Chapter 361 "Green Pepper's Repayment" and the Gothic Country

He didn't listen to what he said before, but now he was beaten and made him smile. This was something that was hard to understand for a moment.

"Hey! What the * do you mean?"

"Ah hoo hoo hoo... I suddenly thought clearly, it's okay to take some of these treasures if you want, I owe you a big favor now."

Green Pepper touched his head and said. At this time, his head was no longer flat, but showed an awl-like structure. Zeraora just kicked his awl head out again.

For Green Pepper, as long as he can solve this awl head, it is a great kindness to him.

said that without taking any precautions, he knelt down on the ground to express his gratitude, and the price of this was that a gap was actually cracked on the ice.

Looking at the ice surface that was cracked by himself, Green Pepper laughed even louder.

"Zeraora, shouldn't you be fooling him?" nOvEpuSb.com

Her three views are still relatively simple, right is right, wrong is wrong, if these treasures are all green peppers, then this misunderstanding can be accepted in an instant, because she will feel negative in her heart if she makes a fool of this age. guilty.

"Probably not, but I don't think this guy is like a human."

Looking at the changes on the green pepper's head, Zeraora couldn't understand whether it was just a bone or a special cuticle like a rhino horn. He was thinking about this biological problem.

After all, the normal structure will not undergo such changes.

"Yah hoo hoo hoo, sorry, sorry, I'm so happy, please listen to my explanation."

said that Green Pepper explained the reason for his head to them, but to sum up, Green Pepper's words can be summed up in two sentences.

He cherished this awl head.

Karp is an asshole.

"That's it. Because of my brain, I value these treasures very much, so I didn't listen to you for a while. I'm really sorry. If there is anything I can help, please feel free to speak."

Listening to Green Pepper's explanation, Zeraora and Shanna couldn't accept it. After all, Green Pepper's reason was something they couldn't understand.

But he said so, and he was not polite for a moment, the power of the waveguide in his hand condensed into a slate.

"Have you seen this? Even if your awl head hits it, it won't break this."

Green Pepper stroked his beard, thought for a while, but gave a negative answer.

"Do you want this? I'll look for you after the old man has dealt with some things. It's been ten years, and it's time to come back."

After leaving Green Pepper an address, Zeraora left here with Moan.

They didn't accept Green Pepper's suggestion to give them treasures anyway. It would seem a little inappropriate to ask for these treasures at this time. I don't know if they thought they were really treasure thieves.

But looking at the direction they were leaving, Green Pepper showed a thoughtful expression instead.

The next day, when they came to the first floor from the hotel, they were startled by the battle in front of them.

"What are you doing?"

Looking at the group of people in front of him, Hatch almost pulled out the knife.

"Please don't misunderstand! We are entertaining you according to the order of the leader. All consumption in the land of flowers will be handled by our Eight Treasures Water Army. This is our summary of the famous scenic spots in the land of flowers. Let's see what you have. Where do you want to go?"

These are all orders from Green Pepper. As the largest local snake in the Land of Flowers, the Eight Treasures Navy knows most of the area in the Land of Flowers. Fur tribes are rare. It is not difficult for Green Pepper to find out where there are fur tribes.

After he returned to the station last night, he gave orders to the other Eight Treasures Marines to find this group of people, entertain them with the most enthusiastic attitude, and meet all their reasonable needs.

The various treasure navy armies in the country of Hana are also vaguely competitive, and the others saw their retired leader regained his vitality and immediately ordered them to follow Green Pepper's request.

Hatch and Ling don't know what's going on, but Zeraora and Setsuna seem to have some idea of what's going on.

"That weirdo seems kind of interesting."

And the matter is not over yet, after a period of time, they actually saw the green pepper again, this time the green pepper was holding a booklet.

"Ah hoo hoo hoo, I thought about it, I have to repay this kindness. Since you don't want treasure, then this is my heart."

said Green Pepper and handed over the booklet.

"This is?"

"This is part of my experience with Ba Chong Quan. Apart from this awl head and those treasures, this is my most precious thing."

Bathong Fist, a secret skill passed down from generation to generation by the Eight Treasures Marine Army, will not be easily passed on to outsiders. Although semi-retired, Qingjiao is still a pillar of the twelve generations and has the qualifications to call the shots.

These parts of the skills can be passed on. Usually, practitioners have to join the Eight Treasures Marine Corps, but this time is an exception.

Treasure is something outside the body, but strength is not, so they did not refuse this time.

Under the leadership of the Eight Treasures Navy, they toured the Land of Flowers for about a week, almost all of which were VIP privileged passages. If it weren't for the limited carrying capacity of Faerun, I'm afraid they would still be able to leave with a bunch of souvenirs.

Before leaving the Land of Flowers, Green Pepper arranged for them to prepare some places worth traveling in the West Sea, and then Faerun spread his wings and left here again.

After Zeraora and the others left, the Eight Treasures Marine Corps reported the situation to Green Pepper.

"Have you left? What an incredible young man. No wonder he is the cadre of the person called the Emperor of the Sea. He is young and promising."

Touching his head, Qingjiao sighed slightly. After he came back, he simply investigated the identity of the other party. Although he has retired for many years, looking at the bounty, it is higher than his own. 8 million people.

Coupled with the identity of the other party, his impulsiveness almost caused big trouble, so he would continue to show affection. Although repayment is part of the reason, there are also factors in this aspect.

"Go on, let the people below pay attention to this kind of thing, and it seems that there is nothing wrong with connecting with the other party."

"Yes, the leader! By the way, the leader of the Erbao Navy invited you to talk about the marriage today, you should go."

A few days later, Faerun was still flying in the air. The purpose of the trip was to experience different scenery, so they were not interested in countries similar to the Land of Flowers. After a few days of travel, they also arrived at a new destination, a special country dominated by Gothic elements.

And by the time they got here, there seemed to be a Halloween event going on, and the streets were full of weirdos of all kinds.

Chapter 362 Moria Reappears

This country reveals a dark atmosphere. Although they are fur tribes, their appearance here has not attracted the attention of others.

Compared with a series of makeup looks such as those transformed monsters with nails on their heads, bandaged zombies, evil witches, vampires, etc., the appearance of the fur tribe looks very cute.

This is a celebration of the country and they come at just the right time in terms of travel.

All kinds of lanterns carved from pumpkins are piled up on the streets. Except for the different painting styles, the liveliness here is comparable to the fire festival in Wano.

"Iced pumpkin juice is ready, please use it slowly."

The waiter dressed like a vampire brought the pumpkin juice. The time for the celebration here happened to be the harvest season of pumpkins, so the streets and alleys were full of various pumpkin products.

"Why hasn't Dad come back yet?"

The roasted turkey was brought up, but Hatch disappeared. He said he was going to the toilet earlier, but the people disappeared.

"There's nothing in the toilet. Uncle Hatch doesn't know where he went, and the waiter in the hotel didn't pay attention to him. After all, there are quite a lot of werewolves here."

Zeraora looked around helplessly, vampires and werewolves were the most dressed up, and many people wore wolf hoods and the like.

"I'll take care of this guy when he gets home"

Ling's fork was pinched and deformed. It can be seen that Hatch's life will not be very good after returning home, but the most urgent task is to find out where Hatch went.

"In an instant, you stay here with auntie, I'll go out to find uncle."

