

Arceus 661

Chapter 661: Taunting Laman

Facing Yamato's attack, the Golden Lion showed a quicker reaction. With a sway in the sky, Yamato's attack brushed past him, and the wind from the mace slightly blew his sleeves. There are no other effects.

「Domineering. It's really a long-lost thing.」

Since escaping from the large submarine prison, he has not seen an opponent who can skillfully use domineering for many years. Hidden in the sky, he rarely encounters enemies. Take away.

Those people are ordinary people, the strongest is a gorilla found in the East China Sea, and that move always makes him feel a little familiar.

「Lei Ming Gossip, what is the relationship between that kid Kaido and you?」

Hawkeye's move has no name, and his enemies don't know whether it is a flat A or a ult.

Kaido is different. Although there are many moves, the attacks related to the mace are all born out of the move of Thunder and Gossip. Yamato's moves are learned from Kaido, which has a strong taste of inheritance.

In Golden Lion's view, Kaido is still a kid, but he is also a kid who is still fresh in his memory. There are not many people who can make Lockes speak to attract aboard. The double horns on the top of the head do not mean anything. There are many individuals with horns on the top of their heads in this sea, but it is different after adding that iconic move. It's just that Yamato didn't answer what he meant, and swung the stick again after one swing, which had become her fighting instinct. "It's as annoying as that kid back then, let you, an ignorant kid, feel the horror of that year." Yamato's attack failed again, and it was difficult for most people to keep him under the condition that the golden lion was not strong. , the ability to fly has always been relatively rare. Although one can move quickly by performing moon steps in the air with a strong physique, it is still fundamentally different from flying. The Piao Piao fruit allows the Golden Lion to fly freely, which is his advantage. The current Yamato can't fly, but she has external force. The blade bird of the Steel Armored Crow has cut through the air at this time, and slashed towards the golden lion with a piercing sound. "Lion Wei Qianqiegu!" The legs drew several golden slashes, and the net-like slashes formed its defense. The flying saber birds were chopped to the ground one after another, and the saber birds broke into two pieces Has lost the ability to continue fighting autonomously.

The rest of the chopping waves still flew towards the steel armored crow's body, but before the attack hit, they released their gigantic state and returned to their normal size.

The initial flying mission is over, and if you just bring Yamato, an ordinary body is enough.

「These birds are really interesting. It seems that you have more research on this aspect.」

The changes in the steel armored crows aroused the interest of the golden lion. He thought that the steel armored crows he caught before were juveniles, and these gigantic steel armored crows were adults.

But as they released Gigamax, he found that all this was not as simple as he thought.

Those flying feathers were chopped off by him, but he is a golden lion, even if he lost his legs, he is still one of the world's great swordsmen. The sword energy he swung with his legs may have lost some heart, but the strength is even stronger.

Under his chopping waves, they were only cut in half. Those iron feathers must be more deadly to others. If such a flock of strange birds is strengthened with IQ, they are simply invincible sky corps.

"Chop!"

Thinking so, the golden lion kicked out a single slash again, and the huge golden sword aura slashed straight at the island, but Yamato didn't dodge at all, because she sensed it, and this sword aura couldn't touch her at all. In fact, this was exactly the case, a deep ravine was left on the ground of the island, and the golden lion was more like a warning than an attack. "Little ghost, you can control these strange birds, right? I will give you a chance to join me. As long as you bring these strange birds to join me, I will not care about your intrusion into my territory. After you rule the world, you That's it." "Not interested!"

"Ok?"

"I'm not interested in ruling the world at all, and the steel armored crow is not a tool for you to control. I just want to fly you now!"

「Your partner has already escaped.」

「No, they just have other tasks to do.」

Below the battlefield, Jack and Maria were heading in other directions. That was their task. Destroying the facilities here was a tactic that was temporarily discussed during the flight.

Golden Lions may be difficult to deal with, but for them, "demolition of the tower" is the ultimate goal.

It was not difficult for Golden Lion to stop them, but Yamato's next sentence made him give up his plan to do that.

「I remember who the golden lion is.」

「Hoo...」

Jin Shizi breathed a sigh of relief and rubbed his head. He always felt that Yamato was provoking his upper limit of endurance. He had introduced himself so long before. If the other party still didn't recognize him, he would really be offended die.

「You are Roger's hapless loser!」

Had it not been for the tsunami, the outcome of the Edwall naval battle would still be unknown. It would not be an exaggeration to say that he was unlucky, but this sentence seemed to touch the bottom line of the Golden Lion. "Little devil, you'd better die here! Lion Might Land Scroll!" The ground flipped and transformed into two giant lion heads again, biting towards Yamato's position. As for Maria and Jack, he didn't care. He was not the only one on this empty island, and he also had his own subordinates.

Chapter 662: you lost your arrogance

In front of Jack, a huge orangutan wearing a red suit appeared, howling.

"Chimpanzees..."

Looking at this big orangutan, Jack's movements didn't stop. Whether it's an orangutan or a human, it's the same as long as he dares to stand in front of him.

The metal elephant trunk smashed towards the opponent, but Jack actually felt some resistance. For him, the strength of this orangutan was much stronger than that of Indigo.

But the result didn't change. The orangutan was still pulled out by Jack's nose, knocking down a string of trees before stopping.

"Scaledo, are you done?" Indigo looked at the orangutan in front of him and asked it.

Scaledo is the name of this orangutan. Since the island was discovered, the Golden Lion asked Indigo to carry out a similar experiment.

Their experimental subjects are mainly various animals. Before discovering the steel armored crow, they generally searched for animals from the Great Route and other sea areas for experiments.

In the vast sea, there are a lot of rare beast islands that live with magical creatures, and the animals on those rare beast islands are their goals.

Scaledo is an exception. It is the beast king of a rare beast island in the East China Sea. It is powerful and has wisdom no less than human beings. It got along well with the golden lion who committed the second crime, so he became his subordinate.

"Aww!"

Scaledo patted his chest. Compared with the convulsed golden lion, although Indigo is not normal, he is more in line with the times.

After the golden lion was slowed down by Yamato's taunt, he asked Scaledo to lead people to destroy the outer IQ defense wall and bring in those monsters.

Because of the battle between the golden lion and Yamato, the ground kept shaking, so Jack and Maria didn't notice those strange and violent creatures until those monsters ran to the side.

「I'm going to deal with those beasts, and you're going to get rid of that man and the orangutan, isn't there any problem?」

Jack roughly assigned their respective opponents. In his opinion, those beasts were obviously more difficult to deal with than Indigo.

"No, I'm going to deal with the beasts, that orangutan... makes me feel a little sick."

Jack assigns opponents based on strength, but Maria chooses opponents based on personal preferences. Just as she thought the spider-man form was too ugly back then, Scarletto now makes her feel a sense of physical discomfort.

The orangutan's eyes were shining with love, and he was even blushing.

[illegible]

Human women have a special feeling, let alone Maria, who is similar in size to him.

