Chapter 131 Black Charcoal Twilight Cicada

"Throw this mad woman into the sea. Who is in charge of patrolling here today? I will complain when I go back, how can anyone let in."

Looking at the old woman in front of him, Scourge showed an impatient expression, he didn't think such an old woman would have a deal with Kaido.

And the beasts have been doing a lot of business recently. Those businessmen know that Kaido is not at home every day, so they will not call Kaido by name when they come to the door.

Coupled with her bizarre dress, and dancing in a weird style while talking, Scourge just thinks this is a lunatic.

Not to mention, how can anyone light a candle on their head and play with themselves?

Immediately let the two younger brothers throw her into the sea. He was already unlucky enough. When he received the assembly order to return to the main island, he encountered a challenger, and he was in a bad mood for delaying the trip.

So he has no patience for this crazy old woman.

Looking at the pirates around her, she panicked a little, which was different from the script she thought.

She is from the country of Wano, her name is Heitan Muchan, a clan who lived overseas after the fall of the Heitan family.

The supreme ruler of the country of Wano is called the general, and the candidate for the general has always been a member of the Koyuki family. The five daimyo families of Tianyue, Shuangyue, Fengyue, Yuyue, and Kurotan serve the general of the country of Wano.

Many years ago, the generals of Wano Kingdom had no heirs, and in this case, who the next heir would be has attracted the attention of several families.

Tianyue, Shuangyue, Fengyue, and Yuyue all have their own opinions on the candidate for the next general. The famous name of the Heitan family at that time, that is, the grandfather of the black charcoal Orochi, not only had an idea, but also acted directly.

He planned to poison the other daimyo, and finally took the general position into his own hands.

When the other daimyo were still playing tricks, he acted, daimyo died one by one, and these things were disguised as civil unrest.

The successive deaths of daimyo made the generals of the Wano country devastated at that time. The Heitan family believed that the position of the general was already in the bag. - Kozuki Sukiyaki was born smoothly.

Having an heir, there is no doubt about the position of general, and at the same time, the conspiracy of the Black Charcoal family is exposed.

The grandfather of the black charcoal snake was ordered to commit suicide by cutting his belly. The Heitan family lost everything, and everything was deprived by the general. The black charcoal family has been living on the streets since then and has become an existence that everyone shouts and beats.

Heitan Muchan also left Wano country for this reason at this time, but she thinks that these are all the faults of Kozuki Sukiyaki. If he is not born, then the Heitan family will become a new general, and these are all will not happen.

After a while, she returned to Wano, and found the black charcoal serpent, and told him that he would become a general.

After that, he asked the black carbon snake to save money to make weapons. Although the country of Wano is closed to the country, it has technology that the outside world does not have. With the weapons of the country of Wano, he can find a person he can rely on, one that is enough to support the black carbon. Orochi became the military backing of the general.

Because Kozuki Oden's personal strength is not something they can deal with, he must seek help from the outside world.

It doesn't matter who this person is. The purpose of the black charcoal serpent is to destroy the country of Wano in order to avenge those people. After years of forbearance development, Kaido's information appeared in their eyes.

This partner cannot be too strong. If it is the World Government, the Black Charcoal Orochi will directly lose its sovereignty. At the same time, it cannot be too weak, otherwise it will not be able to deal with the Koyuki family.

The newly rising Beast Pirates just met their requirements.

Guangyue Otian has already gone to sea, and from the newspaper, Heitan Muchan knew that Guangyue Otian was on Whitebeard's boat and would not return to China in a short time. Because he not only became a wanted criminal, but also became the captain of the second division of the Whitebeard Pirates.

Originally, Whitebeard did not have a team, but as his "children" grew more and more, in order to better manage them, he divided the pirate team into five teams, and Kozuki Oden also became the second team. captain.

By the way, a certain mortal person was also born on Whitebeard's boat at this time.

After confirming that the time has come, the black charcoal sukiyaki uses the imitation fruit to become the appearance of Koyuki Sukiyaki, and conveys the order of the temporary general of the black charcoal orochi. As for the real Kozuki Sukiyaki, the real Kozuki Sukiyaki is imprisoned. .

The situation inside Wano country is still good now, so the black charcoal Muchan decided to go out to find people, and came to the territory of the beasts.

It's just that her first step was not smooth. There is no other meaning to tying candles on her head, just to shape her image, because in the culture of Wano country, there is a monster called the girl of the ugly time. Usually, this image is in Wano country. means evil.

The light and shadow of the candle can make people more intimidating, but in Scourge's view she is a lunatic,

She is an old lady who has no fighting power at all, and the imitation fruit has no effect at all except to make her sink to the bottom more thoroughly at this time.

Seeing that Scourge was going to play for real, she couldn't keep pretending to be deep, and hurriedly shouted: "Wait! I really have a deal to come to your captain, this is a big event for the whole country!"

Now the problem comes to Scourge, he can't prove what Black Charcoal Twilight said is true, but equally, he can't prove what she said is false.

If what she said was true, she would have made a big mistake by messing up the deal.

"You better not lie to me and take her to the island with her." Putting the muzzle on her head, Scourge bluntly re-instructed.

In the hall, Black Charcoal Twilight met Kaido as she wished.

Kaido leaned on his seat, with Jhin and Quinn sitting on the high platform behind him, Shanna and Zeraora were also practicing next to each other, looking at Black Charcoal Dusk Cicada, Kaido's tone was slightly disdainful.

"Scourge said you had a deal."

"That's right, yoyoyoyoyo, 10 years have passed since that incident, and now you are the embodiment of force."

"You know a lot, old lady."

The incident ten years ago was naturally the Valley of the Gods incident, but now it is less and less known under the cover of the government, and only those who were concerned about maritime affairs at that time understood the original incident.

"In the history of human beings, "force" is the means to solve all the problems in the world, but this is of course, after all, people are also animals, and the law of the world is the law of the weak!"

"It's true, it's the truth, but what exactly do you want to say?" nOvelusb.com

"The remnants of the Rocks will all come to the fore. This is an era where heroes are treated as "wars". Do you want the power of a country?"

Chapter 132 The Great Curtain of Wano Country nOvelusb.com

"one country?"

"That's right, a country with a large population and land, excellent craftsmen and weapon makers, and technology that the outside world does not have. You should have heard of Wano country, which is closed to the country?"

Although the weapons you make here are very good, there is still a big gap compared to the level of Wano country, yo yo yo, I have a very good proposal, we need your strength, and the craftsmen of the entire Wano country and Technology will be available to everyone. "

Black Charcoal Twilight talks about his proposal, let Kaido help them completely rule Wano, and make Black Charcoal Orochi a general with real power, and then Black Charcoal Orochi will fully help him, and the whole country will produce weapons for him.

She knew that the other party was a pirate, and he was also a remnant of Rox. It was best to deal with such a person and directly clarify the interests.

As for the damage caused by the massive construction of factories, it has nothing to do with them. The Black Carbon family has been destroyed. After a large number of people died, the biggest purpose of these remaining Black Carbon people is to avenge everything in Wano.

This is also the reason why Black Charcoal Twilight came to Kaido, after all, he is not only a pirate, but also an excellent businessman.

Oh, it's not quite right to say that, although he has that brain, he doesn't want to participate in management at all, so now he is just a shareholder waiting for dividends, and he has automatically given up his right to participate in management.

But she didn't know the details of it, but Beast Fruit is now a leading enterprise, and Heitan Muchan naturally knew that this was a Beast company.

