Chapter 461 The three-dimensional sky of the beasts

Other workers quickly denied that they could not afford this crime. Although there are laws in Wano, in this world of force, the real sentence is based on personal wishes.

Those who Kaido looks up to can be forgiven even if they do the most extreme things, while those he doesn't look up to may be hit with a stick for a trivial matter.

The end of the mess is terrible.

"He just likes furry things, and he's still a senior, so it's useless for us to talk."

"I don't think he has anything to do. Let him stay here for a while to save his memory."

In the end, the doctor gave up the emergency treatment, and put him aside, so as not to waste medical resources. With the expansion of the tree fruit planting area, the reserves inside the beasts became more and more abundant, but it was not used in this way.

Among them, Kaido's labor force was squeezed a lot, and different crops were suitable for different temperatures. In order to expand the planting area and reduce the input of the guards, Kaido pulled back several empty islands from various sea areas, forming a sky over Wano Country. A three-dimensional planting structure.

In addition to the residential area of O'Hara at the top, there are also sky livestock areas, planting areas and training areas. Because Kaido found that it is more effective to train them in a place where oxygen is scarce, so he came up with the Shimayun training ground.

In addition to regular training, they will also be given high-altitude anaerobic special training.

There are four empty islands scattered at a height of 2,000 meters, and the training ground is above the empty island where O'Hara lives, with an altitude of about 3,000 meters. These five empty islands have formed a unique beast. Landscape.

It has been seven years since the O'Hara incident. Most people have forgotten what happened in the past, and they are living a good life here. There is never a shortage of research materials. Few ancient documents.

Those paleontologists are even more excited, and some of them even have a strong interest in Pokémon like Robin, and what they are studying now is the metamorphosis of Pokémon.

The evolution of Pokémon is too amazing for them, and they can't understand what it is. The evolution completed in a flash is too amazing. When trying to explain this unknown thing with existing knowledge, only metamorphosis is more consistent. Happening.

But it's only a bit of a fit. They didn't see many Pokémon, the Baa Li sheep that evolved into electric dragons, the big charcoal carts like minecarts, the small fist stones floating low in the sky, the sweet bamboos that secreted sweet juice, anything A Pokémon is a whole new side to them.

Seven years later, their field of activity was no longer limited to the small empty island, and Wano began to allow them to set foot there. At this time, on the edge of the vine, a tall figure slowly climbed up. Sauro here.

His plan changed because of various things, so he still stayed here. The lifespan of giants is generally 300 years, which is really nothing to him.

At this time, there was a wide straw hat on his back, which was the product of Biankasa Village.

Weaving Hats Village is located in Guri, and is famous in Wano Country for being good at weaving hats. He just went down to pick up the goods.

Kaido has an extraordinary tolerance for powerful combat power. As an adult giant clan, his combat power Kaido still admires.

The comprehensive strength of the giant clan is very strong, especially because he is also related to a giant country behind him. Those giant countries are all powerful countries in the world.

He didn't care about the identity of the other party's former navy, and although he had no intention of joining, he also began to accept the life here, especially after the expansion of the sky island and the emergence of arable land, Sauro began to live as a farmer.

However, his huge size made the Millennium Dragon unable to carry him, so he could only rely on the strong vines that Arceus spawned to climb back and forth. When he went down for the first time, he surprised the people of Wano Kingdom. In terms of height, he It's a lot taller than Kaido.

There are also some O'Hara scholars on the high-altitude farm. Pokémon attracts those who study animals, and these special crops of tree fruits also arouse the interest of these botanists.

Even in these years they have found and cultivated an extinct crop, and this crop is one of the materials that Assière needs.

"Sauro, are you back?"

"It's back, this is what those pirates brought back, they found a piece of historical text."

Saying that, Sauro took out a gray stone from the luggage behind him and placed it in front of Olvia.

". It's a piece of text that records the event. It seems that some of the Doctor's speculations are going to come again."

There are still many gaps in history, and each extra piece of text means something has to be rebuilt, but this does not discourage them, because it means that they are one step closer to the truth of history.

"Olvia, I see Robin"

"Don't you see her every day?"

"I mean to see her getting along with those pirate children, she looks quite happy, and so are the people in this country, obviously under the rule of pirates, but the smile on her face is more than when I was on a mission before. Many people came.

Some navies are not even as good as these pirates. There are too many stains on the word justice. "

Sauluo's mind has already matured, and he will not directly believe what he sees. He knows that there are more pirates who loot and slaughter than the pirates who develop and develop like the beasts.

What he can't accept is that the navy and the world government can obviously do what the beasts do, but they still do some strange things.

Robin should have grown up normally, and she should have become a world-renowned scholar with her talent, but now she has to live under the protection of pirates, fortunately they get along very well.

"This is the world, now you should know what the history we are exploring is?"

"Got it, I also know why the World Government chose to obliterate them in the first place. Although they only exposed a corner, they couldn't allow the world to have any possibility of knowing this kind of thing.*nOveLusb.CO*m

But I don't understand, after so many years, they obviously have the ability to seize the historical texts of the world, but they have not done so, what will happen when those historical texts come together? "

"I don't know, this is something we haven't studied and understood."

The topic ended here, and Sauro also took out a small shovel and fiddled with the crops on the island like a potted plant.

On the ghost island, as Sauluo said, Robin is used to this kind of life and gets along well with other people, but some people are not so happy now, Ulti is looking ahead with vigilance , because Jack, who has been away for a year, has returned at this time.

Chapter 462 Prelude to the wedding, the fur tribe living in all countries

"Oh? Are you perverted yet?"

Jack didn't speak. He knew that his perverted name would never be washed away, but outsiders couldn't understand his feelings. His upbringing made him look forward to Peggy for a long time.

Jack's Frost Milk Immortal is still telling Yamato and Maria's Frost Milk Immortal about his knowledge of Fishman Island, and there are a few little Immortal Milks next to them, which belong to Iska, Peggywan and others.

In line with the principle of not suffering from widowhood and suffering from unevenness, these children basically made up for the frost milk fairy or the little fairy milk, and this also made some pirates of the beasts understand some truths, and the status of children with Pokémon pets higher.

Only Robin and Perona are different here. Their aesthetics are different from normal people. Robin keeps the tear-eyed lizard, while Perona mixes with her wearing bear, but sometimes it is more like wearing a bear. raise her.

"Little Pei, the gifts prepared for you are all specialties of Fishman Island."

"Eh? Jack, do you like Pei so much? There are so many things for him."

Looking at what Jack took out from the backpack, Yamato showed an unbelievable look, after all, that bag was already taller than Peggywan.

"No, isn't it the same?"

Looking at the regular-sized package in his hand and the big bag that Peggy Wan could barely hold, Yamato's face was full of disbelief.

But she can also understand this kind of thing. People have preferences, and Arceus gave her much more than others.

Others have at most one or two exclusive Pokémon, but Yamato has already formed a full formation, and it is still a Pokémon formation with two phantom beasts of Dianxi + Genesect.

She got this unnumbered Genesect shortly after she requested it. She is a little smaller than the Genesect of the GT series, but still strong enough to provide a certain amount of firepower to the future Yamato. support.

