

Arceus 561

Chapter 561 People's hearts

Regardless of men, women, young or old, regardless of race, they were all included in the slaves rescued by Tiger.

The giants returned to their own country, the murlocs followed Tiger to form the Sun Pirates, and ordinary people chose to live in seclusion.

During this period, some people also chose to return to their hometowns. Whether they were recaptured or died on the way, people here don't know.

Among all the slaves on the island, Kerla is the most special, because she is only eleven years old this year.

Eleven is nothing special in itself, but it has been three years since they escaped Mary Joa, which means that the little girl was taken into slavery when she was less than eight years old.

"Tegen, you also rescued this child from Marie Gioia three years ago. Although you really wanted to send her back to her hometown, with our capabilities and these small boats, we couldn't pass through this dangerous sea area."

Several seemingly old people entrusted Tiger. Their faces were very old, but their bodies were not like people of this age.

In fact, they are not old people at all, but their faces are aging due to the ravages of slave life.

Tiger did not refuse this request, and chose to take the other party back to his hometown. At that time, they only regarded this as an ordinary girl, until Aaron beat her away impatiently.

Even if his perception of humans has become a little more complicated because of Mandelfish, it still cannot change the fact that he hates humans.

It's just that when Xiaoba grabbed him, the resistance was not so fierce.

Then he was stunned, because the little girl who was slapped didn't cry or roar, even though her nose was bleeding, she just tore off a piece of clothing and kept wiping the deck.

"Sorry, please don't kill me, I'm still useful, please don't kill me."

Crying=death, this is the cognition she got in her slave life when she was young, no matter if she was lazy or whatever, the result of doing that would be to be ruthlessly abandoned.

For the Tianlong people, slaves without value have no meaning of existence, and they will choose to kill each other directly if they find it troublesome.

Aaron once again experienced the "evil" side of human beings, but he is different from other people who sympathize with Kerla. Human beings and their descendants can be so ruthless, so how could they accept the murlocs who have been discriminated against.

This is Aaron's true thoughts at this time. He has never agreed with Otohime's philosophy. In his opinion, only fear can stop the other party, but he will obey Tiger's order. As long as Tiger is still there, Aaron will not get out of control.

He didn't do anything else, just left here alone, and then Tiger used a branding iron to cover up the marks on Kerla's back, and forcibly brought her out of the shadow in the most direct and violent way.

With the passage of time, Kerla quickly integrated into the Sun Pirates. Except for Aaron, most of the people on board had accepted the existence of Kerla. Under the influence of him, he gradually changed his views.

It's just that he still hasn't understood what Tiger said to him back then.

【Princess Otohime is too idealistic. In her eyes, there is probably no difference between me and Aaron, but it is nothing to me. The devil living in my heart is the most terrifying thing. 】

The first half of the sentence is not difficult to understand, but he doesn't know what the devil in Tiger's heart refers to.

The voyage of the Sun Pirates is still going on, and at the same time, they also found the eternal pointer to Kerla's hometown-Folchette Island, and followed the eternal pointer to the other's hometown.

It was precisely because of this eternity pointer that Mandelfisch successfully found the trace of the other party.

The Sun Pirates are also wanted by the government. Naturally, they obtained the Eternal Pointer through illegal means. There are not many murlocs and pirates in the sea, and the beasts have a complicated network of relationships in the underground world.

Many people can't find the opportunity to flatter. Because of Tezolo's status, Doflamingo not only didn't get angry, but seized this opportunity to establish cooperation with the other party. In this case, Mandelfish found it without much effort. got the news.

"Folchter Island?"

"That's right, I still have an eternal pointer to go there, do you need it?"

If it is not for going to a certain island, then people will not deliberately look for the eternal pointer. This is the disadvantage of the great route. If there is no eternal pointer, if you want to go to an island, you must follow the designated route.

If you change the route rashly, you will be led to strange places because of the changes in the magnetic field of the recording pointer. The eternal pointer and life card are the few things that can guide the direction in the great route.

"When did this happen?"

Listening to his younger brother's report, Mandelfish suddenly had a bad feeling.

"The man said that two days ago, a group of murlocs bought an eternal pointer, and they should have set off by now."

"Hurry up to replenish supplies, and then move forward at full speed to drive out the two-day journey."

"Yes!"

Afterwards, Mandelfisch's ship's outer wheels were fully opened, and it chased in the direction recorded by the eternal pointer.

"Brother Mandelfish, do you need to be in such a hurry?"

Jack stood behind Mandelfish, while teasing the milk fairy above his head, he asked Mandelfish.

"Be prepared, although the navy's intelligence agencies are occasionally stupid, but they are the forces with the most eyeliners in the sea, and the underground businessmen believe half of them at most.

There is no reason why the Navy can't find out what we can find out. Maybe that guy sold Tiger's news to the Navy.

If he had been more courageous, our news would have been sold by now. Lord Arceus' request is to keep Tiger alive and not affect his plan. "

As an old fritter, Mandelfish has always been wary of outsiders, especially those black market traders, there is nothing they dare not do for money.

In fact, his guess was correct, that is, he sold the news of the murlocs to the navy. Although there was no specific trace, the navy had already deployed a fleet around Forchette Island.

This is also the reason why they arrived so quickly in the original timeline. Less than 30 minutes after Tiger sent Krall home in the original timeline, the navy had already surrounded the place. Forchette Island is not a naval base, if not If they had been prepared for a long time, they would not be able to do this at all.

The deployment of the fleet takes time, and no matter how elite the navy is, it cannot change this fact.

"What about Jack, are you scared? This is the life of a pirate."

"No, the navy, if you dare to block us, let them try."

"It's good to have courage, but Jack, be careful when you go out, you don't want the Milk Fairy to get hurt, do you?"

Chapter 562 The frog in the well

Everyone's developmental level is different. Some people can still grow taller at the age of 20, and some people reach their limit at the age of 14 or 15. Jack, who is 16 years old this year, has reached eight meters in height, which is quite small. giant.

Mandelfish is more than two meters tall and looks like a child in front of Jack. It is easy for outsiders to misunderstand that Jack is the captain.

Moreover, most of the murlocs are extremely fierce in appearance, and Jack has this fierce aura on him.

Except for a few acquaintances and older brothers and sisters who are stronger than him, his attitude towards ordinary pirates is not friendly, but he is surprisingly gentle towards his own cream fairy.

Frost Fairy isn't even a hat on top of his head, but he won't get mad if Frost Fairy is there on a trampoline.

The example of Mandelfisch hit his weakness, and it was a bit too much.

"What are you doing with a phone bug?"

"Master Arceus asked me to listen to your opinion more. According to past practice, if you are not an opponent, you should choose to ask for help."

"There's no need for Jack, I'm too impatient, and I just said it's possible, most underground businessmen dare not betray us."

What Mandelfish said is also true. Kaido and Charlotte Lingling occupy almost half of the underground world. No one wants to offend them. Too presumptuous.

If you have money, you have to spend your life. The revenge of the two of them is unbearable for most people, and they are not willing to try.

Only when the interests are so great that their greed overcomes their fear, this kind of thing will happen. It is very important to hang out in the underground world of the great route, and a piece of news is not worth their efforts.

Mandelfisch's ship started sailing at full speed, and after several days of sailing, they had already arrived near Forchart Island.

"Brother Mandelfish, we are almost here. If we haven't caught up with them here, they should have landed."

