

Arceus 611

Chapter 611: Pokémon Creature Battleship

Jack has his own boat, and Yamato, who is stronger than him, is no exception. If it weren't for the higher demands on Yamato than others, she would have been able to sail alone.

But giving her this ship does not mean that she is qualified. The crew and sailors on the ship are still the ones assigned to her by Kaido and Arceus, and there is a high probability that there will be a senior cadre on board when traveling.

When all the personnel are arranged by herself, and she no longer needs to be accompanied by other people, she is officially qualified.

This ship is just a staged reward, so she doesn't need to take another ship when she travels, and it can be regarded as a little recognition of her strength.

just the name

「Eh? Why not? Can't you name the ship after yourself?」

Soon, Yamato received a negative answer, and the name of the ship "Yamato" she had thought of was rejected.

"Miss Yamato, I heard that Master Arceus personally vetoed it, because it is unlucky to use this name on a ship name, so I want you to think of a name again."

Some Yamatos are really strong, but there is one very special existence among many Yamatos.

The tonnage and firepower of a certain Yamato are the highest in the world, and the sinking speed is also the same. It claims to be unsinkable under the cover of artillery fire, and it does not end well.

Yamato's ships are not very large. According to her own wishes, she doesn't want to take too many people out to sea. Simple and easy-to-operate ships are the best, so her ships are the smallest in the cadre sequence, probably Sunshine triple the number.

Compared with the flagships of the little giants like Jack and Maria, Yamato's ships are miniature in size.

"No, I'm going to ask my adoptive father, Speed, feed me Kira for a while."

Handed over the feeding work to others, Yamato patted the dust off his hands and walked towards Onijima.

「Father, why, isn't the name Yamato not good?」

「They should have told you. The name of the person is okay, but the name of the ship... Yamato, you should think of a name again. Although it is a bit unscientific to say this, you still need to pay more attention to these things in the sea.

Arceus itself is the biggest unscientific thing, but this is a magical world where ship spirits can be born, and some unknown supernatural events often occur on the sea, and people who often sail on the sea avoid some things.

「If you really want to persist, it's not impossible, just strengthen the boat a bit more.」

Originally he was firmly opposed to this name, but looking at Yamato, he was a little disappointed. It is not impossible to change a name. As for those metaphysics, he also has a way to suppress it.

"Forget it, foster father, you have said so, I'll think of a name again. I think the name of Pokémon can also be used as a reference."

"Don't worry about it, I'll take you to visit your new ship."

The issue of the name of the ship was temporarily put on hold, and Arceus took Yamato to visit her new ship in person, but the direction of progress made Yamato feel a little wrong, because this is not a traditional dock, but an experiment in Linghou Seaside Quinn. room.

There are many laboratories in Chain in Wachino, the weapon and chemical laboratory in the rabbit bowl, the agricultural laboratory in Baiwu, and the mechanical laboratory here in Linghou.

「Father, isn't this a dock?

「Your ship is here. It is different from other ships. In fact, it is an experimental ship. Those scholars have also helped some in this regard.

Paleontologists also have a certain understanding of biology, and among those archaeologists, there are also talents who specialize in the study of ships, and there are many materials in the library of the new tree of omniscience.

Some of these documents are combined to be suspected of the manufacture of a warship, but the power system and weapon system are very incomplete and cannot be reproduced at all. According to this, the manufactured ship is likely to be an empty shell.

The existing power means to operate this kind of ship will be very cumbersome. On dangerous and great routes, the overly cumbersome iron ship does not have much advantage, and it will become very difficult to operate.

But at the request of Arceus

They still sorted out the design drawings according to that document, and built a metal battleship here.

The most difficult power and operation problems were solved by Arceus. Under the control of Arceus, this ship is not only an iron-clad ship, but also a biological warfare ship.

Because the core power of this ship is provided by Pokémon, which is also a new Pokémon created by Arceus-Prom.

Multi-cylinder Pokémon, the compound attribute of steel and poison, looks like a large engine. Plom Lom evolved from Prom Lom.

Birth of Poor Rumble is a special Pokémon that was born after a special Poison-type Pokémon got into an engine placed in an abandoned factory.

After this change, the body of steel is its main body, and its interior is a large cylinder. After evolving into Prom, the number of cylinders has also become eight. They transform it by eating rocks for motivation.

The members of the Skystar team in the Padia area made a special tank through the transformation of Prom, and Arceus used similar methods to transform Prom into the power core of the battleship.

Through the ability of Plum Loom, it is natural to be able to easily drive this ship, and this ship can be regarded as a different kind of steam ship.

However, its power is stronger, and any stone can be used as an energy source. Metals, toxins, and wine can be used as a backup energy source in an emergency, and it is much more stable than a steamship.

There is no need for a complicated boiler squad, just prepare minerals to feed it. Prom can also serve as the ship's fire control system, attacking the enemy with voice control.

But the linkage of the whole ship not only depends on Prom, but also the existence of Rotom. There are many Rotom-style engines inside, including the captain's room. The command can complete the voice control of the entire ship.

This aspect of the circuit was obtained after Quinn's transformation, which is why the ship was built here. Except for Quinn, no one in Beast can replace him.

"You don't want to bring too many people, so this ship perfectly fits your requirements. It only needs a few people to operate it. With your ability to communicate with Pokémon, you can even control the entire ship by yourself."

Before Arceus could finish speaking, Yamato had already jumped on the ship that belonged to her and looked up and down, which was just like a big baby to her.

Her eyes were already shining as she shuttled through different cabins. This is simply a dream battleship. It would be even better if it could transform.

Chapter 612: Miniature "Pluto", Altered Aaron

The function of deformation is impossible to appear in a short time. For a ship, such a function is a bit redundant, not to mention that this Prom is a type with specialized power, and its size is much larger than that of ordinary Prom. Many, almost occupying the entire power room.

"Father, will this ship be mine from now on?!"

「Yes, it is yours from now on, but if you want to sail more freely, you have to become stronger.」

After gaining a new motivation, Yamato's enthusiasm was ignited again, and he took the initiative to challenge Kaido, and this challenge also made Kaido feel very "gratified", and took the initiative to repay Yamato's enthusiasm with stronger power .

While the father and daughter were conducting familiar training, Arceus was also discussing with Quinn the issue of similar expansion of warships, and came to the conclusion that it was impossible.

Although Yamato has only recently acquired this ship, this ship has been in the construction sequence a long time ago. It has taken a long time from the design drawings to the processing and polishing of parts. At present, there is no possibility of expanding production. Some wooden sailboats are still the mainstream of ships.

The world government with the world's resources has not made great improvements in ships. Although Beasts has made some technological progress, there is still a long time to go before they can reach mass production.

"However, Lord Arceus, the documents of those scholars are seriously damaged. We only intercepted a part, but the documents are all connected. Why do I feel so similar to the legendary Pluto?"

Pluto, the king of the underworld, is said to be a super warship that can destroy an island with a single shot. It is called an ancient weapon and it was also created by manpower. Some of the records in the literature made Quinn feel familiar.

"Maybe that's how Pluto was built, but there's no need to force that thing, just take it out when you need it."

