

Arceus 621

Chapter 621 A Blind Smile

The lid on the dice was opened again, and Yamato's expression became very complicated with the points revealed on the three dice.

"Little girl, what's the result, who won this time?"

"Ah, uncle, you won, * it, am I so unlucky today?"

"Maybe I'm lucky today, should I continue?"

"I don't play anymore, it's boring, today's pocket money is gone."

Yamato's words directly silenced the person on the opposite side. He couldn't see it, but his mind was fine. They gambled a total of 31 games, and the little * the opposite side also achieved a 31-game losing streak.

Although the share of the bet is not large, it is enough for him to live for a period of time. He didn't expect that it was just the other party's pocket money for a day.

He doesn't think there's anything wrong with winning a little girl's money. Now that he's on the gambling table, he has to be conscious. Even if he loses his fortune here, he deserves it. If he can't control his desire, he will be swallowed by it. This is the cause and effect of the gambling table. .

"I'm leaving uncle, do you want me to help you out? You've almost won, so be careful not to be tricked into it, not everyone is like me."

A blind person who gambles in a casino is bound to be cheated under normal circumstances. Yamato also thinks so, because the other party can't even see the face of the dice, and even wants to ask her the result.

As long as she colludes with the croupier at this time, a blind person can't control the result at all. Although she loses a day's pocket money, she thinks it's all about supporting the disabled.

"Alright, it's almost time to stop, sorry for the trouble, little girl."

"It's okay, anyway, I'm going to drop by and play something else."

The chips were exchanged for cash, and after the casino charged part of the handling fee, the blind man got his bonus, and handed the blind stick to Yamato with confidence, letting the other party lead him out of the casino.

"I said uncle, have you always been so naive? You just won my money, so just hand over the pathfinding tools to me, aren't you afraid that I will push you down?"

"I don't think you will, and if you want to renege on the debt, why don't you just take the money and leave?"

"You are meaningless uncle, shouldn't you be afraid at this time? Forget it, I will take you to the hotel where you are staying. Show me your ticket."

Tezolo promised free board and lodging for one day, but he must have a ticket to enjoy this service.

The other party had no doubts, and quickly handed over the ticket from his arms, and his movements were so sensitive that Yamato could not see that the other party was blind.

"Uncle Grand Prize, you are really lucky."

Gulan Tezzolo has three kinds of tickets for the outside world this time, invitation letters from various industry leaders, tickets purchased by ordinary tourists, and VIP tickets randomly distributed through a lottery.

Yamato remembers that there are very few such tickets, and being able to get one is already a sign of luck. If you think about it this way, it is quite reasonable for her to lose 31 games in a row.

"Little girl, are you a staff member here? I think you are very familiar with this place."

"It doesn't count, I just know some people, so I played here a few days in advance. The scenery here is very beautiful, but it's a pity that you can't see it, uncle."

"It's no pity. It's a blessing not to see things. There are too many dirty and low-spirited people in the world. I closed these eyes myself."

"Close yourself. Uncle, you really are a weirdo. What's your name?"

"Name... Just tell me to smile, you are too young girl, this world is not so naive, even a blind man like me can pose a threat to you."

Being able to come here to play in advance, and her family is very rich, she thought she was some naive rich daughter, and wanted her to be more alert to the outside world, so as not to be hurt, so he planned to release some breath to intimidate the other party, but the other party But he was completely unmoved.

"What, uncle, you are very strong, no wonder you dare to come out alone."

Yixiao is indeed very strong. This is a man who can directly obtain the position of general in the navy's world conscription.

Although he doesn't have binocular vision, his powerful sense of knowledge has become his special eyes. He has a road map like an infrared radar in his mind, and he is not affected by blindness at all.

In other words, it is precisely because he has destroyed his eyes that he has gained such a powerful sense of knowledge.

Gambling is his hobby, and it is also a way of earning living expenses. Different people have their own focus on the knowledge and color of cultivation. The focus of a smile is to perceive and distinguish breath.

He can accurately perceive the contours of various objects around him. With this ability, he is also a cheating existence in the casino. Just now, Yamato pressed against him as if he was angry, so that he can win.

If the casino can afford to lose, he will leave here in moderation, but when he meets someone who can't afford to lose and wants to kill him, his force will let the other party know what terror is.

His personality is more easy-going, and he also pays attention to the lives of ordinary people, but it is different for the evil party. He is also an opponent of the Qibuhai system. In his opinion, the Qibuhai system has no meaning except to encourage the arrogance of pirates.

"Aren't you the same? Interesting little girl, if I had been a few years earlier, I could have seen what such an interesting person looked like."

He just wanted to scare the other party, but people who don't respond to that kind of breath have nothing to do with ordinary people. After winning the lottery, he chose to board the boat for another purpose, to see what it looks like here.

Look at whether this is an ordinary entertainment place or a place where filth is hidden, but according to the current performance, it is no different from ordinary entertainment places, but he thinks this is just an appearance.

There are many extraordinary people on this ship, and he has detected more than one powerful aura along the way.

Yamato had confirmed that this blind uncle was different from ordinary blind men, but he still sent him to a resting place. In her opinion, no matter how powerful a blind man is, he would still be inconvenient.

"If something happens, press the button on the wall, and I will ask the front desk to take care of you."

"Thank you very much. Speaking of which, what's your name, little girl?"

"Me? My name is Yamato. Goodbye, funny uncle. By the way, there is a great concert here tomorrow. Although you can't see it, you can listen to it. If you are interested, you can go and listen. "

Then Yamato left here. She didn't have any interest in gambling. After experiencing Lian Kneeling, she was even less interested. Tezuolo also successfully fooled those Tianlong people away the next day. After they left, Gurran Tezzolo really started the carnival.

this is the Tianlong people, where people don't even dare to enjoy the carnival"

Witnessing the departure of the Celestial Dragon, Doflamingo smiled to himself, but a fierce gleam appeared in his eyes under the sunglasses.

Chapter 622 The Phantom Fruit of the Card BUG

He hates the Draconians now, not because he doesn't like what the Draconic group is doing, but because the group refuses to readmit him.

His father made him fall from the "altar". In his opinion, without what his father did, he is still a high-ranking Celestial Dragon.

But what has happened can't be turned back. He can never become a Tianlongren again. Since he can't go back, let's all come down together. This is Doflamingo's idea.

He was born in Tianlong people, he knows many secrets of Tianlong people, and he also knows that it is not a goal that can be accomplished in words. In order to complete his own revenge, he is making arrangements and developing himself little by little.

Gulan Tezolo is full of opportunities. He has already seen a lot of people who are talking about the underground world, and he is about to make a good contact with them.

The Don Quixote Pirates plan to enter the new world next year, which is paving the way for themselves in advance.

Doflamingo didn't bring his subordinates here this time, he could only do these things himself, and work hard with the goal of a middleman, and in this process, his status as a "subordinate dealer of Beasts" helped him a lot busy.

Doflamingo's name is still valuable in the North Sea or the first half of the Great Route, but in the New World, no one knows who he is, and those industry giants don't even care about him.

He doesn't have the title of Qiwuhai now, he is just a pirate with more than 100 million yuan. There are a lot of people like this in the new world, and they have no characteristics at all.

