

Arceus 341

Chapter 341 When others suspect you have lethal weapons, you better really have

Women generally take longer to take a bath than men, but this does not apply to Yamato. She came out of the bathroom in less than ten minutes in total, including the time to get dressed.

From Maria's expression, it can be seen that she feels that she has not washed clean yet, but she is also a little powerless under Yamato's pull.

"Father, where is Jack?"

The gradient-colored hair of white, green and blue hangs behind his head after getting wet, and is simply tied with a leather case. At the beginning, this hair color made Arceus suspicious. After all, Kaido's hair is pure black.

Especially after meeting Kwangyue, some parts of their hair color are a bit similar, if not for the wrong time, Arceus would suspect that Kaido had some relationship with Kwangyue during the time of his disappearance.

"Dry your hair, at least wrap it in a towel, I should have told you."

"It's too much trouble, and I'm fine, no problem."

Most people can't escape the torture of illness, even strong people like Whitebeard and Roger will inevitably suffer from illness, but for Yamato's constitution, ordinary diseases are probably not the opponent of her immune system.

"No, no, no, this time, let me see you again, then go and practice with your father."

He said that a gust of hot air was released by him, and he just dried her hair under control, and Maria felt the same feeling when dipped in Yamato's light.

"Isn't there a Rotom hair dryer, remember to dry it next time."

"I know about my adoptive father, but where did Jack go?"

"there."

Arceus gestured in the direction of the sea, a series of bubbles were emerging, which happened to be the proof of Jack's existence, and then a nose first stretched out from the bottom of the sea and landed on the shore, like Jack in a human state from the water. climbed out.

Judging from the original timeline, the human-beast form of the mammoth fruit ability is a form similar to Maria, belonging to a half-human elephant, but that form is most likely the result of Quinn's improvement in medicine.

Devil Fruit Power users can be transformed in this way, but pure Pokémon power users can't, so Jack's human-beast form is the same as most power users.

"Isn't it cool? It really is the power of the foster father."

Yamato tapped on Jack, listening to the metallic muffled sound and expressing his opinion.

"But this body. Will it make Mr. Kaido fight harder?"

Maria on the side poured cold water on Jack. Due to the development direction of his defense, the main method of training was to be beaten. According to Kaido's wonderful theory of teaching students in accordance with their aptitude, Jack suddenly felt that his future was a bit bleak.

"It's alright, I'll be exhausted no matter what, it doesn't make any difference at all."

At this time, Yamato looked away, and said a theory that was irrefutable. In short, it was absolutely impossible to relax under Kaido's training.

"By the way, the adoptive father, the newspaper said that you and your father ruined the whole"

"Sikeal."

"Yes, the Kingdom of Sikear, is it true?"

After Jack accepted the cruel reality that was coming, Yamato asked Arceus this question, but she seemed to have forgotten the complicated country name, and it was Maria who reminded her.

As for whether the country name is complicated or not, it is quite complicated for her anyway.

"No, it's just destroying the capital and the king. They touched things they shouldn't touch. This is an inevitable price. The reason why you O'Hara was destroyed is also the reason. You don't have the corresponding power, but you touch it. Something that shouldn't be touched."

The second half of the sentence was obviously not addressed to Yamato, but to Robin. The extra ear in the blind spot could not avoid his perception.

"Come out, there's no need to hide, you can ask face-to-face if you have any questions."

Unless you see something strange in person, Yamato won't ask this question on your own initiative, and this kind of absolute trust has been established between them over the years.

This is not surprising, but normal parents will not doubt what their children say, even if it is not biological.

This is obviously for the sake of others. Huahuaguo is really convenient for eavesdropping and other means. With the strengthening of her ability, even if she stays still, she can collect the information she wants through the extended limbs.

After a while, Robin came over. It seemed that Yamato told her about it in the bath, and she promised to go and ask for Robin and she would do it.

As for why he didn't ask Kaido who came back first, Kaido didn't bother to answer such a thing, even if the answer would probably be [If it's destroyed, it will be destroyed, what's there to care about, they are too weak.]

and so on, so Yamato chose to wait for Arceus to come back.

"Although the information in the newspapers is not all true, but your concern about this issue should be related to the original slaughtering order."

"That's right. You clearly manage this country very well, but you are so bad about the outside world"

"I didn't have to answer your question, but Yamato regards you as a friend, so I'll have a few more words with you. Everyone has their own taboos, and they touched my biggest taboo."

As he said, he showed a slate in front of Robin. O'Hara's archaeologists have all seen pictures of the slate. O'Hara's identity is destined to be impossible for them to go the same way with the World Government. There is no scruples in this regard.

"Anyone who tries to take possession of my slate, no matter what the reason, is unforgivable. In the same way, if you can find information about it for me, you can also get a lot of things.

I never hurt innocent people. The civilians in that country have plenty of time to evacuate, but the navy made up some things. You also know that in this regard, you O'Hara were all "madmen trying to destroy the world". "

"We obviously don't."

"This is a deformed world. When others suspect that you have a weapon to destroy the world, you better have it. I heard that you are a scholar at the age of 8, so you should understand this truth."

Compared to Robin's endless escape career, Robin's mental growth is slower, but she still understands the most basic principles.

"You explore history, but who can guarantee that the history left over 800 years ago must be the truth? History is written by the victors. There are still more things you want to explore."

Then Arceus left here first. He had other things to do, but this also strengthened Robin's other idea. She wanted to explore the truth of the world, and wanted to know what happened in the distant past.

But she didn't have much time to think about this issue, and was quickly pulled away by Yamato.

"Go Robin, the answer is also given to you, it's time to play, finally have a vacation."

"what?"

"We'll talk about it later. What can you do when you go out now?"

Chapter 342 The Devil's Revised Single Sword Sheath

Nicole Robin was pulled away by Yamato and the others, while Arceus returned to the top of the ghost island again. Kaido was being beaten. It was not that King Yanwu could suppress him, but he was being beaten on purpose.

"Add a little more firepower, this is not enough!"noVelusb.com

Kaido in the flames seems to be taking a sauna, and he also asks King Yanwu to increase his firepower. His domineering is also in the process of constantly tempering, and sometimes he needs to be beaten, which is also the reason why he goes out to die every day.

However, the frequency of this is decreasing. Although we can occasionally see news of Kaido and so-and-so going to war, such things as being captured have not happened in the past few years.

Relying on the defense with one hand, he was almost unharmed, and there were hardly any obvious scars on his body. He was ranked as the strongest body with Charlotte Lingling's steel balloon, and the name of the strongest creature was gradually increasing. Appeared.

As the power of Arceus gradually strengthens, Kaido has a better way to temper his body. Fairy + dragon is quite painful to hit Kaido.

"Didn't you accompany that girl to play?"

"Children can just let them play by themselves, what about Oden's two knives?"

"It's probably already dusted in the treasure house."

After the death of Kozuki Oden, Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yuzhan naturally became the trophies of the beasts, but there were no pure swordsmen within the beasts.

Kaido and Yamato use mace, although Jin uses a knife, but it is a modified shark tooth knife.

