

Arceus 181

Chapter 181 Stubborn

The fundamental reason why they would fight is because Cat Viper always wants to condemn her on the moral high ground, but he does the same thing when he condemns Moment.

It is right to do this for Oden, and it is wrong for others to do so. This is the root cause of their fight.

Now people are also beating, as long as the cat and vips give her some softness verbally, her face will be alright.

The matter would have ended here, but even if some people are soft all over, burnt to ashes, their mouths are hard.

This is the case with Cat Viper at this time. Not only did he think he was right in the previous incident, but he was also dissatisfied with being defeated by Shan Mo. He was very shocked that Mo Shan could make him like this now.

After all, the past moment was not so strong at all.

"Don't be complacent, if I hadn't been hit by those strange cows, you wouldn't be my opponent meow.. woo"

But the cat and the snake were just half-sentenced when the mouth was blocked by Inu Lan, and if it goes on like this, it will really not end well.

"Looks like you're not convinced."

"Yes, I just don't accept it, you just take advantage of the danger! Inu Lan, let me go and let me fight her again."

"You stupid cat, can't you see that this is not a few years ago, you can't beat her now!"

"You actually helped that violent wolf tell me about me? Don't forget where this is, shouldn't you help me?"

Instantly looked at Inu Arashi and Cat Viper in front of her. If it wasn't for the fact that she knew them both, she would have thought they were acting, after all, they were about to quarrel.

"Cat Viper, you say I take advantage of people's danger, right?"

"Meow. Otherwise, those strange cows have consumed us too much strength, and we haven't brought weapons, otherwise you can't be my opponent."

"Okay, I'll give you a chance to prepare. Tomorrow night, we have another fight on that beach during the day. You can come by yourself, or you can go with Inu Lan, or you can call a few more people, such as your so-called those friends.

If you still lose to me then, honestly apologize to me! Never come to our place to make trouble again! Have to pay for today's losses! "

The stubbornness of the cat's mouth is beyond her imagination, and the fur tribe itself also has a beast's thinking. At this time, only physical persuasion can be selected. Whoever wins is right.

"Then what if you lose?"

"What do you want?" noVELusb.Com

"Continue to supply fresh food to Oden Castle."

"Yes, but please get away now, I don't want to see you anymore."

In the end, the incident ended with Cat Viper being beaten for a while. With her, the two of them would have left Taoyuan Farm completely, and Momo was counting the damaged things on the farm.

Someone has to be responsible for these things. If she lets go of the two of them, then she has to take responsibility for it herself. This is the internal rule of the Beast Pirates, and everyone is the same.

So these property losses can only be covered by her own pocket for the time being.

[Although I beat the cat and the snake, I am not relieved at all. If I don't agree with him tomorrow, I will take his surname in the future] She took out her diary, and she wrote two more sentences on it.

But when she went back, she saw Zeraora sitting at the door waiting for her.

"They said you let people go."

The pirates under 's actions couldn't just ignore it, so he still informed Zeraora, after all, he was the person in charge here.

"I'm sorry, those two people are my former friends, so forgive them once and I will be responsible for the loss."

She still concealed some things in front of Zeraora. Most of the rules were formulated by Arceus and Asie. Because of the participation of Arceus, Shaina and Zeraora completely regarded them as iron laws.

They can't just ignore it without a good reason.

"But someone said you had a fight."

"That guy is rather irritating, but he's still a good guy, please Zeraora, Karuqiu~" Her usual way in recent years - acting like a spoiled child, usually has a lot of effect.

". Only once."

To put it bluntly, these two are just petty thefts. Unlike Kinemon's intrusion into the Rabbit Bowl mining field, it can be said to be big or small. For the sake of Moment's plea, Zeraora did not pursue this matter.

"Thank you, Zeraora, you are the best."

"Go back to sleep and don't look at the time."

On the other side, Inuarashi returned to Oden Castle with the help of Cat Viper.

"Inuarashi, you don't help me!"

"It's you who went too far. You've been targeting the moment since you came back. Don't you think you have a problem?"

"Have you forgotten what Kinemon became! Who made her join that beast!"

"It wasn't done in an instant, and she originally wanted to give us something with good intentions, so you messed up!"

The two also quarreled a few times along the way. In the end, neither of them was able to convince the other. In the end, they quietly returned to the house. The few punches that started in an instant were not spared, and the scars left by the big milk jug were also obvious.

They don't want to be discovered by others, so as not to make them worry, and the attitude and patience of Cat Viper is much better than before when dealing with these fellow retainers.

"Inuarashi, what to do tomorrow?"

"What should I do? Go and fight, it's what you made up anyway." Seeing Cat Viper mentioning this, Inulan didn't want to pay attention to him. In his opinion, if it wasn't for Cat Viper's mouth, things would be far less complicated.

"No, I mean, I may really be unable to beat that girl, she has become so strong in recent years." In front of Inu Lan, he did not continue to speak hard.

"Then you just admit your mistake. It's not right for you to target her like that. She is her, and the beasts are the beasts."

"That's not what I said! You think about Mrs. Shiki and Momonosuke-sama, Hiyori-sama, as long as we win, we can get fresh food."

"You mean" Inu Arashi seemed to understand what the cat viper meant, but he felt a little ashamed. In the face of a girl two years younger than him, even if they won, there was nothing to be proud of.

This would even be humiliating to pass back to Zou, but Cat Viper's reasoning is very realistic, it's the best way they can get fresh food.

Although Denjiro is working hard to make money, he is only barely filling in some holes. The patches on their clothes are the most direct proof.

"She said we could go together. This is all for the Koyuki family. We can lose our face first."

"You make me think again."

Cat Viper did not continue to say anything. According to what he knew about Inu Lan, he did not directly refuse but already agreed. In his opinion, they might not be able to fight for an instant alone, but there would be no problem with the two of them.

But he missed one thing, because tomorrow night is the day of the full moon

Chapter 182 The moment of the battle

The next day, Cat Viper disappeared and did not show up at all. Because of the beating, his face was severely injured, and if he went out, he would definitely be found.

That's why the genius Mengmeng Liang left Oden Castle, but Inuarashi stayed in Oden Castle until night fell, and he quietly left here again with his own and Cat Viper's knife.

At the same time, he also creptly opened the door, and then two wolf ears were exposed and began to eavesdrop on the sound of the next room.

There was no sound of the generator running, and there was no sound of electricity. It seemed that Zeraora had rested. Then she tiptoed out of the room, and after leaving a distance, she ran towards the beach of Jiuli.

On the way, he woke up a few big milk jugs, but after seeing that it was his own, he fell back and continued to sleep.

But she didn't notice that Zeraola had been following her not far behind, he had long felt that something was wrong, and he seemed to have nothing to say yesterday, and went back to the house early today to sleep, which is totally against common sense. .

So he didn't do physical training today, and he has been paying attention to the situation of the moment.

Zeraora is a very special member of the Electric-type Pokémon without power-generating organs.

But if you give up, you will get it. Although he has given up the power-generating organ, he can create a magnetic field through his own current.

This range is his domain. Within the domain, he can flexibly control the electromagnetic force. After more training, he can achieve the level of knowledge and color of Eneluo with the combination of knowledge and domineering.

Although I'm not that proficient yet, I can position it more carefully.

It's just that this kind of behavior is somewhat voyeuristic, so he usually doesn't do it. He only made this choice after realizing some special circumstances.