"Do not

Fingers crossed, when Maria separated her hands again, the fingers were already covered with spider webs full of electricity, watching those mindless charging beasts, a ball of spider silk was thrown out by Maria, following the grid in the sky The middle extension falls, and the hunting ground for electric spiders is completed.

Under the power grid released by Maria, most of them are vulnerable.

Golden Lion forgot one thing. The current Flying Pirates is no longer what it used to be. He has lost those powerful cadres. With himself being held back, the Flying Pirates have no reputation at all.

"Chop!"

The slash collided with the mace, and the shock wave overturned the surrounding stream. The golden lion controlled the stream and formed two huge lions to bite Yamato.

「Shishiwei・Gosho Jimaki!」

「The physical strength of animals is really willful, but how long can you last?」

Waving his hands, the earth mountain condensed into a huge lion again, and the fangs made of rocks bit Yamato.

「At least. Last longer than you old guy!」

A big hole was pierced through the Lion Rock, using the air as a pedal, the speed of Yamato's sudden rise exceeded the speed of Lion Rock's pursuit, and the mace in his hand aimed at the rudder on the head of the Golden Lion.

Although she was dodged again, she also found a problem.

Golden Lion's slash is very sharp, and his body's reaction speed is also very fast, but it is more of a muscle reaction. In addition to chopping waves, he mainly relies on Piao Piao Fruit to control a large number of inanimate objects to attack.

As for the defense, it is either blocked by earth and rocks, counteracted by chopping waves, or dodged by using its flying ability.

Obviously as long as the attack is blocked, a more effective attack can be launched, but she doesn't believe that the overlord of the old era has no combat experience.

" I said, you wouldn't...forget how to use domineering, right? ! "

The golden lion didn't speak, but turned into a black-faced lion. Yamato's words stuck in his heart again. Probably since he escaped from prison, he found some problems in his body. Since then, domineering has become unstable.

Chapter 663: family tradition

For Golden Lion, there are many setbacks in life. The title of loser is nothing to him, because he just lost. Even if there is luck, the result of the Adwall naval battle cannot be reversed.

But for a former great pirate, the loss of strength is something he cannot accept.

Trauma and a drop in mood made his domineering gradually disappear, and he has now become a state where he can only rely on sword skills and fruit abilities.

The ability user who ate the devil fruit almost represented the inner desire of a group in the past, and various abilities collided in the sea.

The extent to which the fruit ability is used has a lot to do with the capable person. In this regard, the golden lion is also a good person.

Relying on the ability of the fruit, he can cause natural disasters that belong to him, but this cannot change the fact that he can no longer use the domineering power he used to.

「You brat talking. It's really annoying!」

A large number of water masses floated from the surrounding streams, and the soil and rocks that make up the island were also split and reorganized under the influence of the fluttering fruit, and gathered into a huge Lion Mountain. The top of the mountain was condensed into a lion head full of madness, revealing itself to Yamato tusks.

Even if he can't use his domineering energy now, the chopping waves he swung are enough to split mountains and seas. With the help of his ability, the whole island began to appear fragmented.

The Iron Armored Crows have been far away from the battlefield, and they are taking refuge to avoid being involved in the environment of this natural disaster.

On the other side, with a loud noise, the building in the center of the island began to collapse. Jack, who turned into a monster, was like a monster, wantonly destroying the buildings here.

If the golden lion sees it, he will definitely block it, but Yamato's ridicule is so good that all his hatred points are concentrated on Yamato.

A large number of wild beasts were captured by Maria's power grid, and Scarletto and Indigo couldn't stop Jack, which naturally led to such a result. While the Golden Lion and Yamato were still fighting, they had already completed their mission. destroy the target.

When they looked in the direction of Yamato, what they saw were giant lions and chopping waves of different shapes flying in the sky, and the freezing air containing extremely cold would spew out occasionally, abruptly turning this place into a winter. View of the island.

After the splashed water was frozen, it turned into snow and fell near the battlefield again.

「Is Yamato injured?」

「The skin wound left by the slash is a big pirate after all. Except for Brother Kaito, I haven't seen anyone who can hurt Yamato for a long time.」

There was a bloodstain on the white arm. Although they were far away, the trace was still very conspicuous to Jack and Maria.

Yamato's physique has already reached the level of a monster. Even without skills, she can withstand a lot of attacks with just her skin, not to mention that she is now in full combat mode.

You can doubt her usual brain, but you can't question her fighting nerves. There are fewer and fewer people who can completely break her defense.

In Beasts, there are quite a few people who can do this, but Kaido is the only one who can do it ruthlessly.

「The big pirate?」

「Golden Lion, the captain of the Flying Pirates, and Brother Kaito...no, monsters from the same era as Whitebeard, of course I remember.」

Looking at Maria's suspicious gaze, Jack gave his own explanation, which was completely different from when Yamato asked him.

Maria really doesn't remember who the golden lion is, and Jack just dropped by to give the golden lion a good blow in order to better respond to Yamato.

「Yamato...is it alright?」

Maria didn't mean to intervene, not because she didn't want to help, but because she knew very well that a battle of this level would be useless if it passed.

In the absence of a 1v1 decisive battle, they don't mind gang fights at all, but gang fights also depend on their level. A lean camel is bigger than a horse. Even if a monster like a golden lion is in a low period, they can't intervene at will. .

Recklessly intervening in the battle is just adding chaos, and it will cause trouble for Yamato, and waiting is the best result.

"You and I are neither good at flexibility air battle, trust her, if she can't solve it, all we can do is call for help. "

To be precise, Yamato is not very good at air combat, but he is still much stronger than the two of them.

「Then it's too late, right?」

"It's strange to say that I sent a request for help to Onijima before, but I haven't replied. It must have been delayed by something."

The two sat on the ruins very calmly observing the battle in the distance, but they didn't notice that in the higher clouds, the dragon-like Kaido had already stayed in the clouds for a long time.

With Kaido nearby, Onijima would naturally not respond to the call for help, but Kaido was not very satisfied with the battle below, not with Yamato, but with the Golden Lion.

「Shiki, you are getting old too.」

The sun rises in the east and sets in the west, and it has gone back and forth three times without knowing it, and the balance of the battle has been ups and downs.

On the first day, the golden lion was full of anger, and his waving hands and feet were full of natural disaster-like attacks. The powerful slashing left several bottomless abysses on the island.

But Yamato is like the unbeatable Xiaoqiang, who can always get out of the gap between his attacks.

On the second day, Golden Lion's attack continued to become more efficient and streamlined, because he found that if he continued to consume like that, he must be the first to be consumed to death. The total physical strength of the two was not much different, but there was a huge gap in resilience .

Wounds that usually take days to heal are a matter of minutes for Yamato. The wounds left by Deadwood and Sakuraju are recovering at a speed visible to the naked eye.

On the third day, the golden lion began to feel tired, but the other party was still the same as a normal person.

The last time a similar situation happened was when he faced Garp and Sengoku at the same time. It wasn't that the current Yamato was so strong, but that the Golden Lion was no longer as good as it was back then. As the battle continued, the place where the rudder and the head connected A pain.