Although Kojiro uses a knife, but for his physique and school, Tianyu Yuzhan is too short, Yan Mo is the same, and in terms of his physical quality, Yan Mo will probably * him dry.

Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yu Zhan are also 21 big sharp swords, which directly destroyed some waste.

Now that the steel slate is back, Arceus has a new idea for those two knives. Pokémon is not limited to animals and plants. As the most magical species, metal utensils are also one of them.

Due to the return of the steel slate, Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yuzhan also had a chance to see the light again.

"Rotom, where are the two knives of Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yu Zhan?"

In the underground treasure house of beasts, Arceus asked the Rotom inside. In addition to the guard Rotom in the electronic gate, there is also a special Rotom who acts as a warehouse keeper.

It determined the location of Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yu Zhan after checking it in the electronic system.

In some future islands, things like computers are very common, and they can be used on islands with electricity, but there is no Internet, so the limitations of electronic computers are a little bigger, but it is more than enough to keep the list of goods.

"Lotto, please wait."

After receiving the instruction, Rotom immediately entered the body of a small robot with a mechanical arm, and then brought Yan Mo and Tian Yuyu Zhan out at the corresponding position.

It's not as exaggerated as Kaido said about falling ashes, Rotom cleans here every day, and they even have the ability to maintain swords.

"Loto, I have brought what you asked for, do you need anything else? Loto?"

"No need, keep working."

Then his own power took over Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yuzhan, the power of the steel slate poured into the two knives, and the metal utensils were also injected with new life.

The overall image of the two knives has not changed, but the positions of the knives and handguards each have an extra eye. The two knives that were originally suspended in the sky by Arceus also began to levitate independently.

Single scabbard - Yan Mo version, single scabbard - Tian Yuyu cut version

Compared with the rock-type Pokémon in the form of sea tower, the two of them are more like special individuals that are difficult to reproduce, but this time there seems to be a problem child in the Pokémon.

Yan Mo was very active when it was first born, and he did not look very obedient, but when the pressure of Arceus swept over, it would no longer be majestic. It was an irresistible breath from the creator.

Unless Arceus fell into a violent state of destruction, he would have absolute control over the original body he created, no weaker than Charlotte Lingling's control over Hormiz.

Once their owner was Kozuki Oden, but for swords, the holder is not absolute. With the death of Kozuki Oden, they have had new arrangements.

The purpose of creating two single scabbards is to liberate Jin, who is the general's royal hang, and arrange two reliable assistants for him.

A single scabbard can absorb human life, but it is controllable. For them, the soul is a supplement, not a necessity. This can be contained under orders. Baofen and tree fruit, which are loved by steel and ghost types, are both can be used as a substitute.

The big deal is that there are still death row inmates and Charlotte Lingling. In terms of the relationship between the two parties, it is not difficult to get some souls drawn from her. That kind of thing is a special tax in Totland.

The appearance of the single scabbard also carried out a special ceremony in Wano country to give Kaido a wave of prestige. Kaido, the king of protecting the country, found the lost weapon of Kozuki Oden and gave it to the current general Kozuki. day and.

However, Koyue Rihe has no talent for swordsmanship, and she cannot use the single scabbard incarnated by Yan Mo and Tianyu Yuzhan, so she just put it on the table in the general's room.

There are two types of Pokémon with ghost attributes, one can't stand loneliness and always wants to play pranks, and one is very patient. These two single scabbards belong to the latter, so they just stay in the room as a special one. the backhand.

Those two knives made many people feel deeply, especially the remaining three retainers of Oden, who had a lot of feelings when they saw the weapons of the former lord, but they did not expect that the beasts would actually give the weapons to Guanyueri and.

Even the request of Kiku no Cheng to teach Koyukihi and martial arts was passed. In Jhin's view, they couldn't make any waves at all.

And where they didn't notice, Yan Mo and Tian Yu Yuzhan also opened their eyes, and at the same time as Guangyueri and learning, they were also absorbing the skills.

At this time, the versatile Quinn has come to his favorite moment, the harvest time of bananas. Although bananas look like trees, they are herbs. When harvesting, the original plants can be cut down directly, and then wait for new ones. The plant can grow.

Tropical Dragon's improved bananas mature in half a year, and with different planting batches, new bananas can be harvested almost every time, and the island climate meets the climatic environment they need for growth.

Quinn walked up to his plantation in high spirits, the plants here were not of the mass-planted type, but new varieties he had cultivated, but when he arrived he had an ominous foreboding, as he saw the ground A row of footprints.

Chapter 343 Quinn's Good Friday.jpg

Here is his secret plantation. The planting area is very small, mainly the crops in the laboratory for mass production experiments, and the place where he cultivates some food to satisfy his appetite.

Tropical dragon's bananas have expanded the planting scale after his cultivation, but there is still a big gap with the original version. As a sweet party foodie, Quinn did not give up research in this area.

Although the native version on his chin has reached three crops a year depending on the harvesting characteristics, this does not satisfy him. On average, he can't even make one per month, so he took the time to produce the plants here.

Whether it is soil, fertilizer, or climate, everything here is superior to the plantation outside, and according to theoretical data, the degree of reproduction here will be higher.

Now it's August 1502, the hottest time in Wano, and his bananas are just ripe.

Today, Yamato and the others are on holiday, he doesn't have to go to class, and CP0 has stopped. He slept a little longer than usual without the ammonite beasts interfering with him. When he was about to pick bananas, the footprints on the ground made his heart sink. I have a very bad feeling.

"A pair of clogs. A large footprint, three women and one man. This combination"

The shape and depth of footprints can roughly estimate gender and age, but there may be a large error in this world.

These small footprints look more like four children. The children of Wano country will never come here. He has a flag outside, so 80% of the people who come here are from within the Beast Pirates.

Few of the beasts wear clogs. Yamato also wears other shoes that fit better under the care of Arceus. Only Maria wears clogs because she is a native and her mother is also from Wano.

The quartet with Maria.

Quinn's bad premonition grew bigger and bigger, and then trotted all the way into the plantation. Sure enough, he saw Yamato and the others here, as well as the banana trees that had become bare.

At the same time, he also heard the devil's speech.

"Yamato, shall we do this? These bananas must have been grown by others."

"It's alright, the banana plantation is not here. On the other side, these should be leftovers after transplanting. You can see that there is no one around. It's definitely not needed, or don't waste it.

But the taste here is a bit better than the outside, is it because it just matured? "

Naturally ripe bananas are far more delicious than self-ripening bananas that are picked in advance, but even if the tropical dragon version of bananas can be stored for a longer time, there is no way to wait for them to ripen naturally, and they must be picked in advance for transportation.

Only those who live near the place of origin can appreciate this natural and mature taste.

"No, I think the bananas here are sweeter than the ones outside."

Jack also made his own comments, and when those comments entered Quinn's ears, he felt a knife stabbing him.

"Eh? Uncle Quinn, why did you come here?"

"This is my plantation. I should ask you this sentence."

Quinn's words contained a lot of emotions, such as loss, anger, and helplessness. As long as he was an outsider, he would definitely throw people into the mines to be reformed through labor, but the problem was that he didn't seem to be able to move the people here.