But it's different if it has a relationship with Beasts. At least it shows that the other party has a certain connection with Beasts, so those people are willing to give Beasts a face and listen to what he wants to say.

In general, Doflamingo's development is going smoothly, and the time of the dinner party has allowed him to achieve a lot of results.

When he walked back to the room, his steps were much more aggressive than before.

In the early morning of the next day, Yixiao woke up in the room, skillfully changed her clothes, picked up the stick knife beside her and went out, although she still used it as a blind stick to explore the road under her feet, but it was just a decoration, is there such a thing? A blind cane does not affect his walking.

A new day has begun, and he decides to go to the casino to gamble again to test his luck today.

He seldom goes to the same casino twice. Casinos that play tricks will usually be flattened by him, while casinos that can afford to lose without tricks will block him. If he wins every day, no one can bear it.

Yixiao usually would not touch this kind of bad luck, but there is only this casino on Gulan Tezolo, so he came here with a tentative purpose, but he didn't expect to be blocked at all, and after he won the bet, he also came here. He happily gave the money.

Tezolo has prepared a lot of methods, but those methods are not for ordinary people. He can afford to lose against ordinary people. He will recognize some people if they are lucky. These methods are used in special situations.

And he also found something interesting, where instead of waiting for someone to lose their fortune, they kicked out after he lost half of his stack.

"Let go of me, I can still turn things around, how can there be a casino that doesn't do business!"

"I'm sorry, the rules here are what we say, and your gambling luck today is up to this point. Do you have to lose so that you have nothing left?"

This is a little rule set by Tezolo. He was also a gambler before, and he knows the feeling of betting on the top, so setting this rule for the guests in the ordinary hall is to give them a cooling-off period.

He never thought that he was a good person, nor did he think that he was qualified to be a good person. That kind of good person would not touch so many gray industries. The "good people" here have long been wiped out. He just has his own Bottom line.

Beast Fruit has special personnel to patrol here, to deal with this situation, and at the same time, it will bring people who meet the requirements into the VIP hall, where there is no such restriction.

In the end, the man was thrown out of the casino, and when the cold wind blew over his head, he seemed to wake up a lot.

"Fun Rules"

A smile that only gambled for one game also came out of it, and the radio in the entire Gulan Tezolo also rang at this time.

"Everyone, the postponed performance will start in half an hour. Those who are interested can go to the central square to participate in the event. Don't worry if you can't find a place. The entire Gulan Tezolo can enjoy this performance!

Our new star, Uta's debut performance!"

Tezolo's voice came from the microphone, and then they found that the sky above their heads had changed, and a dreamlike palace appeared in the sky.

At this time, the strange rocks in the sky seem to be showing humans what uncanny craftsmanship is, and the hall in the middle gradually becomes a stage.

This is Uta's first show venue, a false projection created with the help of An's phantom fruit.

An's phantom is not like Olga's phantom, which can deceive perception and bring a real touch. As long as it is touched, it will pass through it. It is a completely false phantom, but its manufacture is simpler.

This is what Tezolo discovered during this period. As long as there are pictures with setting data in the literature, An can project them, and the consumption is very small. Even a large-scale phantom can last for a long time.

So Tezolo made an attempt. He specially found a painter and author to write a book, and compiled strict data for the above pictures, and then tore it down and gave it to Ann to see if she could project it. The result obtained is positive.

Since then, An has become the queen's special effects artist. No matter what kind of scene, as long as it can be drawn and marked with strict data, An can project it.

Big screens also popped up on the ship's buildings, and began showing pre-recorded commercials, while final testing was also taking place.

Uta is standing on a prepared gondola. At that time, Heracross will take her to the concert stage in the sky. A lot of amplification equipment is installed on the gondola, but with the power of Heracross It's not a problem.

The performance has not yet started, but this background has already attracted everyone's attention.

Hearing the sighs of the people around him, he smiled and looked up, but there was nothing there in his perception, only weak power fluctuations.

"Unfortunately, it must be a very shocking scene."

"Yes, this is a great special effect, but you can't see it, uncle, do you want me to explain it for you?"

Yamato and others appeared near Yixiao with support sticks. Seeing that the blind man really came to the scene, Yamato made this suggestion.

"Haha, please trouble me, let me hear how shocking this scene is."

Ordinary people are just lamenting the magnificence of this special effect, but some people are different.

Chapter 623 Uta's debut

At this time, Doflamingo was lamenting that the power of this fruit was wasted. In Doflamingo's view, such an ability has a greater use.

If this fruit is given to him, some of his plans can be implemented ahead of schedule. With the realistic phantom and his parasitic lines, he is fully capable of using the country as the stage to show a huge puppet show.

If he saw this ability user in other places, he would definitely take him away and find a way to make him use him.

As for why he knew it was a capable person, he was also at the main venue at this time, and saw with his own eyes that An tore off the picture on the book and turned it into a phantom in the sky.

However, here is a hundred beasts, and it is too late for him to hug the thigh, let alone backstab the opponent.

But on the other hand, he seems not qualified to evaluate the strength of the fruit ability. As an excellent devil fruit supplier, too many powerful fruits come out of his hands. His own people also have many powerful fruits, but they are outrageous. There are also many fruits.

For example, the swimming fruit, maybe this thing can develop very weird abilities, but compared to eating the fruit that can gain powerful power, the ability to swim in the soil is very humble.

"But that mark. If I remember correctly, it is the family crest of the Flender family. Those guys who have little interest in the affairs of the outside world actually intervene here. The beasts are really unexpected."

The family crests of different families of Tianlongren are completely different. As a former Tianlongren, Brother Ming can recognize the difference in these patterns.

With the virtues of the Tianlong people, their attendance at the opening ceremony means that this place has a certain connection with them. At this time, Doflamingo feels that he has underestimated the other party, and the energy of the beasts is greater than he thought.

But it is a good thing for him, the more powerful the beasts are, the greater the benefits for him.

"Uta, are you ready?"

"Get ready, I'm already familiar with this piece."

"Don't be nervous, even if there is an accident, Tezolo and I can save you, just feel free to sing."

"Hello, hello!"

This is her first time on a world-class stage. The biggest stage she experienced before was the National Concert of Elegia, but considering the population of Elegia, it was not a big event.

The first show is very important for an artist. In order to prevent Uta from being unable to show her true strength due to stage fright, Stella is cheering her on.

Even Heracross is showing off its muscles. It is showing that it can bring Uta steadily into the air, and she just needs to rest assured to perform.

In terms of the negative gravity of Heracross, a gondola plus Uta and amplifying equipment is nothing at all, and it can last longer than the time An maintains the phantom stage.

But Uta cares about more than that.

"Well, is there a live broadcast this time?"

"There will be some, but mainly newspapers after the event. Although there are live channels, you are still a newcomer after all."

Phone bugs that can broadcast live images are also relatively rare. Usually, only large movie theaters have equipment that can receive this kind of phone bug signal. Tezolo can handle some channels, but it is not yet possible to let her be broadcast all over the world. live streaming.

"Can Shanks see it?"

"I can see, you have told him, he will definitely find a way to watch the live broadcast, when the time comes, play well."