In fact, those documents are the construction methods of ancient warships. In a sense, Yamato's ship can also be regarded as a miniature Pluto, but it has lost the most critical firepower.

As for the real Pluto, it is actually hidden under Wano Country. Wano Country's closure also has the purpose of making Pluto disappear from people's sight. There is no need for it now, and you can naturally dig it out when you want to use it.

There is an elephant master who can communicate normally, and the special walls outside Heno are nothing.

"Then I will stop researching in this area. This is not my specialty. It is just a waste of time to continue."

"Continue with your previous project. There is no need to replace other warships immediately. The current situation is enough."

Quinn's research topic has returned to the previous direction again, and Yamato is competing with Kaido for a new round of voyages. There was no such thing at first, but the excited Yamato made Kaido have other thoughts. This time before the voyage, it added some difficulties to her.

In order to sail more smoothly, Yamato fell into a new round of tribulations, and the others had already left Onijima one after another.

The outer islands need to be garrisoned. Like leeks that enter the sea, they can't be harvested. Every year, there will be people who are not afraid of death to provoke them, and supernovas with real materials will appear from time to time.

Combined with the Pirate Alliance in the new world who is not willing to be a foil, these cadres still have a lot of work.

After taking Lusaka to visit most of the Wano country, Mandelfish also returned to the island where he was stationed to continue working. The exploration ship of the beasts also continued its mission in the direction of the four seas, and Tiger also started his own way of preaching.

He left here on a merchant ship of beasts, and it will take some time to return to Murloc Island. During this time, Aaron has already returned to Murloc Island, and has even lived in Murloc Street for a while. time.

The area where Mandelfish was stationed was not far from the Fishman Island, so there was not much time spent on the road. During this period of time, he also encountered some unpleasant things.

「Jinbe, did you choose to become a lackey of the Navy?」

After Tiger was rescued, he left the Sun Pirates and chose to disappear. In the eyes of the world government, this kind of Tiger is already dead.

After that, the problem of the Sun Pirates also needs to be dealt with.

Under the leadership of Jinbei, although the Sun Pirates did not do anything extraordinary, they are also an unstable factor that needs to be dealt with in the eyes of the world government.

But the characteristics of the murlocs make it difficult for them to deal with Jinping. If there are too few people, they can't beat them. If there are too many murlocs, they will dive and run away.

So at the World Conference in 1510, they discussed a result that allowed Jinbei to obtain the position of Shichibukai.

Jinbe's strength has been recognized by the world government, and most importantly, he is a murloc.

The location of Murloc Island is very important. The world government does not want Murloc Island to be completely separated from them. Now that Tiger is dead, the biggest contradiction has disappeared.

Letting Jinbei serve as Qiwuhai can not only show the strength of the world government, but also strengthen the harmony among the races.

Of course, this harmony is mainly for the members of the member countries. They want to take this opportunity to express the tolerance of the world government.

The conflict between races was originally caused by the inaction of the world government. At best, their behavior is to paste a piece of paper on the surface of the hole they hollowed out.

For the murlocs, this position is also beneficial.

From Otohime's point of view, this can promote the understanding of the race, from Tiger's point of view, this can get some secret information, and from Jinbe's point of view, this means that members of the Sun Pirates don't have to run around all the time, and can safely stay on Fishman Island.

After comprehensive consideration, Jinbe still took this position. This happened not long ago, and Tiger knew about it, but they didn't tell Aaron.

Aaron's reaction was within Jinbe's expectations, but he was not angry, and even a little relieved, because this time Aaron said "the lackey of the world government" instead of "the lackey of human beings".

Different words mean different attitudes. This word shows that Aaron regards part of human beings as enemies, not all human beings are enemies.

Jinbe knows Aaron's character very well, and he can say that already means that he has undergone a certain change.

「I discussed this matter with Brother Tai, and he agrees to it.」 「Did Brother Che agree to this kind of thing?」

Hearing that Tiger agreed, Aaron naturally had nothing to refute, but Jinbe's next sentence made him annoyed.

"Aaron, your guy's concept of human beings seems to have changed."

Chapter 613: extreme

Aaron can't beat Shiping, his appeal is not as good as Shiping, and his character is not as good as Shiping, but he just doesn't accept Zhiping.

In the past when the two were in the united front, Aaron was quite convinced of Jinbe, but as Jinbe's views changed, the two also broke.

Now under the influence of Tiger and Mandelfish, he has also undergone a little change. He also accepted some of Tiger's preaching, but he couldn't accept Jinbe's preaching.

As for Jinbe's force, he can be said to be confident, no matter how unpleasant the quarrel is, Jinbe will just beat him up, and most of the time, Jinbe won't do anything, and he gets used to this method over time.

In the past, when he heard Jinbe say this, he had countless ways to refute the other party, but this time it was different. He couldn't say anything when the words came to his lips. In the end, he walked straight to Murloc Street without saying anything.

"Brother Jinbei, you are too tolerant of that fellow Aaron, he has no respect for you at all."

Some murlocs next to them couldn't stand it any longer. It was Shipe Shichibukai's position that gave them the freedom to go home.

Without this level of identity, they were very worried about whether their identity as pirates would affect the future of Murloc Island. Even if they were homesick, they chose to be patient and drifted on the sea.

With Shichibukai's identity, it's different. As a legal pirate recognized by the world government, Jinbe has reached a partial agreement with the world government. The most basic clause is not to pursue their past behavior.

With this guarantee, the scruples of the members of the Sun Pirates are naturally much less, and Jinbe, who bears all this, has also won their respect.

Even if there is no such thing, as the second-generation captain of the Sun Pirates, Jinbei's strength and responsibility have won the respect of the murlocs.

"It doesn't matter, that guy has this virtue, and he has changed. Change is a good thing. Let's prepare things. Brother Tai will be back in a few days."

Jinbe took several members of the Sun Pirates to the shopping street of Fishman Island, preparing to purchase some banquet supplies, but the appearance of a Neptune Army changed the next plan.

"Boss Jinpei, Princess Otohime wants to discuss something with you, do you have time now?"

He is not only the captain of the current Sun Pirates, but also the captain of the former Sea King Army. Many people in the Sea King Army also use the title of Boss Jinbe.

"It's nothing, I'll go directly with you, Aladdin, you and the others go shopping."

Jinbe didn't ask the soldier Otohime what he wanted from him. Since the soldier didn't take the initiative to mention it, he must not be very clear about it, and the matter Otohime discussed with him also exceeded his expectations.

「Having a wedding?」

「Yes, isn't the wedding of mermaids and humans very meaningful? The amusement park in Mandelfisch made many people feel happy, and everyone's prejudices were reduced a lot.

I remember that it was his private domain, people always go there and it is very disturbing, we have nothing to help them, I heard that they plan to hold a re-wedding on Fishman Island this year, I want to make it more grand . "

Murloc Island is a country with a population of 5 million, and it is also a big country on the great route. The wedding that Otohime wants to organize in person will naturally be much more grand than ordinary weddings.

On the one hand, this is her feedback for Mandelfish's help, on the other hand, she also wants the residents on the island to see that humans and mermaids also have a beautiful side, and not everyone is what they imagined. *.