"Stop the boat, you stay here, Jack, you and I go over and have a look."

He didn't know how many people the navy had sent, but he knew that his rescue target was only Tiger. In other words, as long as Tiger survived, no one else had much to do with him.

Moreover, all members of the Sun Pirates are murlocs. It is extremely difficult to catch them at sea after abandoning the ship. Letting your own ship pass will increase the burden. Jack and he can enter the water freely, and everything is convenient. many.

"Pearman, you stay here, if the situation is wrong, retreat first, don't worry about the two of us."

"Wait, Brother Mandelfish, let's go with you too. We are also murlocs, so we can count on Brother Tiger's affairs."

Pierman accepted Mandelfish's order, but there were several people on board who wanted to go together. Murloc.

At the beginning, those who could not accept his identity left him and returned to Aaron or Tiger's subordinates, but those who could accept it joined Beasts and continued to follow Mandelfisch.

"Follow you, let's go!"

Speaking of which, Mandelfish jumped into the water first. He is also a murloc, so there is no problem in retreating. When he takes action, he must first arrange the retreat route. This is what he left behind after the incident on Kraigana Island. habit.

Gyarados can fly, but the flying speed is far inferior to his swimming speed. The sea is his home field, and he generally does not choose to fly if he can swim.

"Help me take care of it."

After stroking Milk Fairy's head, Jack temporarily left it with Pillman, and then jumped into the sea with the other murlocs.

Jack looks cumbersome on land, but his swimming speed in water is not slow. As long as he doesn't transform himself, he still maintains the characteristics of a murloc in the ocean.

Although he was slightly slower than the other murlocs, he still followed the tail of the team.

Sprinting at full speed, they soon saw the ships of the Sun Pirates.

At this time, Tiger had taken Krall away from the ship, and Aaron continued to promote his theory.

"Think about it carefully, is there any point for that little girl to preach that the murlocs are good people in the village alone? Like Otohime, it is a waste of words, only to let them understand the horror of the murlocs."

"Aaron, after three years, you are still so "naive". Do you think you are really strong?"

Before Aaron finished speaking, a strange and familiar voice suddenly sounded from under the side of the ship, and then a blue "dragon man" jumped onto the deck.

"Mandelfish? Why are you here, a liar?"

Aaron was not happy to see Mandelfish, he still regarded him as a friend when he thought Mandelfish was really a murloc, but since the other party's human identity was exposed, everything changed, in his view Come on this is just a liar.

"Of course there is something to do, where is Fisher Tiger?"

"You guy, show some respect to Big Brother!"

Mandelfish's behavior of calling Tiger directly by his name made Aaron even more unhappy. In addition to his previous words and "deception", many emotions wanted him to break arms with Mandelfish.

It's just that he seems to have forgotten that he is no match for Mandelfish in the time of the Carp King, let alone the Gyarados who has mastered the Mega now.

So Mandelfisch pushed him to the ground with one hand.

"You still want to bring terror to mankind just these two times? You don't know anything about the strong."

"Mandelfish, what are you doing here?"

Looking at Mandelfish who pushed Aaron down on the deck, the other murlocs around suddenly showed alert eyes, and Jinbe also assumed a fighting posture.

"Niu, don't do this, there must be a misunderstanding."

Xiao Ba dissuaded them in the middle, waving his six arms up and down non-stop.

"I didn't come to fight. We received news that the Navy had an encirclement and suppression operation against Fisher Tiger. To be precise, I came to save people."

"Save people?! Big brother doesn't need you to save people! You are so self-righteous!"

Aaron, who was pressed to the ground, was still stubborn. Even if Mandelfisch made him powerless to resist with one hand, he still refused to admit defeat.

"If it wasn't for Xia Li being your sister, I would beat you so hard that no one would recognize you. Don't just keep your mouth shut and count the entire human race. People are different."

Speaking of Mandelfish, he threw Aaron to Xiaoba's side. Although Aaron still refused to accept it, he was firmly held by Xiaoba and the others.

At this time, Jack and the others also jumped onto the deck. Their movement speed was not as fast as that of Mandelfish, so they were a little slower.

"Brother Mandelfish, we saw warships on the way here, and they are encircling here!"

At this time, a series of gunshots rang out on the island, and even Aaron was not struggling. Obviously, what Mandelfisch said was true.

Chapter 563 The great cruelty of super evolution

These warships were hidden near the island, and they came here after receiving a report from Kerla's fellow countrymen.

Because Mandelfish swam too fast, he didn't notice those warships, otherwise he wouldn't talk nonsense with Aaron at all.

Jack and the others happened to see the warships approaching because they took a step too late.

The gunshots on the island have already explained everything. Mandelfish immediately ran in the direction of the gunshots, and all Aaron could see was the afterimage of the other party.

"Brother Jack."

In a world where strength is paramount, you don't have to be old to be called a big brother, you can be called a big brother if you are strong enough. These younger brothers who follow Mandelfisch are not Jack's opponents.

"You stay here and be careful."

Then he used brute force to rush in that direction. Unlike Mandelfisch who used his ability to fly, Jack used brute force completely, leaving two huge potholes on the deck.

"That guy actually came to save Big Brother."

The surrounding warships have already approached, and there is no need to question the purpose of Mandelfisch's trip. Tiger's status in Aaron's heart is very high, which shakes him a little bit in his heart who has just refused to accept Mandelfisch.

"Human beings are also different from human beings."

This sentence had a certain impact on him at this time, but now is not the time to think about this issue, because the naval shells have already hit.

"Aaron! You go to deal with those warships, and I will take people to rescue Brother Tai!"

Jinbe led his people towards Forchart Island as well. They couldn't stand idly by when this happened, and Aaron also led his people to deal with the navy's attack.

Their ships were quickly destroyed under the gunfire of the navy, but as murlocs, they didn't rely on ships at all. With their own serrated knives, Aaron planned to grab a navy ship and bring it back.

Not long ago, a group of navies had surrounded Taige inside Forchart Island.

"Navy. Why are you here?"

"We naturally have our own way. Your whereabouts are not a secret, and the people on this island have already betrayed your whereabouts. This is a deal, at the cost of your life, in exchange for that Tianlongren's The free body of all things.

Sun Pirates Captain Fisher Tiger, you have been charged with two crimes, assault and escape. In the name of Rear Admiral Stolberg of the Navy Headquarters, I declare you a death sentence. "

Tigger's eyes had changed, and the escape that Stoloberg said stung his heart. It was a secret that only he knew, and he didn't want to mention his life as a slave to others.

"Shoot."

But Tiger's eyes didn't make any sense to Stoloberg. In his eyes, Tiger was just a criminal, so he directly gave the order to attack.

The strength of the murloc on land was far inferior to that in the sea. The dense bullet screen left him no room to hide. A large number of bullets shot through his body, but these bullets could not kill him, and then he started his own battle.

Under the siege of the navy, he already had many wounds on his body. When Mandelfish appeared here, Tiger had many wounds all over his body.

"Wouldn't the 230 million Bailey bounty criminal not be domineering?"

In terms of rewards, Tiger's rewards were inflated to a large extent. His status as a fugitive slave and the main culprit of the Mary Joya attack allowed him to obtain a bounty far beyond his own strength.

Although they sailed on the sea for three years, they did not enter the new world. The murlocs mainly relied on underwater raids, and there were not many opportunities for direct combat. Tiger did not have a suitable teacher, and he did not understand the essence of domineering at all.

