

Arceus 321

Chapter 321 Zeraora's official match is of course Lucario

Participating in the banquet in Wano country makes the pirates uninterested. Only some people can get used to that kind of bland food. The carnival belonging to the beasts after the war is what they are most looking forward to.

And the revelry after the war didn't just mean good wine and food, but the ability to be rewarded was what they were most looking forward to.

"Yo hoo! Little ones, are you all ready!"

In the banquet hall inside Onishima, Quinn took his microphone and started to preside over the banquet, and his round body kept twisting on it under the dancers of several people, showing his own graceful dancing posture.

"Ready!"

"Very good! Everyone is old, so I won't talk nonsense. The ugly thing is that the pensions for the dead in the front have been distributed. Lord Arceus said, whoever dares to bully the families of those people, don't blame him for being rude.

But next, let's have the brave warriors in this war! Next up we'll get three new Favorites! "

"Oh!"

Spotlight was searching for targets in the interior of the ghost island under Quinn's orders.

"First of all, Holdem! He defeated seven samurai in the previous battle in Wano! And he was the first to break through the defense line of the samurai and reach Miss Yamato!"

Two searchlights hit Holdem, who was the candidate reported by the previous cadres.

The lottery process for these complete ability acquirers has long since ended. Today, I just take this opportunity to announce it and give them the ability.

"In addition, at the Rabbit Bowl Mining Field, Deputy Warden Dave Ge also made great achievements in suppressing the rebellion. He assisted Babanuki to solve a large number of rebel pirates!"

"And finally, the fur girl Momo! She defeated a large number of members of Orochi's command in the... um... she was in the clearing battle at Oden Castle!"

It's not that he forgot his words, but that there seems to be an extra card in the small host card he prepared in his hand. In terms of merit, what Momo has done in this battle is far inferior to Holdem and Dave Godot. .

But her relationship is relatively hard. Since she brought Zeraola back to Zou, the relationship between the two has made great progress. Originally, only Davego and Holdem were on the list this time, and the instant is was added temporarily.

Beasts have the ability to rise to the top, but the so-called absolute fairness does not exist. For example, Yamato's daughter, Jack and Maria, children who have been raised since childhood, their futures are destined to be different.

When the searchlight hit Susan, she was holding a bunch of burnt squid in her hand. She didn't understand what happened. She was added to the list temporarily, and Zeraora didn't even tell her about it.

And what they get is also different, Holdem - transformation form, flame lion, male lion form, the shape is similar to the ordinary lion, but with red and yellow flame-like mane.

And what Davego got was a fruit. At the beginning, he got two Devil Fruits from the auction, one of which is a bug fruit - the form of a gunner.

The remaining one was determined to be the ancient species of worm fruit - the shape of the king's worm after Davego's personal experience, and then it was transformed by Arceus into the worm fruit phantom species - armored warrior form.

The shape of the armored warrior looks like a giant worm standing up. In addition to two huge arms with giant claws, there are two pairs of claws to assist in feeding.

It is a Pokémon with dual properties of water and insects obtained by transforming insect and insect fruits with water drop slate. It is covered with very hard scales, which is said to be as hard as diamond.

In this way, the safety of the mining farm is a little more.

But the most special thing was Moment, the transformation she received was different from Davego and Holdem. nOvelusb.com

Her transformation is based on the changes in the genes in her body under the guidance of Arceus. It is precisely because she is a wolf fur tribe that she has wolf genes in her body to get this transformation.

often appears in some books with Zeraora, the Waveguide Pokémon-Lucario.

"Live well with Zeraora, this is a wedding gift for you in advance, take advantage of this power."

"Thank you for your strength, but it's still too early for Arceus-sama to get married."

"So it was given to you in advance. I think it's a matter of time for you."

The combined strength of Holdem and Davego can't compare to that of a single person. If it weren't for Zeraora's relationship, she would not have been able to get this kind of power.

The change in appearance when using the ability is not big. For Moment, it is dyed a color. In addition, there is a thorn in the center of the palm and chest.

Lucario's biggest enhancement to her is the power of the waveguide it has.

The waveguide is a special thing. For Lucario, who can feel the power of the waveguide, everything has its waveguide.

By detecting the wave guide emitted by the opponent, it can read the thoughts and actions of the opponent, and through the sensory fluctuations, even the appearance of the invisible opponent can be sensed.

After this kind of power is combined with the power of the native land, it greatly enhances one's own perception, and the power of the waveguide combined with the perception can be more useful, not to mention that the waveguide has its own destructive power.

As for more applications, it depends on how she develops it herself. All in all, this is an ability with a high ceiling.

"Okay, don't stand foolishly, Divine Favors! Use your abilities to feel the mighty power of Lord Arceus, the carnival has just begun! Next is the new givers, let's see the new ones Who is the lucky one!"

The Divine Favor is just the beginning, not the end, and seeing the new capable ones, the enthusiasm of the beasts has reached its peak. Finally, under the coaxing of a group of people, Holdem and Davego are the newcomers. The benefactors engaged in a duel.

On the other hand, he is completely out of the picture. As for why, it is now a company team building, and it's just a joke among colleagues, a joke about the leader's wife. In a private company like Beasts, you may not see tomorrow's sun.

The flashing electric light on Zeraora has already explained everything, and the instant has returned to the field as it was, so while giving the giver the ability, Davego and Holdem also started their own showdown.

Both of them have just acquired abilities and have not yet mastered their powers. They are just using their animal body to test their fists. Although Davego's abilities are transformed from fruits, he has a great advantage in battle. .

In terms of physical fitness, the armored warrior is stronger than the flame lion. At this time, Holdem's claws can't hurt the opponent's incomparably hard shell.

"Bite him! Bite where he has no shell! You are a lion!"

"Catch Davego under him! I've beaten you all to win!"

Chapter 322 The pressured Kojiro asks for resignation

Pirates are also a high-pressure group. They will always face battles. Everyone has the emotion of fear, but they are big and small, so hedonism is very popular in the pirate group.

The rewards you get will basically be spent very quickly, and there are only a few pirates who can save money. Tobacco and alcohol have always been popular materials among pirates, but the high-level officials of the beasts are somewhat different.

Alcohol consumption is basically owned by Kaido alone. As for tobacco, except for Quinn who can't live without cigars, no one else has such a big hobby. The third type of consumption is snacks.

However, this aspect has no effect on ordinary pirates. In addition to the consumption of tobacco and alcohol, gambling is also one of their major interests.

At least the bets within the beasts are real bets without shady scenes. Kaido is the only dealer. The purpose of this bet is to let his subordinates entertain.

Compared with the general dice method, there are two ways that the beasts like the most. One is the roulette, which is the result of the reward mechanism left by Arceus, and the purpose is to master the game of roulette.

And the other is gambling, which makes them more excited.

Every time someone who has acquired a new ability will start their first duel under this kind of crowd.

The arena has been vacated, and Holdem in the lion-man state and Davego in the bug-man state are fighting meeleely in the most primitive way.

Although they belong to the same pirate group, their trash talk never stopped.

"Come on, I think you're just a kitten, be careful to break your teeth."