「Thunder gossip!」

Yamato didn't know why the Golden Lion's movements suddenly stagnated. She didn't mean to respect the old and love the young. Taking advantage of the other party's hesitation, Ajan 7.0 hit the Golden Lion directly on the head.

"Little devil, are you doing this because of that bird? You have such power but you want to work hard for that crow?"

In the dust, the golden lion was leaning on the gravel, and it was uncomfortable for him to be hit by that stick, but he couldn't figure out what the other party was working so hard for.

Yamato has not been unscathed for the past three days. His double swords have hit vital points several times. If Yamato hadn't had the same physique as that monster, she would have been defeated long ago.

"People like you won't understand. You, a guy who ignores life, will always be a loser! Ice Zhuzhan!"

Dahe jumped high, and the mace smashed down with domineering and freezing air, but this time, the mace missed the golden lion.

Withered Wood and Sakura Ten were floating in the air dripping with blood, the blade was as black as ink, and the thick domineering aura reappeared on the blade after more than ten years, and blocked Yamato's attack out of thin air.

That is an advanced usage of armed color domineering, blocking the enemy through the air.

「Little devil, the second round has just begun!」

The golden lion's beard and hair fluttered, much more arrogant than before, and there was an aura in his eyes that he hadn't seen for a long time. That stick completely woke him up

Chapter 664: ideal lightning

The Yamato just now made Golden Lion feel familiar. He sent invitations to Roger several times, but Roger never agreed to him.

"It's all about winners and losers. The history of human beings is the history of wars. Everything that can be used will eventually be turned into weapons. Don't you raise those strange birds just to transport goods?!"

Golden Lion held the hilts of the two swords with both hands, and with a shake of his hands, all the blood adhering to them was shaken off by him, and the blood from the broken leg was dripping non-stop.

Over the years, the double swords had already become part of his legs. The result of his doing so was almost the same as that of breaking his own legs back then, but with the movement of the leg muscles, the wound no longer dripped blood, and the edge of his sword There is also a touch of domineering in the middle.

「They are partners, partners who can be delivered on the battlefield, not ruthless tools in your mouth!」

"Jie hahahaha! It's been a long time since you've seen it. You and that innocent guy like Roger really look alike, but no matter how sweet you say it, it can't change the fact that those strange birds are also your tools. It's just that you're kinder to them.

Other than that, you and I are the same kind of people, there is no difference at all! "

Kumu and Yingshi were played by him a few times, no one knows whether it is this power or other feelings that he has lost for a long time.

「I am not the same kind of * as you, you will never understand the relationship between Pokémon and humans! It is because of a guy like you! There will be a large group of people who only regard them as tools.

That's why I want to destroy this place, I will blow all the guys like you into the air! "

The change of the golden lion did not frighten Yamato, but swung a mace at him, and the double swords in the hands of the golden lion made a cross, which was far more powerful than the previous chopping waves and pushed Yamato back directly.

Shi Ji laughed again: "What I dislike the most is you little brats who are full of innocence. You also want to use force to complete your own ideas!

Without this strength, your naive thoughts are just a joke, but kid, as a reward for helping me remember something, I will give you a chance to gamble. "

Shi Ji did not continue to attack, the two swords were suspended in the sky, and his hands gradually touched the back of his head.

"This rudder has been embedded in my head for a long time. At the beginning, my doctor said that if I take it off rashly, there is a high probability of death, but today I want to take a gamble. Guess what will happen after I take it off. ?"

He grabbed the rudder on his head suddenly, and with a puff, with a splatter of blood, he pulled the rudder out of his head.

Boom!

Boom!

A few thunderbolts flashed across the sky, and the clouds suddenly began to gather. Even Kaido, who was very bored on the clouds, cheered up, and the powerful momentum spewed out around the golden lion, and the clouds in the sky turned into a cloud at this time. A ferocious giant lion.

「That guy...what did he do?!」

Maria's footsteps retreated one after another, and the beasts captured by her spider webs turned into shrinking turtles. This sudden momentum completely exceeded her expectations.

Jack's feet left two deep footprints on the ground, and his expression as he looked towards the battlefield changed.

The golden lion seemed to be dead, floating in the air motionless, but the island still floating in the air has already explained everything.

After the ability user is in a coma or dies, most of the abilities will be invalid. There are only a few cases like sweet fruits. Even if the current ability user is killed, the petrification will not be lifted, and the next ability user will have no choice.

Piao Piao fruit does not belong to this category. If the golden lion has an accident, it is impossible for the island to continue to float in the air.

「Jie hahahaha! Brat, your luck is bad, it seems that I won the bet!」

Blood flowed down from the top of his head and soon wet most of his shoulders, but now the Golden Lion is extremely good, and for the first time in more than ten years, he has regained his own power.

After many years, Golden Lion used the most violent means to cross this life-and-death hurdle. Back then, he chose conservative treatment and kept the rudder stuck in his head. But today, that day

The stick made him suddenly understand something.

Instead of continuing to be unknown to the world and being forgotten, it is better to try again.

The chances were slim, but he won the bet.

Now he is still far from his heyday, but when he heals the scars on his body, he can announce to the world that the golden lion back then is back.

"This is your misfortune, but it's also your luck, kid, I barely admit that you are a qualified opponent, so I will let you see the power of the legendary pirate! Lion Might Tianqing!"

The clouds in the sky were compressed and condensed under the influence of the power of the golden lion, and the clouds finally turned into a huge water lion, waving its giant claws downward.

「Horse Phantom Blade!」

The water froze under the influence of Dakou True God's power, and then Yamato broke through the ice. The golden lion at this time was very different from the golden lion a few days ago, but she didn't have any fear.

「Lion · Ganqiegu! Go all out, kid, or you won't even have a chance to resist!」

The power of each slash is several times that of the previous one, the fruit ability and sword skills are completely integrated, and there is also a domineering blessing in offense and defense. Facing such a golden lion, she actually rises and faces Kai. Such a sense of powerlessness.

Time is slowly passing, and the balance of victory has completely fallen to the Golden Lion.

Another sword qi slashed across, and there was a deep bone wound on Yamato's shoulder, and the giant lion made of rocks also shot at her, leaving a huge deep pit on the ground.

「Little ghost, don't say I didn't give you a chance to admit defeat now, I can still give you a chance, after all you seem to be able to command those strange birds better...」

「You are dreaming! People like you are not recognized by Pokémon!」

「Tch, I knew it, then you should take your innocence and disappear from this world.」

Yamato's answer seemed to be within his expectations. It was impossible for such a person to surrender to him. The ferocious water lion condensed again and rushed towards the deep pit.

「Thunder. Gossip!」

The left arm was seriously injured, and she could not use any strength for the time being, but even with only one hand left, she did not sit still.

Golden Lion didn't look back. In his opinion, Yamato in that state couldn't take that move at all, but Kaido in the sky returned to the clouds, and he felt the slightly familiar power.

In the deep pit, the lion condensed by the water flow has disappeared, leaving only a large amount of steam.

Noticing the abnormality, the golden lion looked back, only to see the soaring thunder light and Yamato wrapped in black in the thunder light.