Heracross took Uta to the sky, and An also tore off a few pieces of paper with Uta's name written on it, and Uta's name composed of musical notes was also displayed in everyone's field of vision.

Uta finally chose "Where the Wind Goes" as her debut track. It was a song she wrote herself. It can be said that it was the beginning of her career as a singer, and it was also the first track she sang on the Redvers.

The repertoire sung by Uta is completely written by herself, from composition to lyrics. This seems to be her innate talent, and notes are the most reliable partners in her hands.

"Beyond the horizon, wave goodbye to that shadow~

I just want to convey this song to you whenever I can~"

Uta's melodious singing sounded in the sky, and then spread to every corner of Gulan Tezolo through the loudspeaker equipment. At the same time, An kept tearing up the picture album in her hand, making her Exclusive MV.

There is no doubt that this is an audio-visual feast. In this world where the entertainment industry is relatively poor, the appearance of the entertainment city Gulan Tezolo is a surprise.

The unique program above has already attracted their attention, but Uta's first show was even more shocking. Even the nobles have rarely seen such a scene. This is the most realistic image created by a person with fruit ability.

Among the many listeners, Yixiao is the most special person. Others are still enjoying the MV around them while listening to the music, but Yixiao's eyes are no longer visible. His invisible nature cannot be changed.

But he can listen to Uta's music more conveniently, listening to the music that hits the soul directly.

There is a certain commonality between the five senses. When a person loses vision, other senses will become more sensitive. The body is trying its best to make up for the loss in this area. For the sake of the eyes.

Excellent hearing made Yixiao the first few people who resonated with Uta's songs.

"The song of longing. You are really an incredible young man."

Memories of his youth emerged in Yixiao's mind, and several figures clearly appeared in his mind again. These were precious memories in front of his self-defeating eyes.

Not only the audience, but Uta as a singer gradually entered a state of ecstasy. At this time, she was almost integrated with the music, conveying her inner emotions with her singing.

When the last note was sung from her mouth, Gulan Tezzolo fell into silence for a while, and all the audience were reminiscing about the song just now. The song was only a few minutes long, but the aftertaste brought to them was far away. not only that.

"Uta! Uta!"

After a brief silence, a person called out Uta's name first, and the cheering sticks that had been distributed for free were also waving wildly in his hands.

"Uta! Uta! Uta!"

With the leader, the responders also appeared quickly. Gulan Tezolo began to spread the name of Uta, proclaiming the arrival of the singer of the new era to the world. As a first show, Uta can be said to be Big hit.

Chapter 624 Filial Daughters

Amidst the cheers of the audience, Uta continued to sing his own songs, and a series of shutters sounded from the auditorium. The reporters of the World Economic News Agency, which was formed by the team here, have already started drafting.

These pens that Morgans valued are first-class in terms of their ability to sketch and record, or their ability to talk nonsense.

Although the phantom created by An has no entity, the lens can capture it. With this background alone, tomorrow's newspaper cover already exists.

Scroll of the Sky, Palace of Clouds, Dreamy Diva, a series of titles have been written down on paper by them.

"Wow ha ha ha, yes, this team building is really right, people will get tired of watching it all the time, tomorrow's news will be put on the entertainment section, by the way, for those who were dropped by us before That person left a section in the corner, and if he agreed on the homepage, then give him the homepage."

There is no harm without comparison. The best way to set off a strong person is to find someone who is weaker than him.

In order to show Uta's talent, Morgans decided to flog some old people to death. It is best to arouse the protests of those old fans, so that there will be hot spots and conflicts.

"Boss, the duration of the ability is about the same, and if it is delayed, it will affect the effect later."

Because the program was in good condition, Tezolo extended Uta's duration in a timely manner, without considering other issues. The audience was satisfied with the program, and Uta's interest was high. The biggest burden was the special effects producer.

Although the audience will not leave without special effects, the effect will be much worse, and today is not UTA's special show, and there will be other shows later.

"Uta, it's almost done. Get ready for today's closing song. Leave some suspense for them. You can sing it to them at the next concert."

"Everyone, I am very glad that you like my song, but today's time is limited, so I can only go here first, I hope you will still listen to my singing in the future, the next song is to celebrate our meeting and parting, and it is also a gift to that Drop my fool's song!"

Uta is very young, and she is a child star. Saying this kind of thing will not surprise people. How can such a young girl know what love is, but her new fans don't think so.

After this, Uta's fan support club even tried to find the "idiot" Uta called, and they wanted to teach the person who abandoned Uta a lesson.

At the same time, joyful laughter rang out one after another on the Redvers.

As Tezolo said, Shanks got the live broadcast equipment and was watching Uta's situation through the screen.

Special performance costumes, brilliant performance background, watching all of Tezolo's preparations, Shanks showed a knowing smile, he thinks that in this environment, Uta's life is much better than following them around.

Only in this stable environment can Uta better realize his ideals, until the idiot that Uta said reached his ears.

"Shanks, did you hear that? Uta said you're an idiot."

"Yes, it's an idiot~"

The cadres on the ship made very funny expressions around Shanks, and Shanks also launched his own counterattack.

"What? Little Uta only mentioned me, you guys should be more jealous!"

Several newcomers to the red-haired pirates looked at the "crazy" Shanks and looked at each other, and couldn't help but look at the old people next to them.

"Are the big bosses and cadres usually like this?"

"Haha, just get used to it, but don't worry, the captain is very reliable."

Redvers became a sea of joy, and the cadres, as before, accompanied and danced for her according to Uta's rhythm, even if she couldn't see it.

Gulan Tezolo, Uta's debut performance is over, and the follow-up show will be the performance of Tezolo and Stella. There are no ordinary people in today's performance, and those who don't have enough seats will be white after Uta gave.

It was halftime, and UTA fans were still reminiscing about the previous events.

"Uncle, am I right? This is a great show."

"Indeed, it's like the baptism of the soul."

"How about staying and working, uncle? It will even heal your eyes."

Yamato tried to recruit Yixiao, because the opponent was very strong, and recruiting the strong has always been the purpose of Hundred Beasts. She also wanted to do something, and offered some conditions.

"No, this place is good, but it's not suitable for me. This kind of place is not suitable for staying forever. Goodbye little girl. After listening to such a song, I probably won't be able to listen to the rest of it."

Yixiao rejected Yamato's invitation without thinking, got up and left here directly, the center of the gray industry is not a place where he wants to work.

"What, a blind man is so shameless."

Ulti on the side was arguing for Yamato. She had been verbally dissatisfied with Yamato, but it was one of her own, and she was still very unhappy with the attitude of outsiders.

"That uncle is very strong. It's a pity that his father's recruiting is just a matter of one sentence. Why can't I do it here."

".Your father only said one word! If you disagree with him, just hit the stick!"

Listening to Yamato's analogy, Ulti's head is full of black lines, and Kaido never gave others a chance to refuse.

"How about you also learn from your father?"

"Forget it, that method is not suitable for me. My foster father said that melons squeezed by force are not sweet, and may not be able to quench thirst, and may be poisonous."

They may not be true fans, but a certain furr has gone crazy by this time.

"My lord duke, please, ask for her autograph for me, is that okay? It's okay, right!"

Bepo's body seemed to be writhing due to shyness and excitement, even the afterimage of the Michelin tire man.

