

Arceus 631

Chapter 631: A "hero" with a bigger face than a redhead

In fact, Manafei was also at the wedding scene. He was even the representative of Arceus. He didn't need to take action at all with those ordinary murlocs. Strength.

He has the title of "Great Ocean Knight" on Murloc Island. Even if he only relies on his size, he is much stronger than these ordinary murlocs.

If there were not too many people, which made Mandelfish look annoyed, he didn't even need to intervene in the rebellion here.

But the change in the ocean caught Manafei's attention, and the created Eudemons have unique meanings.

Zeraora is because of the Fur Race, Darkrai is to find the underworld, Genesect was born as a group of war machines, and Diancie is for the economy of Beast Fruit and the new playmate for Yamato .

When Manafei was born, Arceus had the purpose of asking him to appease the sea kings.

He has also done the same in these years, let the sea kings or sea beasts near the deep sea mines leave, and don't hurt the working murlocs.

Although Manafei is not like the Neptune here, who can directly command Neptunes after his power awakens, but he has a friendly aura.

All marine creatures' favorability towards him defaults to being friendly and caring, and they almost always follow his suggestions.

Manafei is active in marine life not as a king, but as a friend.

In other words, he himself is a favorite of marine life.

Although it is not possible to directly order sea kings, the range is wider. Both sea kings and sea beasts are more friendly to him.

Sea beasts and sea kings are two different groups of species.

"Mammalian" sea monsters belong to sea beasts, such as those sea lions, seals and other creatures.

The remaining sea monsters, whether they are amphibians or birds, all belong to the category of sea kings.

In recent years, Manafei has also discovered the characteristics of sea kings. Those sea kings and sea beasts have high IQ, and the bigger the IQ, the higher the IQ, but most people can't understand their words.

Although the mermaids and a small number of murlocs have the ability to communicate with fish, they are limited to ordinary fish.

Murlocs do not have the ability to communicate with fish because they eat fish, or because they cannot understand fish, so they also include fish in their diet.

Murlocs who can communicate with fish are extremely rare, and all of them are kind-hearted people.

As for the sea kings, only the awakened sea kings have the ability to communicate with them.

Manafei can communicate with them, but no, distinguishing them is not only based on their size, but also on the special creatures of Neptunes, which have also attracted the attention of some Neptunes, but this is not the case during their long careers. It's nothing.

「Stop! Stop! Don't come any closer!」

"Little one, step aside, our king is crying, we are going to protect the king."

A sea king with a crow head made a slightly hoarse voice. This time they didn't want to follow Mana Fei's suggestion. For sea kings, the sea king's order came first.

"That's right, we didn't intend to destroy this place, we just heard the cry of the king."

「Are you trying to scare your king? And things on the island have calmed down! You will only cause a new round of panic if you move over!」 ...

Manafei didn't know who the awakened Sea King was yet, but when he came up, the rebellion below had been suppressed.

These giant sea kings have perfect thinking ability, and it's not that they can't listen to them. Since they are worried about sea kings, then use sea kings to persuade them.

Their size is a disaster for Murloc Island itself. Given their size, there is a possibility of breaking the bubble membrane of Murloc Island. Although Murlocs and Merfolk cannot be drowned, the influx of seawater will destroy them. a lot of things.

For those humans who stayed on Murloc Island, it was even more catastrophic.

"He is right, the king hasn't really awakened yet, we shouldn't bother her"—"Look at the king's situation. "

A larger Neptune appeared behind it, with a head shaped like a

Giant tortoise, Manafei even saw the seaweed growing on his body, this guy may have been nested on the bottom of the sea for decades without moving.

He said a strange name, but Manafei didn't understand what it was, but after that, a sea king with the head of a peregrine falcon swam up to a position with a wider view.

Neptunes not only have a huge body size, but also other biological characteristics. Raptor-type Neptunes generally have better eyesight.

"The king is fine, what the little guy said is true." "We will stay nearby for a while, and when the king stops crying, we will naturally leave."

Several sea kings retreated into the surrounding dark sea area. When the sea king was safe, they chose to give the group a little face. In the group of sea kings, Manafei's face was greater than that of Shanks.

"Don't worry, don't worry, if anyone hurts your "king", I will teach him a lesson, but who is your king? "

Shirahoshi was not the only one who was frightened and cried. The residents of Fishman Island hadn't seen such a chaotic situation for many years.

"That older girl with pink hair."

"Oh, it's Shirahoshi, I see, you can watch from the side with peace of mind."

「The king's name. Is it Shirahoshi?」

After Manafei returned to Murloc Island by the ocean current, the sea kings who retreated into the darkness also engraved the word "Bai Xing" in their memory.

The sea kings retreated temporarily, but Manafei, who returned to Murloc Island, encountered a new situation.

He doesn't stay in the deep sea all the time. When the Neptunes who live nearby are persuaded to leave by him, he will return to Murloc Island to enjoy life. But with his cute appearance, he has some sister fans and mother fans.

In Manafei's view, he just had a friendly exchange with those big men, but ordinary mermaids don't know what happened. Most people don't know the legend that the mermaid princess is the king of the sea, and only a few people know it.

In the eyes of the residents of Murloc Island, giant sea kings appeared around Murloc Island inexplicably. They heard the legend of Manafei from their family members who work in the mining company, and this time they saw it with their own eyes.

Manafei successfully resolved the big crisis, this is what they got.

So Manafei suddenly became a "hero" in the eyes of the residents of Murloc Island. Before he could figure out what happened, he was thrown into the air by a crowd of cheers.

But other than that, some people were not so relaxed. The eyes of Otohime and Neptune were full of worry, and there was a slightly excited look in the shadows. He seemed to have discovered something serious.

Chapter 632: Neptune's guide

There are no specific invited guests at the wedding, and all invited guests are welcome in an open wedding, which leads to many people who join in the fun, such as Vander Daken IX.

Ordinary murlocs don't know these secrets, but Vander Daken IX is different. His family has passed down this secret from generation to generation.

A sentence passed down by Vander Daken's family, the legendary mermaid princess has the mysterious power to subdue the sea kings. Pursuing this legend, the first generation of Vander Daken pointed to the bottom of the sea.

According to time calculations, the first generation of Van der Daken survived exactly 800 years ago in the blank history. Living in that era, he may have seen the true ability of Neptune.

And the identity may be a human being. After targeting the sea, the first Vander Daken began to intermarry with the mermaids and murlocs, gradually changing the blood in his body. By the time of the ninth generation, he was no different from the murlocs.

The sea king is the goal of this family's struggle. After seeing those giant sea kings, Vander Daken IX knew that his goal had appeared.

But he was lost in thought.

「Captain, what's the matter, what are you thinking?」

「I was wondering what happened to that little blue thing」

Van der Daken is also the captain of a pirate group. He also has a group of murlocs under him. He belongs to the independent part of Murloc Street who does not follow Tiger's orders. People are different.

「Aquaman should be a mermaid princess, so Princess Shirahoshi is Aquaman, but that blue thing」

Originally, there was only one goal, but now there are two goals suddenly. Van der Daken didn't know what to do. After thinking for a while, he made a decision, that is to use two prongs.

Bai Xing is a royal family, and there is nothing he can do for a while, but he has a plan based on the scope of Manafei's activities.

"Leave the little ones, we are going to do something big."

...

"Your Excellency Mandelfish, although it's very disturbing, can I invite you to Dragon Palace? We have some important matters to discuss with you, which are very important."

