

Arceus 731

Chapter 731: No matter what you fight, what you say doesn't count

"Friends of Hong Kong, you guys, don't be too greedy, why do you want to monopolize it."

"We never wanted to monopolize it. It was the angry words of a few young people, and you guys didn't do it first! Urashima, you are too much!"

Guangyou, an old man who looks very small, but he is the best construction craftsman in Wano country and the leader of the entire industry. Wano country is closed, and seniority and status are valued internally.

Offended Hong Kong friends, unless it is oppressed by force, ordinary people will never want to find someone who is willing to help build a house.

And Urashima is a big guy, a yokozuna of Wano country, yokozuna is the highest title of sumo wrestlers, in a sense it can be regarded as a lifelong honorary title, and Urashima is several yokozuna of Wano country The strongest among the sumo wrestlers and the leader of the sumo wrestlers.

With Urashima's strength, Hong Kong Friends is definitely not his opponent, but the two of them sat obediently on both sides of the table despite their bad tone. On the other side, Heigoro sat there with a serious face. He was here to mediate These people are contradictory.

If he came forward, it would be a small fight among the people. If the people who rose to the beasts came forward, it would be a violation of the law. Although the beasts are a group of lawless lunatics in the eyes of the world government, but in their own territory, But they have their laws.

Heigoro's retirement life is pretty good, and the former gangsters all have decent jobs, which is much better than before. Now the Wano country is very peaceful, and even he doesn't want this peace to be broken .

As a person who has a certain understanding of the truth of the year, Heigoro often thinks whether this is the best future.

"You're almost done. If you continue to make trouble, it's not good for anyone. Do you want to go to the rabbit bowl for transformation? Don't forget how Pokémon appeared, you have no right to decide their identity.

Respect their ideas, it doesn't matter if you fight, if you make the heroes fight, it's fine if the adult is unhappy. "

Heigoro persuaded them earnestly. Before that, Hotei asked Kojiro to find Heigoro, hoping that he could intervene in this matter so that the incident would not continue to expand, otherwise he could only continue to report it.

"But."

The industry huddles together to keep warm. They are all leaders in their respective industries, and they have to find a way to go.

"I'll come forward to be your guarantor, it's okay. Besides, you are not newborn children, and there may be Pokémon that are more suitable for your industry in the future. What's the use of fighting for blood now? Don't people who can't match them live a good life as well?"

"Boss Bingorang, we must give you face, so that's fine."

They are also very clear about the consequences of Heigoro's explanation. It is naturally the best to deal with it in this way, and Heigoro is very prestigious among the people of Wano Country, so basically there will be no problems.

Just at this moment, the room behind Heigoro suddenly exploded, and a large amount of cotton suddenly gushed out of it.

A wind fairy is lying on the pile of cotton, making bursts of laughter.

The cotton is its masterpiece, and this is also the standard prank method of the wind fairy, but Bingorang didn't find it strange, but smiled and stretched out his hand to the wind fairy.

"Hey, you've also seen that these Pokémon will give back to people's ideas, whether they prefer fitness, sumo wrestling, or lifting heavy objects, you just need to respect them a little more."

Aiwujiwu, Bingorang's wife likes these playful wind fairies very much, and even Bingorang has a good impression of them. Now his wife makes some puppets in her spare time.

The raw materials of the puppet come from the cotton produced by these wind fairies. It can be said that this is a new daily life for their family.

"That's the way it is, Lord Holy Beast, Bingorang has solved this problem, and the effect seems to be pretty good, but Lord Holy Beast, do you really care about those powers?"

"The characters are different, and it's normal for the same race to have conflicts. It's just a small fight. There is no need to interfere with them, and this is how they become stronger."

In Ghost Island, Shaina reported the specific situation. For the Wano country, all beasts can be said to be well aware of it. This kind of large-scale physical conflict is already considered a major event, and it is impossible not to know about it.