A big pirate who knows how to do business, but also makes the business bigger and stronger, such a person is a more suitable trading partner.

She also considered other people, but the power of BIG-MOM and Golden Lion is too great, and Whitebeard is even more impossible, because Kozuki Oden is already on the other side's boat, and finally Kaido is their most suitable target.

Then Black Charcoal Muchan continued: "Wano country has something that the outside world does not have, it is the only large-scale sea floor stone vein in the world, as long as you cooperate with us, these are all yours, and you can get huge profits from it.

Whether it's building an army or something, these are all things you need, aren't they? "

It's not that the outside world can't find Hailou stone at all, but if you want a stable Hailou stone production area, then the only choice is Wano Kingdom.

The country of Wano has been sealed off for hundreds of years, but there are still sea stones flowing in the outside world, some of which were smuggled out by individuals in the country of Wano, even if the country is sealed off, some people will choose to leave.

Wano Country is not an absolute iron barrel, you can leave if you want, and people like this have appeared from time to time for hundreds of years.

There are also very few found in the outside world, because natural changes cause P particles to condense, and eventually form scattered sea tower stones in the outside world, and then they are discovered by the outside world.

"It's a good proposal, but why would Lao Tzu join you? If you have to split half of it, why don't I just take it away? You'd better give me a good reason."

In essence, he is still a pirate. Looting has always been the most direct way for pirates to obtain things. According to Kurotan Muchan, his direct occupation of Wano is the most direct method.

Beasts have a lot of business, and Kaido starts to hate the middleman after the business does more.

"Hey yo yo, Kaido, Wano country is different, it is not a small island with no resistance to you, and Wano country has a population of more than one million, even in the new world is a big country, and the country is in the middle. The samurai and the daimyo are of considerable strength.

Wano country is very exclusive, you can't completely occupy it without an orthodox name, even if you can oppress them with force, facing the terrain of Wano country, you will have to pay great casualties, and there are countless 's rebellion.

Join us, you want nothing less, and you don't have to worry about anything, isn't that bad? "

The reason of the black charcoal Twilight is barely acceptable to Kaido, and his subordinates are also his own fighting strength. They can die in battle, but they cannot die in a meaningless battle.

If you burn up your hard-earned basic disk for a country, then you will lose more than you gain.

"So according to what you mean, you have already obtained the so-called "orthodox"?"

"That's right, I am the ability to imitate the fruit, I can change into other people's appearance, the current general of Wano country has been imprisoned, and now our talent is the acting general of Wano country."

Black Charcoal Twilight doesn't care to explain this kind of thing to Kaido. If Kaido accepts her proposal, this kind of thing will have to be told to him sooner or later. If Kaido doesn't accept it, then his news will not reach Wano Kingdom.

She didn't believe that a pirate would be a bad guy and do some meaningless things, such as helping the people in Wano country to maintain the orthodoxy. Besides, even if he is really a bad guy, those who have been closed for a long time will not believe him.

Wano has been blocked for a long time, and even the world government is also full of unknowns about the current situation inside Wano. The closed life makes everything in Wano different from the outside world.

For example, Bailey, which circulates in Qinghai, is waste paper in Wano, and they implement special currencies of gold and silver.

And the people inside have no knowledge of the outside world, news birds will not approach there, and phone bugs can't communicate with Wano country, not because of signal blocking, but because of species differences.

The body of the phone bug is just a special kind of snail. After modification, it becomes a phone bug with accessories, but they have no resistance to this. These snails like this kind of raised life very much.

There are no snails in the country of Hezhi. Instead, there is a kind of snail. The effect of these snails is the same as that of snails.

Devil fruit abilities are called sorcerers in Wano country, and it is very difficult for ordinary people in Wano country to understand imitation fruits.

The people there even ate the Devil Fruit by mistake and didn't even know why they had strange abilities.

"Very well, then why are you looking for power in the outside world."

According to Kurotan Muchan, Wano Country is already in their hands, so why bother to find someone from outside to take away the power in their hands?

"It's because of him! This damned son of the Kozuki family, Kozuki Oden! He only gave us this chance when he went to sea, but he's still alive, and once he returns to Wano, the general will fall back to his hands."

Black Charcoal Muchan took out a newspaper and pointed at the news pictures on it through gritted teeth.

This is the national condition of Wano country. As long as the Kozuki family has children, then no matter how incompetent he is, the general of Wano country will only be him. The black charcoal snake is now only a deputy general, and he can only be a deputy general in the current situation. general.

If you want to get the position of general forever, you have to get rid of the Kozuki family.

Wano country covers an area of 4445 square kilometers and has a population of 1.1 million. This data was speculated by people on the Internet based on the situation in the Edo period. The original book did not explain it clearly, so I used this data.

Chapter 133 It is easy to ask God to send God

Kozuki Oden is also different from other Kozuki clan names. His force is so high that none of the rest of the Heitan clan is his opponent, so he can only go out to find external strength.

Kaido took the newspaper and looked at the headlines of that issue.

【The fierce general of the Whitebeard Pirates, a samurai from Wano country. 】

"Jin, have we discussed this guy before?" This newspaper is not a new issue, Kaido always feels that this person is a little familiar.

"Well, Lord Sacred Beast mentioned him not long ago, but you were drinking at that time, so you told us, "It's just that the guy with the white beard has another son, don't worry too much."

In the new world, who are the officers under the big pirates, and what abilities those officers are? These are all things that need to be understood. This is an important intelligence collection work among the pirates.

And the Morgans newspaper was the source of most of the intelligence.

"However, the information shows that Whitebeard regards him as his younger brother, and his own strength is indeed very strong."

"That is to say, if we use violence directly, will we directly confront Whitebeard?"

The Whitebeard Pirates alone or Kaido, the country of Wano, don't have to worry about anything, after all, besides him, Arceus and the cadres have grown up.

But if Wano country adds the Whitebeard Pirates, it won't work. His troops are still too small. After thinking about it, Kurotan Muchan's suggestion is a suggestion that is very suitable for the current situation.

"That Kozuki Oden, is he strong?"

"There is no actual record reference, our people have not had a conflict with Whitebeard, and you also know the news of Morgans."

Facing Kaido's question, Jhin gave his own answer.

There is one last question after . The effort must be rewarded. Kaido needs to figure out whether Wano Kingdom is worth the effort.nOveLuSb.Com

Whether it is a more advanced weapon or the so-called sea tower stone, it is currently only the information obtained from the rumors and the mouth of Heitan Muchan. Seeing is believing, he wants Heitan Muchan to come up with something that can prove all this.

"You didn't come empty-handed, did you?"

"Of course not, I have brought everything."

Wano Country is also some distance away from here. Of course, she didn't come here by boat alone. She doesn't have the ability to sail on the sea alone, and she still has a few followers by her side.

The boats driven by those people also came here with Scotch's boat.

Then several boxes were moved in, which contained various firearms and explosives.

She didn't dare to take these things directly without Kaido's meaning, otherwise it would be considered an "assassination".

"Quinn, go check it out and see if this old woman is telling the truth."

Quinn is best at biochemistry, but his mechanical level is not bad. After all, he is someone who can install a machine gun in his body. He took the weapon brought by the black charcoal Muchan, and disassembled it into parts after a crash. Then reassembled.

"Brother Kai, looks pretty good, but the power and range still need to be tested. Hey! Children, don't play with grenades!"