"If you want to go, go by yourself. She should be in the background now. Why should I ask for it for you? Perona, pass me the bottle, these two little guys are hungry again."

Compared to signing autographs, Setsuna is more interested in breastfeeding children. The breastfeeding period of fur tribes is relatively short, and they will generally enter the stage of liquid food after two months.

It is usually a paste made of various things, but that is because the fur tribe itself lacks resources. Now that they have the support of a large milk tank, the feeding aspect has naturally been greatly improved.

"But, but"

"Okay, I'll go with you, okay, you're a bear fur, when will you stop being so shy?"

Seeing what Beppo was worried about, Perona immediately left her soul and flew to the direction of the backstage first. As for the original body, she naturally handed it over to the wearing bear.

Chapter 625 The Heracros fever brought by Uta

Amidst Bebo's apology, they walked through the crowd and went directly to the backstage. This is why Perona chose to leave her soul, so that she would not encounter some annoying things.

"sign?"

Uta was talking to Xin Duoli about her feeling of being on the stage, and she wanted to talk to Ann more, but after Tezolo took the stage, Ann had no time to talk to Wu Ta, in addition to special effects artist and host. Tower gossip.

It was also at this time that the first person who came to the backstage to ask for her autograph also came.

"Hmm, can you sign me up? Your singing voice is amazing!"

"But I didn't bring a pen"

"Sorry to bother you"

Before Uta finished speaking, Beppo suddenly became negative, and Uta was at a loss.

"It's been so long, why are you still so negative?! She didn't reject you, please be normal!"

Perona tried to punch Bebo, but she couldn't touch the entity in the spirit state. This was related to the development state of her fruit. Now she is an extremely special spirit body.

"Don't worry about Uta, this guy is like this, if you say a few words about him, he will start to apologize."

"sorry"

"I didn't ask you to prove it!"

"Pfft, you two have a really good relationship. Let me go to the back and look for it. There should be a signature pen there."

Xin Duoli laughed out loud looking at these young people who were playing around. This is much more interesting than the life in Xihai. Amidst the noise, Uta got the first fan who asked for autographs, and Beibo also got Wu The first autographed photo of Tower's acting career.

The show is still going on, but most of the people enjoying the show are ordinary people, and the industry giants are signing new agreements or busy with the work at hand.

On the second day, the first batch of guests who left the venue had already appeared, and there were also new guests who came here because of their reputation. At this time, Yamato and Ulti both signed up to participate in the no-rules motorcycle race.

The rules of the game are very rough. Any non-lethal means can be used to interfere with the opponent. The first to reach the finish line wins.

Motor lizards have high intelligence. As long as the attack method is not fatal, they can catch people again even if people slip off their backs. Yamato doesn't want to participate in gambling, but simply wants to participate in the competition.

During her competition, the newspapers written by Morgans and the tapes released with the newspapers were also spread all over the world. Of course, the copyright of the tapes is in the hands of Baishouguo, although the copyright protection laws of this world are basically a decoration.

But legitimate companies still can't make it secretly. With the publication of newspapers, Uta's singing has also reached the ears of more people. She is still far away from her goal of being the number one in the world, but she has stood by many people in her life. Unreachable heights.

With the expansion of Uta's reputation, a special situation also appeared in his fan base.

In the photos taken by Morgans, Uta flew in the sky with the basket carried by Heracross, and the picture of the large unicorn was also clearly captured.

Star effect is a very magical thing. There are always people who want the same style as a star. Flying is still the dream of many people. Who can refuse a unicorn that can fly around with people.

In terms of Heracross's weight-bearing ability, most people can carry it except for those who are born with overdevelopment.

Before Arceus released a large number of Heracross into various islands. Under the indirect influence of Uta, a wave of Heracross fever appeared in Uta's fan group, and gained a certain status in the pet market.

But they are Pokémon, not ordinary beasts. Pure violence cannot subdue Pokémon. Only those who really want to touch them can be recognized by Heracross.

Although they live in groups and have a gentle personality, they are really angry, and it is not something ordinary people can bear. When a group of Heracross flying in the sky releases missile needles, their power is no less than that of a small bomber.

People who want to rely on Heracross for profit are mostly unlucky. Even if some lucky people manage to catch Heracross, they are still vulnerable to sea monsters when transporting at sea.

Moreover, Heracross has a wide range of points. Except for deserts and severe cold climates, most islands have them. Gradually, no one does this business. Only those true fans of Uta are still imitating Uta, I want to find a unicorn like that.

Some people even wrote to ask her how to capture or raise this kind of unicorn, but there are only a handful of successful people.

Donghai, Windmill Village, Luffy has already recovered his usual optimism, especially after he saw Uta singing in the newspaper, because Shanks really didn't lie to him.

But now he is not thinking about it, but running for his life.

"Hey, run, Grandpa is going to catch up! Ace has been caught!"

A lot happened in the days after Uta left, Shanks' broken arm, the sworn brothers of the three brothers, Sabo's "death", and his goal of One Piece.

Garp, who occasionally returns, has also become a nightmare in Luffy's heart. The iron fist of love is something he can't avoid as a rubber man.

Every time they heard that they said they were going to become pirates, they would inevitably be beaten severely, but they still did not change their goals, but Luffy added a new way to escape, allowing Heracross to fly away with him.

As long as I can fly away, I should be able to escape.

Since Heracross's voice is Hero, he also chose to call himself Heracross. When he took off, Garp also appeared behind him, with Ace in his hand.

"Goodbye Grandpa! You can't catch up with me!"

"This kid"

Looking at Luffy in the sky, Garp squeezed his fist after leaving Ace, and the next moment he appeared directly beside Luffy.

"grandfather?!"

"Luffy, it's too early to escape the iron fist of love like this!"

Looking at Luffy who was hammered back to the ground by Garp, Heracross raised his hands high, and then fell back silently. His intuition told him that the old man was a monster.

"It hurts, it hurts, why can you fly, grandpa!"

"Hahaha, this is the ability of the navy. As long as you join the navy, I will teach you how to fly. How about it? Isn't it a good deal?"

Seeing that Luffy was interested in this, Garp began to persuade him to join the navy, but Luffy's mind gave a reply within a few tenths of a second.

"I don't want to, I'm the man who wants to be the One Piece!"

Creak, creak, Garp's fist made a burst of sound, and then there was an extremely familiar scene and screams.

Chapter 626 Bermer: Girls, we have money

"As you can see, Luffy is an idiot, why don't you come with me, I can also give you delicious food."

Looking at Luffy who was beaten unilaterally, Ace handed an apple to Heracross and tried to abduct him.

Heracross' approach is also very straightforward, take the apple and eat it, and then reject Ace.

Most Pokémon will not betray their masters. Even if they are abandoned, they will stubbornly wait for their masters to come back in one place until they die.

Except for some cases, Pokémon will not choose a new owner when the owner is still alive. A certain bird has been waiting in the forest for many years.

But not everyone can get this fether. People who wantonly exchange Pokémon and only use Pokémon as a tool are not worthy of this fether.

That's what Ace said, he already knew the friendship between Heracross and his brother.

"Hello, hello."

"You guys, you really are a match made in heaven, you are both foodies."