"Um."

On the other hand, Hatch came to a place full of crosses at this time. From some garlands and tombstones, it is not difficult to see that this should be a cemetery. This is a feature of this country. The cemetery is not independent, but scattered among the residents. between districts.

A similar cemetery can be seen near ordinary houses or under the castles of nobles.

And what led Hatch over was a white ghost. He had just seen the ghost pass through a child's body, and then the child suddenly knelt on the ground and kept saying that he shouldn't be there. in this world.

This aroused Hatch's interest and ran here after the white ghost, but here he didn't see other ghosts, but a few people who were digging graves.

There is more than one grave, and there are many strange people standing beside the graves. After the corpse is dug up, those people will check whether the corpse is complete. If it is incomplete, it will be thrown away, and the complete one will be carried away.

Even though the country is holding themed events, Hatch feels like he's in a cold sweat, it's like it's haunted.

And at this time, the weirdos seemed to have discovered him, so they directly surrounded him.

"Hey, isn't this a show?"

He could see the empty eyes of some people, how strange the situation looks now, and those weirdos ignored him at all, raised their wooden sticks, shovels and other tools and hit him, this is their order, destroy people who see them.

Of course Hatch wouldn't be beaten and didn't fight back, but when he waved his hand at will, one of the people's head was knocked out.

Hatch didn't expect that he would kill someone like this, but then he found out that he was wrong, the thing whose head was blown away actually groped and put its head back.

"Fuck, there are really zombies here! Gotta tell them quickly."

Looking at the zombie whose head and arms had been knocked off without a drop of blood, and even surrounded him, he suddenly remembered the salt that a so-called witch sold him to exorcise evil before.

With the attitude of giving it a try, he sprinkled a handful of salt at the zombie in front of him, but he didn't expect it to be really effective.

The scattered salt foam entered the zombie's mouth, and a black thing ran out of the zombie's mouth, and the surrounding zombies saw that the salt in Hatch's hand stopped one after another, and couldn't stop backing away.

"Haha, Ling and the others always say that I buy things randomly, it seems that this salt is really effective, refund! Give me back!"

At this time, Hatch showed what is called a dog fighting for salt. With the bag of salt in his hand, he really figured out a way, but when he was about to leave, a big man stood in front of him, and it seemed Don't be afraid of him.

Upon seeing this, he grabbed a handful of salt and sprinkled it, but this time it didn't take effect.

"Hee hee hee, I'm not one of those zombies. I didn't expect that there are fur tribes here. Let me see if I want your corpse or your shadow?"

Bounty 320 million Bailey-Moonlight Moriah.

Although he has not yet brought Hogbark under his command and vigorously developed his zombie army, he has already begun to collect some powerful corpses and shadows to prepare for the future.

In the beginning, he lost to Kaido, and all his men died in battle. Moria came to the West Sea after stealing the corpses of Ryoma and other strong men. After a while of decadence, he thought he had figured it out, because he was alive, so he would lose.

Then as long as his subordinates are immortal, he will lose nothing.

So he started looking for powerful corpses to make zombie soldiers, but ordinary soldiers made from corpses are meaningless, so he has been quietly searching for the corpses of powerful people in various places in the West Sea.

But the difficulty is very high. Some countries like cremation, and the corpse is decomposed very fast. His ability cannot turn the skeleton frame into a soldier. Later, he found this place, a person who is used to preserving corpses in formalin or making mummified corpses. nation.

Previously, he was collecting information on some deadly powerful people, and took advantage of this Halloween to start his own tomb robbery activity. OvEluSb.com

But he suddenly found a fleeing shadow. When Moria came over, he happened to see Hatch who was using salt to push back the zombies.

The fur tribe is much stronger than the average human, whether it is a shadow or a corpse.

A large pair of scissors appeared in his hand, and the sound of clicking and the surrounding background seemed a little scary.

"Hand over your shadow!"

Use battle to test the opponent's strength. If you are strong, you will take away the shadow. If you are weak, you will take away the body.

But after hearing Moria say that he is not a zombie, Hatch is not afraid of the other party. He just heard that zombies are contagious before, so he seems to be timid, and Moria is a big man who still dares to resist.

If Kaido is here, it can be seen that Moriah is much weaker than a few years ago. At that time, his physical skills could still compete with Kaido, but now he will inevitably face Kaido. After being killed in seconds, even a man of Hatch's strength was not able to defeat the opponent immediately.

If it was him a few years ago, even if he didn't use the fruit ability, he would never be like this. Feeling that Hatch was not so easy to deal with, Moria also planned to activate his fruit ability, but at this moment, a thunder suddenly fell from the sky.

Chapter 363 Shadow of Moriah, Princess Mononoke Perona

"Uncle, are you okay?"

Zeraora didn't have those concerns, and directly opened the way of thunder and lightning to clean up the tool man zombies. Looking at Hatch who was fighting Moria, he also directly locked his enemy.

No matter what the reason is, his father-in-law had a fight with others, he must help his father-in-law.

So a lightning strike hit Moria directly. The high-voltage volt made Moria's body twitch for a few minutes, but she did not lose consciousness. Just when Zeraora was preparing to deal with Moria's next attack, he found that Mo Leah took two steps back.

Although is very subtle, for a strong person, this is something that should never happen, and the root cause of this is that Moriah is afraid of him.

The battle three years ago almost became a nightmare in his heart. When he just escaped from Wano, he would see his dead partner and Kaido's face as soon as he closed his eyes.

Although he has always warned himself, when he finds more powerful corpses and forms an invincible undead army, then he can take revenge on Kaido.

But the reason for this idea shows that he has begun to fear Kaido in the depths of his heart. It is precisely because he lacks confidence in his own strength that he thinks of using external force.

For three years, instead of exercising his body, he became reckless and decadent, and devoted all his energy to finding a powerful corpse.

Even if he didn't admit it, the slight step back in his footsteps after seeing Zeraora was the proof.

In other words, he was not simply afraid, but unable to face that reality, so he hypnotized himself and began to search for Oz's body and other useless efforts.

Because of his complicated emotions towards Kaido, Moriah knows the members of the Beasts Pirates very well, and he knows any pirates of the Beasts Pirates who have a bounty.

"Kaido's subordinates?!"

Zeraora in front of made his expression a little distorted, whether it was anger or fear, his hands holding the scissors were shaking at this time.

"You are. Moonlight Moriah."

Morlia almost disappeared after the defeat, and it took him a while to remember such a person.

"Uncle, be careful, this guy is hard to deal with."

Even if Kaido wasn't particularly serious at the beginning, Moriah was someone who could play against normal Kaido for a while, so Zeraora was very vigilant.

"Is it hard to deal with?"

"Um"

Hearing that, Hatch took out a moon stone, and in order not to delay, he directly entered the moon lion state.

"Shadow Gun!"

Looking at the two in front of him, the shadow under Moria's feet wriggled for a while, and then turned into a spear blade and stabbed at Zeraora, but was pinched by his domineering palm.

At the same time, his expression also appeared a little puzzled. If it was just this kind of strength, it would be impossible to fight Kaido for so long.NOVELUSDB.COM

Seeing that his attack was taken down like this, Moria's face was a little ugly.

And Moriah's actions afterward were also beyond Zeraora's expectations. His shadow turned into a sky-filled bat to block their sight, and when the bat disappeared, Moriah himself was no longer here.