The external application of gunpowder is generally earth bombs or detonators, or old-fashioned artillery shells. Fragment grenades and wooden handle grenades are rare things. Due to the crooked technology tree, such things are even rarer than rocket launchers and shoulder guns. .

is mainly a little tasteless. In the face of the strong, these weapons that rely on throwing have no effect at all, so the research and development in this area is ignored.

I haven't seen a grenade before, so I picked up one out of curiosity when I saw what was in the box.

"I'm 10 years old! 10-year-old fur people are no longer children!"

"You're just a kid here, don't play with unfamiliar weapons that you haven't seen before, go ahead and continue to practice with your Zeraora." Quinn grabbed the back of Moment's neck and brought Zeraora back to her. Pull around.

She and Zeraora had just finished their training and entered a break. Zeraora was reading the newspaper Kaido had just put down, intending to understand the situation and report it to Arceus, and went to play with grenades without paying attention.

"In an instant, be calm, don't you want to be the king of Zuowu, a king can't be frizzy."

Saying that, he shoved a piece of newspaper into the navy's intelligence map about the Whitebeard Pirates. Their cameraman may have worked harder than the average soldier, and he also saw two familiar figures in the photo. .

"Why do these two backs look like Inuarashi and Cat Viper?"

But she can't be sure, the camera mainly shoots Kozuki Oden, and there are only a few backs behind.

The room was quiet for a while, Quinn had already taken things out to test his power, and Kaido was waiting for the results of the test.

After a series of gunshots and explosions, Quinn walked back and nodded at Kaido, the quality of the weapon was not a problem.

"Brother Kai, both firearms and cold weapons are of excellent quality, she didn't lie."

"In that case, Heitan Muchan, right, I agree to your request, but we have to prepare."

"Yoyo, I just said that this is a good proposal. This is the contact item and eternal pointer of Wano country. When you come to Wano country, use this to contact me, and I will come out to pick you up. , By the way, Lord Orochi has prepared a gift for you."

said that he left here after leaving something behind with people. At this time, Arceus came here.

"What's the matter, why is there an explosion?"

"Just tested a little new weapon, by the way, we can prepare to move, just now" Kaido roughly described what happened before, but Arceus frowned upon hearing it.

"Is that guy an idiot? How much can he get by squeezing his potential?"

"It doesn't matter. Anyway, I didn't really want to listen to him. After we move into Wano Country, I'll kick him away after a while. Not everyone is eligible to cooperate."

Although it sounds nice, to put it bluntly, the Black Tan family just wants to use Kaido to rule the country of Wano and make him a thug of the country of Wano.

From the very beginning, Kaido did not intend to cooperate with the other party completely. The Heitan family wanted to use his force, and he also wanted to use the layout of the Heitan family. It was hard to rest assured that such a country could not be completely controlled by himself.

He will make them understand that it is easy to ask God to send him off, but when he enters Wano Kingdom, it will not be so easy to drive him away.

The development in the realm of the beasts has proven that today's production methods are much more efficient than blindly squeezing.

"Alright, let him destroy it in the early stage. Someone with red and white faces has to come. Only through comparison can we let them know the benefits we brought. By the way, what's in that box?"

Chapter 134 The Way of Death

Afraid of comparison in everything. When the black charcoal serpent destroys the citizens of the country of Wano, but the beasts can bring about brand new changes, the citizens will understand who to help.

According to the national conditions of Wano described by Kaido and his own scattered memories, it would take a lot of effort to completely rule Wano and let the beasts be accepted there like here.

And then an unopened box also caught his attention.

"what is that?"

"I don't know, the old woman said it was a gift from the black charcoal snake. Just open it and take a look."

As the box was opened, a slate appeared inside, but this time Arceus did not feel the slightest joy, and his expression was completely gloomy.

The black charcoal twilight cicada who left here only felt that the wind and waves suddenly became bigger, and did not know what happened.

The people on the island just looked at the top of their heads, and the clouds seemed to be thicker than before.

The stronger people such as Kaido and Jhin noticed the change in Arceus's aura, and for a minor like Suan, this aura was a boundless terror.

She didn't know how to describe this feeling, but she felt that even if the elephant lord in the legend of the fur tribe was angry, she instinctively wanted to rely on Zeraora by her side, and Zeraora was the most important thing for her in the past three years. solid backing.

But this time was different, Zeraora was even worse than she was.

"Zeraora, are you alright, are you feeling unwell?" Looking at Zeraora who was suddenly squatting on the ground, she didn't know what was going on. She felt that there was a very terrifying feeling from Arceus. breath.

She wondered why Zeraora had such a big reaction.

Although Zeraora is much stronger than Instantaneous, as the creation of Arceus, if Arceus's mood changes drastically, they will also be affected.

After all, they were too close to Arceus, and if they were not on this island, they would not have been affected so badly.

"I'm fine, just a little uncomfortable, don't worry about me"

Zeraola is still like this, and the performance of Geely Egg and the big milk tank is even more unbearable. Geely Egg, who was taking care of the babies, slumped on the ground and shivered, and the big milk tank that was taken out by the members of the beasts to feed is also Same.

"Bastard, dare to lie to me on this thing"

Ordinary things will not affect him, but two things are unacceptable to Arceus, one is that others meddle in his slate, and the other is deception.

And now, someone made a fake slate and brought it in front of him.

"What's wrong with you?"

This state of Arceus has only been seen by Kaido once in these years. When he was in the research institute a few years ago, Arceus's mood has been stable since then. Although there are joys and sorrows, it is only a normal range of emotions.

This sense of oppression is even more terrifying than it was back then.

Then a wave of evil was released by Arceus, and the imitation slate was completely broken into powder.

"Fake?" Kaido knew what the real slate looked like, a miraculous creation that his thunderous gossip could not leave any trace.

And he kept the slate radar with him, and there was no response. Before opening it, he had no idea that it was actually a fake slate.

"Yeah, man-made fakes, these people are really naive."

In fact, the reason for this fake slate is also related to Kaido. He previously released a smoke bomb at the tea party and wanted to use this indestructible slate to create a set of armor.

Those who didn't know the inside story took this reason as the truth, including the black charcoal orochi.

Originally they wanted to do what they wanted, but they couldn't find such a thing. Since they couldn't find the real thing, they had the idea of making a fake.

And the strongest known object in Wano country is Kailou stone.

There is also an associated mineral around the sea floor stone. They have the hard texture of the sea floor stone, but they do not have the characteristics of the sea floor stone restraint ability. They are the best armor materials.

At the same time, Wano also has the best craftsmen, who have special forging methods to process Kailou stone and its associated products.

So a high imitation slate made of associated minerals imitating the pictures provided by Kaido appeared, and the black charcoal snake felt that Kaido could not find out that it was a fake, after all, it almost had all the characteristics described in the finding notice.n0velusb.com

Wano country's highest craftsmanship is achieved in both shape and whatsoever.

But this slate has only the appearance, no inner, it can deceive other people, but Arceus only needs a glance to see that it is a fake.

The original intention of the black charcoal serpent was to show affection to Kaido, but it hit two thunder points of Arceus, slate and deception.

"I understand, Jhin, Quinn, inform the little ones, prepare for war."

"Um?"

"Since they lied to you, they will have to pay the price. Although Wano is very important, but forget it, I will think of another way in the future. It's just Wano, I don't believe it can't be defeated!"

Kaido really doesn't like pointless wear and tear, but in the Beast Pirates, only these cadres are the people he really values. Arceus is so angry that he will pay a lot of casualties even if he starts a war. acceptable.