"Girl, just for this one time, let me lend you my strength first."

Chapter 665: Freezing Volt

「Jekrom, have you decided yet?」

Not long ago, within the space of Ssangyong, Zekrom's body moved.

Everything in the outside world is extremely slow in their eyes, and the attack of the golden lion is also in slow motion in their sight. They even have time to chat for a while, but judging by the movements, Lacey Ram has no intention of moving at all.

This level is so big that he can't die, and it's far from the truth. He has no reason to make a move.

Ideals and reality are not absolutely contradictory. Although there are major differences in the concepts of Laceyram and Zekrom, they used to be one, and they could understand what the other was pursuing.

If this is Zekrom's final choice, Lacey Ram will be disappointed instead.

"Pursuing ideals is an awakening, not retreating in the face of a strong enemy, this is a good start, if you can take this step, then there is no problem in lending her strength first.

Besides, you also feel her desire to protect Pokémon, right? "

Zekrom's figure gradually disappeared into this space, and Lacey Ram also lost interest in the outside world, and Zekrom's strength was enough in this situation.

Yamato outside hadn't figured out what happened. Seeing the disappearing water lion, her movements were a little stiff.

「Am I already this strong now?」

The surrounding air became very dry, and the water flow seemed to disappear out of thin air. Only the golden lion with a strange expression was proving to the world that it was all real.

"Don't be dumb, the enemy is still in front of you, let him know the power brought by ideals!"

A strange yet familiar voice appeared in Yamato's heart. Since Arceus' transformation was completed, she hasn't received any feedback for so many years.

「Cekrom!?!」

"It's me, we've always been there, now prove that you didn't make me wrong."

A black phantom flashed behind Yamato, the whole was made of black and gray, and looked like a huge black dragon standing on two feet.

He has a gray horned crown in the shape of a lightning bolt on top of his head. A pair of fan-shaped wings are spread out on the back, and Kong Wu's powerful arm claws are below, and the sharp three-fingered claws are hidden inside.

There is a huge conical tail with spikes behind her, and powerful lightning is flowing inside. The black shadow is fleeting, and then merges into Yamato's body, merging with her transformed body.noVeleusB.cOm

The pure white fur was gradually covered by black dragon scale armor, and the head was also protected in the dragon-shaped helmet. The extra dragon wings on the back also filled the vacancy in flying ability.

The power of Zekrom has been integrated into every cell, and finally gave birth to the current God of Diablo.

As a substitute for Kyurem, the difference between Dakou Zhenshen and Kyurem is only the name and appearance. They are similar in ability and even more diverse. As the body of the three dragons of the Tao, the ability after fusion is the original iceberg corner.

Violent thunder and lightning surged everywhere, and power filled Yamato's body.

Kyurem has stronger power than Zekrom and Laceyram in his body, but that power is too strong, if used at will, it will only lead to the collapse of the body, so Kyurem's own frozen air seals own energy.

The power of a beast requires a matching will. For example, a person whose mind is full of flying and sea is not recognized by Gulardo.

Kyurem was not born directly because of this reason. Even if it is just the body, Kyurem also has his own violent will, so the modified version of Dakou Zhenshen was derived.

Now Dakou True God, who has fused the power of the black dragon, has truly revealed his strength.

...

「Shiji! The second round is just starting now!」

Boom!

As Yamato's voice fell, two thunderbolts fell from the clouds, aiming at the golden lion.

「Lion's Might · Land Scroll!」

Looking at the thunder and lightning falling from the sky, the soil under the golden lion's feet rolled up and greeted the thunder in the sky.

Thick earth and rocks block

Lightning strikes, but there is no scorched black mark left on it, but frost with electric current flashing, the lightning released by Yamato and the lightning in nature show a completely different posture.

That is the extremely cold thunder that belongs to her alone.

「Imps in the animal department. There are so many tricks... But, I am a golden lion!」

Golden Lion has seen all kinds of ability users in his life, but this is the first time he has encountered a phantom beast that switched attributes halfway. Even if it is an awakening, he has never seen such a great awakening, but no matter what happens Nothing made him hesitate in his actions.

He who pulled out the rudder has already recovered what he lost.

「Lion Dry Cut Valley!」

「Cross Lightning!」

The thunder and lightning brewing in the clouds were absorbed by the dragon wings on Yamato's back. After the tail was compressed and reorganized, the two thunderbolts turned into a barrier to disperse the golden lion's slash. At the same time, a strange blue light began to flash on her body.

The color of the current gradually changed to blue-white, and the electric engine behind her also entered a state of high-speed rotation.

This is the power Zekrom brought her, the overclocking drive mode, in this state she will have the strongest combat power.

Amidst the roar of thunder and lightning, Yamato appeared in front of the Golden Lion again. The cover of the armor prevented the Golden Lion from seeing her expression clearly, but he could see the determination in her eyes.

Frost spread from Yamato's hand, gradually covering the entire mace, and the violent volt current also wrapped around Ah Jian, forming dragon-claw-shaped spikes together with the ice crystals.

「Ice Thunder gossip!」

What is wrapped around the mace is nothing else but Frozen Volt, a powerful move that will be born after the fusion of Zekrom and Kyurem's power. At this time, the power of Frozen Volt has been integrated into her thundering gossip. The power of one blow far exceeds any previous battle.

New currents are constantly generated in the electric engine behind him, and are transmitted to both arms along the veins on the body surface.

「Well done, this is justified! This is how you are qualified to be naive!」

Looking at the mighty blow, Golden Lion showed a happy smile instead. He hates naive idiots, but when this person has the capital of naivety, it will be different.

「Lion Might · Final Slash!」

The two swords intertwined like the fangs of a male lion, facing the mace swung by Yamato head-on, the surrounding floating islands began to shake on a large scale, and gradually fell to the sea, because the golden lion finally looked squarely at it. The opponent in front of him.

Beginning to gather his energy, he has given up maintaining his ability on the outlying islands, and put all his energy into the battle in front of him.

Sword energy is flying, thunder and lightning are lasing, and most of the environment on the island has been frozen, and the scars on the bodies of both sides are also increasing...

Chapter 666: The real danger always comes from behind

The balance of victory is reversed again. When the battle reaches a stalemate, the time belonging to the animal department will come.

For a powerful animal-type ability user, without the ability to severely injure the opponent with a single blow, they will fall into an inherent disadvantage. It is impossible for opponents of the same level to compete in physical strength with the animal-type.

Yamato just borrowed Zekrom's strength, before he really recognized her, she was not as strong as the golden lion in its heyday, but the current golden lion is only a half-disabled golden lion.

Even if he pulls out the rudder above his head, the influence of more than ten years will remain in his body. With his broken feet, he is still far from his peak self.

After rounding, the two are at the same level.

As time went by, the sophistication of the battle gradually declined, and the battle between the two gradually turned into a fight between wild beasts, and the golden lion turned into a blood man.

If it weren't for the ability to control the body similar to returning life, the wound on the head would have killed him enough.

During the battle, his body was also affected by Yamato's thunder and lightning. Although the armed domineering blocked the intuitive damage caused in the first round, the cold thunder had an irreversible impact on his body.