"Little Pei, let me help you get it back."

Peggy Wan was struggling to hold the big package, Jack wanted to help him, but Ulti took the lead.

"Go away! That's my room with Xiaopei, you perverts are not allowed to enter, I'll help him get it! Also, you are not allowed to call him Xiaopei!"

Jack's return seems to have brought more laughter among the young Beasts. As long as he and Ulti are together, the scene will never be deserted.

But Jack saw a lot of people in the ghost island who were under construction, and seemed to be remodeling something.

"What is this doing?"

"Prepare the wedding scene, Zeraora and Sister Setsuna are getting married, and the day is coming."

Not only that, but Jack even saw Arceus on the road.

"You guys, put that sign up a little higher, don't you think it's asymmetrical to the one over there?"

"Learn about Lord Arceus, we will change it."

The days passed, and Zeraora, the eldest son, was about to get married, which made him sigh.

And this wedding is not one, but three. There is one inside the ghost island. This is the wedding he prepared for Zeraora. There is another one outside the ghost island's territory of beasts. Inside the pirate group is a happy event.

Even if there is no reason for the pirates to have a banquet, let alone such a suitable reason, at the same time, there is also a wedding on the back of Zuowu. Just impossible.

"Well, you really care, isn't it two months away?"

"It's okay to prepare early. You can take it easy for me. Those wines are for their marriage, not for you to drink casually."

"Don't worry, the big deal is to prepare again, it won't affect them."

Onigima had already started preparations, but Zeraora and Setsuna, who were the parties, were not so nervous. In Jiuri's room, Setsuna lay carelessly on Zeraora's bed.

They are so familiar now that they don't need to pay attention to etiquette and the like.

"Rotom, please lower the temperature again, thank you."

It is now August, and the temperature in Jiuli is a bit high. This kind of heat is good for humans, but it is a torture for the fur tribe. The thick fur makes the fur tribe hate this high temperature weather very much.

Due to the height of Elephant Lord, the weather in Zou is not so hot, but Rotom Smart Home has solved this problem.

"I received Loto, is 15 degrees ok? Loto?"

"Yes, just maintain that temperature."

The air conditioner here naturally has no temperature limit, and Rotom is a Pokémon that changes its attributes according to the attached electrical appliances. The refrigeration and air conditioner Rotom belongs to the electricity + ice type, and it can adjust the temperature to minus zero if necessary.

But she was the only one in the room. As the man, Zeraora also went to check on her wedding venue, and Perona couldn't stand the low temperature and ran out.

She likes dark environments, but not cold ones.

Lying on the bed, she flipped through some letters from Zou. It was a fax sent by a special phone bug. There were three weddings to be held, and her immediate family was no exception. NovEPlusb.COM

"Dad's cigars are out again. Wanda misses Perona a little. Pedro. Is there a reward?"

Zou at this time is very different from the original time line. Inuarashi and Cat Viper did not return to Zou, but went to the future, so Zou was not affected by them as Guangyue retainers, but instead It was a special change that took place with the aid of a large amount of material in an instant.

There are also some restless people on Zou Island, such as Pedro.

He is five years younger than Shanna, and he is considered to be of the same generation. He also met this Duke reserve after she started visiting her family frequently.

Seeing that they brought back so many things at the moment of sailing, they also wanted to do something within their power, such as searching for that special slate.

For this purpose, a few months ago, Pedro, Jebo, and members of the Pokemus fur tribe went to sea, and they took a few moon stones with them when they went to sea.

The name of their going to sea is exploration, so the name of the team is also the Knox Expedition, not the Pirates.

In the original timeline, they were offered a bounty by the World Government because they wanted to find the historical text for Cat Viper, but this time, the World Government took the initiative to follow them.

The original Yanwu King incident made the World Government recognize something, but the team sent to Zou was frustrated. After having the ability of the free moon lion, Zou is no longer afraid of the threat of those teams.

So these outgoing fur tribes became their targets. Although they were able to free the moon lions, they were a little bit overwhelmed by those attacks.

In the end, Pedro made a decision. He and a few people who could control the moon lion stayed outside, and the others returned to Zou first.

It's just that on the way back, they encountered some accidents. Although they defeated the enemy, the expedition also suffered casualties. Among them, Pokemus was also accidentally lost in the explosion, and by chance drifted to Totland. sea area.

He arrived at BIG·MOM's site five years earlier than the normal time line. At this time, he was only 12 years old. He was soon discovered by the BIG·MOM pirates and brought to Charlotte. In front of Lingling.

"Well~ Well, are you a fur tribe? Do you know Zeraora? I heard that he is getting married."

Chapter 463 Arceus Metal

As a big pirate who has a certain cooperation with the Beasts Pirates, the BIG·MOM Pirates also received a wedding invitation from the Beasts.

Charlotte Lingling also had certain thoughts about Zeraora, but what she cared about was not men, but children.

In her opinion, men are just tools, and marrying men of different races is only to get children of this race.

Under her education, the BIG·MOM Pirates are very indifferent to the word father, no matter which of her children do not have much affection for their biological father, and many people have never even seen their father.

Food will make Charlotte Lingling furious, but men will not. When she didn't keep Zeraora forcibly, it means she has given up.

After all, she has always been a man for three minutes. Strong strength is good, but not strong enough. After all, she basically represents the ceiling of human talent. As long as you see the right eye, it doesn't matter if you have a child.

Although the number of fur tribes is rare, Zeraora is not the only one. She can even use Hormiz to create creatures similar to fur tribes, and she is also the one who fished Pokemus from the sea, Crane Knight Randolph.

looks similar to a rabbit fur tribe, but his essence is only Hormiz created by Charlotte Lingling.

The reason why she asked Pokemus was just because she just thought of it.

"I've seen him in Zou, but are he and Big Sister Setsuna going to get married?"

"Well~ Well, don't you know? All the wedding invitations have been sent to me, so you can go with the wedding party."

When Kaido attended her tea party to discuss some things, there was no title of Emperor of the Sea on the sea, they were just a stronger pirate group, but it is different now.

The liaison letter of his subordinates is okay. If Charlotte Lingling really went to Kaido's site to participate in some activities in person, the Navy might make a bigger move.

Charlotte Lingling was still a little sensible when her eating disorder did not occur, and Katakuri and others would also persuade her, but the reason for persuasion was to use food. For example, during this time, Cake Island will have a food selection. festival and the like.

Listening to Charlotte Lingling's words, Doudou's eyes of Pokemus showed a confused look. It was only a few months after he left Zuowu, and so many things happened.

"You can stay here for a while. After the wedding cake is ready, go there with Bloweye, Moscato, and the others. For Kaido's sake, you won't have to live for a while.

Of course, it would be better if you could join here. "

Life is the only rent specified in the Totland Kingdom. Unless it is her children or other members of the pirate group, if you want to live here, you must give the rent according to the time.

Since Pokemus knew those two people, and those two were members of Kaido, she didn't want Pokemus to pay for her life.

And she has other ideas. Although Hormiz like Randolph looks like an ordinary fur tribe, it is not a real fur tribe after all. If Pokemus can join the BIG-MOM pirate group, then There is one more race in Totland.

