Chapter 601 The Carp King and the Chef

In the beginning, Zowu's camera was an antique. Zowu's environment determined that they could not replenish supplies at will, so as long as many things are still usable, they will continue to use them tinkering.

The antique camera was not retired until Setsuna brought back a large number of foreign goods, and now it has been taken away by Tezolo, and it is used as some decorations with a sense of age.

A whole family took a brand new photo, and Perona and Wearing Bear also appeared in the photo as adopted daughters and adopted female pets.

The birth of the two new lives brought a lot of joy, but after one night, except for Zeraora and Setsuna who were still on vacation, the lives of the others had returned to normal.

The pirates on Onijima took advantage of this opportunity to hold a series of banquets.

The birthdays of the two children happened to be at the end of 1510. After that, the Wano country began the annual New Year festival, and they took advantage of the banquet to revel for several days.

Although the cadres have little to do with having children, it does not affect them holding a banquet. This is the tradition of pirates.

What to do if you are not happy, hold a banquet to adjust your mood.

What should I do if I am happy? Of course, I have to hold a banquet to celebrate.

In the beginning, many pirates who joined Kaido got married. Solitia, Speed, and Mizeka are all second-generation pirates, but Zeraora's heirs are the children of the first cadre. It has great significance for the Hundred Beasts Pirates, which implies future actions.

Speaking of the future, in the Chambord Islands at this time, Rayleigh looked at Shanks in front of him, sighing about the past.

"In a blink of an eye, so many years have passed, and you have grown up, but your arm. Is there anything in the East China Sea that can threaten you?"

"I bet it on the New World."

At this time, Shanks lost a left arm, and the straw hat disappeared at the same time. The King of the Sea has achieved his strongest achievement, killing the Bandit King.

Ghost Island, after the New Year's celebration, after a few days of hangover, most people's lives are back on track, and Ghost Island continues to operate according to the established procedures.

Shaina came to Arceus with a brand new report.

"Master Holy Beast, it is the plan for the next year. Tezolo intends to launch the entertainment boat this year and prepare for the world premiere of Uta. He applied to name the boat Gulan Tai Zolo."

Said it was a ship, but the scale of that entertainment ship was no different from that of a city. As long as the plan goes well, this ship will change the new world, it should be said that it will change the pattern of the entertainment industry in the entire world.

"Is his relationship cleared up?"

Such a ship will touch the interests of many people. Without the endorsement of the Tianlong people, it may be sunk as soon as it is launched.

"He said there was no problem, and he just waited for the final completion."

"Let him go, just the name of a ship."

"Okay, I'll reply to him later. In addition, Mandelfish said that Tiger wants to come to Ghost Island. I pay homage to your grace."

Logically speaking, Mandelfisch would not use this kind of rhetoric in his work log. He usually writes more straightforwardly, but this is Tiger's request.

He became more and more curious about what kind of place Ghost Island is, so he asked Mandelfish to report, and he used this very religious vocabulary to report.

"Let him come if you want to, and let Misu prepare for the handover, so as not to disappoint this believer."

"Yes."

As each matter was resolved, Shaina also went to arrange a new round of things for others, and on the sea, a new round of pilgrimage activities was continuing, and the carp kings started their own journey again. procession, and Nereus was among them.

It took her a month to master the ability to be an independent Mega, and then went to other sea areas to continue her mission.

Compared with the Great Sea Route, the area of the Four Seas is much larger, so she brought her group into the Four Seas to continue searching for stone slabs, and was not ready to embark on a pilgrimage until recently.

"Search this seabed, and after exploring this area, we will return to the Holy Land."

Nereus roared at the Gyarados behind him, and started the last exploration in the near future.

After a period of time, they embarked on the pilgrimage road again without gaining anything. This has become their biological instinct, even if there is no gain, they will take such a trip.

Nereus's strength will naturally not encounter trouble, but some carp kings are not so lucky.

In the East China Sea, on a rocky island with a strange shape, a King Carp was rolled onto the rock by the waves. The dry rock made him feel uncomfortable immediately, and jumped up on the spot, but he tried several times, but he couldn't jump again. back to the sea.

At this moment, a pair of skinny hands held it down, and it seemed that it hadn't been full for a long time.

"Stinky old man! There's a fish! I caught a fish!"

The boy seemed to see hope, but the person he called lost interest after just a glance.

The two are Zhepu and Sanji who were accidentally trapped. After a year of adventure on the great route, Zhepu realized his weakness, and then luckily walked out of the great route and returned to the East China Sea.

And Sanji Germa left the Vinsmoke family during the battle, and then came to the passenger ship Orbit as a trainee cook.

When Zepp led the chef pirates to rob the Orbit, there was a storm, and Sanji was sucked into the sea.

Because the search for the ideal of "ALLBLUE" moved Zhepu who had the same dream, he chose to rescue Sanji, and then the two were trapped on this island.

Even if Zhepu distributed all the food to Sanji, they ran out of food early. The only good news is that there is fresh water accumulated during the rain on the island, so that they will not die of thirst

On the 70th day when he was trapped on an isolated island, he discovered the truth that Zhepu had left all the food to himself. The big bag of food around him was just inedible treasure. From this moment on, he changed his attitude toward Zhepu. point of view.

Seeing the carp king jumping up at this time, he seems to have seen a straw.

"Give it up, brat, that thing can't be eaten at all."

He understands the carp king, and he can use it to make bone soup if there are enough tools and seasonings, but now he is missing a foot and is very weak, he can't even break the opponent's scales.

Sanji stabbed the carp king with the dagger in his hand in disbelief, but the carp king was not injured at all until the dagger rolled.

"The scales of that thing are as hard as steel, it's useless, don't waste your efforts."

The greater the hope, the greater the despair brought when the hope is shattered, and soon Sanji lay back on the ground again, no longer caring about the thumping carp king.

The jumping range of the carp king is getting weaker and weaker, and the vitality is gradually losing. At this time, Sanji suddenly sat up, picked up the carp king and came to the side of the stone.

"Go, since you can't eat, then you can live well."

He used to waste food a lot, but during the time on the isolated island, looking at the moldy food in his hands, he realized the preciousness of food and respect for life.

Since the king carp cannot be eaten, there is no need to let this fish accompany them to die on land.

"and many more!"

Zapp saw Sanji's behavior from the corner of his eye, and hurriedly tried to stop him, but it was too late, Sanji had already thrown it back into the sea.

"You idiot, you're in big trouble now"

A few years ago, his subordinates tried to cook a carp king, but he could still remember the Gyarados.

Sanji just moved the knife, and an ominous premonition appeared in Zhepu's heart, but he didn't notice that the eyes of the underwater carp king were a little different from the previous time.

Chapter 602: Snail Girl \(X\) Carp Girl \(V\)

King carps not only hold grudges, they also give back to people's kind deeds.

For example, the large carp king who is closely related to Joey, most carp kings will become irritable after they evolve into tyrannosaurus.

The big carp king is different. Joey often takes care of it and feeds it calcium tablets. It also engraves Joey's face and smell in its mind. Even if it evolves into a tyrannosaurus, it in front of Joey Still very docile.

The two knives that Sanji gave it were neither painful nor itchy. If it was caught by Sanji, then Sanji would be its enemy at this time, but it was swept up by the waves, and the situation would have to be recalculated.