In addition to the special ice thunder, her attack also included ordinary thunder and lightning. The compound attack with complex attributes caused the golden lion to suffer a lot.

"Chop!"

Advanced domineering mixed with golden slash, turned into black gold, and rushed straight down with one blow.

The chopping speed is extremely fast, surpassing any previous attack, and the power is also greatly increased. The power of this chopping attack is simply not comparable to before!

Golden Lion's physical strength is constantly losing, but his condition is getting better and better, just like the reflection of light, inspiring the lost strength.

He has been negative for more than ten years, and this battle has truly awakened him.

Slash rushed towards Yamato, and she also made her own response.

「Lightning strike!」

With the guidance of the mace, the thunder in the sky condensed, and the large-scale attack affected her, but with the power of Zekrom, the thunder and lightning did not cause any impact, but accelerated the speed of the electric engine. rotate.

Zekrom's exclusive lightning strike is completely different from ordinary lightning strikes. At the same time, a dragon's breath is also spit out from the chest that Yamato aimed at the golden lion, and various moves hit the golden lion one after another.

「Huha」

The Golden Lion was panting heavily, and the scattered small islands around him had disappeared from sight. Even the largest island began to fall. Give the Golden Lion some time to heal his wounds first. It will show the world its original overlord-level combat power.

But he didn't have that chance, and Yamato didn't want him to leave.

The electric engine behind it brings almost infinite power to Yamato, and the slightly tired Golden Lion is heading for failure.

After a long battle, the Golden Lion's physical strength has also approached its limit.

「You old bastard, you're going to die after all.」

「Jie hahahaha! It's still early! It's enough to get rid of you guys!」

「Really. I won't give you this chance」

Hum!

The sound of an engine sounded, and the blue current on Yamato's body surface began to change to purple. Under the overclocking state, the power of Dragon Dance also began to integrate into Yamato's body.

The sky was completely dark. Thanks to the electric engine brought by Zekrom, thunderclouds had already gathered in the sky, and as the battle continued, it gradually turned into a thunderstorm.

Boom!

A flash of thunder illuminated the gloomy sky, but the rain still fell, and behind a Yamato, the dark dragon shadow gradually expanded.

This time it is his true form. Zekrom is a legendary Pokémon that burns the world with lightning in mythology, and will assist the person who creates the ideal world.

In the description of the myth, if human beings lose

With the heart of justice, it will destroy their kingdom with violent thunder and lightning.

This is also the biggest difference between mythical beasts and ordinary Pokémon. They are not only part of the abilities of "capable people", but similar to tailed beasts that actively cooperate with humans and can fight outside alone.

Zekrom himself is not that big, but at this time the phantom is soaring into the sky, and gradually condenses into an entity.

「It's really a terrifying power, but I'm a golden lion!」

The rain wetted the golden lion's hair and beard, but they were still flying in all directions under the impact of momentum, and the surrounding materials began to gather, gradually condensing into a roaring male lion.

The golden lion stood on top of the male lion, with the blade pointing at Yamato.

「Come on kid, let me see if you are a naive idiot, or something else! Shishiwei Goshojimaki!」

Using the dead wood as the blade, the giant lion jumped into the air and swung its sharp claws at Yamato.

Kyurem's power is in Yamato's body, and what is condensed behind him is pure Zekrom. At this time, he is also wrapped in lightning, waving his dragon claws downward while Yamato swings his stick.

「Has Yamato grown to this point yet?」

Jack and Maria struggled to stabilize their figures. The battle between the two monsters had made them daunting. They knew that there was a gap between them and Yamato, but they never knew that the gap was so terrifying.

There was a large-scale earthquake on the island, but it didn't take long for it to calm down again. The giant lion condensed with dust and rocks stayed on the island maintaining a posture of waving its claws.

The golden lion was completely covered in ice, maintaining its previous posture of swinging the sword motionless.

"Okay, that old guy is dead. From the moment he swung his sword, his vitality was overdrawn."

「Father? Why are you here?」

"Passing by, why do you think this island is still floating in the sky? Your insight is not enough."

Kaido has come to this floating island at some point, and this island can continue to fly in the sky because of his flame cloud, and the surrounding islands have already fallen into the sea.

This is also the reason why Yamato has not relaxed. She thought that the golden lion was still alive, so the island was always suspended in the sky.

The golden lion with full firepower is far behind the previous one. She has no energy to distract at all, so she didn't notice Kaido's arrival, but she found something wrong.

「Wait, father, why are you holding a weapon?」

"Test your recent achievements. Although you are not a full-fledged Shiji, you should have a lot of insights if you can compete with him to this extent. In this state, it is easier for you to comprehend something."

Kaido found a reason that sounded reasonable, but in fact, he just had an itchy hand.

「OK! I'm ready!」

With the power of Zekrom, she also wanted to try something, but after she was ready, she found that the power of Zekrom gradually disappeared.

「Cekrom? Zekrom! Hey, don't make fun of me now!」

Chapter 667 ends

Golden Lion is the enemy. Of course, Zekrom will not spare his strength. Without his help, it would not be so easy to directly use Lightning Strike and Freezing Volt.

But she has not yet been recognized by Zekrom, this time she just thinks she is pleasing to the eye, so she briefly lent her her own power.

Different from the reformed Dakou True God, this power is not permanent. With the end of the battle, Zekrom naturally returned to the original space.

As for Kaido? He was too lazy to intervene in matters between father and daughter.

If she really becomes an ideal hero, even if the father and daughter break up, Zekrom will stand by Yamato, but the current situation does not meet this condition.

"Czech Rom?!"

Called several times in a row but did not get a response, Yamato also understood what happened, immediately released the ability, and lay limp on the ground.

"Ah, that old lion is a bit strong, I seem to be hurt a bit"

She also doesn't know where Kaido's current upper limit is, but she can simply convert it. The Golden Lion and Whitebeard are the overlords of an era, missing two legs, and the Golden Lion with a rudder stuck on his head. It is obviously not as good as the white beard who is not yet old.

Kaido fought Whitebeard in that state for five days, no matter how you think about it, she is deadlier than the Golden Lion, and after so many years, she was beaten by Kaido.

Even if the state is full, she can't handle this Kaido, let alone now, so she simply chose to lie flat.

Zekrom's "retreat" disrupted her overall plan. Originally, she wanted to use that power to let Kaido understand the pain she had suffered in these years, and then go back and try it with Quinn. The power of Frozen Volt should be able to solve Quinn. Because of that disgusting tactic.

But now, she decided to use bad behavior to deal with Kaido in front of her.

She just had a big fight, which is a very reasonable reason.

"A little bit hurt?"

"Yeah, look here, and here, it still hurts that old lion beheading people."

She disliked the recovery speed of her body a bit. Most of the sword wounds left by the Golden Lion had begun to heal, and now she could only use the remaining blood to make up the count.

Kaido looked her up and down a few times, and she guessed right. If she really fell into a weak period, Kaido would not force her to fight here, but she also underestimated Kaido's obsession with fighting.