Although it is not difficult to forcefully keep the other party, it is her way of collecting rare and exotic beasts. She hopes that the other party will join in on her own initiative, so she chose this method.

Judging from the news that Pokemus had just revealed, he was just 12 years old this year, and children were the most likely to be attracted by the various sights of the Kingdom of Totland.

Under the instruction of Charlotte Lingling, Pokemus temporarily stayed on Cake Island, and also experienced the same feeling as a fairy tale kingdom here.

As the date approached, the BIG MOM Pirates, led by Charlotte Moscato, took Charlotte Bloweye and Charlotte Melize to the address given by Kaido, a spring island in the territory of the Beast Pirates.

Although he didn't let the big cadres like Jiang Xing come forward, the combination of one son and two daughters is enough to reflect her attention. In addition to the entourage, there is also a huge raw material for the wedding cake.

According to the chef's calculation, they can just finish making the cake when they arrive at the venue, and it is their specialty to use food as a gift.

And after living on Cake Island for a while, Pokemus did not endure the temptation of material and the bewitchment of the BIG-MOM Pirates, and chose to join the BIG-MOM Pirates.

He had a certain degree of gratitude towards these saviors. The fur tribe was too naive sometimes, and he did not refuse the invitation to join the saviors.

And the identity of the instant also joined the Beast Pirates. It is not uncommon for fur tribes to become pirates after going to sea, which is not surprising.

However, the BIG-MOM pirates were only invited to attend the second wedding, and the island was still undergoing preparations, but the ghost island was already in full bloom.

Faerun waved his wings and landed on the ghost island, with his family on his back. Although the rules of the fur tribe are not as many as outside, it is enough for the two to see each other, but relatives still have to be present.

"It's really stylish here."

Looking at the newly dressed Ghost Island, Hatch couldn't help but sigh, he knew that there was a lot more ritual outside than Zou, but the gap here was too big.noVelusb.cOm

In terms of area, the furry principality is no smaller than Ghost Island, but the architectural style is completely incomparable, especially now that the Ghost Island has undergone a major transformation.

At the same time as they landed, there was a mechanical sound of gears on the skeletons of Onishima, and then the buildings on the third floor of Onishima began to rise upwards. If they hadn't seen it with their own eyes, they wouldn't have seen that they could be separated there.

At this time, the ghost island has become a structure similar to an open-air stadium, the interior decoration has also been revealed, and the supporting structure looks very slender, but no one doubts the safety of the ghost island.

When preparing for the wedding venue, Onishima also underwent an upgrade. This open-air venue mode is one of the contents of the renovation, and a brand new material is used in it, which is called Arceus metal by the people of the beasts.

It was a brand-new building material he created with steel slate. It has high hardness, strong toughness, and also has the characteristics of not being corroded.

However, it also has certain disadvantages, that is, this metal is not suitable for appearing around Steel-type Pokémon, they will not be able to restrain their inner urge to eat this metal like termites.

With the transformation of Ghost Island, a huge platform also rose from the middle. Quinn replaced the unchanged overalls and put on slightly festive clothes according to Arceus's request.

"Hey, hey, everyone, the wedding starts tonight, now for the last equipment test!"

Chapter 464 Starlight Wedding

"Hatch, I'm a little jealous."

Under the command of Quinn, the pirates of the Beast Pirates began to test various wedding equipment. Looking at the brilliant scene, Ling had to admit that even if it was her own daughter, she had a feeling in her heart. A feeling of jealousy.

"Doesn't that mean Setsuna is having a good time? It looks like that kid Zeraora has also taken care of it, so I feel relieved to give Setsuna to him, but where did this girl go?"

Phelan put them here and didn't care. Although there were many pirates around, they were carrying various things in their hands, and it seemed that they had no time to care about them.

But Hatch saw something familiar. Two white ghosts suddenly flew past them and motioned for them to follow. novelusb.com

Hatch saw at a glance that it was Perona's negative ghost, and this little thing made him lose a lot of face at the beginning.

However, as she grows older, Perona's control over her abilities is getting stronger and stronger, and the negative ghost is no longer an out-of-control bomb, but a tool that can be manipulated.

Following in the footsteps of the Negative Ghost, they saw Perona sitting on a bear tail.

Ssana and Zeraora were preparing for something as newcomers, so Perona came to pick them up, but she was lazy and chose to let the Negative Ghost bring them over.

Neither the fur tribe nor Zeraora had any strange and messy rules, no customs of not being able to meet people, and no traditions of avoiding relatives, and soon they saw two people who were tired of being together.

They all put on brand new dresses, and even Yan Yan had some wedding candy decorations on her body, which made it very different from other frost milk fairies.

"Sister! Here we come!"

Wanda pestered Shan Mo to ask questions, and Hatch also chatted with Zeraora. It was the first time they came to Wano Country. Although they are only on Ghost Island, they can see Wano at a glance. landscape of the country.

Whether it is the towering Fujiyama or the sky island group above the ghost island, these are things they have never seen before, and there is no scenery here on the back of the giant elephant of Zou.

But neither Hatch nor Rei had any doubts about the generals of Wano.

Although the Kozuki family has a covenant with Zou, the memory of this covenant is not very clear for ordinary citizens, and a country that has not seen it for hundreds of years will not easily develop feelings.

Especially now that Zou is not ruled by Inuarashi and Cat Viper, naturally he is not interested in the situation of Wano Kingdom.

Not to mention they came to the wedding.

Originally Hatch was accustomed to the existence of Zeraora, but for some reason, the more he looked at Zeraora today, the more he looked at Zeraora.

"Boy, I'll leave it to you after today. Don't let her down, otherwise."

"Uncle, it seems that you can't beat me, but don't think about this kind of thing, we will live well."

After Hatch and Ling got here, they didn't wait here all the time, but went shopping in Wano because the wedding time was set at night.

Although the Pirate World has no fixed requirements for the time of the wedding, it is relatively rare to hold a wedding at night, but because it is the time set by Arceus, no one objected to this.

It was night time, and the lights in Onishima were ready, but there were still several bonfires on the outside. Although the electricity of Onishima had already been popularized, bonfires were a unique atmosphere for banquets.

It is not realistic for these pirates to sit together and dine like aristocrats after the ceremony.

The previous debugging has proved that there is no problem with these devices. After night fell, Quinn appeared on the high platform again, and he presided over various activities within the Beast Pirates.

"Well, okay, everyone, the people who can come here are also the old people of the Pirates. Everyone knows that today is the wedding of Zeraora and Shanna, and today the couple will be married in the presence of you all. Lianyi.

You are all from various sea areas, and you can do whatever you want, but if you get angry, no one will stop them, Mumhaha. "

The customs on the sea are not uniform, and each island has its own characteristics, but no one dares to make trouble at the wedding of the big cadres, and there must be a limit to the fun. When others make trouble on their big day, it is light to be beaten.

What's more, there are Kaido and Arceus in the main seat. Kaido appeared there because he was the governor of the Pirates, and Arceus appeared this time as the elder of Zeraora.