"This kind of thing. Princess, you and King Neptune can make up your own mind, right?"

「Otohime thinks this is easy, but I think it is very difficult. After all, there are still many people in Murloc Island who are very resistant to humans. If you plan such an event rashly, it may not please both sides if you are not careful.

You spend more time sailing outside and know more about Murloc Street, so we decided to refer to your opinion. "

If other people's lifelong events are done, everything is easy to talk about. If something goes wrong, it will be a feud. Neptune feels that the current Murloc Island is not suitable for holding such activities, but he and Otohime have their own opinions. Only then did we find an outsider.

「It is true that hatred will not disappear so easily. My suggestion is not to make such a large scale. Just invite some citizens who are willing to give blessings to participate. The current step is not suitable for taking too big.

Brother Tiger will come back in a few days, so there won't be any troubles on Murloc Street. "

Jinbe's suggestion was more moderate, but it still favored Neptune's side, but what he said was also reasonable, so after comprehensive consideration, Otohime decided to refer to their opinions.

But they didn't pay attention, there was a guard next to him with a bad expression.

What they were discussing was not a confidential matter, and there was no need to dismiss the people around them. It is normal that there are guards on duty in the Sea King Palace, but the problem is that the name of this guard is Hody Jones.

Also born in Murloc Street, the 19-year-old joined the Neptune Army in order to train himself, but he is an even more extreme racist than Aaron.

Aaron hates humans, but he will not harm his compatriots. He has always been very close to the murlocs, but Hody is different. His thinking is much crazier than Aaron's.

In addition to humans, mermaids and murlocs who are close to humans should be erased in his opinion.

In Murloc Island, most people admire Otohime, but Hody is an exception. In his eyes, Otohime is the biggest sinner in Murloc Island, and the ideas she advocates are all wrong.

As the king of the sea, he would occasionally appear beside Otohime, but Otohime's knowledgeable color did not detect his heart, this is related to Otohime's character, she has no hobby of spying on other people's hearts, and most of the time she does not use it that ability.

As long as she has enough ambition, the ability comparable to other gods will definitely play a greater role.

Mermaids and murlocs who are close to humans are existences that should be erased for Hodi, not to mention Otohime who wants to contract the wedding for Mandelfish and Rusaka who is married to humans.

He didn't show it in front of these people, but today was his day off, and when he got off work and returned to his residence on Murloc Street, his face was already full of resentment.

Until a figure appeared in his eyes, there was a hint of joy on his face, because he saw the person he admired most—Aaron.

"Brother Aaron!"

「Huh? You're Hody, what's the matter?」

Hody looked around, brought Aaron to his stronghold, and then said with a little excitement:
"Brother Aaron, you are finally back, those guys are crazy.

Jinbe, too, and Otohime, too, they are too close to humans, and even want to hold a wedding for humans and mermaids, that kind of guy should be wiped out! "

Chapter 614: Gulan Tezolo, the mysterious family of Draconians

「A mermaid married to a human?」

"Well, brother Aaron, you also think this kind of person is unreasonable, right?"

Aaron did feel that something was wrong, but the person he thought was wrong was Huo Di.

Otohime has been carrying out her own activities a long time ago, but only recently has she made some progress. Not to mention the mermaid who married a human being, the last mermaid who had a close relationship with human beings had to be traced back to the era of the previous generation of Neptune.

The word marrying a human is equivalent to naming names in Murloc Island, and there is no other person except Rusaka.

But Huo Di didn't notice the change in Aaron's expression, and he was still talking about himself. "Recently, those people are still going to those human amusement parks. What's so good about human things? The upper echelons of Murloc Island have gone crazy. They have forgotten that murlocs are the most noble species, and those humans should be humbled Step on your feet.

Only the trash likes Human Paradise. "

Aaron's face darkened when he said this, and Huo Di thought he was moved by himself.

"Brother Aaron, let's take action, you should lead Murloc Street to make changes! Those guys should be eliminated, they insulted the Murloc bloodline!"

At this time, Aaron suddenly understood how Xia Li felt when he saw him before. Huo Di's words became very harsh in his ears, especially when he insulted people who like amusement parks. Isn't this just talking about him?

The other murlocs may have only been there once or twice, and he was the only one who stayed in it, and Hody's removal plan seemed to be wrong.

According to the area he delineated, it seems that he is also the target of being eliminated.

Tiger is his eldest brother, and Tiger has always advocated not to blindly hate humans.

Aaron himself is also a frequent visitor to the amusement park, and Xia Li and Mandelfish seem to have an unclear relationship, so what is he as Xia Li's brother?

But Hody is a murloc after all, Aaron didn't do anything, and calmly patted Hody on the shoulder when he was very excited.

「Hoddy, you are too radical, how can you do that to your compatriots?」 「Brother Aaron」

"And it's just going to the amusement park. It's nothing. Who doesn't like to play? There are many jerks in human beings, but there are also one or two good people among them. Your ideas are still too immature."

Then Aaron left here directly, not paying attention to Huo Di's words at all. There are many people who dare to say such words in Murloc Street, but none of these people have put them into action, at most they have had a mouthful.

He used to fight some human pirates near Murloc Island, and then lived in the Sun Pirates led by Tiger. Besides, he is just a weirdo, and he still knows that he is on the great route. horizontal.

The target he talks about the most is Shibe, because Jinbe won't do anything to him, and the safety factor is very high.

Looking at Aaron who left, Hody didn't call him, but the way Hody looked at Aaron has changed, and there is no previous worship in it.

"Brother Aaron, you have also been corrupted. The murlocs still have to be saved by me."

He was indoctrinated with the idea that human beings are monsters since he was a child. There are many such people in Murloc Street, so Jinbe does not recommend Otohime to make too much noise at this stage.

But those people are not as affected as Hodi. Hodi himself has not been persecuted, but he is the craziest one, and the things he believes will not change at all.

Hody didn't take any action immediately, and started to plan something.

Tiger and Mandelfish are still on their way back, but on the Red Earth Continent, Tezzolo got a seemingly luxurious paper, with this, the follow-up plan can continue to be implemented.

「Haha, Tezolo, you are a real guy. If you have such a relationship, you should have said it earlier, then I won't have to work hard to help you deal with those things.」

「I have nothing to do with them, maybe they just like it.」

"How come, that's Tianlong people, forget it, I will give you a gift when you open."

「The gift is free, but come and play often.」

「Sure, sure, I still have work to do, see you later.」

An official-looking person left in front of Tezolo, still looking very respectful, and then Tezolo returned to his place and put the piece of paper on the table.

"Xiaobai, don't touch that, that license took me a lot of work." "Meow?"

"In short, it is very important, you should go outside to bask in the sun first."

Holding the cat boss to the cat climbing frame on the balcony, Tezolo looked at the special license again. "How did it go so smoothly this time? Didn't you say that someone was tripping you up?"

Stella brought Uta back here. Except for Xin Duoli who has a separate house because of her age, Ann and Uta lived with them in a semi-adopted state. I have been busy for a long time.