Otherwise, this little bullet would definitely not be able to hurt him. Although the powerful muscles blocked the bullets that were fired into his body, preventing them from hurting his vitals, they still caused real damage.

"Get the * out of here! Shuixin Shotgun!"

A ball of water appeared in Mandelfish's hands, and then the ordinary water turned into deadly shotguns, knocking down several navies who were close to Tiger to the ground.

Having the ability of Pokémon, he can convert physical strength into water, which means that he can display all the skills of murloc karate in an anhydrous environment.

"Hey, are you okay?"

"Are you Mandelfish?"

Tiger is not a person who doesn't read newspapers, especially Mandelfish, who has taken the blame for him at the beginning, has a deep memory, and Mandelfish has a good reputation in Murloc Island, and he married a mermaid grandly. Human beings can be said to be unprecedented.

In the view of Tiger and Otohime, the existence of Mandelfish even means the progress of the relationship between the two clans.

"It's me, it's fine."

Tasks, performance, reputation, bonuses, retirement, a series of words emerged in Mandelfisch's mind one after another, and Tiger is still alive, which means that these are not a problem.

"Kaido II."

Looking at Mandelfish who suddenly appeared here, Stolberg's expression finally changed. The navy only let him be a young general to encircle Tiger on land because he thought his strength could handle it.

The real person in charge of this matter is still fishing on a warship not far away. He didn't speak immediately, but pressed the button of the phone bug on his body.

As a senior cadre of the Hundred Beasts Pirates, he is also the key target of the navy. As a major general of the headquarters, there is no reason why he cannot recognize him.

His 200 million Baileys are not exaggerated, but a real record of his own. Enemies of this level and Tiger, who is still fighting, are no longer people he can deal with.

And Mandelfish was not the only one who came here, there were other members of the Sun Pirates as well.

Mandelfish has no desire to fight, and their goal of rescuing people has already been achieved.

"Go! Go back to the sea! Take your Boss Tiger out of here! He needs treatment!"

He wasn't sure whether he could command these murlocs, so he reminded them of Tiger's safety, but he wanted to leave, which didn't mean the navy agreed.

"Hold them! Lieutenant General Polusalino's support will arrive soon!"

The number of reinforcements is not important, as long as Polusalino arrives, it is enough. Since he joined the naval training camp, he has the title of monster, as long as he can arrive, it is enough.

This sentence also encouraged the surrounding navy to get mixed up with other murlocs of the Sun Pirates. At this time, Mandelfish even saw the flickering light in the distance. quick.

"Polusalino"

After a little hesitation, Mandelfisch's body began to swell, his muscles became more developed, a pair of larger fins extended from his back, and the crown object on the top of his head also turned black and then extended, as if a single horn appeared.

Gyarados Mega form. In this state, his strength will break through the original upper limit, allowing him to display disaster-level combat effectiveness. Facing the famous monster lieutenant general in the navy, he does not know whether he is an opponent.

If you are too careless and let the opponent wear down their physical strength, even if they enter the Mega state, they may not be his opponent. Instead of doing that, it is better to burst out with all their strength. It only takes 20 minutes to return to the beach from here. As long as they successfully return to the sea, the mission will be completed. up.

"Jack, don't be too eager to fight, hurry up and go back to the sea, I will deal with that difficult guy, and I will leave it to you here."

As he spoke, a powerful stream of water spewed out from the gaps in Mandelfish's scales, flying into the air at a speed far exceeding the previous one.

At the same time, Jack also entered the transformation state, and under the swollen body, a ten-meter-tall bronze statue of the king appeared in front of Stoloberg.

It's too late. Debt is postponed for one day. Wait until I switch back to my biological clock

Chapter 564: Step-Tank Synergy under the Iron Giant Elephant

「Take Tiger and rush out from here.」

After Mandefish left, Jack acquiesced that he took over the command. Although Tiger is a great hero of the murlocs, Jack didn't grow up on Murloc Island. He admired Kaido's force, not Tai. grid.

In his opinion, these older weaklings are not qualified to command themselves.

Arceus handed over the command to Mandefish, and in this case, he naturally had to obey the other party's order to retreat.

The huge elephant trunk swept across the ground, and a large area of the navy surrounding Tiger suddenly disappeared, and a gap appeared in the encirclement.

Without any skills and skills, it is just the elephant trunk wielding its own brute force. The body composed of strange bronze brings a huge weight, and the huge figure makes this advantage even more obvious.

The adult giants are more than twelve meters tall. Although Jack's transformed bronze elephant is only ten meters tall, that's just the height. With that exaggerated beast figure, Jack has become a terrifying war beast .

For the top powerhouses, this size difference may not be meaningful, but for these navies who rounded up Tiger with a numerical advantage, Jack represents crushing.

The huge figure gradually accelerated, and an unstoppable tank had rushed into the navy's camp.

Boom, boom, boom!

The giant elephant can make a muffled sound every time it takes a step, and the surrounding ground even shakes slightly.

「Open...open...shoot! Shoot fast!!!」

Body size is a step that humans cannot cross. Although there are lieutenant generals from the giant race in the navy, beasts are far more deterrent to humans than other sub-human races.

The headed school officer overcame the fear in his heart and issued new instructions, which can be regarded as pointing out the direction for the confused soldiers.

Facing Jack who was running wildly, they did not break up. This alone has shown the difference between them and the miscellaneous soldiers.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Boom!

With the order, the navy found its way, and the dense bullets immediately turned their guns and fired at Jack, and several cannons that pushed over also began to pour firepower in Jack's direction.

Although they are powerless, this is the only thing they can do, and the weapons in their hands are their last resort.

But Jack is not Tiger. Under Kaido's devil training, he has already mastered two-color domineering at the age of 16, but he doesn't even need domineering in this situation.

The explosion of the shell caused a lot of gunpowder smoke, but the sound from the smoke was very special.

There was no screaming, no muffled sound of bullets piercing flesh, only crisp metallic sounds.

Among the gunpowder smoke caused by the shells, Jack rushed out of it without any injuries. The bullet hit him with only one sound, and then fell powerlessly to the ground.

"Moo!"

The elephant trunk waved, the elephant hoof trampled, and the encirclement that trapped Tiger was no different from paper under the impact of Jack.

"Brother Jinbe..."

The members of the Sun Pirates who followed were already sluggish, and they had seen the world during the three-year voyage, but this was the first time that the murlocs could break through the navy's defense line on land.

"Don't worry about it, follow up and save Brother Tai first!"

Jack is obviously a capable person. I don't know why he can swim, but it is probably the same principle as Mandelfish. The most important thing at the moment is to rescue Tiger first, and the rest can be postponed. .

Along the line of defense that Jack broke through, the even-ping murlocs rushed up immediately, blocked by Jack's huge figure, and the navy's guns could not hurt them at all. Although there was no exercise before, a different kind of infantry and tank coordination appeared on this island.

「Asshole, don't be so presumptuous!」

Looking at the rampant Jack, Stollowberry jumped into the sky with moon steps, and swung his fist at Jack's eyes.

Graduated from Zefa's boot camp, six styles and domineering are compulsory courses. Being able to become a major general shows that he is also a leader among the students. If there is no accident, he can be promoted in a few years will be.