Although Zeraora's external identity is a fur clan, but as the Eudemons first created by Arceus, his position as "the eldest son of God" is very prisoned. In that instant, both parents are there, and Zeraora naturally cannot be empty. one person.

"No more nonsense, the wedding starts now! Lord Arceus specially prepared a unique gift for the newlyweds!"

Quinn, instead of the habit of speaking for hours on end, quickly got to the point, and at this point, everyone understood why the wedding had to take place at night.

Today is just a new moon. Under the reflection of the light, the moonlight in the sky is not obvious, but Arceus has mobilized the power belonging to the fairy slate. The moonlight and the stars seem to be guided, and the light they emit gradually condenses into silhouettes.

The pure white moonlight forms the dancing elves, and the stars of different colors form flying saucers under the control of the fairy slate. Various musical instruments emerge from the hands of the elves, and the starlight butterflies dance to the sound of the music.

The power of the fairy slate is second only to ghosts and superpowers in strange aspects, and its power is also the most beautiful power in the hands of Arceus.

The moon is a companion, the stars pave the way, and the grass is the path. This is the wedding celebration he prepared for Zeraora, a grand banquet unique in this world.

The starry sky can be seen even in Wano Kingdom, and many people are sluggish looking at the strange beauty.

Especially among the female members of the Beast Pirates, it is human nature to pursue beauty. Except for Arceus, there are not many people in the world who can do this. Even if they are not the protagonists, they are inevitably intoxicated.

Even if some hallucinatory devil fruits can simulate similar scenes, they can't compare with this real dance of light.

With the sound of the music, the star disc turned up, and the sky above the ghost island formed the heads of Zeraora and Momentum. At the same time, the emerald slate began to give birth to special plants, and the path composed of flowers extended to both sides, and finally appeared in the sky. Moment and Zeraora's feet.

"Oh!!!"

The cheers in the venue were deafening, and the couple walked towards the center of the venue

Kevin, it's very painful for a single dog to write a wedding..

Chapter 465 Wedding Finale boom! boom! boom!

This is not the sound of gunshots. Nowadays, no one has the ability to invade the ghost island without knowing it. Even if it is true, it is the dereliction of duty for all the beasts to make trouble on this happy day. This person can see the sun tomorrow. .

This is the sound of paintballs, colorful streamers fluttering down with the wind, accompanied by starlight butterflies flying in the air to form a new scene.

Quinn even replaced the flamethrower in the manipulator. At this time, as the wedding emcee, he was also shooting ribbons out of his arm.

Although Arceus built a unique wedding hall for Zeraora, he did not appear directly, and Kaido did the same. He just sat in the back and sipped his wine. If they went out, it would inevitably be a bit overwhelming.

The protagonists of the wedding are Setsuna and Zeraora, they don't need to go out to attract attention.

"Come on, Brother Zeraora, the bride is waiting for you!"

"Yeah, don't make people wait!"

There were urging voices from time to time among the spectators around, and no one was malicious, but they would never mind adding more atmosphere to the wedding.

"Sister, elder sister, you are so beautiful today."

Behind her are Perona and Wanda, the two of them are dragging the wedding dress behind her, and they happen to take on the role of flower girl. nOVELus8.com

Occasionally there will be a shutter sound below, that is Rotom flying in the air, they are recording the details of the wedding for them to remember in the future.

The path composed of flowers is not far, but this is the longest road that Zeraora has traveled. It will not take long for him to circle the ghost island after being given the name of Thunder, but now his steps are a little heavy.

This made him feel more stressed than fighting the Navy, and there were urging sounds from time to time around him. If it wasn't for the hair on his face, he might have turned into a red cat at this time.

Every time he and Shanshen took a step forward, the flowers behind them would be suspended in the air. As they came together, the path of flowers behind them disappeared, and the petals scattered in the air turned into a huge peach heart.

The starlight butterflies in the sky shattered one by one, and the powder like diamond stars flew down, shrouding them under the starlight waterfall.

It wasn't Quinn who came up, but Misu. She was the only serious religious person in the Beast Pirates. Although it was more appropriate for a priest to do this, a nun could also fulfill this responsibility.

In her hand, there is a white-covered booklet, and the pattern composed of two thousand universe wrists is crossed in it. Of course, there is no belief in God here, even if it is a Western-style wedding, it is the religion of Arceus.

The participants of the wedding were not all pirates, but also some people from Wano country, such as Musashi and Kojiro, and the Hinggoro couple were also invited to come here, but the people from the Kozuki family were not eligible.

Beasts When they are a general, they are generals. There is no need to invite a puppet general at this time, and it is not appropriate to put her in any position.

"It's so good, little soldier, looking at these young people, I feel like I'm twenty years younger."

"Not enough, it will take thirty years, we just got married at that time."

Recalling the experience of the year, Binggoro also showed a happy look. The wedding here is a scene they have never seen before, which is very different from the traditional wedding in Wano.

Actually, the Wano country method was considered for the wedding, but it was rejected later, and they felt that it was not suitable.

O'Hara scholars from Sky Island, doctors from all over the world, core employees of Beast Fruits, and people from all walks of life are witnessing the final moment.

"Zeraora, swear in the name of Lord Arceus.

Would you marry Momo as your wife?

Are you willing to keep your marriage vows in the future, whether poor or rich, sick or healthy, beautiful or tarnished, successful or frustrated, willing to love her, comfort her, respect her, protect her? And willing to be faithful to her forever in your life Change?"

"I do!"

"In an instant, in the name of Lord Arceus, are you willing to marry Zeraora and make him your husband?

Live with him in a divine marriage covenant, whether in sickness or health, poverty or wealth, beauty or fading, success or failure, will you love him, comfort him, honor him, protect him? Be faithful to him forever?

"I do!"

The two gave the answer without hesitation, and the long-distance love run for several years came to an end. After they gave the answer, no one handed over the ring.

Both the elves made of moonlight and the scattered stars began to gather at one point, and finally a pair of rings appeared in front of them.

"Now you can exchange rings, and of course you can kiss the bride."

One kiss on the moon means the end of the wedding and the beginning of the banquet. Quinn took the microphone again amid the unstoppable roars of the people below.

"Okay, little ones, the bride and groom are going to do their thing! Next is your carnival, and the banquet begins! Wine, barbecue, whatever you want, go get it yourself!"

"Oh!!"

As the protagonist of the wedding left the stage, the pirates also ushered in their own carnival. The toasting session for the bride and groom has been canceled. The drinker."

was wanton drinking with his subordinates, Quinn showed his dancing with a few younger brothers, but not many people paid attention to him.

Jin eats his own food slightly "elegantly", and at the same time has to face Shaina's complaints.

"I said Jin, you don't need to eat like this, right?"

Shaina's mask only covered most of her face, and her mouth was still exposed, so eating was not that troublesome. Although Jhin's mask did not hinder eating, his way of eating was very strange.

Instead of using his hands, he animalized his head and ate the contents of the plate with the slender mouth of the fossil pterosaur, looking very twisted.

"I'm used to it, it's good sometimes."

"Etiquette, don't throw this thing away"

At the same time, the children's table at the wedding banquet also started its own noisy day.