「Is it Baccarat's luck?」

"Probably not. This time, a family of Tianlong people suddenly let go. Of course, those people dare not make trouble with Tianlong people, but I haven't had much contact with this family. Maybe they also value the benefits."

This license is actually a ship certificate, or an independent certificate, which Tezolo prepared for that entertainment city.

The huge ship that took several years to build is now mostly completed, and the Gulan Tezolo is ready to make its maiden voyage, waiting for such an approval.

Normal ships naturally don't need to do this kind of thing, but the Gulan Tezolo is ten kilometers long. It is a ship in name, but it is actually a floating sea city.

Without the acquiescence of the world government, such a ship cannot sail and operate at sea, and Tezolo is busy with this matter.

He hates the Celestial Dragons, but what he can use most is the power of the Celestial Dragons. His goal is to replace taxation with a piece of heavenly gold, and make this place the economic center of the underground world.

The previous official just wanted to make more money in the process. Originally, he was almost successful, but there was a sudden change at the top. The Flender family suddenly intervened to support Tezolo's behavior.

The intervention of the Flender family also affected some things. Tezolo originally used money to establish contacts with some Tianlong people. With this relationship, he earned a lot of money and brought huge benefits to the Tianlong people. .

Because they were worried that Tezolo, the cash cow, would leave, they also directly agreed to this matter. With the support of the two families, the world government naturally gave the green light all the way, and Gulan Tezolo directly changed from a ship to a special ship. independent country.

Chapter 615: gray center of the future

The descendants of 19 of the 20 kings who formed the world government 800 years ago, they call themselves "descendants of the Creator" and become today's Tianlong people.

Tianlong people are not individuals, but these 19 families, and the Don Quixote family with many special cases is one of them.

Dad said, use magic to defeat magic, so use Draco to deal with Draco.

Tianlongren are the ultimate privileges in this world. For the current development, Tezolo has to hold back his temper and make false claims to those Tianlongren, and feed those vicious dogs so that he can act conveniently.

But Tianlong people are not so easy to get in touch with. They look down on everything except Tianlong people. Tezolo has been in contact with a family for so many years.

The development of Beast Fruit has also used them to a certain extent, because they are the only choice, so this family has always been very proud of Tezolo.

But the Tianlong people are not only trash, they also have elites. These elites are the helm of the family and maintain the future of the family. more choices.

Tezolo brought them huge benefits. In order to prevent the opposing family from snatching Tezolo, they changed some methods, but this family didn't know why the Flender family would suddenly intervene.

With the acquiescence of the two Celestial Dragon families, Gulan Tezolo has not only become an independent country recognized by the government, but also a demilitarized zone, an "absolute sanctuary" that the world government cannot take casually

With this, this place will surely become the economic center of the gray area.

Without Tezolo's consent here, it is illegal for the navy to enter with armed forces. This is Tezolo's absolute privilege.

Some non-affiliated countries tried their best to establish contact with the world government, but they couldn't do it at all, and Tezolo completed their untouchable goal in just a few days.

"Flander Tezzolo, is there any conspiracy here?"

"Whatever, even if it is a bait, it is worth eating. If someone is fishing, he will understand that fish can eat people. By the way, Uta, how are you preparing for your song?"

「It's okay, what's the matter?」

「Your debut is coming soon, Shanks will be able to see your performance in the face of the world's first show, so get ready.

「Really?! Then can I let Shanks watch?」

"If he is willing to come, I have no objection, but it depends on yourself. It will take some time for the first show. I will go back to Wano Country to discuss some things with Lord Arceus."

The approval procedures have been completed, the recruitment of manpower, the debugging of equipment, and many things are still under experimentation. It will take a lot of time for this giant ship to see the predetermined location, especially for some things. Finalize the details over there.

When he went to arrange the boat, Uta had already made a phone call excitedly, but came back disappointed not long after.

At this time, Tezzolo has left, only Stella is still here. "Little Uta, what's wrong?"

「Shanks said no, he said it was not the time yet.」

"Don't worry, believe in yourself, and you have an agreement, the world's number one singer needs time."

On the Redvers, Beckman lit his cigarette and looked at Shanks in front of him. "Aren't you really going? It's okay to meet once in a while, right?"

「No, she will be sad if she sees it like this.」

Pointing to his broken left arm, Shanks gave his own explanation. After Eregia, Shanks didn't make any big moves.

Although he was known as the person closest to the emperor of the sea at that time, after that, he disappeared a little bit, and there was no news about him in the newspapers. At least the news of his broken arm had not spread, only a few Acquaintances know.

These people are all shocked by his loss of an arm in the East China Sea, whether they are enemies or friends.

「By the way, what did you do a few days ago?

Straight and mysterious. "It's nothing, just a little thing."

After the rubber fruit was looted, Shanks began to enter the upper-level field of vision. After the Eregia incident, Shanks attracted more people's attention, which naturally included the World Government, and he only did a little thing.

And in the underground world of the New World, the news of the construction of the Gulan Tezolo almost caused a major earthquake. The "demilitarized zone" recognized by the government is simply a paradise for trading. It can be seen that the future underground economic center will inevitably transfer here .

Beast Fruit is the king of the underground world. With this ship, their position as the head of the underground kings can no longer be shaken.

There is still some time before the ship is officially launched, but the reporters sent by Morgans have already entered the Gulan Tezolo in advance, and have released the news of this entertainment city.

On the first day of business, the news that everything was free except for the casino also attracted the attention of many people. Tezolo, who returned to Ghost Island, was not only working out the relevant details, but also asked if anyone in Ghost Island wanted to participate in the opening ceremony.

「Is it okay for pirates to go to this kind of place?」

"Of course it doesn't matter. There are no pirates or navies on this ship. There are only guests. Ms. Yamato, my hard work these years is not in vain."

As long as the world government has not broken with them, the stability of this ship will not be broken. According to the information he received, the opening ceremony of this ship can be said to be a mixed bag, including almost all the forces in the underground world. Everyone is connected to the world government.

Unless the World Government wants to reshape the entire underground world, it will never do anything at this time. According to the list, even the members directly under the World Government are on it.

「Father, can I go play?」

"You can go if you want. You also have to familiarize yourself with the industries under our command. But Tezolo, is there any fighting or something like that on board?"

"Not yet, but Governor Kaido, you shouldn't be interested in that kind of battle, and your identity"

Ordinary pirates can go there, but if Kaido, the emperor of the sea, really appears on it, it will cause chaos.

"Hey, don't worry, I'm not interested, if there is any deathmatch project, remember to send Yamato to me."

The touch that finally appeared in Yamato's heart disappeared, and she knew that Kaido, his real father, would never have anything good to say.

"Okay, if anyone wants to go, you can take it with you at that time. You can discuss the rest with Arceus. I'd better go drink."

Kaido was not interested in this kind of entertainment boat. He just happened to be training Yamato, so he listened to the plan, and Tezolo also brought a few turtles to find Arceus, which he found on an island. of new species.

Chapter 616: A shape-shifting Pokémon appears

In addition to the muscular tortoise, Tezolo also brought golden bats and owls with glowing eyes. Tezolo took these strange animals to find Arceus.