Although the wedding between Mandelfish and Rusaka on Murloc Island was just a make-up, she also knew the importance of this wedding. She didn't want to disturb the other party, but it was related to Shirahoshi, and it was still about Neptune.

This is a top priority for the future of this murloc island. Manafei and Mandelfish are creatures of the same camp. Manafei, who can communicate with those sea kings, should know some secrets.

That's why she made this slightly unreasonable request.

「Is it about Shirahoshi?」

"you"

Mandelfish directly mentioned Shirahoshi's name, which was unexpected by Otohime. Manafei had just communicated with those giant sea kings, but during this period of time Manafei was still enjoying the glory of "hero". He must have never communicated with Mandelfish.

"Don't be surprised, Your Majesty, I know more than you might think."...

Mandelfish is also one of the top leaders of the Beasts Pirates. He knows a lot of internal information. Translating historical texts has always been one of the activities of the Beasts Pirates, and the historical texts that record the location of Neptune are on Sky Island.

Sky Island was included in the rule of Beasts a long time ago, and the rubbings of the historical text were also in the hands of Beasts. Mandelfisch had already read the corresponding materials when he was stationed here.

Although the records are not so detailed, he can feel the focus of the eyes of those sea kings, and after thinking about it, he gives his own guess. Coupled with Otohime's current expression, he can completely confirm this matter.

"Rusalka, if you delay for a while, you can come with me."

He was worried about letting Rusaka stay in the place where the rebellion had just occurred, so he took Rusaka to Dragon Palace City.

"His Excellency Mandelfish

Since you already know, I won't hide it from you. Shirahoshi is the Aquaman of this generation, and Aquaman's real body is the mermaid princess. "

In Dragon Palace, Otoji and Neptune drove away all the guards, and Rusaka was also waiting outside the door. Apart from her and Neptune, only Mandelfish and Manafei were left in the room.

Just as he was leaving, Mandelfish brought Manafei along, sort of bringing him out of the embrace of the big sister mermaid.

"Is this what you want to say, Princess? If you want me to keep it a secret, then there is no problem. No outsiders will know about this matter."

Beasts know Neptune internally, but they have no intention of taking action, because the current Neptune is very tasteless to them.

Not to mention, Manafei can do things similar to Neptune, as long as no one else plots Neptune, they can also temporarily put Neptune on hold.

The position of the stone slab and the historical text are the two major goals of Beasts today. One is related to Arceus, and the other is related to the position of One Piece. As long as you find all the slates, the things made by Arceus are far more terrifying than ancient weapons.

Concealment is the most favorable condition for the beasts. Of course Mandelfish will not go to him, and even if he reports it, he will tell Kaido and them.

For Arceus and others who have already known the results, this report is meaningless.

"I believe in your character, which is all the better, but there is another thing."

Otohime is equivalent to a human-shaped lie detector, she can feel the sincerity of other people's words, in this case she still used her knowledge, and then said another thing.

「The sea king will randomly awaken on the mermaid princess, but in addition, there will be a guide when the sea king awakens, he will guide the sea king to grow up correctly, so as to prevent the sea king from going on the wrong path.」

The impact of ancient weapons is destructive. If the sea kings go berserk, except for the red earth continent, the small islands in the sea will not be able to withstand the power of these sea monsters.

"Guide?"

"Yes, but we don't know who the guide is. I think His Excellency Manafei may be the guide."

「Mana? No, sister princess, why do you think I am a guide?」

Manafei forgot how to speak human language for a while, and he couldn't figure out why Otohime came to this conclusion.

「The time you appeared here was about the same as Shirahoshi's birth time, and you can also communicate with Neptunes. According to royal records, that is the privilege of Neptunes.

Chapter 633: Shark murloc's ancestral tough mouth

「Be friends with her?」

「Well, teach her to use her power correctly and not become the source of disaster.」

These are the two things Otohime wants to do. I hope that Mandelfish can keep a certain secret, and at the same time I hope that Manafei will be the guide.

Although the guide should be a human being, Manafei is not a mermaid or a murloc.

The power in his body is incomprehensible to Otohime, and it makes all marine life have a sense of affinity with him. Like the son of the sea, Manafei, who can communicate with sea kings, is a natural sea king guide in Otohime's view.

The strongest ability of Neptune is to command Neptune, and Manafei can communicate with Neptune himself. In Otohime's opinion, this kind of communication is better than ordering, so that such creatures can correctly guide the future Neptune.

The most important thing is that she can feel the purity of Manafei's heart without the slightest misunderstanding. In her cognition, she can't find a more suitable object than this.

Aquaman has clear instructions. The mermaid princess who can command the Aquaman is Aquaman, but her guide does not.

Manafei's abilities are too suitable, he is simply a natural teacher of Neptune.

Moreover, Mafina is different from other Phantom Beasts. Among all the Phantom Beasts created so far, Manafei's mentality is relatively the lowest, and his behavior and speech are more like a half-grown child.

The guide is not simply teaching Neptune, but a special partner who lives and grows with him, so Otohime is talking about friends.

Things flock together, people are divided into groups, and people will be affected by the surrounding environment and relatives and friends. Mana Fei's innocent character should make Shirahoshi on the right track.

「Well, I like to make friends. I have many friends in the sea. I can take her to meet those friends.」

Otohime and Manafei quickly reached a consensus, but Mandelfisch looked a little strange.

Manafei will not teach people to be bad, but will instinctively carry out "missionary" activities. The most outstanding example is Setsuna. No one deliberately preaches to her, and she is not a fanatic, but her front with Arceus is a prison firmly bound.

Setsuna at that time was about the same age as Shirahoshi now, and Mandelfisch had already predicted what it would be like in 10 years.

"Excuse me, King Neptune, Boss Tiger and Boss Jinbe have been waiting for a long time with the leaders of the rebels, do you want to let them in?"

「Ah, let them in quickly, this matter has to be dealt with...」

Otohime rubbed her head with a headache, this was the last thing she wanted to face.

Jinbe and Tiger have a high reputation in Murloc Island, even in Dragon Palace City, they are honored guests. If it wasn't about Aquaman, they wouldn't have been kept waiting for so long.

「Otohime, go rest first, let me do the rest, after all, your leg is seriously injured.」

Up until now, Otohime has been using bubble corals to move. This is one of the few advantages of Murloc Island. The bubbles made by bubble corals can be used as natural wheelchairs. Even if her legs are broken, she can use them to float.

Because of the existence of this item, even if her leg was injured before, Otohime can still move freely after bandaging.

"I can still hold on."

"Otohime, you'd better go to rest, Shirahoshi was also frightened, you just took Her Excellency Manafei to get acquainted with her."...

「Okay, then you can handle it here.」

Seeing that Neptune had been persuading her like this, she took Mana Fei to the room where Bai Xing lived.

...

Nipton sent Otohime for no reason, because Otohime is too kind and kind, even if the actions of Hodi and others have caused serious consequences, in Otohime's view, the other party can still forgive if they know how to repent.

Otohime's kindness is close to weakness, but she does not have double standards. No matter who the object is, she maintains her consistent style.

Even if Hodi wanted to kill her, she could still forgive him.

However, what Huo Di and others started was a rebellion. For the royal family, this kind of rebellion is unforgivable. Even if the participants can forgive, the leader must be dealt with.

In Murloc Island two years after the original timeline, Huo Di and others were all imprisoned for trial after their failure. The next few days.

This time is different. Hody's drug-taking behavior was interrupted by Jinbei. He did not take such a large amount of drugs, and what he did this time had a greater impact in Neptune's view.