The one headed by looks like Yamato, and this thing is just a few bananas. He may be the one who is digging because of this.

He now has the feeling of being eaten by someone who is an agricultural student, but that person is the principal's daughter.

"You guys. Are you all eaten up?" This is his experimental field. There were not many plants, and Quinn knew how much they could eat. Maria and Robin were still in the category of normal human beings.

Maria eats a lot more due to her physical energy consumption, but it is still within the normal range. It's just that Jack and Yamato are different, especially Yamato. The huge consumption requires more food to meet the body's needs.

His few experimental seedlings may not be enough for each other to eat.

"No, there's one left over there, Uncle Quinn, why are you crying?"

"Nothing, the sun is a little harsh."

Before Yamato and the others asked him why the sun pierced his eyes when he was wearing sunglasses, Quinn took the four of them out of the plantation.

"It's very important to grow here, don't come here casually in the future."

said and closed the door, but Yamato seemed to hear some wailing.

"Did we do something wrong?"

"I don't think so, or Uncle Quinn would have said it directly, but he doesn't seem to want us to stay here, let's move to another place, there's only half a day left for the holiday."

When the little ones moved their positions, Quinn looked at the last remaining single seedling and didn't know what to say. According to his plan, he could have a good meal, but now he really can only taste it. It will take at least a few months to harvest the next batch.

The news of the newspaper is always faster than that of people. Although Arceus has returned to the ghost island, several other ships are still on the way to explore or return. For example, Shaina has already embarked on the return journey.

But the one who came back first was her bounty order. A mysterious military photographer captured the scene of Shaina walking out of the sea of flames with the flames. The dark background and her mask forced him to take pictures. Out of a kind of * ghost feeling.

Dolo became the navy who fought heroically against the pirates, and Shaina naturally became the evil ghost.

And after the appearance of the sea emperor hyped by Morgans earlier, the bounty of the pirates under the three great pirates has also risen to a certain extent.

Flame Blood-Shaina, with a bounty of 580 million Baileys.

"Slaughter Village", a member of the attacking naval fleet and a hundred beasts, with the triple blessing, her bounty directly reached this amount, and even her title was changed.

"I don't recognize this bounty as Sister Shaina." Looking at the newly issued bounty along with the newspaper, Yamato just didn't recognize that it was Shaina after reading it for a long time.

"It's still a bit similar, but there's no news about Big Brother Mandelfish."

At this time, Robin has returned to the empty island, and only the three of them are still here, and Jack asked Yamato a question while caring about Mandelfish.

"Yawa, why are you just calling Quinn Uncle? They are obviously the same generation."

"Well, because Uncle Quinn looks old."nOvEluS&.COM

When Jack was thinking about why there was no news about Mandelfish, Mandelfish also began to prepare to return, but they encountered some interesting things while still in the paradise.

"Pearman, who is that guy, looks like he's got a second chance."

"Wait Boss, it should be a newcomer."

Chapter 344 When did you evolve, big brother?

Unless it is a robot like a pacifist, their mechanical chip stores all the information of the pirates, or the navy has to slowly rummage for the reward orders when they see the pirates.

Pirates are not a dictionary. Sometimes those unknown pirates cannot be found at all. Except for those long-established old pirates and supernovas in recent years, no one can always be named.

However, the pirates did not come to the Chambord Archipelago to become famous. Except for the pirates who lived in the Great Route, more pirates came from the four seas. After all, the area of the Great Route was a little insignificant compared to the four seas.

Many pirates already have a certain reputation before they enter the great route.

Although Morgans' newspapers often exaggerate the facts and are mixed with a lot of fictional things, the essence of the matter must be true, such as the announced events in the Kingdom of Sikear.

There are problems with the scope and details, but it is true that part of it was destroyed by the beasts.

So reading newspapers is the best way for pirates to understand the outside world. Morgans is very independent, and some news that the world government wants to suppress will also be reported by him.

The mobile headquarters and his reputation in the press make the world government have little to do with him. The World Economic News Agency is rooted in all parts of the world. If Morgans is assassinated, the follow-up influence will be more troublesome.

Even the newspaper boss was silenced, and the impact was very troublesome. Morgans did not report everything, and sometimes the world government would also use his news bird group, so it formed such a stalemate. .

And the reason why Mandelfish is interesting is because there is a duck-headed pirate ship that looks like a park cruise ship.

Their pirate flag is also very special. Unlike ordinary pirate flags, there are hardly any pirate elements on it. A set of knives and forks are crossed behind the duck head wearing a chef hat.

It's just that because of the prevalence of pirate culture, any flag with a crossed object after the pattern, whether it is black or not, is the pirate flag by default, so Mandelfish insisted that it was a pirate ship.

"I found it, Brother Mandelfish, the Chef Pirates, the captain is Red-footed Zep, a newcomer from the East China Sea. If there is a bounty, 20 million is a good newcomer. After all, he was born in the East China Sea."

After Roger's death, there were no powerful pirates in the East China Sea. After all, there was a Garp who would go home and stroll around every now and then. Although Luffy had not yet been born, it did not affect his periodic return to his hometown.
noVeLusb.cOM

The full-level tuba visited the Novice Village, and the pirates he encountered were basically killed in the bud.

"The news in the newspaper was not long ago. They should have just entered the great route, but we have gone far enough, and it is not far from Upside Down Mountain."

"The Chef Pirates, interesting name, their captain can't be a cook."

"You guessed it right, boss, he's really a cook."

Some captains of pirate ships have part-time jobs, such as snipers, musicians, navigators, and the Chef Pirates are one of the few pirates whose captains serve as chefs.

And the title of Red-footed Zep is because of his excellent kicking skills, the blood of the enemy stained his boots, so he got this title.

But now he is not the owner of the restaurant on the sea. Although his dream is to find the legendary allblue, a magical sea where all the fishes of the world live, even his subordinates do not believe it.

He also lived the life of an ordinary pirate, robbing passing ships, but Zapp only robbed money, not water and food.

Mandelfish was not interested in him because he was trying to * Mandelfish's ship, that funny duck ship was one of the reasons, and another reason was that Zapp was fighting some sea monsters at the time.

And those monsters, Mandelfish, are very familiar. The blue figure is the Tyrannosaurus that is distributed in the four seas. Many years have passed, and it is not known how many generations of carp kings these Tyrannosaurus evolved.

Their reproduction speed is quite fast. Even the giant carp kings near Wano have several generations of offspring. Because of the danger of the sea, the carp kings have also undergone some changes in order to adapt to the local environment. Habits of living in groups.

Although they are not delicious, some large sea animals still use them to supplement calcium, and bones are also a kind of food for those sea animals.

In order to survive better, these bred king carp even began to hug together like weak dingo for warmth, and this living habit also led to another situation.

That is, the evolved Tyrannosaurus did not directly leave the carp king's group, but led his group to live in the sea like a lion.

The evolution of the ordinary carp king will cause changes in the brain and make it irritable, but the tyrannosaurs that evolved in these seas are equally irritable, but still have some rationality.