「Are you robbing a rare beast island?」

Looking at the various strange species brought by Tezolo, Arceus was very puzzled where he got these strange creatures. Those golden bats only looked a little vicious, but the turtles and owls were different.

Those tortoises have well-developed muscles on their limbs, and they can walk on two legs like a kappa. This is not only the muscular turtles that acted as locomotive engines in Tezolo's original timeline, but also the power source for many things on Gulan Tezolo.

Before, the way he ordered those turtles was to enslave them, using electric shocks to make them work, and he completely controlled them through golden fruits.

But now Tezolo is not so extreme, he will not do this kind of enslavement, and his golden fruit has not yet been cultivated to the point of awakening.

Now Tezzolo lacks absolute control over Gulan Tezolo, which is why he came here, he wants to get some assistance from Arceus.

「Someone accidentally discovered a rare animal island in the windless zone while sailing before, and it was full of such strange species, and this owl.

Master Arceus, look, their eyes can emit red light and have the function of infrared scanning. When they find enemies, they will send out an alarm, but they can only detect living bodies. "

As they spoke, they also showed off the abilities of these owls. When living creatures appeared in their sight, these owls began to hoot one after another, and the hooting one after another seemed to convey a secret signal.

"In addition, I also met two giant turtles, they can pull the boat like the snakes of the nine snakes, the owl and the bat are okay, I plan to put those bats in some drains of the boat to deal with some thieves .

Owls can also be placed in some key places as alarms, and their numbers are not particularly large. These muscular turtles are the main race on that island.

They can even act as a power source for karts, I intend to make this a project of Gulan Tezolo, but how to communicate with these turtles is a problem. "

「How did you bring them here? I don't think they have any intention of resisting.」

The intelligence of those bats and owls is not high, but Arceus felt a lot of intelligence from these muscular turtles, and they all came here voluntarily with Tezolo, and they didn't mean to be coerced.

「Because the island is in the calm zone, supplies are very tight. The food for these turtles seems to be a little insufficient. I used food to make some deals with them.」

"Wait a minute."

Tezolo's ability to control a large amount of economy is inseparable from this ship. In addition to the fruits of the beasts, this ship can also bring huge benefits to the beasts.

Guests from all over the world also mean a more complicated intelligence network, so Arceus doesn't mind handling some troubles for Tezolo, such as negotiating with these muscle turtles.

There are many magical species in the world of Pirates. The snails of the phone bug are one kind. They like to be fed by humans and are voluntarily transformed into phone bugs. Some agreement was reached.

Muscle turtles are divided into three shifts, and each shift will work eight hours a day, but they must provide three meals and snacks a day.

They drink milk in the morning and have an hour break between shifts.

They still need wages, bonuses are paid twice a year, special annual leave is required, and wages have to be increased proportionally. Gulan Tezolo needs to have a dedicated turtle shop, and their basic rights must be guaranteed.

Looking at these bargaining tortoises, Arceus suddenly felt that they were very interesting, so he agreed to these conditions that were not too excessive. These tortoises seemed to have no clear economic concepts, and the requirements for wages were not very high, as long as they were enough. Just eat and drink.

According to their descriptions, the number of turtles on that island has reached the limit, so they followed Tezolo after they met him to see if there was any other way out.

with this

After some social animal turtles reached a cooperation, Arceus sent them to the fire brigade and asked them to communicate with the Squirrel who is also a turtle.

...

「I'll prepare you a Zapping Beast and a few Rotoms, so you don't have to worry about most of the problems. How's the business going?」

"Don't worry, Lord Arceus, the policy has been set at the beginning. Our goal is to be the largest intermediary platform, and then use this platform to promote our things. We will not touch those businesses that you don't like.

The biggest income should still be the casino, I will let those guys who eat us spit out the money intact. "

He refers to those officials of the world government. They have been corrupt all these years, and now it is time to collect debts again.

As for the revenue of the casino, ten gambles and nine cheats, the organizers of the casino have rich experience in gambling, but Tezolo does not need those technologies. With Baccarat, he is invincible in the casino.

If the opponent is really lucky, he admits it. They can afford to lose in this respect, but if they dare to play tricks, he will not be polite.

In the face of absolute luck, some small tricks are useless.

"Tuizao racing is a new project. Although it is similar to horse racing, this novel method should attract many people to come."

Casinos need their own flair, which is why Tezolo hired these muscular turtles, which are more eye-catching than ordinary horse-drawn carriages.

"In this case, let me support you with a unique project. Motorcycle racing should be a good project."

A green Pokémon appeared in front of Tezolo. It looked like an ordinary lizard, but it had a special tire-like structure on its chest.

This is the Motor Lizard, a gentle Pokémon who is very good at running and can even transform into a motorcycle-like form for special movement.

They are very special, very different from ordinary cold-blooded animals. They use the body temperature of the human sitting on their backs to warm the blood on their backs to rejuvenate them.

The fastest speed when carrying people can reach 120k per hour. The hard head and flexible thick tail not only help to ease the impact of running and maintain balance, but also a powerful means of attack in battle.

With their addition, even no-rule motorcycle races can be held on Gulan Tezolo, and the win or loss is completely under Tezolo's control.

Chapter 617: Motorcycle Lizard Patrol Corps, "Exercise both kindness and strength"

In the eyes of outsiders, casinos have countless uncertainties. There are always people who want to get rich overnight, but that is simply impossible. Random probability in the eyes of outsiders does not exist for the organizers, and everything is under control.

The size of the motorcycle lizard is larger than the original shape, which is to adapt to the size of people in this world. Otherwise, according to the original body size, the motorcycle lizard is only suitable for ten-year-old children to ride.

But those little giants are still not eligible for the competition. Their body size has nothing to do with the competition. The enlarged body size is mainly to allow "normal people" who are about three meters tall to participate.

Participants compete for prize money, onlookers bet on the winner, and there is only enough uncertainty for those to dare compete on this wager.

Beasts cannot control all riders, but these motorcycle lizards are individuals who can understand orders.

「You should teach them how to play match-fixing games before you start business. It's boring if you lose too obviously.」

Then Arceus looked out the window. After the motorcycle lizard appeared, Yamato became very interested in this kind of transformable Pokémon. Although it is not as cool as a mech, it also has enough cool characteristics. .

At this time, she was running along the coast of Onijima like a drag racing gang, quite like a gangster.

"Yes, I understand, you don't have to worry about this."

"Cultivate a group of professional riders from trustworthy people, let them partner with fixed motorcycle lizards, and serve as Gulan Tezolo's patrol guards in the future, don't underestimate them, these little guys also have fighting power, they It's also a dragon."

Motor Lizards, riding Pokémon, dragon-like attributes, although they look like ordinary lizards, but there is also dragon blood flowing in their bodies, plus the unique transformation ability, they can form a special motorcycle troop, speed up "half The construction of the Mechanized Corps.

Like the air cavalry of the Millennium Dragon, it has become a very special unit within Hundred Beasts.

It's just that the millennium dragon and air cavalry can fly, and there is no inconvenience in moving on the sea. Although the motorcycle lizard can swim, it mainly moves on land, and there are too many restrictions on the sea.

