Chapter 571 Gyarados Queen, a brand new slate

Many things in the warehouse of the Beast Pirates are about to fall to ashes, for example, there is no suitable eater for a certain human fruit.

Human fruit-Phantom Beast-Day Entrance Form, there are incomplete records of its abilities in the illustrated book, but as a Phantom Beast, theoretically it must have special abilities. The Great Buddha form of the Warring States Period also has the ability of golden body and shock wave, which is unreasonable Dao Dao can't do anything.

So this fruit has been stranded in the warehouse. Gyarados is an aquatic species. Eating a devil fruit is not a good thing for her, after all, it means sinking to the bottom.

But she is the first Pokémon to bring back the stone slab from the deep sea. Even if she encourages other people's enthusiasm, she will be rewarded heavily. The certificate of king and language ability are just one of them, and the fruit of great enlightenment is also counted by him. inside.

Compared to humans, human fruit is more suitable for suitable animals to eat.

As for the fear of water, he also has to work overtime.

After eliminating the side effects of Dakou Zhenshen last time, he no longer wanted to do that troublesome work, but the appearance of the stone slab made him decide to make an exception.

Everyone who brought back the slate got what he gave. If you insist on ranking, Sasaki got the worst, but this is the result of him only worshipping Kaido at the beginning.

He has offended almost all the senior cadres except Kaido, but he still has the ability to integrate into the ranks of cadres. If he had paid more attention at the beginning, the things he got might have been better.

"Rotom, take out that human fruit."

"Yes, Lotor, find what you want immediately."

Under Rotom's intelligent processing system, the fruit was quickly sent to Arceus. In the eyes of ordinary people, it was just a devil fruit, but to Arceus, this was a trouble.

Although there is experience in eliminating the side effects of Dakou True God, that experience is not very useful in Dadao Fruit, because no devil fruit is exactly the same, which leads to their completely different structures.

Although the transformation experience of Arceus is beneficial, there is no way to copy it completely.

But it is not without progress. His number of stone slabs is now more, which makes his strength more comprehensive, and it is much faster to do this meticulous manual work than before.

As for the properties of the slate, apart from Arceus himself, Quinn should be the person who likes this slate the most, because it represents a highly poisonous slate with poisonous properties. With this slate, Arceus can create antibodies to any toxin, It can also freely generate terrible poison.

For Quinn, who has not even studied the stinky mud body fluid, this means that his workload has increased again, but this increase also means that he will be in a state of pain and happiness, after all, this is his favorite. s things.

Arceus is preparing new things for the Gyarados, and the group she led also stayed in the inner sea of Ghost Island, but her current position has become very detached.

It stands to reason that these Gyarados living near Wano Country are the first generation elders, but their task is to guard the nearby sea area, and they have no interest in going out.

It is their privilege to be around Arceus every day, but today, one of their descendants has become the king of the group.

The imbalance is not enough, because that is the king appointed by Arceus, who has the certificate of king given by Arceus. Unless she betrays Arceus, no Gyarados will disobey her.

It's just that those tyrannosaurs have not entered the inner sea now, and their descendants, and after an unknown number of generations, have become the queen of the group, they are still a bit embarrassed to face each other.

Now only Yamato brings his own Yukira and Gyarados on the coast every day to talk about various deep-sea things.

"Really, is the depths of the sea so interesting?"

"Interesting. Maybe, I don't know if that's interesting, but there are often interesting things to be found in the deep sea abysses."

Gyarados twitched its tail while talking, and brought the sea water to the shore, because Yukira was eating sand, and for it, the sand stirring the sea water was not essentially different from sesame paste.

Yamato chatted with Gyarados for a long time, and it was not until Yukira ate a large piece of sand on the shore that he left here with it.

"I'll chat with you in a few days, it's time for training again."

Watching Yamato leave, Gyarados dived into the sea again, waiting for Arceus' return.

And this wait lasts for 20 days. During these 20 days, someone will send her specific food every day, all of which are Baofen made according to the taste of Gyarados. There are many Gyarados living in Wano. The taste has long been figured out by the people of Beasts.

Yamato also appeared here again, but with a bandage on his head.

And Gyarados finally waited for Arceus who came back with that fruit.

"My lord."

"Nereus, this will be your name from now on."

"Nereus thank you for the name."

At this time, Nereus's eyes were full of smiles, and there was a touch of tenderness on his fierce face.

"There is also this, also for you."

Said that Arceus threw the big enlightenment fruit he had processed into her mouth, and the huge mouth made the devil fruit slide in directly, and after that, she also noticed the change of the fruit.

The body of the tyrannosaurus twisted and re-expanded, and the scales formed brand new clothes. It has long white hair, but the two locks in front of the ears are red. The overall clothes are red, and the skin is fair. The iconic crown is still on the top of the head. It is also the same object as the dorsal fin of the tyrannosaur.

At this time, she has become a female sea giant. This is her human form, or the form of the great enlightenment. Because she is female, the manifestation of the fruit of the great enlightenment on her body is completely different, but it still retains the The original bulky size.

Because the prototype of the fruit is the monster of Wano country, it also inherits part of the characteristics of the banshee.

And her voice has also changed, it is no longer the original rough and hoarse voice, although it is slightly neutral and cold, but there is no misunderstanding, looking at her hands, she seems not very familiar with the new body .

"Where do you want to stay in the future? You can choose this yourself."

"I'll continue to look for things for you, there are still many places in the vast sea that I haven't been to. I will work harder."

"Then I'll leave it to you, but don't be too reckless, everything will be fine as usual. Those islands were our territory before. You can go there to ask for help when you need it. Your crown is your token."

Arceus has an energy hand composed of slate energy, so you don't need to mention it every time.

Chapter 572 The Unicorn Fairy of the Bug Catchers

The iconic fin on top of her head has changed a lot, not only is it inlaid with her Mega stone, but that position happens to be the center of the Cosmic Arm icon.

This symbol means Arceus' confidant, and it is more difficult to obtain than Kaido's flag.

People outside are either the Pirate Flag of Beasts or the Commercial Flag of Beasts Fruits. It can be said that there are very few people who can use the symbol of the Thousand Universe Wrist alone.

After getting familiar with her own body, Nereus left here with the group and returned to the vast sea area. For her who has been living as a tyrannosaurus, the human body is not so easy.

With her departure, the local Gyarados of Wano Country breathed a sigh of relief.

Nereus is even the great-granddaughter of some of them according to their seniority. The younger generation is too capable and their status is too high, so it is difficult for them to always get along with each other.

And the success of Nereus also proves one thing, that is, it is meaningful to expand the number of Pokémon. Although it took several years for the Gyarados to find such a piece, it means that this road works.

There are enough Gyarados and Carp Kings in the ocean, and Pokémon such as Lapras and Good and Bad Star also appeared in the nearby ocean, but they couldn't land on land after all.

The Big Rock Snakes are still digging burrows under the Red Earth Continent. After so many years, their number has increased, but the Big Rock Snakes cannot dig to other islands. The King Carp can swim in the sea, but cannot land on land.

Because the search had been fruitless before, he didn't mean to expand the number of Pokémon, but now he can.