If there is no assistance, it will most likely die here, so Sanji can barely be regarded as its benefactor, after all, he sent himself back to the sea.

After thinking for a while, King Carp reluctantly classified Sanji as a good person, and then swam towards the distant sea.

「You don't understand anything, forget it, I don't have the strength to talk nonsense with you.」

Counting from the day they were dragged to this island, more than 70 days have passed, and they have not seen a single ship for such a long time, even if most of the human beings here are stronger, they have arrived The point where the oil is exhausted and the lamp is dry.

People will have a deep impression on the first time. When Zhepu entered the great route for the first time, the first crisis he encountered was brought by the Gyarados.

He has never seen the evolution of the carp king, but in his life in the East China Sea, he happened to meet a group of Gyarados and carp kings.

He thought that the two creatures were companions. The carp king might be the hygienist who cleaned the scales of the Gyarados, while the Gyarados protected them.

Then Zapp stopped talking, and continued to sit on the edge of the rock, looking at the coastline in the distance.

Sanji didn't pay attention to Zhepu's nonsense speech. They didn't waste too much energy, and the isolated island returned to silence. Except for the sound of waves hitting the rocks, there was only a slightly weak breathing sound on the island.

A few days later, Zhepu, who had lost a foot and hadn't eaten any rice, was almost in a coma. During this time, he also said something to Sanji, such as looking for ALLBLUE, such as opening a restaurant on the sea. ideal.

But these are just bubbles now, and there is still no ship on the sea.

This is the East China Sea, not a great route that must be sailed according to the record pointer. The captains who often go to sea have their own charts in their hands, which mark some unknown supply locations and routes. This is the basis for their survival on the sea.

Through these secrets, they can gain a greater advantage in navigation. In addition, dangerous sea areas are also marked on it.

The biggest change in the sea today is the addition of the Gyarados race, which are naturally classified as "dangerous creatures".

This island is lonely and remote, there are no valuable materials on it, and there are tyrannosaurs living on the periphery, which makes it almost impossible for any ships to come here.

For several days, the trouble that Zhepu said did not come, and they were still accompanied by loneliness and despair. But at noon this day, a shadow suddenly appeared under the sea, and it seemed that there were groups of things wandering.

The shadow is like an arrow, gradually approaching here.

「Stinky old man, don't sleep, something is coming!」

「Is it a ship?」

「It's not that it came from underwater.」

「Then let it be, resign yourself to fate.」

Hearing that it was not a ship, Zhepu lost interest. Submarine technology has never been popularized, and this place has long been beyond the influence of the Chambord Islands. The high probability of being able to come from underwater is not a good thing.

The speed of the shadow was very fast, and when he was speaking, he had already reached the vicinity of the island, a large amount of water splashed suddenly, and then a female giant appeared in Sanji's eyes.

「Is it this human brat?」

Of the giants that swim in the sea, there is only Nereus in this sea. Since she was crowned

Queen, she is no longer the leader of a certain group, but the queen of all tyrannosaurus in the entire sea.

Even the Gyarados are under her command, and the carp king is no exception. The carp king just met Nereus in the process of looking for the group.

It was originally looking for its own group. Most carp kings live in groups, but due to various unexpected factors, such as ocean currents, storms, attacks by sea kings and sea beasts, they may also be scattered with their own group.

According to the living habits of carp kings, they will integrate into the group closest to them and become a new member of them. This carp king was very lucky and happened to meet the pilgrimage team led by Nereus.

It is just a weak carp king. Even if he wants to help others, he can do nothing but seek help from the group, and the groups of carp kings also have different personalities, some are very docile, while others are more irritable. Human beings who have nothing to do with themselves.

Nereus is different. She has the idea of getting along well with humans in other places. Her group cannot go ashore. Although the land is not her search range, she has her own ideas, such as helping some people and letting them do it. Issues.

As long as she is not an enemy, her attitude towards humans is very friendly. After hearing what the carp king said, she chose to pass by here once.

「Good...so big」

Looking at the female giant in front of him, Sanji seemed to be attracted by something, but soon a big fish was thrown up, and then a flame spit out from Nereus' mouth, roasting the fish instantly.

Then Nereus held a palm of seawater with one hand, and the king carp was jumping up and down in her palm, waving its fins at Sanji.

「Human, if you saved it, I will save you accordingly. Eat it, and I will take you two to a safe place.」

The fire-breathing giant that appears in the sea, even if she is beautiful, usually scares people to death, but neither Sanji nor Zhepu care about it, their eyes have been attracted by the food.

Nereus's grilled meat is very poor. It's raw on the outside, without removing the scales or viscera, and the blood is directly roasted inside.

It perfectly retains the fishy smell, which is completely difficult for ordinary people to swallow, but for Sanji and Zhepu, this is the best fish they have ever eaten in their lives.

For them who are about to starve to death, as long as it is food, there is no possibility of refusing it.

Fortunately, the physique of the people here is different, otherwise this meal would send the two of them away directly. Overeating after long-term hunger is not a good thing.

Chapter 603: The rudiment of the Pan-East Sea Carp King Conservation Association, serving as a

The unscientific nature of the world begins to manifest itself. This is a world where you only need to drink milk to recover if you lose your teeth. Two skinny people are eating that fish clean.

Even the crispy scales were chewed and eaten, leaving no traces of this fish except for the hard bones.

Two round bellies indicate that they have survived.

The next moment, Nereus' big hand took Sanji and Zheputo into his hands, and swam them to a safe distance. Zhepu's big bag of treasure was also taken away.

In terms of Zhepu's physical strength, he tried to lead Sanji to rescue himself at first, but he couldn't tell the direction in the sea. He didn't know where there was an island, and if he swam in the wrong direction, he would be doomed.

Not to mention the terrifying sea monsters in the deep sea, he was no match for those sea monsters with one leg missing, so he chose to wait for rescue.

The danger that Zhepu has to worry about is not a problem for Nereus at all. Only super-large sea kings are eligible to touch her. In the waters of the East China Sea, she is the real overlord.

Her fingers were slightly bent and became a windshield, and then took them to another island in a day.

"This island has plenty of water and food, and there will always be human ships passing by for supplies. You will be rescued here."

Nereus put them on the shore, and then drew a slate-shaped pattern on the sand.

「The natural stone of this shape is what I need. If you find it, you will get a lot of wealth, and even most of your wishes will be fulfilled. If you are interested, then take care of it, and we will meet naturally at that time.」

Speaking of Nereus leaving the carp king by the sea and retreating into the deep sea by himself, the pilgrimage team is also in danger.

Individuals that are too weak will be left in the four seas. Nereus judged that the carp king is not suitable for entering the great route, so he gave it such a task.

She didn't leave immediately, but observed the situation here in the deep sea, and left here again after seeing the friendly communication between Sanji and Carp King.

While Sanji interacted with King Carp with his fingers, he said to Zhepu behind him:

「Stinky old man, is this the trouble you said? Isn't this a lucky star?」

「Heh, your kid is really lucky, but no matter what, he was saved.」

He even saw the approaching sails in the distance. What Nereus said was not a lie.

「But old man, is that beautiful big sister a legendary mermaid?」

Except for Reiju, even Sanji's theoretically emotionless brothers have a strong interest in beautiful women, which may be something inherited from the Vinsmoke family.