"Xiao Pei, Xiao Pei? What are you looking at?"

"Look at the stars, it's so beautiful, so am I"

"You don't want to! I won't let other women take you away. Men even less!"

Having said that, she glanced at Jack again, and then emphasized the following lines, but Ulti also admitted that this scene is really beautiful.

There are a lot of little girls at this table, and many people are interested in it, even if the aesthetics of individual people are different from ordinary people.

But Yamato didn't show any envy, because she was thinking about whether to ask Arceus to show her a similar scene again.

Three shifts today

Chapter 466 The defeated dog and the voyeur

The wedding at the main venue has ended. The pirates are enjoying their own carnival feast. At the same time, many people are attracted by the wedding scene and have some impulses in their hearts.

According to the later investigation report, this year is the year with the highest marriage rate within the Beast Pirates. Influenced by Setsuna and Zeraora, many people took this opportunity to choose to confess.

Such a mysterious scene is difficult to reproduce, and I don't know how many people will never see a similar scene again in their lifetime.

Of course, there are also many sad people on this occasion. The confession is not a charge, but a banner of the end. It is not successful to confess with an impulse.

Today is destined to be a sad day for many single dogs. The group of pirates has always been more men than women, and women who can become pirates usually have stronger talents. novelusb.com

Especially in the competitive environment within the beasts, being able to appear as elites in Onishima, their own strength is slightly stronger, and it is naturally more difficult to pursue them.

For example, a pirate has just ushered in a setback in life.

"Stop joking, you are too ugly, not my type."

Drake straddled the stool carelessly, the drink dripping from the corner of his mouth wet his clothes, and he was completely disdainful of the person in front of him.

"The wife is ugly?!"

"Ah, accept the reality, this is something you can't change."

patted him on the shoulder, Derek carried the wine jar and walked towards Jhin and Shaina. It seemed to be quieter there, and no one around the cadre did such arrogant behavior.

She left indifferently and left only a frustrated pirate, but this situation did not last long, and soon he was dragged away by other single pirates and joined their army of singles.

Kaido is drinking with people, and the people around him are rapidly decreasing at a speed visible to the naked eye, but Kaido is only part of it, and the main thing is that they feel that Kaido is a little bit over the top.

Although it's still a wedding scene, they don't dare to bet on whether Kaido will be drunk.

Only those who are strong or daring dare to continue drinking with Kaido.

Quinn is still dancing improvisationally, no one can see it, anyway, he is very happy now, and he has also brought a group of younger brothers to dance with him. The slightly drunk Kaido swept around and found that something seemed to be missing.

"Where did the girl Jhin Quinshaina Olga go?"

Several big cadres are concentrated here, but except for Zeraora who is the bridegroom, even Olga has disappeared.

But this question only lasted for less than five seconds, and he put his interest back on the wine in front of him.

is no longer the trainee of the year, and it is impossible to be kidnapped on the ghost island.

At this time, Olga is squatting in the corner, and the target of surveillance is her own father. In the past, Assie should be dancing with Quinn at this meeting. They have a common topic in this regard, but today is different.

The grand wedding scene affects not only young people, but also the elderly. Like Binggoro, recalling the past is part of it, and older widowed people like Asier also have a second spring.

He has lived in the dinosaur nest in the belly of Lord Lantern for more than a hundred years. If the dinosaurs were not stupid and didn't realize that he was impersonating, he would have died suddenly in the mouths of those dinosaurs.

That kind of life is more boring and boring than what Olga has experienced. Olga can run around with Elizabeth, and Assie is much more dangerous than her.

After left there, they came to the Beast Pirates. During the time they were in contact with Naiqin, they had a little relationship.

After all, being single for too long makes him look good and pretty, and sometimes he even thinks some Pokémon are cute, such as the sweet and cold queen who takes care of Sweet Bamboo Bamboo in the restaurant.

And in a sense, this is not impossible. According to the historical records of the Pokémon world, there are many humans who married Pokémon in ancient times.

For example, Shanaido, sweet and cold queen, big-mouthed baby, long-eared rabbit, etc. Later, some places even issued regulations to restrict this kind of behavior.

"Olga, what are you doing?"

"Shh, don't talk."

Grabbing Elizabeth by the neck, Olga pulled her over and listened to the corner together. She had no objection to this matter. It had been almost 200 years since her mother died. Dad's situation.

"Don't you have hallucinations? There's no need to be so sneaky, right?"

Elizabeth did not understand why Olki had a better way to hide, but chose this lowest method.

"You don't understand, Elizabeth, you're still unfamiliar with human beings. Although it's better that way, it's interesting this way. It's boring to stand up for this kind of thing."

As he said that, he adjusted the angle of the mirror in his hand and began to peep at his father's behavior. At this time, there was more than one person who was doing voyeurism. For example, Jiuli quietly touched some pirates who couldn't hold their minds.

Although the wedding venue was on Ghost Island, their new house was in Jiuli. The two returned here just after the ceremony, and after they went in for a while, some people quietly followed.

"Be careful, it's enough to scare Big Brother Zeraola, they just go in, it's definitely not so fast."

It won't make people angry if they make trouble within a suitable range. The person in the lead is telling others to pay attention to their sense of proportion. If they really make people angry, it will definitely end badly.

But before they could act, a strange sound suddenly came from their ears, and then several negative ghosts passed through their bodies.

"Maggots like me live to waste air"

"I shouldn't be on the surface, I should burrow into the dirt like an earthworm"

Several people suddenly became passive, and the passive ghosts were like regular weapons against ordinary people, and they could not compete with this fruit ability at all.

"Hoo hoo hoo hoo, this is the third batch of fools, are you all so idle? Kumasi, it's over to you."

Before today, she had promised Momo and Zeraora that she would not let unrelated people pass by. She liked to stay up all night. She was more energetic at night than during the day, not to mention she also got a dark place. The promise of a new house, so worked hard.

After these people were affected by the negative ghosts, they walked forward silently wearing bears, opened their arms and hugged all of them, then threw them directly into the river beside them, and then walked back after watching them being washed away. in the dark.

Chapter 467 Quinn, a mysterious whisper

Downstream of the river, a group of pirates picked them up. From the way they were wet, it could be seen that they had just swam up from the river not long ago.

"I just said these guys can't be successful, am I right?" NovelUSB.com

They are the people Perona said just now. They are treated the same way. They were first destroyed by the negative ghost, and then they were thrown directly into the river by wearing bears.

They would like to thank the wearing bears who now control their powers with familiarity in order to take care of children, otherwise the bear hug would have destroyed their ribs.

The wedding is over, but it is not completely over, this time it is only the first wedding, and there are two more weddings to continue later, and they are all different in nature.

The wedding of Zuowu was to let the same clan know about it, while the wedding of the outer islands was a form of honor. The rich and noble did not return home like a night walk in brocade, and sometimes announcing something to the outside world was also to show oneself. strength.

However, the venue there is not as beautiful as here, and there is no need to repeat the vows that have ended. The wedding on the outer islands is more like a social and showmanship.

Although everyone is blessing the couple in name, they also talk about a lot of business issues in private.