If you want to expand rapidly, flying is a necessary ability. Only in this way can you reach various islands. You can't be Pokémon that are mainly weird and weak in frontal combat power like Shucklecock Mian and Wind Fairy.

Although there are no sea kings on the island, there are a large number of exotic beasts. Ancient creatures such as dinosaurs are the most basic things.

They need to have the same tenacious vitality and adaptability as the carp king, and they need to have a certain combat effectiveness. It is best not to look too strange, and it is better to be closer to the native species.

For example, Gyarados, Gyarados is a naturally evolved creature in most of the current cognition, and it is a modified creature in the eyes of a few people who know the inside story. No one has guessed that they were created out of thin air.

Since no local scholars have seen the evolution of carp kings, their ethnic relationship is currently considered to be a peculiar symbiotic relationship.

Arceus has not planned to make this unstable world full of different types of Pokémon, but sporadic appearance of some groups to improve the environment a little bit.

Vitality is tenacious, it can fly, and its appearance does not attract too many people's attention. Among many options, insect-type Pokémon have gradually become the targets of choice.

"Well, just Heracross, and there are quite a few large unicorns on those insect islands."

Heracross, a unicorn Pokémon, has no difference in appearance from a unicorn. At most, it is regarded as a subspecies of a unicorn. Their appearance can be easily integrated into the local world.

Except for larvae, Bug-type Pokémon are very tenacious in their vitality, and there is no need to worry about force.

Heracross's whole body is covered with skin as hard as iron, which allows it to ignore most of the enemies. As for the stronger ones, most people will not have trouble with a unicorn.

Like unicorns, Heracross has a big horn on its forehead, which is their main weapon and a way of distinguishing gender. The big horn of male Heracross is no different from that of unicorns, while the horn of female Heracross The long horns are heart-shaped.

Arceus hopes that the Pokémon he creates can be integrated into the ecology instead of destroying the ecology. This is one of the reasons for choosing Heracross.

They are not ferocious Pokémon. As social Pokémon, they gather in the forest most of the time in search of sweet sap, and only attack enemies when they are robbed of sap and honey, mainly using their own The horn knocks the enemy over.

The huge impact angle combined with its own strange force is enough to uproot a big tree. Like most insects, Heracross has a high load, and it can easily lift things 100 times heavier than its own weight.

The insect wings on the back give them the ability to fly. Although Heracross is not particularly good at flying, it is not difficult to develop to the whole world through the monsoon, and the slow diffusion process allows them to search islands carefully.

Heracross is just the first step. If they successfully stop on various islands, more Pokémon will appear later. As for the winter islands that are not suitable for them to live in, those islands can be searched later.

It's just that Arceus didn't create Heracross immediately. Based on the principle of saving effort, it is of course more convenient to grab a batch of local unicorns for transformation. season of emergence.

According to the demand of Arceus, a brand new activity was soon launched in Wano - to capture the unicorn.

The unicorn is also loved by many people in the world of pirates. It is a magical creature that can make a rubber man entangle whether it is important for the One Piece or the unicorn. Capturing the unicorn is also one of the fun for the children of Wano country. one.

This event is not mandatory, but an entertainment event. In the name of beasts, they held a big competition in Wano Country, and the competition was to see who caught the bigger and stronger unicorn.

The reward is not much, only one gold, but for children, this is a windfall, so a large number of young insect catchers flocked to the mountains and forests of Wano Country, looking for the strongest unicorn in their eyes.

There is no specific age limit for this event, but most of the participants are seven or eight-year-old children. They have a completely different life this summer. Even schools in Wano Country have organized a similar event.

It is precisely because there is no age limit for participating in the activity, so there are some people who are still young at heart, such as Yamato who is comparing the unicorn fairy he caught with other people.

"Your one is so big, where did you catch it?"

"It's in the mountains of Jiuli."

Looking at the unicorns caught by others, she suddenly felt that the one she picked was a little ordinary.

"Spider, this is only yours."

Throwing the jar in his hand to Speed behind him, Yamato picked up his own insect net.

"Master Ghost Ji, what do you want?"

"I'm going to catch a bigger one, how can I lose to these ordinary little guys."

At this time, the strange desire to win in her heart awakened.

Chapter 573: Dragon Traitor

「Uncle Quinn, are you there?!」

Outside Quinn's laboratory, Yamato knocked on the door. Her authority in Wano Country is indeed very high, but she still cannot enter some important places like Quinn's laboratory.

Those places store a lot of secrets, most of the time it's pretty tidy sometimes.

But when they are working on certain topics, the laboratories of Quinn and Assier will also become messy. Although they are chaotic, they can find what they need in the chaotic materials. If they clean up for them rashly, Instead, they will not find what they want.

So in the laboratory they have extremely high self-confidence.

Not long after, the electronic door of the laboratory was opened, and Quinn threw Yamato a pair of boots.

"what is this?"

「The boots part of the battle suit you want, try to see if it fits first.」

Most of the functions of Germa's battle suit are relatively tasteless to Yamato. In Quinn's view, it is the flying boots that made Yamato interested, so he worked overtime to figure out this part.

It is different from the one made by Gaji. It incorporates the ingredients of Skyshima shells, and at the same time, the energy drive device he made has almost the same effect as the one made by Gaji, but the operation difficulty is a bit high.

The biggest possibility for ordinary people to use this kind of boots is to make themselves bloody. They can't control the power of this kind of boots at all, and most people who can control it have their own flying methods. It can be said that it is very tasteless. Useful for a small number of people.

But the purpose of creating this thing is to make toys for Yamato, and Quinn has never considered the issue of mass production.

"I integrated the wind shells and other things of the sky island into it. If you just want to fly, it is enough to store the wind power, but you have to use another function method for other functions. I will improve it in detail. Think it's not perfect yet. "

The translation means that I haven't finished it yet, you have to wait for me for a few more days, but now Yamato is not very interested in battle suits.

" I didn't come here for this, Uncle Quinn, do you have anything here to trap unicorns? I'm going to catch the biggest unicorn. "

「...Miss Yamato, do you think I am a treasure house?」

Listening to what Yamato needed, Quinn didn't know what to say. Although he was in charge of logistics, he shouldn't ask him for everything.

「Then do you have any?」

"Yes, I'll get it for you right now."

Speaking of which, Quinn closed the door of the laboratory. Of course, he didn't have this thing ready-made. If Yamato needed insecticides, he could find hundreds of them in minutes. That competition is for live unicorns, which requires secondary processing.

He has a lot of toxins in his hands, not all of which have a pungent smell, and some of them even lure other creatures so that he can function better.

His banana plantation also has similar pesticides for dealing with pests. He is now separating the attractant part, which should theoretically be able to attract unicorns.

The use of bait is not against the rules. Others also use various methods to lure the unicorn, but the effect is much worse than Quinn's bait. In the case of the organizer's pro-daughter taking part in the competition, ordinary people It is almost impossible to defeat her.

But in the end, Yamato just took away the ranking, and didn't start with the bonus, which made the other players balance a lot. Compared with the empty ranking and the heavy gold coins, they still prefer the latter.

The selected unicorns were sent to Arceus, and then Heracross came out one by one, and they were divided into several groups and boarded the ships of beasts, and they were sent to different sea areas.