The sea city of Gulan Tezolo just gave them space to move around, and the seemingly friendly motorcycle lizards can also become the mounts of the fierce guardian.

High maneuverability brings Gulan Tezolo more safety.

「I'll pick the right people after I go back. There are still many people like this in the pirate group.」

The members of the partner Pokémon are all old beasts. In this case, they will definitely choose their own people first, such as some pirates who are too old to fight in the front line and start to transfer to the second line.

Only the cadres of the pirate group with a scale of tens of thousands are wanted. After they change places, no one knows who they are.

「There is one last thing, the relevant manpower is almost ready, right?」

「Basically ready, the final test is short, do you have any other arrangements?」

"Arrange a package for Yamato, let her understand what it means to lose every bet."

Gambling is also very popular among pirate groups. None of Beast's top management likes to gamble, except for Kaido who is an alcoholic. Although there are many eccentric personalities among the chief cadres of Beast, they are really good at things like pornography, gambling and drugs. Not a single one, not even a drunk. 3

The poison of Quinn's research weapon is obviously not the same as the poison above.

Yamato's childhood has long passed, and the things she comes into contact with in adolescence have become more diverse. In order to prevent her from suffering in the future, Arceus decided to let her learn a lesson from Tezolo.

"I understand what you mean, please rest assured, Ms. Yamato can't win."

...

Tezolo left Ghost Island with all kinds of strange species, and began to gather retirees from Hundred Beasts in Wano Country, intending to train a group of motorcycle lizard rangers.

Yamato didn't keep the motor lizard, the deformation of the motor lizard was much worse than Genesect's flight mode, and it couldn't fly yet.

With Genesect, she is not interested in it, at this time she is asking others if they want to join her

Went to the opening ceremony, but didn't get much response.

「Don't you all want to go?!」

「Mr. Kaido won't go again, I'd better stay on Onijima.」

Maria tuned the strings of a large shamisen and rejected Yamato, while Jack's reason was more straightforward.

"I'm going to train, I'm not interested in that entertainment boat, recently there seem to be more pirates who dare to provoke us, I want to let those guys know what terror is."

「Really, are you all so boring? Xiaopei, Ulti, are you going?」

「I'll go as soon as Xiaopei goes, it looks like it's quite interesting.」

Time made them more familiar. She no longer refuted the fact that other people called Peggy Wan Xiaopei. They were all acquaintances, and it was useless to refute, so she accepted it.

「I want to go, I want to try this competition.」

Peggy Wan held a promotional poster of Tezolo in his hand, with the words of fishing competition on it.

Besides the three of them, Zeraora and Setsuna also plan to take their children there for a trip, but there is a special person added to the travel list of Beasts - Kozuki Hiyori.

「Jin, are you serious?」

Shaina looked at Jhin in front of her and was a little puzzled. Guangyue Rihe's affairs were handled by him, and his ability to report this name meant that he thought it was feasible.

"You should know she's just a puppet." "I know, but that's our place, and I don't think she stands a chance when I'm with Zeraora."

Moreover, we have given her enough deterrence, and she has cooperated enough over the years. You understand the principle of combining kindness with force. It is not in our best interests to detain her there. "

The attitude of the puppet is not important, but a puppet that actively cooperates is obviously much easier to use than a puppet with a rebellious heart. This is the judgment that Jhin has actually controlled the Flower City over the years. He believes that it is beneficial to give the other party benefits appropriately. future development.

"but..."

"Let the Holy Beast make the decision. If he agrees, you don't have to worry about it."

「That's right, just wait a minute.」

Jhin can go directly to Arceus without any problem, but this is an inherent process. If there is no major issue, it is usually the secretary Shaina who conveys similar things.

In the end, Arceus did not veto this proposal. Just as Jhin said, there is no problem in giving some benefits appropriately, and the strength of the personnel on the list is also sufficient to deal with special circumstances.

Jin and Zeraora's two normalized disaster combat powers, plus the disaster combat power planted by Instant Explosion, unless there is a combat power of the scale of an admiral, there will be no accidents at all.

Chapter 618: Internal beta testers and the competition for "public beta" places

Some people from Hundred Beasts followed Tezolo out of Ghost Island like a tourist group. Today, Gulan Tezolo has not yet officially opened. These people can be regarded as internal beta experience personnel.

"By the way everyone, you can play freely at this stage, but please bear with it for a while until the official start day, you may see some annoying guys."

「Annoying guy?」

"Well, Tianlong people, those people will also participate in the first day's activities. They are really annoying, but they are still useful to us now. I will send them away as soon as possible. It will only take about ten minutes."

Tianlong people are also very contradictory creatures. On the one hand, they like to join in the fun, but on the other hand, they disdain to be in the same air with ordinary people, so Tezolo created a special space for Tianlong people on a high place, and the glass cover covers them. Isolated from the outside world.

In this way, out of sight and out of mind, you don't have to worry about these guys being annoying, you can avoid risks, and you can also collect an IQ tax from them.

This space claims that even the air is compressed air imported from Marie Gioia, which perfectly suits the needs of Tianlong people. Naturally, such a configuration will charge a high fee.

To save trouble, just deduct it from the heavenly gold, and Tezolo is earning money back in this way.

What is the difference between the air in Mariejoia and the air in other places? Tezolo doesn't know. He only knows that this face project can make money from the Tianlong people, and those guys believe it.

For this reason, he even specially prepared a few employees, and the task was to collect air in Mariejoia with a machine that no one knew what to do.

There are a lot of people accompanying them, except for the various rare species brought by Tezolo, the partners of the motorcycle lizards, and the family members of the cadres, such as the two children of Zeraola, Bebo and Perona who help to look after the children, see Perona's wearing a bear.

Kozuki Hiyori's servants and retainers, the treatment in the palace of the Flower City is good, but the life of confinement for too long will make people crazy, and no matter how prosperous the prison is, it can't change the essence of the prison.

Kozuki Hiyori himself was very excited about being able to go out and leave the Flower City. Even if his retainers were a little worried, they had no way to interfere with the lord's decision.

When the closed beta players started to go to Gulan Tezolo, other people began to make reservations for the "public beta". Some nobles, wealthy businessmen from all over the world, and ordinary residents on the red land wanted to open a shop in Gulan Tezolo. Everyone took action.

However, it is the underground world that has the largest flow of people.

"President Morgans, do you really want to lead the team for such a trivial matter? And is it necessary to bring so many people?"

A reporter looked at the dozens of people behind Morgans. They were almost all the main force of the World Economic News Agency, and they were all Morgans' capable officers in various departments.

"What are you talking about, there will be a lot of big people gathered this time, someone will always be interested in this kind of thing, and you may never have the chance to go to that kind of place for free in your life, I'm planning with you Welfare."

As journalists, they have certain privileges, such as access to some luxurious places. Morgans took this opportunity to hold the team building of the World Economic News Agency.

"You have been following the *** for several years. Let me remind you first that you may see a lot of things this time. Remember not to take photos randomly. If you really want to offend people who shouldn't be offended, then I can't save you."