"Why don't I know. Quinn is such a nonsense guy?"

Looking at Quinn who was giving a speech on the stage, Moment's face twitched a few times, and the business smile was almost unbearable.

As there are some things to discuss, this time Quinn is still the host, but he is not as brief as before, and he has carried out nonsense literature to the extreme.

First compliment Kaido and Arceus, then show off the Beast Pirates, swear by yourself, and then go along with others before talking about the business.

Sometimes it's not that he deliberately takes the blame, but his current lines can easily lead the blame to himself.

"Maybe it's been restrained for too long, don't worry, it won't last long."

Fur tribes are not common in the open sea, let alone fur tribe weddings, but no one who came here showed any malicious eyes.

Being able to get the invitation and coming here shows that their power relationship is relatively close to the beasts, and no one wants to do anything at this time.

"Sister Setsuna! Are you really married?"

While whispering with Zeraora in Moment, there was a shout from outside, and he looked very excited.

"Pokemus? Why are you here?"

Instantly recognized Pokemus at a glance. This was the training that Yangjisi Khan gave her at the beginning. Yangjisihan thought that instant could take over his position. As the king of Zowu, at least he must recognize all the citizens.

So whenever she went back, Yang Jisihan would introduce her to strangers, but among the kings of Zowu, only Yang Jisihan did this, so she could not inherit this talent.

However, some people in key positions still remember them, such as the captain of the Musket Team, Dr. Sanyang, etc. She remembered Pokemus because his peas eyes were too obvious.

As a lion fur, the pair of peas' eyes are completely incompatible with his type, making him not look like a lion at all.

So Shanshen later brought him a pair of sunglasses from the open sea. Pokemus himself also liked this thing that could block his eyes, but he lost it in the previous shipwreck.

"I followed Big Brother Pedro out to sea, and then"

Pokemus briefly explained his situation and his current experience, and just as he was talking, several chess soldiers and chefs also walked in with a huge wedding cake.

"Long time no see you two, this is a gift my mother asked us to bring."

Charlotte Moscato walked in with Charlotte Bloweye and Charlotte Melitzer. They had met at the tea party, and it was considered a little friendship.

And their appearance also surprised some people a little. This is the wedding of the pirates. Of course, the navy will not appear here openly, but they will send all intelligence personnel to infiltrate.

Kaido, Charlotte Lingling, Edward Newgate, the three most famous pirates in the sea are the remnants of Rocks. Even if they don't show up, the contact of their subordinates will make some people nervous.

They sneaked in just to make sure it wasn't a blatant alliance, and if they didn't get any information about something like that, it would be a big problem.

"That's Moscato, Minister of Ice Cream, are these two pirate groups really just business exchanges?"

In addition to these people, there are people from various factions in the underground world. Some people have only heard of the relationship between the beasts and BIG·MOM. Usually, it is rare for Charlotte Lingling to send a normal gift, let alone Said to send their children to congratulate in person.

Even if Moscato's status is not as good as that of Katakuri and Cricket, he is also a child of Charlotte Lingling and an important member of the Pirates. They cannot do anything about it in the new world. Know.

This commercial wedding did not last for a short time, and most of the time it was bragging. After the end of the matter here, Zeraora took the moment to Zou.

There was no Quinn to follow this time. The ceremony at Zou didn't need Quinn to be the emcee, so it's better to let him stay here and continue to brag.

The big thing is the family's side. Although Zuowu's back can't be made like a ghost island, he also has a unique wild style.

Through the contact of the phone bug, Zou's side has also prepared the wedding, and Pedro and others who sent the other members back to Zou also received the news that Pokemus is safe and sound.

But he did not plan to return to Zou, but returned to Cake Island as a member of the BIG·MOM pirate group. He also participated in one of the three weddings, and entrusted Shanna to report his safety to his parents. He was worried about seeing The parents were reluctant to leave Zuowu.

And he slipped out of Zou with Pedro at his age, so if he just went back like this, he would inevitably be taught a lesson.

It wasn't just Zeraora and Shanna who went to Zou, but also the new generation of beasts brought by Arceus. On the one hand, he was going to act as the man's parent, and on the other hand, Yamato and others wanted to see it. What does Zou, the land of elephants, look like?

Haqi and Ling have life cards to return to Zou. Several thousand-year-old dragons flew to Zou like this. It is their own business to fly, and the means of transportation is a matter of face, otherwise some people will not be able to find mounts.

The process of flying was very fast, but when Zou was approaching, there was a dull sound in Arceus' ears.

"I'm so tired. Can anyone give me a break after so many years?"

Chapter 468 Commands Across the Millennium

"rest?"

"Father, are you tired?"

Listening to Arceus muttering to himself, Yamato looked at Arceus in a puzzled way. It was the first time she heard the word from Arceus. In her cognition, Arceus had never said anything like being tired. if.

"No, I just heard some special sounds."

"But no one spoke, did you speak?"

Yamato asked the others behind him, but all he got were negative answers, even the frost milk fairy in her arms gave negative answers.

"Foster father, you should have hallucinations, no one speaks in such a high sky."

【Help】

"No, foster father, I seem to have heard something, someone is calling for help?"

Yamato felt that he heard a cry for help, and the voice was familiar.

"You can't hear that voice now, but you did hear the sound of help, look down to the left."

Yamato heard the words and saw two falling shadows.

"That's Ulti and Xiaopei?! What are they playing, they didn't bring me."

The number of children in the Beast Pirates has increased, and many things have become strange. For example, seeing someone falling from the sky is not afraid at all. After all, Peggy Wan has learned how to fly.

And the reason why he and Ulti fell is also very simple. The Millennium Dragon's back is so big, it is normal to fall during the fight, but she took advantage of the opportunity to catch Peggy Wan when she fell, and took him down with him.

Peggy Wan in midair changed his form and flew again like a jet.

"Sister! Can't you stop!"

He very much doubted that Ulti brought him up to play him better, and he even had some evidence to judge his mood based on Pejiwan's name.

If it is an older sister, it means that his heart is not fluctuating, but when it is replaced by an eldest or an old sister, it means that his heart has been severely hit, and it is a backstab from his own sister.

"What does it matter, Xiaopei, you can fly anyway."

"But if you don't make trouble, we won't fall down at all!"

"It's not my fault, it's all Jack that takes up too much space, let's just fly over there, so that there is no pervert threatening you."

"Sister, didn't you pull me down on purpose to stay away from Big Brother Jack?"

"How is it possible, how could I do something like that?"

The structure of       's head made him unable to see Ulti's current expression, but Peggywan felt that he had discovered the truth.

"Okay Xiaopei, you have to trust my sister, hurry up and catch up, they are going to fly away."

After some small twists and turns, they successfully reached Zou, and they also met with Zeraora in mid-air. This is because Momo was holding Ling's life card, which was just right under the acceleration of Zeraora. caught up.

Everything was ready in the furry duchy. Although the starlight could not be attracted, the citizens went out together to collect the blooming flowers on Zou's back and decorate them on the outer city walls.

For the sparsely populated Zou, the marriage of the same family has always been a big event, especially since Setsuna has the special status of the heir to the duke.