"and many more."

Kaido said this, but Arceus, who was angry, calmed down. After all, he is not the pure Arceus, he has his own ideas. Kaido can barely restrain his anger because of his changed plans.

"Kaido, I'll save face for you. I'll keep them for the Black Charcoal family for the time being, but after your plan is completed, they will die."

If you want to cut into the country of Wano, the black charcoal snake is the best opportunity. An xenophobic country desperately needs the help of a local person.

Orochi's behavior violated Arceus' taboo, but because of Kaido, he gave the other party a chance to probation, but the ending will not change, but in the remaining time, the beasts will drain his value, and then Another "trial".

People will always consider both ways. Kaido can choose to start the war in advance, or he can choose to endure for a while and wait for the fall to settle accounts.

"In that case. Let's have a banquet!"

"Aha?" He couldn't keep up with Kaido's brain circuit. Although he took the initiative to say that there would be no war for the time being, the banquet in the next second still caught him off guard.

"When you are unhappy, you should have a banquet. We are pirates. Is there anything more enjoyable than a banquet? You should also participate occasionally. It's interesting to always watch by the side. Let's go, little ones, It's a party!"

It just so happened that the original summoning order was not issued. A grand banquet was held in the Beast Pirates. Ordinary pirates did not know why they would hold a banquet, but it didn't matter.

As Arceus calmed down, the Pokémon on the island were no longer affected and resumed their original rhythm of life.

Chapter 135 Yamato's Hundred Days Banquet, Departing from Wano Country

What happened in the hall has not been spread out, there is no need to publicize this kind of thing in advance, it is enough for a few core members to know.

The people present were not innocent except Shan Mo, and Mo Shan did not understand what was going on, so there was no need to do anything special.

Fortunately, Shaina is not here because of her anger. Otherwise, she might go after Heitan Muchan directly. At this time, she should not have gone far, and the humiliation of the subject is dead. This kind of deception is already the bottom line for her.

After Jhin explained to her what had happened, her fury was no less than that of Arceus. If it wasn't for Arceus' order, she would have really dared to assassinate the black charcoal snake.

Then the people of the beasts had a carnival again, only the black charcoal snake was included in the death list, and then the relocation of the beasts was prepared.

It takes a few days for ordinary people to move, not to mention that the Beast Pirates have a big business, and the transfer of the main island means that many things have to be rearranged.

The original time was already the end of the year, and such a delay came to 1495. After more than a month of busywork, Beasts have completed most of the personnel transfers.

Although I plan to go to Wano Country, I can't do without other sites. Who will guard which island, how to prepare for specific business, etc. All have to be dealt with. This speed is already fast.

Originally, the people on Winter Island actually had a feeling of reluctance to relocate the Hundred Beasts headquarters. This has never happened in the past 100 years. In the final analysis, the Beasts made the people on the island live a better life. day.

They are members of non-joined countries, and the world government does not care whether they live or die. In this case, whoever can make them live a good life, they will support whoever rules.

Although the beasts did not give up here, the headquarters and non-headquarters have completely different meanings.

There is still one day before the Beast Pirates move. In fact, they have already finished their preparations, but they have not set off immediately, because it will take a while from here to Wano, and they still have a big thing to do.

The Governor of the Beast Pirates, their captain's daughter is a hundred days old, and there is also the custom of a hundred-day banquet here.

Yamato, as Kaido's bloodline, grew up on the milk of a big milk tank. Compared with ordinary children, she grew up faster, and she has reached the point of babbling, but the first word she learned was not father or mother.

is "lucky" instead.

Ji Lidan has been taking care of her on weekdays. She hears the word lucky every day, and she instinctively learned the pronunciation of this word.

According to the tradition, she will be fed some different foods with chopsticks today, but now she has no teeth, so she just dips the chopsticks into her mouth.

Red bean rice, clam soup, snapper, and dried plums all mean that she can grow healthily. These are the ceremonies here, but according to Arceus's meaning, she also prepared a catching ceremony for her.

was originally a good moral, and Kaido agreed, but the things that appeared in the Zhou catching ceremony were strange.

Those things were not prepared by one person, but the cadres each picked two pieces and put them on them. Originally, they were covered with red cloth, and it was impossible to see what was underneath.

But after the red cloth was lifted, there were few normal things in sight.

Books, crowns, weapons and toys, which were put on by Arceus.

The rest of the inside, microscope, Chinese medicine, Bailey, auspicious eggs, milk in a big milk tank, tree fruit, barbecue, wooden sign with flames, the flag of Arceus, and his own clothes, these are relatively normal. thing.

Those last things are really outrageous knives, guns, swords, and even grenades, and the grenade of Griphook is still exposed. These are not toys at first glance, but real guys.

"Who put the grenade in!"

A vine appeared from the ground and took the grenade and threw it to someone else. Now he thinks this ritual of catching Zhou is abnormal.

"Also, why is that primitive fruit here! Aren't you afraid of her taking a bite! No teeth? No teeth! Don't you know how strong she is!"

At first glance, there was no peace of mind, and Arceus felt very tired.

"This mace, Kaido, did you put it?" A small mace, with the spikes replaced with a round head, this is Kaido's handwriting.

"That's not an ordinary mace, that's "A Jian", she is my daughter, and she has to inherit my force in the future."

"Ajian. Did you even give the mace a name?"

"Those famous knives have names, is it strange that the mace has a name?"

"Then your root."

"Bazhaijie, you don't know that my mace is called Bazhaijie, right?" Kaido's words had a rare trace of doubt, as if he was shocked that Arceus didn't know the name of his weapon.

"Well that wine gourd is very beautiful, it's time, let's start, let's start." Arceus directly changed the topic, and there is really nothing strange about the mace with a name.

Compared to those bladed swords, the grenade with the Griphook exposed, the specially made mace is much more normal, but Yamato, who had just been a hundred days old, was still a little ignorant after being held in the middle by Geely Egg, and he didn't know what to do.

But the things that surrounded her also aroused her curiosity. Looking left and right, she did not choose those shiny or scented things.

instead grabbed the mace that Kaido had prepared for her.

Although it was a specially made small mace, it couldn't be carried by a normal baby, but Yamato picked it up and threw it towards Quinn's stomach after waving it a few times. NOVELUSB.COM

He clapped his hands happily after the mace bounced back, and actually crawled over to pick up the mace.

"lucky~lucky!"

"Really, is this the first time she has been able to crawl?" The auspicious egg on the side reported the situation to Arceus happily. It is quite advanced to be able to crawl in three months, but Kaido's bloodline is supplemented with sufficient nutrition. , which is not particularly surprising.

It should be said that it is indeed Kaido's own biological, and he stared at the mace prepared for her by Kaido at a glance, but she had no plans to stop there. In her opinion, everything around was prepared for her.

After holding the small crown prepared by Arceus in her arms, her goal shifted to those foods, such as the milk bottle of the large milk jar.

Before she set her eyes on the Devil Fruit and Kaido's wine gourd, Arceus put away all those things. The energy hand was very convenient in this regard, and Kaido also issued his own orders.

"Well, alright, little ones, Goal and No Country, ready to go!"

Chapter 136 The glory of the carp king will spread all over the world

Above the sea, three battleships belonging to the Beast Pirates sailed on the sea, Kaido's Beastmaster, and the newly built Origin of Arceus, and the last one was Quinn's Brachiosaurus.