The question about Haoli asked by Shaina refers to the fact that some Haoli have fought with each other due to their personalities and preferences, which is relatively rare in other Pokémon.

But this is also the daily life of fighting-type Pokémon. Most of them can't relax. This is also one of the important ways to exercise, and it's not a big deal.

"Is there nothing else to do?"

"Nothing special, since Mr. Kaido made the big noise, even the outside world has temporarily stabilized a lot.

But New Murloc Island has suffered a lot. According to Mandelfish's feedback, mandible ants have been fighting more frequently recently. "

Even if the navy beautifies the attack, it still cannot change the essence of the incident. Kaido took the initiative to attack the navy branch, which is a very rare thing in the sea.

This kind of crazy behavior is incredible to the pirates, and it can be regarded as a little deterrent to those Xiaoxiao, so that the territory of the beasts has temporarily entered a period of stability.

"The rest are trivial matters, Lord Saint Beast, do you want to prepare for the next voyage?"

"Can."

"Father! I'm going out first, and I'll be back later!"

As soon as Arceus finished speaking, Yamato's head popped out of the door, and after saying this, she ran away with her Yunduo satchel, without even staying too long.

Now she has this qualification and can freely control her own path, and the reason why she is so anxious is not for anything else, but to "escape for her life".

Based on her analysis of Kaido's character and the speed of the eight-headed dragon, Kaido should return to Wano within the next two days.

Through the newspaper, she determined that Kaido must not have played to the fullest, and a few hours is not enough for him to play.

And the follow-up newspapers did not have news of Kaido fighting elsewhere, which means that Kaido is likely to have a fighting spirit when he comes back.

Kaido, who is full of fighting spirit, is not good news for her. According to past experience, the probability of her being pulled into the abyss of battle is more than 90%, so she has to go out to avoid the limelight and come back when Kaido calms down.

After all, it is about Kaido. She has already triggered the passive intelligence point, and left Wano Country with her subordinates. This time, she has sufficient logistics supplies. She does not want to come back to the previous painful and poor voyage. time.

Yamato's escape was somewhat beyond Arceus' expectations. This girl has learned to be smart this time, and he himself has found the one who likes sumo the most in the Haoli group, and plans to make something special to let Kaido Pause for a while.

Well, this time it's really only the third watch

Chapter 732 The holy mountain and the pilgrimage road, the strange power of evolution under the magnetic field

Haoli groups also have individual differences. It is not surprising that a Haoli who does not like fighting is born in a warlike ethnic group.

But compared to this rare situation, it is easier to find an individual who is best at fighting and immersed in fighting from a group.

The location is still the top of Fujiyama. Compared with more than ten years ago, there have been more changes here. The whole looks like a temple. Except for the stone pillars left by the trial space where the black and white twin dragons were created, there are also many more here. stone statue.

On the way here, you can still see some people climbing Fujiyama. In the past Wano country, no one would do this kind of thing. Even if you climb to the top of Fujiyama, it doesn't make any sense.

But it is different now. This behavior has become a pilgrimage behavior of the Arceus religion. If you trace the root cause, it is the spread and development of the teachings of Misu. They are using their own efforts to express their respect to God.

The carp king will cross the Reversing Mountain, cross the sea, and cross several dangerous sea areas to get here. Even with the leadership of the Gyarados, the journey is full of hardships for them.

Although the path of these ordinary people is not as dangerous as the sea path of King Carp, it is also a very difficult journey for them to climb Fujiyama.

It's just that every person who climbed to the top of Fujiyama claimed to have seen an indescribable beauty after returning home. His soul was as if he had been washed, and his old diseases would be healed. Zeus' transformation has undergone some changes.

This can be regarded as a supernatural environment, a low-profile version of the small kingdom of God, and ordinary people will indeed have certain benefits here.

Fujiyama also has some special meaning for Wano Country, but no one remembers this meaning. At this time, it has become a holy mountain in the records of the Arceus religion.