On the beach of Guri, Cat Viper and Inuarashi arrived here earlier than Shuna. Due to the policy of closing the country in Wano, the citizens spend most of their time in the canals on the island, and few people will enter the inland sea.

Fishing in the inland waters of Wano country requires a fishing license, and most of the daimyo's relatives have this qualification.

During the day, you can still see some people picking up fish on the coast, or some sea fishing, but at night, the beach here is very quiet, and Inuarashi and Cat Viper are waiting in such an environment with a knife.

"She's not kidding us, is she?"

"No, she's not that kind of person." Just as she was talking, the silhouette of the moment also ran out of the woods beside her, and Zeraora, who was following her, also saw them.

But he didn't come forward, but found a tree and lay down on it, and took out a few Baofen from the pocket of his clothes. Baofen is a cake made from tree fruits, most of which are for Pokémon. of.

The specific craftsmanship is not created by the Beasts Pirates, but made by the BIG·MOM Pirates based on the ideas provided by the Beasts. In terms of dessert chefs, no pirate group can compare to the BIG·MOM Sea. Band of thieves.

Although some types of poffins can be eaten by humans, many more poffins taste strange and only the palate of Pokémon can get used to.

And each Pokémon has different preferences, these are Zeraora's snacks, similar to the popcorn when watching a movie, he wants to see what she is going to do in the end.

On the beach, looking at the knives in both of their hands, he was not very happy for a moment.

"Inuarashi, you are the same as Cat Viper, it seems that you are both of a virtue."

Although she said that, she thought that only Cat Viper would participate, but she didn't expect Inuarashi to actually participate.

"Sorry, but I have a reason for having to."

"Let's go with you, is there anyone else? Let's call it out together." This situation was also within her expectation, otherwise she would not have chosen today.

Whether it's Momo, Inuarashi and Cat Viper, they all have one thing in common, that is, no one looks up at the sky, because a full moon is floating in the sky.

A few years ago, with the help of Arceus, she mastered the power of the moon lion, and that power was the greatest confidence of the fur tribe.

As for Inuarashi and Cat Viper, although they are both fur tribesmen, I can be sure that they will not know the moon lion when they leave Zou.

And the learning process of the moon lion is very dangerous. In the absence of other adult fur tribes, ordinary juvenile fur tribes must not be able to learn alone.

There are moon lions, even if there are others behind them, they don't feel that they can't deal with them for a moment.noVELusb.Com

"There is no one else, so this matter won't involve more people, but remember what you said."

"You don't have to worry about it. If you win against me, I will get you what you need even if I pay for it myself, but you stinky cat had better figure out how to apologize and admit defeat."

"Stop talking. Meow, although I don't know what you've been through all these years, we have learned a lot from Mr. Oda!" Said Cat Viper pulled out his knife, but Inuarashi didn't.

If Cat Viper can solve the problem on his own, then it is best for him not to interfere. Although Cat Viper had some doubts before, he has to try it.

"Where's your weapon?"

"Mine? No need, bows and arrows are not suitable at this time, you use your knife, I have claws enough." Saying that, a domineering wind wrapped around his hands, and electricity began to flicker in his body's fur.

Although her domineering is not to say how proficient, as one of Kaido's training objects, she has mastered the basic usage skillfully over the years.

"Domineering. Then I'm welcome."

After all, he was the one who sailed across the sea with two legendary pirates. It was impossible for him to have no knowledge at all.

"Don't say it like you've been polite, I don't know what's going on. Now I see you and I'm angry. You'd better be more resistant to beating today!"

said that, and launched the attack first. Originally, she felt that her anger had subsided, but there was a saying that the more she thought about it, the more angry she became. Last night, she always felt that she was taking lightly.

In Cat Viper's eyes, Moment immediately turned into a white shadow, and when he saw the other person's figure again, Moment had already waved his claws to grab him.

Although he raised his knife to block it, his claws didn't hesitate at all, using domineering as a defense, he grabbed it directly on the blade of Cat Viper, and an electric current also passed along the blade to his hand.

The lightning of the fur tribe is the static electricity generated by the friction between their own furs. They are inherently resistant to electric current. The electric current conducted on the blade only makes his palms feel a little numb, and it is not enough to hold his own knife.

And at this time, his other hand also flashed electricity, and hit the waist of the instant

Chapter 183 Stupid cat, today is a full moon

Compared with Shanna, Inuarashi and Cat Viper have an advantage, that is, the advantage in size. Male fur tribes are generally taller and stronger than female fur tribes.

Although the cat and pit viper was unilaterally beaten yesterday, if he hadn't been slapped by a group of big milk cans, he wouldn't have been so helpless that he could still fight back in the face of an instant attack. .

Domineering is a layer of invisible armor. With the protection of domineering, she used the blade swung by the opponent as a horizontal bar, turned over to avoid the fist of the cat viper, and then kicked it towards the neck of the cat viper by inertia.

Cat Viper has an advantage in size, and Moment is also more flexible. During this process, Cat Viper tries to launch a new attack. Although Momo gave up the attack, his attack failed to hit Moment, instead, he was attacked. The distance got closer in an instant.

The blade allows him to have a longer attack distance, but when the opponent enters his inner circle, the speed of adjusting the blade is not as fast as the punch.

Cat Viper's attacks failed one after another, but Moment's attack actually hit him. As the abdomen was hit by Moment's elbow, Cat Viper's face also became ugly.

Although he looks like a cyst, he is not stupid, and he is relatively a very flexible player, but his flexibility is a lot worse than Momentum.

He couldn't touch the other party's figure all the time, which made Cat Viper become more and more impatient. After the attack failed again, his legs twisted around his neck in an instant.

Originally wanted to take advantage of the situation to solve the cat viper, but suddenly realized that she had made a mistake. The cat viper's neck was too thick and short, so her attack did not have any effect, but the cat viper grabbed the calf.

"Finally caught you, you're really hard to deal with." His voice was a bit strange, the attack just now didn't hold back, if it wasn't for the innate body structure that made his neck relatively short, that one shot would be enough to take him directly.

If he can solve the opponent himself, then Cat Viper also doesn't want Inuarashi to intervene. Two-on-one is not very glorious after all, so he grabbed Moment's leg and threw it into the sky.

"You have nowhere to hide now, admit defeat!"

Withdrawing the sword into the sheath, he took the posture of lai. There is no way for a person to adjust his posture in the air. When it falls in an instant, he can find a way to strike the enemy.

So in his opinion, he has lost in an instant, and he is even complacent in his heart.

On the side, Inuarashi issued a warning.

"You stupid cat! Watch out for it!"

Covered his forehead with one hand, Cat Viper looked up, but it was too late.

At this moment, not only did he not fall down as he had imagined, but instead he floated directly in the air, stabilized his body and launched an attack again.

Just when she was about to kick Cat Viper's head, Inu Arashi's attack blocked her. If Inu Arashi didn't make a move, the careless Cat Viper might lose his ability to fight directly.

"You still can't help yourself."

But Inuarashi did not answer this sentence, but asked another question.

"Power? You ate a devil fruit?!"

The fur tribe itself does not have the ability to fly. In Inuarashi's view, this is the power that only Devil Fruit can bring.

"There are still many things you don't understand. This is the power I got with my own efforts, and it has nothing to do with Devil Fruits!"

Electromagnetic levitation, one of the skills that Arceus taught her, although she can't fly at a super-high speed like Zeraora, it is enough. Having the ability to fly means that her battles will become more three-dimensional.