Murdering the Queen, intending to subvert the regime of Murloc Island, interfering with Mandelfish's wedding, and provoking conflicts between Murlocs and humans, these are serious crimes, and it is impossible not to deal with them.

Especially when he was still messing around at Mandelfish's wedding. If he really succeeded, the beasts would definitely retaliate. Now that Murloc Island is still Whitebeard's territory, a full-scale war between the two pirate groups will break out .

Based on the previous battle results, Whitebeard may not be able to gain an advantage. Even if the Murloc Island is not destroyed in the battle between the two, the Murloc Island that lost its shelter will definitely return to its previous state.

Under the protection of Whitebeard's banner and the actions of beasts, Murloc Island has rarely seen abduction and trafficking incidents in recent years, and the number of Murlocs and Merfolk in the market has become increasingly scarce. Once that situation returns, it will make Murloc Island even worse. Bring about a catastrophe like genocide.

Even he would not forgive Hody in this matter, seeing is out of sight and heart is pure, letting Otohime leave first is the best choice.

...

Under the **** of Jinbe and Tiger, Hodi and others were quickly brought here. With them watching, Hodi couldn't make any waves at all.

"Hoddy Jones, are you pleading guilty?"

"Confession? Neptune, what crime am I guilty of?" "Murder, rebellion, endangering the future of Murloc Island, what do you think you are doing?!"

Looking at the disdainful Hody, Neptune also showed anger on his face.

"Hehe, the future? Neptune, Jinbe, Tiger, you guys are destroying the future of Murloc Island! You guys who are close to humans are all sinners! Do you think mere chains can restrain me?! "

Hody's muscles began to swell, trying to break free from the chains on his body, but the next moment, his muscles suddenly began to shrink like a deflated balloon, his skin became extremely loose, and a large number of wrinkles appeared on his face.

Almost in the blink of an eye, he changed from a young man of eighteen or nineteen to an old man in his sixties or seventies.

The side effects of the evil drug began to appear, because he was still young, and the degree of aging was slightly reduced by not taking so many evil drugs.

But even if he became an old man, he still scolded Neptune and Otohime angrily, as if he had suffered a huge injustice.

Royal Family, Jinbe, Tiger, Aaron, Whitebeard and Mandelfish were all scolded by him

"Hodi, as the king of the Dragon Palace Kingdom, I sentence you to death."

Murloc Island rarely executes executions, but Hody is an exception, and now he has gone too far.

Chapter 634: put to death

「Hahaha! Neptune, you are afraid, you are worried that our will will be passed on, but it is useless, the anger of the murlocs will not disappear, even if you kill me, it is useless!」

「You bastard...」

Even Jinbe, who is a good old man, looked at him with an ugly expression. His remarks included all the peace faction of Fishman Island.

"Forget it, give up reasoning with him, he thinks he is a hero from the bottom of his heart, and a person who never thinks he is wrong will not admit his mistakes."

"You human being understands it very well, then you should understand that you scumbags should be punished."

Click.

Before Hody finished speaking, Mandelfish's animalized dragon claws pinched Hody Jones' neck.

「Sorry, although I'm also a ****, but I'm not interested in listening to your paranoid nonsense.

King Neptune, I'm sorry, you have sentenced him to death anyway, I can't stand it anymore, this guy's words are too harsh. "

In his series of insults, Rusaka was also counted by him. This has exceeded Mandelfisch's tolerance limit, and he will feel uncomfortable if he doesn't deal with this guy.

"It's okay, the result is the same."

Nepton does not have the hobby of publicly executing others, and this kind of fanatical extremist has no meaning of public execution. If he is allowed to start an era of murloc rebellion with his voice, then Murloc Island will have a lot of fun.

The direct cause of the Great Pirate Era is Roger, but if there is no warrior who asks where the "treasure" is, Roger might really change his mind.

Combined with the chaos that the world government can maintain, one can't help but suspect that the person who asked the question is himself a trustee, and he is also a trustee arranged by the world government.

"King Neptune, although I am a human being, this is also Rusaka's home, and she will come back often in the future.

I have to say something more, a guy like Huodi can bring up so many opponents with a few words, the management of Fishman Island needs to be strengthened, I will go back first if there is nothing to do. "

In addition to the leader Huo Di and others, there are also some ordinary murlocs who have been instigated.

Mandelfish said this because he hoped that Neptune would take good care of it, and let some hesitant people see that there is no punishment for participating in the rebellion, which will cause trouble next time.

In the end, Hody Jones was executed, and several cadres were sentenced to life imprisonment. Their prison life will not be too long after taking the murderous drug. They have already consumed their youth through that drug.

As for the ordinary participants, with the participation of the Neptune Army, they were punished accordingly according to the severity of their nature. This matter is almost over.

Manafei and Bai Xing had a face-to-face meeting, and Manafei had a good impression of the big man's new friend.

But a few days later, Mandelfish had not returned to the island where he was stationed, but Manafei received a new situation.

「Discovered a new mineral deposit?」

"Well, it was discovered by a group of newcomers, but there seem to be sea kings living there, Mr. Manafei, please handle this matter."

A murloc who joined Beast Fruit reported the situation to Manafei. The working murlocs were constantly looking for new mineral deposits. There were too many unknowns in Guo Kuo's sea, and some rare mineral deposits with small reserves were even more Limited mining targets. ...

Once there are sea kings living nearby, Manafei will persuade them to leave. This has become a fixed process, and this time is no exception.

"Okay, leave it to me, Bai Xingxing, I'm going to work, I'll play with you when I come back."

He gave Bai Xing a strange nickname, and many of his friends have similar nicknames.

"I see."

Deep sea, Manafei led a new mining team on the road.

「Isn't it here yet?」

"It will arrive soon. This time, a team of newcomers discovered it. They said it is in the submarine basin ahead, and they are already waiting here."

In the deep sea, a pirate ship floats nearby, and the pirate flag is painted with two swords crossed Fork, a skull with fangs.

Both the sail and the hull are seriously damaged, and the words Flying Dutchman can still be vaguely seen on the sail. This is the pirate ship of Vander Daken IX.

He is the ability user of the target fruit, and he is hiding in a bubble at this time. Due to the fruit ability, he has lost the characteristic of murlocs who are good at swimming. Therefore, when moving in the water, he must apply a swim coat on his body Take protective measures, or become impotent.

And he was the weirdo that the employees said before. The mining department has been recruiting. A few days ago, Vander Daken IX applied for the position of the employee.

Because he has figured out the rules of the mining company's activities, as long as Neptunes are found near the newly discovered deposits, Manafei will go to expel them, and this is the opportunity in the eyes of Vander Daken IX.

An opportunity to seize Manafei, so he sneaked into the other party's company and led the other party here. In order to be more real, he even worked for several days with a bubble wrap.

「See you in Mianjin! Hurry up, they should be here!」

"Yes, Captain VanderDayken."

Flying to the Dutchman without coating, the worn hull has long lost its power under the sea. The reason why it can move is not the push of the current, but something pulling the boat.

The creature that pulls the boat is Mitsumi, as Vander Daken IX called it, a huge red-finned murloc.

Hair and beard are almost in a circle, and there is a small point on the top of the head, and a few large sparse teeth can be seen in the open mouth.

With a figure like a sea monster, there are no enemies in the sea, but Mianzu sees that his mind is immature, and like a child, he almost obeys Vander Daken's words, so he became a member of his pirate group.