Heracross itself can fly out by itself, just to allow them to go to different islands and expand their search area. At the same time, a large number of empty island clouds were also cut into pieces and taken to Ghost Island.

Ordinary clouds are just condensations of water vapor, but Sky Island clouds are different. These are special entities, piled up in the ghost island room

The sky island clouds in even blocked some passages.

「Father, why did you get so many clouds down?」

Turning over a large group of clouds, Yamato looked puzzled at the empty island clouds piled up everywhere.

「The millennium dragons are too busy these days, let's add a little helper to them.」

The Millennium Dragon not only lived a long time, but also hatched for a very long time. The number of groups today has hardly changed compared with that of the past, but the sky island domain of beasts has been increasing.

Originally, O'Hara's scholars did not have the authority to come down, but now not only can they freely enter and exit Wano Country, some people from Wano Country will also come to the experimental field on Sky Island to cultivate.

In recent years, there has even been an additional piece of empty island above. This piece is used as a shellfish breeding field on the empty island. Those diverse shellfish can be used as strategic resources. Although some rare shellfish are difficult to breed, common shellfish Artificial breeding has already begun.

The nearest empty islands are two kilometers away from the ground. It is impossible for ordinary farmers to climb up. Although the people who farm there will not leave every day, they will live on it most of the time, but only relying on the transportation capacity of the Millennium Dragon. Not enough.

These sky island clouds are the new objects of transformation.

「Jiujiu?」

At this time, a blue ball suddenly emerged from the cloud around Arceus, and then fell on top of Yamato's head like a hat.

"Is this... a bird?"

Take off the thing above the head, and a blue bird with clouds as wings appeared in Yamato's sight.

"They are green birds, a very cute little guy." Based on the sky island clouds, the green birds are the first bird Pokémon to appear in Wano country, but not only In this way, this little dumpling can't bring people in and out of the empty island.

Soon those large sky island clouds also changed, with wingspans ranging from a few meters to more than ten meters. Birds that were similar to blue cotton birds, but with fluffier wings and longer tails appeared here.

They are the evolution of Qingmianniao, Tanabata blue bird, if it is said that Qingmianniao has wings of clouds, then Qixi blue bird is really a cloud.

They are the new air transport forces, and their wide backs are sufficient to meet the capacity needs of Beast Sky Island today.

「Father, did Xiaotuanzi evolve into this kind of big bird?」

"Yes, but you can call them "dragons" if you like. "

Different from the blue cotton bird, these large Tanabata blue birds are not transformed from ordinary stone slabs, but the result of the transformation of dragon stone slabs, and they are also well-known "traitors" in the dragon family.

Chapter 574: I admit that I have a gamble

The evolved Tanabata blue birds will have the attributes of a dragon. Although their appearance has nothing to do with any dragon, this is not why they are called "traitors".

Mega-evolved Tanabata blue bird has fairy attributes. As the mortal enemy of the dragon family, it has almost become an alternative in the dragon family, and finally won the title of "traitor".

Mali Luli won the title of dragon slaying warrior only after the fairy attribute was discovered. She has killed countless dragons under her command, which shows how much the dragon family hates this attribute.

The wall of Arceus' room opened with the sound of gears turning, and Tanabata blue birds of different sizes also flew to the empty island one after another. The largest one is equivalent to a factory shuttle bus, regularly taking farmers home to visit relatives, and the small Tanabata Jade Bird is for personal use under special circumstances.

As for the appearance of Qingmian Birds just to enrich the group and help some insomniac groups at the same time, they are also good at singing.

The blue cotton bird held by Yamato was very happy at first, but after a while, it struggled to escape Yamato's hand and flew directly into the sea outside as if it had seen something terrifying.

Of course the green bird that just appeared didn't have the strength to break free from Yamato. Yamato let it go because he saw it was uncomfortable, but it was the first time she was "disgusted" by a Pokémon.

「Father, does it hate me so much?」

「It doesn't hate you, it just has a cleanliness.」

Qingmianiao pays great attention to its own hygiene. The most intolerable thing is that the cloud-like wings are stained with stains, while Yamato's hands are full of dust. It didn't pay attention at first, but after discovering it, its heart collapsed .

" is not very dirty, Yukira has never disliked it. "

Looked at herself, she didn't do anything recently, she just caught a unicorn in the mountains for two days, and then fought with Kaido.

With the growth of age and strength, Kaido has also changed the way of training her. In the case of maintaining physical training for several hours a day, Kaido will not train her all the time, but arrange a battle every few days.

Sometimes it is himself, sometimes it is the cadres under his command. Now Yamato already needs to seek a breakthrough from the battle in order to play a better training role.

Among the Pokémon around her, different Pokémon also have different attitudes. Lucky egg will urge her to take a bath, and the big milk pot will prepare milk. Diancie usually does not interfere with her, but neither Excessive intimacy with her covered in dust.

After the training, only Yukira would like her more. To Yukira, there is no difference between hands full of dirt and powdered sugar, and it will not refuse the master's feeding behavior.

" Isn't this dirty? Yamato, you should come with me and wash it well. "

Maria appeared here with some documents, which were reports on some internal conditions in the Flower City. She was also brought back when she returned, and she just heard what Yamato said.

As the first two partners that Yamato met, they are very familiar and have a relatively close relationship, but now Yamato always finds it strange to get along because Maria is too big.

She is older than Yamato and Jack, and now she is also eight meters tall. It is not surprising that Jack and Maria get along, but it is a little different for Yamato.

Although there was a difference in height at the beginning, the difference was not too great. Now Jack and Maria have become little giants, but she, who is still within the range of normal human beings, has become a different kind.

「Master Arceus, then I will take Yamato to the bathroom first.」

"Go."

"Yes."

Putting down the document in her hand, Maria forced Yamato to go out, or instead of pulling it out, she took it out. Although Maria can't beat Yamato now, she occupies an absolute position in the normal relationship. body shape advantage.

A few days later, Quinn's toy was completed in a hurry, and Yamato got a set of her battle suit, but it was very different from Germa's battle suit.

Although Quinn also has some research on the ability of the bloodline factor, he is not a person who specializes in this area after all.

Hega

Compared with the battle suit made by Zhizhi, although this battle suit retains the ability to fly, it does not incorporate the energy of other bloodline factors.

This is the result of his overnight rush work. Although the special defense power of Germa's battle suit is retained, other aspects have been reduced.

But Yamato didn't care about such details. Quinn was right, what Yamato cared about was only the flying boots, and she didn't care about the abilities of other bloodline factors at all.

「Yamato-san, can we let go of that incident at the beginning?」

「Okay, but Uncle Quinn, what is this thing in this position?」

Yamato pointed to the belt-like object at the waist. The waist of the pure white combat uniform was obviously much more bloated than Germa's combat uniform.

"This is the energy core of the battle suit. What is stored in it is the principle that this battle suit can be used as a shield. With this, it can be driven even when the physical strength is insufficient. Although it cannot defend against too strong attacks, it is normal. It can't be hurt by a knife or a gun."

"That is to say, it's okay for others to wear this clothes, right?"