"Brother Mandelfish, that's the Tyrannosaurus. When will you evolve and show us."

"Yes, yes, Lord Arceus has given you power for a long time. How can you evolve?"

"Go away! I haven't been training hard! Who's going to practice against me today?!"

Listening to the jokes of his subordinates, Mandelfish also made an angry look, but no one was afraid, they knew that Mandelfish was just pretending.

And about the evolution of Mandelfish, he was also very helpless. He felt that power, but he always felt that something was almost there.

"By the way, boss, do you want to help that ship?"

"What to do for them? If he can go to the new world, I don't mind recruiting him, but now I'm not interested, little ones, return!"

The expansion of the Hundred Beasts is not entirely done by Kaido alone. A few people approved by the cadres can be recruited into his command, but he has to report to Onishima afterwards.

Mandelfish's ship begins to turn back, and the Chef Pirates' experience is not so pleasant.

Not long ago, they rushed into the great route full of confidence and marched toward the so-called dream, but they were hit by reality just a few days ago.

A person caught a carp king while fishing, and then almost broke the blade of the kitchen knife and couldn't handle the other party, and finally threw it back into the sea, but not long after that, they encountered a "sea monster" from the new world. s attack.

This is the revenge of the Tyrannosaurus. If you catch a group without Tyrannosaurus, it's fine. If you catch a Tyrannosaurus species with Tyrannosaurus, this is usually the end.

Zep's luck hasn't gone bad yet, at least the level of the tyrannical carp dragon is not high, and the main fighting method is hand-to-hand combat.

Chapter 345 Greetings from Tyrannosaurus

But even so, Zapp was in a tough fight.

"Shoot! What kind of monster is this!"

The pirates of the Chef Pirates fired bullets at the Tyrannosaurus, but the flintlock gun's bullets were extremely weak when they met the Tyrannosaurus's curved armor. , making these old-fashioned muskets ineffective.

Survival of the fittest, survival of the fittest, this is the law of nature, the descendants of the first generation of carp king marched to each sea area according to the orders of Arceus, and then proliferated in different sea areas.

The ocean environment different from that of the Pokémon world has allowed them to evolve a new group consciousness. Pokémon that feed on carp kings are almost non-existent, but these sea beasts, sea kings and various strange fish are different, and even some Fish became the natural enemy of the carp king.

This tyrannical carp dragon is doing its own revenge. As more and more offspring are reproduced, the genetic genes in their bones are almost only the "pilgrimage" link.

In certain seasons, swarms of Tyrannosaurus dragons will take the carp king to the new world, and some biologists have begun to study this newly discovered strange fish.

It's just that no one has researched a result so far, and that result has nothing to do with Zapp. As the tyrannosaur dived into the water again, he became more panicked.

"Turn the rudder! Turn the rudder with all your might! It's coming!"

The sole purpose of that tyrannical carp dragon diving was to attack the boat from below, in order to overturn the boat. Zhep knew very well that once it fell into the water, they could almost just let the monster slaughter it.

Fortunately, their Chef George is more flexible. This tyrannosaur lacks the strength to directly overturn the ship due to its low level, so it needs to dive to leave a sprint distance, which gives them a certain preparation. time.

"Captain, the Great Route is too dangerous, let's go back!"

The Tyrannosaurus, which entered the water from the side, scared some people. They didn't expect the creatures of the Great Route to be so dangerous.

"Idiot, before you say such stupid things, think about how to deal with this monster first!"

Zep jumped up from the deck and kicked under the chest of the Tyrannosaurus carp dragon rushing out of the water. An ordinary sea beast of this size couldn't stand his kick at all, after all, his kick was enough to deform the steel.

But this tyrannical carp dragon just let out a pained cry, opened its big mouth and bit at Zep again.

"Isn't it a sea snake? What kind of species is this?"

Sea beasts also follow some biological characteristics, such as sea dogs prefer bones, catnip is also useful for sea cats, and Tyrannosaurus is suspected of being a mutant sea snake, so Zhepu tried to attack Qicun, but it didn't work.

And their battle seems to have attracted other sea beasts, because of concern for the ethnic group, and the bone of Zhepu is a bit difficult to chew, so the Tyrannosaurus chose to retreat.

But after it dived into the water and left, the Chef Pirates were still nervous for a long time before they calmed down.

"Captain, let's go back, the Great Route is terrible."

Although I had heard that it was dangerous here before, the appetizer of Tyrannosaurus Carposaurus was a little too scary for them.

"The Upside Down Mountain can't go against the current. Do you want to try crossing the windless belt now? There are bigger and more terrifying sea kings there."

The strong current of the Upside-Down Mountain makes these wind boats unable to do anything. In theory, the power is strong enough to go upstream. However, their Cook George obviously does not have this ability.

"This is just the first level. Keep sailing and think for the best. Maybe that's the biggest danger."

This sentence is of course only comforting. Not long after he arrived here, just one difficulty would not make Zep flinch, but he also took out his small notebook and began to record his voyage experience.

In early October 1502, Mandelfish's ship arrived at the Chambord Islands again, and the branch of Beasts and Fruits in Chambord had also brought coating craftsmen.

They couldn't trust the techniques of other craftsmen, so they sent some of their own people to learn the coating skills. This is a terrible thing and should not be careless.

Only Arceus and Kaido in the Beast Pirates can take a ship to fly over the red earth continent.

At most, other people will fly over with some people, and the rest of the boats still have to go underwater, but Mandelfish's boats are incapable, and they have much less scruples about going into the water.

"Be careful, don't worry."

"Don't worry, Lord Mandelphish, they are all skilled workers, and you are also aware of our testing system."

No one knows what the effect will be before the coating is launched, and the beasts also have a large number of strongholds in the new world. There are also coating craftsmen. These craftsmen are rotated. Whenever there is a boat coating, half of the craftsmen will work together. Change the working position with the ship.

They don't have to care about other people's lives, but their own safety is at stake. They won't be careless no matter what. novelusb.com

During this period of time, Mandelfish was not idle, and he took his subordinates to buy in the Chambord Islands, such as the great bag and the great senbei, which are still very popular in the ghost island.

Even if the pirates in the group don't like it, it's good to give gifts to the locals as prizes. Some of these pirates have already married in Wano Country.

"Don't be dawdling, the coating will be over in one day, and if you go straight back now, you should be able to catch up with Miss Yamato's birthday party."

"Brother Mandelfish, you are the most procrastinating one, right? How long have you been standing here?"

Pierman passed by where Mandelfish was holding five boxes of senbei. Mandelfish was there when he had just gone to buy senbei. When he came back, he was still there, standing in a so-called In front of the Love Chocolate Shop.

"I said, Brother Mandelphish, you don't really like that woman, do you?"

Chocolate sellers often associate their products with love. At this time, the shop where Mandelfish stood was plastered with similar advertisements.

As Mandelfish's deputy, Pierman naturally knew enough about the behavior of his boss and guessed something.

"That woman is pretty, but big brother, she's already married."

"I don't care about that kind of thing. What are you caring about! Get the * out of here!"