The pirate ship is also an important source of firepower. For three years, the cadres each owned their own ships, but the ships of Jin and Shaina stayed in the territory of other beasts and stationed on the island together with the left-behind personnel. .

After the pirates became famous, there is no need to stay in the territory all the time. Whitebeard is still in a stage of running around, but there are not many pirates who dare to attack his territory.noVELUSb.COM

Therefore, it is enough to keep the basic troops that maintain the daily order and can deal with general troubles. It is not required that they can defeat all opponents, as long as they can send information.

The reason why Quinn's Brachiosaurus was launched is because Quinn's ship has the largest tonnage and can carry more crew members. Shaina's ship is mainly used when going out to find slate, so the tonnage is not large. Focusing more on speed and convenience, Jhin's ships are relatively comprehensive.

Only Kui deliberately increased the size of the ship because he carried more things. At the same time, his Brachiosaurus was also used for business and war. When delivering goods to the BIG-MOM Pirates, he used his Brachiosaurus.

The name is his own, the reason is that he can hide his true ability, and inadvertently shade the other party once, although this has no effect.

After a period of voyage, according to the eternal pointer left by the black carbon twilight, the ship of the Hundred Beast Pirates has arrived in the waters near Wano Kingdom, and also felt the changes here.

The waves are rough, the wind is sharp and the waves are sharp. Compared with the calm sea just now, the sea environment here can only be described as harsh. There are still some stone pillars standing in the sea, and some broken hulls can be seen at the roots of the sea.

The man-made terrain of Wano and the fierce external seas are also one of the reasons why it is easy to defend and difficult to attack, and it is also the reason why people in Wano rarely go out.

The most people in Wano country are punting boats in inland seas and rivers. They have never experienced strong winds and waves. The biggest possibility that they come to the open sea with their sailing skills is to capsize directly.

In those days, Whitebeard had an accident here, so the ship could only be repaired in Wano.

The navigators on his ship were much better than those in Wano.

The clouds in the sky are distorted, and it seems that there will be heavy rain falling all the time. The navigator on the ship looks nervous and ordered the sailors on the ship to adjust the situation of the ship.

When sailing, they are the masters of the ship, and even the captain must refer to their opinions.

But not everyone is so nervous, Yamato is getting more and more proficient in climbing, she doesn't have the nervousness of those pirates outside, she just thinks the boats are very interesting.

She had been crawling around on the deck before, and the four auspicious eggs had been running around behind, as for Jack?

That was picked up by hand, as long as you don't starve to death, the auspicious eggs are mainly taking care of Yamato, and Jack is just taking it easy.

As the country got closer and closer, the degree of ship shaking became stronger and stronger, so Yamato was forcibly brought back to the cabin by four auspicious eggs.

"Kaido, are you almost there?"

In order to prevent the ships from colliding with each other, the Beastmaster and the Siwon kept a certain distance, but Kaido was not on his ship, and even the man and his daughter are now on the Siwon.

To be precise, except for Quinn, who was staring at his newly cultivated sapling on the Brachiosaurus, all the other cadres were here now.

"It's coming soon, I've already contacted the old woman, and the people from Wano country are just ahead.

At this time, unknown creatures jumped up from time to time on both sides of the boat. The people on the boat didn't notice them at first, but as the boat moved along the current, those creatures became more and more, and it turned out to be a giant carp.

"How can carp live in the sea?"

"Who knows, it's a new breed, normal carp wouldn't be this big, hey! Mandelfish, look, these are your people!"

The other pirates joked unscrupulously. After all, Mandelfish's ability is the king of carp, and it is reasonable for ordinary carp to listen to the king of carp.

These pirates didn't pay much attention to those carp, but Arceus was different. Seeing these carp, he suddenly had some ideas.

The current here is very fast, even some marine fish cannot live in this current, but the carp, which should be a freshwater fish, has evolved a huge body here and has a strong physical strength.

First, Zeraora, and then the auspicious eggs. His current strength can support small-scale creation, but it is not suitable for large-scale creation. If you want to mass-produce a certain species, it is more suitable to transform.

He needs more eyeliners. These eyeliners may not necessarily be human. The previous Millennium Dragon is an example, but the number of Millennium Dragons is too small. Even if the leader said to ask his companions, it would have to wait for more than 20 years.

And these tenacious carp are different.

The vitality is extremely tenacious, whether it is salt water or fresh water, sewage, or even puddles, who is the Pokémon - the carp king.

There are distributions in each area, and who is the big fish that makes countless anglers head - is the carp king.

Who is the Pokémon with extremely strong reproductive ability and can quickly expand the number of groups - or the carp king.

These carp kings that can live in the rapids also filled the biggest weakness of ordinary carp kings, so Arceus began to observe the carp in the ocean currents, and finally he took a fancy to the most active carp.

One after another power poured out of his body, and finally entered the bodies of those carp kings.

There are two kinds of transformations to animals, one is the ability of the Millennium Dragon, and they can also choose to change back when they gain the ability, otherwise other Millennium Dragons will not recognize them after a few decades.

In this case, their children are still Millennium Dragons, and their powers will not be inherited.

And this transformation is a permanent transformation, just like the previous two cows, from now on they will always be big milk tanks, and can no longer be changed back to ordinary cows.

The transformation of these carp by Arceus this time is the same. After the transformation, their offspring will directly become the carp king, and they will be influenced by Arceus in their bones.

After a period of time, these king carp will spawn, and the growth cycle of the carp is very fast. At that time, the king carp will spread into the surrounding ocean with tenacious vitality, huge numbers, and strong physique inherited from native species.

They will go to the deep sea to look for traces of the slate, and like the Millennium Dragon, they will return here every once in a while to report on their communication, which solves the problem that the people of the beasts cannot explore the deep sea on a large scale.

Chapter 137 Kaido's dismount

It is very laborious to transform tens of thousands of carp, but only a few of them are transformed and then let them reproduce naturally. There are few Pokémon that can match the number of births of the carp king.

But even the Pokémon he created don't have the same ability as him, they can't perceive the slate, so the carp king can only find objects with similar shapes in the deep sea.

This is an attempt, if those carp kings can really bring back valuable news, he will consider some more complex species, such as taking business with Morgans and creating some brand new newsbirds.

There are some brand new plans in the small book in his mind, but his small action today has brought about a huge change in the ocean.

With the eggs of those carp kings, or in other words, a different egg flowed with the sea, a new race of carp kings began to appear on the sea.

And those super-large carp kings are his transformation objects, and they have been surrounding the waters near Wano Kingdom.

He needs a large-scale underwater exploration team. In fact, the more intelligent races are better to use, such as the murlocs, but the status of the murlocs is too embarrassing.

In a world full of water, he has an excellent talent, occupying a fishman island that is 10,000 meters deep in the sea, but a good hand of cards is badly played. If the fishermen work for him, I am afraid that all the beasts will walk around the rescue workers every day. on the way.

If the murlocs don't want to change themselves, it's useless for anyone to help them, and the murlocs are not without strong people, but none of these people are willing to stay in the Dragon Palace Kingdom.

Even Shipin is also affiliated with other pirates. Sun-Whitebeard-BIG-MOM-Straw Hat, except for the initial Sun Pirates, the others have nothing to do with Fishman Island.

At present, Assie can't make a third radar. In this case, instead of thinking about the millions of murlocs, it is better to make more carp kings. Anyway, the properties are similar, and the carp kings are more obedient.