"In theory, this is the case, but if other people wear it, it will be ordinary clothes after the energy is exhausted. This energy is one-time, so the energy core must be replaced at that time."

「Hmm... I always feel that it's not as good as Germa's clothes, Uncle Quinn, can't this clothes transform directly like in the comics?」

「I haven't researched this... that technology, but Ms. Yamato, aren't you satisfied with this?」

" can still be used, but it can't transform directly like that. Uncle Quinn, I believe you can make a better one in the future, right, you will never be inferior to Vinsmoke Gage. "

It is a very obvious aggressive method, but it is impossible for him to admit that he is not as good as Gage after killing Quinn, so he obediently agreed to Yamato's request, and looked up at the empty island in the sky. He may have to go back to the library. Learn more.

But this time Yamato didn't say when he wanted it, and the previous grievances were almost cleared, so Quinn planned to touch the fish for a while before talking about other things. Novelusb.com

People in Wano Country are accepting new things faster and faster. Those high-altitude farmers quickly get used to the existence of Tanabata blue birds, and they will also fly freely in the sea near Wano Country.

Because they are transformed from island clouds, they can even lie on the clouds and rest for a while when they are tired.

On this day, a blue cotton bird was flying around Wano Country as usual.

After seeing a pirate ship with the flag of beasts, it landed directly on it without any scruples. This strange blue and white cloud also attracted the attention of people on board, such as Jack who just returned here.

Chapter 575: Jack's "Elephant Soldiers"

After saving Tiger's life, the missions of Jack and Mandelfish ended. Mandelfish still had his own garrison mission, but Jack was different, so he returned to Wano Country alone with the supply ship.

Even murlocs don't swim in the sea all the time. They are an amphibious subhuman race. Swimming is the same concept as walking and running for them. They don't choose to use their legs to move when they can take a boat.

"Master Jack, a strange bird landed on the boat."

「I saw it. It must be a new life created by Lord Arceus. Don't disturb it.」

There is a 99% chance that Arceus created unknown life near Wano Country. Most of the members of Beasts have long been used to it. Cows with three tails and sheep that can discharge electricity are the most common creatures. Even stones in Arzes Everything in the hands of Zeus can become a new life.

Moreover, Jack also has a 100% method to determine whether it is a strange bird or a Pokémon, that is, can Milk Fairy understand the other party's words, as long as it can communicate with Milk Fairy normally, it must be a new Pokémon.

Currently, his milk fairy is not only talking with the green bird, but also gave it cream. It seems that the milk fairy quite likes this little bird, which leads to Jack's first impression of it is also very good.

With this resting green bird, Jack followed the merchant ship from the submerged port to the Wano country, but just after leaving the submerged port, the green cotton bird flew back to the sky island, although he couldn't understand the words of Frost Milk Fairy The exact meaning of the text, but Jack can feel that they seem to agree on something.

This is the friendship between Pokémon. Sometimes all you need to make friends is a look. Except for those races that are naturally hostile, most Pokémon are easy to get along with.

However, individual differences always exist, and even gentle auspicious eggs will give birth to some violent elements.

"Master Kaido, Lord Arceus, I'm back, Fisher Tiger's mission has been completed, he should be with Brother Mandelfish now."

The task summary was sent by Mandelfisch long ago, and Jack just repeated some details.

"Good job, Jack, let me make sure some things, so don't break the wall."

Jack's forehead suddenly felt a sense of imminent death crisis, and his instinct prompted him to become capable, and crossed his hands in front of him. The next moment, Kaido's eight fists waved towards him.

The tall body is meaningless. Although he struggled to stabilize his figure, Jack still couldn't help backing up. His distance was getting closer and closer to the wall, but he stopped at the last moment.

Although the wall was not damaged, two deep grooves were left on the floor, and Jack became profusely sweating. Although Kaido didn't use all his strength and attacked suddenly, it was useless to forcefully catch the blow He has a lot of strength.

「Hey lol, very good Jack, you are qualified, you already have the ability to be independent, this is something for you.」

Waving his hands, two devil fruits were thrown in front of Jack.

「Master Kaido, this is...」

"The normal form of the elephant fruit and the mammoth form of the elephant fruit. Don't you like elephants? The distribution rights of these two fruits are given to you. They will belong to your future subordinates. You can choose two of them later. Your own cadres."

「Thank you for your trust, Master Kaido.」

The stick just now was Jack's graduation exam, and a newspaper was wrapped around the two devil fruits. It was the news that was sent back to Ghost Island a long time ago, and it was Jack and Mandelfish's new reward.

Kaido II Mandelfish, 360 million Baileys

Bronze Giant Elephant Jack Ninety-Nine Million Baileys

「Only ninety-nine million...」

Looking at his reward order, Jack seemed a little disappointed, he was not very satisfied with the reward.

The sea emperor's subordinates never worried about being offered a reward. They only worried that the reward was too low and they would be looked down upon by their own people.

" Don't be discouraged Jack, ninety-nine million is already a lot. The first time I was offered a reward was only 70 million. "

The time difference is too long, Kaido's seven

Ten million is definitely different from Jack's ninety-nine million, but this is also the comprehensive judgment of the navy. The first reward is the navy and the world government's consideration of the threat of a pirate. There are very few people who can offer a reward of more than 100 million for the first time. .

Yamato was directly offered a reward of 170 million, not only because her opponent was Germa's commander-in-chief, Gaji, but also because of the bonus brought by her status. After all, she was the person whom Quinn called Miss.

Jack is different, his opponent is Stoloberg, and according to the report on the battlefield, Stoloberg's injury is also related to Jinbe's help.

Besides that, Jack didn't have any outstanding performances. He just used his size to bully people. Since he didn't have a strong fighting performance, the 99 million was still due to the blessings of beasts.

The same is true for Mandelfish. Although he fought with Polusalino, he failed to cause any effective damage to Polusalino. In the end, he just chose to escape, so his bounty increase is not very high. big.

「As for my subordinates..Can I choose now?」

「Okay, do you have a favorite candidate?」

"Pegwan and Ulti."

Ulti just incidentally, his main target is Peggy Wan, but Ulti will not let his younger brother go to other people's hands alone, although Peggy Wan often thinks this sister is very noisy, but will respect his opinion.

In order to successfully assign Peggy Wan to his subordinates, Jack chose to join Ulti together.

"They can't. The two of them are candidates for cadres in the future. They are not suitable to be assigned to your subordinates now. This is the list of candidates of the right age. You can choose from here. Someone will come to you in the near future. You can say Tell me what kind of boat you want."

「Yes, I see.」

Verbally admitted, assigning direct subordinates and assigning exclusive ships, which means that Jack will also be an independent member in the future.

In fact, Yamato has reached this level long ago, but Kaido has not further expanded her authority. Although she has given her her own subordinates, she has never had a ship.

Because Kaido has higher requirements for her, she can already go on missions with other cadres, but if she wants to have her own ship, she still needs to put in a lot of effort.

Not being able to get Peggy Wan under his command made Jack a little disappointed, but it didn't affect his next actions. According to the list Kaido gave him, he planned to go to the monastery to see if there were any suitable subordinates for him.