"Cut, what's so embarrassing about the bugs hiding behind the shell, come out if you have the ability!"

But in the end, Davego won. He doesn't think the bugman's state is too ugly like Maria. He is a pragmatist, with an extremely hard shell, and the extra four arms allow him to take advantage of this kind of hand-to-hand combat. Take advantage.

As long as he protects his soft abdomen, Holdem can't do anything about him. In the end, Davego grabbed Holdem with six arms and won the game.

This game is not the end, but a beginning. After them, the givers are given. In the end, some ordinary pirates are also added. Fighting has become a form of entertainment within the beasts.

What kind of grievances must be resolved in the arena, and it is a serious violation of the discipline of the beasts to play tricks in private.

Yamato was originally a spectator, but in the end she was thrown directly by Kaido.

Looking at Yamato who suddenly appeared in the ring, the pirates of the beasts were a little overwhelmed for a while.

But then Kaido's voice came over.

"Listen to the little ones, those who are still in the ring can go and defeat her, and they will get the reward they've been dreaming of, you don't need to keep your hands, just do it! You don't need to treat her as Lao Tzu's daughter, she Now is your enemy!"

Then they threw down A Jian No. 5, who was originally next to the seat, and they hesitated for a moment, seeing that Arceus did not stop him, and Kaido was still urging, and finally someone took action.

"I'm sorry Yamato-san, this is an order from Boss Kaido!"

Then he was brought down with a stick. Under the training of a ghost like Kaido, fighting back has become Yamato's instinct.

"Idiot, that's Lao Tzu's daughter, I'm letting you guys go together!"

The elite soldiers are still ordinary members. When the giver and the benefactor have not ended, it is a fantasy for them to meet Yamato one-on-one.

With Kaido's reminder, they launched a special group fight. In Kaido's satisfied laughter and Yamato's slightly angry and helpless condemnation, Onigiri's carnival continued.

In the days that followed, Hundred Beasts issued a new decree with Komatsu Riwa as a puppet, and the country of Wano had undergone earth-shaking changes in just one month.

As Jhin said, Guangyueri and everything he got were in line with the general's treatment, but they lacked freedom, even if Kawamatsu wanted to see Guangyueri and got his permission.

However, Jhin is not too strict in this regard, they can see Koyue, Rihe every day, but the time they spend together is limited.

But one day after that, the Beast Pokémon Center welcomed a patient.

"Mr. Kojiro? Is there anything wrong with your body?"

"Ah this. Hair loss, insomnia, and a little heart palpitations. I'm going to have a comprehensive examination."

Kojiro walked in with a haggard look on his face. He had a very fulfilling month this month. When he first became the head of the Shinsengumi group, the remaining old people in his family were moved to tears. This is the biggest proof of the re-emergence of the family. .

After all, this meant that a businessman family re-entered the political arena, but then Kojiro found that he was too naive. Under the new policy, his chamber of commerce quickly spread to the entire Wano country in the name of a parastatal enterprise, and many things had to be decided by him personally. Just do it.

And the same thing happened with the Shinsengumi, a bunch of things were thrown on him like that, and at the same time, Binggoro didn't let him go. Since he injured Binggoro with Yanhui that day, Binggoro has entangled him. novelusb.com

He didn't know what he was thinking after Kozukihito succeeded to the throne, so he came to Kojiro with a sword and practiced with him when he had nothing to do.

According to Binggoro's statement, Kojiro's physical fitness is too poor, such a powerful swordsmanship will actually hurt himself, in order to prevent this move from being lost, he has to start training Kojiro.

It just happened that Jhin was busy with other things recently. As a soldier, Goro's strength was enough, so Hundred Beasts let him train Kojiro.

So under the double pressure of work and training, he felt more and more haggard.

The process of the physical examination was quick, and the doctor also came to a conclusion based on his physical condition - overworked.

"Overworked?"

"Well, your body is a little overworked. It's time to rest a little more recently. Let it go first if you can."

So the next day, Kojiro came to Onishima with the diagnosis report and handed in his resignation application for the head of the Shinsengumi.

"Resign?"

"It's such an Arceus-sama. The little one is really not good at this aspect of management. It's too different from business, and my energy is not enough. I should leave this job to other capable people."

The matter of the Shinsengumi would cost him a lot of energy, but the results were often unsatisfactory, so he made this decision.

"In this case. You can hang on to this name first, and then you don't need to take care of things there. There will be a few assistants to take over your work, so just concentrate on your own affairs."

"Got it, I'll do it well at the Chamber of Commerce."

Chapter 323 The Dao and Dakou True God

For the time being, the head of the Shinsengumi should make him a local person. After all, the Shinsengumi is a violent organization responsible for internal security in Wano Kingdom. If the pirates of the beasts are an external army, the Shinsengumi is an internal force. of armed police.

It is more suitable for Kojiro to be the general manager, but if he is not energetic enough, he can change his name to the official name. Professionals in this field can still be found.

Kojiro was very satisfied with the result, after all, he didn't even have time to play dogs before.

At the same time, according to Arceus's request, he found a deputy himself, and Musashi, who was originally the head of security, was honorably turned into a regular.

The City of Flowers and Oden Castle are both under reconstruction, and the lives of most residents have not changed. It will take some time for the impact of the new decree to take effect.

For example, Kentaro's family continued to live their own farming and pastoral life as usual. Kentaro went to milk the big milk tank as usual. When he was a teenager, he had become the main labor force of the family.

At this time, the family was saving money for him. Because he is almost at the age when he should get married, but the process is still relatively long.

There were milk bottles stacked on the trolley. He skillfully squeezed the milk from the big milk jug, and then went to help them prepare new feed. After spending a few years together, he gradually understood what the big milk jug prefers to eat.

At this time, he was collecting berries in the bushes, but this time he found a strange thing on the ground, a fruit that looked like a mushroom, but the red and green color made him feel very strange.

"This thing should be poisonous, right?"

The brighter the fruit and the fungus, the more poisonous it is. He didn't dare to feed others or eat the wild fruit that he couldn't tell apart, but he kept it away.

Whether it is herbs or poisons, they can get a lot of money from the beasts. They usually collect medicines on the mountain, and his intuition tells him that this thing is worth a lot of money.

He took this fruit with him when he was delivering milk.

In the purchase station of Taoyuan Farm, a pirate with a prosthetic limb is counting crops. He is in his sixties this year and joined the Beast Pirates as an older pirate eleven years ago.

Later, a leg was blown off in a battle, and since then he has come here to work as a pensioner.

"Uncle Hafat, this is today's milk."

"Understood, I have written it down, just wait for the money at the end of the month."

"By the way, uncle, I found a strange thing today, how much is this worth?" He put down the backpack behind him and started rummaging.

"Herbs? Ordinary herbs aren't worth much. You didn't go up the mountain today. We can't do ordinary mushrooms..."nOvelusb.COM

Before he finished speaking, he saw the weird mushroom that Kentaro took out.

"What's the matter, Uncle Hafat? Don't you accept this?"

"Guru~"

swallowed his saliva, and then Hafat said: "Yes, of course, the boy Kentaro has made a lot of money. This is a big treasure worth 500 gold."