His courage was not completely wiped out. Years later, when he heard the news of Absalom, he still dared to enter Blackbeard's territory directly, and he was not afraid to face many of Blackbeard's cadres.

That was the guardian of his true companions in his heart, but now it is different, he has no companions, only dead zombies, reason tells him that it is not rational to fight with Kaido's cadres at this time.

Since Hatch can enter the moon lion state, it means that Zeraora can also, and the short fight has already explained a problem, he may not be able to defeat the opponent.

He didn't know why Zeraora appeared here, if there were other people from the Beast Pirates around.

After considering the outcome of the battle, he finally chose to leave.

It's just that he was actually a little overthinking. He always regarded Kaido as a great enemy in his heart, but Kaido had long forgotten him. For Kaido, the loser is not worth being remembered.

Rocks, Roger, Whitebeard, Kozuki Oden, these are just a few of the pirates worthy of his memory.

"This is the end?"

Looking at Moria who disappeared suddenly, Hatch couldn't understand it. He didn't understand the purpose of this big man disappearing directly after he appeared.

And when Moria disappeared, the surrounding zombies also fell down one after another, and the shadows in their bodies were directly taken away by Moria.

"Uncle, let's go, and meet up with Setsuna and the others first."

Zeraora's sight and sound can still capture Moria's position, but he did not choose to pursue it. Moria's ability is too strange. He was worried that Moria would go back and cause harm to others, so he chose Get out of here with Hatch.

"By the way, uncle, why did you leave suddenly?"

"Because of a ghostly thing."

"Ghost?"

"It's the same as the thing next to you." Hatch pointed to the side, a white ghost was floating there, and when Hatch found it, it not only did not run, but also passed directly through Hatch's chest.

"I'm not some arrogant wolf, I'm just a dog, just wasting the air of this world."

Looking at Hatch who suddenly became sluggish, Zeraora felt that the ghost was amazing. Through the description of the moment and the contact for a period of time, he understood that Hatch was a particularly conceited person, and he could hear this from his mouth. Such words are no less than the joke of the century.

But he was also passive for a few seconds, and soon stood up again.

"I think there is something wrong with this country. Let's leave early. By the way, don't tell Ling and the others what happened just now."

"I see, uncle, but aren't you curious about the source of that thing?"

Through the current, Zeraora's sight and color coverage is also very large, and most of the people in this country went to participate in that celebration, so he quickly found a breath nearby.

Led by Zeraora, they soon came to another cemetery, and in an abandoned tomb, they saw a little girl with pink hair holding a teddy bear.

Perona, if it develops according to the normal timeline, she should be picked up by Moria who came here to look for the body, and raised by Moria.

But because of the appearance of Zeraora, Moria left the country early, so she naturally lost the chance to meet Moria.

According to the tradition that the beasts have always followed, Zeraora felt that she should try to pick up a child to go back, after all, the ability to make Hatchdu become negative looks very interesting.

"Little sister, why do you live in this place?"

Kyle, the former professional player of the "Shenhua Continent" club, took the player panel to travel before the game opened and became a mixed-race succubus. However, Kyle always felt that the way he raised the fourth natural disaster to be a leek was a bit wrong. The way that other NPCs cut players' leeks: unfathomable strength, top story background, hidden stories behind, and rich and varied skill teaching methods. The way to cut the player's leeks by himself: a pure and lustful face, a small pink tail, a magic eye with a peach heart, a skill with a gorgeous value explosion... and a smile in the game's promotional video. Wait, did Minecraft World Adventures do something wrong? This book is also known as: "Succubus Reincarnation: When You Come to the Game World, Show Your True Ability", "How to Cultivate a Passerby Succubus", "My Succubus Growth Story Is Really a Problem"!

Chapter 364 The Hunting Activity of Illusion Disaster

"Didn't you say there won't be anyone else?"

Looking at Perona, who was brought back by Zeraora and Hatch, Faerun's expression became a little unnatural. Such a little girl didn't matter, but he was more and more afraid.

It has not been a day or two since the Millennium Dragon moved into the territory of the Hundred Beasts Pirates. He has some understanding of this tradition, but he did not expect that these two people would be able to pick up a child when they traveled.nOveluSb.Com

"This. Special circumstances, her ability is very interesting, so I brought it back."

To be precise, she was abducted and returned. Perona, who lives alone in the cemetery, naturally has no other relatives. According to her own statement, she does not remember what her relatives are like. Anyway, she has lived here for a long time.

I usually sleep in that tomb, and I mainly rely on some tributes for food and so on.

But the tribute is not every day, sometimes even only flowers, the devil fruit she accidentally ate when she was hungry not long ago.

That is the superhuman type Spirit Spirit Fruit, the eater can release the ghosts that manipulate others to be negative, but she is not very good at controlling this ability, and sometimes unintentionally releases the negative ghosts to go out and wander around.

It was such a negative ghost that attracted Hatch's attention, and it was easy to bring her out. She had been living in that kind of place and knew little about the outside world. The broken teddy bear was her partner, and the negative ghosts that were released should be Also a special companion.

looks like it should be a doll of a child who died unfortunately, so she was directly abducted by the temptation of Halloween candy.

"Is this what this kid is capable of? It's kind of interesting."

Looking at the little white ghost floating around Perona, she went up and poked curiously.

"Wait, Moment! Don't touch that!"

Watching Momo touch the Negative Ghost, Hatch hurriedly stopped it, but stimulated by the sound, the Negative Ghost went directly through the opponent's body.

However, unlike Hatch, Instant did not enter a state of decadence, but passively entered a state of transformation.

Characteristics: Unyielding Heart.

In addition to the original ability to convert fear into acceleration, it also brings the ability to immunize against negative emotions. Just like the natural system will take the initiative to avoid risks when it detects danger, when it perceives the impact of this emotion, the ability of instant also activated.

"Dad, what are you doing with the camera in your hand?"

"It's nothing, nothing."

It's hard to say that he intends to keep the other party's black history, otherwise there will really be a washboard waiting for him when he gets home.

"Little sister, you have to control your abilities in the future, you know?"

A lollipop was held up in front of Perona, and she only got the candy in her hand after she agreed.

On January 1, 1503, Perona spent her last New Year in this country, and the first New Year to be accompanied by someone.

Zeraora and their trip did not stop because of this. There was still one month left in the vacation time. Excluding the time for the return trip, they could still make a new trip.

And in Onishima, as the New Year comes to an end, the cadres move again.

"Olga, the auction of Chambord is about to start again. It seems that there are some good fruits on the list this time, so bring them back."

Jhin oversees the political situation in Wano. Quinn manages external intelligence and the research list is full. He also serves as a teacher of culture, and he is occasionally taught by Kaido.

Shaina was doing the work of general secretary and instructor, Zeraora was traveling, Kaido still lost contact with him every day, and Olga was the only other cadres who could be easily arranged.

"Don't worry, Lord Arceus, I will handle things well."

The officers of the Beast Pirates have a high degree of freedom, especially when they are outside, they have a very high degree of autonomy. At this time, it is Olga's daily activity - hunting.

But what she hunted was not animals or monsters, but people, the ubiquitous human traffickers on the sea.