He is not Yamato, Kaido will not design a special infighting for him to choose a candidate, and the rest is all up to him.

Chapter 576 Overinterpretation in Reading Comprehension

"Congratulations Jack, I heard that you have obtained the qualification to travel alone."

"How did you know?"

Jack met Maria on the way. Kaido and Arceus told him the result only a few minutes later. He wanted to know where Maria got the news.

"Didn't you watch Rotom, it has already been announced."

"No, my Rotom ran out to play, and there is no notification."

The essence of Rotom is electronic ghosts, and the appliances they live in are nothing but carriers.

The Rotom living in the local area occasionally take shifts, but the mobile phone Rotom of the cadres is different.

Rotom is also a Pokémon. Different Rotoms have different personalities. They function as an electronic housekeeper and artificial intelligence in the mobile phone, and everyone has their own habits.

Under normal circumstances, they will not replace the Rotom hosted in the mobile phone. Even if they are not there, the device can still be used as usual, but there is a lack of a voice control device.

Jack didn't receive the message because of this.

At the prompt of Maria, Jack took out his Rotom mobile phone, which contained the group news after the announcement, and even saw Yamato's complaint below, but it seemed that he only said half of what he said.

"What is she doing?"

"Yamato? You should be challenging others. Recently, it seems that it's Shaina's sister's turn. She has worked very hard for Kira's custody."

"It's still like this, but what about you? If you work hard, a dedicated ship should be able to do it, right?"

"That's not my interest. I want to stay with Kaido-sama all the time, but there are no weak people around Kaido-sama, so you have to become stronger. How are your subordinates selected?"

"I originally wanted to choose Xiaopei, but Lord Arceus and Kaido didn't agree. The rest. Let's look at Frost Fairy. It can choose whoever it likes. I don't care."

The two of them walked out without saying a word, and not long after they walked out, they saw Yamato falling in front of the two of them.

"It hurts Jack? Maria? Why are you here?"

"Isn't it normal for us to be here, but you, is this some new hobby?"

"No, but I didn't expect Sister Shaina to be so ruthless, can you help me untie this?"

At this time, Yamato was still lying on the ground, but his upper body was firmly bound by a mass of red chains.

"It's strange. My adoptive father told me clearly that I'm not afraid of the sea and rocks, but I can't get this thing out of the way."

Struggling a few times, Yamato found that he had no way to hold the chain, and even felt a sense of powerlessness, which was very similar to the feeling of being bound by sea tower stones described by other capable users.

"Of course you can't figure it out. This is what the Lord Saint Beast bestowed on me, so Miss Yamato, are you admitting defeat?"

"Admit defeat, I admit defeat, really, Sister Shaina, you are more difficult to deal with than Uncle Quinn."

"Master Saint Beast told me to go all out, of course I won't hold back, and I haven't used some abilities yet."

In order to protect Yukira's custody rights, Yamato is still on the way to challenge the big cadres. This time it is Shaina's turn. Under the request of all-out efforts, she directly used the red chain, relying on the characteristics of the chain, Yamato is natural It was quickly defeated.

It is useless for her to have Mega evolution in her hand, because of the special weapon, Shaina is the hardest bone in her challenge.

After Yamato conceded, the Red Lock loosened and returned to Shaina's hands, appearing on her wrist in the form of two bracelets.

"Miss Yamato, why don't you continue to challenge Quinn, I just know a few ways to deal with him specifically, I can teach you if necessary."

"No need, I'll do it myself, and I'll try to find Zeraora after a while."

"Okay, Lord Saint Beast has something to do there, so I'll leave first."

Saying that, Shaina disappeared from the sight of the three, and Yamato joined the link of selecting subordinates with Jack.

"Jack, have you decided how to choose?"

When he was about to arrive at the monastery, Yamato asked Jack the same question, and Jack naturally said the same thing as before, but he remembered another thing.

"By the way, I'm not here for a while, is Sister Missu still in the monastery?"

"She is here, but she seems a little busy recently, what's the matter?"

"Brother Mandelfish has something to discuss with her, and asked me to send her something."

Then Jack took out a very miniature envelope from his pocket, but there was no mark on it.

"what is this?"

"I don't know either. My mission this time is to rescue that Tiger. He didn't seem very happy after being rescued. After that, Mandelfisch talked with him all night. After that, he seemed to be a different person.

He gave it to me before I set off, saying it was more formal. "

If speed is the pursuit, whether it is a phone bug, fax, or Rotom's communication method, Onijima can be reached a long time ago.

But Tiger chose to let Jack deliver the letter for a more formal sense of ceremony.

Adhering to the principle of privacy and confidentiality, he did not open other people's letters privately. After all, the recipient was Misu. What could happen to two people who had never met before.

The contents of the letter are actually Tiger's questions about some teachings, and Mandelfish didn't know how to answer some questions, so he suggested that he ask the author of the teachings, and provided Misu's name, so there is such a thing.

The experiences of the two are actually very similar. Misu converted his beliefs after the country was destroyed and a student died tragically.

And Tiger also accepted the baptism of the teachings at the border of collapse. Because of similar experiences, Tiger had a better understanding of the teachings written by Misu, and even over-interpreted them.

Some of the things described above were indeed done by Arceus, but even Arceus could not think of the explanation for the reason. If it is turned into reading comprehension, then Arceus, who is the "initiator", is likely to get a zero score.

In the church that has been built, Yamato, Jack and Maria found the nuns. Today the church has been completely completed, and the murals, reliefs, statues, etc. have all been decorated.

Both Misu and Shaina are very satisfied with the craftsmanship of Wano Country. In terms of statues, they can be said to be very lifelike.

Yamato even saw the statue of Kaido. Due to the relationship of cooperation, Kaido was naturally written into it by her, and her identity is similar to that of a human agent.

"Mandelfish seems to have found a very loyal believer. Does he really have no plans to become a priest?"

Looking at the contents of the letter, Misu had the urge to poach someone.

Chapter 577 Chameleon and the Returned Robin

For a professional religious person, preaching is very important, and it also depends on talent. Although she has been preaching in Wano for a long time, and this missionary activity is still supported by local forces, but The effect can only be said to be relatively good.

These adopted children are alright. Although there are many devout believers among the others, "fanatics" have not appeared. Mandelfisch has never done this kind of thing before, and he can develop such a devout alien believer in no time. .

Some of the content of those teachings has a deep meaning in her writing, and Tiger is the first person to understand this level without explaining it.

Because of this incident, she thought that Mandelfish should have a talent in this area, and she could vigorously develop it.

"I don't think Brother Mandelfisch should be keen on this matter."

"Why? I think he's very talented."

"Sister Misu, at what age do you plan to retire?"

"Retirement? There is no such thing as a nun's retirement."

"So Brother Mandelfisch won't be interested. After all, his biggest goal is to retire smoothly."

This is the reason why Jack concluded that Mandelfisch would not be interested. The goal of other people going to sea is One Piece, No. 1 in the world and other lofty ideals, but for Mandelfisch, everything is for retirement.

It's just that there are more and more prerequisites for retirement, and even he began to think about how to pave the way for his children.

"That's a pity. I'll talk to him when he comes back from the annual meeting, and this hero of the murlocs seems to understand something that I didn't expect."