The farce finally ended with another farce. Garp was carrying Luffy to show his love of education, but he fell asleep while beating and beating, and Ace fell asleep while eating.

There is only one Heracross who is trying to clean up all the food left in order not to waste food.

But not everyone likes Heracross, some people now have a headache when they see Heracross.

For example, Cocoyasi Village, looking at Heracross in the orange orchard, Bermer almost drew his gun.

"Go away! Then you unicorns stay away from my orange tree!"

Because Tiger survived smoothly, Aaron's hatred did not deteriorate further. Coupled with the existence of Mandelfisch, his views gradually changed.

The most important point is that Tiger has always brought Aaron by his side, so he has no chance to come to Cocoyasi to harm the people here. Although there is a colonel mouse who is looking for a reason to collect taxes, he still wears the identity of the navy after all. Things are still a little restrained.

Most people at the bottom do not ask too much, just eat enough, wear warm clothes, and survive. Except for careerists, most people have no interest in rebellion, so the people in Coco Yaxi live pretty well.

But Heracross is not a friendly creature to Bermel, because they will * the sap, and the sap of the orange tree is actually not much, but I don't know why, those Heracrosses especially like the sap of her orange tree.

Heracross spends most of their time sucking the sap of giant trees in the mountains, and orange trees are almost like chewing sugar cane to them.

Heracrosses are not without their benefits, they help Bermer rid the orange orchard of pests, and she doesn't care if they only take a sip or two, but once they do, the Heracrosses get carried away.

She doesn't want these big unicorns to destroy her orange orchard, and she can only choose to drive them away when she finds that Heracross is approaching.

Bermer happened to see two Heracrosses flying in when he was cleaning the room, so he came out to drive them away.

Because Arceus has the order not to harm humans at will, they usually run away when they are driven away, but this time it is different, Bermer fired a gun into the sky and did not scare them away as before, and the two Heracros still Throw a stone at her.

Looking at the rolling stones at his feet, Bermer felt an unknown fire burning in his heart, these unicorns were getting more and more excessive.

"Bastard! You really think I'm easy to bully, don't you! I used to be a navy too!"

She is very happy when someone likes her oranges, but she cannot accept this way of liking.

As he spoke, he began to reload the pellets, but a voice called to stop him.

A man with a windmill on his head came over. He was Jian, the real-life version of Jian. The windmill on his head was a prop he used to tease Nami, so that Nami would not cry when she saw him.

He is the sheriff of Kekeyasi Village, and because Aaron and his gang did not appear here, his body was not covered in bruises.

He heard Belmer's gunshots before, so he came here to check the situation.

"Why? These unicorns have already destroyed a lot of my saplings. If they are gone, do you support our family!"

"It's not impossible to cough cough, I mean, look at this stone."

He brought the stone that had just been rolled over to Bermer again, and after wiping off the dirt on it, a golden object was revealed underneath.

"Gold?!"

Scratched it with his nails, and seeing the marks left on it, Bermel showed an incredulous gaze.

"It may be dog head gold. But it is the first time I have seen such a big one. When I was a child, I heard my grandpa tell the story of the gold digger."

"You... trade this for an orange tree?!"

"Hello."

Heracross stopped his movements, nodded to Bermer, and then pointed to several orange trees next to him.

"Here, I'll give you all. You can eat these trees as you like!"

Oranges don't have gold to make money. These unicorns can actually do this kind of thing. At this moment, they are no longer pests in the eyes of Bermer, but high-quality customers.

Oranges are planted to be bought, so she will have no objection if they are directly bought at a high price along with the tree.

"I say Belmer."

"No money! Nami and Nuo Qigao have grown up, and it's the time when they need money. These are not enough. If you don't mind, I can pay the bill with my body~"

"I didn't tell you this! There may be a gold mine nearby for such a large piece of dog's head gold."

The two looked at Heracross again. At this time, it was no longer a customer, but the God of Wealth.

On this day, Bermel came home late and was covered in mud, but Nami and Nuo Qigao saw an unconcealable smile on her face.

Today's dinner has also become very rich. After retiring from the army, Bellmer's life is very tight. When the orange business is not good, she doesn't even eat. She only lets her adopted daughters eat, and she can eat oranges by herself. She told her daughters that she is losing weight. , Maintain the skin through oranges.

Although Bermel did not make them lack food and drink, it was the first time that it was so rich, and it even made Nami and Nuo Qigao feel a sense of fear.

"Bermer, don't you want us?"

"No, I don't want to leave Belmer!"

"What are you talking about, why would I not want you? It's just that we have money, and we will never be short of money again. Tomorrow we will go buy nautical charts for Nami, Nuo Qigao? What do you think? Want it?"

Bermel didn't explain why, but told them that they don't have to worry about this kind of thing anymore.

Chapter 627 The wedding on Fishman Island, the sound of troublesome gunfire

Heracross was easy to communicate with. After they had eaten and drank enough, Bermer and Ajian asked them about the source of the stone, and Heracross took them to the place where the stone was found.

Arceus did not allow them to actively interfere and harm human life, but they also wanted to eat those orange trees. Referring to human behavior, they decided to "exchange".

It happened that they found this kind of golden stone in the stream in the distant mountains. In their memory, many human beings liked this golden thing, so they ran to the orange orchard with the stone.

Seeing that those humans liked it very much, and offered to exchange these useless stones with more delicious food, they certainly would not refuse, and took the two of them across the mountains to find the stream.

After Ajian and Bellmel successfully panned out alluvial gold here, the two became completely excited. Judging from the current situation, the reserves here are definitely not small. Not only them, but the whole village may be able to use this Opportunity to get rich.

But Bermer asked Ajian to keep quiet, it wasn't that she wanted to occupy this place all by herself, and it was impossible for her to find out all the gold mines here alone.

It's that she knows the virtues of the navy around here. When she was a navy, she had her own coat of justice, which is the clothing that only lieutenants have.

Even the retirement subsidy issued by the second lieutenant would not make her live so poorly, so it goes without saying where the subsidy should have gone.

If they know about the gold mine, the good thing will turn into a bad thing.

The two spent a day panning for gold, planning to improve their lives first before making a long-term plan. Children don't understand so much. After Bermel took the lead in eating, they also joined the queue.

The two Heracrosses outside the door shook their heads, not understanding why those humans liked those useless stones so much.

Gold was far less important to them than oranges, and now they found that not only the sap of orange trees tasted good, but their fruit tasted good too.

And these Hercules also have an idea, Arceus is looking for stones, humans like to dig stones, if the stones they dig have the stones that Arceus needs, then they will make a lot of money.

Cocoyasi Village started its own industrial transformation, and the murlocs who caused Cocoyasi to suffer disasters in the original timeline appeared at the wedding scene at this time.

Otohome followed the advice of Neptune and Jinbe, and did not hold anything special. She just brought her son and daughter and attended the wedding of Rusaka and Mandelfish as a royal family.

The venue for the wedding is at Geelong Cod Plaza, which is the most commonly used venue on Fishman Island, where most of the public events are held.

As I said before, those who want to participate in the wedding are welcome, and those who don't want to participate are fine.

Tiger, who left Ghost Island before, has returned here at this time. He and Otohome almost represent the aspirations of most of the murlocs and mermaids. They all attended the wedding as guests. There is nothing to say.