The weird color, the spiral pattern, there is no doubt that this is the devil fruit.

The price of Wano is not the same as the outside world, but the beasts have long stipulated that if someone takes out a devil fruit, they can be given 500 gold as a reward, and their family will receive special protection from the beasts.

This is a fantastic amount in Wano Country, Kentaro never thought that an ordinary "poisonous mushroom" would be worth so much.

Although Kentaro doesn't know the goods, Hafat has no plans to secretly hide the Devil Fruit to eat or exchange money for himself. Although this location is reserved for disabled pirates, it has also passed the internal review of the Arceus religion.

Their own quality is higher than ordinary pirates, and there is also a notice on it, but Kentaro has not seen it. Later, he found out the truth and he will not look good if he grows up, and there is a very critical problem.

His own talent is just like that, otherwise he wouldn't have installed an ordinary prosthesis and retired. Those with fighting talent are basically transformed like Scotch and continue to struggle in the front line.

He didn't have the habit of saving money. He could still tell the difference between being happy for a while and relying on beasts to live the rest of his life.

At this time, he had achieved Mandelfish's life goals and retired smoothly.

However, Mandelfish is far from reaching the age of retirement, and as he has more and more things in his hands, he also has greater ambitions, that is, to retire smoothly as a major cadre, and it is still far from it.

"I took the things first. The amount of 500 gold is not small. You have to apply for it and then approve it. I will send the money to you."

About half a month later, Hafat came to Kentaro's house and saw a stack of gold coins on the table, and they were still a little unbelievable.

"Five or five hundred gold?"

"Of course, it's all here, you can count yourselves, and there's this."

Saying that, Hafat took out another small sign.

"You can choose to join Hundred Beasts to be a pirate, or go to the Shinsengumi group to be a samurai. Of course, if you don't like fighting, you can be a team leader in a weapons factory or something. Pick a career you like within the range."

Pirates, samurai, these Kentaro are not interested, he does not want to fight and kill, and the factory is too far away from where he lives, and finally he made an unexpected answer.

"Boy, there is only one chance, are you sure?"

"Sure, Uncle Hafat, let me be your deputy at the acquisition station."

As a person who goes to the purchasing station every day to exchange money for agricultural and animal husbandry products, he thinks that the purchasing station is a great career. This huge sum of money has directly realized financial freedom for his family. A job close to home has made him very satisfied. .

"That's it, I thought you wanted to be a samurai."

"That was a childhood dream, and dreams will change."

And the fruit that made Kentaro's family rich overnight has now arrived in the treasure house of Onishima, the Renren fruit phantom beast species - the form of the great entrance.

In addition to this fruit, Kaido also obtained another powerful fruit through trading. An orange persimmon-like fruit was also placed in the box - dog and dog fruit phantom beast species - the form of the true * of the mouth.

"Ugh, two phantom beasts, it's really a big gain."

"Makotsu. Kaido, the wolf * of ice, give me that fruit, I want to try something."

"What are you going to do? This is a powerful fruit that cost a lot to get back."

"A little try, but I don't know if it will work."

Chapter 324 Ideal and Real, Yamato's Future Development

"As you wish, but be careful, it's not easy to find such a powerful Eudemons."

People will not despise their own property too much, and Kaido will naturally not despise the more capable people under his command. For Arceus, transforming the devil fruit is far more labor-saving than transforming a person, so the beasts have been around. Collect Devil Fruits.

And the existence of the Millennium Dragon Faerun has shown that the transformation form and the ability of Devil Fruit can coexist, such an Eudemons naturally meets Kaido's needs.

But Arceus was thinking of another thing, this thing about the ability to give Yamato.

"Hey, Kaido, do you remember the ability to give Yamato that girl?"

"Oh? Have you decided what abilities to give her?"

"Not yet, but I have an idea for the time being. Those powerful enough Pokémon are called divine beasts. They are different from ordinary Pokémon, and all of them together have their own power."

Kaido pondered for three seconds, and finally picked up the wine gourd around his waist and started drinking.

"I don't understand what you said, can you make it simpler?"

"Divine beasts have their own representatives, life, destruction, earth, ocean, sky, time, space, these concepts are related to their power, if you want them to have complete power, these things cannot be omitted.

They are not created by a single power or form, but a complete will, I can force my creations, but that will not exert real power. "

Ordinary transformations can use that power as long as they are transformed, but the power of divine beasts is like that of tailed beasts, and if you want to use their full power, you must get their approval.

"That's clear, those powers still need a test, right?"

"That's pretty much what it means."

"Which one do you think Yamato is suitable for?"

"We still have to observe, but I can probably confirm it. It's similar to what I expected. After all, that ability is unique. I'm going to try to create a new carrier with that big mouth true god."

The topic of reached a stage where Kaido could not understand it again. This time he gave up and let Arceus toss it at will.

The power of Pokémon is unique, even if it is a divine beast. It would be good for Groudon and Kyogre not to fight together, let alone have their powers at the same time.

unless they were originally one.

The power that Arceus chose for Yamato was not an existing divine beast, but the disintegrated Daolong.

Legend has it that a powerful dragon-type Pokémon assisted the two brothers to create a new Hezhong area. Later, because of the differences between the brothers, the powerful Pokémon was divided into two and became the real dragon - Lacey. Ram, the ideal dragon - Zekrom.

Rounding up and then exaggerating a little bit. In another sense, this is also a small creation god, but the difference is very big. After all, it only changes the area that already exists.

Their power is the power of the only divine beast that can coexist, and when they split, the husk of Kyurem was born.

Lysiram and Zekrom represent the will and strength, and Kyurem represents the body, but Kyurem's character is too violent, so he plans to use the dragon's slate to transform the true * of the mouth, and let it take the body of the ice wolf dragon. pose to form a new body.

At the same time, use this body to carry the ideal and reality to create a new Daolong.

Yamato's slightly naive thinking is more and more like Zekrom's ideal. As for how to get the approval of the real Lysiram in the later stage, he believes that Yamato can do it.

Whether it is the power of Vibrant or the physique of the super true rookie, there is a meaning to prepare for this.

Ideal and reality are not absolute contradictions. Only when they reach a balance can real beauty be achieved, but what he is doing now is another thing. Devil fruit is afraid of water.

The artificial devil fruit is also afraid of water, that is to say, an indispensable part of the artificial devil fruit, that part carries the power of the devil fruit, and it has also become something that makes people weak in sea water.

And what he has to do is to keep his original power and remove that part of the harmful substances. Before, his power was not enough, but now his power has recovered a lot, so he started this attempt.nOvelUsb.com

A month passed in a blink of an eye. During this time, Yamato experienced what it means to be in dire straits, because Arceus has not appeared for a month, and the consequence of this is Kaido's intensified crazy training.

Another familiar morning, Yamato opened his eyes on time, then looked at the pocket watch in the shape of auspicious eggs, and the countdown began in his heart.

"543"

Before she could count down to one, a domineering arrogance rushed up.

According to Kaido's statement, there is no way to exercise the overlord color. If so, then feel the stronger overlord color, maybe it will become stronger, so Yamato will be baptized by the overlord color from Kaido every day.