But now he is not qualified enough. Facing Stollowberry's attack, Jack didn't try to dodge. He knew very well that he couldn't dodge the opponent's attack at all. Instead of wasting energy like that, it's better to do something more meaningful matter.

A layer of silver-white metallic light flashed on the original bronze-colored skin, and then the wide elephant trunk was covered with arrogance. After years of training, his nose has become more flexible than his arms.

The defense of the metal elephant trunk under the blessing of the iron wall has been greatly improved, and the domineering blessing has allowed him to put on a layer of harder armor. The elephant trunk blocked Stollowberry's attack, and the feedback from the body made Jack show contempt smile.

「Is this the power of a rear admiral? Absolutely not!」

The elephant trunk moved towards Stoloberg, but it just hit the ground. Relying on his body skills, Stoloberg still avoided the blow, but the hat he wore on the top of his hair It also flew out.

With the help of the six-style body technique, his attacks hit Jack several times, but they were completely harmless. Although Jack missed him, it became extremely difficult for him to stop Jack.

The most important thing is that besides him, there are no other general officers in the navy here, but there is a Jinbe behind Jack.

According to the original timeline, Jinbe took over the Sun Pirates after Tiger's death and was called Sea Man. But don't talk about benevolence and righteousness.

"let me help you!"

Other navies can't even stop Jack. The only one who can entangle him is Stoloberry. It can be said that as long as he is dealt with, Tiger will be safe.

Stoloberry was too flexible for Jack, but not for Jinbe.

「Murloc Karate Shawa Righteous Fist!」

Jinbe, who jumped up, appeared behind Stoloberry, and he punched Stoloberry with a punch that had been stored for a long time. He was so focused on avoiding Jack's attack that he didn't notice Jinbe. It was too late.

Even though he defended in time, he was sent flying by Jinbe.

He wasn't Shibe's opponent in the first place, he was severely injured by Jinbe in the original timeline, and now it happened to land on Jack's nose.

"Hey, here you go."

The muscles on the elephant's trunk began to exert force, and Stoloberry immediately felt a huge pressure, and then Jack raised his trunk high, and a strong whip directly smashed him into the ground.

Then Jack raised his forelegs, and was about to make up for a fatal blow to Stolberg with Mount Tai, but a laser coming from a distance forced him to stop his attack.

Chapter 565: The duel between the fish monsters

「It's a terrifying monster, but can you not attack my subordinates? Otherwise, it will be very difficult for me when I go back.」

At this stage, Polusalino is the only one who can launch laser attacks. He said that Jack is scary, but there is no tension in his eyes. This kind of big opponent is his most fearless type.

The huge and bulky figure is a living target, and the bulky attack can't hit him, and the threat is infinitely close to zero.

「Fight with me...don't be distracted! Don't look down on people too much!」

The blue dragon's claws brushed past his face. Although it was dangerous, he avoided it after all.

「Mandelfisch...Why do people like you appear here? This kind of thing has nothing to do with you. I received a call for help before I finished my tea.」

「Because I have a mission, I also want to rest at home, otherwise, if you didn't see it, how about we leave separately?」

"Good proposal, but no, you are a pirate. If you let you go like this, you will be scolded by Sengoku-san. How about you catch me without a fight? My tea is still very good, Impelton can give it to you Get a single room.

Oh, no, your words should not be sent there. The Science Force is very curious about you, Kaido II. "

Extremely similar to Kaido's ability, and someone discovered that Mandelfish seems to have the ability to swim, which made the upper management very curious about him.

But his ability is difficult to capture, so he didn't spend a lot of effort to do this kind of thing. No matter how much Huang Yuan fishes, he is still a candidate for the three generals in the future, and fishing is only relative.

A person who only fishes but does nothing can rise to the top. An excellent fishing party must learn to work at the right time. The current situation is an opportunity for Polusalino.

The same principle applies to the rescue of Stoloberg. He also came from the training camp of Zefa, and the same general of the headquarters. Stoloberg, who is now under his command, is a member of his faction.

Of course he couldn't let Jack make up for the fatal blow just like that.

「Sorry, I'm not interested in drinking tea or being studied, Faucet!」

Mandelfisch's tail rolled up a stream of water, which is the tail of the water, but it is the tail of the water in his version.

After the water tail approached Polusalino, a powerful water blade spewed out from the gaps in the scales on the tail instantly. Combined with the rotation of the water tail, Mandelfisch pulled out a water razor, trying to kill Polusalino. No was involved.

After Mega evolution, the Gyarados attribute has changed from water + flying to water evil, but this does not mean that he has slowed down, because Mega evolution has made him lose the speed he is proud of. There are very few Pokémon, such as a certain Poor biting land shark.

The speed itself has not changed. The Mega evolution has also given the Gyarados stronger power. Combined with the special changes issued by the body, Mandelfish is more flexible and faster than before.

There are many flying methods of Pokémon, and the wings are only one of them. The Gyarados after Mega borrowed from the flying method of biting land sharks, but changed from jet to water jet.

Mega Gyarados can spit out supersonic water flow from the gaps in the scales. The powerful water flow can not only provide stronger power, but also use the form of a water blade as a means of attack.

"It's really a dangerous attack. Those guys should be more curious about the ability to use water, but is your physical strength really enough?"

What he used to release the laser was also his own physical strength, so in Polusalino's view, Mandelfisch's water was also transformed from physical strength, and this attack method might run out of water soon.

It's just that he only guessed half right. The water-type Pokémon has an unscientific water storage ability in its body. Most of what Mandelfisch releases now is the sea water he stored when he became capable. The disadvantage is that he turns back into a human. If so, the water will be released in advance.

Therefore, Mandelfisch will not store water in advance when it is not in combat.

He can also use external water or convert physical strength into water. As long as he is not in the desert, he doesn't have to worry about any problems.

「You don't have to worry about this as a navy

And it's time to come. "

Boom!

A few thunderbolts sounded in the sky, thick clouds covered the sun, heavy rain poured down, and the ground became muddy in the blink of an eye.

「It's raining...did you know it was going to rain?」

"I've always had good luck, unlike a guy like you who was a monster from the beginning, I just relied on good luck to get to where I am today."

Fortunately, he got a chance to be rewarded, he was lucky enough to slap the table and found the slate, he was lucky enough to meet Rusaka, and he believed that his achievements were necessarily related to that weird luck.

But this rain was indeed his handiwork. From the moment he saw that flash of light, he started to pray for rain, but the rain came a little later.

"It's raining..."

Looking at the rain in the sky, the murlocs rushing over showed joy on their faces. They are an aquatic race, and even on land, with the help of rain, they can exert stronger combat power.

The defense line of the navy had already been broken through, and Tiger was carried on the shoulders by two murlocs, and began to retreat towards the coast.

「Get out, don't waste time.」

Looking at Stoloberry in the deep pit, Jack didn't continue to attack.

Mandelfish said that Polusalino is difficult, so he must be really difficult. The longer they stay here, the greater the hidden danger to Mandelfish.

It seems that the opponent will not allow himself to kill the opponent's subordinates, so there is no need to waste time here.

After the transformation was released, Jack started to rush towards the coast. Jinbei and the others had no intention of fighting. The entire Sun Pirates covered Tiger and began to approach the sea.

Polusalino did not ignore Mandelfish and attacked Tiger and the others, because there was a gap in his collar, which was the result of Mandelfish's battle just now.