Stayed on the clouds for several days, just watching and not interfering, this is already torture for him, and if you look closely, you will find that Kaido also has some traces of fighting.

This was the result of his stay in the thunder cloud. Zekrom directly gave him an electrotherapy, but he can assure that there is nothing to do with this incident.

Just when Yamato felt that Kaido was about to give up, he suddenly threw a bunch of things over.

"what?"

"You will know if you see it yourself."

Kaido's tone didn't change, but at the same time as he said this, he had already drunk the wine in the jug.

After taking what Kaido threw, Yamato's expression gradually distorted. She knew exactly what the dry herb was.

"Resurrection Grass?! Is this what it's used for!"

As long as the golden lion persists for a while, she plans to use the resurrection grass, but his own vitality has dropped too much, so he just persisted.

Since it was released, the usage rate of this thing has been very low. She never thought that Kaido would throw a resurrection grass to her at this time.

"You can use this to recover your stamina when fighting to the limit. That's what your adoptive father must have told you, right?"

"That fight and this fight have the same meaning! You have a limit if you drink too much!"

"Aren't you quite energetic?"

"Ah."

"Look, Lei Ming gossip, it should be used like this!"

Boom! boom!

When Jack and Maria came here again, what they saw was Yamato and Kaido who were fighting, and the movement was comparable to the previous battle between the Golden Lion and Yamato.

"Did you call Master Kaido directly?"

"How is it possible? I don't have that ability. It must have been arranged by Lord Arceus. Now I understand why no one replied to my request for help."

Reminiscent of how smoothly they left Ghost Island, I'm afraid all of this was arranged.

"Then we now?"

"Wait, it's time to end when Brother Kaito has played to his heart's content."

The scene was brutal, but the two of them had grown used to it. As Yamato grew older, their battles became more terrifying.

As for persuading a fight? At this time, persuading a fight will only be included in the attack target by Kaido, and they don't want to touch this bad luck.

Under Kaido's coercion and lure, Yamato regained his energy and started the battle, on the condition that Kaido put the island smoothly on the sea instead of throwing it directly.

The residents of the island had fled here before. They belonged to the rare winged people and they also have the ability to fly. If it weren't for the golden lion, they would have left long ago.

Now they have embarked on the road of finding a new home. There are many islands in the sea, and they can definitely find a more suitable place to live.

Although there are no people, there are still many wild beasts that have returned to normal, and it is not good to throw such a large island down, killing some fish, fish and shrimp.

Golden Lion's dream failed after all. As a legendary pirate, his ending was not luxurious.

He was the first person to fall under the power of the beast given to others, but this time there was no audience. The agents of the world government and the reporters of the World Economic News Agency were not gods and men everywhere.

This is an isolated empty island built by Golden Lion, and there was no cameraman to take pictures at that time.

Under the circumstances that the beasts did not deliberately publicize, no one knew that the Golden Lion had ended. In most people's perception, the Golden Lion had long since disappeared.

There is an extra solitary grave on the island, with dead wood and sakura ten crossed on the grave. This is Kaido's last respect for the golden lion, and he did not let him die in the wilderness.

Although Kumu and Yingshi are famous knives, no one is used to this kind of double-edged sword Beasts, so they are temporarily left here. With Beasts' current military capabilities, they don't need to focus on these two knives.

After the battle, Kaido still didn't enjoy himself, and left here like a drunkard, looking for a new hapless guy, and Yamato also took the armored crows back to Onijima after healed his injuries.

The beasts were left on the island, but the IQ plants cultivated by the Golden Lion were all destroyed

In this battle, she suffered fifteen sword wounds, countless scratches, and one blunt injury. The blunt injury was more serious, but Kaido was not the one who caused the injury.

Chapter 668 The surprise came suddenly

The steel armored crow taxi is still in operation, even the steel armored crow that lost contact at the beginning, returned to the formation after recovery, this incident did not cause much movement.

Although there were some rumors, they did not attract too much attention.

The source of the rumors was the passengers on the missing Steel Armored Crow taxi. They were also the only ones who were taken away from the island. After receiving a sum of compensation, they selectively forgot about it.

The accident of the steel armored crow's taxi is an extremely rare event. If it hadn't happened to meet the Golden Lion, such a thing would never have happened.

It's just that the golden lion has been out of people's sight for too long, and there is no substantive evidence, so people don't take it seriously.

But within Beasts, this matter still has great significance. A skinny camel is bigger than a horse. Even a golden lion in that state is still stronger than most people, unless it is pulled into the theater version. Otherwise, it will never leave the field inexplicably.

Even if she relied on Zekrom's power, that power itself was prepared for her. It can only be said that she has temporarily advanced the power of the future.

Back to Ghost Island, she was surprised to find that Arceus was about to set sail.

"Father, are you going to sail?"

"Is there anything strange? Yamato, you have grown up and can take on the responsibility of protecting the homeland."

This is the change brought about by the growth of Yamato. In the past, only one of Kaido and Arceus would leave Wano, and the other would stay here just in case.

If there is an accident on the main island that has been built for many years, the loss will be too serious.

But this time is different, Kaido is still in a state of losing contact, Arceus chose to sail in advance.

This is the result of the growth of Yamato's strength. Now she is no longer a child, and she can share more things.

"Father, what do you mean"

"Literally, you can decide the direction of sailing in the future, but you have to wait for some of us to come back."

Starting today, the Beasts began to change to the trident model. It is no longer two people who can be stationed on the island, but three people. Yamato has also successfully entered the rotation sequence.

Being able to hold this position naturally means that she has the option to sail independently, so Quinn doesn't have to worry about being challenged every day.

Although Zekrom's ability is temporary, among the enemies in the sea, there are not many people whose strength can catch up with the golden lion in the low period. Under normal circumstances, Yamato can already deal with most situations.

In this case, she naturally has no reason to stay on Ghost Island.

"Master Gui Ji? Master Gui Ji!"

"Ah, oh, I'm fine, I just don't know what to do. Hey, Speed, how did the adoptive father do it before?"

Until the Shiyuan disappeared from sight, she didn't react, she was in a dazed state all the time, it must have come suddenly, and the goal of the previous struggle was accomplished in this way.
nOvelusb.com

This made her a little overwhelmed.

The days of sailing are counting down. Kaido doesn't know when he will return, but Arceus's sailing time is usually not too long. What she is struggling with now is how to manage Wano Country.

"Master Arceus usually stays on Onigashima and doesn't do anything special"

It has not been a day or two since they came to Wano Country, and they have already established a whole set of management procedures.

This is the hinterland of all beasts. It is very difficult for the enemy to come here. Staying here is just in case. Most of the time there will be no accidents here.

Whether it's Kaido or Arceus, most of them are just in the town. When they are present, the pirates under them will feel at ease.

But Yamato is in the state of being a new official, and he was a little excited about the "responsibility" that he suddenly took over, so he started his inspection work in Wano Country.

The area of Wano Country is not small, but after so many years, she has already traveled here all over the place. Even the top of Fujiyama Mountain has her footprints, but this inspection still brought her a completely different experience. Feel.