Leaving the belly of the sea kings in 1489, it is now 1503. In 14 years, she has been trained by Kaido for at least ten years. As a person who bears the name of the three disasters, she can do a lot of things with her own preferences.

For example, when hunting those traffickers, the traffickers will also become active every time the Chambord auction starts, and that is her hunting time.

Although the traffickers have a complicated background at sea, Olga never worries about that.

Even if some of the re-arrested slaves leaked her information, no one could find her, because every time she did it with a different face, gender, age, body shape, everything about her was a mystery.

Zoroark's phantom power is no joke, she can freely use various abilities even if she disguises herself as otherwise.

Most people will be let go, and some suitable people and people who have nowhere to go will be brought back by her. Although picking up children is a tradition of beasts, the one who brings back the most people is definitely Olga.

The Hundred Beasts have a complex composition, and many of them are slaves. Every time Olga's hunting season, these people are the most excited, and participating in this hunting is their way of revenge.

The hatred of the slave traders is far stronger than that of ordinary people. This is her personal hunting and the revenge of these people.

When the Shadow Fox was about to set off, in the first half of the great route, in the windless zone, a pirate ship was also ready to go.

The skull is surrounded by nine snake heads, which are the flags belonging to the Nine Snake Pirates.

And the name of this island is Daughter Island. As the name suggests, there are only women in this country, and men are not allowed to set foot here.

The same is true for the members of the Nine Snakes. The king of the Amazon Lily Kingdom will personally lead the pirate group.

The crew members are all women, and the crew members are all elite warriors carefully selected from the Amazon and Lily Kingdom.

Every year, they go out to loot the materials they need. The windless belt on the outside is their natural barrier. Although they don't have such things as sea floor stone technology, they have swimming snakes.

That is a highly venomous sea snake, and the ships dragged by them, even the sea kings, will choose to stay away.

Snake training is almost an ancestral skill in the Amazon Lily Kingdom, and every adult warrior has a special snake that grows up with them.

They are not only psychic, they can even act as bows and arrows.

The outing of the Nine Snake Pirates is not only to replenish supplies, but also to test their young warriors.

Amazon-Lily is a pirate country, where violence and power are advocated. No matter the old, the weak, women and children, as long as they have power, they are the most beautiful.

And this year, the three sisters of the Boya family also embarked on their first voyage as young warriors.

Chapter 365 Nine Snakes

"Sandar, Marie, this is the first voyage, be careful, only powerful warriors can become official members of the Pirates."

On the deck of the Perfume Snake, Boya Hancock educated his two younger sisters as the eldest sister. Although they were qualified to sail at the age of 12, they were not combatants.

This is the first test for them by the Nine Snakes. They are more of a deck handyman and lookout, and they are used to a completely different life on the water first.

But underwater, a diving machine is quietly approaching here.

There is also a big difference between slave traders. Ordinary slave traders are only abducting on land, but these people dare to do it directly at sea. To be precise, they are coming for the nine snakes.

In the population auction in Chambord, the rarer the population, the higher the price. This rarity does not only refer to the rarity of the race, but also the rarity of its identity. For example, the members of Daughters Island are a bonus item in the price. .

The poison of the snake can scare off the sea kings, but it cannot scare the greed of humans.

Especially this year, Chambord also used higher prices to acquire these people. In order to capture slaves, these people even used submarines.

Under the Perfume Snake, the slave trader's submarine turned off the engine. Although the Snake pulling the boat looked down, a dark iron shell in the sea did not arouse its vigilance.

In You Snake's view, the gap between something like a submarine and a reef is not very big.

Unlike conventional submarines, this submarine is obviously a black technology.

The people above confirmed through the observation port that the snakes did not pay attention to them. The submarine opened a special hatch, and several people in diving suits came out.

The surface of the diving suit is coated with a liquid of special composition, which can remain in the seawater for a period of time. This is the material that helps them avoid swimming snakes. They only have three minutes, and they will be exposed for more than three minutes.

Although they had the courage to come to the Nine Snakes' ship to kidnap slaves, they were not brave enough to fight the Nine Snake Pirates.

That is also a country that has popularized domineering among warriors, and confronting them head-on may result in a tragic death.

Those who acted were also very nervous. According to rumors, the man who took the initiative to enter the territory of the Nine Snakes did not survive at all.

So after seeing a few young figures on the deck, they didn't pay attention to each other's faces, so they took action directly. The three Boya sisters, who were sailing for the first time, were kidnapped by human traffickers. When the people on board reacted , everything is too late.

A few days later, on the Shadow Fox, Olga had come to a sea area, and the Shadow Fox disappeared into the sea under the influence of her ability, she was waiting.

As for where this news came from, Beast Fruit is also a king-level figure in the underground market of the new world. The personal relationships of these slave traders are complicated, and they can always find out some information.

This is also the reason why Olga hides her identity. Sometimes she may encounter acquaintances in her hunting. If her identity is revealed, it may affect other transactions.

As for now, even if someone has doubts, in the absence of conclusive evidence, it is a very unwise act to offend the beasts.

"Olga, this is the information of the auction. Dragon Dragon Fruit Ancient Species - Pachycephalosaurus Form, Dragon Dragon Fruit Ancient Species - Spinosaurus Form, these are the two fruits that have been exposed."

Elizabeth took the sorted things to Olga. Unlike Shaina and Mandelfish, whose deputy was the giver, Olga's deputy was Elizabeth.

Although she is a lizard, but after her intelligence has been improved, as a thousand-faced evacuee with special talent, Elizabeth is more stable than ordinary people.

"Is the category so clear? It seems that the budget is going to increase."

Devil fruit with a specific type is much more expensive than an unknown type of devil fruit. As for those fruits that will affect the selling price, the auction house is not a fool.

For that kind of fruit, they will only say that the type is unknown, and even mislead them, making them think that it is a natural type of fruit and sell it at a higher price. The fruit that can reveal the name must be the type that can increase the price.

Although it is a fauna, a slightly rare ancient species can also sell for a high price.

However, according to the previous information received by the beasts, there are not two devil fruits in this auction, but five devil fruits. It can be said that it is a rare event. Collecting five devil fruits is also one piece for the auction. It's hard.

"Our total budget is 1.2 billion. It's not difficult to win these two fruits, but the others are not sure, but Olga, according to the news, there will be Tianlong people participating in this auction."

"Are those worms? It's fine, as long as the * isn't the woman."

As the person with the strongest escaping ability among the three disasters, as long as she does not encounter the crane, she is confident to get rid of others, but according to the news of the beasts, the crane is currently on a mission in the North Sea and should not appear in Chambord. right.

The Hundred Beasts Pirates did not look down on the existence of the Tianlong people from top to bottom. Most of them are useless firewood, and in Kaido's eyes, they are the bottom of the contempt chain.

What he despises most is someone who can hold a high position without force.

As far as Olga is concerned, as long as those draconians don't make trouble for themselves, then everything is fine.

"Sister, the slave boat has appeared, but there seems to be a World Government boat next to them."

In the watchtower on the tower, the watchman watched the flags of the two ships reporting their situation. The slave team did not have a special flag, but they did have their own company.

In the red soil continent, this kind of company is called a human occupation agency, and such a logo is worried about encountering peers.

"What to do, eldest sister, do you want to wait for them to leave?"