Even Yang Jishan participated. Although he has shown a little old-fashioned attitude, the whole is still the same as before, organizing the open-air meeting of Zou.

Here Zeraora and Setsuna don't have such complicated dresses, they just simply wear garlands, which is the tradition of Zou.

The children of       Hundred Beasts quickly integrated into the atmosphere of Zou. The fur tribes here have always been very enthusiastic about their recognized friends, especially most of them are animals with abilities.

In the form of humans and beasts, Yamato and such mammals are not much different from the fur tribe. After participating in the wedding here as the male parent, Arceus did not participate in their carnival, but when everyone was celebrating. left here.

Following the road inside Zou, Arceus crossed the Forest of Whales and came to a slightly higher place, which was already outside the furry principality, and at his feet was the head of Zou's giant elephant.

During the ceremony, he vaguely heard the complaining voice again.

was uncertain in the sky just now. At this time, Arceus completely determined the source of the sound, and the complaining sound came from the giant elephant of Zou.

"Are you tired?"

"Of course. Can you hear me?!"

There is a hint of surprise in the old voice. Its life is extremely long. As early as a thousand years ago, he had walked on the sea with the furry principality on his back, all because of his mistakes.

Because of that mistake, he was punished for walking on the sea with his country on his back, and could never stop unless ordered by someone else.

This order can be anyone, as long as that person can understand his words, and he can understand what he says, such a person is qualified to order him.

It doesn't expect to be ordered to liberate, but with the order, he can at least move, otherwise even if it is attacked, it is not qualified to fight back.

He has also met such a person before, but such a person can only understand his scattered words and cannot communicate with him.

In fact, the giant elephant did not speak, but emitted a sound wave of a special frequency, which limited the person who could answer him, and the person it had been waiting for.

"Stop when you're tired. The people of Zou are celebrating the wedding. After so many years of carrying the furry principality, you naturally have a chance to rest."

"Really?"

Above the head, a ray of light appeared in the eye sockets of the giant elephant of Zou. Originally, its eye sockets were extremely dry, and it looked like an empty space from a distance, but now, there are beautiful gem-colored pupils in its eye sockets. Rare beauty.

"of course it's true."

"Did you order me to rest? Are you sure this is an order?"

The giant elephant's tone became excited. The original rules were like procedures to him, so he desperately hoped to follow the whole procedure later.

"I ordered you to rest, but someone on your back is getting married, so please celebrate for them too."

"As ordered."

After a thousand years, the giant elephant's footsteps stopped again, and the kilometer-long elephant trunk has also been raised.

"Moo~~!"

The long elephant chirping resounded through the sky, and even the surrounding clouds were scattered by this huge sound, and the entire furry principality was shrouded in the cry of the elephant lord. novelusb.com

Anyone can hear the joy in the heart of the elephant, even if the species is different, they also feel that emotion from the chirping sound

Chapter 469 Zou's Bird King

Even if it is just a stroll, this is a grand project that has lasted for thousands of years. For the elephant, this is serving a sentence, and it is a sentence without purpose.

It waits for a person, but not a fixed person. Similar people have appeared in the millennium, but they all seem to have failed in the end.

So today the elephant Lord still walks on the sea, until today, it seems to be living in a forgotten prison, and Arceus is the only warden who has handed it the key for thousands of years.

The elephant chirping is celebrating their wedding and expressing their inner joy.

"Take a proper rest when you are tired, but don't take too long. The current furry principality is not suitable for being fixed in one place all the time."

"I understand that a moment's rest every day is enough."

The scientific name of the elephant lord is Natamiai Nolida Elephant. Due to the double-jointed body structure of the legs, this giant creature rests by standing. This requirement is not complicated for him.

The Elephant Lord is telling Arceus his inner joy at this time. Not only has he not rested for thousands of years, but he has not even communicated with other people for thousands of years.

Natamiai Nolida is already rare in number. It may be the last giant elephant in the world. At this time, there are people who can communicate with it. It is a living creature to be precise, but no matter what, the elephant owner is unbearable. joy in the heart.

As a living fossil that has lived for nearly a thousand years, Arceus naturally asked it about the slate.

"I can't remember exactly. I've seen a lot of meteorites in a thousand years. I don't know which ones are what you want, and after so many years, some islands have long since disappeared."

Although the elephant did not give any answer, it did not affect anything.

In the furry dukedom, the fur tribes such as Yangjishan also noticed the change of the elephant master. The elephant master actually stopped. Although the elephant master got a rest, it was not a good thing for the fur tribe.

The Furry Principality relies on the Elephant Lord for its existence. Generations of fur tribes live on the back of the Elephant Lord. If the Elephant Lord falls, it will be a devastating disaster for the Furry Principality.

If they hadn't sensed joy in the voice of the elephant, it would be time to panic.

However, Yang Jishan still ordered others to check the situation of the elephant lord. When he and Zeraora and the others came to the top of the elephant lord, they knew what had happened.

But Yang Jishan only knew that he was a person whom Zeraora respected very much. At this time, he realized that this respect is far more than that.

"In an instant, come here."

She heard the words and came to Arceus's place, but she didn't understand what Arceus wanted to do.

"Master Arceus, what are you doing?"

"How well have you mastered the power of the waveguide?"

"There is no problem with the basic application." The days of her obtaining Lucario are not short, and the power of the waveguide is Lucario's most basic ability. Naturally, she is already familiar with it. The development of the waveguide arrow is the most direct. prove.

"Sit here and feel the guide like the Lord, I believe you can do this, and I will help you."

However, the power of the waveguide is not only used for combat, it is also an excellent means of communication. Everything has its own unique waveguide. As long as he finds the opponent's waveguide, Lucario can communicate with each other through the waveguide.

Although he was able to communicate with the elephant master, he did not intend to rashly change the status quo. The elephant master's body was fearless in the sea, and there was no need to transform it immediately.

Arceus won't stay here forever, so he needs another person who can communicate with the elephant master, and the moment he gets Lucario's ability is the best choice.

Lucario, who controls the power of the waveguide, is one of the best Pokémon for this.

entered Lucario's form in an instant, with waves of waveguides exuding on the surface of her body, she was trying to feel the unique waveguides of the elephant master.

"Come on, so you have more opportunities to act later."

Under the communication of Arceus, the elephant master also released his mind and cooperated with Moment.

The power of the blue wave guide connected with the elephant master from the body in an instant. With the assistance of Arceus, she quickly established a new connection with the elephant master, and the deep voice of the elephant Lord also sounded in her mind.

Under the exchange of moments, the elephant raised his huge nose, and the nose like a giant pillar stopped in front of the moment, as if shaking hands with her.

bang

The scepter in the hands of the sheep Jishan fell to the ground, and many fur tribes were shocked to lose their jaws. This is a situation they have never thought of since ancient times, and the elephant master can really communicate.

Looking at his hands, Yang Jisihan found that his fur was not as beautiful as it used to be, and with his current performance, he affirmed his thoughts.

Arceus did not stay here overnight, but left Zou in advance, and before leaving, instructed Zeraora to send Yamato and several people back.