Strange savior, beautiful women, put the two together, Sanji may be more impressed with the latter.

"Who knows, maybe she is not even a human being. This sea is much more mysterious than you think, boy, my feet are gone, and I can no longer search for ALLBLUE in the future. This dream will You have come to inherit."

"Um."

He called Zhepu the smelly old man, but to him, this Zhepu who gave him all the food was far more important than his biological father.

After that, based on the treasures kept by Zhepu, they established a sea restaurant in the East China Sea and recruited a large number of thorny chefs.

The carp king has been following them all the time, and Zhepu has also changed his view on the carp king. They even became the East China Sea's protection organization for the carp king, treating every carp king well in the sea.

And wrote a story similar to the restaurant culture, specifically the story of the snail girl, but the protagonist has become the carp king who repays the favor.

As the name of the restaurant on the sea gradually became popular, similar news was also spread through the mouths of diners, and it even became a famous fairy tale in the East China Sea.

Of course, these are things for the funeral, and the restaurant at sea is just a prototype at this time.

Nereus took his group on the pilgrimage again, and Tiger was preparing to leave

On the way, but in Ghost Island, a new message came back.

"Master Holy Beast, Skoki's return, someone wants to join us."

「Is there anything special?」

This kind of thing has been happening all the time. Every year, there will be some newcomers joining Hundred Beasts. Since the current Hundred Beasts has more complicated rules, the review of joiners is also stricter. They even have a probationary period. Only after passing the trial period can they become Hundred Beasts. Beast pirates.

During the probation period, violating the rules will be severely punished and blacklisted. Except for some talented people, 99% of the pirates who enter the probation period can accept the rules here. One step back.

The current system is already perfect, unless there are some people with outstanding talents, there is no need to contact Onijima alone.

"The pirate this time is a former member of CP9, the captain of the Fuzifu Pirates, Foz Fu, nicknamed Spray Fu."

「CP9?」

「I heard that he defected because of the failure of the mission. It was hard for Scorch to judge, so he sent the news back.」

The CP organization has strict regulations, and it has always been allowed to enter and not allowed to leave. Foz Fau's defection must have attracted other people's pursuit, and the intensity of the hunt must be the intensity determined by the world government to deal with Foz Fau. .

Being able to escape to the new world smoothly shows that he still has some skills.

"Master Holy Beast, he is a running dog of the world government anyway, otherwise... I will deal with him, I will dig out everything he knows, and I know a little bit about what Abel knows."

Only when there was no one around, Shayna could mention that name, even if Quinn was present, she would not be able to say this name.

She still doesn't like the people of the World Government. Foz Fu did defect, but he was still the executioner of the World Government before, which made Shaina feel no psychological burden.

「It's not necessary, it's just a knife, there's no direct conflict, if it's easy to use, it's the same if you keep it in your hand.」

"Yes, I understand, but Lord Saint Beast, this person does not have his own nomination certificate."

"Call for a certificate... Call Quinn and let him deal with this matter. The events of the year must have a result. Isn't he from CP9? He should know something inside."

"Understood, I'll call him right now."

Shaina knew what Arceus was talking about. About a year and a half ago, Quinn took Yamato on a mission, and then they encountered CPO inexplicably in the Kingdom of Corkia. This incident has not yet been reported. result.

Take this opportunity to test the other party, even if he doesn't know, it doesn't matter, because Quinn himself is also a bait.

Chapter 604: impatient bait

Prev ChapterNext Chapter

After so many years, Arceus heard for the first time that a defected CP9 escaped here alive, and wanted to take the initiative to join Beasts. It is unknown whether the other party has a conspiracy.

If you want to fish, you must release a suitable bait. The bait should not be too strong, otherwise it will directly scare the fish away, so Kaido is not suitable for this position.

The bait must not be worthless, otherwise the fish will not bite the hook at all, and it must not be too weak, otherwise it will be easily eaten by the fish.

The strength reported is not strong, but with very strong strength and high value bait, the best candidate within Hundred Beasts is naturally Quinn.

Among other things, the requirement that only alive can only be captured alive is enough.

"Quinn, you probably haven't forgotten what happened that time. It has been delayed for more than a year, and it seems to be two years, but there has been no result."

"Master Arceus, the world government arranged that matter very secretly, and it didn't mention it much afterwards. The ammonites didn't eavesdrop on similar news, so I can't do anything about it."

If the world government really wants to hide something, it can still hide it. For example, Rocks gradually disappeared from the eyes of the world under the operation of the world government. It is very difficult for outsiders to figure out the secret operations of the CPO.

If it weren't for the ammonite beast, those previous news might not have been able to come out.

Accurately speaking, the ammonite at this time is no longer an ammonite, it has evolved into a spiny ammonite.

The overall appearance is no different from that of the ammonite period, except that there is a neat row of spikes on the shell.

Yuan Lan's pupils became slender, so that it looked a little scary. Its tentacles became more slender, and its mouth grew cross-shaped fangs. With these fangs, it also evolved a new ability to bite people.

The original water gun has no effect on Quinn, so it has been changed to a means, using physical attacks. Recently, this spiny ammonite is still practicing the spiked cannon.

In a sense, its evolution is also motivated by Quinn.

"So your chance has come, this time I will hand over this newcomer to you, figure out what's behind it, and then you can decide whether to bring it back or what to do."

「Don't worry, Lord Arceus, I will take care of this matter.」

「People are at Scotch, hurry up, don't take a boat, fly over by yourself.」

All large cadres that can fly autonomously travel much faster than ships, including Quinn, who is the slowest of the cadres, but is still much faster than the bulky ships.

This is the best choice when you are in a hurry. As for the physical consumption, for these animal-type abilities, this consumption is nothing. Kaido still has plenty of physical energy flying around the world every day.

Although Kaido's flying method is much less labor-intensive than Quinn's, the extra physical exertion is completely bearable by Quinn.

At the request of Arceus, Quinn started his own overtime field work.

On the island where Scotch is stationed, everything is the same as usual, except that there is an extra pirate ship belonging to Foz Fau at the port.

There were also several people sitting in the cabin on the island. The head of the person had long pink hair covering his eyes, with two bull-like horns exposed on both sides.

With earrings in his ears, wearing a flamboyant red suit, with a slender figure, and a cigarette dangling from his mouth.

This is Foz Fu who is waiting for the result. After thinking about it, he still chooses to join Hundred Beasts.

He doesn't have any other ideas, he just wants to protect himself, he has offended the world government, the navy and the world government are no longer places for him to stay, his own strength is not enough, he needs a suitable backer.

Ordinary pirates are meaningless at all. The former CP9 knows more about the background of the world government than ordinary people. In today's sea, there are only three pirates that can keep them from acting rashly, Whitebeard, BIG MOM, and Beasts .

The red-haired pirates are a rising star, and now they are in the limelight, but they have a "blood feud" with him and the red hair. In Foz Foz's view, if it weren't for the red hair, he would never have come to that step.

The first to be excluded from the remaining pirate groups is BIGMOM, she is the most unstable of the three pirate groups today, and it is a purely family-style pirate group, unless it is her children or son-in-law , daughter-in-law, otherwise I won't be able to get to the top.