"Leave? Of course not, let's do it directly. Since we're here, let's stay together. Where's the gunner? The location has already been calculated."

Yinghu has been parked here for several days, and the position of the nearby sea area should have been calculated for a long time. noVeleusb.coM

"Don't worry, Miss Olga, I'll clean the entire ghost island for a day!"

Said the gunner began to adjust the artillery. This time, it was not a howitzer, but a special cannon. Compared with the lethality of a howitzer, the cannon was more effective against large vehicles.

The gunner who then released the ruthless words controlled the gun himself, and with a precise shot, opened a big hole directly at the position of the opponent's rudder.

"Did you play well, do it!"

After the enemy lost power, the shadow fox also appeared, but the gunner wiped the cold sweat from his forehead, he was clearly aiming at the bow of the ship.

Chapter 366 Three seconds of silence for the face-smashing monster in this world 锵! Clang!

Several hooks were caught on the sides of their ships, and the two ships were completely connected by iron chains. This was the most traditional way of picking up the sides. Start getting closer.

The tonnage of the Shadow Fox is several times larger than that of this slave ship. The people on board can easily slide down the chains, and their goals are very clear. Except for the slaves with chains, all the living people on the ship are their target.

A few minutes ago, the people on the boat were still laughing and discussing how much money this business could make, but in an instant, bad luck befell them.

The slaves in the cabin didn't know what was going on, but when they heard the shouts of killing, many people showed a smile on the corners of their mouths. It was a good thing for those slave traders to go to * before themselves.

And at this moment, the sound of panicked footsteps came, and the arrogant slave trader had become embarrassed at this time. After looking around, he ran to a tall slave.

"Hey, Victarion! You go and beat those guys out there, and then I'll set you free!"

There are not only beautiful female slaves, but also some stronger war slaves, most of which are captured pirates or soldiers from some non-joined countries.

Tianlong people like to buy such big men to go to the home and nursing homes, and some people will buy similar people to act as dead men and the like.

The guards on the ship seemed vulnerable to the attacking people, and he came up with such a trick because he had no choice.

Victarion was a defeated pirate, but he ignored the slave trader's words at all.

"Can't you hear me! You won't forget what this is, right?!" He took out the remote control in his hand, which is the manipulator of the explosion collar. For those more dangerous slaves, They had already installed slave collars.

"Press it, if you have the ability, press it! If it's a big deal, we will die here together. Do you think I will believe your so-called freedom nonsense?!"

Sometimes people suddenly figure it out. For example, now this pirate named Victarion has given up on the idea of living. If it weren't for the shackles of the chain, he would probably ignore the threat of the collar and directly pinch it. Break the opponent's neck.

But someone had already done it for him, and a beast claw suddenly pierced the other's chest from behind him.

"Don't always run away, I'll have a hard time doing this."

After resolved the enemy in front of her, she shook off the blood in her hand and asked the people in the cages around her, "Does anyone know where this guy put the key?"

"Should. On that guy"

The slave beside pointed to the person who fell in front of Olga, and when she was rummaging for the keys, the crowd of slaves became restless, after all, the other party seemed to want to save them.

"Sister, elder sister!"

Sandassonia and Marigold looked at Hancock and felt that something was wrong, and she was looking in Olga's direction with red cheeks.

has also mentioned before that Olga often uses fake faces when she goes out, and thousands of faces are not enough to describe her.

Because Zoroark's ability can deceive even a camera, some of the holsters used by Olga have appeared among the wanted criminals today. If you look for someone according to that photo, you probably won't be able to find a target in this life.

If she was really unfortunate enough to encounter a face bumper, then Olga didn't know what to say. After all, the disguise she used was either extremely ugly or extremely beautiful, which was basically beyond the scope of normal people's growth.

Before starting this time, she adjusted a very handsome male face according to her own face. She also chose a black deacon outfit and dyed red hair by the way.

If you don't know the details, it's easier to think of this as her fellow brother or something.

This is the most economical way in her life, as long as she doesn't mind, then she has the wardrobe and jewelry all over the world, as long as she knows what that thing looks like.

Hancock was born on Daughter Island, there are no men on the island, the traffickers were the first men they came into contact with.

Although they did nothing for the price, Hancock had a serious hatred for these people in his heart, and due to the education of Nine Snakes, this hatred was expanding to the entire male group.

But they haven't been sold to the Dragons by this group of slave traders, so this disgust is limited, and at this time, Olga in disguise appeared. nOveLuSb.cOm

The world is all about the face. If Olga chose an ugly guy this time, the result might be different, but facing that handsome guy, she felt that something was touched in her heart.

But it was just that moment, after Sanda and Mary pushed her, she had recovered.

While Olga was unlocking the locks one by one, a bloodbath was taking place on the World Government's boat. When these slave traders met the pirates who had fought in the New World, the short-term contact became disintegrating.

At this time, many people wanted to board the boat, but when they finally escaped, they encountered Elizabeth in a mimicry, and the alien-like slaughter show happened on that boat.

With the rising flames, the two ships sank on the sea, and Olga still did not dispel her illusions, after all, these are some unstable factors.

"Everyone, we will stop at the Chambord Islands next time. You are free and you can leave by yourself. Of course, you can also choose to stay and join us."

"That. Can you take us home? My house lives here."

"No, saving you is a personal hobby, but we don't have the obligation to send you home, but you can leave your address, and we will put you nearby if you drop by."

This is their practice. She doesn't send people home one by one, save them and save them, and what happens after that has nothing to do with her.

Sunda Sonia originally wanted to ask this question, but Olga's answer directly blocked the following words, the nine snakes were located in the windless belt, and no matter how they looked, they didn't look like they were on the way.

But now that at least he is free, he can only take one step at a time.

When the Shadow Fox arrived at Chambord, the number of people on board was reduced by 90% in an instant, and the money on the slave ship was distributed to them for travel expenses. In Olga's opinion, this was a very benevolent act.

Hancock and others did not leave, because there was no boat leading to the Nine Snakes, and they did not know how to go back after leaving the Nine Snakes for the first time.

At the same time, some people led by Victorion did not leave, and in their opinion, staying was more cost-effective.

Chapter 367 Robbed him!

"Sister, what should we do?"

The backbone of the three Boya sisters is still Hancock. Although she is not as good as the two younger sisters, she is far stronger than the two younger sisters in terms of strength, and she has also established her identity as the eldest sister in the environment of Nine Snakes.

You can also try to buy tickets with money to go back in other places, but the Nine Snakes are obviously exceptions.

"Wait a second. We can talk to them, and Amazon Lily would definitely be willing to pay for it."

Although she felt that Olga was handsome at that time, and her heart was a little fluctuated, but she had not experienced the torture of Tianlong people, she would not lose her sense of nympho.

It's just that this has nothing to do with her wanting to stay for a few more days. From Olga's mouth, she can tell that she still has things to do in the Chambord Islands, and she plans to wait for the other party to finish this matter before discussing it with the other party.

Even if they can't land, as long as they can reach the nearby waters at a certain time, they can meet the ships of the Nine Snakes.

As for the affirmation in her mouth, that is because Amazon Lily's national conditions are like this, and the situation of Daughters Island is very special, and the source of population depends on some soldiers who go to sea.

And 100% of children born on Daughters Island will be daughters, which seems to be a strange feature of this island.