"You have to follow my instructions later, and you must catch that little blue guy. If he is alert, it will be troublesome."

"I see, Captain, I'll catch that little guy, but what does he look like?"

For Watatsumi, many things are little guys, only one blue is too general.

「Blue, like a water drop, and then...how should I say it」

「Is it like me?」

「That's right, that's what it looks like!」

Just as Vander Daken IX was struggling with how to describe Manafei's appearance, a voice suddenly came from his ear. Manafei was sitting on top of a giant marsh monster and looked at him.

It wasn't just one giant marsh monster that followed Manafei, but a group of them. When new mineral deposits were discovered, the giant marsh monsters would always follow Manafei to dig a mine first, and now these giant marsh monsters are using their ferocious He stared at Van der Daken IX.

For ordinary marine creatures, Manafei is a group pet, let alone the giant marsh monster that also belongs to Pokémon.

Chapter 635: Manafei found excellent employees

Looking at Mana Fei in front of him, Vander Daken IX suddenly panicked, the "surprise" came too suddenly.

Van der Daken IX's brain circuit is very novel. When he realized that Shirahoshi was the king of the sea, his inner thought was to marry him. No matter in terms of size, age, identity or appearance, there was an insurmountable gap between the two of them. .

But that was the first thought that popped into his head.

In order to get close to Neptune smoothly, the Van der Daken family has always adopted intermarriage and changed their blood in this way, so this behavior has been engraved into the bones of Vander Daken IX.

In his opinion, marrying the other party is the best way to control Neptune. He also has very strange ideas about Manafei. Both of them are men, so there is no way. He is really not interested in men.

But he can wait until he and Bai Xing have a daughter, and then make Mana Fei his son-in-law. This is his long-term development policy.

Bai Xing belongs to the royal family and will not leave the Dragon Palace Kingdom. His position is very stable. In order to prevent Manafei from disappearing, he just wants to catch him directly.

The plan couldn't keep up with the changes. He didn't know when Mana Fei appeared here, but it seemed that he had heard what he just said.

After hearing those words, he still had such an innocent tone, which made him want to try to kidnap the other party.

"Ahem, Your Majesty Manafei, it's like this. I have a very grand ideal. Would you like to hear it?"

As Vander Daken IX stretched out a hand to Manafei, as long as Manafei had contact with him once, he would be able to find Manafei no matter where he went.

This is the ability of his target fruit, touching the opponent's body with the palm can lock it as the target.

As long as the opponent is targeted, the objects thrown by Vander Daken IX will automatically track the target to the ends of the earth.

And this throwing is not a physical throwing, as long as he touches the object and makes a throwing action, even things he can't lift will be affected by the ability and fly out.

It is as small as a flying knife and axe, and as big as Noah, unless it is shot down or blocked by obstacles on the way, it will stop tracking.

Each hand can lock a target. If you wash your hands, the target locked by this hand will be eliminated, and you must touch the opponent again to lock again.

In order to prevent the wrong target from being locked, Van der Daken IX always wears gloves. He has even made a plan for his left hand to be Manafei and right hand to Bai Xing in this life. The price is that he will not be able to wash his hands in this life.

At this time, Vander Daken IX took off his gloves, seemingly wanting to show respect, but in fact he wanted to mark Manafei.

But Mana Fei has no interest in this.

「So you're lying to me when you say you found mines here?」

This time it's his problem, it's his job, and he'll be **** if someone lied to him about it.

Still had that lovely face, but Manafei's tone became much colder.

"catch him!"

The expression on Vander Daken IX's face suddenly became very excited, which was different from what he had planned, but the target was already in front of his eyes, how could he give up. ...

There is no mineral deposit here, he is just fooling the other party, the other party's change of tone shows that he is not as easy to fool as a child, if this continues, it will be revealed sooner or later, it is better to do it directly.

At this time, he ignored the danger in front of him, because it was undoubtedly very unwise to fight Manafei in the deep sea.

Manafei himself is not a weak chicken with no power to restrain a chicken, and what he is best at is shaking people.

The reason Vander Daken IX tricked him was that he had discovered a mine, so Manafei brought a group of strong "miners" with him.

Swamp Monster is a Pokémon that replaces impact drills and power hammers on the seabed. The explosive power of its arms that can easily lift a ton of weight is even more terrifying.

Seeing that Vander Daken IX is planning to attack their group pets, there is no need for Manafei to say anything, they have already started their own actions.

Several bog monsters opened their mouths wide, and the mud bombs cut through the water and hit the murloc pirates. Even underwater, they achieved a different kind of firepower suppression.

And after the mud bombs hit the target, they spread out. When a large amount of mud was released, the sea water here became turbid. Even the murlocs couldn't see the target in front of them, so they could only wave their hands indiscriminately. in the weapon.

The giant swamp monsters are different. Those who can live in swamps have already evolved the ability to see things in muddy water. Taking this opportunity, the second echelon of giant swamp monsters has rushed into the crowd.

The muscles on their arms erupted with strange strength, and every punch was accompanied by screams. The dilapidated Flying Dutchman even had several large holes, and it was on the verge of disintegration.

Vander Daken IX's goal is to automatically lock the enemy, but he has never encountered anyone before, so he naturally lost this ability.

Van der Daken IX's physical skills are very poor, and his combat power is not as good as that of ordinary murlocs. Moreover, he is still a person with abilities, and he can move freely only by relying on the bubble membrane on his body surface. will become weak.

「Meet Mitsu! What are you waiting for! Catch him!」

"Okay, Captain Vander Daken, look at me! Captain, I can't see where he is? Why don't you tell me where he is first?"

Mianjin saw that he was aggressive and wanted to make a move, but soon found that he couldn't find where Manafei was. He instinctively asked the parents in his mind as a child.

「Idiot! Won't you get rid of the muddy water first!」

「Oh, as expected of the captain, good idea.」

Mianjin took a deep breath, inhaled a large amount of clean seawater from the side, he was a puffer fish murloc, his inflated body was like a giant balloon, and then spat it out towards the Flying Dutchman.

A large amount of seawater washed away the turbid seawater nearby, and also blown away many murlocs. Those were murloc pirates who were brought down by the giant marsh monster.

"Captain, wait a little longer, I'll catch him right away!"

「Interesting, you two go and get rid of that ugly four-legged one, and I'll catch this big guy.」

Manafei felt that Mianjin was so stupid that it would be a waste of talent for such a stupid big man not to mine, so Manafei decided to add a "Titan" to the mining company.

A strange sound wave came from Manafei's body, and in the sand not far away, a strange fish with lobster claws seemed to have heard the call and swam towards Manafei.

Although Vander Daken IX is talking nonsense, it is very easy for Manafei to find a sea king in the sea.

Chapter 636 Manafei's secret skill-shaking people

Manafei thinks that Mianjin sees this kind of stupid big man as long as he takes care of the food, and there is no need to pay wages at all. Although the food expenses of this kind of big man are much higher than that of ordinary employees, the benefits brought by it are also real. .

The giant marsh monsters were a bit short to deal with this big guy, so he chose to shake people. Why do you have to do it yourself when you can let others solve the problem for you.

Mianjinjin himself has not undergone much training, but is a giant murloc who relies on his size to fight. To deal with him, he only needs to find one bigger than him.

Mianjinjin is a rare big man among the murlocs, but he is nothing compared to Neptune. Finding a thug is just a matter of words for Manafei.