After exhorting, these reporters also embarked on their own road of team building, and other "kings" of the dark world also took action, and Stuci was one of them, and she even had some secret orders from the world government .

Du Field, Umit, and Kibson have all received invitations. For the purpose of expanding their business network, these people also got up and moved, but the big-handed undertaker-Draco Piccolo did not receive the invitation , because it is too unlucky.

It is not a good sign to have a killer come over at the opening ceremony. Even the BIG MOM Pirates sent several cadres to Gulan Tezolo, and they also had a lot of business by taking advantage of the meeting of a large number of underground world leaders. to talk.

Although the area of Gulan Tezolo is huge, there is a limit to the number of people it can accommodate

Yes, these people are on the invitation list, and other people need tickets if they want to board the ship.

For ordinary people, this is the opening of a large amusement park, and it doesn't matter whether they go or not, but it's different for some people, such as Doflamingo.

At this time, he took the family cadres and broke into the home of a wealthy businessman on the island.

「Sir, could you please hand over the ticket?」

Tezolo's warm-up operation was very successful. Gulan Tezolo's tickets were sold out. In order to get the tickets, Doflamingo did not hesitate to use force.

Before that, he successfully became the dealer of Beasts in a region, but this kind of dealer is just a matter of words for Beasts. He doesn't want to be rushed to do it. Now Doflamingo is not qualified to be invited at all. .

But he has to go, he has noticed how many people will appear here at this party, this is an opportunity to integrate into the New World circle, which is extremely helpful to the things he is planning.

Took the ticket from the other party's trembling hand, and Doflamingo left here directly. He did everything based on his mood, and he didn't make a decision to silence him when the other party was very cooperative.

"Dover, do you really want to go alone?" Will act there, and the pirates will not go to trouble at this time.

Even if there are people who don't know how to live or die, it is impossible to cause any storms on the boat, otherwise all the beasts will lose face. "

Doflamingo guessed right, that's why Beasts sent several cadres to travel. If that ship was attacked by pirates, it would be an insult to Beasts.

Draconians have a special escort, a team of navy and CP also followed the pace of Draconians to Gulan Tezolo, but there are some strange people mixed in here, the current CP5 chief - Spandam.

He was able to travel with this team is the result of Spandain's efforts, and some officials of the world government also regarded this operation as a public tour.

Not to mention that there are some world nobles gathered here. Spandain let Spandam accompany him to let him have a relationship with other people. He has paved the way for Spandam in the future, and even entrusted his relationship Several new members of CP9 were transferred.

Chapter 619: The IQ tax of Tianlong people

The eight departments from CP1 to CP8 are special agencies of the world government, but the weight of these eight agencies is not comparable to that of CP9 and CPO. Now Spandam is the chief of CP5, and Spandine's purpose is to let him Become the chief of CP9.

But Spandam's force value is hopeless. As long as he is a normal person who has been trained, his combat power is greater than that of Spandam.

According to the customs and habits of the Pirate World, the head of a violent organization like CP9 must also be a person with superior force, but Spandain's power gives him room to manipulate.

If the chief can't fight, it would be good if his subordinates can fight. It's just that Spandam is not very happy now, because he is being looked down upon by his own people.

This year, Rob Lucci is just 19 years old, but he entered CP9 with excellent task indicators at the age of 13, and he has already secured the title of strongest at this time.

The world government brainwashed him very successfully. Spandain also transferred him here on the grounds of learning how to protect the Tianlong people. He respected the Tianlong people because it was an order from the world government.

But Spandam is only the chief of CP5, not to mention that he is not the chief of his own department, even if he is his immediate boss, Lu Qi will still choose to ignore him.

Tezolo was at the front of the team, leading the two Celestial Dragons to their special space.

"St. Lyman, Palmyra Palace, this way please, your custom room is here."

For the sake of bloodline purity, Tianlong people have been intermarrying among nineteen internal families. The identities of wives or husbands of other people except Tianlong people are only in name, and they are just playthings in essence, and they will not be valued by Tianlong people at all.

The two Celestial Dragons, a man and a woman, happened to be people from two different families who were interested in this, and then Tezolo led them to the door of a glass passage.

"You two, this is the passage leading directly to the special VIP room. It is filled with air just shipped from Marie Gioia. You can take off your mask here."

Pamela of the Flanders family didn't make any move, but Lehman took off his helmet after entering, a little bit to tell Tezzolo to stand firm and not be deceived by people from other families.

"Yes, you are much smarter than those untouchables, so it makes sense to spend money like this, Pamela, don't you try it? It is indeed the air in the Holy Land."

The same air circulates all over the world. Without the influence of special factors, there is no difference between them, but the arrogance of the Tianlong people makes them refuse to breathe the same air as ordinary people.

Among the Tianlong people, some people even think that it is an honor for outsiders to serve them as slaves, so that they can obtain the qualification to breathe the air of Mariejoia.

Tezolo's psychological suggestion made them have an illusion. Under the persuasion of the Tianlong companion, another companion also walked into the passage and took off his hood.

It took a lot of money to build this passage, but it can solve a lot of troubles. This passage leads directly to the Tianlong people's special area, and they will not have contact with ordinary people if they take this road.

This is not to protect the Tianlong people, but to protect ordinary people. The Tianlong people have always been arrogant and arrogant, and they want to take whatever they see. Most of the humans who are targeted by them do not end well.

Tezolo couldn't watch others being taken away by the Tianlong people to become slaves, and now he couldn't change everything. Turning them into ashes directly would affect the development of the company, so he came up with such a method.

As long as you walk through this connection, the Tianlong people will be isolated alone, but many things will not go so smoothly. The Tianlong people are used to using slaves as mounts. At this time, the slaves under Lyman seem to be unable to stabilize their bodies due to fatigue. , suddenly shook.

Slight shaking was nothing, but Tianlongren's expression became gloomy, and he directly drew his gun and shot at the slave under him, and didn't stop until the pistol's magazine was emptied.

Gulan Tezolo forbids the use of force. This rule is obviously useless to the Tianlongren. The people around are as used to it. No one stops the Tianlongren, and no one dares to interfere with him.

Tezolo looked at the slave on the ground with a slightly complicated expression. Looking at the marks on his body, this man should have been a pirate before, maybe is still a heinous ***, but this is not the reason for Tezolo's entanglement.

He struggled because he didn't see fear on the corpse's face, but an expression of relief.

Moreover, he also found a troublesome thing. At the same time as the gunshot, there was an exclamation sound from around. girl.

It was Kozuki Hiyori who couldn't help but let out an exclamation. She had very little experience and hadn't seen many dead people. Even the prisoner who was sentenced to death in Wano was because he committed a capital crime.

But the reason why the other party killed just now made her unable to understand.

She is a woman who can be an oiran, not to mention anything else, beauty is an essential requirement for being an oiran, even though she is only 15 years old, she still attracts the attention of Tianlong people.

At this time, Tezuolo saw the person next to her, so he made a gesture, and the next moment, Kozuki Hiyori disappeared out of thin air as if he had evaporated.

"Huh? Was there a woman there just now? I still want her to be my thirty-second wife."