He is not afraid of the opponent in front of him, but he can't underestimate him. It is not wise for him to attack others in front of him, and in terms of value, Tiger can kill him later, Mandelfish's own The value is much greater than Tiger.

"It seems that you have decided to cut off the heir for them. You are really a good big brother."

「The end is the end, but you know, the result of divination is that I will go back safely.」

「Oh? Do you actually believe in divination?」

"I don't really believe it, but the little girl's divination hasn't gone wrong. In order not to let her reputation suffer, I have to work hard."

At this time, the scales on Mandelfisch's body spread out slightly, and his body also took a special posture, his arms were slightly bent, and his elbows were facing the outside world.

「Dragon Dance·Water Spin Kill!」

Blessed by the dragon dance, Mandelfish began to dance, and at the same time, the gaps in the scales all over his body were spraying water.

Chapter 566: Extraordinary characteristics, unpredictable retreat methods

With the power provided by the rotation, those water flows formed a sharp water blade, and he also became a dangerous "top".

Previously, Polusalino rescued Stoloberg, and Mandelfish just wanted to try to see if Polusalino could ignore the casualties of his men. His battle required a lot of water, in order to save energy, he will use Praying for Rain to change the sky.

It's just that water alone can't deal with Polusalino, and he is not Crocodile, and he loses his ability to elementalize when his body is soaked in water.

The rain produced by praying for rain comes from the moisture in the air. Although it contains P particles that capable people fear, it is not enough. Unless the opponent is soaked in sea water, he will not fall into a powerless state.

But the Mega Gyarados is different, because after Mega evolves, its characteristics immediately change to breaking rules, and breaking rules attacks can invalidate the opponent's characteristics to a certain extent.

That is to say, in the face of Mandelfisch's attack, if Polusalino wants to use the passive of the natural system to evade, then he is likely to overturn, and the bloodstain on his shoulder is evidence.

For some reason, the water blade made his body not turn into light, but a * mouth appeared instead.

That's not domineering, but it's weird. If the opponent's attack really has the means of immunity to elementalization, why doesn't he use this method all the time? It seems that this is a random attack.

A small wound made Polusalino make a new judgment, but after that, he began to evade the water blade released by Mandelfish in advance, and he didn't want to bet on the opponent's skill hit rate.

But as Mandelfish rotated, the attack range of his water blade gradually expanded, and finally extended to the range of other navies.

「This guy... also, he is a pirate after all...」

Normal admirals would not sit by and watch others massacre their own subordinates, unless they were forced to do so, neither would Sakaski, let alone sit by and watch such behavior.

He can send part of the navy to be sacrificed for combat missions. That is an inevitable thing in war. Soldiers can die in battle, but not in this way.

Porusalino will naturally not sit idly by. He is not afraid of anyone if he attacks in a larger area, at most it is just a stroke.

Sit back and watch his subordinates be massacred basically does not exist in the Navy. The most unfortunate one is that Zefa was unable to protect his students because of his strength.

A large number of lasers shot around, blocking Mandelfish's water blades from attacking the surrounding navy, but Mandelfish still achieved his goal. His attacks seemed to be irregular, but in fact he had already had a major attack. Target.

It's just that the target is not a certain person, but the island under his feet. Before coming here, he has carefully studied Forchat Island.

This island seems to have a desert climate, and there are huge fairy pillars growing everywhere on the ground, but there are a large number of villagers who settle, which shows that they have a stable water source. N0velusb.com

And this is also the characteristic of Forchard Island. Although there is no big river on the ground, there is an underground river under the island. Mandelfisch's attack is to open up the passage leading to the underground river. This is the escape route he planned. .

When he was cut off, he would definitely prepare an unexpected escape route, which is why Jack didn't hesitate at all. Mandelfisch's life-saving ability and thinking are also very famous in Beasts.

This heavy rain is not only to improve one's combat power, but also to cover up the situation on the ground.

Due to the attacks of the two, the rain-soaked ground became dry and full of holes, and it was impossible to see what happened. After Mandelfisch's AOE attack ended, Polusalino also arrived in front of the opponent. .

Except for the blood on his arm at the beginning, Polusalino didn't have any injuries.

「I heard that you use numbers to advertise your strength, so you are actually the strongest.」

Looking at the NO.1 on Mandelfisch's shoulder, Polusalino began to "praise" the other party, with a lot of joking tone in his words.

「So your strength should surpass that of Zeraora? Then you should have even more terrifying abilities.

Right. "

"Ha, the Navy's intelligence is not bad, but who told you that I'm the strongest, no number doesn't mean weak, it may mean that he doesn't need this number."

「It's really a complicated pattern, why don't you go back and talk to me slowly, or do you want to experience the feeling of being kicked by light?」

As soon as the words fell, Polusalino kicked Mandelfisch with his legs shining brightly, but the blow was blocked by his crossed arms.

"As expected of a monster lieutenant admiral of the navy, but unfortunately, my mission has been completed, and I will tell Master Zeraora to catch up with you."

Said that he fell downward with Polusalino's kick, and Jack and the others should have withdrawn by this time. In this case, he should also slip away.

Mandelfisch fell into the ground and never appeared again. When he fell, he found a big hole in the ground, and there was still the sound of rushing water inside.

「Underground river? You really are a cunning guy...」

Polusalino gave up the idea of chasing, and just hit the stroke jade once.

Even he couldn't find out where a person who entered the water would go. This is why the navy has never launched an action although it is curious about the other party.

According to calculations, the success rate of catching Quinn at sea is greater than that of catching Mandelfisch. He will naturally do it if he has the opportunity, but the other party has already run away. Even if he is careless, he will not deliberately Go hunt down each other.

He and Mandelfisch are not fateful enemies, and he even has a feeling that if the two are not in hostile camps, they may get along very happily.

「Lieutenant General Polusalino! Major General Stoloberg is dying!」

Just as he was meditating towards the entrance of the underground river, a report came from the navy next to him.

Although he blocked Jack's follow-up attack, Shiping's punch and Jack's strong whipping had already hit him, and it can be seen that his towering hair has been crooked.

In fact, it's not just hair, but his head. According to the bandages on his hair in the original timeline, it can be inferred that this is also a guy with a strange head shape.

"I'll take him back to the warship for treatment first, you take the other wounded and return as soon as possible."

Speaking of which, Polusalino turned into a flash of light and took Stoloberg away from here, and after that, the thundercloud over the island had also dissipated.

It's just that some people's doubts have not disappeared.

「Mom, was it really just thunder?」

Kerla looked out the window and asked her mother who had been separated for a long time in puzzlement.

Chapter 567: Dalang, it's time to take your medicine

「Yes, Kerra, it was just thunder.」

The family members in the room were full of smiles, and the gunfire was not obvious at first, but as the fighting intensified and the celestial phenomena changed, Kerla also noticed the abnormality outside the village.

It's just that all the people in the village told her that it was just thunder and nothing happened.

「Come on, Kerra, here are new clothes for you, try them on.」

Pulling Kerla back from the window, her mother gave her a brand new set of clothes. When she saw the brand of the Sun Pirates behind her, although there was a wave of fluctuation in her heart, she quickly covered it up down.

She didn't want her daughter to be taken away again. Although she was sorry for the murloc, it was just a murloc.

Not long ago, at the seaside, Aaron and the remaining murlocs were fighting against the besieging warships.