"Work hard, we are working hard too, Inu Arashi let this little girl see our achievements, it's nothing to be able to fly, Oda Ichidao·Mao Xiaozhan!"

"Sorry for the moment, we need what we got after victory, Oden Ichito-ryu·Houndtooth!"

One stab, one slash, the two attacks crossed and attacked at Momo, but Inu Lan and Cat Viper did not learn skills such as moon steps, and they couldn't take advantage of their strength in the sky. Facing the moment when they could freely float and fly, their attacks were unsuccessful.

But she didn't float on it for a moment. She didn't bring a bow and arrow, which was her usual weapon. If she brought a bow and arrow, then Inuarashi and Cat Viper would be her targets in this state.

It's not a solution to stay deadlocked all the time, but after she lowered her height, the combined attack of Inuarashi and Cat Viper really made her feel very difficult. They have been living together for all these years, and they have experienced different things on the pirate ship outside. Fight less and have much more actual combat experience than her.

"In an instant, you are too big, you are not the opponent of the two of us, just admit defeat."

"Admit defeat? Do you know why I chose today?"

The fur tribes are still very sensitive to dates. Only when the full moon is calculated can they carry out some dangerous actions. After saying this, Inuarashi and Cat Viper immediately had a bad feeling.

"Wait! Are you crazy! The moon lion will die if he loses control!" Inu Lan said angrily. He didn't think that Mo Mo, who was two years younger than them, had already mastered this secret skill.

However, she had already raised her head and looked directly at the moon, the full moon was reflected in her eyes, and her pupils began to shrink under the light of the moonlight, and then she swayed slightly, and the static electricity from the hair on her body began to stop. Ring up.

The canine teeth became sharper, and low roars came from her mouth. Originally, her hair was simply tied with a head rope, and the length was only to the shoulders.

In her low roar, the hair began to grow rapidly, the original head rope was stretched, and the long waist-length hair began to flutter with the sea breeze. The same was true for the hair on the tail behind her. The extended hair was already dragged on the beach.

"Ow!"

A wolf howl resounded through the entire beach, and a huge electric light rushed into the sky, and everyone who lived near the beach felt a dazzling white light.

Turned his neck in an instant, and his scarlet pupils looked at Inuarashi and Cat Viper.

"Come on, the second round, it's started!"

"You mastered the Moon Lion?!"

"Can't you? Be prepared, this might hurt a lot."

Accompanied by a huge electric current, a figure suddenly burst out. The beach where she was originally standing was melted by the high temperature of the lightning and turned into irregular glass crystals.NovElusB.com

Speed, strength, thunder and lightning, and the moon lion bring the fur tribe an all-round enhancement.

Originally, Inuarashi and Cat Viper had some advantages, but now, their advantages are gone.

"The fangs flash."

Inuarashi couldn't even see the movement of the moment, but he felt a huge force coming from his chest and was directly knocked into the sea.

"Come on stupid cat, it's a full moon today, we have some time to have fun."

Chapter 184 Don't try to understand a fool

The fur clan is called the fighting clan and has a great connection with the moon lion. The fighting power of the young fur clan is not weaker than that of the adult soldiers, and the fur clan who mastered the moon lion is a veritable monster on the night of the full moon.

The indistinct trajectory, the unstoppable force, and the beach was a brutal one-sided beating.NovElusB.com

Moon lion is a maddening skill. Although it can be controlled by training, the fur tribe in the moon lion state will be more violent than usual, not to mention that Moment itself has resentment towards the cat and viper.

Inulan's strength is no different from that of Cat Viper. Inulan was hit into the sea with a single blow, and Cat Viper was naturally not much stronger. After a while of beating, the knife that Jiuli craftsmen made for him was also under Moan's claws. Broken into pieces.

Then a knee strike ended the fight.

"Cat Viper, you lost, honestly apologize to me, and don't come to our site to make trouble again, can you hear it clearly?"

Having said that, the Cat Viper lying on the ground did not surrender.

"Meow. I haven't lost yet."

"Cat Pitviper! Don't be rude, we have completely lost." Inu Lan walked out of the sea with a knife, and he broke two ribs just now. As a fur tribe, he knows the moon better than outsiders. The power of the lion.

Under the condition that there is no absolute gap in strength, it is impossible for the fur tribe who do not transform to defeat the fur tribe who transforms.

"No, I don't say I don't have it, I'm also a fur tribe, and for Oda-sama, I must win this time!" He turned his head to look at the moon in the sky.

"Stop! You can't control that!"

But it was too late, the cat viper staring at the moon began to turn white, and the changes in his body were similar to Moment, but the biggest difference was that there was no reason in this guy's eyes, only madness.

If the fur tribe cannot control the power of the moon lion, if they enter this state, they will attack everyone around them regardless of enemy or foe, until their power is completely exhausted.

"Who the * is that Oden in your mouth, did you guys brainwash that guy!" Seeing that Cat Viper would rather die with her than give in, he couldn't understand at all.

They are the same clan after all, even if he admits defeat, he will not do anything to him, and as a result, he has to make a last-ditch appearance.

She really wanted to teach Cat Viper a lesson, but she didn't want to kill him. It was much more difficult to capture than to kill him, but the Cat Viper in an out-of-control state was irrational and didn't even respond to pain.

Two Moon Lion's fighting Inu Arashi was unable to intervene, and in an instant, he was a little bit * by Cat Viper.

She couldn't even lift off to avoid it, otherwise the out-of-control Cat Viper would target Inuarashi. In that state, it would not be surprising if the Cat Viper killed Inuarashi.

Just when she was in trouble, a faster lightning flashed out in the forest, and Zeraora, who was watching the play, appeared.

A small hand pressed on Cat Viper's head, although the size was disproportionate, but the strength was diametrically opposite to the size, and the mad Viper was pressed directly into the beach.

"Zeraora?! Why are you here?"

"Following you, do you still want to deceive me with your little tricks? You still have too little actual combat experience."

The lack of practical application makes it difficult for her to deal with changing situations, especially when she is nostalgic, she can't fight to death.

"What about your sword dance? Take off into the sky and stack the sword dance, and then knock this lunatic unconscious. You should be able to do it. I should have taught you how to do it. If I hadn't come with you, how would you like to solve it?"

In terms of electromagnetic levitation, Zeraora is an expert among experts, so there are a lot of skills about air combat, but it seems that they have been forgotten in the moment just now.

Speaking of other moments, she was a little embarrassed, but in terms of actual combat, she was a little unconvinced.

"It's not that I don't want to fight, it's that you don't let me go. You always say that I'm too young." It's not that there are no opportunities for actual combat, but they were all put off by Zeraora.

"Forget it, if you have a chance in the future, you can go with me." At this moment, the cat viper under his hand began to be dishonest again, and electric currents began to flash on the fur to force Zeraora away.

But that current was not even a small amount before meals for Zeraora, a stronger current was released from his hand, and after that, Cat Viper was completely quiet.

This is the easiest way to deal with the mad fur clan, stun him, let him stun until the moon disappears, after all, Zeraora will not heal skills such as bells, nor will it cover it with skills such as praying for rain Moon, stun is the most concise and effective means.

Release her moon lion form in an instant, and Zeraora will have no trouble when she comes. This is a kind of trust she has developed in Zeraora over the years.

"He's not dead, is he?"