Although Whitebeard is powerful, the "draw" in the battle with Kaido has changed the outside world's opinion.

This is the situation where newcomers challenge old seniors. If the newcomer loses the battle, everyone thinks it is right.

On the other hand, the older generation of strong players deserved to win. Whether they draw or lose, the result will affect his reputation.

Besides, Hundred Beasts is the fastest climber among these pirate groups. As long as they have the strength and can join in smoothly, they don't need to be sons or marry, and the positions of cadres are all based on their strength.

For Foz Foz, being a pirate is completely forced. He prefers life under this order, and the order of beasts is the most suitable for him.

It's just been several days since I came here, and Scorch didn't give him an answer at all, but just asked him to wait.

「Boss, are we really going to join Hundred Beasts? Ah Choo!」

A strong man tightened his cotton coat. He didn't like the cold winter island.

This is how many times he has asked Foz Fu if he has really made up his mind.

Besides him, there is also a pair of girls who look like twins. They are all dressed up like Catwoman. They are at "s under Foz Ferrer, the cadres of the Foz Ferrer Pirates.

"That is to say, it has been several days, and they have not responded at all."

「Wait, whether it's Dangerous New World or those guys, we need a backer.」

At this time, the door of the hut was opened, and Scorch walked in against the cold wind and snow.

"Come with me, Master Quinn wants to see you, and you are the only one."

Pointing to Foz Fau, Scorch turned around and left here, and Foz Foz also got up and followed. Quinn was regarded as the third in command of the Beasts Pirates in the intelligence investigation. It was Quinn, and Scorch had a sense of being valued.

Just seeing the other party, he felt a very impatient gaze. Quinn was not as friendly as he imagined.

「It's you who wants to join us, right? Let me ask you, where's your nomination certificate?」

Quinn's tone was not friendly. Facing this guy who asked him to work overtime and fly for several days, he was already restraining himself by not swearing.

「Certificate of Voting」

「Why, don't you even understand this rule?」

There is no reason for pirates to enter the gang empty-handed. "

Chapter 605: Pilgrim Tiger

What Quinn said is indeed a rule, but it is not the rule of all pirates.

Ordinary pirates form an alliance, or some friendly pirates choose to join the other party, naturally they don't need to vote for the name, but people like Fuzi Fu who take the initiative to join a large pirate group can't justify without a suitable vote.

If he was just a newcomer with good strength, the result would not be so troublesome, but his previous identity was a formal member of CP9, such a person has to prove whether he really put aside his relationship with the world government.

Although he is wanted, it is up to the world government to decide whether or not to want a person. This can be faked without any convincing power at all.

「Am I not strong enough?」

「Strength? Muhahahaha, you think highly of yourself too much, your strength is not enough for us to break the rules.

But I don't make it difficult for you. Since you are a former CP9, you should have a certain understanding of CP0. "

Foz Foz is not weak, but in today's Beasts, this alone is not enough. The intelligence value he can bring far exceeds the value of his force.

Both CP9 and CP0 are special in the world government agencies. Official CP9 members can be regarded as CP0 reserve personnel. World government personnel search for school-age children from all over the world, and then send them to special islands for brainwashing education and special education. training.

Under normal circumstances, they will never betray. Lu Qi was almost killed by the ship guns of the Demon Slaughter Order in Judiciary Island, and was hunted down afterwards, but in the end he returned to the World Government and became CP0, and once again became a Tianlong People's lackeys.

Foz Fur can be said to be an exception here.

Because of the training method of CP9, they basically conform to the first essence of CP0, loyalty.

Foz Fau and Rob Lucci are two of the most talented CP9 recently, and Quinn feels that they may have access to some special information.

"Some, but not many."

Foz Foz is not a fool, as Quinn said so, of course he knows what the beasts are looking for, he no longer intends to keep these things secret, the world government wants to get rid of him, he has to get the other party's attention as much as possible .

But some of those messages have expired, and some are on the verge of expiration, and he doesn't know how valuable these things can be.

"Very well, then let me ask you, in 1509, a CP0 named Guima launched an operation in the Kingdom of Corkia in the East China Sea. Why did CP0 know where I was at that time."

"The king betrayed you."

「Oh? So sure? How do you know?」

「I read the information about that mission. At that time, the people above originally wanted CP9 to do it, but later changed it to CP0. By the way, Guima is still alive, and you didn't kill him at that time.」

Because he had contact with it, Foz Fu directly gave the situation of that incident, which was a completely trivial part of what he knew.

"Very good, very good, then the head of the king and the person who made the plan at that time is your nomination certificate for joining us. I will give you four months to complete this matter and you can join us."

If it wasn't for the fact that the situation didn't support it, he would have wanted to directly cover that country with firepower, otherwise others would think he was easy to bully.

It is not possible to go too far now, but retaliation will definitely be launched.

Voting a certificate is not necessarily a gift, such an action can also serve as a voting certificate.

"Four months"

"What's the problem? Don't worry, I'll arrange a boat for you, and you won't be delayed on the way."

"No, I'll cut his head off."

He escaped from prison because he didn't want to die, and using someone else's head to change himself to a safe environment didn't pose any psychological burden to him.

Soon Quinn arranged a boat for him, and he didn't return to Ghost Island, but stayed here and waited. If Foz Fu had other purposes, leaving Ghost Island was enough for them to bite the hook, all he has to do is and so on.

However, he did not wait for any results. After a delay, Quinn returned to Ghost Island safely. At the same time, Tiger also embarked on his own pilgrimage.

"Aaron, be honest with me during this time, and don't make anything happen."

Except for Aaron, Tiger has no one to worry about. During this period of time, he has been very stable. His greatest interest is to do dozens of laps of the Ferris wheel every day, but this is all done on the premise that Tiger has not left.

Now that he is leaving, and it is inconvenient to take Aaron with him this time, Tiger is inevitably a little worried.

"Understood, big brother, I'm in Murloc Street during this time, and I won't go anywhere else."

Now that Tiger has left here, Aaron also plans to go back to Murloc Street. With the help of Otohime, a stable tourist route has almost been established between Murloc Island and this island. There have been a lot of mermaid children recently.

There are also adult murlocs and mermaids among them. The longing of many residents of Murloc Island for Chambord Paradise has been fulfilled here.

Looking at the environment here, Aaron even thought of the days in Murloc Street, especially when he was a child, it was exactly the same as the paradise he dreamed of when he was a child.

"But brother, you have to come back as soon as possible."

「I will, there are still many things to do when I come back this time.」

"Let's go."

Shortly after they left, Xia Li's voice also sounded behind Aaron. This time Mandelfish took away not only Tiger, but Rusaka also left here with him. She wanted to go to Mandelfish Headquarters to see.

Before leaving, Rusaka told Xia Li that she could stay here, but the master left, and it was not very good for her to live in the master's house as a guest, so she followed Aaron back to Fishman Island temporarily.

Although Aaron is quite normal now, he is not as extreme as before, and he doesn't react too much to the humans on the island, but Xia Li still hates this guy very much.

Because he has been inexplicably concerned about all other things recently, such as his own lifelong events.

From Aaron's point of view, there seems to be some relationship between Xia Li and Mandelfisch. He is relatively stubborn, and Xia Li is too lazy to talk to him, so all misunderstandings are deepened unconsciously.