The abilities given to humans cannot evolve by themselves, but this thorough transformation turns them into the shape of a carp king from the inside out, which can be self-evolved through exercise.

Arceus wanted to see if there would be a great ferocity born naturally without his help, and see where the potential of these carp could go.

The Carp King is indeed weak, but if a group of Tyrannosaurus can appear, ordinary sea beasts have to go around them.

While these king carp may be preyed upon as they grow, it is also part of the laws of nature.

Arceus is concerned with the generation he created, the second generation born naturally, and the subsequent descendants that are emotionally different from the first generation.

The size of their offspring may return to the normal carp king. After all, not all carp can grow this big, but as the first generation, they can all be super-large carp kings. The strength and physique of the local carp, the hardness of the scales and bones of the carp king, are greatly affected by them. It doesn't feel good to bump it.

Seeing Arceus doing some strange actions in the sea, Kaido was a little curious.

"what have you done?"

"A little try, and the result will probably be known in two years." No matter how fast the carp kings are born, it will take a year for them to expand. In addition to the time they spend wandering and returning, two years is a good estimate. .

And at this time, their boat also arrived under the huge waterfall, looking at the slightly rising pointer and the waterfall in front of it, most of the people on the boat were shocked.

"The old woman is here." Kaido found the boat beside him, and Black Charcoal Dusk Chan naturally saw Kaido, but for some reason, she felt that the expression on Kaido's face was a little dangerous. Compared with the previous Kaido, he The mood seems to have changed a lot.

"Hey Yoyo, Kaido, you are finally here, Lord Orochi has been waiting for you for a long time."

"Stop talking nonsense and lead the way, our people have long been impatient along the way."

"This way."

Although Kaido's attitude is very bad, she just thinks Kaido has a changeable temperament, which is similar to the rumors from the outside world. They just want to use Kaido's power to subdue the resistance forces in the country. As for what Kaido is going to do and what to do with it. Their relationship is not very big.

According to her plan, it is best to let Kaido and Kozuki Oden fight each other, and this is the best result, at least Kaido must win. NOVELUS&.COM

Black Charcoal Orochi's impression of Kozuki Oden is still at the stage that he is a "madman". No sacrifice or fetters can stop his actions. If Kozuki Oden knows what he has done

The thought of Kozuki Oden slashing at him like a madman with a pair of knives made him tremble, even soaking in hot water couldn't relieve it.

Under the leadership of the black charcoal twilight, the huge waterfall splits from the middle, revealing the cave hidden below.

There are two ways to enter Wano Country. One is to let the giant carp take their boat to rush up from the waterfall outside, which is extremely risky. Although it is not as dangerous as riding the sky above the island, it is also a test for the crew.

The other way is to enter the cave hidden under the waterfall, which is connected to the inland sea of Wano country. As long as you enter here, you can reach the inland sea of Wano country through the elevator. Wano country calls it a diving port.

Since Orochi has become an acting general, he sent people to take over the diving port. These people are all the people he has quietly saved and recruited over the years. Others will not obey his orders.

Nowadays, all the people in the harbor are the hands of the black charcoal snake. The reason why they can do this is because other daimyo in Wano country are attending a funeral at this time, which belongs to the funeral of Kozuki Sukiyaki.

The real Kozuki Sukiyaki has been imprisoned in the secret room. Previously, it was Kurotan Muchan pretending to be seriously ill Sukiyaki. Not long ago, he even planned a suspended animation to make the people of Wano Country really think that his life would last. Hibiki is dead.

"This is the only way to enter Wano country stably. As long as you defend here, no amount of troops will be able to enter Wano country unless they can all fly."

Kaido did not respond to Black Charcoal Twilight, but asked about Jhin on his own.

"Jin, how long will it take you to deal with these people?"

"Three minutes is enough, Big Brother Kai."

"Mumhaha, it's too slow, Jhin, if you leave it to me, one minute is enough. In this environment, only one plague bomb is enough."

When entered Wano Kingdom, Quinn also came to the same boat, and choked up after hearing Jhin's reply.

And Jhin also admitted that Quinn is indeed more advantageous in clearing minions, but this does not mean that he will praise Quinn.

"It's rare that this burden doesn't hold you back."

"Who are you calling a burden! You pervert who likes torture!"

Kaido didn't care about their quarrel, but Black Charcoal Muchan's face was a little unsightly. Saying this in front of her, what did Kaido mean?

Chapter 138 Stupid Choice

Show off his force? She recognized this, after all, the reason why she found hundreds of beasts was because she believed in the opponent's force.

But I have already said that these people are big snakes, there is no need to devalue the other party's people to show off their strength.

There are more than 100 samurai warriors here, and even more than 100 pigs can't be caught in a minute. Obviously, it was very harmonious when the agreement was reached. How can it be changed?

And it's fine to say this earlier, but it was said when the diving port was docked, and all the people who were guarding here heard it.

In other words, Kaido raised his volume deliberately because he was afraid that they would not be able to hear him.

Wano country is xenophobic in the first place. This kind of xenophobia is not reflected in one person alone, but the whole of Wano country is xenophobic as a whole. Originally, some people were dissatisfied with the fact that the black charcoal snake asked for foreign aid.

Now hearing these outsiders belittle them like this, these people have shown displeased expressions, and Wano has a characteristic, except for the lord who really convinces them, other people's orders are sometimes difficult to be 100% effective.

Moreover, these people were not retainers whom the Black Charcoal Orochi convinces with their charms, but rather mercenaries who used money to win over them. Hearing such insulting remarks, they naturally refuted them.

"Stop looking down on people! One minute? I think you can't beat a single person for a minute, so come and try if you have the ability!" NoV€lusb.com

Then he regretted it the next moment, they were on the shore, Kaido and the others were on the boat, so the height difference was not that significant, but when Kaido got off the boat, the height six meters away directly shocked them.

Followed by Jhin and Quinn are similar, there are many tall people in Wano country, but such people are rare, Ashura boy can be said to be one of the tallest people, but he is called the monster of nine miles.

"You just said you wanted to try?"

Kaido's purpose is to provoke trouble. It doesn't matter who the other party is. He just wants to embarrass Orochi. If he doesn't deal with him now, it doesn't mean that he should look good on him. He is a pirate, and it is normal for a pirate to behave rudely.

If these people endure all of them, he really can't do anything, but someone can't help but it's a good start.

Black Charcoal Twilight also saw that Kaido was going to pick things up, but she thought Kaido wanted to give them a trick, so as to gain more benefits in the subsequent negotiations. After all, the details of their cooperation have not been finalized.

So she winked at the person recruited by Black Charcoal Orochi, meaning to let him bear it. At this time, as long as you don't speak, it is the best choice. If these people can defeat Kaido, then why should she waste her energy going out to sea to find him.

However, the meaning of Heitan Muchan was misunderstood. Originally because of the grandfather of the black charcoal snake, the black tan family had become a street rat in Wano country, if it wasn't for the black tan Muchan disguised as Koyuki Sukiyaki, that the black charcoal snake has no possibility of becoming a general on behalf of the general.

The Black Charcoal Orochi became the Dai General and turned his opinion a little bit. After all, his slogan was to wash away his own stains, but it didn't mean that other people from the Black Charcoal family also did the same.

So these people don't really look down on the old lady Hei Tan Mu Chan, and since she was not very good-looking, this kind of eyes was understood by that person as contempt, and they just took Kaido's words.

"Yes, it's me, just an outsider, don't be too self-righteous!"