Because of the different races, Tiger was thinking about these things from another level, which gave Misu some inspiration, and she found that her vision was too narrow.

In the letter, Tiger also expressed his desire to discuss some issues with her, but because of the reality, he is not sure when he will come here. Although he has not met, Misu has already become interested in this .

As for why we don't use the phone bug to communicate, it's because some words cannot be expressed through the phone bug, and some things can only be discussed clearly in person.

In reality, there are countless people who are submissive, but can strike hard through the screen, which can be called an alternative "social terror".

"Sister Missu, Master Kaido asked me to choose two subordinates."

"The children who are old enough are there. If you want to choose people, go there. They are all loyal enough to the Lord, and they will definitely help the Lord's cause."

Misu has seen Jack's reward order. Before the destruction of Frevans, she thought that all the rewards were villains, but now she thinks she is wrong.

Of course, most of those people are wicked, and some of them are forced to do nothing.

People will believe more in what they see with their own eyes. She saw the ruthless massacre of Frevans by neighboring countries, saw that the world government only withdrew the royal family, and also saw the investigation of platinum and lead by the world government many years ago.

From then on, she no longer believed in the world government, so she didn't feel much about seeing the reward order here.

Especially the reward order of Arceus, in her opinion, it is the "evil"'s fear of his master.

Today's monasteries are part-time missionaries, schools, orphanages and many other occupations. In addition to the adopted orphans, some pirates' heirs also live and grow here, and some pirates' trainees also live here.

There are not many people to choose, there are only more than 20 people in total. I heard that Kaido has appointed new cadres to select his subordinates. They all hope that they will be selected.

Some of the girls here have experienced the selection of Yamato's subordinates last time. They thought they would have a match like last time, but they didn't expect Jack's selection method to be so different.

Milk Fairy doesn't understand those strange things. In the end, a boy who was eating oranges and a girl with candy in her pocket were chosen by Milk Fairy. Milk Fairy liked it more because of the smell of the food, and they succeeded. Stand out from the crowd.

"name."

"Sipps Head." An ordinary boy with short white hair, judging from his muscular lines, his body has been well exercised.

"Golden Rummy." A girl with pink and purple hair, whose name is only one word different from Rummy.

Both of them are in the category of normal human beings. Although their ages are almost the same, they look very small in front of Jack.

"You can follow me from now on, but let me say first, if you are cowardly or make mistakes, I will not show mercy."

He didn't give them the fruit right away, because of the Milk Fairy, he chose these two as his subordinates, but it was not necessary to give the fruit to them, but to show it in front of them as their goal.

Jack's selection process made Yamato feel very boring, but after leaving the monastery, she actually saw Robin outside Baiwu's diving port.

"Robin?! You're back!"

"Well, I have read a lot in the past two years, and this time I just found some very interesting documents, so I will bring them back for everyone to see."

After leaving here, Nicole Robin has been wandering outside for more than two years, and has seen a lot of things. This time, she came back early to visit relatives and friends.

Although I didn't find anything like a slate, the text of the history, some transactions with the Don Quixote family, and the work with Tezolo are all special "merits".

Experiencing this series of things enriched her experience.

"Has your tear-eyed lizard evolved?"

"Yeah, it evolved into a lizard when facing an enemy three months ago. It's cute."

"Probably."

Different from the elegance and coldness of Thousand Faces, the cuteness of the tear-eyed lizard, the chameleon in the middle form looks a bit embarrassing,

The chamois' skin color became gray, its watery eyes no longer appeared, and it also had some dark green skin on its body.

Overall, it looks like a depressed little ruffian, but this image just fits Robin's aesthetics.

"I'll tell you later, I'll discuss something with my mother and Dr. Keluoba first."

Speaking of which, Robin returned to the place where the scholars of Sky Island lived first, and saw Sauro who was like a farmer.

"Sauro, you seem to be doing well."

"Hey hee hee, it's not bad, it's great that you came back safe and sound, let's go to Olivia first, she still misses you a lot during this time."

Said Sauro put down his * and climbed up the vines. There are indeed many Tanabata blue birds here, but Sauro is not within their carrying range. As a giant, Sauro is overweight.

Robin's return has attracted the attention of many people, such as Olivia's relationship, several paleontology researchers' curiosity about chamois, and Dr. Croba's plan to teach Robin some new secrets.

Chapter 578: who wasn't a mean berserker in his youth

" Doctor, this is a fragment I found in a ruin. "

「Is there only this small piece?」

"Well, the others have been eroded and destroyed, and only this one can barely make out some characters, but I'm not sure about many places, so I brought it back for you to see."

In terms of archaeology, Keluba is the real authority. Faced with uncertain historical issues, Robin chose to let more authoritative experts study it.

Keluoba's reputation in the archaeological world is real. Even the five old stars know this name. He has a real talent and knowledge, and he has a high status in the scientific world.

「Where was this found?」

「Under an island, a small lizard fished out from below.」

Little lizard refers to her chameleon. Although she knows the race names of the tear-eyed lizard and the thousand-faced evader, she really doesn't know the shape of the chameleon, so she uses this very simple name to refer to it.

「...Kingdom...It should be something that a certain kingdom wants to leave behind, but they don't have the technology of the text of the history. I don't know what happened in the following years, and it finally became like this.」

She put away the severely eroded piece of sea water and planned to study it later. Then Keluoba also asked about Robin's experiences over the years. Robin spent most of his time with these scholars when he was a child. their half daughter.

Research on literature cannot be carried out in a short while. If the complete historical text is complete, they can directly translate it. If this kind of fragmentation is serious, we must first try to clear out more parts, and then deal with it slowly.

The documents that have been brought back will not run away, but according to Robin's personality, she may continue to sail after a while.

During this period, Robin talked about his travel experience while avoiding the most important, but focused on the exploration of the ruins, omitting the dangers he encountered, but these did not hide the truth from Koloba, who was Olvia who came later. Also noticed something wrong.

"Little Robin, it seems that your experience is not enough, let me teach you something else."

As he said that, Koluoba started warming up directly.

「Doctor, what are you going to do?」

"Teach you some self-defense methods. Compared with the beasts on the island, the danger brought by humans is even greater. You always act alone, so you must have some self-defense measures."

「Doctor, you still...know this?」

Looking at the old Kolobah, Robin couldn't believe what he said.

「What? Look down on me? I was strong when I was young.」

"The doctor didn't lie. When he was young, he was the leader of our expedition team. At that time, two or three pirates were no match for him. In many cases, the doctor led us to resolve the crisis."

Several doctors who were also older talked about what Klobal did when he was young, which also gave Robin a deeper understanding of Klobal.

In the past, she only knew that Koluoba was good at archaeology and had a wealth of knowledge, but she had never heard that he had such outstanding martial arts.

O'Hara's scholars do not have weak people. The archaeology in this world is different from the general archaeology. They often have to face various crises. They cannot do this kind of thing if they don't have enough physique.

But she always thought that Koluoba was studying documents under the protection of other people, but she didn't expect that Koluoba was protecting others.

Reminiscent of the fact that Koluoba was shot in the chest, but he was still able to bear the pain to carry the books, and all this became reasonable again.