At this time, the Neptunes were still on their way, but Manafei was very playful, and circled around Mianjinjin, nimbly riding the current to move wantonly, and Mianjinjin couldn't touch Manafei at all. Fei a vellus hair.

"Here, catch me big man?"

"Damn! Don't run away, if you don't catch you, Captain Vander Daken will scold me!"

"Okay, I won't run, you come and catch me."

Manafei came in front of Mianjinjin. His size was not as big as a knuckle of Mianjinjin, but the difference in size did not make Manafei feel any tension. As he said, standing in Mianjinjin Jin did not run away before meeting.

Mianjin saw two big hands grabbing towards Manafei, and tightly clenched his hands into a ball, for fear that Manafei would run away.

"Captain Vander Daken! I've got him!"

Watatsumi shouted very excitedly, as happy as a big child, or he was a big child, but at this time Vander Daken IX did not have the strength to answer Mitatsumi.

Just now the two giant marsh monsters launched their own attacks on him, and even used their own combo skills. The two giant marsh monsters embraced together to form a tire shape, rushed their tail fins outward, and cast their iron tails. He rushed towards Vander Daken IX.

Spinning at high speed, they formed a cutting saw. With Vander Daken IX's weak combat power, he couldn't bear the frontal impact of two giant marsh monsters. Most importantly, the bubble film on his body was stuck on the iron tail. shattered under the cut.

As a bloodline that is very close to the existence of the murloc, he can breathe without the bubble membrane, but the side effects of the devil fruit have also appeared.

According to the legend someone heard, the devil fruit is the product of idealism, which symbolizes the wishes of some people. These fruits born in violation of the laws of nature are disgusted by the mother of the sea, thus producing the P particle, which is an ingredient for devil fruits .

When the ability user encounters this ingredient, he will become limp and weak. At this time, Vander Daken IX is already lying on the deck, unable to move.

"Captain!"

"Big man, you better think about yourself."

Manafei's voice came from Mianjinjian's palm. Instead of running, his body melted into a stream of water, which flowed out from between Mianjinjian's fingers.

"Ok?"

"Look behind you, I have specially found an opponent for you."

Seeing that Mianjin didn't doubt the enemy's words, he turned his head and looked over. A sea king with pincers bigger than his head was just floating behind him.

"Pliers, help me stun this idiot, thank you!"

Manafei waved her little hand, saying something that Mianjinjian could not understand.

"Hey, who is the idiot?"

Duang!

With a muffled sound, Mianjin suddenly became dizzy when he saw his head.

"I'm not stupid."

After tenaciously speaking the last sentence, the pliers of the sea kings hit him on the head again, not knocking him out all at once, which made the sea kings feel that they had lost face, so they increased their strength a little.

Now Mianjin no longer has the ability to resist, just like Vander Daken IX, lying on the bottom of the sea.

"Thank you, can you do me another favor and send this guy and that boat back to Murloc Island?"

The sea kings didn't say anything, but silently picked up what Manafei needed with two pliers.

If it weren't for the Neptunes not being able to do too detailed work, and Manafei commanding them would cost human favor, he would trouble these Neptunes to mine.

Letting them mine is easy to cause landslides directly on the seabed continental shelf, and it is easy to directly break the minerals into slag, resulting in being washed away by ocean currents, and only Mana Fei can communicate with them, which will take a lot of time.

In addition to developing the economy of Murloc Island and solving the idle population of Murloc Street, Neptunes did not participate in similar work.

Murloc Island, looking at the returning Manafei, the defenders of the Dragon Palace Kingdom showed disbelief, saying that they were people who went to mine but brought back a group of comatose murlocs.

After hearing the news, Neptune quickly brought people over.

"This guy is Vander Daken IX?"

"King Neptune, do you know him? This guy actually lied to me, and he also knows about Neptune."

Manafei swam to Neptune's ear and whispered to him.

"what?!"

Mana Fei frightened him with the Sea Kings. At first Vander Daken IX wanted to be tough, but he did not hide information from his younger brothers before. Under the threat of the Sea Kings, his younger brothers will soon His plan was clear.

Including the fact that he wanted to marry Shirahoshi was also revealed.

"Put them all in jail and let no one visit!"

Neptune immediately issued his order to the Neptune Army, and personally supervised their being sent to prison. On the way back, they were all knocked unconscious by the giant marsh monster, which became a thing for Neptune. good thing.

As for detaining them, there is nothing wrong with this matter, because Vander Daken IX is also a pirate.

From a legal point of view, Dragon Palace Kingdom, as a member country, has the obligation to capture and imprison pirates, but the uniqueness and embarrassing status of Fishman Island makes this almost never exist. After all, Fishman Island relies on pirates. The flag is protecting itself.

The Sun Pirates have never done anything to harm the Murloc Island, and are even protecting the Murloc Island.

But the Van der Daken Pirates are different. They are not managed by Tiger, and they are relatively dangerous elements on Murloc Island, and they also know the secret.

Although the laws of Murloc Island are relatively loose, these people are still bound to be imprisoned. At least until Shirahoshi has enough power to protect himself, Neptune will not let them go.

After this incident, Otohime's favorability for Manafei has increased a lot, because Manafei did not kill those people, but captured them all. This "gentle" method is more consistent with Otohime's proposition close.

At the same time, Manafei also began to recruit Mianjin Jian. Although he was a big fool, he was really loyal to Vander Deken IX. When Vander Deken IX did not abandon him, he insisted on following him. this captain.

But Van der Daken IX did not attach so much importance to Mianjinjian. Seeing that he was arrested in the prison of Dragon Palace City, and the other party was still interested in his subordinates, he simply sold Mianjinjian in exchange for some treatment. .

In order to prevent him from escaping from prison, Neptune not only put Hailoushi handcuffs and shackles on him, but even a Hailoushi collar.

The purity of Hailou Stone and the strength of the ability user will both affect the situation of the ability user who is bound. Vander Daken IX was basically paralyzed into noodles under the four-fold restraint, so he simply used Mianjin to see In exchange for a slightly more comfortable treatment.

Chapter 637 Momonosuke brother should be doing well, right?

Manafei didn't care about the life and death of Vander Daken IX. The Dragon Palace Kingdom could handle it as it liked. To him, this was a clown, and he wouldn't care about it.

Hody Jones had at least caused some influence, making it ugly in every way, but the current Vander Daken IX hardly caused any influence, and was captured by a group of miners.

In the past, the giant marsh monsters were always beating the rocks at the bottom of the deep sea. This time, they were merciful in not beating them into fish cakes. The matter of the Murloc Island has generally come to an end, and Mandelfish is about to return to his territory.

But before leaving, he stopped by to sell their safety lock to Dragon Palace Kingdom.

That is the magical fingerprint lock made by Quinn. As long as the fingerprint is correct, it will be electrified. The keyhole under the fingerprint button is the correct way to unlock.

According to Pearlman's report, Huo Di easily stole the national treasure of the Dragon Palace Kingdom as an ordinary soldier, which shows that the security measures here need to be strengthened urgently.

After seeing the outrageousness of this anti-theft measure, Neptune purchased several boxes like this.

While Mandelfish left here, Tiger also summoned some of the old troops to form his own murloc expedition team, and Aaron was naturally among them, which temporarily shattered his dream of continuing to ride the Ferris wheel.

Ghost Island, during this period of time, the Hundred Beasts Pirates had a new member - Foz Fu, who was playing around with the second generation of Beasts. While sightseeing, Foz Fu also successfully returned from the East China Sea and brought back The king's head acts as his own vote.