A country like naturally pays more attention to population, so she has this confidence.

While the three sisters were whispering, Victarion knelt down directly in front of her.

"I want to join you."

"Well, yes, you can go back with our boat then."

"This.. I am also a pirate with a bounty of 50 million. If they hadn't played tricks, I wouldn't have been caught so easily. I wouldn't be afraid of the naval fleet if I had enough manpower."

Looking at the other party's flat expression, Victarion felt that he was being despised. He thought that he was different from those ordinary people. On the one hand, he stayed because he didn't have his own ships and crew, and he was relatively weak. Down is dangerous.

On the other hand, he wanted to repay the kindness of the other party for saving him, so he chose to stay.

Compared with his combat power, his ability to command naval battles is stronger, but after reaching the great route, his commanding ability was greatly weakened due to the lack of high-end combat power.
ηoVεLUSB.COm

It's just that the other party seemed to treat him as an ordinary person, but when he said his bounty, Olga's expression didn't change at all, and even the people on the boat didn't respond.

This amount of _____ is nothing in the New World. A trained giver can reach this level, and such a person can form an army within the Beast Pirates.

But this kind of indifference made him feel that he made the right decision. The person who looked down on the 50 million reward must be stronger than this. If he thought so, he seemed to be with the right person.

His original plan was to rely on another powerful pirate group after entering the new world, and now it seems that he has made the right choice.

Leaving some people to watch the boat, the rest went directly to the auction.

Hancock and they were also asked to stay on board temporarily.

Auction, disguised Olga and Elizabeth sat in the corner, and in the back of the auction, the owner of the auction was furious because the promised slave was lost again.

Things like this have happened over the years, and there will always be unknown forces and inexplicable newcomers who will rob those slaves away.

"I tell you! If the Tianlong people are not satisfied this time, don't think about it!"

Angrily hung up the phone bug, the boss here looked at the auctioneer of the auction.

"Look at you, try to let the Tianlong people spend their budget before then, otherwise there may be trouble."

Although the wealth of Tianlong people is exaggerated, they also have a budget. If they are allowed to spend their budget in advance, some of the following things may not happen.

As a Tianlong person, it is possible to rob it, but it will make them lose face in the group of Tianlong people, so most Tianlong people will choose the normal auction process, anyway, money is just a number to them.

Crafts, gems, jewelry, these things opened the prelude to the auction, in addition to some slaves, although some of them were lost, but this is the auction itself, naturally there are other slaves.

This boss even went to the population auction next door to buy a few on the spot. Compared to them who sold everything, there were more slaves in that population auction. After all, they only sold slaves.

It went well at first, but when the Devil Fruit appeared, something unexpected happened.

The reserve target of 1.2 billion Bailey is two Devil Fruits. Originally, this is a very sufficient fund. Even if it is an ancient species, it is only a fauna. This number can be said to be more than enough.

However, Olga encountered a very annoying thing today.

"300 million baileys."

"400000000!"

"600 million!"

"asshole."

Looking at the shouting side, Olga cursed inwardly, because the Heavenly Dragon inexplicably stared at these two Devil Fruits.

She just tentatively called out the price for the first three, and gave up the fight when she saw that someone wanted to fight.

But the Heavenly Dragon didn't mean to give up. This time he didn't seem to see enough satisfied slaves, so he set his sights on this Devil Fruit.

The two Devil Fruits were sold separately, and at this time the Tianlongren had already gotten the price to a price that she could not afford.

"Who is that person who dares to bid with me?"

While Olga scolded secretly, the Tianlong man also behaved very unhappy. He was already a little unhappy when he didn't see the slave he wanted. He didn't expect that anyone would dare to bid with him, causing him to spend more money. a lot of money.

"Habibo saint, it should be just some ignorant person."

"Hey, send someone to follow him, you will have to pay a price if you dare to bid with me, but I just couldn't find the slave you like."

"This"

"Um?"

"Yes, obey." The people around him seemed to want to persuade this Tianlong person, but when he heard the other party's unhappy voice, he immediately changed the direction of the wind. It is better for others to be unlucky than himself.

At the same time, Olga also gave up bidding.

"Olga, don't we want the fruit? That's the captain's order."

"No, of course, but we have to do it differently."

"what?"

"If we robbed him, we are pirates. Is there any problem with robbing others?"

Although Olga rarely leads a team to loot, hunting slave traders is not a robbery, but her identity has always been a pirate cadre, not doing it does not mean she will not do it.

As for the consequences of doing that, it was her disguised illusion that robbed the dragon people, and what does it have to do with her Olga.

After thinking about it for a while, she decided to put on the Priert vest again.

There is a temporary matter, today is the fourth update, and it will be postponed for one day.

Chapter 368 Did you see my bike?

Although it was a big trouble to move the Tianlongren, but no one knew that it was her who moved the hand, so there would be no trouble.

The Chambord Archipelago is not far from Marin Vadodau, and naval warships can arrive here soon, but because it is Chambord, many things are much more convenient.

Because the navy will not launch an indiscriminate attack here, the road to the new world can only go to the underwater fish-man island in addition to the red earth continent. Soap bubble culture.nOvel!U.s.b.com

If the navy launches the Demon Slaying Order here and destroys the entire Chambord Archipelago, it will be a devastating blow to the pirates on the great route. Few have the ability to fly, and even fewer can manufacture submarines.

But they didn't do this, and even let these pirates operate under the eyes of the World Government Office. This is related to the above policy. Whether it is blocking the road of Chambord or destroying Chambord, it is in conflict with their transfer. Policy does not meet.

And they are not willing to face the rioting pirates in the new world.

The Chambord Islands are now crowded with pirates, navy, civilians, nobles, and officials of the world government.

Olga, who had made up her mind, suddenly remembered something, she was going to grab it anyway, so she might as well grab it thoroughly, so she asked the Heavenly Dragon again for a price.

And this result made the Tianlong people angry. It was the first time he met someone who dared to bid with him. In the past, those people didn't dare to bid when they heard the name of the Tianlong people.

The auctioneers on the field are also very flustered. Usually it is a good thing to meet Tianlong people at auction. As long as they do not anger those so-called Tianlong people, they will usually give a high price directly, which saves time and effort. Someone actually got into a fight with the Tianlong people today.

"One hundred million Baileys!"

"One hundred million and one."

"Three hundred million!"

"Three hundred million and one."

Every time Olga would raise the price slightly, if it weren't for the fact that the auction house would not arrange a consignment when there were Tianlong people, he would have suspected that it was his own.

The Tianlongren hadn't turned his face in the initial bidding. He was enjoying the thrill of using money to crush people, but Olga's later bidding turned sour. She actually used the number of one Bailey to crush people.

What is the concept of a Bailey? You can't even buy a newspaper. The denomination of one yuan is almost extinct in the market. This is an unbearable thing for Tianlong people.

So he chose to take out a gun, and he took out a pistol made of gold. For the Tianlong people, they thought that ordinary pistols were not worthy of their identity.

If it weren't for the properties of gold not suitable for making bullets, I am afraid that the bullets of their pistols will be gold.

took out his gun and fired several shots in Olga's direction. For a while, the auction room that was still bidding fell silent. The next moment, the people here fled outside, lest they be affected by the angry Tianlong people.

"This is the end of bidding with me. Hey, are you guys going to see him die?"

