus pterosaurs, the type of animal fruit of the human-beast form has changed its wings, and the wings are fused with the arms, retaining the appearance of the feet and head.

When Jhin's toothless pterosaur turned into a fossil pterosaur, his human-beast form also changed, his hands were preserved, his head was transformed into a pterosaur, and the black wings on his back became the wing membrane of a pterosaur.

And with two small hands on his wings, in this form he can barely count as having four hands.

However, his shielding is still a bit worse than Shaina, and he feels that he will have to change to a hooded outfit in the future.

Although Jhin's abilities are transformed from fruits, the consumption is also lower than that of ordinary animals.

Jin and Shaina couldn't understand this difference, but Quinn, who was a power user, could sense the change.

After he turned into a tropical dragon, the consumption under normal conditions is much lower than that of the previous Brachiosaurus. The awakened animal system will have a steady stream of physical strength. Although the transformed ability is not awakened, it can also be regarded as greatly enhanced. .

Honestly, Arceus has this powerful ability, and Quinn is happy too.

After he helped release Kaido, which indirectly led to the destruction of the research institute, there was no turning back. Only a few of them knew about this kind of thing.

If something happens to the Beast Pirates in the future and let the World Government know about it, he will probably be completely wiped out. He doesn't know what the specific policy of the World Government is, but they have a vague indulgence towards this sea, and Divert conflicting ideas.

Those who violate the taboos of the World Government will be completely destroyed by the World Government. In order to eliminate Rox, the navy even joins forces with pirates, and this has happened more than once.

Arceus' ability is not unattractive. If an accident falls into the hands of the world government, and the world government knows his identity, coupled with the Lunalia family, Quinn may want to enter the underwater prison. It's all luxury.

So now he naturally hopes that the stronger the beasts, the better, whether it is for the convenience of his future research or other things, this is the best result.

Although Quinn is not from the Lunaria clan, he and the Lunaria people are now on a united front.

So he still wants to know how to spawn bananas, he doesn't believe that bananas are disposable.

In the face of Shaina's obstruction, he made a rather concise change.

"Master Holy Beast, can you tell me how to use this ability to spawn bananas?"

It's not just another name, he doesn't care about this kind of thing.

Looking at how excited Kaido was just now, he was about to swoop in with Arceus, so changing his name wouldn't affect anything.

"Eat more fruit, that kind of banana will absorb the sugar of the fruit you eat. The normal result is twice a year. No matter how much fruit you eat, it will only increase the sweetness of the next fruit."

After becoming Arceus, he has a lot of memories about Pokémon in his mind, including types, characteristics, abilities, preferences, habits, etc., and the banana growth cycle of tropical dragons is also included.

The result of twice a year caused Quinn to be struck by lightning. It took half a year to wait for such a delicious fruit. It was a torture in hell.

At this point, he has made up his mind to go to a tropical island to cultivate bananas when the next results come.

Of course, that is all in the future. The problem now is that they should leave. Now that there is news about Shibari, he is not interested in waiting any longer.

"Kaido! Stop drinking, and find the John in your mouth!"

"Ugh, I'm really impatient, but it's time to go to sea, Quinn, what about the boat you prepared?"

"This way, let's go, but it might be a little crowded."

Quinn did prepare a boat, but this boat took him and Kaido into consideration. There is no dock here. Although Quinn has a good technical level, he is not a ding dong. He can't directly pull out a boat. Fishing boat, but with a modified engine.

After adding Jhin, Shaina, and Arceus, the ship has nothing to spare, and it is inconvenient to turn around.

"Aren't you all able to fly. Why are we crammed into this small boat?"

In Arceus's point of view, the most concise way is for Kaido to roll up the flames and take everyone away. Who knows that Kaido is excited to see this boat.

Compared to Wang Lufei's boat and barrel, and Blackbeard's raft, this fishing boat with an engine is indeed a lot more advanced, but its speed is definitely not comparable to flying.

"This is the first voyage of the Beast Pirates. What if there is no ship. There will be a big ship in the future. Let's set sail now! Ugh!"