"Kaido, Lord Orochi has prepared the banquet, there is no need to waste time here"

Black Charcoal Twilight wanted to stop this, but it was too late, Kaido ignored him at all.

"Well, it's funny, boy, who do you think these guys can beat? I'll give you a chance to choose your own opponents, little ones, who wants to practice with him?"

The miscellaneous soldiers are also graded. This time, Kaido, the country of Wano, brought the elite with him, and even more so on the Siyuan. The people on the Siyuan basically have several labels.

A member of the Arceus cult, he has been in the cult for more than a year, he has experienced real battles and obeyed orders, and he has to know some armed skills. It is not required to be proficient, but at least he can use it.

This is the first battle of Wano Kingdom. Who knows what you can get if you perform well. Under Kaido's order, these people are like fighting chickens, hoping that the other party will choose themselves.

Wano country is closed to the country, and the people here are mostly gangsters. In a closed country with laws, not everyone has experienced killings, and these pirates have all come down from actual combat, so he was frightened.

But at this point again, he would be shameless if he ran away without a fight.

"Really choose anyone?"

"That's right."

"Then I'll choose her!" Following the direction of his fingers, the pirates moved away one after another. In the end, he was referring to Olga. Due to the influence of pure gold, Olga grows slower, which is less than a centimeter. Zeraora, which is not long, is stronger.

So in his opinion, this is the most suitable challenge object, and his option also caused the members of the Beast Pirates to burst into laughter, especially those ordinary combatants, who laughed until their stomachs twitched.

It was a person who had survived three years of training under the joint efforts of Kaido and Arceus, and he came according to the standard of a reserve officer. Even if a monkey had survived this kind of training, it was not something that ordinary people could defeat.

Not to mention Olga, who has Zoroark's ability, she just looks the weakest, but she is much harder to deal with than those ordinary combatants.

He thought that the people of the beasts were laughing at him, but in fact they were laughing at him, but not because he chose the "weak", but because he was unlucky and chose the opponent who should not be selected the least outside the cadre.

"Olga, I'll leave it to you, 1 minute, if you can't finish it, I'll be ready to train your armament tomorrow."

"Eh? Why is it me! Captain, Uncle Quinn said one minute, not me!"

"Then five minutes, we can't delay any longer, but there are still people waiting for us."

"Captain, how about a different person?" Olga is not interested in this kind of battle. She is not the type of fighting maniac. If possible, she would like to fish, but Kaido did not give her a chance to refuse, and the countdown has already started. .

"No, you still have a quarter and a half left."

Olga's face twitched a few times, her hair began to grow, her fingers also appeared sharp claws, she directly entered the human-beast form, and she jumped off the boat with the strength of her legs.

In the eyes of Hei Tan Muchan, it was a different scene. Except that the man was knocked down by Olga's domineering claws at the beginning, the rest of the people actually started to kill each other, and they started very hard. Fatal, but at least they have to rest for a few days.

Chapter 139 Kaido dances sticks, intended for the big snake

This is the power of the illusion. After three years of training, she can also skillfully use the ability of Zoroark's illusion in human and beast form. In 4 minutes and 27 seconds, Olga solved all the enemies. This is because some people If there is no victory or defeat in the scoring, Olga has to make an extra shot.

Yes, she thought Kaido meant the group destroy.

"Jin, you can't do it, Olga can solve these guys in less than four and a half minutes, you actually need three minutes."

"What, do you want to try and see if it takes me a few minutes?"

Jhin and Quinn quarreled, but it was just two sentences. With the appearance of Quinn's Noble Phantasm Shaina, Quinn wisely chose to shut up, but Kaido's next words made the black charcoal Twilight's heart agitated. trembling.

Black Charcoal Twilight originally thought that this was Kaido's disarming power, but just wanted to promote force, but Kaido said to her later: "You people are too weak, how can you defend this place well? Anyway, you are already allies. , leave it to us here.

Babanuki, take your men to take over the defenses here and give our allies a good rest. "

Only then did she realize that Kaido wanted to directly take over the defense here. The danger of crossing the waterfall was much higher than that of the diving port, and there were not many people who could fly, which meant that Kaido wanted to stop it. The throat of Wano Country Import and Export.

"This is not appropriate."

"You're welcome, you see, these people can't even stop a little **** my boat. How can they stop foreign enemies? I'm all for your own good, don't you even have this trust?"

"This. Lord Orochi has been waiting for a long time. It's not appropriate for you to come from afar and stay here directly. Let's talk about it later. I think Lord Orochi will agree."

Heitan Muchan didn't dare to agree directly, and still suggested Kaido to see the black charcoal snake first. Kaido saw the nervous look of Heitan Muchan and agreed to her request. She couldn't take too many steps, so give it to her first. Apply a little urgency.

They have just come here, so naturally they can't just leave their subordinates here to watch the door. His purpose is to gain control over this place later, not everything, as long as he has his own staff.

Now this is completely open to the lion, it is the so-called asking price and paying back the money, but Kaido's standard is a bit high.

After Olga lifted the illusion, these people were obviously quiet a lot, but some people were still talking about witches and so on, they didn't understand what the power of the Devil Fruit was.

But Olga had already proved everything to them with her fists, so although the people who got off the boat were of different shapes and included several non-humans, no one asked any questions.

At this time, the big snake is in the capital of flowers, which is the center of the country of Wano. The canal inside the country as a whole is divided into several parts. The location where the diving port comes out is in the white dance area, and it crosses north from here. The bridge is the capital of flowers where the snake is located.

The mighty team along the way has attracted the attention of the local residents of Wano country. These people have not seen so many outsiders for some time, and there are many inhuman beings in the beast group, Arceus, auspicious eggs, Zeraora, Instant, Elizabeth.

Their special appearance has always made these people whisper, but the person walking in the front carried the banner of a big snake, so there was no commotion.

The Hundred Beast Pirates went straight through Bai Wu to the Capital of Flowers, and this matter was first delivered to Bai Wu's famous name, Shuangyue Kang's family.

"Lord Kang Family, a group of outsiders went to the Capital of Flowers, and they were brought there by the people of Orochi."

Several big names were skeptical about Orochi becoming the acting general, and the Shuangyue Yasushi family also felt puzzled about this. After all, Orochi used to serve as a handyman under his incognito.

But Kozuki Sukiyaki just passed away, and his last words were that he hoped Orochi would serve as an acting general before Oden returned, which stabilized the domestic situation.

It wasn't long before the obituary of Kozuki Sukiyaki spread throughout Wano. At this time, the outsiders brought in by the snake were somewhat suspicious.

"Send someone to see what those people did. I still believe in Sukiyaki-sama." novelusb.COM

The people of Wano country have a kind of blind worship for the general of the Kozuki family, which is why the black carbon orochi can control Wano country so smoothly.

With the banner of the Black Charcoal Orochi, the Beast Pirates entered the Flower City without any hindrance. By the time they entered the Flower City, it was already night, but the lanterns still illuminated the place. not bad.

Soon they arrived at the residence of Orochi, which is also the center of the flower capital, where the general lived, but the black charcoal Orochi was planning to change the name to Orochi City.

"Hehehehe, I've been waiting for Kaido for a long time, are you still satisfied with the gift I gave?"

He thought it would be a friendly meeting, but it turned out to be the opposite, Kaido didn't have a good attitude towards him, not only that, after he said this, he always felt that he was being targeted by something unknown, which made him feel Chilled back.

"Satisfied, of course satisfied, I will definitely repay. Well, I will repay you."