Mandelfish raised his foot to frighten the other party, and then Pearman fled here with the senbei, and after a little thought, Mandelfish bought some chocolate and took it away, which was not worth it for him. mentioned.

The next day, the coated boat began to dive. The uniform bubble texture shows that the coating craftsman is really attentive, but this time the fishman island is a bit different from before, and there is a new pirate flag at the entrance.

Chapter 346 The False Murloc and the Real Mermaid

Crossed leg bones, white crescent beard, that iconic pattern is the flag of the Whitebeard Pirates. As a middle-level cadre of the Beast Pirates, it is impossible for Mandelfish to not recognize the Whitebeard's flag.

This is the biggest change that happened to Fishman Island during this time. Edward Newgate the Whitebeard announced that Fishman Island would be included in his territory.

Compared with the so-called affiliation status, Whitebeard's flag is more effective. The pirates who made trouble on Fishman Island were liquidated on the day Whitebeard arrived. After that, Fishman Island was much calmer than before. It's just that occasionally there are pirates who kidnap mermaids.

Mermaid's high starting price of 100 million makes these people willing to take the risk of offending Whitebeard to give it a try.

"Unexpectedly, that guy with Whitebeard would choose to shelter Fishman Island."

"What? Do you look down on murlocs?"

Listening to a coating craftsman talking to himself, Mandelfish came behind him, and none of the pirates who are now called the Emperor of the Sea look down on murlocs or mermen.

The Jack of the Beasts, the captain of Whitebeard and the captain of the affiliated pirates, the husband and daughter of the aunt all have murlocs or mermen.

Charlotte Lingling wants to build a country where all races live together, the family that Whitebeard is looking for, and the fighting power that Kaido is looking for does not discriminate against this race.

Especially the Beasts Pirates. Today's Beasts can be regarded as the pirate group with the most internal non-pure-blooded human cadres, but with the continuous development of Charlotte Lingling's reproductive work, this position is at risk of being overtaken.

"Ah no, it's just... a little curious, after all, sheltering the fish-man island is a big project, and it will attract criticism from others."

"That's the person who is also called the emperor of the sea with Brother Kai, and he doesn't deserve to be called the emperor of the sea if he doesn't even take responsibility for this. After you go to the island, talk less. If there is no order from Brother Kai and the others, don't take the initiative to provoke trouble. ."

said and ordered the sailors to start entering Fishman Island. If they want to return directly to their own territory, they can bypass here, but in addition to some specialties of Chambord, the specialties of Fishman Island are also within the scope of his purchase.

Before entering Fishman Island, Mandelfish also used his abilities.

The human-beast form of his carp king is no different from that of a murloc. It can be said that they are exactly the same, so he can completely regard himself as a murloc on Fishman Island.

"Old rules, you go shopping, and the boats will gather there in the evening."

Speaking of which, Mandelfish carried his own things and walked to the Coral Hill in the southeast of Fishman Island, which is the prosperous port town of the Dragon Palace Kingdom, and Mandelfish did not come here to hang out, but to find someone. of.

"Rushaka, are you there?"

In front of an exquisite building, Mandelfish knocked on the shell door in front of him. After a long time, the door was slowly opened, and a slightly petite silver-tailed mermaid floated out from inside.

Rushaka, the guppy mermaid, the woman Pearman mentioned earlier, is also the target that Mandelfish is currently pursuing.

There is no water in the bubbles of the fishman island, so the mermaid can move freely through the bubbles blown by the bubble coral.

A few years ago, Mandelfish fell in love with her at first sight when he was on a mission to cross the Murloc Island. After that, he began to contact each other in the form of a murloc. She also has some reputation here, but it is not a good reputation.

It is rumored that if you fall in love with her, there will be misfortune. Pierman said that she was married, which is not very accurate, because the male mermaid was attacked by a sea beast on the wedding day and unfortunately died.

Later, a mermaid who pursued her also died in a battle with a human pirate, and some strange words have come out since then.

And she herself asked Charlie when she was a child to give her a divination. The future was not good. Since then, she has been alone. The rumors spread more and more so that she had no other suitors. Until a few years ago, Mandelfish appeared here.

"Why are you here again?"

"Of course I'm here to see you. This is the great senbei and chocolate from Chambord. There are also some books here. The material is made of special moisture-proof and waterproof material. It should last for a long time."

Mandelfish took out what he had prepared in his package, all carefully prepared gifts.

"It's not a valuable thing, you can just accept it. Last time I saw that you like reading books, but I don't know what you like to read, so I probably got some."

Paper books are rare in Fishman Island. Not only are they difficult to transport, but they are also difficult to store. Ordinary paper will rot in this deep sea in a short time, so these are all custom-made by Mandelfish.

Regarding which books to customize, he even did some experiments with Jack. Although Jack grew up in human society, he felt that Jack's nature should be similar to that of a mermaid.

"Didn't I tell you last time that you will encounter misfortune if you have been in contact with me for a long time, aren't you afraid?"

"Don't be afraid, my luck has always been very good. I just got a big treasure not long ago. By the way, I may change the color after a while, but don't recognize me."

In order to prevent the opponent from recognizing him after he evolved, Mandelfish specially greeted him.

Although this is a bit strange, Rusaka doesn't think there is any problem. Murlocs and mermen are very related to their species, and there are things like seasonal discoloration.

Then they entered a stage of forcibly embarrassing chat. Rusaka neither drove him away, nor did he take the initiative to expand the topic. In short, she continued to talk about what Mandelfish said. She didn't say anything. Do not say.

This is because of her strange curse, and she rarely communicates with others, so she is sometimes passive in communication.

It was late in the evening, and it was time for Mandelfish to leave.

"Well, it's time, see you next time, by the way, I'll leave this to you." Mandelfish took off a phone bug with his private number on it.

"This is."

"Phone bug, think I remember to call me." He seemed to be afraid that the other party would refuse, so he pushed the door and left.

"Goodbye! I'm leaving!"

"Idiot." Rusaka didn't lose the phone bug, but seemed to complain about Mandelfish's behavior.

"Hey, hey, Brother Mandelfish!"

After leaving Fishman Island, Pierman saw that Mandelfish had been in a daze, and shouted directly into his ear.

"What? I can hear."

Rubbed his ears, Mandelfish looked at his little brother and wondered what he was going to do.

"I said big brother, you use this appearance to fall in love with a mermaid. What will you do in the future? You always have the ability to release it."

Chapter 347 The Growth of the Beast Kindergarten

"The eldest sister's ability to maintain her head has been maintained for several years. As long as she is strong enough, this kind of thing is not a problem at all."

"Brother Mandelfish, you know what I mean."

Seeing Mandelfish pretending to be stunned, Pearman pointed out his meaning directly. He wanted to see his eldest brother live a happy life, but if this lie was exposed, the result would not be very good. .

"Let's talk about it later, some people can't let go, but if there is a white-bearded flag, it should be safer here."

Mandelfish also knew what he meant, but he didn't know what would happen to revealing his identity now. After all, a large part of the residents of Fishman Island were afraid of humans and kept a distance from them.

In Mandelfish's view, Whitebeard's flag is a good thing, at least it means Fishman Island has more connections with humans.