"Mandelfish, who was the last mermaid to marry a human? Was it the ancient director how many years ago? Xia Li, let me tell you, that guy must be a * behind his back, and he is not suitable for you."

Aaron kept talking about something, while Xia Li chose to ignore Aaron the whole time.

"Boss Tiger, you can take care of this guy when you have time, his brain may be broken."

Xia Li helped Tiger get a glass of wine, and at the same time hoped that Tiger could turn Aaron into a normal person, after all Aaron would only listen to his opinion.

"I think he drank too much, but there seems to be no problem with his words. This is the first time I have seen a mermaid married to a human being."

"No, Boss Tiger, Sister Ke Keluo is also married to a human, but that human doesn't live on Fishman Island, but lives in the capital of seven waters. My brother told me about it."

Another male mermaid took over the conversation. His name is Dan, the younger brother of Murloc Tom. He is a boat builder of Murloc Island and a researcher of Sea Forest. He has a good relationship with Haku. Xu has met a few times, so come to join in the fun.

"Is your brother... Tom? How is he doing now?"

"There is no news recently, it should be pretty good."

After chatting for a while, their eyes returned to the center of the square again. Otohime did not plan anything extra, but she asked other people to help a lot, such as those Neptune soldiers flying up with bubbles were swaying flower petals.

In addition to murlocs and mermaids, some humans could be seen in the venue, some were Mandelfisch's subordinates, and some were employees of the mining department. Although all the murlocs were working underwater, the ones in charge of handover on land were all Humanity.

Looking at the venue below, Otohime felt very happy. This is just an example, but it is a small step towards the disappearance of racial barriers.

In addition to those who are willing to participate in the ceremony, there are also many spectators in the distance. These are the most numerous groups in Fishman Island. They are neutral factions. They have complicated feelings towards human beings. They are neither that hostile nor willing to come into contact with them easily. other side.

"Otohime, it's almost time, it's time to recite the oath."

"Well, I'll go right away."

Neptune is the king of the Dragon Palace Kingdom, but his prestige may not be comparable to that of Otome, at least among the people, Otome has a much greater reputation than him, so Otome served as the witness of the wedding. A pair of priceless rings were found in the treasury.

Everything is developing in a beautiful direction, but some people have already started gnashing their teeth looking at the picture at this time.

For the royal family of Murloc Island to do such a stupid thing, in Hody's opinion, it was extremely stupid.

He hates humans, and also hates Otohime who is close to humans. This wedding is an opportunity for him. With so many participants and onlookers, he only needs to kill Otohime in full view, and then find a way to blame the murderer here. human beings, his purpose is accomplished.

Otohome, who was close to humans, will die because of this, and Otohome's death will also arouse the anger of Murloc Island. As long as this is the case, then Murloc Island will not be able to accept humans, and he can further promote the concept of hatred.

If possible, it is better to cause chaos, so that he can kill more people. He stole some things while Dragon Palace Kingdom was preparing gifts, which is also the reason for his actions.

At this time, Otohome has already started to read the lines of the master of ceremonies, and the salutes around are also ready. While everyone's attention is on the stage, Hodi in the distance takes out his gun and aims at Otohome. The moment the salute sounded, the shots were fired.

"bump!"

Salutes and gunshots sounded at the same time, but what he expected didn't happen. Mandelfish was holding a smoking bullet with one hand in front of Otohome.

Chapter 628 Boss talking is an art

"What's wrong? What happened?"

Seeing Mandelfisch suddenly raise a hand to the side, Rusaka showed a puzzled look. This action seemed very strange at this moment.

"Huh? Sorry, my back was itchy just now."

Mandelfisch started to exert force in his palm, and the projectile he was holding just now was directly crushed into powder, and then the palm shook, and the powder was scattered on the ground silently.

This is his wedding. Although he has already held a wedding on his own site, he doesn't want any troubles in the wedding on Fishman Island. This is Rusaka's home. If something unexpected happens, he can't hold back his face at all, so he doesn't say anything. .

Hoddy's guess was right. The gunshots accompanied by the salute did not attract the attention of others. The sound was so small that most people didn't notice any abnormalities at all, but Mandelfish was different.

The identity of the former leader of the Beast Scout cultivated his vigilance, and the identity of the current number No.1 shows his strength.

He doesn't have a hobby of spreading knowledge and information, but he is extremely sensitive to crises. Even if it is covered by the sound of salutes, his intuition feels strange.

Then he grabbed the bullet out of thin air with his own muscular reaction, which was not difficult, just a little domineering and a little strange strength.

There are many people who can do this kind of thing in the great channel, but anyone with some fame has a way to deal with bullets.

Unless it is the bullets fired by those who have cultivated their arrogance to be very powerful, the guns in the hands of ordinary people will not cause any harm at all.

【Should be the side and rear.. Is the target Otohime? Damn it, at this time.】

Mandelfish pulled Lusaka over suddenly, stood behind her, and then adjusted the angle to block Otohime in the blind spot of shooting. If you want to hit Otohime from this angle, you must pass through it first. his body.

The opponent fired while the salute was fired. It seemed that he wanted to carry out an assassination, and he probably would not conduct a large-scale operation, so he wanted to end the ceremony first, and then slowly deal with the opponent.

But it is unrealistic to keep such a hidden danger. If they really make a big move, it will be bad.

"Pearman! I suddenly remembered that I forgot something. It's a small gift I gave to Princess Otohime. Go and get it for me with Jinbei! There is a purple circular pattern on the box! Just put it over there."

Speaking of which, Mandelfish pointed in the general direction.

He is not alone. If he is not good enough to leave the field, he can let other people do it. Pillman has been his deputy for 10 years, and the tacit understanding between the two is beyond doubt.

The purple round symbol inside the Beasts means that there are enemies ambushing. Hearing what Mandelfisch said, he knew something was wrong.

A deputy who doesn't understand the hints from his boss will usually be released to the outside world. What big cadres require of a deputy is not only strength, but also brains.

Mandelfish showed him that there were enemies in ambush, and asked them to bring the things over, meaning to capture them alive, specifically saying that they were gifts for Otome, indicating that their target was Otome.

But Pillman didn't understand why Mandelfish asked him to take Jinbe with him, but at this time, it was enough to just execute the orders above.

"Understood, brother, I'll be right back!"

"Brother Jinbei, come with me, it should be soon."

"it is good."

"Wait, Aaron, you take a few people to go with Jinbe, there should be a lot of things, move them back together for them."

Originally, Pearlman only called Jinbei, but Tiger suddenly stopped them and asked Aaron to bring a few more people.

"Understood, big brother, but this guy is really unreliable, can you forget things when you get married?"

Tiger's order, Aaron would not refute, and followed with a few people.

Jinbe didn't answer the question, he just noticed that abnormality, he is now one of the Shichibukai, the world government has only one reason for choosing the Shichibukai—strength.

Only those whose strength reaches the standard will be specially recruited into Qiwuhai. Aaron can't detect it, but he can feel it. Even if it is Qiwuhai's shame, it cannot be dealt with by ordinary bullets, let alone the strength is still on the rise It's very flat.

The same is true for Tiger. He didn't go with himself because he was afraid of accidents at the venue after leaving.