Kaido's mouth was filled with a special smile, but it was full of danger, but unfortunately the black charcoal snake did not realize this.

"As long as you are satisfied, come on everyone, I have prepared the grandest welcome ceremony."

However, from this moment on, everything became a little different. Ordinary members ate and drank in the venue below, while several officials and Kaido entered the banquet hall of Orochi.

From this time, the troubles of the big snake began, and he felt that the people of the beasts seemed to be finding fault.

The food was not to my taste, the wine was too weak, and the person serving the food stepped on the right foot first. All kinds of strange reasons emerged one after another. Finally, I managed to stick to the step of meeting the wine.

He and Kaido raised the wine bowl at the same time, but the big snake didn't notice that, Kaido's bowl of wine didn't drink a drop, and it all spilled on the placket.

But after that, he stood up again with a drunken look on his face. After all, he drank a lot of alcohol before, so Orochi didn't find it strange.

"What's the matter, Kaido?"

"Well, you women dance too ugly, why don't you let me help you?"

Speaking of which, the dancers who were overwhelmed, walked to the middle of the venue and danced a strange dance, and he didn't know when his Eight Fasts came into his hands again. danced up.

Orochi thought it was Kaido's favor, and sat on the seat laughing loudly, but before his laughter was over, he saw Kaido's mace flying towards him, and in the end he was in danger. It was dangerously stopped by a barrier.

"Kaido?! What are you doing!"

"Ugh, I'm sorry, Big Snake, my hands are slippery after drinking too much~"

Kaido's expression of gaffe after drinking, but Orochi can't believe a word of it. It's just a matter of drinking too much mace and letting go. Who would use domineering before letting go?

His own strength is indeed not very good, but it does not mean that he has not seen others use Liu Ying.

Ryu Sakura is another name for armed color domineering in Wano Kingdom. Due to the seclusion of the country, many things have other names in Wano Kingdom. For example, those with the ability of devil fruit are called sorcerers, and armed color is called Ryu Sakura.

Ryu Sakura is not the most domineering armed color. All the armed colors are collectively referred to as Ryu Sakura in Wano Country. The advanced armed color that can carry out internal destruction is also the most advanced Ryu Sakura. This is just another name, not a distinction between levels.

.nOVeLusb.cOm

Kaido's stick was clearly aimed at killing him. If he hadn't had a reliable person, the stick would have killed him.

What stops Kaido is one of the most buggy Devil Fruits, the Barrier Fruit, which can create a hard barrier of absolute defense.

The barrier will not be destroyed by any means, even a single blow from the Four Emperors can be blocked.

The disadvantage of is that the total area for releasing the barrier at the same time is limited, and a gesture of crossing the index and middle fingers must be maintained.

Now the person with the ability to block the fruit is the black charcoal Chanmaru known as the Pipa Master. Like the black charcoal Muchan, they are both members of the black charcoal family living overseas.

Of course, Kaido wasn't slippery, he did it on purpose. The wine in Wano country is much weaker than the outside, and the amount of drinking is not enough to make him drunk. He has already entered Wano country. The stick sent the black charcoal snake away directly.

If he is sent away directly, then the strategic policy of the beasts will directly change, and they have already broken into the interior, and they have many ways to deal with the next situation.

After all, he slipped his hand, and it wasn't intentional, but since the attack was blocked, he did not intend to continue to attack the snake. This can only be said to be an attempt. , as a dismounted horse.

And this stick successfully forced out a hole card of Orochi. The ability of this barrier has a great impact.

As for why he did this, he didn't open the pot and lift it up. The black charcoal snake was speeding up the process of his own death. Unfortunately, he still doesn't know how big a mistake he made.

And the reason why he didn't continue is very simple. If he slipped his hand, it was called manslaughter. It wasn't his subjective intention.

He deliberately killed his "ally" when he first arrived, which is not conducive to future development, and his life is not useless at all, he can just use him to create the image of beasts.

"Hand skating? Kaido, do you believe in this reason!"

"Ah? I'm telling the truth. I'm often slippery, don't you think, little ones?"

"Yes, yes, Big Brother Kai always does strange things after drinking, and last time he went to the naval base to dance."

"That was a long time ago, didn't you have a fight with that person recently? Who cares, everyone is dead anyway."

The people below continued their conversation, just to help Kaido live up to the title of hand skating.

In the roar of laughter from the members of the beasts, the big snake couldn't hold back a little, and some changes occurred in the body surface, but he was grabbed by the black charcoal Muchan next to him, and shook his head to signal the big snake to calm down.

Seeing that the snake didn't make a move, Kaido shook his head in disappointment. If he made a move, he would have a reason to move. As for the barrier fruit, although the ability is troublesome, it is not impossible to deal with.

The big deal is that he incarnates a blue dragon and throws him into the sea with the house. He doesn't believe that a capable person can be thrown into the sea.

"Kaido, that's almost it, we are guests, let's save some face for him, this is the country of Wano, and we will rely on him more in the future."

Arceus spoke out to stop Kaido, and he knew a little about the national conditions of Wano. If the beasts wanted to rule this place, they had to use the hand of the black charcoal serpent to clear the rule of the Koyuki family.

When the time comes, we will expose Orochi's behavior, let him share the hatred of the people and build a new puppet regime, so that we can completely control the country of Wano.

Then it will take time to make ordinary people accustomed to the rule of beasts. It is not easy to find a high-quality scapegoat like Orochi, and it will only take a few years for him to endure it for the sake of great development.

Such a strange voice appeared in the crowd of laughter, and it was the person who called Kaido's name directly. The most important thing is that Kaido really listened to the other party's words, which naturally attracted the attention of Orochi.

But the next moment, he knew that these were all illusions, Kaido's behavior was just hitting him in the face, and Arceus's behavior was actually cutting his flesh.

"We have more than 1,000 people here this time, and many people feel very bored after sailing for a long time. It seems that they saw your outline on the way here, and many people are very interested, but it seems that you can't use Bailey here. How about backing up some money?"

Just give each person a few dozen gold. It always costs money to play and stay. "

The currency of Wano is platinum, gold, and silver. Platinum is rare, but it is also the most valuable. One platinum is enough to build a house in Wano.

Gold and silver are commonly used by ordinary residents. The value of gold is about 10,000 baileys, and the value of silver is 100 baileys.

Arceus said that each person was tens of gold, which is equivalent to asking Orochi to directly give out hundreds of millions of Baileys. It was not long before he got the position of acting general, and all those people under his command had to spend money to support them. in his heart.

Kaido made him lose face, but he can endure the matter of face. Compared with the lost money, face is nothing at all.

He knows that he has to spend money, but he thinks that it is enough to prepare some money for Kaido. As for the pirates under his banner, you are pirates. Pirates still need to spend money to buy things?

He didn't know that at this time, both Kaido and Arceus regarded Wano Country as their own territory. Of course, they couldn't do stupid things to fish for the sake of their own territory. Spending money is what they should.

Besides, Youkuo is not a serious place. Others work hard to earn physical strength and money, and prostitution is an extremely shameful behavior.

At this moment, Kaido suddenly felt that he had misunderstood Arceus's thoughts. His temporarily letting go of the other party was not completely letting go, but that he wanted to drain the other party's value before sending him away. The idea of sending him away with a single stick was quite simple. Naive too much.

"That's right, Orochi, a mere tens of thousands of gold, you wouldn't even be reluctant to do this, would you?"