Then Mandelfish stopped answering this topic. This was Mandelfish's personal question, and he was still Pearman's direct boss, so he had no reason to ask.

And while Mandelfish was still floating, Shaina had already returned to the ghost island.

"Emaline, you come to lead the team, I'll go back first."

"Don't worry, eldest sister, you have already arrived here, and there can be no other problems." This is already the special ocean current area of Wano Kingdom, and the surrounding islands have become the territory of the beasts, as the main base. Wano Country is already the hinterland of the hinterland.

It is impossible to bypass the outer guards to get here by conventional means.

This is also the reason why Shaina is relieved to leave the ship. With a wave of her wings, she has already flown in the direction of Wano Country. As usual, she will return to Wano Country in advance to report some situation.

Due to the difference in physiological structure, it is easier for men to exercise to be strong. Except for Charlotte Lingling's natural monster physique, almost all the top strong men in the sea are men.

Unlike Olga's fantasy, which often resorts to tricks in battle, Shaina is purely a hand-to-hand fighter, and she is almost only weaker than Charlotte Lingling among the female powerhouses today. NoVelusB.cOm

The supremacy of the strong is an unchanging idea within the beasts. The framework formulated by Arceus limits this to collapse, but the core is still determined by strength.

Although Yamato now enjoys a high status, if she can't show the potential to match it, Kaido will never treat her as his daughter, and will only let her go down to fight.

This kind of worship of strength was born naturally in this environment.

"Iska, do you remember what I said to you?"

After entering the current of Wano, the people on the boat began to hoist the sails and control the rudder. Even if these helmsmen are very experienced, they still have to be careful in this sea area.

And Emmaline was telling Iska what to pay attention to.

"Incomparable respect for the holy beast"

"That's right, remember this, as long as you don't make mistakes on this point and don't go where you shouldn't go, the eldest sister won't be very angry, but if you do this, you'll be finished."

Emmaline is not intimidating her, but stating objective facts.

"You've seen the poster in the eldest sister's room, so remember to pay attention."

"understood."

On Ghost Island, Shaina landed on the roof. Since most of the cadres have the ability to fly, the roof of Ghost Island often acts as a parking pad. After finishing her grooming, Shaina entered the room of Ghost Island.

"Lord Holy Beast, I'm back, I'm very sorry, there's nothing to gain."

"It's nothing. The more slates you find, the harder it is to find the rest. This is expected. Yamato is already anxious when you come back."

"Miss Yamato. Wait for me to come back?"

"Yeah, after all, she can change teachers when you come back. She complains about Kaido's training every day. Didn't you come down from the roof? Didn't you see them?"

"No, Mr. Kaido and Miss Yamato are not there."

Shaina was wondering why they weren't where Arceus said, but out of the corner of her eye she saw something out of the window, the coast outside the ghost island seemed to be on fire, when she turned to look over, Yamato and Kaido's location is obvious.

"Understand."

"Understood"

She used to think she was a little strict, but compared to Kaido, her behavior was simply too gentle.

"By the way, Lord Holy Beast, this time Emmaline picked up a child."

"There is no need to report such a small matter."

Picking up a child and coming back in Beasts is not a strange thing, not to mention the cadres, ordinary people may bring a few orphans back when they go out, and there are already orphanages of Beasts on the outside islands.

But this orphanage is not pure. The Beast Pirates are not a charity hall. Although they take care of those orphans who are accidentally generated, they also have their own purposes.

The children who grew up there are basically the reserve soldiers of the Beasts, and those with poorer physiques will be assigned to companies such as Beasts and Fruits.

"This child is quite special, not particularly talented in talent, but very persevering."

On the way back, she conducted some tests on Iska, which was an unbearable training intensity for a child of this age, but she insisted on gritting her teeth until she fainted, and did not offer to give up.

Maybe not talented enough, but she has enough mood.

"It's just a little naive. Maybe Yamato-san can talk to her."

She was referring to Iska's so-called ideal, the kind of words that are not for herself, but to save others from suffering, said from a child's mouth, which makes Shaina feel extremely naive.

"how old are you."

"A little more than five years old, there is still some plasticity."

"Then take it to play with Yamato, there should be more normal people around her."

It's not that the people around her have problems, it's just that now Yamato is around her peers.

Jack is often naive, Robin is precocious and black-bellied, and Maria has no other problems, but because of her identity, she has a more obedience to Yamato. Such an alien child can make her more ordinary friends. .

And such a big sum is not the smallest, it can cultivate more sense of responsibility and so on.

"Yes, I see."

After Shaina reported everything, her ship also entered the diving port. The ship slowly moved up under the drag of gears and chains. When the sun shone on the deck again, Iska was the first This time he entered the territory of Wano country.

The ship returned to port, and the entourage of the ship also began to return to their residence by inland watercraft.

"Iska, prepare yourself, there are many strange things here?"

"Strange?"

Before she could understand the word, a giant dragon spewing fire towards the inner sea appeared in her eyes, and at the same time she seemed to hear the voice of help.

Well, the growth rate of this monthly pass is the sharpest I have ever seen.

But in September, I am powerless.

It will be added in October, um, wait for October!

Chapter 348 The Scary Daily Life of Onishima

"That's a dragon?!"

Kaido in dragon form floats in the sky holding the flame cloud, and his huge figure is hidden in the clouds. Although the pirates of the Hundred Beast Pirates and the citizens of Wano Kingdom are not surprised by this, Iska it was the first time I saw such a huge creature.

For a rough comparison, she doesn't seem to be as big as the scales on that monster.

"Well, that is Governor Kaido, the captain of the Beast Pirates, and one of your future bosses. There is no such thing as quitting this line of business. Once you enter Wano Country, you will have no way back."

This point has been emphasized many times by Shaina on the way back. She is mentally prepared for this, but it seems that she is not prepared enough.

"It's just an ability person. Governor Kaido is just a bit bigger, and there are still more various abilities. It's not surprising."

Emmaline thought that Isca was shocked by Kaido's beast form, but in fact it was not. General understanding.

What shocked her was the people who were swimming in the water, or the people who were running for their lives.

Because of the fire in Doro, she was a little bit resistant to the flames, so looking at the two groups of splashes in the sea at this moment inevitably had some other emotions.

"Did they do anything wrong?"

"Let me see, it's Miss Yamato, no, that's the governor's daughter. This is the governor's training for the lady."

Emmaline said the word training lightly, entertaining, but as we all know, Kaido's entertaining is his own, and he certainly won't miss the opportunity to exercise in all aspects of swimming.

"daughter."

"Yes, biological, but Iska, there is some bad news I should tell you."

"what?"

"Although the eldest sister keeps talking, she should be very satisfied with you in her heart. If you don't expect it, you may train with the eldest lady."

Pearlman knew Mandelfish, and even knew a thing or two about his personal feelings, and Emmaline was also familiar with Shaina. Except for the real face under the mask, Shaina did not hide anything from her, including some living habits and the like.