Tiger didn't say much along the way, and spent most of his time looking at the teachings of Arceus that Mandelfisch had found for him.

This teaching is still the handwritten version given to Tiger by Misu. During the communication, the two fanatics reached a consensus in their thinking, and gradually developed the feeling that the other party is their confidant.

When the ship arrived at Ghost Island, Mandelfisch came to ask Tiger to come out, but for some reason, he seemed to see light in the other party

Chapter 606: Utopia

「Fish, what's wrong?」

Looking at Mandelfisch who kept rubbing his eyes on the deck, Rusaka was a little worried about his physical condition.

「It's okay, it's just that I may be a little dazzled, look at Tiger, why do I think he is shining Woolen cloth?」

「No, it's still the same, Boss Tiger is exactly the same as before.」

Rusaka looked at Tiger for a long time, but she couldn't see where it was glowing. He is a snapper murloc, and he doesn't have a light-emitting organ. She didn't understand why Mandelfisch felt this way.

「It's not right. Maybe I really should go for a medical examination. Forget it, I'll take Tiger to the monastery first, and then I'll take you here for a stroll.」

He has his own cadre room in Guidao, but there is nothing to see there. There is nothing in his room after he has been stationed abroad for a long time.

Someone in Ghost Island will clean the room regularly for him, which can be said to be tidy, but there is nothing new

Compared with the small amusement park built on the island where he was stationed, this is a huge gap from hundreds of acres of land to tens of square meters of huts.

His mission is to bring Tiger back here, and after that, there will be professionals to replace him. In terms of preaching, Mitsu has already demonstrated his ability, even Shaina can't match her.

"Come with me, the monastery is here, Sister Mitsu is already waiting for you."

While speaking, Mandelish took the lead out of the submerged harbor and entered the bustling area of Baiwu.

"This is the country of Wano. We have built the base camp for more than ten years. Now this area is called Baiwu. The current manager is Master Shaina."

Most of the infrastructure of Beasts has been built in Baiwu, Pokémon Center, Monastery, Squirrel Fire Brigade, and the original diving port is also an important external transportation hub, so this area was handed over to Shaina.

「From the literature, Wano Country used to be a very closed country, right?」

The document in Tiger's mouth is also part of the teaching as a whole. According to the statement above, Wano Country has been closed for many years, even more closed than Fishman Island.

Murman Island has foreign ships passing by every day, but Wano Country has almost no outsiders due to terrain factors. Without internal support, there are only one or two outsiders who come here by accident in decades.

「It was true before, is there any problem?」

"These people don't seem to be afraid of me."

As the captain of the Sun Pirates, Tiger took the murlocs on a three-year voyage on the sea. During these three years, they did not enter the New World, but in the first half of the great voyage, their footprints involved many islands.

As Aaron said, humans look at murlocs with suspicion and fear. Different from the beauty of mermaids, murlocs are mostly rough in appearance, which is equated with monsters in the eyes of many people.

Fear comes from the unknown, and it is precisely because of ignorance that they think that murlocs are terrifying creatures based on their appearance.

The outer islands that maintain external ties are still like this, but Wano Country, which is closed to the outside world, should be even more serious.

As far as he knows, there are no murlocs in Wano Country. As for Jack, his appearance is very close to that of a human, and no one will be able to tell that he is actually a murloc if he doesn't say anything.

He doesn't have the iconic traits of a murloc. He's more like a giant than a murloc.

This is also the central economic zone of Baiwu, with a large flow of people, and most of the local people in Wano country. This can be seen by looking at the clothes. A small number of young people have changed, but most adults are still traditional. Wano country clothing.

There were even children playing around him, but the adults did not rush to take them away. Even when he was sending off Bikerla on Folchette Island, he could see the fear in the eyes of other villagers, but there was no such thing here. .

To these people, he seems to be an ordinary person.

"Why should you be afraid? You are just a bit fierce. They might treat you as a monster ten years earlier, but it is already different now. There are many more monsters here than you. No, it should be said that they originally It is a monster.

previous

Wano Country is indeed xenophobic. Kawamatsu, Nekomamushi, and Inuarashi were almost burned to death as monsters.

Before He Song's mother died, he asked He Song to call herself a Kappa. It can be seen that for the outside human beings, a monster named Kappa is easier to accept than a murloc.

But now everything has changed. As Beasts became the actual ruler of Wano Country, more and more Pokémon appeared here, and each Pokémon was a brand new creature. Discrimination has naturally become a taboo in Wano Country.

For more than ten years, as Pokémon has become more and more closely connected with people's lives, Wano Country has gradually become accustomed to intelligent creatures with different appearances, and Pokémon has completed the transformation from a monster to a grass-headed god. .

Just as he was talking, Tiger felt a slight vibration from the ground, and a giant wild boar with a height of more than ten meters was walking towards this side with a huge boulder on his back.

This made him understand the meaning of Mandelfish's words. [There are many more monsters here than you]

The murlocs looked like monsters at best, but the huge King Yanwu was a real monster, but those people didn't run away in all directions, they were still waving at King Yanwu, and even shouted at the mountain god.

"This is."

「You can call him King Yanwu. He used to be a huge wild boar. Later, Lord Arceus transformed him. Look at what he looks like. The bridge needs to be repaired.

"That's great, this should be the situation Princess Otohime wants to see the most."

There is no discrimination, people of any race can walk freely on the street, can bathe in the sunshine, he seems to see the country that only exists in Otohime's ideal.

"Then I don't know. The Wano country is very big. You can sigh slowly when the time comes. Come with me first. Sister Missu has been waiting for you for a long time."

He didn't mind being a tour guide for his wife, but he didn't want to take Tiger with him all the time. Now he still communicated normally, and when he thought about those religious issues, he would have a headache, so he walked directly towards the monastery.

In the monastery, Misu is leading the children of the monastery to clean the monastery. There is no tuition fee here, and he also pays for board, lodging and teaching tasks.

It's just that everyone who studies here must work as much as they can, even Lamy is no exception. This is to train them in advance and let them understand that there is no free lunch in the world.

But everything provided by the monastery is the top-level configuration, which is at the same level as the daily and military supplies for the capital of flowers. Even ordinary people in Wano country want to send their children here, but not here.

This can be regarded as the "noble" academy of beasts, which only adopts orphans and children of members of beasts.

Chapter 607: Fanatics and Fanatic Nuns

At this time, Lamy was cleaning the handrail outside the door. She cleaned it in a special way. She didn't use cleaning tools, but just put her hands on it, and then her hands wrapped the things she wanted to clean up like melting.

With the colored mud sliding over it, the handrail has become a new look, and Alola's stinky mud's ability is used by her in this place.

After being empowered, Mandelfish can gain the ability to breathe underwater, while after being empowered, Lamy can gain the ability to feed on dust and poisonous substances.

The dust and germs on those armrests have become her snacks, and this ability also has the function of disinfection.

There are hundreds of bacteria, toxins and other deadly substances mixed in the body of Alola Smelly Mud. These things are harmless when they are in the stinky mud, but they will become deadly when they are out of the control of the stinky mud. thing.

But when Lamy uses her ability, these things are always under her control, and she can neutralize these things to become a disinfectant when fighting fire with fire.