Even the aboriginals of Wano country, most of them have forgotten the past. This is Takamagahara where the gods really reside. Compared with the previous legends, they believe in what they see.

The pirates on Ghost Island are more pragmatic. Most of them want to establish new achievements in the sea. Most of the people who climb this mountain are ordinary believers who do not participate in armed disputes.

For them, the luckiest thing is to see the figure of Arceus in the clouds during the climbing process, and they think this will bring more luck.

And this is also a special environment for Pokémon. Arceus used the lightning slate as the source to change the magnetic field at the top of Fujiyama. The specific magnetic field can just affect some Pokémon and allow them to complete evolution.

For them, this is the communication place in the game.

There are no restrictions on evolution, and this place has always been open to all Pokémon. Pokémon that need a special magnetic field can come here to complete their evolution, but some Pokémon don't like evolution.

Although evolution will bring stronger power, the overall strength will inevitably increase, but it will also bring some bad aspects. For example, the tortoise will lose its flexible body after evolution, and the small fist stone will lose its flexibility after evolution. Cannot hover at low altitude.

Some Pokémon are extremely resistant to evolution because they are used to their initial form.

Of course, because this hero is warlike, it yearns for evolution very much, and it is proud of being the first member of the group to evolve.

Due to the height problem, there is still a lot of snow on the top of Fuji Mountain at this time. After leaving footprints one by one on the snow, the Haoli gradually walked into the center of a stone circle. Here, its body Gradually wrapped in white light.

Soon, a human-like Pokémon with four arms appeared here.

Both belong to the strange power Pokémon - strange power, this type of Pokémon can be said to be classified based on strange power.

Compared with Haoli, the red marks on its arms disappeared, and a pair of arms appeared on its back.

The three tile-shaped protrusions on the head are preserved, and the face is shortened. While retaining the powerful appearance, it is also closer to humans, and a pair of thick sausage mouths are added.

What remains the same is their golden belts. This power limiter is also very important for monster power. Since the evolution of wrist strength, this belt has become an important part of them.

In order to be able to live a normal life and exercise better in the future, their own energy finally produced this belt, and at the same time, the lower body still retained the pattern like black underwear.

By the way, no matter whether it is a male Kaili or a female Kaili, there is no difference in their upper body. Only Kaili can distinguish the gender of the other party from the black pattern.

Just like you don't know what's under Xanadu's skirt, ordinary people will never know what's going on with the monster in front of you.

"Strange!"

With the four arms together, Wei Li made a slightly strange movement.

Guaili has well-developed muscles and is stronger than Haoli, but its fingers are clumsy.

Although the bone structure and muscles are similar to those of humans, and they also have five fingers, their hands are not very flexible, and they are not at all capable of fine work.

Heavy physical work is easy for them, but if it is delicate work, their arms will be entangled.

This is because during evolution, their bodies are highly developed, forming a very powerful muscle response, their bodies will act one step ahead of the brain, usually while the brain is thinking, their bodies will automatically respond.

So don't make fun of the strange powers, once they judge it as a battle signal, you may not even have time to stop yourself.

"You are here to familiarize yourself with your new body, and then exercise your new strength. In a few days, there will be a very strong opponent who can meet your fighting needs."

This monster belongs to an individual specially selected by Arceus, and has the qualifications to perform Gigamax, although even if the monster performs Gigamax, it is not Kaido's opponent.

But according to the canyon theory of relativity, the deceleration of the opponent is equal to the acceleration of our side. When the strength of the strange force reaches the limit and basically cannot be strengthened, Kaido can be weakened.

Rounding off, as long as Kaido is reduced to a level similar to that of the gigantic monster, it is equivalent to strengthening the monster power to the point where it can be Kaido's opponent.

Anyway, it is very difficult for Kaido to increase his strength now. Ordinary training is meaningless. For "a game", he will not mind being cut off.

At the same time, this can also exercise the body of Weili, allowing them to learn more skills.