So she had some guesses about Shaina's plans. Listening to Emmaline's words, Iska was a little dazed. The light of the flames and the faint screams in her ears made her a little suspicious of life.novelusb.com

At this time, it is not only her who doubts her life, but also Maria on the shore. She is very grateful that her ability cannot go into the water, otherwise she will have to be added to escape in the water.

Just in terms of Kaido's habits, he will never favor one over the other. Since Yamato and Jack are training hard in this mode, there must be a test of the same * level difficulty waiting for him.

Unknown horrors are often more terrifying, and some people in the water are more complicated than her heart, such as Jack.

Mermaid is the fastest swimming among all creatures. Although murloc is not as fast as mermaid, it is also among the best in the sea, but at this moment Jack finds that he cannot catch up with Yamato.

Kaido's order did not allow them to dive, which made the biggest advantage of the murlocs gone, and Jack's development direction of defensive warfare made him not fast.

And murlocs also have an advantage. Their pupil structure is different from that of humans. When in water, they can produce a thin membrane, which prevents their pupils from being stimulated by water splashes.

So he could see the lasing water in front of him, Yamato in freestyle swimming fast towards his destination.

As a murloc, he lost to other races in the freestyle, but after thinking that this is Kaido's daughter, everything seems reasonable again.

Then a line of fire almost rubbed his ass.

"Hurry up! Are there still warships swimming fast, are you so embarrassed!"

"I'm going to sue you with my foster father! That's not what I said at the beginning!"

"Well, you still have the strength to fight back, which shows that you still have potential, Yamato! Swim faster for me!"

Their initial training goal was to swim around the ghost island for a few laps, but Kaido thought it was too easy for them to swim like this, so it made them slightly more difficult.

If you dive, you can avoid Kaido's flames, but they don't because if they dive, Kaido will be replaced with wind blades and thunderbolts.

Compared to those things, the flames that controlled the power became the most "gentle" attacks.

When Yamato and Jack were on the right track, Maria also ushered in her rock climbing project. For her, the spider fruit, rock climbing is not complicated, but it is equally physically exhausting, and it can also exercise the use of the fruit's ability.

At the end of a day of training, the three of them lay wet on the ground. Although Maria did not go into the water, her clothes were still wet with sweat. This is also their daily routine. For Kaido, training is not enough to faint. Very gentle behavior.

After their training, Kaido also came here in human form again.

"It's not enough, Yamato, do you still want to go to sea by yourself?"

"What are you talking about, father, I have to go out to sea by myself. It's a pity that I can't go and see this vast sea by myself."

Hearing that Yamato's target Kaido was going to sea was not furious.

At this time, she did not call herself Koyuki Yutian, and the control of the beasts over the country of Wano has become deeper. Even if Kaido does not stay here, the beasts have enough force to sit in the country of Wano, and the base camp is unusually stable. .

In this case, he naturally didn't need to let Yamato live a life like imprisonment, but he still sneered at Yamato's words.

"It's too bad. It's impossible for you to go out to sea alone. The enemy on the sea won't stop when you faint. Don't dream until you are strong enough. Your adoptive father will never let go of this. ."

Going out to sea under the care of others and going out to sea represent completely different meanings, which is also one of the goals of Yamato.

"I will knock you down sooner or later!"

"Well, you can try it if you can, but in order to help you achieve this goal as soon as possible, you can practice again tomorrow by yourself."

Having been training with Jack and Maria is already a "burden" for Yamato, and the upper limit she can bear is far more than the two of them.

"Ugh?!"

"This is your own choice. There is no chance to take back what you say. By the way, the news of your adoptive father, you have a new partner."

"A new partner? Great, finally a new guy here?"

It's been a while since the arrival of new children on Onishima, and it can't be said that there are no children at all, but Kaido clearly treats these children differently.

Those children grew up on the mainland of the outer islands or Wano country, and the training was also ordinary.

Only those he recognized who can stand the test can go to the ghost island and experience the special hell-like life with Yamato.

Although he has trained many people, not all of them are worthy of his personal training. Strictly speaking, Iska is not very qualified, but Shaina has recognized her perseverance.

"Mr. Kaido, is it a boy this time?"

Jack, who was also lying dead, raised this question. It stands to reason that it is not good to stop after strenuous exercise, so Kaido kindly let them swim an extra lap, which further consumed their physical strength. , which caused Jack to really sink to the bottom.

It's not without reason that Jack put forward this reason. Now his circle is full of girls, even the frost milk fairy and the auspicious eggs are female. As the only male, he feels what it means to be treated differently.

He needed a younger brother to share the pain with him, but Kaido's answer was destined to disappoint him.

"No, it's a little girl."

"Is that so"

Jack suddenly felt that there was nothing wrong with going to sea early, and he would be able to pick up the child and come back then.

The next step is the familiar process, the bathroom is cleaned up, and then go to the large dining hall of the ghost island for dinner. Although the small stove exists, they can still be seen in the dining hall of the ghost island most of the time.

A large number of external chefs show their cooking skills here. Large pieces of sea animal meat are roasted into golden and red meat and served on the table. Expensive Wagyu beef is also common here.

It is not that there are no cooks in Wano Country, but they are arranged to be responsible for the appetizers and cold dishes. If they are responsible for the main dishes, not only the cooks will be exhausted, but these pirates will starve to death.

It took humans a long time to rely on technology to reach the top of the food chain. If these pirates eat grass every day, they will definitely be driven crazy, but there are also some vegetarians within the beasts. These people can maintain energy consumption thanks to tree fruit. Manufactured by Boffin.

After some improvements, the taste of the tree fruit Baofen has become more suitable for humans and can also provide a large amount of nutrients.

However, there is a unique device on the dining table, similar to a small swimming pool. The mountain spring water produced in Wano country is fed into it by the water diversion device, and there are several moving mangosteens inside.

Green leaf hat, red upper and lower white body, mangosteen-like shape, the bottom of the food chain in the Alola region, the fruit Pokémon Sweet Bamboo Bamboo.

The aroma they emit is an irresistible bait for all birds. Their own weakness causes many bird Pokémon to be attracted to it and feed on it.

After appears, it is also a Pokémon that is prohibited from entering the Totland area.

There are humans in the Pokémon world who have eaten Sweet Bamboo Bamboo, but the sweetness is too sweet for human beings, and the sweat of Sweet Bamboo Bamboo is mixed with water to make mangosteen juice in a very appropriate proportion.

Most people choose sweet bamboo to soak in water, which is almost an inexhaustible raw material.

But the sweet party of the BIG-MOM pirates rarely cares if the food is too sweet, and in terms of Charlotte Lingling's character, there is a high probability that they will eat the sweet bamboo directly.

Therefore, they have also become a species restricted from exporting, but the sweat of sweet bamboo and bamboo has become a new commodity of all kinds of beasts and fruits. The advertising slogan calls it an absolutely healthy concentrated juice, and only one drop can get an extremely sweet juice.

The perspiration of sweet bamboo, which is vacuum-packed after sterilization, is very easy to store and transport. Today, hotels around the world, especially high-end cafeterias, are very fond of this product.

“Sweet Bamboo~”

"The water temperature is just right? Do you like this temperature?"