"I'm not dead, I'm measured, but these are your two acquaintances? Not so good, hey, take this unsightly guy away!"

These words were said to Inuarashi. If he used power beyond his control in the face of some life-and-death enemy, Zeraora would still admire him.

But in this case, using a skill that he can't control is an idiot who doesn't know the importance of it in Zeraora's eyes.

"Lightning. Zeraora"

He recognized the identity of the other party. When Zeraora was offered a bounty earlier, Inuarashi and Cat Viper were still sailing with Oden. Naturally, he received the news that Zeraora was currently the fur tribe with the highest bounty at sea.

But at the time, he didn't pay much attention to the details of the reward order, he just thought it was a fur tribe who lived overseas in his early years, but now he knows that the other party is actually a man of beasts, and he looks familiar with Shanna.

With a normal stance, he stuns the Cat Viper in a stunned Moon Lion state, which already shows the strength of the opponent.

Although his words were not very pleasant, Inu Lan knew that this time it was the Cat Viper who went too far, and actually used the Moon Lion forcibly. He didn't say anything for a moment, but Inu Lan knew very well that after the cat Viper's encounter, the three of them Relationships can't be what they were seven years ago.

"By the way, what happened last time is over. If you come to the farm again, it will be me who will take the shot. Remember to keep an eye on that cat, otherwise, don't blame me if it dies."

Inuarashi's face is worthless here in Zeraora, but he has to take care of Momo's feelings, and he can't directly kill her former companion.

The battle on the beach ended here, but for a moment there was still a question.

"Zeraora, why did you say the * of Cat Viper did this?"

"I don't know, but this behavior is enough to show that he is a fool who can't turn his head. It is impossible for you to understand the thinking of a fool. Don't think about that, go back and I will bake the fish for you."

"No, Zeraora, you always burn the fish, so let me do it."

Looking at Zeraora in front of her, she instantly chose to put those unpleasantness behind her. I'm afraid she won't have anything to do with Cat Viper in the future.

Chapter 185 Actually, my surname is Sasaki

Inuarashi and Cat Viper still did not return directly to Oden Castle, but stayed outside for a few days, recovering their injuries before returning to Oden Castle.

And the things on Guri Beach were naturally sent to the ghost island.

"Shina had a fight with those two fur tribes?"

"Well, Zeraora finally took action, but the influence of that matter is limited, Lord Holy Beast, and this matter is more important."

Shaina took out one of the documents and handed it to Arceus. This is the order in which things are handled within the beasts. The highest priority is related to the slate, and the next is related to the members of the pirate group. matter.

Who fought with whom, did anyone violate discipline, etc., but this fact is somewhat unexpected.

"Kojiro was assassinated in the flower capital?"

As the current exclusive businessman of the Beasts Pirates, he is also a member of the Beasts Pirates. Since the last time Kinemon's younger brother was caught in the mining field, no one has asked Kojiro for trouble.

With the backing of the Beast Pirates, Kojiro's business is booming in the capital of flowers, and has begun to expand to other townships in Wano country.

Wanzhi's domestic market share is limited. Previously, when Kojiro's family fell, his family's market was taken away by others, but now with his rise again, not only did he get back what he lost, but also Open up a wider market.

He has too many things in his hands that the country of Wano does not have, and his family is a time-honored name in the country of Wano. With this name, his family has even surpassed the previous one, but the number of people has not been supplemented, and the main family still has only He is alone.

In this situation, it can be said that the Chamber of Commerce is entirely supported by Kojiro alone. As long as he disappears, the huge Chamber of Commerce will inevitably be affected.

And his actions touched the cakes of many people, and the wealth moved people's hearts. In this case, someone would naturally attack.

"How is he? Is he seriously injured?"

If Kojiro is dead, then the information reported should be that Kojiro was killed. This result can at least show that he is still alive.

"No, not only was he uninjured, but he also killed the opponent, and he also caught two survivors. Now he is outside, and he seems to want to see you on something."

"Bring him here."

Outside Onishima, Kojiro has become very familiar with the pirates here, and now he is telling the crowd about what happened last night.

"These guys really dare to commit murder in the capital of flowers. Thanks to my little card, there are only a few old people who continue to follow me, and this dog is the only one left." Kojiro rubbed the big dog in his arms. brain.

That is an ordinary Shiba Inu, it looks like he is not too young, it was raised when he was a child, and now he sleeps with this dog at night.

"Those people walked very lightly, but it was a pity that Xiaoka could smell them, so they were not professional at all."

"Compared to this, how on earth did you kill that guy? Those guys are not weak." A pirate with a bandage on his shoulder asked him, and they were the pirates who followed Kojiro.

But these times were too peaceful, so they relaxed their vigilance. As a result, the group of people touched it. Now the punishment is inevitable, but Kojiro has nothing to do, so the punishment will not be too heavy.

And this is what makes them curious. After all, those people still have two fights. These people are all people who have survived several fights. Although they have not achieved the status of cadres, they are also proficient in fighting skills.

Even they were wounded, which shows the strength of those assassins, especially that day they saw Kojiro can't even row the boat, and they always regarded him as a weak chicken in the impression.

"This, do you know why I'm the only one left in our family?"

Although they are already familiar with it, they are not easy to talk about this, they just quietly wait for Kojiro's reply.

"Because I can fight, don't underestimate me, I know Iai. In fact, our family used to be a samurai family, and there have been many strong men. According to my grandfather, our surname was Sasaki."

The commoners in Wano do not have surnames, only those samurai and nobles have surnames, Kojiro once means that the family name has been deprived.

But that's their complicated family history, and these pirates aren't interested in that.

"So we should call you Sasaki Kojiro?"

"No no no, that surname is already in the past, I want to create a new era, an era that belongs to me, Kojiro."

"That's really amazing, but can you show us your drawn sword first?"

"This. Forget it, that move is too dangerous,"

Although he said that he is very powerful, in fact, he will do that trick. The killer didn't expect Kojiro to sleep with a knife in his arms, so he was killed by him.

Legend has it that the ancestor of his family was a swordsman who could slash the flying swallows in the sky with just a wave of his hand, so this move is called Yanhui, but after so many years, he has never seen anyone in his family who can do it .

He is indeed the best player in the family, but it is only relatively speaking. Compared to those who are really strong, it doesn't count at all. Last night was already an extraordinary performance in life and death.

It's okay to brag verbally, but if you get started, it's bad if you accidentally self-defeat.

But the pirates didn't want to let him go, and they kept booing, and it happened that Shaina also appeared at this time.

"Come with me, Lord Holy Beast wants to see you, and you guys, are you all busy? Just do whatever you need to do!"

"Yes!" The appearance of Minister Fengji brought the pirates' fishing life to an end, and Kojiro was also brought to Arceus. As for those who were captured alive, they were sent to Jhin.

"what do you want to say?"

"That, Lord Holy Beast, the villain's performance is not bad during this time."

"You are really good in business, so what?" Apart from the initial support of goods and backgrounds, Kojiro almost relied on himself after that. It didn't take too long to go from a hawker pulling a cart to reopening the chamber of commerce.

has also worked hard to gather the refugees caused by the serpent, and the results he has achieved are visible.

"So.. can I make a small request, those people who can carry out one assassination may have a second one, I think my situation is a bit dangerous, and I heard that you have a way to make people stronger quickly."

Those people of the Arceus sect still spare no effort in promoting this, so Kojiro also knows the legend of the Beast Pirates.