Olga sat in her seat and didn't move. It looked like she was shot, but she was actually discussing a very important topic with Elizabeth.

"Elizabeth, do you remember what that Pullett laughter was?"

Those iconic laughter are comparable to ID cards in this world, especially the group of pirates, she is thinking about what kind of laughter should be made.

"I don't remember, we haven't seen him alive."

When the two of them were rescued from the belly of the sea kings, Priarte had already been submerged in the sea, and even the imitated face was based on the reward order, so she naturally couldn't answer her questions and laughter.

"Well, then forget it, just do it."

Looking at the guards of the Celestial Dragons who approached, Olga slowly stood up. Of course, it was not the case in the eyes of the guards. In their eyes, a man with a hood rushed towards them. come over.

did not use skills or Zoroark's claws, but snatched the knight's spear from a guard's hand. The phantom can deceive the present, but it cannot be preserved forever.

The wound left by is likely to expose something, which is not the same as the original target, so she used the opponent's weapon.

Those Tianlong guards are also well-trained fighters. They are not inferior to the elite soldiers of the navy in heavy armor, but in the face of a pirate leader, this strength is not enough.

Although he grabbed a lance, Olga was using it more, and the officials of the beasts had a little experience in the use of blunt weapons. After all, they were trained by Kaido himself.

The guards who had been leaning over were knocked to the ground one by one, and Priert, who was disguised by Olga, also rushed towards the dragon man.

"What are you doing, bastard?! That's a Tianlong man!"

The person beside questioned Olga, and a siren suddenly sounded in the auction hall.

"Huh? What I robbed is the Tianlong man! I have endured him for a long time!"

Olga didn't have a self-registration number, so it's not normal to call out Prierte's name at this time.

threw the lance in his hand and knocked the last guard out, and Olga came directly in front of the celestial dragon.

"Forehead."

She didn't do anything, but the Heavenly Dragon man grabbed his neck with a livid face, and occasionally stretched out his hand and waved forward weakly.

The ability of illusions affected his brain. In the cognition of Tianlong people, a man held him directly by his neck, and the huge grip made him feel like he was about to suffocate.

The essence of phantoms is deception, and the weaker the enemy, the stronger Olga's ability to deceive. In the face of a powerful enemy, she can only temporarily blind the opponent, and in the face of a general enemy, she can make it impossible to tell the truth from the fake.

But in the face of a waste like Tianlong people, she can deceive the other party's organs, so that they can feel that kind of suffocation.

She had accomplished her goal just by standing there, and Priart's face was also engraved in the dragon's mind.

At the same time, the news of the attack on the Tianlong people has also spread to the naval branch of the Chambord Islands. Those who escaped have already notified the navy, otherwise the Tianlong people really have an accident, and they will probably be held accountable.

This kind of thing can no longer be handled by one of their branches. As a rule, if there is a problem with the Tianlong people, the Admiral needs to be dispatched. However, at the naval headquarters at this time, Sengoku looked at Kuzan in front of him with a livid face.

"Kuzan, what is this guy still dawdling at?!"

"Sanguo-san, I'm looking for a bicycle, did you see it?"

Chapter 369 Money is coming soon

The current admiral is still empty, and Sengoku is still the general of the headquarters. It is reasonable to say that this kind of thing should be dispatched by Sengoku himself, but at this time, Kong is having a meeting in Mary Joa, and Garp invited his daughter-in-law to give birth to himself. several months of maternity leave.

Sakaski and Polusalino also have their own tasks, Zefa is taking his new battalion to the sea, and the Navy headquarters must have an active admiral to stay behind.

So this task was handed over to Kuzan, who was still a candidate for the general. As a lieutenant general, his strength was far beyond that of an ordinary lieutenant general, but it was not yet time to take over as a general.

The Navy's plan is to let the three of them take over as the generals at the same time as the representatives of the new generation of the Navy, which will have to wait for the promotion of the Warring States period.

Although his rank is not enough, his strength is almost the same, but when Kuzan received the order, Sengoku found that this guy was still fishing.

"bike?!"

Hearing Kuzan's reason, Sengoku felt his temples twitch, and this Kuzan began to be as worrying as Garp.

"Yes, Sengoku-san, I always go out on a bicycle, you know that."

"The warship is ready. Immediately, now, set off for me immediately! If something goes wrong with that Tianlong man, just wait to be nagged by Marshal Kong!"

According to the way Kuzan usually travels by bicycle, when he arrives at the destination, I am afraid that his ashes will be cold.

"Yes, yes, here we go."

Saying that, Kuzan walked out slowly, showing no signs of being anxious at all.

And when Kuzan just got on the warship, Olga already got her booty.

"These guys are really rich."

As a Tianlong person, he has various payment methods such as check payment, but this Tianlong person carries a large amount of cash, which is to satisfy his desire. Signing a check and smashing people with cash are completely different. experience.

A suitcase was stuffed with 100 million Baileys of banknotes, and there were 40 such boxes. This Tianlong man just went out with a huge sum of up to 4 billion Baileys.

Those Devil Fruits that he took away had already arrived in Elizabeth's hands. Looking at the suitcases, she grabbed three in one hand, and five suitcases were strung on Elizabeth's tail, making a total of eleven suitcases and five suitcases. A devil fruit was directly robbed in this way.

"With Elizabeth, it's time to retreat."

"clear."

After the two of them rushed out of the auction hall, they left there in an almost invisible way, leaving only a dummy assembled with wooden sticks.

After Olga's ability was added, this dummy was temporarily regarded as Priert, and a group of navies were fighting with it, and this way was similar to Priert's ability.

"Sure enough, it's still a good deal, which is much easier than making money."

"Master Arceus said that the most profitable ways are written in the code, and it depends on whether you have a conscience or not."

On the way back, Olga and Elizabeth also discussed the huge profits brought by the robbery. They were originally going to use 1.2 billion Baileys to exchange for two Devil Fruits. Five Devil Fruits.

Although the money has a number on it, the World Government will definitely find clues with its efforts to trace it, but the most important thing in the New World is the place for money laundering. The robbery of the allied countries or the navy and the world government must be washed before it can be circulated with confidence. of.

It's rare to use Priert's vest once. Not making the most of it is a big waste.

The two appeared on the Shadow Fox almost out of thin air, and Priert's image once again changed to what he looked like when he was hunting slave ships.

"Big sister? Why are you so fast?"

"It's nothing, I just grabbed something, dive right now, it's time to go back to the new world."noVELusb.COM

Shadow Fox finished the coating when it arrived at Chambord. Under Olga's order, Shadow Fox dived directly and drove towards the new world.

For Victarion, who had already planned to join the opponent, this had no effect, but it made Hancock and the others' previous thoughts go wrong.

Amazon Lily is not in the New World. If they drive directly to the New World, it will be even more difficult for them to go home.

But it's too late. Coating is a one-time project. If it floats and is exposed to the air, the coating will be broken directly. They don't have time to wait for three days to recoat.

So Hancock and the others were taken directly underwater.

Especially when they told Olga the reason, Olga's expression also became helpless.

"Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

She did not expect these people to stay on the ship for this reason.

"I have good news and bad news. Which one do you three want to hear first?"

"What's the good news then?"