Through this incident, he can be regarded as officially joining the Hundred Beasts Pirates.

Jack led his direct subordinates to perform several missions, and after that, his subordinates respected him a lot, because they found that Jack was not very kind.

In the previous battles, he showed how tyrannical he is, and he is completely different from the one who teases the cream fairy in his daily life.

"Brother Jack is so scary."

"Yeah, he didn't keep a single prisoner in that pirate group. This is different from the previous rules."

In the cafeteria, several pirates assigned to Jack were discussing the previous matter in a low voice.

"Shh, Lord Mandelfish held a make-up wedding on Fishman Island a while ago, and those guys delayed Brother Jack for several days, causing him to miss Lord Mandelfish's wedding. Do you think he can't be angry? "

Jack and Mandelfish have the best relationship, which is a well-known fact among the pirates stationed on Oni Island.

"I don't think Brother Jack has calmed down much now, do you want to practice with him?"

Reminiscent of Jack's terrifying performance before, the people around the table shook their heads one after another, and then changed the subject.

"Why are you so clear, kid?"

"Of course it's gossip, this thing is very effective."

The internal gossip of the Pirates discussed by a group of people, such as an unlucky guy who approached the drunk Kaido recently, got a stick from Kaido, but he seemed to awaken the armed color after he recovered in the hospital signs of.

The Zeraola family has not yet decided on the name of the child, and according to the news from the purchasing department, Setsuna bought a few cat teasers recently, and he doesn't know what he wants to do.

And which lucky guy got the grace of Arceus, the number of Yamato moving soil has increased significantly recently, someone has established a Uta support club, etc.

Beasts have freedom of speech, even if they praise other pirates, it doesn't matter, as long as they don't say any insulting words.

In the Flower City, Denjiro and the others felt a strange aura.

Guran Tezolo's play has long ended, and everyone has returned to the Wano country, but Kozuki Hiyori who returned to the Wano country seems to have become a little strange.

They couldn't tell where the blame was, but they always felt that she was very different from before.

This is true both in the attitude towards the beasts and in the response to them.

Familiar visiting hours, this time it was Denjiro who came to visit Hiyori. Except for reporting to Jin, there are no restrictions on other aspects, and there is no need for a body search or the like.

"Master Rihe, Gui'an, have you been feeling unwell recently?"

"No, I can feel uncomfortable. There is nothing missing here. Even if I am really sick, there are enough famous doctors here."

Originally, the doctors in Wano Country General's Mansion were enough to deal with most diseases, not to mention that there were doctors from all over the world and a few geniuses in Beasts.

"Master Rihe, with all due respect to Xiaosheng, you don't seem to be quite right recently."

"It's just your illusion, but Denjiro, I have a question."

"what?"

"Are you concerned about me, or the name of Kozuki on me?"

Hikazu Kozuki asked this question very flatly, without much emotion in his tone, as if he was chatting, but Denjiro noticed something was wrong here.

In the past, Kozuki Hiyori would not ask this kind of question.

"Master Hiyori, what are you talking about? Of course we are concerned about you, you belong to Lord Oda"

Denjiro explained instinctively, but in the middle of speaking, he suddenly found something wrong. It seemed inappropriate to explain this way.

"Oh, sure enough, it's all because of my father. I don't have any other intentions. I'm doing well. I'll stop here today. I'm a little tired."

"Retire"

Denjiro knew that it was inappropriate to continue talking about other things now, so he chose to leave first, but when he was about to leave, Kozuki Hiyori suddenly said another word.

"Brother Momonosuke, he should be doing well, right?"

Denjiro left here with a very headache. Kozuki Hiyori's words made him feel that the other party had reached the rebellious stage of youth, and he couldn't figure out her thoughts at all. In fact, Kozuki Hiyori was just a little unbalanced.

Although she was born in the open sea, she soon returned to Wano Country, and didn't know much about the outside world.

She didn't feel much before, because Momonosuke who escaped must have worked hard.

But this trip made her think differently. The life in the outside world seems not as scary as she imagined. With enough money and status, scum like Tianlong people can live happily.

At this time, she misunderstood Momonosuke's situation, and had a little doubt about Kozuki's choice to keep her and send Momonosuke away.

It is also the child of Kozuki Oden, why Momonosuke can live freely, but she is subject to such restrictions because of this identity.

Guangyue became a **** instead, but the enemy gave her the opportunity to travel.

Except for the episode of Tianlongren, she feels that the outside world is very beautiful. When she was suffering, Momonosuke might be enjoying life. When this feeling appears in her heart, she will inevitably feel unbalanced.

8000 is quite a lot,,,,,

Chapter 638 Shakira and the Rod of Fen VI Survivors

It's fine if you've never experienced the outside world, but it's different now. In layman's terms, her emotions towards Momonosuke have changed a lot, and she has reached the verge of blackening.

But it doesn't mean that black is black, at least it has to experience the accumulation of time.

On the other side, Yamato ushered in another misfortune. Ajian 6.0 failed to retire as smoothly as 5.0, but was unfortunately killed. It was Kira who killed it in battle.

"Spit it out! You spit it out for me! That's not for you to eat!"

"You Ji."

You Kira scratched his head helplessly, this was really a bit embarrassing for it, because something happened just now while eating.

I don't know why, but today he is very hungry, no matter how much he eats, he can't get enough to eat. Looking at the mace that Yamato put aside, a desire to eat it appeared in his heart.

Yamato didn't take precautions against Yukira. After she reacted, Ajian 6.0 had already entered the opponent's stomach. Yamato tried to rescue him, but only got one handle.

"6.0, you can go at ease, I will let 7.0 inherit your will."

The destroyed mace can't be repaired, she can't dig Yukira's stomach to find her own Ajian, and according to Yukira's digestion ability, 6.0 is likely to have turned into molten iron.

"What's the matter with you today? You've already eaten five times the usual amount, aren't you full yet?"

Looking at Yukira who was digging and eating, Yamato asked in puzzlement.

"You Ji."

"You don't know either? You just feel hungry? Tianxi, help give it some diamonds. If it is still not full, you have to take it to the doctor."

You Kira's food intake has also increased slightly in the past, but the magnitude has never been as large as it is today.

Even Yamato knew that a sudden increase in food intake was not a good thing. After entrusting Diaan Xido to make some diamonds, she continued to observe Yukira.

Finally, she discovered the problem, and with the white light on Yukira's body, she understood what was going on.

"Are you going to evolve?!"

"Yuji?"

Before Yu Kira could react, he was completely surrounded by white light.

It has been a long time since Yukira was hatched, and Kaido did not directly move back to a small island. Arceus also aimed to raise Yukira, so that Yamato has been immersed in training.

Although the ultimate goal has not been achieved yet, her strength is also constantly growing. Yukira did not directly eat an island, but a large amount of ore and soil are sent to it from different places every day.

Accumulated over time, the energy stored by Kira is enough for it to evolve. Just because it is about to evolve, the body began to consume a lot of energy, which eventually led to the occurrence of subsequent events.

The white light dissipated, and Kira evolved into Shakira. At this time, all the short hands and feet disappeared, leaving only the blue carapace wrapped outside.

Shakira's whole body is covered by a gray-blue hard shell. Except for the small sharp horns on the body surface, there are only a few strange holes left. At this time, it is jumping around on the ground. Although it has lost its limbs, the sand Kira seems to have become more active.

Now it is in pupa form, and the food accumulated during Kira's period has been turned into energy in the body, supporting the body inside its carapace to complete metamorphosis.

dong dong.

