

Arceus 24

Chapter 24 Commitment

"Uncle Ludo died in the hands of the CPs of the World Government in order to divert the missing from the Navy, Brother Avanisha and a group of pirates perished together.

What did we do wrong, from the day we were born, we were part of the Lunaria clan, we did nothing, but ordinary people wanted to trade us for bounties, the world government wanted to take us for research, and wanted more strength.

That pirate only lasted for less than a quarter of an hour, but Shaina and I went through a full half a year! "

Jin recounted the things he had experienced, and the disappearance of those names represented the departure of his relatives, including his and Shaina's parents.

The torture brought about by the endurance experiment is very painful. The unknown drug flows from the blood to every corner of the body, and every skin can feel the pain of the bone. He even forgot how he persevered. There is only one thought, he wants to live.

He wants revenge, he wants to find a land where the Lunarians can live freely.nOvelUsb.Com

These are the things he buried in the bottom of his heart. He is usually under a lot of pressure, and he can always see familiar smiles and hateful faces in his sleep, which is why he looked at Quinn with a fierce look at that time.

He didn't like all the researchers at that institute, even if Quinn's project had little to do with them.

The flames behind him were burning, and several cracks appeared on the side of the boat under the pressure of his palm. Under the action of the sea breeze, the waves stirred up by the waves were carried into the air, and the unknown water trail fell to Jhin's feet and wet the piece. deck.

He has seen countless betrayals and conspiracies, seen the horror of greed, and experienced countless battles and escapes. Together, it is easy for people to ignore one problem, age.

At this time, Jhin was only fourteen years old, and Shaina was a few months younger than him. She had just passed her fourteenth birthday not long ago. She was lying on the cold test bed in the research institute with only walls. .

They are only two and a half old children, but they have carried things they should not carry in advance.

"I'm sorry, Lord Holy Beast, for making you listen to too much nonsense, I shouldn't complain about it."

"It's nothing, it's not a good thing to be too worried, but Shaina, come here, you've been listening there for a long time."

Arceus didn't look back, but said behind him in a very positive tone, even if he lost most of the slate, his body's perception was very keen.

"There is no holy beast, I just want to call Jin to eat."

"Does that require tears, and Abel, your tears are already shed."

"I didn't cook a little curry with a lot of ingredients. It was spicy when I cut the onion." "That's sea water, Lord Holy Beast."

Both of them have their own reasons for rejecting all this, but they lost all their relatives at the age of fourteen, so how can they not be sad when they recall it.

"Shaina, Abel, listen carefully, the blood debt must be paid in blood, and everything they owe the Lunaria family must be paid back with interest, I promise in the name of Arceus, you will repay Witness the glory of Lunaria burning on the red land."

The people worshipped the god, and the * responded. At the beginning, he gave the Lunalia power with his own purpose, and the Lunaria also protected him to the last person, even if only Jin and Shaina were left. , they did not give up, this pay is worth a commitment.

The flames behind the two illuminated the deck. At this moment, Lunalia's flames added a new kind of fire with hope as nourishment.

Arceus became a psychiatrist and helped the two to express their emotions, but the matter was not over yet, and Jhin's state made him feel that something was not right.

The shadows of childhood are sometimes not cured in their entire lives. They are not considered shadows. The age that should be full of youth saw the darkness of the world. .

"Abel, what happened to your expression after the torture just now?"

"Lord Holy Beast, I can't tell you that feeling, but I felt very comfortable after that."

Psychological Stress Disorder Syndrome, it is obvious that Jin has left some shadows on his mind after experiencing these things, and by inflicting the pain he has experienced on others, he can relieve his inner pressure through torture.

This can be explained, why the normal timeline Quinn has a nickname for Jhin "a pervert who loves to torture others".

Without the assistance of Arceus, Shaina would have died in the research institute, and the heart of Jhin, who had lost all his clansmen, was twisted so that it was not particularly strange.

Jin uses this behavior as a way to vent his emotions.

"It's okay to vent properly, but don't be immersed in that feeling. You have to control your body, not your body to manipulate your consciousness." This is a tragic world, and the Holy Mother cannot survive here.

In other words, it doesn't matter how miserable the captured enemy ends up in the end. If Jhin's emotions can be vented in this way, the value will be maximized, as long as he doesn't develop into a misery if he doesn't torture others.

"Go and rest. You can tell me anything you want to say. It's almost time. I'll go and see how Kaido and the others are doing."

After experiencing Jhin's methods, Priert explained what he knew like a tofu in a bamboo tube.

The South China Sea Naval Branch was indeed destroyed by John, and he had indeed been to the South China Sea, but he had already left.

In fact, the fall of the naval branch was earlier than reported in the newspapers, but his fruit ability staged a stage play, which delayed the time.

"I met Captain John in the Chambord Islands, he valued my strength, invited me to join his John Pirates, and gave me this order.

He asked me to pretend to be him to recruit crew here, to attract the attention of the navy and other pirates, while he went to find the real treasure. "

"Hey, drama bastard, we're not interested in your experience with John, what we're asking is, where is John, do you understand?" Quinn looked at him for a long time, but didn't say a word. Can not help but a little impatient.

"Do you want me to find that perverted kid and come back and talk to you?"

"No, no! By the way, Captain John gave me something, I'll find him with that, it's in the middle of my hat, it's a small piece of paper!"

Quinn tore off his hat, and inside was a piece of paper that fluttered north.

"This is...John's life card? Brother Kai, it's much easier to find John with this."

Blu Bleu~

Blu Bleu~

At this time, the phone bug that had been found from him earlier also rang.

Thank you for the 1000 points reward of Wandering Live

100 points reward for book friends 20200429155816541

Vandalieu's 100 point reward