However, those people's rumors were a little outrageous, so outrageous that CP9, who was investigating the intelligence, thought it was the brainwashing method of the Beast Pirates, so they thought it might be a smoke bomb released by the Beasts to cover up Quinn's technology.

"So you want ability?" nOVeLUsb.Com

Chapter 186 Cutie Dog

It is for those who have made meritorious deeds. Although Kojiro has no military exploits, as the first native of Wano to surrender, he has helped the beasts to make a lot of achievements in Wano. It can also be said that he has merit. man of.

It stands to reason that it is not necessary to give him an ability. During this time, the ordinary animal-type fruit Beast Pirates have gathered a lot.

And if Kojiro really had an accident, it would not be so easy to find another suitable person. It is also necessary to increase his self-protection ability.

"No, that's not what the villain meant. Could you please remodel the photo card?"

As he said that, he raised his Shiba Inu. This dog is already twelve years old. After all, it was raised by him when he was a child. Now it is also an old dog. If there is no external intervention, I am afraid that this Shiba Inu will leave within a year or two. he is.

As a local who joined the Beast Pirates, he knew how those Kentaros and big milk jugs came from. The second generation of cows called Wagyu had already appeared on the dining table of the nobles of Wano.

Because of his exposure to those species, he could perceive that the modified cattle were much stronger and healthier than the native cattle breeds in Wano, and the diseases that normal calves would suffer would not occur in those with Kentaro blood. body.

"Xiaoka is very smart, and this time he discovered those killers first. If I can make Xiaoka stronger, I will be safer."

"You can only get a reward for what you do now, do you really want to give this reward to this dog?"

"Can it live longer?"

"certainly."

The lifespan of Pokémon is much longer than that of ordinary animals, and some special Pokémon have very long lifespans, which are enough to be passed down as family heirlooms.

"Then please help me transform the photo card."

Kojiro asked for this, so he did not refuse, and a crimson energy hand picked up the Shiba Inu.

"Xiaoka. Then it will become a real Xiaoka." The crimson energy was injected into the Shiba Inu, and the original yellow fur began to transform into red, and there were more lines on it.

The hair on the chest and the top of the head also became more exuberant, and after a while, as the energy dissipated, a Katy dog appeared here, and it was a permanent transformation like Kentaro.

Xiaoka doesn't seem to be used to his new body yet, but he can feel that his body is getting stronger, because the feeling of weakness brought about by old age has disappeared. newborn.novelusb.com

"Wow, woof!"

"Well, go get along with your master, and remember to protect him in the future."

In fact, it is already doing this. The old Shiba Inu seldom fights with Kojiro, because his physical strength can no longer support it every day.

But after regaining its vitality, it is licking madly by Kojiro.

"You should live on Ghost Island during this time. Those businesses should be able to operate normally without you."

"There is no problem in a short time, but it will not work if it is too long."

"Enough, by the way, I heard that your family used to be surnamed Sasaki, or is it a swordsman family?"

"This. I just heard what my grandfather said. I don't know if it's true." He didn't expect that all his bragging words would come here. It seems that he still underestimated the other party's control over Onishima.

"After all, it's a bit of a foundation. During this time, you can practice with others and see how you are."

Having said that, Kojiro's next arrangement was decided.

"By the way, Shaina, give him the information about the fruits of the beasts."

Kojiro, who climbed out from under Xiaoka, took over the thick stack of records. The business of Hundred Beasts and Fruits has become more and more extensive, and the business has become bigger and bigger, but now there is a lack of business talents.

If Kojiro really has this ability, then some of these things can be handed over to him gradually.

"Work hard, as long as your ability is sufficient, you will not be less than what you deserve."

Kojiro was sent to a room in the ghost island, which is still very empty, and a lot of things were considered when the ghost island was built. Even the giants can run here, let alone make a room for one person and one dog. .

"Master Holy Beast, the news is out, but there is no valuable information about the two people. They are usually just ordinary gangsters on the street, not even the same boss.

They all say the same thing, a mysterious man wearing a hat wants Kojiro's head for 500 gold. "

They knew that behind Kojiro was a member of the Hundred Beast Pirates, but they were still attracted by the huge profits. As long as they could kill the other party and destroy their corpses, their whereabouts would be impossible to find.

Who even found kerosene in their hands, and the houses in Wano country are mostly wooden structures. Once they are ignited, I am afraid that nothing will be left.

Although there is no detailed information, it is actually not too complicated who is behind them. Either a businessman who is jealous of Kojiro, or a black charcoal snake, after all, Kojiro's business behavior is also robbing him of money.

The black charcoal snake does not dare to confront the beasts head-on, but there is still the possibility of making small moves behind the scenes.

"Give these two people over to Black Charcoal Orochi, and within a few days I will see the news of the public execution in the capital of flowers."

Intention to kill, although Kojiro is fine, but this is still a capital crime. The beasts are not thinking of themselves as soft persimmons. If they cooperate, everyone will be fine.

If this kind of thing is not dealt with seriously, the majesty of the Beast Pirates in Wano will be gone.

As for why it was handed over to Orochi, it is natural to see his reaction.

Even if he can bear it, if he really did it, then some clues will eventually be revealed.

"Understood, by the way, Lord Holy Beast, according to our investigation, most of the gangsters in the Flower City are headed by Binggoro, who is the hero and spiritual role model of the underworld in Wano Country.

Even the gangsters in other townships will give him some face. Many gangsters regard him as a hero. If he can be obedient, then there should be no gangsters willing to do this kind of thing in the future. "

A special product born in the background of Wano country, gangsters, and the gangsters here are extremely complex. The most common gangsters live in the village of fish and meat just like the outside world.

On the other hand, people like Binggoro have become a kind of non-governmental organization. Although it is not an official identity, he and several daimyo can talk to each other, and some small things in the countryside will be dealt with faster by his people.

In the event of a natural disaster, they will even be on the front line of disaster relief.

Hyogoro has a very high status in this, and even many civilians respect him.

Chapter 187 Binggoro and the Millennium Dragon Herding "Cotton"

"I remember Kojiro's report mentioned him, and they had some contact."

"Yes, according to our information, Hyogoro is very disgusted with the behavior of the black charcoal orochi, and Kojiro's previous recruitment of refugees made him appreciate it. He thinks that Kojiro is a "chivalrous" businessman."

"But those * still did something to Kojiro."

"After all, not everyone obeys him, but according to the information returned by Youkuo, he seems to be looking for the main messenger behind the scenes.

Lord Holy Beast, the national conditions in Wano Country are completely different from those outside, and sometimes we don't understand what they think. "

Hyogoro's attitude is now a neutral one. The people behind Kojiro are the Beast Pirates, and people who have some status in Wano country are well aware of this.

And now, like most of the people, Binggoro did not fully accept the existence of the Beast Pirates, but when Kojiro's chamber of commerce settled those refugees caused by the black charcoal orochi, Binggoro was helping him again.

Therefore, his classification was temporarily classified by the beasts within the reachable range.

"Let Kojiro try his attitude after a while. As for now, let's reorganize the security issues in the capital of flowers before execution. It's time for the mine to replenish manpower."

In this way, the gangsters who had just emerged were once again cleaned by the beasts and sent to the mines to start their own labor camps, and the black charcoal snake also received the news.

"Public execution?"