"The good news is that if you send them back, there should be no problem." It is not difficult for the boats of the beasts to cross the windless belt. If there is really extra money, the boats passing there can send them back at any time.

"What about the bad news?"

Arguably this was a good answer, but the twist gave them a bad feeling.

"The bad news, the bad news is that you won't be leaving for three years."

Hundreds of beasts have always had a three-year silent period. After they quietly do some big things, unless they are certain and credible people, these people are not allowed to leave for three years.

Olga just robbed the Tianlong people in Priert's clothes, and those who stayed on the ship were naturally deprived of the right to go out.

As for three years later, the memory of this sea is very short. As long as the initial limelight has passed, the treatment afterwards is not as serious as it was then. For example, a straw hat who beat the Tianlong people was beaten two years later and seemed to forget the past. Same thing.

But in a sense, the resistance of those Tianlong people is still very strong.

"Three or three years?"

Without freedom and restricted movement, this seems to be the new life of slavery.

"Don't get me wrong, unless it's a defeated pirate, we don't do that kind of thing, but if you are from the Nine Snakes, should you consider joining the team? I heard that the people in the Nine Snakes are all powerful warriors, and the captain should be very interested. Yes."

According to the tradition of beasts, Olga continued to start recruiting, Kaido never had too many powerful warriors.

"That.. Really can't let us just leave?"

"Unfortunately, no, don't make me do something embarrassing."

The three-year silence period is for those who are willing to cooperate. If they are unwilling to cooperate, it is not three years of silence, but a direct disappearance from the world.

Chapter 370 Amazon Lily's View of Lily

"elder sister."

The threat in Olga's words was self-evident, and they naturally looked at the older sister who they relied on on weekdays.

In fact, in Amazon Lily, the extreme disgust for men began when Hancock returned to China and became the new Amazon Lily Emperor.

Prior to this, although the Nine Snakes were a restricted area for men, the women of the Nine Snakes did not have such a big dislike for men.

Although there is a country of daughters, there is no child and mother river after all, and it is still dependent on men to produce offspring, which leads to warriors who often go out to fall in love with others, and return to Nine Snakes after pregnancy.

This is the only source of population for Amazon Lily. It has always been this trend. The three views of warriors who have gone out and those who have not gone out are also very different. At least those who have gone out have a certain understanding of men. .

"Can we call to inform ourselves?"

"Yes, but you can't say superfluous things."

"In that case. I'm fine."

Staying abroad for three years is not a big problem for her. Some warriors have told her some love stories, and she feels that she has met them.

Under Olga's supervision, they made a call to report safety.

However, at the next moment, Hancock's heart changed a little.

"Sister, we are going to Fishman Island, do you want to go in this time?"

"No, go back to Ghost Island. It's better to be safe this time."

Although they were going to sea for the first time, they also understood that eldest sister was a title for women, not only the three of them, but Victarion was also taken aback by this title.

Then Olga's face was distorted and changed back to her own appearance again. Naturally, her height also dropped sharply. The slow growth brought by pure gold is impossible.

Victarion joins temporarily. If the three sisters are brought back to be silent for three years, they will have contact with her sooner or later. Since this is the case, there is no need to hide them all the time.

"Women?!"

"What's wrong with the woman, take good care of you kid, Miss Olga is a big pirate with a bounty of 480 million Bailey, your 50 million is nothing at all."

These little brothers always have a hobby of carrying their own eldest brother's reward orders, which seems to be more effective in deterring others.

Seeing this bounty, Victarion was not afraid, but excited. This seemed to be the opportunity he wanted.

For Hancock, her budding heart was broken, but not completely broken.

Because she was born in Amazon Lily, this is her first time to go to sea in 12 years, and in Amazon Lily there is a special situation, because there are no men, some women have a very close relationship, and in the eyes of Nine Snakes, this is A very normal phenomenon.

Even in the eyes of many people, women should find women.

"That. Do you have a girlfriend?"

"what?"

In this case, Olga ushered in a very strange problem.

And when Olga had already crossed Fishman Island and entered the new world, the warship with Kuzan was long overdue.

Even if he wasted a lot of time before setting off, he arrived here quickly through the revolving current occupied by the navy. After all, the Chambord Islands were not too far from the navy headquarters.

"Lieutenant General Kuzan, Lieutenant General Kuzan? Lieutenant General Kuzan!"

"Ah~ I heard, don't rush."

Kuzan rubbed his ears impatiently. Although he stepped on the warship at the urging of the Warring States Period, he still couldn't change his current personality. He put on a blindfold as soon as he got on the warship.

Before the O'Hara incident, he would not do this, but would directly complete the order. At that time, if he was disturbed to sleep, he would have a serious feeling of getting up, but now these seem to be irrelevant.

The flaming justice has turned into a lazy justice, and he has no enthusiasm in this matter of safeguarding the interests of the Tianlong people.

"How is the situation on the island?"

"According to the report of the defenders of Chambord, the prisoners fought fiercely with the defenders after robbing the Tianlong people, and then they were defeated and left here, but they only found broken puppets at the scene." NoVelusb.com

"In other words, the Tianlong people are fine, and the perpetrator has already escaped, right?"

"Well, that's right."

"Turn around and go back."

"Lieutenant General Kuzan, if so"

"God, God, that's what you said, then... target the illegal area, clear out the dangerous elements here."

On this day, the pirates who gathered in the illegal zone were attacked by Kuzan for the sake of crossing, and there were many ice sculptures on the Chambord Islands, but there was no perpetrator of the robbery incident.

In the hospital in the Chambord Archipelago, all the patients in the hospital were kicked out because the Tianlong people thought that they were not fit to be in the same hospital as him. He was in the bubble helmet at the moment while inhaling oxygen and was also describing the murderer's looks.

"Habibo Saint, is this what it looks like?"

"Almost, let me catch him! I'm going to turn his whole family into slaves! Let them experience all the pain"

Without saying a word, he inhaled oxygen again. According to the doctor, he was just a little bit closer to death due to lack of oxygen in the brain.

"The drama of death.. Priart?"

"Yes, Lieutenant General Kuzan, according to our comparison, it was this person who attacked the Draco, and according to the description of the navy at that time, that person's ability also matched the ability of this Prierte."

"How many years has this guy disappeared?"

"According to the investigation of the intelligence services, it has been more than 10 years, and we do not have enough authority for more information about him."

"Not enough?"

If he still can't investigate the person who can't investigate the authority of the candidate of the general, then there is only one possibility left. The world government's concealment, that guy has a secret.

But this matter was just right for Kuzan. He just didn't want to deal with this mess. With the pirates who were frozen into ice sculptures, Kuzan took the ship directly back to the Navy Headquarters.

And while Kuzan continued to fish, someone was already unlucky.

Among Maryjoa, Spandain received the scolding from his boss again.

"You bastard, if you hadn't lost that guy's life card, would we be so passive now?! The pure gold matter hasn't been resolved yet, this guy dares to rob Tianlong people, tell me what to do next ?!"

"This, my lord, I think this is an opportunity. After so many years of silence, he suddenly did this kind of thing. I'm afraid he has other plans."

In terms of fooling his boss, Spandain's IQ never went down the line. Under his flickering, the CP agency once again increased the manpower and material resources to investigate Priert.

But the moment he hung up the phone, the CP5 chief Spandam, who had just taken office, was subjected to domestic violence from his father.