「Destroy their rudder! The wounded ones hide in the water, Jinbei-san will definitely bring you back!」

「Stupid! Leave the good one, we have to retreat!」

Aaron commanded another part of the Sun Pirates to fight these navies. Their ships had been destroyed under artillery fire, and all the murlocs had dived into the deep sea.

After they approached from underwater, the firing range of the naval guns could no longer attack them, and the bullets of the flintlock guns could not cause effective damage due to the resistance of the sea water.

The murlocs, on the other hand, can easily destroy the opponent's rudder underwater with their own explosive power. Murlocs of different races also have their own special abilities. Using their own racial talents, they freely fight guerrilla attacks in the vast ocean.

「Brother Aaron! Brother Jinbe is back!」

「Okay, go get them!」

Tiger has a lot of wounds on his body, but because of the nature of the murlocs, they have a special resistance to the wounds being exposed to water, but there is nothing serious about it, but looking at the warship that Aaron snatched, Jack has no intention of getting on board .

「Can't get on the boat, walk under the water.」

「Yes, Boss Tiger's body needs to rest, if he doesn't hurry up and heal it.」

Aladdin, who is a ship doctor, expressed a different opinion. It is true that murlocs are not so afraid of water when they are injured, but he cannot treat them in turbulent sea currents.

Navy warships have better treatment rooms, and he wants to use the equipment on the warship.

"Our ship is not too far from here. Brother Mandelfish cannot hold off that navy for too long. If we * the warship, we will be the target. Go underwater and wait for Brother Mandelfish to come back."

"Listen to him, let's go, that navy is really hard to deal with."

Now there is no chance to waste time, Jinbe quickly agreed with Jack's words, and gave up the warship that Aaron had snatched. This time, even Aaron didn't make any comments, because Mandelfisch was actually cutting the rear for Tiger.

Tiger's proportion in his heart is too high, even at this time he is unwilling to speak rudely.

Led by Jack, they quickly returned to Mandelfish's ship.

...

「Where's Big Brother?」

"Brother, he will be back soon after the break. This is the mission goal of this time. He is injured a bit seriously. Hurry up and treat him."

Jack briefly explained the situation to Pierman, and then sent Tiger to the medical room. After boarding the ship, the members of the Sun Pirates were clearly divided into two parts.

Part of them are murlocs who joined Hundred Beasts and served as younger brothers under Mandelfish, and Hachi, a murloc like Jinpei who accepts human kindness.

Another part of the murlocs were wary of these people, and they were not at ease in handing Tiger over to them. Surrounded by them, several people entered the medical room together with Aladdin.

The doctor on board quickly came to the conclusion that the injury itself was not fatal, but the blood loss was too much, and Aladdin also recognized this conclusion, so the next step is to take out the bullet, suture the wound and transfuse blood to complete the treatment.

「S type RH-

Blood, only Big Brother Tiger has this blood type on board, do you have any blood stored in your blood bank?"

Ordinary pirate ships do not have a blood bank at all. Although Beast ships are much more advanced than ordinary ships, normal ships will only store the blood types of the soldiers on board.

The space on the ship is already limited, and the blood types of One Piece World are extremely complicated. If all the models are stored, it will not fit at all.

「S-type RH-? No, this blood type is too rare, and Master Arceus can guess it correctly. Hey, who is the medicine that Master Arceus gave you?」

During the treatment, the ship doctor is the highest status on the ship. This is the iron law on the ship. At this time, he can order anyone on the ship.

The people on board looked at each other, and finally looked at Pillman.

"Don't look at me, Brother Mandelfish has always carried it with you."

「In my case, Brother Mandelfish gave me the medicine before.」

Jack outside handed over the medicine. This ship is the flagship of Mandelfish. It was not designed with Jack's size in mind. As he grew taller, the treatment room could no longer accommodate him, so he could only Wait outside.

「Okay, as long as you punch this in, it will recover slowly.」

As he said that, he planned to inject Tiger with medicine, but Tiger, as the person involved, seemed to be somewhat resistant.

「This potion...was made by humans...」

"No, this is a potion specially made by the gods. As long as you have one breath left, it can be pulled back for you."

Originally Tiger's words were blocked by the ship's doctor. Mandelfish's support saved him. He recognized this kindness, but the beating of the navy broke his inner defense line.

Originally, he wanted to say that he was unwilling to accept human medicine and blood, even if he died, but the ship doctor's words completely short-circuited his thinking, and before he could react, he inserted the needle directly.

「Wait! Aren't you a tester?」

"Ah, there's no need for that. Anyone can use Master Arceus's medicine. Unless you are a blasphemer, you will definitely not die."

Aladdin, who is also a ship doctor, was dumbfounded when he heard this. It stands to reason that human technology develops much faster than Murloc Island, as can be seen from the medical equipment in this room, but he never expected that using such Doctors with advanced equipment say such superstitious things.

However, the effect of the medicine had an immediate effect. Within a minute of the injection, Tiger fell asleep, but his breathing became much more stable, and the bleeding wound stopped bleeding and even began to heal. I want to remove the bullet from the wound before starting the treatment.

...

"It's okay, brother Tiger is saved."

The news quickly spread to the murlocs on board, and bursts of cheers rang out one after another. Although Aaron was very happy after receiving the news, he stared at the sea surface with a slightly solemn expression.

"Brother Jinbe, why didn't you say that liar Mandelfisch hasn't come back yet?"

Chapter 568: Baptism of Doctrine

"You actually care about a human being, Aaron, it seems that you are not hopeless."

"Don't talk nonsense, I don't believe in humans, but if that guy really cuts off for Big Brother... maybe there are a few different humans."

Sitting on the deck against the cabin, Aaron didn't speak, and Jinping didn't know what he was thinking.

"Hey, big man, did Mandelfish say before that our whereabouts were revealed by a businessman."

Glancing down at Aaron, Jack dealt with Aaron casually.

「Brother Mandelfish said that it is possible that no one knows your destination except him.

Didn't you notify them when you were about to arrive? Even if the residents of Forchard Island reported in advance, the navy would not be ambushing nearby so quickly. The G2 branch is several days away from here. "

「That bastard...」

Aaron is very upset now, Tiger was ambushed by the navy, and Mandelfish, a man who broke his understanding of human beings, appeared, so he wanted to find a place to vent, those who betrayed them are undoubtedly the best Object.

Because Tiger forbids him to kill at will, and even Tiger would not agree to do things casually. He needs a reasoned opportunity, such as reasonable revenge.

"Brother Jinbei, come with me, you also hate those who betray us."

But at this point, there was a movement on the sea, and Mandelfisch had returned here.

"Don't be stupid, Aaron, do you think the navy is a fool? After this operation, they will definitely leave ambushes in those places. If you go, you will be courting death. Who is idle! Bring me a set of dry clothes!"

After swimming in the underground river for a long time, Mandelfish also returned here, but he didn't expect to hear Aaron utter wild words before boarding the boat.

It's just that Aaron's reaction was very different this time, he turned around and left without saying anything.

「Did this guy get beaten to the head?」

"Maybe I suddenly figured it out. Your Excellency Mandelfish, thank you for helping us save Brother Tiger. I am very grateful for this matter. If there is anything to do in the future, please tell me."

Although Aaron walked away "rudely", Shipin did not, and was still grateful for Mandelfisch's rescue.

"Don't be so polite, we also have our own purpose. If he dies, Murloc Street will be completely chaotic. Let's go back to Murloc Island first. You have to avoid the limelight first. I have to talk to your friends about some things." Brother Tai can discuss it himself."