Now, she naturally can't bear the impact of Kaido's overlord color, and every time she falls into a coma, she doesn't know how long she fainted, but she immediately looked around vigilantly after waking up.

Walls, ceilings, and floors could not bring her safety. At this time, a Kaido could rush out of any place and attack her, and her nerves were already tense to the extreme.

But this is of no use, not only the overlord color, the armed color and the knowledge color she can't compare with Kaido, her half-hearted knowledge color that has not been fully introduced will directly fail to face Kaido.

It was not until the afternoon that she could get a short rest when she was injured.

"Well, the physique of a real rookie is really easy to use, so that you can be trained more strictly."

"Where is the adoptive father? He has disappeared for a month, how could the adoptive father just leave without saying a word?"

"He's on Ghost Island, but he doesn't have time to talk to you. He's busy with other things now, but congratulations first, you passed the first stage of teaching."

Hearing Kaido say that, Yamato's eyebrows showed a hint of joy.

"Is the training over?"

"Of course not, which means our second round of training is about to begin!"

It took another month, and it was two full months before she saw Arceus again.

His experiment was successful, but now it's too exhausting for him.

In a nutshell, what he did was to use a steel wire to pull out all the dragon fruit seeds from a hole without destroying the overall structure of the dragon fruit.

And the pulp has not been mashed, and the seeds have not been broken.

This mainly relies on the power of the fairy-type slate and the evil-type slate. If you add the ghost and the super-type slate, then this matter will be much simpler.

Until he found more slates, he didn't intend to do such a laborious thing again.

Chapter 325 Are you really my father!

During this time, Arceus still stayed in the underground treasury on the ghost island. With the greetings from Rotom, he left here again, but just after he came out, he noticed some vibrations.

"What the * is Kaido doing?"

According to Wano Country's own historical records, earthquakes rarely occur here, and this shock was obviously transmitted from above. No one except Kaido would make such a movement.

When he came to the roof of Onishima, he happened to see Kaido's unique training. In fact, there was no difference in essence, that is, he was hanging Yamato in a fancy way, but Yamato seemed to see a savior.

"Father! Have you finally finished your business?"

No one will come here when Kaido is training. Jack and Maria, who have already started to lie next to them, are proof that they do not have the endurance of Yamato.

However, the appearance of Arceus distracted Yamato, Kaido would not stop because of such a thing, so Yamato also honorably joined the corpse queue.

"You're done? It looks like her training class is coming to an end."

For some reason, Yamato, who had survived for two months, suddenly felt the urge to cry when she heard this. She could only say that she had been through too hard this time.

"Father, what have you been doing? For two months, do you know how hard I have been working during this time?"

"Two months? Have I been busy that long?"

"Otherwise, you have delayed a lot of time this time."

Kaido, who had temporarily ended Yamato's practice, pinned the eight fasting vows back to his waist and walked to Yamato's side. Yamato used to worry about Kaido's surprise attack on her, but now that Arceus reappeared, she finally felt at ease.

"It really takes time, but it doesn't matter, Yamato, this is for you."

said that he threw the * of big mouth to Yamato, but this made Kaido feel a little wrong. If he remembered correctly, it seems that he found this fruit.

"Is this a devil fruit? I don't want to eat it, foster father, I don't want to be a landlubber."

Devil fruit is not difficult to identify, the strange patterns and lines are the only one in the sea, and you will have a certain understanding of them after a little study.

Yamato herself also has a dream of going to sea. She doesn't want to give up her qualification to swim because of her so-called ability. Maria herself is a landlubber, and her family has no talent for swimming, so she doesn't care about it at all.

But Yamato still pays attention to this issue.

"Don't worry, what do you think I've been doing for so long? This fruit won't make you lose your ability to swim, just eat it with confidence, but in terms of taste...I don't know what it's like."

That meticulous big project wasted a lot of his energy, he didn't pay attention to the smell at all.

"Hello, are you kidding me? Did you really solve that problem?"

Hearing what Arceus said, even Kaido showed an incredible expression on his face. The time when the Devil Fruit was born is too far away, and no one knows where the first Devil Fruit appeared.

But the weakness of Devil Fruit is well known. It's not that no one wants to solve this problem, but no one has succeeded. Arceus directly solved the problem of a century in two months.

"Of course not, I found the method, but there is no possibility of re-engraving, and I don't want to do that kind of thing for the time being."

The disadvantage of removing the fruit is one thing, and the disadvantage of wanting to remove the ability is another problem. This project is bound to be more complicated.

"Well, it's worthy of you. Okay, Yamato, don't waste your adoptive father's kindness, and eat it quickly."

After saying that, he directly took the Oguchi True God Fruit, and then stuffed it into Yamato's mouth.

"Hey, cough. Father! Do you want to choke me!"

"How is it possible, and then you can't notice the taste of the fruit, isn't it a good thing?"

"Like. Also?"

Kaido said this, and Yamato suddenly realized that she hadn't even noticed the taste of the fruit at all. Thinking of Maria's previous description of the fruit's taste, this seemed to be a good thing.

But according to common sense, Kaido would never do such a thing, and the fact is as she expected, Kaido's next sentence exposed his "sinister heart".

"Yamato, do you know what the biggest advantage of the Zoology is?"

"A physique like a beast?"

"Almost, but the more important thing is the powerful resilience. The fruit that your adoptive father has touched will only be stronger. The resilience brought by this phantom beast must be extremely terrifying, which also means that you are now more can be beaten."

Saying that, Kaido moved his muscles and bones, and there were bursts of empty sounds.

"Come on, let me exercise the power of the fruit for you in actual combat. Now go and mobilize that power and show me the power of the phantom beasts!"

This time, Kaido didn't use a mace or domineering, but in Yamato's incredible eyes, Kaido turned into a dragon man.

"Father, Father, are you serious?!"

"Well, of course it's serious, hurry up, or I won't give you a chance to transform!"

This is Kaido's logic, what you learn must be experienced, so teach Lei Ming to gossip, he will use the eight farts, and he will also use the overlord's color when teaching the overlord.

Arceus also meant to let Yamato quickly master the power, so he let Kaido's behavior go. The true * of big mouth was a special carrier transformed by him, so the appearance did not change much, but the teeth became sharper.

But looking at the changes in the field, Jack, who had recovered some physical strength, seemed to have an idea.

"Master Arceus, Lord Arceus."

"What's wrong?"

"That. I also want to get an ability like Yamato and Maria." The young ship king was still a little shy at this time, but as the only one in the trio who was poor, he was also a little jealous. .

"Yes, do you have any favorite animals?"

"Can an elephant? I think the elephant is the most powerful animal on land."

"Elephant. Yes, but you'll have to wait, unless you want to be a landlubber."

"Yes! I understand!"

In a sense, he was very easy to fool, and after he got a positive answer, he honestly sat aside and didn't say anything.

And far away in Paradise, something happened. During the two months that Arceus was in retreat, Mandelfish escorted a ship of weapons to the kingdom of Sikear on the island of Kraigana in the first half of the Great Route.