Originally, his strength was stronger than that of Jinbe. When he conquered Murloc Street, both Aaron and Shibe were defeated by him. Although Jinbe began to grow rapidly and gradually narrowed the gap, Tiger also had his own growth.

Domineering is the power of the heart. At the same time, there are rumors that the formation of devil fruits is also a manifestation of the desire of the human heart. This is a world where idealism has a great influence. Without a strong heart, one cannot become a top power after all.

Originally Tiger's heart was dead, but after preaching, he suddenly found a new direction, especially after seeing the ideal Utopia during the pilgrimage, his state of mind sublimated, which made his strength progress to a certain extent.

Mandelfish saw the departure of Jinbe and Pearlman from the corner of his eye, which made him basically relieved. In his mind, the murlocs probably did this, because humans would not target Otohime.

Whether you want to be equal to murlocs and merfolk, or to continue to enslave them, a living Otohime is more in the interests of humans, and human pirates generally want living merfolk, not dead merfolk.

He knew that there were extremists among the murlocs, and Aaron was originally one of them. Tiger restrained him, and the influence of multiple factors made him change a little.

Let Pillman go by himself. If there is a conflict with the murlocs, many things will be unclear. It is most appropriate for the murlocs to solve the murlocs.

If it wasn't for the wedding scene, he would have resolved the matter by himself. As long as there are witnesses, he will have no problem doing it. He can also be regarded as the son-in-law of the mermaid tribe.

As for the possibility of the shot being missed, he thinks it is impossible. If a killer can choose the wrong target at this time, he should find a rope and hang himself as soon as possible.

It will be different if Shibe follows. Both Jinbe and Tiger are highly prestigious murlocs in the murlocs. Their words can convince the murlocs, so that even if something goes wrong, it is easy to clarify the suspicion.

"Princess Othime, aren't you going to the next step?"

"Ah, of course, this is the ring that Neptune and I chose for you. It is one of the treasures inherited by the Dragon Palace Kingdom. I wish you a hundred years of hand in hand."

Mandelfish took the ring from Otohime, and the ceremony was just short of the last step, but many things did not go as smoothly as he expected. This time he miscalculated one thing, the other party did not act alone, but gang crimes.

Chapter 629 Taking drugs can produce hallucinations

The flintlock guns in One Piece World are very strange. They do not conform to the characteristics of flintlock guns in terms of loading mode and continuous firing. The accuracy is much higher than normal flintlock guns, but the range of most flintlock guns is not far.

The gun in Huo Di's hand is the same. Since they live underwater and spend most of their time in naval battles, the most standard equipment of the Sea King Army is not a musket, but a three-pronged fork.

Although they were also equipped with muskets, the guards who followed Otohime and Neptune did not carry such weapons.

Due to the problem of shooting range, Hody is not very far from the venue. Hody, who has never left Fishman Island, is a frog in a well. He doesn't really believe in catching bullets with his bare hands. I thought I missed it.

He didn't even notice the person approaching in this direction, still aiming at the venue, waiting for the next opportunity.

Aaron was drunk at first, but when he saw the slightly serious expression on Jinping's face, he also noticed something strange.

"Hey, Jinbe, is something wrong? I seem to smell blood."

In addition to being ten times stronger than ordinary people, the murlocs also inherit some of the characteristics of fish, such as the biological lamp on the head of the Ancon murloc that can be used as a flash bomb, the poison of the blue-ringed octopus murloc, etc. Aaron himself Very sensitive to the smell of blood.

There is no need for Jinbe to answer, Aaron has already seen the target this time, Hody is raising his gun and aiming at the direction of the wedding venue, and there is a human corpse next to him, which is the source of the * smell Aaron smells.

That corpse was a pirate that Huodi killed at will. Even if he arrived at Murloc Island, not all pirates are strong, and there are countless miscellaneous fish in it. An adult male Murloc wants to kill such a pirate. Humans are not difficult.

This is Hody's prepared scapegoat. Once discovered, he intends to use this person as a scapegoat.

But he was so focused that he didn't notice that he had been discovered.

Aaron doesn't care about human death, even now it is the same, but he thought of what Hody said to him before. Combining those words with the current scene, it is self-evident what Hody is doing.

"Hey Hody, what are you doing?!"

"Just now this human being wanted to attack Princess Otome, I found out in time and killed him."

The voice behind him startled Hody, but he kept his eyes open and told a fabricated lie, and stuffed something into his mouth.

If Hodi hadn't said a bunch of strange things to him before, Aaron would have believed this reason, and he was always not wary of his compatriots.

But Jinbe is different. A person appears in an inappropriate place at an inappropriate time, and it is not so easy for him to believe what the other party says.

"Then can you explain to me why you aimed your gun in the direction of the venue?"

Facing Jinbe's question, Hodi can actually find a reason to fool him. After all, they have no direct evidence, and Jinbe will still abide by the laws here on Fishman Island.

But Hody saw Aaron and Pearlman next to Jinbei.

"Brother Aaron, you really have abandoned the murlocs, forgotten the hatred of the murlocs, and have you stood with humans?"

Before, he still had the slightest fantasies about Aaron, but for him, the current situation is like seeing the verdict of his idol.

"Don't talk nonsense to me, tell me why you are here!"

"Of course I want to kill Otohime and arouse the anger of the murlocs again! Hahahaha, Brother Aaron, no, Aaron, it seems that the shot was missed. In this case, let's start with you!"

What if the gun misses the target? He has also prepared before. His gang is ambushing nearby. Killing Otohime is one of the goals. It is best to arouse the hatred of the humans and murlocs present. Taking this opportunity Kill all royals.

At that time, with the anger of the murlocs, he can become the new leader to lead the murlocs.

Originally, he didn't need to have a showdown with Jinbei directly, but now the anger in his heart is very strong, even a little bit over the top.

This is the effect of what he ate before, the evil drug E·S, which was hidden in the jade hand box. Hody found the opportunity while Otohime and Nip were picking out wedding gifts, and stole this thing.

It can bring stronger power to the eater at the cost of reducing life, and it will make the eater more irritable, which is why it is called a murderous drug.

"You bastard. Want to... hurt your compatriots?!"

Aaron doesn't care if the person he wants to kill is Otohime, he cares more about the other party's racial identity. He doesn't like Otohime, but Otohime is also a mermaid and a member of her compatriots.

Hoddy's behavior of wanting to kill his compatriots made him unable to agree. Before Hodi could make any move, he had already rushed over, and he wanted to teach Hodi a lesson.

Facing the rushing Aaron, Huo Di showed a dangerous smile on the corner of his mouth. He held the barrel of the gun and used it as a stick, and swung it at the rushing Aaron.

At this time, Aaron is in a state of "flying at low altitude" with explosive power, which is his usual fighting style. At this time, he has grown his own mouth, and his hard teeth and huge bite force can easily crush the musket.

He wanted to teach this young man Hodi a lesson, but the result was completely different from what he thought. Hodi's speed and strength far exceeded his expectations. the back of the head.

The inexplicable strange force directly smashed him to the ground, eating a mouthful of dirt, and the whole person fell to the ground.

"what?!"