Poison masters and doctors communicate with each other in many cases. At this time, Lamy's ability is also the same. Of course, her cleaning behavior can also become poisoning behavior under conscious manipulation.

As for why she knows these things, she doesn't know. She feels as if someone taught her before, so she knows some medical knowledge, but she can't remember other things.

「Little Lamy, where is Sister Missu?」

"Uncle Mandelfish? The nun is inside, and she is leading everyone to clean up the monastery."
"Then I will leave the guests to you, I still have some private matters to do."

Looking at Lamy at the door, Mandelfish left Tiger here, and then took Rusaka to leave here. He planned to take Rusaka to the hot spring first.

"Come with me, Uncle Red."

Rami took Tiger's hand and walked into the monastery. Tiger didn't care about the name of the red uncle. Even after seeing the difference in Wano, Lamy was the first human child who dared to take his hand.

Kerla looked like a puppet in the beginning, and it couldn't be used as a normal reference situation at all.

Walking through the wall, Tiger realized that he had underestimated the size of the monastery. Except for the slightly brilliant church in the middle, there were many buildings of which he didn't know the meaning.

"Over there is the dormitory, where everyone sleeps at night, there is the school, this side is the small cafeteria, and the front is the place of worship. The nun is there, come with me."

Rami called Misu while introducing the surrounding environment to Tiger.

「Sister Mizu! Sister Mizu! The guest brought back by Uncle Mandelfish is here!」

After seeing Misu's figure, Lamy ran over there excitedly, because he didn't pay attention to the road under his feet and tripped over the stairs. Tiger just wanted to help her, but found Lamy's body falling on the ground. It turned into a puddle of mud, and then stood up like a normal person.

「Rami, you are misusing your abilities again.」

「But isn't ability to be used in life? Only in this way can we better exercise our ability and fight for the Lord.」

「Is today's work done yet?」

「It's done, I've disinfected all the handrails!」 「Let's go play, there is no training session today.」

After Lamy left, Misu looked at Tiger who was beside him.

"I laughed, this child is my daughter, you must be Tiger, I also experienced some things in the communication with you, and now I finally see you."

"Where, you helped me answer a lot of doubts."

"I don't need to use honorifics for me. There is not much difference between us. You should have a lot of things to ask. It just so happens that I also have some questions that I want to discuss with you. Let's talk as we walk."

Misu led Tiger to the built church, which is also the most solemn place in the entire monastery.

The stories written on the walls, the murals carved on the roof, and the gods in the room form a whole.

entered the long river of history and witnessed those things happen.

"Sister Missu, forgive me for the girl just now, you don't look alike at all."

"This is another story. The child is not my own daughter, but some accidents happened. If you are familiar with the teachings, you should know about Frevans. We are all survivors there.

Fisher Tiger, I heard that your princess has her own ideals. What do you think of her? "

Misu didn't mean to retell Tiger's experience back then, and brought the topic back to Fishman Island.

"The princess is a respectable person. She has been contributing to the Fishman Island in her own way, but I don't think she can succeed. The princess thinks too ideally."

Although Tiger advocates peace, he is also a fighting faction and has not given up the benefits of force.

「But today I seem to see the country that Princess Otohime imagined. If the whole world is like this, then it is really a wonderful scene.」

"Unfortunately, that's impossible, at least for now. There is no discrimination in Wano. Those who work will be rewarded. Hard work will yield results. No matter what race you are, as long as you have the ability, you can gain status here. ,Do you know why?"

"why?"

"Because of force, because the Lord and the Lord's agents have the world's top force, and their force allows them to implement their own order here."

When the topic came to Arceus, Misu's tone was filled with admiration, and then she told Tiger about her changes through the story described in the mural.

「A few years ago, I hadn't found where the Lord is. At that time, I believed that as long as I prayed, someone would bless us. As long as there is hope for the future, the future is promising, but later I found out that I was wrong.

Then on that day, in that dark day, I saw the real dawn. Frevans is a tragedy, a tragedy caused by interests. Today's world government does not protect the citizens of Frevans. Everyone is victims of their interests.

They can do this because their own force has been achieved. They can block all news and let the truth of platinum lead be buried by history. If their "force" cannot be broken, then everything is empty talk. "

「I haven't experienced what you have experienced, but I can understand how you feel, it is a dark hell..」

"Everyone has a past that they don't want to mention, there is no need to reveal their own scars."

"You talk about force, the tip of the iceberg revealed by the world government is enough to make most people unable to resist.."

“We don’t have this ability, but we can contribute our strength in other places and contribute to the restoration of the power of the Lord.”

Chapter 608: The Most Practical Religion in the Known Field

There is actually an extended side to the teachings of the Arceus religion. Finding the stone slab is the greatest contribution this religion can make.

「Hundreds of years ago, the Lord appeared here, but someone made the Lord lose his own power, and until now, the Lord’s power has not been fully recovered.

We are not the opponents of the world government, our strength is insignificant, but as long as the Lord’s power is restored, He will be the strongest existence in the world, and what we have to do is to contribute our own strength in this matter. ”

At this time, Misu came to a mural, which was depicting stone slabs.

「This is what the Lord needs. They may be in any corner of the world. Finding their clues is what we can do.」

「Sister Missu, I actually have a question. You mentioned value many times in your teachings. Is this what you mean by value?」

「We live in this world, everyone has their own value of existence, others are not qualified to deny this value, but this value does not refer to this, but refers to the value of the Lord.

I used to think that prayer is enough, but I found that it is not the right way. There may be thousands of people who pray. When two people pray for two directions of one thing at the same time, it will become their ideal to realize. question.

The Lord also has his own preferences, and those who can embody more values will naturally have some preferential treatment. You may think these words are a bit philistine, but this is much more real than illusory beliefs. ”

This is the biggest difference between Arceus religion and other religions, practicality.

Don’t practice past and present lives, don’t talk about enjoyment in the next life, if you can find what Arceus needs, you can get real benefits.

Wealth, strength, health, life, these are no longer illusory, and it is precisely because of this practicality that the influence of Arceus can expand rapidly.

「The Lord doesn’t like the current framework. The doctrine clearly states that the world government is his enemy. When the Lord truly recovers, the old framework will be overthrown, and we are all contributors to this process.

The Lord will not let go of his enemies, but he will not treat those who have meritorious deeds either. In that new world where status is determined by ability rather than blood, your aspirations and ideals can be realized. ”

Under the statue, Misu began to outline a perfect and more perfect utopia.

It was morning when Mandelfish returned here, but Tiger and Misu didn't leave the church until dusk. They didn't finish their first meeting and walked out of the church until sunset.

"Some things are hard to express just by talking. It's evening now, and it's too late. I'll take you around Wano Country tomorrow, so that you can learn more. Today you will start Rest in the monastery."

「Then excuse me.」

"Would you like to have a light meal? The cafeteria here is rich in flavors, and there should be ones you like." "No, I have harvested a lot of things, just to digest."

Tiger's notebook didn't change on the surface, but in fact, the content in it was almost doubled. A day's chat made Tiger a lot of money, and he wanted to summarize something.

Through the conversation with Misu, he felt more and more that Otohime's thinking was too naive, and Aaron's approach was too extreme. He had to find a suitable middle point.

Under Misu's arrangement, Tiger temporarily lived in the monastery.