After receiving the towels and clothes from his subordinates, Mandelfish wiped his hair after regaining his human appearance, but at this moment Aaron suddenly turned back.

"Manderfish, if it were you, I don't have much opinion on Charlie's matter."

「Ha what stupid thing are you talking about?」

「It's good that you know for yourself, I still know a little about what happened on Murloc Island.」

"Ask your ship doctor to show him his brain. I don't think he's quite normal recently."

Looking at the blue fat man beside him, Mandelfish felt it was necessary to remind him.

It's just that this is indeed some kind of misunderstanding. After Aaron left, Mandelfish helped take care of the underage Xia Li. She got along well with Rusaka, so sometimes she took them with her and left.

But in Aaron's view, it doesn't mean that much. Although he only cared about Xia Li for a short time and didn't care about this sister at all, Aaron would definitely not agree if she really wanted a human being as a partner.

In his opinion, Mandelfish, who takes care of his sister every day, is not that pure, but after this time, his thinking has been shaken a little.

Due to the temporary compromise of Aaron, the biggest rebel, under the instigation of Xiaoba and Jinping murlocs, the two pirates got along quite happily, and even held a small banquet. Without participating, he came to see Tiger in the medical room.

"Stop pretending, you've already woken up."

"how do you know?"

「You don't know what medicine you are taking, it's Lord Arceus

Special rations for cadres, since you are not dead, it is impossible for you to be in a coma for so long, why, do you have a big opinion on being alive?"

Listening to Mandelfish's question, Tiger was silent for a long time. Through the window, he could see the laughing murloc compatriots on the deck, and even Aaron rarely appeared there.

Although he didn't participate, he didn't hide from everyone anyway. This is already a big improvement.

「Even that * Aaron can change, why are you still hesitating?」

Following the direction Tiger was looking at, Mandelfish also saw the situation there, so he continued to ask him.

Arceus's order was to have a living Tiger, and now he was rescued. If this guy couldn't think about committing suicide, then he would have been saved in vain. In order to complete the mission smoothly, Mandelfish simply played a guest role as a psychological student.

「You...should know about the slaves at the time, right? And that time you were inexplicably targeted on Murloc Island a few years ago...」

After a long time, Tiger still told Mandelfish what happened that year.

「I found that I can't do it, I want to forget about those things, I want the murlocs to change their way of life...but...」

Mentioning those things, Tiger couldn't help clenching his fists, and the whites of his eyes were filled with bloodshot eyes.

"Stupid."

"Um?"

"I said you are an idiot. You are no longer afraid of death because of what happened back then, so what are you afraid of? Even if you want to die, you must at least bring your enemies to * with you."

Wake up the person in the dream with one word, hatred is always the most effective way forward, Mandelfish's words seem to make Tiger understand something.

「No, no, the Celestial Dragon has powerful guards, and even if he can be killed, the murloc kills the Celestial Dragon...then the conflict between the races is really over...」

"So why don't you think any further? It's a felony to kill a Draco, not to make the group disappear."

Later, when the people outside held a banquet, Mandelfish told Tiger about Kaido's "subversive ideas" and the teachings of Arceus for one night. According to Tiger's feedback, he seemed to be "baptized" successfully. "Yes."

At least he has seen life in Tiger.

「You are right, it would be a pity to die like this, I also want to see how the children live under the real sunshine...」

With a new goal, Tiger also walked out of it, opened the door and joined the banquet outside. Hearing the carnival of the murlocs outside, Mandelfisch couldn't help but took out a small book, which was beautifully written. The wrist icon is engraved on the cover.

「Sister Misu organized this thing...it's quite useful.」

Chapter 569: Tiger's "Death"

The influence of religious thoughts is still great, especially when some people's beliefs collapse or their spirits collapse, a "seemingly reasonable" thing will become his life-saving straw.

When the other party thinks that this idea is their own pursuit, then the spread of religion will become particularly rapid, especially in barren places, a bag of grain can be enough to change people's beliefs, although that belief is not sincere, and Many people just eat for food.

But as time goes by, someone in the huge base will always change.

The current situation is particularly special, Tiger seems to have undergone some changes, he has more ideas than sailing aimlessly.

「Brother, are you okay?」

Watching Tiger come out of it, Aaron's mood obviously increased a lot.

「Well, it's all right now, I'm feeling better now.」

Because of Tiger's appearance, the celebration on the boat lasted for another day. Many murlocs with big hearts were already drunk, but Tiger found Jinbei.

"Jinbei."

「I still remember the navy, I'm afraid the world government has already targeted me, if I just go back to Fishman Island, it will be a trouble for the Dragon Palace Kingdom.

If I continue to lead you, it will also be a threat to you. For the world government, only my death is the best result. "

「Wait! Brother Tai, you won't do anything stupid?!」

Hearing Tiger say this to himself like a last word, Jinbe suddenly had a bad feeling.

"You misunderstood Jinbei, only you know my life and death, so I need the news from the outside world that I am dead, I need you to take other people to attack a group of navy, and pass the news to the navy that I lost too much blood and died . "

"But Brother Tai, what will happen to Murloc Island in that case? You should have heard the reason why they came to rescue you..."

「I know, we have already discussed it. This is a step for the world government. What they care about most is the face. If I don't die once, then they will never be able to explain.

On Murloc Island, as long as I show up, the people can believe that I am not dead, so there will be no problem. "

「But if word gets back to the World Government...」

"Then it doesn't matter, their actions have been successful, and I'm dead. As long as they don't show off in the future, they won't continue to waste energy on a "dead person". "

All the world government needs is a result, and after they send out the news of Tiger's death, even if they find out that Tiger is still alive, they will not go to war again, because that would be slapping themselves in the face.

「So Jinpei, the Sun Pirates will be handed over to you from now on.」

「Then if you don't go back to Fishman Island, where are you going, brother Tai?」

"I heard that there are many murlocs living in the land of Mandelfisch. I'll go there first and have a look. If I have a chance... let's go to the new world."

Jinbe thought that Tiger was going to enter a more dangerous sea area, but the new world he talked about was completely different from the new world that Jinbe understood.

Afterwards, the Sun Pirates launched their own "revenge action" against the navy under the leadership of Jinbei. As they sank several warships, the news of Tiger's death was reported in the newspapers.

And Polusalino has also completed his task, but the casualties are a bit heavy.

After being nagged by Warring States for an hour, Polusalino came to the Navy's hospital to visit his injured men.

Summarize today's Stolberg in one sentence, not dead but plastic surgery.

"Hmmm... Stolberg, it might be time for you to change your hairstyle."

At this time, Stoloberg was short for no reason, because his straight head was bent backward like a nightcap at this time, and the green pepper back then had a deep understanding of this pain.

"Lieutenant General Polusalino, you are joking..."

「Can't you recover your brain?」

「The doctor said that the bending range is just

It's oppressing key nerves, and maintaining this state is the best state. "

"Get well soon, by the way, according to the murloc's feedback, Tiger should be dead, and the credit is still on you."

After exchanging a few words of pleasantries, Polusalino left here, and Stoloberg obtained a new military merit at the cost of his head being knocked out, and there was an additional general with a tilted head in the navy. And Mandelfish and the others have just arrived near Fishman Island.