Chapter 326 Unexpected Discovery in Trading

Wano's arms trade has not been put down. Most of this part of the business relies on the underground black market in the New World. The underground industry in the New World has already been divided up. Except for the beasts of the year, no one can join it. .

There are specialized merchants for warehousing and shipping, and all the animals need to do is deliver goods.

As the business expands, they make more money after giving up some of the benefits to the middlemen.

However, some new customers will also let the Beast Pirates deliver separately, such as some people in the first half of the Great Route.

As the influence of the Great Pirate Era has become more and more intense, various countries, forces, and pirate groups have gradually increased their reliance on weapons. As long as some powder of wine iron ore is mixed into the sword, the weapon can be sharpened.

The barrels made by are mixed with some wine iron ore powder to improve the service life and durability, so the weapons of the Beast Pirates have always occupied the high-end share of the weapons market.

The standard weapons and weapons produced by the beasts from the navy have always been the most popular types, and Mandelfish is here to meet their new customers.

The Kingdom of Sikear, a country on the island of Kraigana in the first half of the Great Route, is a non-joined country. At this time, a war is taking place on the island, and a battle is taking place between the kingdom army and the rebel army.

The war started not long ago, and the cause was taxation. Two years ago, when Sikai V came to the throne, although he was a royal family, he was not satisfied. He wanted to join the world government and then become an allied country, and finally become a world noble.

One of the mandatory requirements for joining the world government is the extra celestial gold paid in. In order to collect the celestial gold, he began to start with taxation. In one year, the Kingdom of Sikeal has added various bizarre taxes.

But this is far from enough, not even enough money to bribe others. There are so many countries in the world. If you want to join the world government, no one will recommend you, and they will not help people to introduce people for no reason, so you have to use Bailey to open the way.

In this case, he chose to continue to increase taxes. The original tax made their life difficult, but they survived anyway, so no one chose to become a rebel.

But in this way, he broke through the limit of the people's tolerance. After a family was arrested for not being able to pay taxes, the conflict finally broke out.

The first turmoil broke out in the kingdom. The original purpose was to ask him to abolish the tax, but a genius minister gave him an extremely outrageous suggestion. The fact that the commoners could still resist means that the tax is not high enough. Any resistance is fine.

So in this case, the parade became a rebel army, and they had to impose taxes anyway, and they simply pooled money to buy weapons from passing merchant ships.

In this era of great pirates, weapons are hard currency worth more than gold, and eight out of ten merchant ships will carry weapons. In this way, the rebellion of Sikeal broke out completely.

One side has more people, and one side has better equipment and quality, and Sikear eventually fell into this stalemate.

As time went on, both sides were thinking about how to solve each other, and the rebels also began to look for more sophisticated weapons, and finally they succeeded in finding the beasts.

However, this has little to do with the beasts. They don't check their accounts when they sell weapons. Mandelfish came to send these weapons only because their bids were high enough.

"Brother Mandelfish, here we are!"

"I saw it, but it was really lively. Where is the consignee? It would be embarrassing if it was sent by mistake. Reputation is still very important."

This kind of melee situation is not a good thing for them. If they accidentally send weapons to the enemy of the cargo owner, it will be a joke.

"They said they were waiting for us at the port on the east coast."

"Reeve the sails and wait until the evening passes. Their battles have nothing to do with us."

Mandelfey does not intend to intervene in their battlefield. The Beast Pirates provide mercenary services, but that is an extra charge. If they encounter an enemy team during the day, it is not appropriate for them to fight or not to fight. Mandelfell allows it. I don't intend to let the other party prostitute their own combat power.

At night, Mandelfish and a few people landed in the eastern port of Kraigana Island in a small boat.

"who is it!"

The ship just docked, and a few figures with guns appeared in the shadows. In Mandelfish's perception, there were several people who were hiding in other places and did not show up.

"The one who sent the weapon, Cerf is yours, right?"

Mandelfish mentioned the name of the consignee, but the other party did not relax his vigilance because of this, but asked about the code that Mandelfish agreed to.

After getting the correct answer, they took them to the base of the rebel army, which is what they called themselves, but in the eyes of the kingdom they were just the rebel army.

"Ammo, swords, we brought everything you want, where's the money?"

"Here, but this is only half.. The rest will be given to you after we defeat the other side. We have some funds."

"Hey, old man, are you kidding me? Do you think we can do this business on credit?"

Hearing that Mandelfish had no money, his face changed. It is impossible to open a credit account for this business. Once it is opened, it will not be closed.

"Don't you think Lao Tzu is very talkative? Your expenses are your problem. If you can't pay the balance, we won't refund the deposit."

If you can get the money, you are a customer. If you can't get the money, you are shaming them.

"We lost a lot of supplies in our frontline defeat, so."

"That has nothing to do with Lao Tzu! Let me just ask, do you have any money?!"

Speaking of which, Mandelfish directly punched the table in front of him. In his opinion, this table must be smashed by the hammer, but a huge anti-shock force came, and he almost sprained himself. hand.

"Wait, Brother Mandelfish."

's men suddenly grabbed Mandelfish, which made him a little dissatisfied.

"What's wrong?"

"Brother Mandelfish, look at that thing.. it looks like... that"

Although was not broken by the hammer, under Mandelfish's power, the things on the table were also blown away by the hammer, and the table lying beside it was in the shape of a slate.

There is also a very simple test method for the Slate Hundred Beasts Pirates. What can't be broken is true. Mandelfish is still a little confident in his own strength. Looking at the unbroken tabletop, he finds that he has picked up a treasure. .

"Cough, don't be nervous, everyone, this is actually a show, you are new customers, I can give you a small discount, but this stone is very strong, we take it away, do you have any opinion?"

Chapter 327 This is why I don't like Paradise!

The scene has changed a bit. When Mandelfish flipped the table just now, these rebels took up arms one by one. The man named Cerf was originally just an ordinary teacher, but the huge tax caused his family to be broken, so He began to lead the parade.

has become the spiritual pillar of these rebels, so they were very nervous when Mandelfish flipped the table, but they also knew that the current situation did not allow them to make additional enemies.

But now the situation has become a little joyous.

"Of course. You can take whatever you like in this room."

Cerf didn't understand what happened at all. Although the beasts had a bounty notice for collecting slate, the world government's bounty orders may not be known to everyone, let alone the channels of the beasts today.

That slate-like stone was just dug out when they built the wall, and it was used as a table top when it felt flat.

Then, in the eyes of these rebels, Mandelfish made a very strange move. He kept beating the stone. Nothing happened to the stone, but there was a lot of smiles on his face.

This strange behavior made these rebels suspect that he was a shaker.

Mandelfish didn't care about this kind of thing at all. In the evaluation of the beasts' merits, finding the slate alone was a special merit. Now his goal of retirement after becoming a big cadre is basically a certainty.

As for the cost of that batch of arms, let alone half price, as long as there are slates, it doesn't matter if it is free.

Mandelfish, who didn't want to cause trouble, directly contacted his subordinates to send the remaining arms.

But when Mandelfish wanted to leave here, an accident happened. There was a sudden sound of shelling in the camp, and there were shouts of killing in the distance.

"I wish you a prosperous martial arts and hope to receive your orders."