"Yes, Mr. Orochi, Hundred Beasts have sent those two people over. They tried to assassinate Kojiro who joined Hundred Beasts a few days ago, and they also planned to set fire to it, but they failed."

"It's a pity" Black Charcoal Orochi sighed, regretting that they didn't succeed, but these two were really not arranged by him, because among all the people in Wano, he is the one who knows Kaido's horror the most.

He is also very satisfied with the current situation. Although he is not particularly happy, he has also achieved his goals in a few aspects. In this case, he does not want to touch the bad luck of the beasts at all.

"Sir, what about us?"

"It's the same, just do what they say and tell the truth." It's not that he doesn't want to add oil, but that he has no chance.

Although this kind of thing was left to him, he knew very well that the Beast Pirates would definitely send someone to keep an eye on him. In places like this that might affect their reputation, the Beasts had always been very strict.

After the man left, the big snake said to him: "Fu Lu Shou, is the news confirmed?"

Fu Lushou, the leader of the Orochi Yuting Fanzhong, that is, the captain of his personal guards, has good strength and is also an excellent ninja, with a pair of long earlobes, which are his unique weapons.

The skull is also very long, but this is all due to physical mutation caused by anger. He has a sickly younger sister, Fumei, because she still had Lei Zang's name in her mouth when she died, so Fu Lushou regarded Lei Zang as the murderer. Since then, both the earlobe and the skull have grown longer.

He hates Leizang very much, and is very loyal to Orochi. Heitan Muchan and Heitan Chanwan are too old. Many things Heitan Orochi entrusted to Fu Lushou to do.

"It's confirmed, Lord Orochi, Kozuki Oden has sent his family back to Wano Country, and now they are in Oden Castle in Jiuri."

"Very good, you can arrange this yourself, you can contact me when necessary, we still have a secret to activate."

The people who eventually participated in the assassination of Kojiro were all executed under the live broadcast of Ying Tianluo on charges of murder and attempted arson.

In the eyes of ordinary people, this is just a group of criminals, and some people were trembling with fear because of this action, and secretly dealt with several subordinates.

They are the real masterminds behind the scenes. They came up with such a shady trick when the business could not grab the other party. Now they are worried about being discovered, so they did this kind of behavior.

In the eyes of the Oda retainers in Jiuri, this is synonymous with the brutality of beasts.

To the beasts, these people are dangerous elements who assassinate their own people, and in their view, these people are resisting the beasts, but the resistance has failed.novelupdates.com

Inuarashi and Cat Viper have never explained what happened at the beginning, and since their appearance and brains can't help, so there is no practical significance other than giving Oden Castle a few more mouths.

The most profitable business in Wano is in the hands of the Black Charcoal Orochi and the Hundred Beast Pirates. If they are unwilling to engage in that kind of business, they can only live in poverty.

But they can really be cruel, and they just save the light so that they can't feel the poverty status quo.

As for how they were doing, the beasts didn't care. Cat Viper personally sent away the only person who could help him. At this time, Arceus in the Beast Pirates was planning a new sailing route.

In addition to the things that have been arranged in China, there are also beast herders in the Ximei area, but they are not kentaro or big milk cans, but shuttlecock cotton and wind goblins.

Clothing, food, housing, transportation, housing and transportation are not easy to intervene now, but they have begun to expand their business in clothing.

Ximei's original plan was to transform it into arable land, but the soil there has been abandoned for a long time. Although he used the power of the water slate to sort out the underground water veins, it will take some time for him to flourish again.

In line with the principle of not to waste, a new batch of Pokémon appeared there, and the Grass Slate created a brand-new Pokémon, and the purpose was cotton.

Whether it is shuttlecock cotton or wind fairy, their hair is high-quality cotton, whether it is spun or used as a filler, it is of the best quality, so it is also for the people gathered by the Kojiro Chamber of Commerce to find something to do.

Men can work in factories and farms, but those women can't, and they can't do some physical work at all.

It can't be all sent to Yuku, and that kind of thing doesn't match their current style.

After some people were sent to Ghost Island to be responsible for washing the laundry, there were still a lot of people left, and they couldn't keep them in vain, so they had this new job.

Comb the hair of the wind fairy and the cotton shuttlecock, get a haircut, and process the gathered "hair".

And because of their characteristics, when the wind blows, they will drift with the wind, and the shuttlecock cotton will release spores, and the scattered spores will fall on the ground and generate new plants.

In order to control the direction of their fluttering, the Millennium Dragons also have their own work. At this time, Olga is riding on the Millennium Dragon to carry out special grazing work.

"Over there, over there, just fly away, blow them back!"

Several thousand-year-old dragons in the shape of Archaeopteryx flapped their wings together, and the created airflow brought together the wind goblins and shuttlecock cotton that were scattered by the wind.

Chapter 188 The Mountain God of Wano Country

It is the characteristic of Shuttlecock Cotton and Wind Fairy to drift with the wind. If the wind is too strong, they will not know where they will be blown by the wind. However, due to the unique terrain of Wano, there is a special cyclone outside.

That cyclone is one of the reasons for the danger to the offshore environment outside Wano.

And it also brings a benefit now, because the wind generated by that cyclone will make the Shuttlecock Cotton and the Wind Fairy stay in Wano, and will not fly to other sea areas because of a gust of wind.

The Millennium Dragon was originally a prepared air cavalry, but at present the beasts do not need this air cavalry to fight, so this team also has its own grazing work.

The gusts of Millennium Dragon's wings are just enough to control their movement.

Quinn is making large blowers there to allow ordinary people to do special grazing on them.

These are the necessary conditions for the growth of Shuttlecock Cotton and Wind Fairy, they are grass-type Pokémon, and sunlight is an integral part of their growth.

Among them, the cotton production cycle of shuttlecock cotton is relatively long, and the wind fairy is different. Now there are many people who are helping the wind fairy to comb their hair and cut their hair.

For wind goblins, cotton is their hair, and their hair grows very fast and is very weak.

If the wind is too strong, the cotton on the head will be ripped off by the wind.

If it rains, the cotton on the top of the head will press it directly on the ground because it absorbs water and becomes heavy. In the end, it can only be resigned to fate.

On sunny days, the cotton on their bodies will swell when exposed to sunlight. If it swells too much, it will tear the cotton apart and scatter it all over the place.

So the job of the people below is to remove their hair before it swells to a point.

The work scene is very happy, because the wind goblins are Pokémon who like to play pranks, and they will not forget this when their hair is combed, and cotton * are often thrown in other people's faces.

In the sky are flying wind goblins and shuttlecock cotton, and in another area on the ground there is another species - white fluff.

looks like an ordinary grass, with a lot of cotton wool growing on the top of the head, but they will not run away when the wind blows.

White fluffy, wind fairy, shuttlecock cotton, three kinds of Pokémon produce three different kinds of cotton, and the softness and toughness are very different.

The most perfect and comfortable fabric can be obtained after mixing and weaving, and different goods can be obtained after adjusting the ratio. Now those white puffs are being sown, and the cotton wool above their heads already contains a lot of seeds.

These seeds are rich in nutrients and can also be processed as special foods, which are said to have a physical fitness effect on people and Pokémon.

Some seeds are also roasted and dried, processed into dried fruit, and sold together with the dried fruit.

But more are sown on the land of Ximei. These seeds can bring nutrients to the earth, make the grass and trees more dynamic, and effectively improve the environment of Ximei area.