"Wait, those things should have been brought out back then, I'll look for them."

When talking about their youth, some doctors also seemed very excited. Although their youth is gone now, they were young once, and they also sweated in the sea, and had their own adventure years.

Soon they found a photo from an old photo album. It was a scene of Koluoba holding a knife in one hand, standing on the bow of a sailboat and riding the wind and waves.

「Robin, when you are away from home, the most important thing you should guard against is the world government. I was arrested many times when I was exploring history, but I haven't touched their bottom line yet.

O'Hara's incident has shown that they are afraid of what happened 800 years ago, so they cannot discover your true purpose.

We are scholars, not fighters. It is the best choice to escape in a crisis, but accidents will always happen. If you are accidentally held hostage, you must have sufficient countermeasures.

For example, what should you do when you are hijacked? Come on, take me as an example. "

Saying that, Croba walked up behind Robin and made a gesture of hijacking.

"Doctor, this is not good, is it? I'm afraid of hurting you."

"It's okay, I'm not that weak. If it wasn't for my identity, I could lead another expedition."

「That offends.」

As he spoke, several arms suddenly appeared on Keluoba, and they directly locked Keluoba with joint movements.

「I will probably do this, doctor, are you relieved?」

「Of course, do whatever you want.」

Not long after, Keluoba sat on a chair and rubbed his waist.

"I was careless, I forgot that you are a person with abilities, but Robin, you are still not safe enough, if you meet someone who is too powerful and break away from your control, then it is still very dangerous, so you should... again Be tough.

Your ability is very convenient. When attacking suddenly, you should aim at the eyes, nose, and this position. This will make the opponent lose the power to resist as quickly as possible, especially for men. This is even more effective. Of course, Works better with legs. "

Crowbar is teaching Robin how to deal with the enemy, but Robin just discovered today that the seemingly benevolent Dr. Croba also has such a "vicious" side.

However, he was also forced. Among archaeologists, Keluoba is relatively strong, but he is far behind those who fight every day.

For his own safety, when he was young, he could be said to specialize in hitting the three-way combo, stepping on the feet, kicking the crotch, inserting eyes, and cutting the throat.

Although she twisted her waist, and Robin already knew most of the experiences she narrated, she still enriched some of her emergency measures.

"Don't worry about the doctor, I still have a little lizard, it can also be of great help at ordinary times."

The evolved chameleon becomes stronger, and its intelligence and physical strength have been greatly strengthened.

Set traps, and the water secreted by the palms can be made into water bombs to attack the enemy. Although it can't shoot high-speed sniper shots through the body like Thousand Faces, the liquid with a composition similar to the tear-eyed lizard's tears can also be used as a powerful tear gas bomb. to use.

The cooperation with Robin is also very tacit, and she is a good partner in her adventure career.

Chapter 579: The Unscientific Behavior of Wearing a Bear

These scholars still have a lot of questions they want to ask her, especially those who study paleontology. As they gradually become interested in Pokémon, the magical phenomenon of evolution has become their most concerned thing.

「Did you write down the process of its evolution? How did it become like this?」

"It was... all of a sudden. "

Although evolution is mysterious, the evolution process is very simple. When the energy accumulated in the body reaches a certain level, the Pokémon's body will be wrapped in the light of evolution, thereby realizing its own evolution. This process cannot be explained at all.

Even if Robin witnessed the process of the tear-eyed lizard evolving into a chameleon, she still couldn't describe this kind of thing.

The life on the empty island was nothing special, but there was a feeling of home in the unpretentiousness. After bringing those documents back, Robin learned something from other scholars and started his vacation time.

Having been away for two years, she plans to rest on Ghost Island for a while before leaving here.

「Robin, is there a place for the flag?」

"There are still, and this flag helps a lot."

During the chat, Yamato asked about the flag she had lent to Robin, and wanted to see if she could help Robin.

In addition to the deal with Doflamingo, this flag did play a big role after that, especially when returning from the great route, this flag saved her from a lot of trouble.

"That's good, by the way, I heard you encountered a lot of trouble on the way?"

「Who did you listen to?」

"Little lizard, the strength my foster father gave me allows me to understand the words of Pokémon. It seems that you have taken many adventures."

"It's okay, it's not too much trouble."

「Wait a minute, I have a good thing, you should use it, I'll give it to you together.」

Saying that, Yamato returned to his room, searched for a while and found a set of white tights.

It was the battle suit made by Quinn back then. She has played enough now, but it does not mean that this battle suit has lost its meaning. The defense brought by the battle suit is really useless to Yamato, but it is different from Robin. Swords and bullets are enough for her.

It's just that the size is not suitable. For Yamato, this is a tights, but for Robin, this is a slightly loose nightgown.

"It seems to be a bit too big. I'll ask Uncle Quinn to modify the size later."

This is a battle suit, not ordinary clothes. It is obviously impossible to find a tailor at random. Only Quinn, the manufacturer, can do this. As for how he made the clothes in the first place, because of making toys, Quinn unlocked the tailoring skill.

As the main island of the Beast Territory, Wano Country's environment is very stable. After a period of leisure, Robin left Wano Country again with a new tailored battle suit and a chameleon, and Zou sent another letter Sent to Wano Country.

"My lord, this is an urgent letter from Yang Jisihan."

It was still Beibo who brought the letter, but this time, Shi Mo did not let Beibo throw away the letter, but carefully read the contents of the letter. Over the years, she has already experienced what it means to urge people to succeed in a fancy way.

Among other things, every time I wrote to Yang Jisihan, I could fabricate a new disease for myself. It can be said that Yang Jisihan has been sick for a few years, from horns to wool.

The first set moment was quite anxious, but after many times, she became immune to this kind of thing. As long as it was written by Yang Jisihan, she would not believe the news that she was ill.

"Zeraora, I'm going back to Zou."

「What's wrong? Something really happened?」

「No, it's still written in the same way as before. It must be trying to trick me into going back to the throne. I have to find a way to solve this problem once and for all.

Zeraora, does Master Arceus have that kind of medicine that makes people never get sick after taking it?"

「This...there should be no such thing, but there are still many things to take care of the body and strengthen the body.」

「That's no problem, I'll probably have to go for a while, do you want to come with me?」

"No, Master Arceus has something to do, so I just have to go out."

「Okay, see you later then.」

Then Setsu found Fei Lun. He is the thousand-year-old dragon who has visited Zou the most times among the thousand-year dragons. Although Zowu's location is not fixed, Fei Lun is more familiar with the living environment there, but before departure, Setsu saw him. Sluggish Beppo.

「Bepo, what's wrong with you?」

「My lord duke, do you think... can bears fly?」

「Of course bears can't fly, why would you ask such a question?」

「Look there...」

Bepo's hand was pointing blankly at the sky, and a bear in clothes was holding an unknown leaf in its hand, and was waving its arms vigorously, and the most outrageous thing was that it really flew up in this way. There was even Perona sitting behind her.

"Bepo, you haven't been here long enough. You have to understand that there are many unscientific types of creatures created by Lord Arceus. You can't do what you can do in a bear."