“Sweet Bamboo~”

Yawa is having a friendly and friendly communication with Sweet Bamboo Bamboos, which is an easy task for her. The beverage table of Sweet Bamboo Bamboo is similar to a microscopic indoor swimming pool as a whole.

In addition to the swimming pool as a juice pool and a diving platform, Yamato also started his own operation after receiving half a cup of sweet bamboo juice.

The corners of her mouth began to rise, and her teeth became sharp. At this time, she entered the human-beast form, and then a chill came out of her hands. Ice crystals began to appear on the juice. With the stirring of chopsticks, a cup of homemade smoothie appeared.

Evolutionary beasts are capable of manipulating the power of that part of the beasts even if they are not transformed, but Yamato's current training is not enough.

You have to enter this form if you want to make a smoothie delicately, and then he waved to the frost milk fairy who was waiting for them in the restaurant, and filled the remaining part of the cup with cream.

"Do you want a smoothie?"

"Yes, thank you."

"Thank you."

Neither Jack nor Maria refused to do this. Wano Country has no habit of drinking hot water, and neither do they. Drinking more hot water does not apply here.

And the modified version of Okou Shinshin makes Yamato extremely resistant to cold. Eating some ice is nothing to her at all. Maria is the cup she is good at, and Jack is the plate handed over by her nose.

As the King of Bronze Elephant ability, his nose is his third arm, so his most basic requirement for fruit ability is to be able to use his nose flexibly. In life outside of training, he is required to use his nose as much as possible.

Writing, this is the case when eating, which is why he has a fork on his plate. It is really embarrassing for an elephant to manipulate the chopsticks with its trunk.

Soon both of their juices turned into smoothies, but when they were seated, a plate of broccoli and green peppers suddenly appeared in front of Yamato.

"lucky!"

There were four auspicious eggs on the chair next to , and the short round hands pointed to the vegetables in front of them. Even without the power of Victory, Maria and Jack could understand what auspicious eggs meant.

【No picky eaters】

Geely Egg's eyes swept across the table full of fried and grilled food. Apart from the hill-like meat, the only vegetables here are probably the lettuce and tomato in the burger, which is absolutely unacceptable to the four nannies. .

Although these children have grown up, the auspicious eggs who brought them up still have the majesty of their own nurses.

After a pot of vegetables was forcibly thrown onto the table, the Geely Eggs pulled out a child from behind.

After Emmaline brought her here, she handed it over to Geely Egg. Even though Iska was mentally prepared at the time, she was still startled when she saw Geely Egg.

Chapter 350 The future of the beasts, the development of Tezzolo

After all, it is an egg that can walk. Even if she saw the wind goblin floating over by accident, Kaido, who breathed flames in the sky, hesitated for a while in the face of a Pokémon like Geely Egg, and finally was dragged by Geely Egg. Bring it with you.

"lucky~"

"Got it, I'll get along well with her, and I'll eat up those things."

Although Yamato said so, Geely Egg didn't seem to believe it, but separated some of the vegetables and put them in front of her, with a strong sense that she would not leave if she didn't eat
it.nOvelus.b.com

Under the gaze of the four auspicious eggs, she directly raised the bowl and poured all the green vegetables into her mouth, and finally swallowed it without chewing. The auspicious eggs were relieved after confirming that she really ate these vegetables. left here.

"Ah I hate green peppers. Why does this kind of food exist."

"It's okay, the sweet taste is not bad."

"It's obviously bitter, how on earth do you taste sweet?"

Listening to Maria's description of the taste of green peppers, Yamato was completely ignorant. She didn't understand why Maria could taste the sweetness, but she still looked at Isca who was brought by Gilly Egg.

"Hello, my name is Yamato, she is Maria, he is Jack."

Yamato took the lead and extended his hand to Isca. After Isca introduced herself, Maria started to touch her head directly. As she became taller, she also liked children more. The maternal genes seem to be awakened early.

While Yamato and the others were in contact with Isca, Quinn got a new mission from Arceus.

"How, can it be done?"

"It should be possible, but Mr. Arceus, please state your request again."

Looking at the sketch in front of him, Quinn pondered for a long time and still expressed his opinion to Arceus, because he really couldn't understand the sketch. If he designed according to this sketch, then there is a high probability that something would go wrong.

But the experience taught him that the problem of this picture must not be spoken out, otherwise he will be unlucky.

"Didn't the cannons modified in your body have been replaced with the ammunition feeder?"

"That's right, your power is really easy to use, much more useful than the built-in ammo bay."

"According to the release principle of the energy ball, set up an energy cannon excited by this energy and place it on the top of the robot's head. This time the description is clear enough."

"I understand. Although it's a bit difficult, it's not a problem to develop it, but Mr. Arceus, how do you plan to operate this so-called robot?"

"You don't need to worry about it, as long as you can make something similar."

Quinn's technology still has a little credibility, not to mention the wonderful human body transformation, the transformation potion that Maria took is the proof of the technology.

And according to the weapons used by Maria in the original time, it can be seen that Quinn also has a way to make inanimate objects eat Devil Fruits, and it is always good to whip him more.

And what Arceus asked him to make is the prototype of a special war weapon that is considered for future wars, belonging to the "pacifist" of the beasts - Genesect, but this is only a draft.

Quinn, who left here, looked at the new arrangement on the itinerary, so he had to move back his banana cultivation plan, and the boss had no choice but to ask them.

When the World Government incorporated MADS, on the one hand, he and Gage were not as important as Vegapunk, and on the other hand, they chose to escape.

In terms of Quinn's current situation, even if he doesn't go out, the bounty may skyrocket, and he really needs the banner of the beasts to be stronger.

So face these tasks very seriously.

In front of Maria, who began to germinate in motherhood, and Yamato, who was familiar with her, Iska quickly integrated into the team, but her training has not yet started, and now she is watching a play with Robin.

Before that, she lived as an ordinary person, and in that state, she couldn't adapt to this high-intensity training at all, and improving her physique was the first step.

And time has come to the end of October unknowingly.

At this time, the Beast Pirates occupied the northern area of the area, Didikul Island, and Tezzolo returned to his home.

It has been almost two years since he met Yamato in Chambord, and in these two years, he has shown his value and talent. At this time, he has gone from a store manager to a store manager in the northern region. General manager.

After having a suitable stage, Tezzolo has shown his business talent. Whether it is human relations or business negotiation, after a period of study, he will use it more and more proficiently.

Tezolo on the original timeline can start from scratch as a runaway slave and become an economic tycoon who controls 20% of the world's Bailey, although there is a reason for his collapse due to Stella's death.

But he now has a new motivation to give Stella a better future. The two of them have a very happy life, but because Tezzolo is busy with her career, and Stella has also begun to develop into the star industry, so they are now No plans to have children.

For a better tomorrow, he can be said to be working hard with all his strength.

With the huge basic plate of Beasts and Fruits, and with the Beasts Pirates as the backing of the pirate world, Tezzolo developed much more smoothly than he in the original timeline.

The big ghosts above will not cause trouble as long as they feed Bailey. The real trouble is those little ghosts, but the Beast Pirates specialize in dealing with such little ghosts.