Cultivation is a hard job, let alone reclaiming wasteland in a land like Ximei. Women are not suitable for such things.

But the particularity of Shuttlecock Cotton and Bai Peng Peng means that they do not need to cultivate the land, they can just walk around with Bai Peng Peng.

You can also see the figures of children, but they are more playing with these magical creatures, and they are also covered with seeds in the end.

The Millennium Dragon is circling around in the sky, trying to control the wind as much as possible, but there will still be a few wind fairies floating out of the range, and at this time, someone has to be sent to find them.

The air cavalry of the Hundred Beasts is based on a thousand-year-old dragon. Each thousand-year-old dragon and the four people on its back are grouped into a group. There are two groups of people who are responsible for bringing back the scattered wind fairies outside.

But now there seems to be a little accident, a thousand-year-old dragon is flying here at high speed.

"Sister Olga! Something went wrong! A giant pig ran out of the barren hills near the direction of Jiuli. According to this momentum, it will rush here!"

"pig?"

"Yeah, it's a big wild boar! Bazooka and Millennium Dragon's attacks don't work at all." Most of the members of the air cavalry had participated in the original treasure hunt, so they knew the true body of the Millennium Dragon.

It's just that no one is going to publicize this, they are just a strange bird named Millennium Dragon to the outside world.

As for why the bird calls the dragon, this is a personal preference, can others manage it?

Olga looked in the direction of his finger, and a huge white wild boar was rushing towards here, and the huge smoke and dust rolled up behind him also caught the attention of the Wano country residents who were combing the hair of the wind goblin below.

"That's the mountain god! Why is the mountain * angry again?!"

The giant species native to Wano country, even if the longest fangs exposed at the corner of the mouth are nearly two meters, the leader of the thousand-year-old dragon is not here, and the largest of the remaining thousand-year-old dragons is much inferior to that pig.

The height of more than ten meters makes it even a head taller than the average giant.

Because of its huge size and rare white fur, this wild boar is regarded as a mountain * in Wano. It also got angry many years ago. At that time, it destroyed most of the town and ate many people in its stomach. .

In the end, it was cut in half by Koyuki Oden with a knife to save the person in his stomach, but because Oden's knife was too fast, the pig's vitality was too tenacious, and it actually came back to life after being stitched up.

Needless to say, the people below have already begun to escape, but in this unobstructed wasteland they have nowhere to escape.

"Sister, what should I do?"

"What should I do? Of course I will stop it! The things here have just been repaired, but you can't let it be destroyed. You guys take the shuttlecock cotton and the wind goblins away! You guys go to contain it, don't be afraid, that guy Can't fly!"novelusb.Com

Below is the newly repaired cotton ranch and the dormitory of Pokémon such as the wind goblin. If the wild boar is allowed to rush in, then things will be troublesome, and the recent efforts will be in vain.

And the residents below may also suffer heavy losses. The threat posed by wild boars to people is among the best among all kinds of beasts.

Hundreds of beast air cavalymen launched their first combat mission, but the wild boar was too rough and fleshy, and the bombardment from above failed to stop its pace, but stimulated its fierceness.

Olga tried to deceive it by creating a city wall with an illusion, but the wild boar, the wild boar, had no intention of stopping.

"Why is this thing going crazy!"

"It seems to be looking for its child," replied the Millennium Dragon that Olga was riding. It was the son of the patriarch of the Millennium Dragon, and the reason why he could speak was because it ate the primitive man not long ago. fruit.

Chapter 189 is a pig, and he has to find a way to repay his debts

As an ancient species of human fruit, there is no record of its related abilities in the illustrated book. Rather than giving it to a human, it is better to let animals eat it.

Chopper, who has eaten the fruit of everyone, has proved this. The fighting power of the Millennium Dragon itself is much stronger than that of an ordinary reindeer.

Although the Millennium Dragon has the transformation form of the Archaeopteryx, the transformation of Arceus is not a devil fruit. Although the transformation form is unique due to physical limitations, the directly transformed creature can still eat the devil fruit.

Those who gain abilities by modifying the fruit cannot eat the second fruit.

However, most of the people who obtained the ability without eating the fruit have no intention of looking for another fruit to eat. Fear of sea water and sea tower stones is a very fatal debuff, at least for ordinary abilities, they will not be moved by it.

Facts have proved that this primitive man fruit is very close to the type of modern man. Although it is stronger and rude, the level of intelligence has been improved.

After eating the primitive man fruit, it is no longer difficult for it to speak, which also allows the air cavalry of the beasts to have better communication.

It was able to understand the meaning of the roar of the big wild boar, and only then did it figure out the reason for its madness and convey it to Olga.

"What does it do to find children running this place."

But after figuring out the reason, how to stop it becomes simple, even if he is huge, it is still just a wild boar, and its intelligence is not comparable to humans.

Zoroark's illusion is that even human beings who are not good at seeing, hearing and seeing can't see through it, let alone a wild boar. It didn't find that the city wall was fake before.

But the madness after losing the child made it slam into the city wall. What Olga hated the most was this kind of stunned youth. After all, her current illusion was fake.

It is easy to be broken when encountering a brute force Lengtouqing, but if you know where the root cause is, it will be easy to handle.

"You hang on to it for a while! I'll be right back!" nOVelusb.cOM said that he drove his thousand-year-old dragon who wanted to escape to fly, and figured out the appearance of this mountain * child from their mouths, and then made a fake little wild boar with an illusion.

This time, she deceived the mountain * for the time being, but this is not a long-term solution, she can't always maintain this illusion.

"Where did that little pig go?"

The pig called the mountain * seems to have a lot of symbolic meaning in Wano country, so that last time Kozuki Oden cut it in half to rescue people and sewed it back.

So they are thinking about how to send the pig back. According to past experience, they just need to find the little pig.

"It seems to be saying to your phantom. Stop chasing strange things, it will be troublesome if you get kidnapped"

"Go and call the wind goblins and see which one is missing."

The importance of being able to speak a foreign language is thoroughly reflected at this moment, because the Millennium Dragon can understand the meaning of this pig, and everything becomes easier.

Occasionally, a few wind goblins will run out of the range of the pasture. If it does not rain, they will run back when the wind stops.

And during the time of disappearance, they usually do some mischievous behavior, such as throwing hair randomly in other people's homes, resulting in cotton all over the house.

But this did not arouse those people's disgust. Cotton is a good thing. The cotton discarded by a wind fairy is enough for them to make a small cotton hat. They call it the gift of the cotton god.

According to the character of those wind goblins, if one of them really floated into the deep mountains, and then looked at the little pig for fun, it is very possible to lead it out.

Because of the characteristics of wind goblins and shuttlecocks fluttering in the wind and wind goblins like to play pranks, it is necessary to name them every night, and you have to make sure that they all come back.

So those wind goblins are all numbered, just click on the name to find out if there is one missing.

As for how to find the missing wind fairies, other wind fairies can smell the unique breath of their companions, so just bring other wind fairies to find them.

Those who left with the wind goblin quickly discovered the missing wind goblin after being called, and there were more than one.

"Miss, the 18th, 29th and 31st are gone."

"Then go find it, do you think I have time?"

's subordinates looked at the bucket of fried cotton seeds that Olga was holding, and thought about it for a while, but he was still too embarrassed to say that she was very idle. At this time, he was also very envious of the life of a cadre.

In fact, the competition within the Beast Pirates is fierce. If you want to get the same status as the other party, then challenge is the best way.