Mandelfish also has a similar idea to Missu. The area of Wano country is not small, and one day is not enough to travel around the country.

When Misu and Tiger were studying religious issues in the monastery, he just took Rusaka to visit the Baimai area and experience the characteristic hot springs of Wano Country.

Even in his territory, there are no natural hot springs, and Wano Country has several natural hot springs due to the terrain, and there is a completely different experience from man-made hot springs.

Then he took Rusaka back to Onijima. Although both of them have excellent water skills, they still chose to cross the inland sea of Wano Country by boat. It is not a good experience to get wet clothes.

Mandelfish just got off the boat when he saw Peggy Wan fishing on the edge of Ghost Island. "Pegwan? Why are you here alone?"

"Sister Yamato and the others are having a girls' party. The old lady was dragged away by them. Captain Kaido will give special training to Brother Jack. I have nothing to do, so I come here to fish."

Fishing is one of Peggy Wan's hobbies. His fishing level is average, but what he enjoys is the process of fishing, especially the process without Ulti.

The atmosphere always gets noisy when Ulti is around him, so this peace is very precious to him.
noVe~~l~~USB.com

Then Peggy Wan felt a shake from the fishing rod. As he took up the line and lifted the rod, a good and bad star was caught by him holding the hook.

「I don't have any snacks for you guys! Don't just grab my hooks!」

Looking at the hooked good and bad stars, Peggy Wan put it back into the sea very skillfully. This is not the first time today, and then skillfully put the good and bad stars back. Sun, he simply put away the fishing rod and ended today's fishing activities.

Following Mandelfish and the others to the cafeteria, they also met Jack who had finished his special training.

"Brother Mandelfish, have you finally brought your sister back here?"

Jack also passes by the island of Mandelfish when he is on a mission. He is no stranger to Rusakata. He knew the existence of Rusaka when he was in Murloc Island, but this is his first time on Ghost Island. Meet Rusaka.

"Yeah, bring her back to have a look. By the way, Jack, we may make up a wedding in Murloc Island this year. If you are free, remember to attend."

「I will definitely go.」

Then Jack took Peggy Wan and left here, leaving more private space for the two of them, and Shaina was also asking some questions in Arceus' office.

"Master Holy Beast, do you want to arrange something special tomorrow?"

「It's not necessary, just let nature take its course, let him see what it looks like here, even if it's the dark side.」

"Yes, I see." -

In the early morning, Misu brought Tiger to the back door of the monastery. A special means of transport had been prepared. It looked like an ordinary carriage, except that the creatures pulling the carriage were two wild boars, and there were still some QUEEN word flag.

"The area of Wano country is not small, and it would be much more convenient to have a means of transportation. This belongs to His Excellency Quinn, but he is not in Wano country now, so I borrowed it."

Tiger's height is also five meters away. Although he has not reached the level of a little giant, the means of transportation used by Misu's regular stature is not suitable for Tiger. Last night, Misu borrowed such a thing on purpose.

Chapter 609: Misunderstanding between "Unicorn" and Tiger

「Your Excellency Tiger, you should know how to drive, right?」

Pointing to the reins on the frame, Misu asked Tiger tentatively. When Quinn was traveling, the younger brother was responsible for driving, but Misu only borrowed the car. After they returned the car, he let Quinn The younger brother left.

This is a separate communication between nuns and believers, and it is the most ideal situation without other people intervening.

This frame is built according to Quinn's body shape, which is one size bigger than Tiger. It is very difficult for Misu to operate it.

「I have no problem. I have experience in traveling before. It should be similar to a carriage.」

This trip is a real trip. He was indeed captured by the Tianlong people and became a slave, but before that he also had free time. As an explorer, he actually has quite a few skills.

"That's good, let's go." "Sister, won't you come up?"

"No, I have my own partner, you see, it has come."

In terms of Tiger's physical fitness, anyone who wants to travel around Wano needs a means of transportation, and Missu is no exception. As the only professional nun, her means of transportation is also very special.

「This is a unicorn?」

In Tiger's eyes, a pale yellow unicorn came out of the monastery, and it was an ordinary horse overall, but

From the top of the head along the back to the ponytail, there is a flaming mane of flames, and the very conspicuous one-horn on the top of the head.

Different from regional fairy tales like Rolando the Big Talker, there are legends about unicorns in the four seas and the great route, and even Murloc Island has heard of this land creature.

The one-horned horse can still be seen on some islands, and the wonderful sea has bred all kinds of strange species, but the flame burning on the horse's back has entered the category of real fantasy creatures.

「The flame horse, a creature created by the power of the Lord, usually lives in the monastery, and the children also like it very much.」

Misu caressed the flame horse's mane, and the flame horse also fell down in front of her, and stood up again after Misu sat sideways on its back.

「Is this fire fake?」

The mane on the back of the flaming horse was directly pressed down by Misu. It looked completely different from the invisible flame. Out of curiosity, Tiger directly touched it with his hand, and then a burning sensation came from the palm of his hand.

Going to the flames wouldn't scare him, but the heat in his hands already indicated one thing, that was really flames.

But Misu, who was countless times weaker than him, sat on the back of the flaming horse like a normal person. "Don't be like this, Your Excellency Tiger is also a believer of the Lord, that's just an unintentional remark." "Xi Lv Lv."

The flames on the flame horse's back are not pure flames, but manes of flame nature. For those it recognizes, they are ordinary manes.

For those who don't recognize it, those manes are real flames, and ordinary contact may cause burns. It doesn't like the word "false" in Tiger's words, so it teaches Tiger a little lesson.

"Okay, Mr. Tiger, you can touch it now, and I won't burn you again this time."

Under Misu's gesture, Tiger put his hand on it again. This time, there was no tingling sensation from the flames, but only the warm mane.

「It's really a magical creature..」

The characteristics of the flame horse made him sigh the magic of the world. In the past, he might have been puzzled by this, but Misu's communication made him admire that power even more. As long as it is related to that person, no matter what happens to him, Saying is acceptable.

Then one horse and one cart embarked on their own journey, starting from Baiwu, Misu took Tiger to travel around the Wano country in a counterclockwise manner.

The Squirrel Turtle who trains daily in the fire brigade, the lucky egg who holds a syringe to give patients injections, the almost doll who inquires about people's physical conditions, and the flower therapy ring with a wreath to comfort people's hearts.

Big charcoal carts are transporting coal on the snowy ground behind Linghou, shuttlecock cotton floats in the sky with the wind, and wind goblins hide in their cuffs and play with people.

Dianlong led the Mali sheep across the grass, and the hair of the passing herdsmen was affected by the static electricity and changed into strange shapes. Some newcomers were stunned by the wool of the Maali sheep out of curiosity, and were sent to rest amidst the laughter of the crowd.

Kentero's group is running on the grass, and the big milk tank is basking in the sun leisurely on the grass.

The huge Tanabata blue bird in the sky carried the crowd to the ground. After everyone on it landed safely, it waved its cloud-like wings again to the sky.

Strange-looking bees are collecting honey, and next to them are residents of Wano Country who are cleaning up the weeds under the fruit trees.

From Baiwu to Linghou, after passing through Ximei, they finally arrived at Jiuli. Along the way, Tiger saw a lot of supernatural powers and some strange scenes.