Yamato tapped on it. Although it was similar to a cocoon, the hardness of Yukira's shell was far superior to that of ordinary rocks.

"Shakey."

Kira signaled Yamato to climb up on his back. Although he didn't understand what it wanted to do, Yamato sat on top of its head, and then the dust below was suddenly rolled up, and the air holes on Shakira's carapace began to spurt out violently. airflow.

With the power provided by the airflow, Shakira actually flew up.

This is also the glorious moment in this kind of Pokémon's life. Although Shakira's stage has no hands and feet, it is their most flexible stage.

Shakira compresses the gas in her body, then ejects it violently, flying like a rocket.

This ability will last for a long time, until the day it breaks out of the cocoon and evolves into Bangira.

The airflow spewed out by the large Shakira was very strong, causing many waves in the inland sea of Wano Country, which caused Peggy Wan, who was fishing, to lose the fishing rod in his hand.

All the fish ran away, and there was no point in continuing. Just when he wanted to go back with an empty bucket, he was suddenly pulled back.

"Sister? Why are you here?"

"Xiao Pei, look at that guy Yamato, how happy she is playing alone in the sky."

"so."

For some reason, Peggy Wan had a bad feeling, and it was not a good thing for Ulti to suddenly appear by his side.

"Let's fly too! That big Pokémon is jet flight, and your ability is also jet flight. Let's compete who can fly faster!"

"Why compare such meaningless things?"

"Go! Go! Xiaopei, why don't you go out with me!"

Ulti was almost hanging on Peggy Wan's neck, which looked like a coquettish act to outsiders, but as a person who experienced it personally, Peggy Wan felt like he was about to suffocate.

"Let go, let go, old lady, I'm about to suffocate, why don't I take you to fly?"

"Okay, sure enough, Xiaopei, you are the best."

It is also a jet flight, and the flight of the biting land shark is much stronger than that of Shakira. Soon Peggy Wan led Ulti to catch up, and started a meaningless game in his opinion.

But Shakira didn't bite the land shark fiercely. Its flight time was very short, and it didn't take long for it to make an emergency landing on the roof of Ghost Island.

After saying hello to the siblings, Yamato found Arceus with the wreckage of the mace.

"Father, Ah Jian 6.0 also encountered misfortune, can you help me get a stronger one?"

"What did it go through?"

"It was Kira. It seemed to be on the verge of evolution. It ate 6.0 while I was not paying attention, and then it evolved into Shakira."

"The evolution is not slow, don't relax in the future, or your father will take away the custody of Shakira."

"I see, I think I have found a way to defeat Uncle Quinn, but my ice is not strong enough."

"Well, go and measure your height. Your weapon should also be finalized. This time, I will find some special blacksmiths for you."

As the body grows, weapons also need to be updated. Ajian 1.0 is just a child's toy. By 6.0, he has made great progress. The development of Yamato is basically completed. If there is no accident, 7.0 will be the final version.

It can be said that this is the final version that inherits the will of the previous six generations of weapons.

"But foster father, which craftsman do you plan to let build Jian, I think people in Wano Country seem not good at making this kind of weapon."

"Just wait at ease, you will see it when the time comes."

Chapter 639: Great Blacksmith's Weapon Workshop

Not long after, Yamato followed a few pink little guys out of Ghost Island and headed towards Rabbit Bowl, which is the industrial area of Wano Country, where the largest weapons factory is also located.

Weapons mixed with Hailou Stone and Liquor Iron Ore are sold all over the world. They are the most popular weapons in the underground world, and the second is the standard weapons of the Navy. Both are the most expensive but the best quality options .

No one will be stingy in this regard. Excellent weapons represent a higher chance of survival. After all, only a few rely on physical advantages. Most people are ordinary flesh and blood, and excellent weapons are fundamental.

In addition, there are also mass-produced standard weapons of beasts and cadre equipment there. Some special arrows needed by Setsu and the weapons of several major cadres' assistants are all from here.

The craftsmen of Wano Country have certain advantages in this respect. Most of the weapons they make are of high quality, and the quality is guaranteed to a certain extent.

It is a local custom in the Wano country that those craftsmen will engrave their names or marks on the weapons to indicate who the weapons are made by.

When the user makes a name for themselves with this knife, their name will follow, a habit that is also good for holding people accountable.

Weapon damage due to strength gap is harmless, but accidents caused by quality problems cannot be forgiven.

Weapons with more complex ingredients will be manufactured in Quinn's laboratory, but the Rabbit Bowl has the largest casting space in Wano Country, which is more suitable for the manufacture of cold weapons.

"Don't you feel heavy? How about I help you carry it."

Yamato looked at the Pokémon carrying hammers in front of him and asked them. These Pokémon are giant blacksmiths. They are all pink and have pink and white hair. They look like little human girls.

The average height is 0.7 meters, but each giant blacksmith carries a huge hammer on his shoulders. The size of the hammer is at least twice the size of their body. Compared with the hammer in their hands, they are extremely small.

Hammers are more like their bodies than their bodies.

"what?"

The great blacksmith headed by him waved his hand at Yamato, and then played with his hammer with one hand, saying that Yamato didn't have to worry about such things at all.

They seem to be delicate, but they are the compound properties of fairy steel, and the anti-strike surface is considered to be a relatively good type, and the hammer is the foundation of the race of giant blacksmiths.

When they were small blacksmiths, they would collect metal residues from their living environment and use these things to make their own hammers.

This is a process of continuous efforts. Before making a hammer that they are satisfied with, they will continue to forge new hammers. In this process, small blacksmiths will accumulate rich forging experience.

Even if the forging is over, their forging career will not stop. The hammer is their weapon to protect themselves, but the little blacksmith is not strong enough to protect himself, and other Pokémon will often **** the hammer.

Hammers that incorporate a variety of metal residues are a rare delicacy for other Pokémon, to be precise, those Pokémon that eat metal.

If they are not opponents, they will abandon the hammer to escape like a lizard with a tail, and this situation will continue until they evolve. ...

When little blacksmiths evolve into artful blacksmiths, their strength will change qualitatively, and they will conflict with the commander of the chop and chop, because the sharp metal blade and strong armor of the commander of the chop and chop are ideal materials for them to forge new hammers.

Skillful blacksmiths will attack the Chop Commander's group in groups. At the same time, in order to test the strength of the hammer in their hands, they will start "infighting".

At this stage, they will continue to enrich their forging experience, and at the same time, their intelligence is also developing rapidly. When they reach the stage of the Great Blacksmith, they will be considered to have completed their growth.

The giant blacksmith brings not only strength, but also higher intelligence. The steel armored crows flying in the sky will become their targets.

Although they can't fly, they will use the giant hammer in their hands as a baseball bat. After calculation, they will hit the rocks as cannonballs, and the goal is the iron feathers of the steel armored crow.

The hammer is huge, but for the great blacksmith

In other words, this is an extension of the body, so it doesn't need the help of outsiders.

In order to prove their strength to Yamato, the giant blacksmiths also showed fancy flying hammers, passing their hammers to each other.

...

By taking advantage of the Tanabata blue bird flight, Yamato and the others soon arrived at the Rabbit Bowl, and the first thing the Great Blacksmith did was not to forge, but to learn.

They are directly created giant blacksmiths with stronger strength, but they have lost the exquisite skills honed since childhood. In contrast, they have a forging learning speed that humans cannot match.