Olga is no longer an unchallenged reserve after several years of training, but those who tried to challenge her were played badly by her illusion.

Challenging other cadres is getting beaten up, challenging Olga may turn into beating yourself up. Not only is it painful, but it is also embarrassing.

And Olga really couldn't move her hands, she had to maintain her illusion ability within this range, but other than that, it didn't matter.

Making an illusion to trick the giant pig is now easy for him.

In the end, they found a white wild boar in the barn next to it. Compared with its huge parent, its stature can be said to be very pocket-sized.

But here comes the problem, this warehouse is a warehouse for storing Bai Pengpeng seeds, and now those seeds have been eaten up by the three wind fairies and piglets.

Judging from their bulging bellies, this wild boar may be the main force.

"Is this thing so edible? It will be delivered in a few days." Looking at the empty warehouse, Olga's heart was a little complicated.

"Sister, I don't think it will take long to eat it, otherwise we" He took out the knife from his waist and gestured towards the wild boar, maybe it would be too late to kill the pig to get the seeds.

"Forget it, it's all eaten by pigs, and others probably won't be able to eat it. Let others decide what to do with this pig."

Originally, this matter was very simple, just find the little piglet and send it back. After all, these things were made by these lost wind goblins.

Because of the uncontrollable wind power, this kind of thing happens from time to time, but this little piglet eats up the goods, but it is not certain. Although Bai Pengpeng will regenerate new seeds in a day or two, but the delay is For sure.

And the big wild boar's rough skin and thick flesh, tenacious vitality, and its own symbolic meaning, she felt that some people might be interested in him.

Nowadays, there are more and more strange animals in the Beast Pirates, but there are no such big ones.

Chapter 190 Wild boars will never be slaves unless they are covered with food and shelter

When Arceus came here, the wild boar, the mountain god, had already lied down. In the illusion, it thought that he had returned to the deep mountains, and the little wild boar was still digesting the seeds produced by Bai Pengpeng in its stomach.NOVELuSb.com

The first thing Arceus did when he came here was to send away the wind goblins that were surrounding him. They were more courageous than other Pokémon, and they surrounded him directly at his feet, making him almost unable to do anything. foot.

"Okay, let's go back to the room, be careful you'll be blown away for a while."

After sent those wind fairies back, he continued to look at the huge wild boar.

You can see some charred scars on the back, which are the traces left by the previous rocket bombing, but for it, it is completely a skin injury, and it has healed naturally in the past.

Not long ago, there was a daring wind fairy playing in its nose, and it was almost blown away in one breath.

"Kojiro, when did this wild boar start to be called a mountain god?"

This time, he brought Kojiro, a local, too, and there are some things that only these locals are familiar with.

"I heard this legend from my grandfather when I was a child. It's been a long time anyway. No one knows how long this wild boar has lived. Last time it destroyed a lot of houses."

"Even so, do they still regard this pig as a mountain god?"

"Yes, Lord Arceus, because this wild boar has no natural enemies in Wano, most people think that it is a * born in the mountains of Wano.

If we can conquer it, then in the eyes of ordinary people, the will of the mountains here has approved us. "

Controllable beliefs are conducive to the rule of the ruling class, and this mountain * wild boar will not leave the mountains on weekdays, so they let the pig live there.

"Very good Olga, dispel the illusion."

"clear."

She snapped her fingers. This was not an action required to dispel the illusion, but to show the surroundings that she had done so, but in the sight of the mountain * wild boar, everything that was originally turned to ashes.

But before it could react, it felt a terrifying pressure coming from the side, and its legs that were lying on the ground were so weak that it couldn't stand up.

This kind of fear has only been experienced once since it grew to this size. Last time, the man with two swords made it feel terrible, but compared to this time, that person is nothing at all.

"Don't be afraid, this is your child, it has nothing to do, and it has eaten a lot of our goods."

Two vines rolled up the little piglet and placed it beside the mountain * wild boar.

"The lost goods will cause us losses, so now I give you two paths, one is to serve, the other is to beat you to the service, which one do you want to choose?"

Arceus took a fancy to the symbolism of this pig in Wano country. After all, taming the mountain * is also a feat. When the time comes, it should be handed over to Kojiro, which should be able to resolve the resistance of many people through operational activities.

And this size can cause a lot of damage even if it only rams around. When the time comes, this pig will be transformed. With this size, it is a ready-made war weapon.

It won't do much in the face of the strong, but in the future battlefield, this is a real killer.

But this matter is not urgent, you can put it aside for a while, after all, there is no major battle right now.

Although a lot of food is needed, the waste produced every day can also produce a lot of fertilizer, and it is quite cost-effective to round up.

In the face of an extremely powerful individual, it is normal for animals to choose to surrender. This mountain * wild boar has no interest in being beaten. A few years ago, that person was able to cut it in half. Roasted suckling pig.

But it asks a very important question for pigs.

"Do you want to eat?"

In the end, the mountain * wild boar surrendered on the condition that the Hundred Beasts Pirates would be responsible for its food in the future, and was then assigned to Kojiro. With this wild boar and the Cati dog, his own safety is basically no problem. .

In addition, during a few days of training, Jhin thought that Kojiro had some talent in swordsmanship, but he had not experienced any rigorous training since he was a child, which led to wasting this talent.

But Kojiro has nothing to regret about this, he is very satisfied with the current treatment.

A few days later, when he rode the giant wild boar back to the vicinity of the Flower City, it really caused a stir among the local people. Many people thought that the wild boar was going crazy again.

But when they found out the truth, just as Kojiro thought, more people accepted his chamber of commerce, even some old stubborn who resisted foreign products before changed their minds, they felt that this was the will of the gods.

And Kojiro ran a campaign to collect juice bottle caps to exchange for prizes. As long as you can collect all types of bottle caps, you can exchange for a 100 gold bonus from here.

The purpose of the event is to advertise, and the bonus can really be redeemed, but it is impossible to collect all of them in a short time. It is not that he did not make them, but that the two rarest bottle caps are in his own hands.

He will not release these two bottle caps until the event achieves the desired effect.

On the other side, near the Rabbit Bowl factory, Quinn came here alone.

It was already late at night, and even the factory had already shut down. There are not enough people willing to work in the factory for three shifts, so there are no workers in the factory at this time.

And Quinn came near the drain.

"Little cuties? Are you there, I'm here again."

Under his shout, a mass of colored sludge gradually gathered in the cracks of the ground, and several stinky sludges in the form of Alola area crawled out following the sound.

"Bai Duo?"

"Bringed, brought, for you." He said and opened two boxes, one was the bitter Pokémon Baofen, and the other was the toxic waste produced in his experiments.

Since the smelly slime, those wastes have become the fodder for the smelly slime, and Quinn has also become a member of the Beast Pirates who has the best relationship with these smelly slimes.

The toxin crystals generated by Alola's stinky mud are very in line with his mind. That is, he has never seen complex toxins. He has discovered dozens of toxins that he does not know, giving him more plague bombs. Configuration.

Seeing the stinky slimes eating happily, Quinn took out another large syringe, but there was no needle.

"I still need some research items, who will you come this time?"

His target is the body secretions of the smelly mud. In addition to the toxin crystals, the secretions of the smelly mud also contain some unknown viruses, which are also things he is researching.

Because the Alola Smelly Mud does not secrete these liquids, it has to be drawn out with a syringe.