Carrying the slate behind his back, Mandelfish intends to leave here with his own people. The weapons are all taken at half price. These people obviously cannot afford the cost of mercenaries.

But his desire to leave does not mean that the artillery shells of the Royal Army will avoid them. The Royal Army who launched the general attack directly affected Mandelfish. This did not make Mandelfish angry. The cannon is not a sniper rifle, so there is no way to strike accurately .

But in a sense, a single shot is powerful, and it can defeat the enemy with one hit. As long as it hits accurately, it is a large-caliber group damage sniper.

But the problem was that when Mandelfish and the others wanted to leave, they were surrounded by the army of the Kingdom of Sikear.

"I said, we are just businessmen, can I trouble you to get out of the way?"

"Your Majesty's order, no one can be released, and the rebels must be wiped out."

"We are not rebels, can't you see this sign? You are fighting against the Beast Pirates."

Mandelfish pointed to the pirate logo on his clothes. He didn't want to fight with the other party. After all, as long as he did it, it meant sharing the firepower for those rebels, which was equivalent to letting them go to a wave of mercenaries for nothing.

But the answer to him was a bullet.

"I haven't heard of any beasts, I only know that this is the order of Sikai V."

At the moment when the gun rang, the red scales covered Mandelfish's whole body, and the bullet was shot directly by the scales.

"That's why I hate Paradise. It's because there are always guys like you who don't know how high the sky is, and that makes all these troubles on the road."

In the New World, Beasts, BIG-MOM, and Whitebeard, these three flags are more effective than the flags of the World Government and the Navy. Especially in the second half, the flags of Beasts basically let them unhindered.

The closer you get to the first half of the Great Route, the greater the chance of trouble.

"Little ones! Breakthrough!"

The animalized Mandelfish rushed out first. Although he didn't want the other party to prostitute for nothing, there was nothing he could do in this situation. As the captain of the scout, his pirates were also a group of elites. With Mandelfish as the forward, these The Royal Army could not stop them at all.

And the news here also spread to Xikai V, he chose to go personally for this siege operation, the purpose is to quickly solve these rebels, in fact, he was forced to do so helplessly.

The highest combat power of the Kingdom of Sikai is a person who is responsible for protecting the royal family. He is a strong man found by Sikai IV, but he has an agreement with Sikai IV. In the absence of foreign invaders, he will only be responsible for the safety of members of the royal family and nothing else.

In his opinion, this kind of civil strife does not belong to foreign invasion, so he refused to take action. Today, he came up with such a solution after being forced to do nothing by Xikai V. As long as he goes to the front line himself, then this person will protect himself. Gotta go to the front together.

His previous money had already been put in, and now the other party told him that the critical moment had come, and it had to be done before the next World Conference, so he set foot on this dangerous front.

"Attack with the whole army! Be sure to arrest the rebel Cerf!"

"Your Majesty! There is news from the defenders on the east coast that a group of people are forcibly breaking through, and our people can't stop them!"

They didn't know the situation inside the rebel army, thinking that it was Cerf who wanted to board the ship to escape, so Xikai V directly chased there with the guards.

And the guard of the royal family had to follow. This was his agreement with the fourth generation. I didn't expect that the fifth generation was so much worse than the fourth generation.

"Senior, don't stick to your rules. Anyway, you still have to make a move in the end. Why don't you cooperate with this king?"

"This king promises that this kind of thing will not happen again."

"Only once, if you breach the contract again, then the agreement between me and your father will be voided."

In order to prevent this person from continuing to kill, he finally agreed to take a shot, otherwise his way of forcing himself to do it would be more dangerous.

"Boss Mandelfish, there are a lot of these people."

"After all, it's the Royal Army, don't underestimate them, the non-joined countries that can have a complete regime on the great route have their own abilities."

A non-joined country means that it has its own military power to protect its own country. In the cruel place of the Great Route, the military power of a non-joined country that can have a complete regime is generally stronger than that of the joined country.

The navy will not take care of these non-joined countries, even if the naval base is close at hand.

At this time, Mandelfish suddenly felt a sense of danger, and his arm covered with scales was blocked to one side, but this time there was a bloodstain on his arm.

Seeing the shattered scales and the arrival of reinforcements, Mandelfish's expression became slightly heavy.

"A swordsman who can cut steel? Here comes the trouble."

Chapter 328 I don't want to retire alone!

If it is in the New World, then this kind of thing must be accompanied by a big cadre. The banner of the beasts can avoid most troubles, but once there is trouble, it is a big trouble. Mandelfish's ability is still in the New World. Not strong enough.

However, in the first half of the Great Route, his abilities are still sufficient. The Carp King's steel-like scales make him extremely resistant to ordinary sword and spear attacks after he deploys his abilities.

If you want to hurt him, cutting steel is the most basic requirement, and in the first half of the great route, there are not many swordsmen or opponents of the same level who can cut steel, and it usually takes a long time to meet one.

I didn't expect to meet such a person in this kingdom of Sikear. After a brief fight with him, Mandelfish felt the difference between him and the previous kingdom troops.

Looking at the unfamiliar swordsman and the more well-equipped team behind him, Mandelfish's expression became ugly.

At the same time, an idea came to Mandelfish's mind.

"Is luck really conserved?"

Feeling the weight of the slate behind him, Mandelfish suddenly remembered the long-standing metaphysical theory within the Arceus religion - the law of conservation of luck.

Refers to a person's luck is a total amount, he is definitely lucky to find this slate, but it is followed by a series of unfortunate events, the last time he obtained the ability seems to be similar, it is not the first time this kind of thing has happened. on him.

With the support of the Praetorian Guard led by King Sikai V, the opening that Mandelfish and the others tore were quickly blocked, and the surrounding people continued to surround them.

That swordsman made Mandelfish very difficult to deal with. He was holding a medieval two-handed great sword, and every time he swung the sword, it would bring Mandelfish a lot of trouble.

As the captain of the scout team, Mandelfish is familiar with two-color domineering. At first, he did not use domineering when facing those ordinary bullets, because it was not necessary at all.

With this new enemy, he naturally used domineering, and the scale armor with domineering blessing became harder, even the opponent's blade couldn't directly let him break the defense like before.

But the impact of the great sword swung still affected him, and he found that the swordsman could not be armed, but he had some talent in seeing and hearing.

Due to his ability, he is also the development route of Taijutsu, but his attacks will never touch the opponent. He uses the length of the blade and Mandelfish to maintain a safe range. Whenever he wants to dash into the inside of the enemy's body, he always will be predicted.

"You guy. You're not bad at seeing and hearing."

"This belongs to the mind of a swordsman. People with abilities like you will not understand it. Compared with the power brought by you external things, the body is the most fundamental power."

"Ha, these ignorant people can always bring a lot of fun to others, but you don't know what you are doing, we are not in the same group as those rebels, but you guys don't know how to provoke us. What kind of disaster is coming?"

"I don't understand, I'm just following the orders of His Majesty the Fifth. Surrender. You can't rush out. This is the most elite janitorial army in the Xikai Kingdom."

Mandelfish ignored him, but instructed the men behind him: "Pearman, contact the people left behind on the ship, use naval guns to open a way, and you rush them back to the ship."