"Layman Saint, I think you are so angry with this slave that you are dazzled. Why don't you go to the VIP room first. There are many rare prizes prepared there."

The guards around did not speak either. It is best for the Tianlong people to forget about this matter. There is no need to cause trouble for themselves, and it may be a sin to say anything in front of the Tianlong people. Talking less is the best result.

Under Tezolo's flicker, the two Tianlong people left here again, and only brought a few guards with them, most of them were ordered to stay here.

Rob Lucci, who was left here, looked over there with a change in his eyes. He was not dazzled. Just now, a blue figure took the girl away directly. The speed was so fast that he only saw an afterimage.

"Okay, you guys, the Tianlong people have left, just do what you want, I will pay for all your consumption today!"

Spandam wanted to take this opportunity to establish a friendly relationship with these people, so he chose the most direct way, lure.

It's just that no one listened to him, and everyone turned their attention to Rob Lucci. For them, Lu Qi was the real conductor.

"Free activities, please exercise restraint, don't bankrupt the officer CP5."

Under Spandam's life-doubting eyes, the members of CP9 dispersed, which made Spandam feel like he was spending money to find guilt.

On the other side, Koga Ninja also appeared in the blind spot of the Tianlong people with Kozuki Hiyori.

Chapter 620 There are no pirates here, the one in front of you is not a pirate at all

The Royal Court Banzhong is the royal army of the general of the Wano country, and these people will naturally follow the general when he travels.

The only blue figure who can understand Tezoro's gestures and take Kozuki Hiyori away in an instant is Koga Ninja.

About a minute later, Denjiro, Kawamatsu, Kikunojo and other ninjas from the Imperial Court came up to catch up. The ordinary attendants were still standing by, and they couldn't react at all.

Do one thing and love one group, although Koga Ninja's task is to monitor, but unless there are other orders, he will definitely be responsible for protecting Kozuki Hiyori's safety.

"General Hiyori, this is not Wano Country, you have to be careful about some things."

"Why. Why did that person somehow kill another person?"

"Because he is a Celestial Dragon, this is the rule of the outside world. He is more free-wheeling than pirates, and he is completely legal in everything he does."

Koga Ninja has a much higher level of understanding of the outside world than these native Wano people. Even though he has never left Wano, he has other channels to understand what is happening outside.

"That guy's eyes should be on you, so General Hiyori, take a break for a while, those Tianlong people won't stay for too long, and continue other activities after they leave."

This is the communication he just received from Tezolo. These two Celestial Dragons are just going through the motions. There is not even a slave auction here. For them, their interest is directly halved, and they will leave soon.

In order to prevent any new moths from being created, he suggested that Hiyori wait to reappear.

Tezolo and Koga Ninja both know the current development policy of Beasts. If the Celestial Dragons really want to be monsters, they will not be able to compromise. Even if Hiyori is just a puppet, any problems with her will mean disgrace to Beasts .

At that time, they can only choose to attack the Tianlong people. Those people led by the Tianlong people will not be able to stop the people of the beasts. At that time, a big battle will break out in advance, so they chose to avoid risks and send the Tianlong people away as soon as possible.

After Koga Ninja objectively explained what kind of creature the Celestial Dragon is, Kozuki Hiyori chose to listen to the other party's opinion, which she is used to.

Jhin and Koga Ninja's words are suggestions, but there is basically no possibility for her to refute. Comparatively speaking, she is more willing to get along with Koga Ninja, because he is not like Jhin, who always speaks coldly, and is even very cold. interesting.

This involves a hot knowledge, because of the tongue problem, all Koga ninja frogs speak with big tongues, and their voices are naturally not cold.

In order to prevent the Tianlong people from doing something, Tezolo postponed some large-scale activities for a day. Although some tourists had opinions, they still chose to accept the temptation of a day of free board and lodging.

But there were some minor conflicts between the Navy and CP9 during this period.

After the Tianlong people entered the VIP room, the accompanying navy also played here, and in the process, they inevitably came into contact with other people, and soon they found Jin's figure.

The tall stature and the black leather jacket make Jhin's target very conspicuous. In the navy, there are fish-fishing monsters like the yellow monkey, and there are also model workers like the red dog. This time there are such model workers in the navy that escorted the Tianlongren. .

After seeing Jhin, their idea was to arrest him, but before they could use the phone bug to contact reinforcements, someone grabbed his arm, and it was Rob Lucci who did it.

"what are you doing?"

"I should ask you this sentence. This is a demilitarized zone planned by the world government. There is no order to use force. Why do you act here?"

"That's the bounty criminal with a bounty of 800 million, are you blind!"

"Sorry, I didn't see any pirates, I only know that the world government does not allow anyone to act without authorization here."

CP agencies are directly under the World Government. Strictly speaking, they are special agencies at the same level as the Navy, and there are many people who look down on each other in these two agencies.

For Lu Qi, the order of the world government is absolute, no matter what the identity of the other party is.

"That's a pirate."

"What you said doesn't count. The world government thinks there are no pirates here, so there are no pirates here. If you do something, you are violating the orders of the world government. I have the right to stop you."

For a while, the relationship between the navy and CP became a little tense. Compared with these ordinary navies, the people who can be selected for CP9 are stronger, but at this time, the leading general of the navy also appeared here.

"Lieutenant General, there are."

"Ah, I know, don't be so nervous, Lieutenant, there are no pirates or criminals here today, just enjoy life and don't be so irritable."

A man wearing wooden clogs with a slightly wretched face came here with his hands in his pockets. His appearance also eased the atmosphere of the scene.

Navy Headquarters Lieutenant Admiral Jiaji, who was also an alternate general on the original timeline, was codenamed Tea Dolphin.

Now even Aokiji and the others haven't become generals yet, so naturally they won't be a candidate for generals, and they haven't got their own code name yet. They are just ordinary lieutenant generals in the headquarters.

He is not a radical, and he has always acquiesced to the orders of the world government. Now that the world government has issued such orders, he will naturally not take the initiative to make trouble, and he also took the initiative to comfort the soldiers of the navy.

Then he opened his squinted eyes and stared at Lu Qi, a pressure also fell on him.

"But CP boy, we are not your subordinates, don't just point fingers at the navy soldiers."

Speaking of taking away the navy here, as for Jhin, just treat him as a person who looks exactly like the bounty criminal. Before departure, the Warring States had already explained the special nature of this ship, and specifically told him to Don't act.

And in the casino, as Arceus expected, Yamato decided to come here to try his luck. No one in Onikishima dared to bet with her, and it was difficult to explain whether he won or lost.

Seeing the target person appear, the people in the casino naturally contacted the person in charge here, Bacara. Although she is still young, the ability of Lucky Fruit is invincible here.

Their original plan was to let Yamato taste a little bit of sweetness and start losing streak, and finally reveal the casino's tricks to her, but Yamato has never won a game from the beginning, but her opponents at the table have been winning consecutively. win.

"Is it arranged by you?"

"It's not us. Ms. Yamato seems to be betting odds and evens with a blind person. She has lost 17 rounds in a row. Ms. Bacara, the croupier sent a signal and asked us what to do next?"