Jinbe stared wide-eyed at the gun * that was smashed by Hody. Aaron's force was very low in his eyes, but it shouldn't be someone like Hody who could be knocked down with one blow.

"Hahaha, did you see? This is my power, I am the hatred of the murlocs, I want to lead the murlocs to let humans know our fear! Jinbe, you guys are all heretics who will be executed!"

"Crazy... Brother Jinbe, if you don't do it, I will do it. Brother Mandelfish hasn't finished the wedding wine yet."

"No, about the murloc. Let me do it."

Jinbe stopped Pearlman, and walked towards the slightly crazy Hody step by step. Seeing Jinbe not only not running away but walking towards him, Hody's expression became more and more cruel.

Knocking down Aaron with one blow made him feel invincible.

"Jinbe, die! I'll crush your head right now! Murloc karate, rough shark!"

Hody pinched Jinbe with his big hand, and Jinbe let him pinch his head without avoiding it.

"Although I don't know where your confidence and strength come from, you don't have the right to be so arrogant, murloc karate · Shawazhengken!"

Chapter 630 Sea King X2

With a muffled bang, Jinbe's fist hit Hody's chest like a chisel, and the huge impact pierced through his chest, and Hody's blood almost "boiled" under Jinbe's punch.

"Wow."

A large amount of blood spit out from Hodi's mouth, and the hand holding Jinbe's head gradually lost strength.

"Murloc Karate is the power summed up by the ancestors. It is a power that can only be acquired through accumulated practice. It is strengthened by relying on drugs. It is nothing."

Hody slowly collapsed on the ground. If it was him normally, Jinbe's punch would be enough to make him lose consciousness, but the effect of the murderous medicine is still there. This kind of alternative stimulant keeps Hody's consciousness still awake.

Pupils turned white, the whites of the eyes became bloodshot and red, and the influence of the murderous drug on Hody became deeper and deeper.

"Not enough, not enough."

Huo Di grabbed a handful of poison from his body and threw it into his mouth. The medicine can double a person's strength, and this effect can be superimposed. Regardless of the premise of physical endurance, the medicine can double the strength of a person. Unlimited double.

Four times if two times is not enough, and eight times if four times is not enough. Huo Di doesn't believe that he will lose to this ordinary blue fat man in front of him. Why is this kind of murloc who believes in humans so strong?

"Murloc Karate · Four thousand tiles are kicking!"

When Hody tried to continue taking drugs, Jinbe had already kicked him on the head. Murloc Karate uses tiles as a counting unit, and more numbers mean more tiles that can be broken or kicked at one time.

Four thousand tiles means that the strength of this kick can break four thousand stacked tiles at one time. This kick landed firmly on Hody's head, and Hody rolled directly like a rolling gourd. Going out, it smashed through several corals in a row, and finally embedded into the rock wall.

The murderous medicine he carried on his body was scattered all over the floor. Pierman picked up a few pills out of curiosity and put them in his pocket. He thought that Quinn might be interested in this medicine.

Although Hodi took the medicine and was weak in front of Jinping, but it can make a miscellaneous fish take Shichibukai's fist hard without losing consciousness. This medicine should have certain research value.

Pearman doesn't know the side effects of this drug, but judging from the current expressiveness, it's still okay.

"Ignore my own strength and indulge in external things, how could I be defeated by you like this!"

Jinbe rushed towards Hodi's landing point, but his raised fist didn't fall down, because Hodi, who was embedded in the stone, had completely lost consciousness.

Then Jinbe pulled it out from the rock wall. As the strength increases, the body will also become stronger. Otherwise, it will not be able to afford that kind of strength. This is also when the evil medicine reaches its limit. Possible cause of death.

The drug-enhanced physique prevented him from turning into a fish cake, and he was still a complete murloc. Then Jinbe walked up to Aaron and kicked him on the shoulder.

"Aaron, are you okay?"

"Ah, I'm fine, where's that * Hodi?"

"It has been resolved, let's go back, this guy must be at least a life sentence."

"Life imprisonment? This guy wants to kill Princess Otohime, and he is a dangerous person who wants to kill his compatriots. Is this just imprisonment?"

"Aaron, the Dragon Palace Kingdom is a kingdom with its own laws."

"Boom! Roar!"

When Jinbe was going to give Aaron Puffa, there was a sudden roar of thunder and lightning from the original venue, and some terrifying roars came from the distant sea.

Several people speeded up the pace of returning, and Hodi was also carried on the shoulders by Jinbe.

At the wedding venue, Mandelfish became a dragon again. The thunder they heard was made by Mandelfish. According to what a certain Murphy said, the more you worry about something, the more likely it will be. occur.

Hody has his own little friends in Murloc Street, and under Hody's influence, these people have all become extremists on Murloc Island, which is the plan No. 2 planned by Hody.

If Hody doesn't succeed by the end of the wedding, something is wrong with him, and they're going to have another operation.

It wasn't even just a few of them who acted. Under their instigation, some murlocs from Murloc Street actually participated and launched this "coup d'état" on Murloc Island.

Even Tiger couldn't stop them. The militants who had taken the poison were carrying out indiscriminate attacks one by one like lunatics.

Tiger's fighting style has always been melee combat. Faced with this situation, his force is very limited. Although he can punch one punch, there are too many of them.

As a last resort, Mandelfish launched his own large-scale attack. The Gyarados's attack area was very wide. After a burst of lightning and thunder, the scene also fell silent.

"Sorry Rusaka, it still seems to be messed up."

"It's okay, I should be the one who's sorry, there are still so many radical people in Murloc Island, but what's going on?"

"I don't know either, let's treat the injured first, and it should be clear after a while."

There were Tiger and Mandelfish, two powerful men, and the Sea King Army led by Neptune. Their rebellion was quickly ended.

Tiger dealt with the leader, Mandelfish quickly cleaned up the miscellaneous soldiers, and the Neptune Army was in charge of cleaning the ground. Few of the ordinary residents were injured, and Otohime was the most seriously injured.

Due to the existence of bubble corals, merfolk and murlocs move in more directions, and there is no trampling.

Otohome was not attacked either, and Mandelfish was near her, so no one would hurt her.

However, her physique is too fragile. When there was turmoil before, she stood on a high platform and appealed to the people not to be afraid, but she accidentally fell down in the chaos. She was almost vitreous and broke her calf. Now the doctor is treating her .

And Otohome was comforting Shirahoshi, her children were brought to the wedding scene, but it was the first time Shirahoshi saw such a chaotic situation, Otohome broke her leg again, which made Shirahoshi cry in fear stand up.

Ordinary people just cry when they cry, it's no big deal, but Shirahoshi's is this generation's Neptune. The crying caused by fear arouses the power in the blood, and the giant Neptune sleeping in the deep sea also wakes up because of this. This is Shiping and the others. heard the roar.

Several huge shadows have covered the Murloc Island, and the monster-like heads are outside the bubble membrane of the Murloc Island at this time, and these giant sea kings have fallen into confusion at this time, because except for the "King" " breath, and another strange breath.

Although it is not their "king", it has a very similar feeling to and.

The creature that can do this is none other than Manafei who has been staying on Murloc Island. At this time, he is floating above the bubble membrane, trying to prevent them from approaching the bubble membrane.

It won't be long, good night everyone