"Boss Mandelfish, what about you?"

"I'll deal with this old guy, you are not his opponent, don't worry, I have a way to escape."

The most difficult thing among these people is this swordsman. His subordinates are not his opponents. If he exposes his back to him, he will definitely be beheaded one by one. Sooner or later it will be defeated.

Those who remained on the ship at this point became their additional reinforcements.

And the so-called fire support is also the most classic infantry tactic-infantry artillery coordination, which is a tactic practiced by the beasts after entering Wano and starting to recruit troops.

In addition to the high-level confrontation between cadres, their battles can also determine the outcome of some wars, and the coordination of infantry and artillery has high requirements for both infantry and artillery.

The artillery built by Wano country far surpassed the previous artillery in terms of range and accuracy. In this case, the tactics of infantry and artillery coordination began to be popularized within the beasts.

However, that is a tactic that is only used in large-scale battles. Only two main guns on Mandelfish's ship can reach this position. In addition to the problem of firing interval, they have to keep up with the pace of the shells to easily rush out. .

"clear."

took out a flare gun from his arms, and Pearman fired 4 flares into the sky in a row, which was the signal they had arranged, meaning that they were surrounded and opened fire.

They cannot guarantee that they will always have time to communicate by telephone bugs, and this way of signal communication is also necessary.

After seeing the flare, the pirates on the boat picked up the straw paper and a special telescope and began to calculate the distance.

Artillery is also a technical job to hit accurately. These elite artillerymen were tortured by that pile of calculations for a long time before they were able to make divisions.

"The gun position was raised three degrees, and a test shot was fired."

In less than a minute, a cannonball landed in the encirclement of the Royal Army. Seeing that the position was almost the same, Pierman sent a signal again. During this period, the swordsman wanted to stop the opponent, but was caught by Mandelfish. stopped.

The signal this time represented the correct position, and then the shells began to fall continuously and gradually retreated backwards.

"Boss Mandelfish, you have to get out alive."

After finishing speaking, Pearman used the scroll to rush to the encirclement of the Royal Army, and the identity of the giver was the reason why Mandelfish made him responsible for opening the way.

"Go quickly, Lao Tzu's goal is to retire smoothly, but not alone."

He could choose to retreat first by himself. If it was just him and Pearlman, these people really couldn't stop them. Even facing the swordsman, he would be injured.

But he made this choice so that his subordinates could withdraw as much as possible.

Then he rushed towards the person who looked different in clothes. Judging from the fact that he was surrounded by the crowd, he was the so-called Xikai V.

In doing so, he forced the swordsman to ignore others, and then rushed in the other direction. The frightened Sikai V was also very angry, and issued an order to hunt down Mandelfish.

Finally, on another cliff on the coast, Mandelfish was surrounded here.

"You have nowhere to go. As a capable one, you are hated by the sea. Surrender, right?"

"Surrender? I would advise you to cherish the time in front of you. After all, your days are running out, and you have touched the taboos of those two adults at the same time!"

Chapter 329 "Destroy the Country"

When his subordinates succeeded in breaking through under the cover of artillery fire, he also became the focus of attracting firepower. He made a mistake, he should not have held Arceus' slate by himself.

He didn't have time to hand over the slate when Pearman led the team to break through the siege. After that, facing the attack of the swordsman of the Praetorian Guards, the slate he was carrying unfortunately fell off and was collected by the royal army.

To be precise, they had long been interested in the cloth-wrapped slate that Mandelfish was carrying, so they kept staring at it and attacking.

They felt that what Mandelfish had been carrying was far from simple, and that Sikai V regarded it as a treasure, that's why Mandelfish, who was "besieged" here, would say so.

There are many taboo things in the new world, which can be roughly summarized as Charlotte Lingling's food, Whitebeard's son, Kaido's business, and maybe Shanks' face in the future.

These things will attract revenge from the pirates, and Kaido is no exception. Ignoring the signs of the Beast Pirates and attacking them is something that no big pirate will allow.

And Sikai V regarded the slate as a treasure and wanted to take it for himself. Sometimes he had touched the taboo of Arceus. In Mandelfish's view, Sikai V was already dead, and the death knell of the * of death had already sounded for him. .

"Boy, I think you are crazy, but it doesn't matter. No matter what happens in the future, you will die here today! Senior, please kill him."

"Idiot, do you think that Lao Tzu is really desperate to get here? This is the escape route planned by this uncle!"

said that Mandelfish jumped off the cliff under the shocked eyes of those people, and there was a sound of falling water not long after.

"Being able to jump into the sea...is he committing suicide?"

Mandelfish's physical changes have already confirmed his status as a "power man", so the swordsman did not understand why he chose to jump into the sea, and Mandelfish did not show off anything, and dived directly into the deep sea towards his own ship. Swim in the direction of the past.

All these people on the shore did not know. After thinking that they had settled here, the Praetorian Guards walked towards the battlefield of the rebel army on the other side under the leadership of Sikai V.

At this time, Mandelfish was directly transformed into a carp king, swimming alone on the seabed. About twenty minutes later, he found his boat on the east coast.

"Brother Mandelphish, you're back!" Seeing Mandelfish climb up from the sea wet, the people on the boat were very excited, after all, Mandelfish allowed him to stay behind for them.

"Well how about the casualties?"

"Seven wounded and eleven dead. Pearman also suffered some injuries, but it has been dealt with." The ship's doctor reported their casualties to Mandelfish.

"But big brother, Lord Arceus's thing."

"Something happened, the old guy is a bit skilled, but it's okay, give me the phone bug, these guys will understand what horror is."

After picking up the phone bug, Mandelfish also dialed the contact number in the direction of Onishima, and the phone bug only called twice before being picked up.

"Mandfish? Aren't you out to deliver? What happened so late?"

"Sister, good news, I found the slate of Lord Arceus!"

It is the privilege of the big Kanban to directly contact Arceus and Kaido. Usually, Quinn is responsible for the communication of Onishima, but some Arceus religious people will directly contact Shaina on some matters, such as this important event related to the slate.

Hearing Mandelfish's report, Shaina's expression changed on the ghost island. They hadn't found any information about the slate for a long time after the World Government deal.

"The news is true?"

"Eighty-nine-nine inseparable, the shape is exactly the same, and my attack does not leave any traces, but in the end something happened, I accidentally let the enemy take it away when I broke through"

"You go and report to the holy beast yourself, wait a moment."

Shaina got up and went to the place where Arceus lived. He found someone to build a special attic on the roof of the ghost island. At this time, Arceus was here. After Shaina came here with the phone bug, he also heard News from the Mandelfish report.

"I'm sorry, Lord Arceus, my subordinates are incompetent, and I couldn't bring things back directly."

"It's okay, you guys are fine."

The fact that the slate was snatched did not make Arceus transfer the contradiction to Mandelfish. After all, Mandelfish's ability was placed there. With Mandelfish's character, it was not impossible to give up the slate he had obtained. .

And this also meets his requirements, it is enough to bring the news back when there is nothing you can do, don't waste your life.

His slate no one can destroy, as long as he can bring news to find it.