For example, several children are surrounded by a small water park made of bamboo, and some strange mangosteens are playing in it. After a while, the mangosteens are taken away by a girl who seems strange, and the people divide the rest water.

Mangosteen is naturally sweet bamboo, while the strange girl is an evolved sweet and cold beauty. This is the harmonious coexistence of Pokémon and humans, a country that Otohime imagined.

"so good"

「This is the kingdom under the rule of the Lord, and it is also our goal, to spread the glory of the Lord to every part of the sea.」

“It would be great if all places were like this. I didn't see any discrimination against other races along the way, I didn't see poor people, and even pets had their own clothes to wear.”

「It's not that everything is so beautiful, we're going to see it next, pets?」 「Yeah, aren't those cute kittens and puppies?」

Misu felt that she heard some strange words. She looked around and didn't see the so-called pet at all until several other figures appeared in her sight.

"Your Excellency Tiger, that is not a pet. Your words are very offensive."

「I, a scum of the seabed, shouldn't appear on land at all. I should bury myself in the mud of the seabed.」

It was obvious that it was too late for her to speak. At this time, Tiger looked decadent, looking at the soil under his feet with a disappointed expression, and had already squatted down and started digging a hole.

Two Negative Ghosts float right behind him, grimacing at Tiger.

「Really, who do you call a pet! Show more respect to other people's siblings!」

Perola in spirit form floated in front of Tiger, pointed her finger at him and started pointing, the cat and dog mistaken by Tiger as a pet, to be precise, the wolf and the cat were the two children of Setsuna and Zeraora, Perona is playing with them.

Chapter 610: Murloc Priest, Yamato's Ship

There is a big difference between the fur tribe and humans. After the full moon, these two children showed their lively and active side, and their physical strength is much more abundant than human cubs. This is also related to the blessing of Arceus.

Besides, the growth period of the fur people is shorter than that of humans. It is also a consistent tradition of the fur people to start stocking after the full moon.

All the fur tribes born in Zou played in the forest of Zou when they were very young. Their bodies will be exercised and grow gradually during the play. This is why the fur tribe of Zou has always been a fighting race. .

Furthermore, from the point of view of the fur clan, although children are precious, they don't need to be taken care of so meticulously after the full moon. This is why Setsuna can safely let Perona take care of the children.

Besides her, the two children are surrounded by wearing bears and Beppo. Beppo's current actual combat power is negligible, but not many people can withstand the combination of negative ghosts and wearing bears.

This is equivalent to receiving a full blow from a bear wearing a completely undefended situation.

This is the base camp of beasts, and the safety factor is extremely high. This configuration is already careful enough.

Jeraora thought he should be more careful, but both Hutch and Ling reassured him, saying that Setsuna and Wanda were brought up in this way.

When the father-in-law, mother-in-law, wife and sister-in-law all agreed, Zeraora also listened to their arrangements.

The fur tribe originally had the appearance of an orc. If the fur tribe just a few months old didn't pay attention, there would be a misunderstanding like Tiger's. Even though Perona knew that he didn't mean it, it still sounded unpleasant, so she used a negative ghost.

Either the domineering is strong enough to resist the influence of negative ghosts, or there are other bug-level abilities against negative ghosts, or it is very negative itself, otherwise there is no way to deal with negative ghosts.

Tiger does not belong to any of the above types, so he naturally became like this. "I'm very sorry, I made a mistake."

When the effect of negative ghosts ended, Tiger solemnly apologized to the two little fur tribes. There are two kinds of people who oppose racial discrimination. One is to hope that everyone will not discriminate against each other and live equally.

The other is to only object to being discriminated against. They are discriminating against other people while being discriminated against. This is the most hateful person. They are completely unworthy of sympathy for being discriminated against.

Otohime and Tiger both belong to the former, but the methods adopted are very different, and Aaron is wandering on the edge.

Most of the time in the latter area, in rare cases in the former, but now that Tiger is still alive, it can be regarded as being forcibly pulled back by Aaron, which made him make a big change.

Because he knows the pain of being discriminated against by the murlocs, Tiger knows that his words are similar to insulting words. Seeing his attitude is so sincere, Perona can't care about anything, so she let the bear wear her away with her younger siblings here.

「Are they orcs?」

「The fur tribe living on the back of the Zou giant elephant is similar to your murlocs in some ways, except that you are marine creatures and they are mammals.

The parents of the two little guys are the king of the fur tribe, and the girl named Perona is a human girl adopted by the fur tribe.

As you can see, the ideal of coexistence has long been realized here. These are the most beautiful aspects. Next, we will see the "evil" behind the beauty. "

Then Misu and Tiger left Jiuli and went to the last peripheral area of the Rabbit Bowl. There are not only weapons factories, but also the largest prison in Wano Country—the Rabbit Bowl Quarry.

「Most of them are pirates who challenged the beasts and defeated them. There are also some criminals. Depending on the mistakes they make, they have to pay for their sins through different labors, and use their physical strength to make up for the mistakes they made in the past.

Everything here is not obtained through prayer, but established through force. Without force, no matter how beautiful the ideal is, it is impossible to realize it. "

Their stay here is very short, because there is nothing to see here, and the same repetitive work is boring even if it is just to watch.

Then Tiger stayed here for a few more days, during which time he also saw the prosperity of the capital of flowers,

I even had a conversation with He Song, and I also sat in on a few history classes in the school in the Capital of Flowers, and gained some understanding of what happened that year.

During this period of time, he participated in small celebrations in Wano Country, and participated in a lot of labor with his own hands, but when Misu was going to take Tiger to Ghost Island to meet Arceus, he refused.

"Aren't you really going? The Lord is not that far away from us, and He's a very easy going person."

"No, Sister, you have sorted out the teachings and spread the faith in Wano, but I have nothing and have not made any contributions. What qualifications do I have to meet the Lord like this.

I have already decided, I have been decadent for too long, and even forgot my original purpose, I am an explorer."

Tiger told Misu about his plan. He planned to return to Murloc Island and take Aaron and the others to form a new expedition team.

Like the Knox expedition team who is out on an adventure, he plans to join the team looking for stone slabs. As a murloc, he has more advantages. At the same time, he also wants to go back to the murloc island to spread these ideas and contribute himself to the ideal future a force of

He is also an actionist himself. After he had his own goal, he didn't even wait for Mandelfish, but left here with the merchant ship of Beasts headed for Chambord, and before leaving, Misu gave him a lot of money. Less stuff.

"Master Holy Beast, the murloc has left. This is Sister Missu's evaluation of him. She thinks that Tiger has become a qualified priest and can spread new beliefs."

Although Misu has always been a nun, she is the only religious person with experience in the Arceus religion. The power she exercises in this religion is close to that of the Pope of the previous sect, but she always insists that she is just an ordinary person. Just nuns.

And Shaina's position in her heart is "God's Messenger", that is the goal of her struggle. There are not only art tools and books in her room, but also a lot of fitness equipment, and she is gradually working towards some strange directions. .

Arceus doesn't care much about this matter anymore, as long as he doesn't come up with any weird regulations, he will follow these people to do it himself.

"By the way, Master Saint Beast, Miss Yamato's ship has been built. Miss Yamato has been wanting to sail recently, and she named the ship Yamato."