On the premise of being able to communicate with the elephant master in an instant, even if someone drives a fleet, it is not a match for the elephant master.

The wedding was still going on, but at noon the next day, Jishan the sheep called Setsuna and Zeraora over.

"Lord Duke, what are you doing?"

"In an instant, you have grown up, you were still a little girl, but now you are enough to take over the throne of Zou."

"Wait, Lord Duke, it seems a little early, I'm not ready yet."

Years ago, her goal was to become the first Duchess of Zou, but later she found that things were far from simple. Even a simple farm in Jiuli felt like a big head to manage, not to mention the more than 20,000 residents of Zou. ..NovelUsB.cOm

And according to her plan, she should have a honeymoon with Zeraora first, then help Arceus search the slate, and finally travel around the world, and only after a few children will take over the throne.

"Enough is enough. Although you have the help of that person, you are the first fur tribe who can communicate with the elephant master in thousands of years. It is time for me to rest. From today, you are the Duke of Zou!

The people of Zou will obey your command, and you will lead Zou to move forward! "

Saying that, Yang Jisigan took the crown and handed it over solemnly to Setsuna.

Seeing that Yang Jishan had made a decision, she knew in an instant that it was hard to refuse, but she had a new idea.

"Lord Duke, will you also obey my orders?"

Although it felt a little strange, Yang Jisihan still gave a positive answer.

"Yes, I am also a citizen of Zou, and I am no longer a duke."

"Okay, then I order you as the new Duke of Zou to temporarily take charge of Zou's affairs for me until I finish my affairs."

Chapter 470 I predicted your prediction, the fighting device of the fur tribe

The sheep Jishan's face is full of puzzled eyes. He has been a duke for so many years, and he plans to rest. The fur tribe with the moonstone can enter the moon lion state at any time, and the safety has been greatly improved.

The elephant owner who walks aimlessly is not so easy to find, not to mention the elite musket team and knight group have mastered the state of the moon lion proficiently.

In addition, the strength of Zeraora and Setsuna has already made Yanggis Khan feel beyond his reach. If Zou is handed over to them, he can live a peaceful life in retirement.

Not to mention that he can still communicate with the elephant Lord now. The huge size may not be flexible enough, but the elephant Lord's every move is a terrible disaster for the outside world.

In the past, being the enemy of the fur tribe was the enemy of the country, and it referred to the fur tribe of the whole country, but now it is different. It is really the enemy of the country. The attack launched by the elephant has already exceeded the scope of human power.

Although he is the ruler of Shoucheng, he knows enough about the residents of Zou that he was clamoring to be a duchess when he was a child.

Before she said that she would wait until after marriage, she thought they could become the new king as husband and wife in Zou now, but she didn't expect such a trick for him now.

"The Duke of Yangjishan is wrong, I should call you senior now, senior, this is the order of the new duke, I don't think I am fit to rule Zou, so this important task is handed over to you.

It doesn't seem right to say that, but it's just business as usual. "

In the past, she felt that the Duke's position was high and no one would stop him, but now she understood that that position brought not only power, but also obligations and the future of the race.

She has not had enough fun yet. She is willing to contribute to the big ship of the fur tribe, but she is not ready to be at the helm all the time.

"Wait, that's not quite right, didn't I pass on the Duke's position to you?"

"Yes, but I ordered you to act as an agent in my capacity as a duke. According to the foreign countries, this should be called the regent. Anyway, you are very experienced, and everything will continue. I will wait a few years. will be back."

"No, I'm so old, and it's time for a rest. In this case, I once again order you to take over this position with my current power!"

Sheep Jishan tried to let the other party take over this position in the form of a nesting doll, but the truth was different from what he thought.

"No, now the duke is me, you have given me your position, haven't you?"

touched the top of his empty head, Yang Jisihan suddenly discovered this problem, the handover ceremony of Zou is very simple, during this time everyone has recognized the heir of the instant, so he only needs to announce it unilaterally.

As long as he finishes saying that, it means that the exchange of the Duke's position is over.

From then on, as a duke who abdicated, he needed to obey the decrees of the new duke, but the new duke did not have to obey him.

This is also the reason why Shansui asked Yangjishan to be the regent and did not re-appoint him as a duke. She has blocked the possibility of Yangjishan's matryoshka shirk from the root.

And in order to prevent accidents, she did not set a date at all. In a sense, the day she took over the throne was always tomorrow, not today.

"At ease, at ease, you can work hard for more than ten years at most. You are still in the right year, so don't rush to retire."

According to the calculation of the original time line, at this time, Inu Lan and Cat Viper had already taken over the position of Zou, and Yang Jisihan had disappeared, but the situation is different now. With the aid of materials, all the development of Zou is prosperous. .

In this case, as the helm of Zou, the mood will naturally be better, and the physical condition will also become healthier.

Under the circumstance that Yang Jishan didn't know what to say, he was forced to take over the position of the regent. After the decree was announced, the young people didn't feel much because it seemed to them that it made no difference.

Although the old people who knew the last duke of Yanggis Khan were slightly surprised, they only lamented that they could not keep up with the trend of young people.

Although the nominal duke of Zou has been replaced, everything has remained the same as before, and the moment's behavior has also reminded Yang Jisihan that he has begun to look for some more talented people in the fur tribe. to share these things.

Looking at the people below, Yang Jisihan couldn't help but sigh that the world has changed, and the throne has become a hot thing.

However, this method can appear in the special environment of the fur tribe. It is impossible for ordinary kingdoms to happen. The competition for kingship has already wiped out human nature.

Those who surrender power ahead of time may not have their own security in old age, so people in most countries will firmly grasp those powers as long as they have a breath left.

After the celebration, everything was business as usual, but Yang Jisihan felt that his head was bald a lot, but this unsuccessful transposition ceremony was not without effect.

There is a big difference between the fur tribe and ordinary humans, that is, they are not afraid of static electricity, they can use the power of static electricity in their own fur to fight, and the wool of the bleak sheep also has this feature.

So a batch of battle suits made of untreated Meili sheep wool was sent to Zou.

They look like ordinary clothes, and they don't have any special abilities. Ordinary people will be tortured by static electricity when they wear them. The pain of touching the door of the car in dry winter is not a good experience.

But the fur tribe is different, this electrostatic force can be combined with their own static electricity, allowing them to use a stronger current.

Moreover, in the power-on state, this kind of clothing also inherits the fluffy properties of the wool of the sheep, which can effectively reduce the possibility of accidental bursting of the shirt when the fur tribe is transformed.

The style of the clothes is still the same as the original clothing of the fur tribe, the difference is that there is a storage belt on it.

There is a groove in the position of the belt buckle, which can be used to inlay the moon stone. When needed, just press the switch on the belt, and the back will be opened, allowing the moon stone to come into contact with the body of the fur tribe, and then transform into the moon lion.

At the end of the battle, press the switch again to isolate the contact between the Moon Stone and the body, thereby releasing the transformation state. A very simple mechanical device can complete this setting.

This is also an equipment update for the Fur Clan Musketeers and the Knights. The battle suits and transformation belts just sound like a cool thing.