"Master Arceus."

"Well, that's right, Mandelfish, don't think too much. Since the enemy is too strong, there's nothing you can do. It's enough for you to become stronger in the future."

Kaido's voice also came from the side. Kaido never blamed his subordinates for failures, and he had double standards in this regard. If it was someone he liked, then the opponent was too strong.

If it's just a partnership, it's because the loser himself is too weak.

The words given to the giver were not enough to attract Kaido's attention, but an old man like Mandelphish had already registered with him.

"Governor Kaido? Why are you here"

"What nonsense are you talking about, this is the ghost island, but those guys ignored Lao Tzu's flag and interfered with your retreat with the money, right?"

"That's right."

"Kraigana Island, isn't it, Mandelfish, stay there and keep an eye on those people, even if they want to run away, you have to find out their location for Lao Tzu, understand?"

"clear!"

After hanging up the phone, Kaido took out the eight fasts that he never leaves.

"You can't help it this time, right? After all, those guys made your taboo."

"Kingdom of Sikear. This country has no meaning to continue to exist."

Yamato, Lunaria, and things related to these may make Arceus angry, but the slate is the absolute inverse scale, no matter what the reason, the greed for the slate is his enemy.

"Oh, giggle, sure enough, this kind of thing is your inverse scale, let's go, did the two of us act together last time against John or Wald? It's really nostalgic."

Somewhere in the new world, Umit was awakened in his sleep, but he still answered the phone, and few people knew his private number.

"Hello? Who's calling so late?"

"It's me, Quinn, and Umit. I'll send a message to those who are engaged in shipping. No ships are allowed to approach Kraigana Island, otherwise they will be enemies with beasts. This is what Brother Kaida means."

Chapter 330 God's Punishment

It would take a while to get from here to the Kingdom of Sikaar even by flying, so Kaido made arrangements in advance, and contacting Umit was one of them.

As the shipping king of the New World, although his main business is in the New World, there are also some of his business in the great route and the four seas, especially in the aspect of shipping smuggling.

The Kingdom of Sikear is a non-member country, and the official fleet of the world government will not go there, and the exchange of materials there is carried out by private shipping organizations.

To be able to do this kind of business on this sea, both black and white have to have some means. Umit is undoubtedly the top one here, and the effect of his communication is the best.

Quin's words were like an order, but Umit, who was disturbed to rest in the middle of the night, had no complaints. After all, the status of the beasts was placed there, so there was no need to offend the other party for such trivial matters.

At the same time, one call after another was made by Quinn, and the other territories of the beasts were also notified. The three ships assembled on different islands and began to rendezvous.

This time, they did not select the elites who stayed in Wano, because it was unnecessary. The biggest role of those people was to go to the grand scene. Under the circumstance that Arceus and Kaido acted in person, there was no corresponding high-end combat power to stop them. The number is It's just empty talk.

The King of Beasts started overnight, and their move made many people nervous, such as the navy.

Although the navy does not have enough control in the new world, there are also quite a few reconnaissance ships. There are navy reconnaissance ships in Whitebeard's territory, near the Totland Sea area, and near the territory of the beasts.

The navy must master the movements of these big pirates. These guys are all Rox's remnants.

Although someone like Lox won't make a second one, but if these three guys suddenly go crazy and learn from Lox and find a dragon man to start with, the navy will be in big trouble.

Those draconians would be fine if they just stayed in Marijoa, but they always like to wander around.

It is impossible for the navy to have an admiral beside every Dragon who travels, so monitoring those pirates who are capable of making big noises becomes the best choice.

There was a sudden large-scale mobilization of personnel in the territory of the Beast Pirates. This is already a big move. The navy that received the news was alerted to this, but there was no further action, and it was just kept observing.

At dawn the next day, the Beastmaster had already left the waters of Wano Kingdom. Kaido and Arceus left suddenly in the middle of the night, which made Yamato a little uncomfortable.

There was no surprise attack by Kaido after the alarm went off, which did not let Yamato relax his vigilance, because as usual, Kaido could launch a surprise attack on her at any time, and this vigilance continued until noon, when she discovered that both Arceus and Kaido were gone.

Not only that, even Shaina, who was usually in charge of training them, disappeared together. After she learned from other people that Arceus and Kaido had set sail, she did not have any negative emotions, but was happy. jumped up.

Everyone is gone, so she seems to be free to play.

At the same time, the insurgent army led by Cerf did not fail in the Kingdom of Sikear. They received a strong reinforcement last night from Mandelfish.

After reporting the information, Mandelfish brought his men to the position of the rebel army, and then the artillery on the ship launched an attack on the army of the kingdom without saying a word.

He originally didn't want these rebels to prostitute mercenaries for nothing, but the Royal Army's behavior was to directly oppose them, which directly forced them to the opposite side.

Without group fights or the retreat of his men, Mandelfish was not afraid of the swordsman, and the battlefield fell into a new stalemate for a while.

"Why? As a capable person, you clearly fell into the water, how could you still be alive? There is no ship nearby to meet you!"

"I don't need to explain this to you, it's the same sentence I said before, you should cherish the last time!"

Due to the intervention of Mandefish and the others, the original plan of the Royal Army was completely shattered, but Sikai V didn't think it was his own fault. Come in this fight.

After a while, the battle between the Royal Army and the Rebel Army turned into a tug-of-war, because Mandefish's ships had run out of shells, their shells were specially made, and the shells on the outside didn't match their barrel calibers, so Cannot be mixed.

It's just that the situation is not friendly to the rebels, because they lost the main source of food in the previous battle, and the current supplies can't last too long.

That night, Cerf and a few people found Mandefish and made a request.

"You want us to help you bring down that king?"

"Yes, then we can pay the fee from his treasury. He has been extorting for so many years, and there must be a lot of money in the treasury."

"We don't accept this kind of empty promise. We're here just because we have a feud with that king, but don't worry, he won't live long. Then again, if you live on another island, where would you like to live?"

"Why do you ask?"

"Because the end of this island is already doomed."

Mandefish said something that Cerf did not understand, and in the early morning more than a month later, a huge pirate ship cut through the morning fog and arrived at Kraigana Island.

Kraigana Island is like this most of the time. The sea fog here is thicker, and sunny days are rare. Today, the residents of Kraigana Island experience the hottest sunshine in their lives.

The huge sun dispelled the thick fog, and also woke up the sleeping Xikai V.

"What's wrong with such a big sun?"

Just when he was still puzzled by the weather changes, his palace suddenly shook violently, and at the gate of the royal city, the guards here looked sluggish, their weapons also slipped to the ground, and fear permeated everyone's heart.

Because the original majestic city wall and city gate were gone, replaced by a bottomless ravine. Just after the sun shone here, a beam of light seemed to draw a circle along the traces of the city wall, and then it became this Vice pattern.

"Then what is that. Weapons of those rebels?"

"I don't know."

While they were still puzzled, red figures flew across the sky. This was Rotom in the form of a loudspeaker, and the loudspeakers under them began to shout to everyone.

"Loto! People outside the royal family and the Praetorian Guard, please pay attention, Loto, you have three hours to leave this city, God's punishment is coming!"