At this time, Shaina had left Wano Country with Arceus, and Olga was also carrying out her own activities on the sea. Even Quinn was not in Wano Country, but was engaged in fruit cultivation on other islands.

A large number of high-level cadres have also been scattered to different islands in the territory. The newcomer pirates are like leeks. After one batch is disposed of, another batch will come soon. No matter which sea emperor is, it is impossible to avoid the harassment of these stunned youths. .

In addition to the internal struggles in the new world, the outer territories often need military support. Now there are only a few senior cadres left in Wano country, such as Jhin who stays in the capital of flowers most of the time.

Zeraora, who is the most mobile, also stayed in Wano Country because of his child. The number of times he and Setsuna went out to work has been decreasing. It has been a while since he finished dealing with Enilo. Yes, offering rewards has become the bottom of the big cadres.

The increase of the bounty several times was due to the buff bonus of Beasts. The opposite of his fate was Quinn, who also did nothing, and Quinn's bounty would always increase a little for no reason.

No matter what new things are added inside Beasts, Quinn will always get a little bit of it.

"Master Ghost Ji, good evening."

"Master Ghost Ji."

A few local residents greeted her on the road. In Wano Country, ghost is not a derogatory term, but a compliment for being brave enough, and ordinary people still don't get this title.

Yamato's inspection work went smoothly. Except for catching a thief, she didn't encounter any unexpected situations.

She even helped someone dredge the river and drilled a well on the way. For her, it was just a matter of time.

At least in terms of "being close to the people", she performed much better than Kaido or Arceus, it would be better to say that she was too close to the people.

"It's really a fulfilling day, where should I go when I'm sailing?"

Sitting by the river, Yamato swam in the water casually, thinking about the journey ahead.

"Sister Dahe, when you are thinking about the journey ahead, can you not throw stones casually, the fish are scared away by you."

In the bush next to it, Peggy Wan suddenly got out. This is one of his fishing spots in Wano Country, but the appearance of Yamato scared away the fish he had attracted before.

It's just that judging from his empty bucket, even without Yamato, he shouldn't be able to catch fish.

"Xiao Pei? I'm sorry, I didn't notice you are here. Why are you fishing so hard?"

Kaido is not in Wano Country now, so naturally she won't keep her eyes open, and she doesn't even notice that there is a person hiding in the bushes not far away.

"Because this way the old lady can't find me, it took me a lot of effort to get rid of her"

Before he finished speaking, Peggy Wan was strangled by the neck, and Ulti had unknowingly appeared behind him

Chapter 669: New Fishman Island Project

「Xiao Pei! You're so old, do you still want to play hide-and-seek?」

Ulti, who appeared suddenly, locked Peggy Wan from behind with a very precise movement. This is the daily life of the two siblings. In Ulti's view, Peggy Wan's dodging is just a game.

The scene at this time also looks very "harmonious", the premise is to ignore Peggy Wan's expression that is about to suffocate.

"The relationship between you two is really good."

「How did you tell?」

Listening to Yamato's complaints, Peggy Wan, who finally broke free, has a big head. Ulti and Yamato seem to quarrel often, but their brain circuits get along very well in some cases, such as now.

Except for Yamato, it is difficult for others to come to the conclusion that they get along well. Compared with the fight between siblings, Ulti's behavior is more like murder.

As for why Peggy Wan didn't resist, he tried to resist, but never succeeded. Ulti's strength grew at the same time as him, and he was always able to overwhelm him.

After some squabbling, Ulti seemed to remember something.

"By the way, Xiaopei, we are going to sail tomorrow, and we have tasks to do."

「Mission? When did the mission come?」

「I applied for you, didn't I tell you before?」

Times have changed, Yamato and Jack have become the cadres of the new generation, and they are no longer the kid who experienced himself under protection.

And this also means that the era of Beasts' cadre fault is over.

Before Yamato and the others grew up, Hundred Beasts had not produced any new generation of powerful cadres, and the first few people were still the leaders among Hundred Beasts.

Mandelfish and other famous people are also the original old people, not only the Beast Pirates, the new world

Many pirate groups in the world are in this state.

Beasts, BIG MOM, and newcomers who have grown up, the Whitebeard Pirates were almost entirely supported by Whitebeard at that stage.

But as young people grow up, all this has changed. Yamato, Jack and others have grown up, Ulti and the others have also reached adolescence, and now Ulti and Peggy Wan are still half-old children, but this age has already Enough to perform some tasks.

So their experience has already begun. Ulti is always restless, and being able to drag Peggy Wan out to perform tasks is one of the joys of life for her.

「When did you tell me about this」

Peggy Wan began to recall what happened before, logically speaking, he would not forget such an important thing, unless he was suffering from Ulti at that time, no matter what he was answering perfunctorily.

「Eh, I suddenly remembered, there is indeed such a thing.」

Seeing the change in Urti's expression, Peggy Wan gave up his insistence very simply. There is no way to joke about this kind of thing. The two of them don't have their own boats. If Urti talks nonsense, there is no one at all. Way to go to sea.

Seeing the possibility of her continuing to destroy him, he chose to compromise very neatly. To a certain extent, the relationship between their siblings is similar to the current Kaido and Yamato.

Daily getting along is a very different kind of fighting.

「Just remember it, pack up and get ready to go.」

「Wait, whose ship are you leaving with tomorrow?」

When Ulti was about to pull Peggy Wan out of here, Yamato stopped them. There are not many cadres staying on Onigashima, and she really didn't think of who would be more suitable for a while.

"It's Mandelfish. I heard that he's building a new fish-man island there recently. He plans to find a suitable site."

When someone leaves, someone will naturally come back. Mandelfish came back for daily reports, and he happened to be able to bring Ulti and Peggy Wan with him.

Bringing in new recruits is usually left to stable senior cadres. Regardless of qualifications, strength or character, Mandelfish meets this requirement and has enough experience.

As for the new Fishman Island project, it can be considered is a big event this year.

Two years ago, Musgarud, who returned to the Holy Land from Murloc Island, gave Otohime the World Government's approval note. After Hody Jones, the unstable factor, was eradicated, no similar radicals were born in Murloc Island.

Otohime relied on her prestige in Murloc Island to get many residents of Murloc Island to sign a letter of consent regarding the Murloc living on land. With the endorsement of the Murloc people, they planned to establish the Murloc Island. The second home of the human race.

The World Government didn't make trouble in this matter, because this matter was not only endorsed by the Tianlong people, but also a good opportunity to promote the reputation of the World Government.

The era of great pirates is intensifying, and the revolutionary army formed by the dragon has also caused more problems. At the recent World Conference, they finally faced up to the danger of dragons to the kingship, but they have no way to deal with dragons.

After all, the Revolutionary Army is only active in some areas. Most people hold the mentality that it has nothing to do with themselves. They have nothing to do with the fall of the royal power in other countries. Some people are eager for troubles in other kingdoms.

The world is so big, if they have a problem, they have the qualification to intervene to seize the benefits.

Under the chaos, the "equality" obtained by the murlocs can better shape the glorious and stalwart image of the world government.