In the forge of the Rabbit Bowl, the flames in the forge are burning fiercely. From time to time, there are large charcoal carts throwing coal in, and the inside is full of shirtless craftsmen. The sound of metal collisions never stops.

In this factory are craftsmen who are normally employed. Prisoners in the Rabbit Bowl Mining Field work in raw material workshops, and they are generally not allowed to touch these delicate jobs.

The efficiency of voluntary labor and forced labor is completely different, especially the internal ranking mechanism. These people are unwilling to be compared by their peers. Instead, they compete with each other and want to forge better quality weapons.

"Master Oniji, you are here."

The guards at the gate saw Yamato with the giant blacksmith, and they simply stepped aside to open the gate. They were only arranged here to prevent some rare materials from being taken out privately, which is of the same nature as the security of the factory.

「Come this way, Lord Arceus has already made arrangements.」

The great blacksmiths split up and came to different positions, only one remained beside Yamato. They didn't speak, but just watched the craftsman swinging the hammer, quenching, and polishing, absorbing experience crazily.

"Master Onihime, please come this way, Master Arceus said, let you choose the materials for the new weapon yourself."

She has no role in the factory. Forging is not just about brute force. Other great blacksmiths are learning the skills of forging, and the great blacksmiths around her help her choose materials.

There is no need to learn to distinguish the quality of materials, which is the same instinct for the great blacksmith.

Led by the other pirates, Yamato followed the giant blacksmith to the Rabbit Bowl Quarry, where it was also very busy.

"Quick, quick! Take all the materials to the square, Master Onihime will be here soon!"

"Be honest, especially the few of you. You only have a few months left in your prison sentence. If you offend Lord Guiji, Lord Arceus will not let you go. It is delusional to think about mining here!"

Chapter 640: The result of being caught skipping class

The voices of domestic resistance in Wano are basically here. Even if there are some left outside, they are two completely different types of people.

The prison is full of radicals like Hody Jones, while most people outside have given up resistance. As time goes by, even their hearts are changing.

Those dangerous criminals are serious criminals and have no chance to contact Yamato, but the prison guards are worried that some of these ordinary prisoners will be bewitched and behave irrationally.

Even if they just throw an ordinary stone or say an insulting sentence, it means their dereliction of duty. These are not death row prisoners, so the deterrence of the sentence is the best way.

Liquor iron ore, Hailou stone, carapace replaced by Boss Kedora, rock fragments from fighting with small fist stones, special crystals shed by Pangyan monster, whether it is from underground mines or produced on the body of Pokémon All the materials were carried to the square.

"Master Babanuki is ready."

The empty square is piled with materials like hills, placed in the Wano country, these materials are enough to drive any blacksmith crazy, for them this is a priceless treasure.

With these excellent materials, they can complete the casting of many things.

Even ordinary people can use this batch of rare materials to exchange for a large amount of funds. Among other things, there are not many high-purity Hailou stones in the World Government, but here they are just ordinary materials.

"Very good, Dave Ge, take someone to make more inspections, and don't make any trouble today."

"It's already been arranged, boss, don't worry, those people still want to get out alive, and won't make trouble at this time."

"Be careful, there is no big mistake. Some people in Wano Country have bad brains, and you know that."

「Well, then I'll go.」

What Babanuki worried about did not come true. The workers and the people in the prison behaved very honestly. Yamato didn't care about these people, but selected materials with the great blacksmith.

The way the giant blacksmiths select materials is very straightforward, that is, to smash them with their own hammers, and they can use this method to judge whether the materials are good or bad.

After selecting the appropriate materials, the giant blacksmith also returned to the forge and joined the giant blacksmith learning team. It will take some time for them to learn.

The natural forging ability will greatly shorten their learning cycle, but it can't be learned at a glance, it will take a while.

Yamato temporarily loses her weapon, but she realizes this is a unique opportunity.

...

「Huh? What did you say?」

"My Ajan is broken, and the great blacksmiths are still learning forging, so I don't have a weapon now, and I can't train with you, father, during this period of time. What a pity."

For her, this seems to be an opportunity to ask for leave. Yamato, Jack, Maria, Setsuna, Olga, they can be said to be Kaido's first-year and second-year students. It doesn't make sense anymore.

And physical training does not require Kaido to intervene. In this respect, Kaido is not as easy to use as counterweights. They will also take the initiative to exercise. What Kaido brings is more actual combat, such as the thunderous gossip about him. Extended teaching, domineering practice and the like. ...

Yamato challenges the big cadres most of the time, but Kaido will occasionally give her a surprise check or extra training.

Ajan 6.0's damage gave her an excuse to rest.

「Ugh, what a good reason.」

Hearing that Kaido shook the eight fasts in his hand a few times, then put the mace aside.

「Father, do you think it's reasonable too? Then I」

Bass!

A few strands of hair fell, and green light claws extended from Kaido's fingers, which were the claws of the dragon. At this time, the extended claw blades had been deeply inserted into the ground in front of Yamato.

「Wow! Are you going to kill me!」

「How could it be? As long as you have one breath, your adoptive father will be able to save you. It seems that something is wrong with you.

Don't know how to fight without weapons? "

"No I didn't mean that, I meant .

"Stop talking nonsense. Before your weapon is repaired, I don't know how to use a weapon. The body of an animal is the biggest weapon. You have to learn to use the power of this phantom beast."

「I think Father, you may have misunderstood something.」

Seeing Kaido, who was unfolding the powers of Haki, Devil Fruit, and Arceus at the same time, Yamato had an extremely bad premonition.

"There is no misunderstanding, the enemy will not stop attacking just because you don't have a weapon, so they came to sharpen your fists and feet. This time, the subject is to use your fists to strike thunder and gossip. Don't worry, I will go all out, including your foster father's strength. Will use it."

Yamato's reason for asking for leave just gave Kaido a perfect opportunity to fight hand-to-hand without weapons. There are many ways of combat training, which just added a new subject to her.

Kaido did not use weapons, but the dragon claws attached to both hands made his destructive power even more terrifying, and Yamato started her unilaterally beaten situation again.

It's not that she can't fight without a weapon. Kaido beat her with his fists before using the weapon, but it was the first time he used the dragon claw.

Soon she was forced to a dead corner of the training ground, facing Kaido's dragon claw, the barrier she was holding was quickly opened in front of her.

"Oh? Are you able to use it proficiently and hold it? It seems that you haven't let up recently."

The dragon's claws were blocked by a barrier, and Kaido also expressed some praise to Yamato.

「Yeah, so father, what I want to express is actually」

She just wanted to find a reason to ask for a leave. The various things Arceus gave her had a side effect at this time. She didn't even have a reason to ask for sick leave, because this body would never get sick.

But before she finished speaking, she saw the familiar purple fluctuations coming from Kaido.

「Wait! Dragon dance??!」

「Didn't I say that I will go all out? Yamato, there is a limit to defending. It can bring stronger defense, but it is based on your own strength. You are still far behind!」

Crack..Crack.Crack!

After persisting for a few seconds, the strengthened Kaido shattered the barrier made by Yamato and approached her step by step.

The enhanced Kaido is basically crushing for Yamato. She is forced to run away most of the time, and it is difficult to counterattack when she seizes the opportunity to produce results. From time to time, there will be calls for help from the training ground.

It's just that everyone is used to this, and they didn't plan to lean over at all, so as not to get burned.

「Is this the "daughter" that His Majesty values? Innocence really suits you, Zekrom. 」

"Ideals are not naive, she is far worse, but at least there is room for growth and it is this kind of "blank paper" that can grow, isn't it? "