When the boat was coated, the murlocs returned to Murloc Island ahead of schedule. They didn't have a hard demand for coating, but Aaron obviously had a big opinion on Tiger's suspended animation.

"Brother, there is no need to do this, is this afraid of the navy?"

"Aaron, after sailing for so many years, haven't you felt the gap in strength? Let go of your arrogance, the world is bigger than you think, and this incident also proves the navy's own force. It doesn't make much sense to drag the entire Murloc Island into the abyss.

But I have to praise you for one thing. "

「Huh? Did I do something?」

「At least your title is Navy now, not human.」

Reducing the scope from the entire group to fixing a few enemies is already a rare improvement for Aaron.

"By the way, Aaron, follow me out to have a look."

「Okay! Brother, I want to follow you more than follow Jinbe-san.」

He thought it was Tiger's high regard for him, but in fact, it was entirely because Tiger was worried that Shiping would not be able to control Aaron, which would cause him to do something out of the ordinary, so he decided to take Aaron away together.

Even if Tiger's words are completely contrary to Aaron's ideas, Aaron will still choose to refer to one or two, and only Tiger can do this in the entire Murloc Island.

Then they returned to Murloc Island. The murlocs who heard the news of Tiger's death were very sad, but Tiger appeared in front of them again alive.

Tiger told the other murlocs not to make too much publicity on the grounds that he wanted to continue to explore, so he feigned death, and just knew it from the bottom of his heart.

Now that the news of his death has spread, as long as he doesn't go to the naval base to dance, even if the news spreads, it will be an assassination operation by a small group of troops at most.

After staying in Murloc Island for two days, Tiger took a few murlocs and followed Mandelfish and left here. Jinbe continued to travel after the new ship was built, but Mandelfish felt a little strange. It seems that there are more and more strange people in the private domain.

And in the sea area of the great route, there is still the red Gyarados. At this time, it is taking its own group to Wano Country. The reason why it went there ahead of time is because of the stone slab wrapped around its body at this time.

Chapter 570: Proof of the King

At the beginning, the purpose of making King Carp expand to the outside world was to increase his eyeliner.

The tenacious vitality and strong adaptability of the carp kings also allowed them to gain a foothold in the sea quickly, but there has been no news for several years.

Especially with the passage of time, some carp kings from all over the world found it dangerous to cross the windless zone, and instead, like those pirates, began to swim upstream along the current of the Upside Down Mountain.

This kind of thing happens about three days a year, and these three days are also the days of death for newcomers. If you don't know the situation of the sea, people who cross the reverse mountain in these few days will most likely be blocked by densely packed king carp Live on the way.

If they try to attack, they will be attacked by the Gyarados, which can be called the greatest ordeal for newcomers.

A carp king is not scary, but these carp kings have gradually developed a sense of community like the weak carp due to the environment of the great route.

Such a group of carp kings led by Gyarados is terrifying.

The stone slabs of that year were scattered all over the world, from the empty island to the deep sea. They may exist in all places. Its position has been very complicated for hundreds of years.

Originally, this Gyarados could not find its existence, but it led other Gyarados in the deep sea to beat up a sea king. A coral reef shattered.

Then there was such a strange stone inside. Unlike those broken coral reefs, this stone slab looked extremely neat. It was the gene carved in the bones of the tyrannosaurs, and it was their mission to discover it.

So this Gyarados rolled up the slate and started its new pilgrimage, and now their pilgrimage is becoming more and more safe, because the creatures in the sea have recognized the status of Gyarados.

Those carp kings are weak and have clogged teeth. If it is not for helping digest other food, most sea kings will not touch them, but those "sea beasts" that lead carp kings are very dangerous.

Although they are average in size, they have unique attack methods. Ordinary sea beasts will take the initiative to stay away from Gyarados, and even Neptunes are unwilling to provoke them. Gyarados have raised their status in the marine life chain.

Across the dangerous sea area, the red Gyarados gradually reached the "Holy Sea" of Wano Country. This is the Gyarados' knowledge of the nearby sea area. As long as it reaches the dangerous sea area, it will also reach its own sacred area. , but this time it entered Wano Country in a very special way.

When I just saw the outer barriers of Wano Country, the sea water around it changed, a water dragon rose into the sky, and a brand new passage appeared in front of it.

It felt the familiar atmosphere in the water channel, and immediately swam along this waterway to Wano Country.

This passage is naturally created by Arceus. When the stone slab appears within this distance, its breath has naturally been sensed. He can directly retrieve the slate, but he has to see who brought the slate back.

「Father, what happened?」

At this time, Arceus' expression was full of joy. You must know that such intense emotional fluctuations rarely appeared on Arceus' face, and even Yamato who was beside him became curious.

"Of course something good has happened, let's go, come with me to see this "big hero". "

...

The giant Gyarados living near Wano Country also looked at the younger generation above. From the eyes of creatures of other races, the Gyarados' expression was only "vicious", but they of the same race saw more.

They felt full of "screaming" emotions from that junior, but they could also understand why it was so slapstick, because it had won the honor bestowed by Arceus.

On the shore of Ghost Island, the red Gyarados placed the stone slab on the shore, roaring slightly excitedly.

" Well, I see, this is exactly what I want. "

"Roar!"

"Don't get excited, you are a good girl, let me think about what to give you."

「Roar~」

「Don't do it, this is what you deserve

You are the first time in many years to complete this task little guy. "

「Wait, adoptive father, it, no, she is a girl??」

Listening to Arceus' address, Yamato felt something was wrong, because Arceus called this Gyarados a girl.

With the power of Changpan, she can communicate with Pokémon, so she can understand what Gyarados is saying to Arceus, and she can also hear the voices of different Pokémon, but she really didn't expect this result.

The other Pokémon around her have a much softer voice than Gyarados.

"This is a racial characteristic. The voice of the tyrannosaurus is relatively thick. Look at her beard. The beard color of a male tyrannosaurus is the same as his own scales, but the beard of a female tyrannosaurus is white no matter what color it is. "

Talked to Yamato about how to distinguish the gender of Gyarados, and then the abilities of the rest of the slabs began to work, and a small crown appeared in the hands of Arceus energy.

「From now on, you are the queen of all Gyarados. This is your proof. With it, you can command all Gyarados in the sea.」

A crown of rock inlaid with jewel-like objects appeared on top of her head.

That is not an ordinary crown, but the King's Evidence inlaid with the Gyarados Mega Stone.

Mega stones are naturally the basis for ordinary Pokémon to evolve into Mega. Unlike capable people, except for a very small number of powerful Pokémon that can achieve evolution without relying on external forces.

Most Pokémon need this external force, but she doesn't need to find a trainer for this Mega Stone created by Arceus.

The Evidence of Kings is an item required for the special evolution of some Pokémon. Carrying it can also make one's attacks have special effects.

But now, as the name suggests, it's proof of her identity as Queen of the Gyarados.

Different tyrannosaurus groups naturally have their own kings, but they establish their status through strength competition. She is different at this time. With this, she is the legitimate king of the group, and her status is completely unshakable.

This special King's Certificate is the inheritance certificate of her royal family.

Then the King's Evidence was integrated into the crown-shaped symbol above her head, and it continuously sent special power into her body.

"My lord, I want a name, the name you give me."

Although the Gyarados's big mouth couldn't be closed, she clearly expressed herself in human language at this time.

「Name... Wait for me to think about it. You and your group will stay here for a while, and I will prepare something else for you.」