However, the measures taken by the world government are very special. The condition they gave is that the Dragon Palace Kingdom choose a suitable place by itself.

In this sea-dominated world, land resources are limited, no one is willing to give an island directly to others, and the world government does not want to touch its own cake.

However, the status of the Dragon Palace Kingdom is still a member country. From a legal point of view, it is legal for them to do anything to a non-member country. This is also the condition given to the Dragon Palace Kingdom by the world government. The island has been theirs ever since.

Neither Otohime nor Neptune is a war faction, their choice is to find an uninhabited island to redevelop.

It is not difficult for them to just develop an island, but the reality is much more complicated than the ideal. Before, Otohime thought that the biggest obstacle was the idea of the residents of Murloc Island and the attitude of the world government.

But when all these were resolved, she discovered a more difficult problem to face. Compared with the ideas of murlocs and mermaids, humans with malicious intentions are the bigger trouble.

The barriers of the 10,000-meter deep sea cannot prevent them from being harassed by human slave catchers, especially after leaving the deep sea. Those slave catchers can continue their business because there are people behind them.

Having received the news in advance, they ambushed a lot of people nearby. As for the original Whitebeard flag, it was also forbidden in the agreement with the World Government. There are still many troubles to deal with on Fishman Island

Chapter 670: Subterranean labyrinth conception and mandible ants

Murman Island relied on Whitebeard's pirate flag to avoid a lot of trouble. The world government also knew about this matter. They didn't bother to take care of it in the 10,000-meter deep sea, but they couldn't do it on land.

This is the territory assigned to Murloc Island by the world government. If the pirate flag is hoisted on this island, it is something that the world government cannot accept.

So in the agreement, if they fly a flag other than the Sun Pirates, the island will automatically lose its status as a member country.

Dragon Palace Kingdom needs this identity. With this identity, those who have thoughts about murlocs and mermaids are slave hunters and pirates. At least no one will do such things blatantly.

The world government is still the strongest force in the sea. Without this protection, they may have to face more troubles. Even if the princes of some countries come to plunder this place, it is still legal.

In this case, they had no choice but to agree to those agreements, and they could not hang the flag on the surface, and there were still ways to deal with it in private.

As for the protection of the navy, theoretically this island is also eligible for protection by the navy, but only in theory, the world government has no idea of including this place in the scope of the navy's protection, and Fishman Island has not mentioned this matter either.

Unless the navy is directly stationed on the island, there will be too little time, but even Otohime will not agree to such a thing.

Fishman Island has to rely on the world government, but neither Otohime nor Neptune has much confidence in the navy. This is determined by their living environment. In the past hundreds of years, Fishman Island has never been a navy jurisdiction.

Now the island is still under construction, and they have only encountered some scattered small troubles. With the Sun Pirates, they can still deal with it, but this environment cannot allow ordinary citizens to settle.

And this is also one of the goals of the World Government. They hope that Murloc Island can share more pressure from pirates, and at the same time, they can take advantage of the chaos to capture some slaves.

Although Musgarud is a Celestial Dragon, he cannot represent the entire Celestial Dragon group, and he is not the only one who is interested in murloc slaves.

Want to change the situation here, looking at the trusted forces of Otohime and Neptune, Beast Fruit has become the only choice.

Legal, powerful, accepting the murlocs, and at the same time satisfying Otohime's desire for the two races to live in peace.

Speech cannot bring peace, only by beating those people who are afraid can we get stability.

The beasts naturally have their own goals, which are the murlocs themselves. This race is more suitable for underwater combat than humans. In order to prepare for future wars, the expansion and recruitment of the beasts has never stopped, and it is also the same to attract more murlocs. things in their plans. Otohime originally communicated with Tezolo about this matter, but Tezolo reported this matter, so there was Mandelfisch who led the team here, they will not show up, but they will deal with some things Time is more convenient. During this period, a group of murlocs also quietly came to the island. "Brother Tai? Long time no see. How are you?" Jinbe, who was in charge of the defense on the island, looked delighted. He hadn't seen his boss for a long time.

"Not bad, you seem to have grown a lot."

Patting Jinbei on the shoulder, Tiger looked at the island that was still under development.

This island is a big event for the murlocs. After receiving the news, Tiger naturally rushed over, and he also brought a special person—Tom.

As the top shipbuilder of the murlocs, he can build more than just ships. In this era of great pirates, ships that can sail at sea have certain counterattack capabilities.

When building the sea train, Tom made some large weapons to drive away sea beasts. Without the deep sea as a barrier, they had to consider more things when building the city, so Tiger came here with Tom, wanting to Help me a little bit.

"This is a big project, and it's the first time I've built an island from scratch."

Tom complained verbally about the huge amount of work, but he has already started to draw the manuscript. This is a big event for the murlocs. As a member of the murlocs, he also wants to contribute.

"Uncle Tom, I'll leave this place to you. I'll go over there first to have a look."

「Don't worry, I will design this place well

"Wait, Senior Tom, if you want to design, please improve according to this plan. This is what Her Royal Highness discussed with them."

Tom, who just came here, didn't know the situation here, and the murloc who was under construction gave Tom a rough plan. "This is... an underground labyrinth? Do you want to use a labyrinth to defend against enemies?" That is a general design plan. This island looks like a barren stone island, but it has a lot of underground rivers. The current plan It is to penetrate the ground, expose the original underground space, and then transform the central area. The surrounding dark river can become a natural defense barrier, and at the same time, use the complicated maze road to drive the invaders into a desperate situation. The overall structure is similar to Wano Country, which is a terrain that is easy to defend and difficult to attack, but Wano Country is above the sea level, and the plan here is to be below sea level.

At this stage, the murlocs and mermaids mainly live here. The water will not pose any threat to them, and they also have bubble film technology to use. This is also one of the reasons for restricting their site selection. Mermaids need to rely on air bubbles to live, and the air bubbles can only be produced in large quantities and last for a long time near the Chambord Islands. This area is still within the influence range of the Chambord Islands, and you can rely heavily on bubbles to complete some ideas. The bubble film will prevent the seawater from pouring back, and at the same time seal the upper entrance. Entering from above will trigger an early warning, which is an illegal intrusion. If you want to come in, you still have to go through the regular underwater channel, which is very similar to Murloc Island, except that the water depth here is only tens of meters, and there is no original Murloc channel.

The island is so deep. Then there is this maze. After passing through the maze, you can reach the residential area smoothly. The residential area even has an escape passage leading to the deep sea. "Although it's a bit weird, the idea is okay, but... how to build this maze? This structure can't use a lot of gunpowder. It would take a lot of manpower, and what should I do if the trap accidentally hurts ordinary people?" It seems that there is no problem, but it is very difficult in practice, especially how to transform the underground cave is a big problem. "We don't know. Those people said that we can rest assured that they will take care of it." "Those people?"

At this time, besides the pirates, there were a large group of brown creatures on Mandelfish's ship. Their huge heads were disproportionate to their bodies. They looked more like turtles, but they were ants-Antlion Pokémon. jaw ants.