Birds can fly by flapping their wings, but that has a lot to do with their special muscles and hollow bones. Wearing bears can do this just by flapping their arms, which already complies with those rules. Grinding on the ground.

After patting Bepo on the shoulder, telling him not to think about those unrealistic things, Setsuna and Feren returned to Zou along the direction of the life card.

In the Furry Principality, looking at the report sent again, Yang Jisi Khan felt a little overwhelmed.

The ecology of Zowu in the past was very primitive, and supplies were supplied by elephant owners. The life of the country was simple and ordinary. As the Duke of Zowu, he only needed to deal with some conflicts among the people, and at most he was a village head.

But with the delivery of a large number of aid materials from Beasts to Zou, the Furry Principality has entered an era of great development. The renovation of houses and the improvement of water conservancy facilities have improved the lives of residents and increased the workload of Yang Jisihan.

Zou has always been a political system that speaks volumes. Although he has found a few helpers recently, they have no experience at all. They are still in the process of learning. He is still in charge of all major matters, and recently they have begun to shed their hair.

Obviously he has stepped down from the position of duke, but he still has to deal with government affairs, which makes Yang Jishan extremely distressed, so he writes a letter to urge Shana when he has nothing to do.

Originally, he didn't have any hope, and only hoped that Setsuna would play well enough to come back to succeed him, but today, he received different news.

「Regent Yang Jisihan, the Duke is back!」

「What?! Get ready for the handover ceremony. No, I'm sick now...You go and bring her.」

Chapter 580: Physical examination becomes obstetric examination

He almost forgot that the succession ceremony was over long ago, but the duke thought he couldn't bear the responsibility, so he left the matter to the prudent him.

And according to his previous letter, he is now sick.

"and many more."

「What disease do I have?」

There are too many reasons for making up, and Yang Jisihan himself forgot what the reason for flickering back this time is. He knows that this may not work, but he can't be sure that it won't work unless he tries it, so he keeps changing it. reason.

Now that Setsuna came back suddenly, he forgot what the reason he made up was.

「Uh... I remember breaking my leg, right?」

"Which leg?"

「I don't remember either.」

While Yang Jisihan was still remembering how he wrote the letter, there was a momentary voice outside, so Yang Jisihan only had to choose one of the two happily, took out a bandage from the side and wrapped it around his left leg.

As the regent, he wears bandages with him, which shows how well prepared Yang Jisihan is for this.

"Ahem, Setsuna, as you can see, my health is really not very good recently. I would like to fight for Zou for a few more years, but I am powerless."

「But Senior Yang Jisihan, didn't you say in your letter that you broke your hand?」

Looking at Yang Jisihan's left leg wrapped into a rice dumpling, Shi Mo spoke expressionlessly about what she saw in the letter, without any hint of joy or anger. She was already used to this kind of thing.

"This...you know that our fur tribe has a very strong physique, and the medicine you sent back to Zowu is also very effective. The wound on my hand is already healed. This is a new wound not long ago. It must have been caused by the recent That's what it takes to work hard."

"Well, don't worry, let me handle these things these days."

Yang Jisihan pinched his face, a little bit disbelieving that these words were said in an instant, but seeing her take the document, he still showed a secret happy expression, it seemed that he could finally retire.

Because of his excitement, he didn't notice that the elephant master had changed his direction in the moment of communication, and was slowly moving towards the direction of Wano Country.

After gaining the power of waveguide, the range of the Elephant Lord's movement has been around the Wano Country. In about ten days, the Elephant Lord has come to the periphery of the Wano Country.

The rest of the Elephant Lord did not attract the attention of the residents of Zowu. Since the succession of the moment, the Elephant Lord has had a free time to rest, and the residents of Zowu have become accustomed to such a pause.

Yang Jisihan, who had just rested for a few days, was pulled out again by Setsuna.

"Senior Yang Jisihan, come with me."

「Where are you going?」

"I'll take you for a physical examination."

「Physical...physical examination?!」

"That's right, aren't you feeling unwell? There are many famous doctors from all over the world gathered here. They will help you to check your body. Wait a minute, we will set off right away."

As he spoke, Setsu picked up a microphone, which is now a radio built in the Furry Principality, to inform the residents of some things.

"All the residents of the Furry Principality, please pay attention. We have already arrived in Wano Country. Anyone who wants to visit Wano Country can go to Ling and Hatch to sign up. Doctor Sanyang, please come to me. Anyone who is not feeling well You can also come with Dr. Sanyang."

The moment he put down the microphone, he showed a meaningful smile, and Yang Jisihan also sensed something was wrong, as if he had been tricked.

Due to the living environment, most of the fur tribes have never left Zowu all their lives, and many people are hesitant about traveling.

At the same time, some people who yearned for the outside world began to sign up, but the first batch of people was not many. Dozens of fur tribes entered Wano Country under the leadership of Hatch and Ling, and started their first trip in their lives.

The wool skins of Jishan and Sanyang were brought to the Pokémon Center of Beasts. There is no difference between the fur family and humans.

They, like the murlocs, have the same blood as humans, but have some special organs, so Setsu brought Sanyang to help the doctors here further determine his physical condition.

" Lord Setsuna. "

"I'm sorry to bother you, I'll do a good physical examination for this person, check all the items that can be checked, especially some potential diseases, you must check it out. This is Doctor Sanyang, what do you know about the fur tribe? You can ask him anywhere."

「That... Setsuna, I don't think there is such a waste of resources, these equipment should be very expensive...」

"It's okay, don't worry about seniors, these are all free, I still have this privilege, you just go and check me up honestly, after all, you have at least twenty kinds of diseases in the past few years, so I am very worried what."

Surrounded by a group of doctors, Yang Jisihan was pushed into the physical examination room, while Sanyang was attracted by the medical equipment here.

Due to environmental constraints, these devices could not be deployed in Zou. After listening to the doctor here explaining the functions and cost of the devices, he was inevitably a little envious.

「Your Duke, can't Zou set up these equipments?」

"I will get some simple equipment back, too complicated ones are unnecessary, and there is a great doctor who specializes in herbal medicine, I will introduce you to her after a while."

As long as Zowu's equipment can be used in an emergency, it is enough. If there are more complicated situations, they can be sent here for treatment after emergency treatment. The same policy applies to other territories of Beasts.

All the equipment in the Beasts Pokémon Center are top-notch in the world. Building this hospital and recruiting doctors is the result of Beasts investing a lot of money.

It is impossible to reproduce a medical center of the same quality, because the main island is here, and Beasts did not choose to disperse resources.

All came here, and Setsuna also had a physical examination, but it was not as complicated as Yang Jisihan.

Because it was urgent, they saw the report of Yang Jisihan a few hours later. Looking at the report of Yang Jisihan, they instantly strengthened their thinking.

"Senior Yang Jisihan, your physical condition is very good, but ordinary young people are not as good as you, do you have anything to say?"

「This...you say...is there a possibility that this is a misdiagnosis?」

He is very clear about his own physical condition, but he can't let him admit that he has been faking his illness.

"What do you think?"

While thinking about how to persuade Yang Jisihan to continue working overtime, the nurse at the side came to find her.

"Master Setsuna, please come again."

"Not a bad thing, you just might be pregnant."