Guaili has an extremely powerful fighting talent. It is said that an experienced Weili can be proficient in all the fighting skills he has seen. Let them fight Kaido a lot, and maybe one day they can fight four times with bare hands.

Chapter 733 Wake up slap

In addition to statues and snow, there are several frozen lakes on the top of Fujiyama. Looking at the thick ice layer, the strange force used all four hands, and quickly punched a big hole in the ice layer, and then the violence began. winter swimming.

It refers to breaking the ice layer with your arms while swimming to open up a path for yourself. This is also one of the daily exercises of Weili. They are not water-type or aquatic Pokémon, but they are very good at swimming.

Its four arms, which have been exercised to the extreme, can be used in swimming, and its swimming speed is not inferior to that of Pokémon that inhabit the sea.

Weili is familiar with the new body. A few days later, Kaido, who made a big move in the G-1 branch, also returned to Wano Country, but instead of riding the eight-headed dragon, he turned into a green dragon and His own flame cloud dragged back to a small piece of empty island.

The foundation of the ghost island is limited, so the renovation of the ghost island has basically been carried out in a way of heightening over the years. Now there is a new floor on the ghost island, which is prepared by Kaido for the eight evil dragons.

He likes this new mount very much. Whether it is appearance or character, as well as its current strength, it fits Kaido's requirements very well.

With the help of the island cloud technology on the sky island and the Rotom electronic equipment, this sky island quickly became a new territory over the Wano country. Kaido also got a large bucket and wiped the eight evil dragons himself. while it was lying comfortably on the island cloud.

Although the nature of the island cloud in the empty island is the same as that of the land, compared with ordinary soil, the island cloud will not stain the body, and it is more comfortable overall. The eight-headed evil dragon enjoys this feeling. NoVELus&.COM

Just like some generals would bathe and wipe their horses to maintain their relationship, Kaido is also doing similar things, but it is unrealistic to expect him to be too serious. It didn't take long for a group of younger brothers who received the order to lift him up. Came here with a bunch of wine jars.

"Governor Kaido! We brought you the wine you asked for!"

On the back of the large Tanabata blue bird, a group of pirates walked down with a lot of drinks, and then left here at a faster speed. Kaido, who started drinking, was a big threat to them.

And for some reason, they felt that this large Pokémon was very unfriendly this time, and kept staring at them viciously.

Under the double threat, they chose to run first, but they didn't know that the eight-headed dragon was not staring at them, but the Qixi blue bird, which felt an indescribable feeling from the opponent.

Before it could continue thinking about this question, Kaido had already brought the wine jar in front of it.

"Come on, you should have a big drink after the battle, you should be able to drink."

With a big wave of his hand, Kaido placed a bunch of wine vats directly in front of the eight evil dragons, and there was one at the head of each. Those who knew it was Kaido, but those who didn't know it might think of him as Su Tuwu Zun.

Bewitched by Kaido, the Eight-Headed Dragon was quickly attracted by the aroma of the wine and began to walk into the abyss.

However, although it has excellent poison resistance and strong self-healing power, it seems to lack resistance to alcohol. Several heads lay on the ground drunk one after another, and demonstrated on the spot what a vat of pouring is.

When Arceus came, what he saw was the eight-headed evil dragon who was already drunk and drunk, and Kaido was drunk.

It seems to be infected by the Eight-Headed Dragon, this time he got drunk faster than before, and was lying on the island cloud laughing wantonly.

After drinking, his mood will become very changeable when he is relaxed. This time it is probably a new situation, so he did not cry out of nowhere.

"Hey, get up, keep drinking, you can't do this, how can I drink so much on my mount."

But no matter what he did, the eight-headed dragon was sound asleep, even if Kaido's big hand slapped it, there was no response.

"Cut, bored, heck, why are you here? Have you finally decided to have a big drink? But you have to wait, I'll check Yamato's results before talking about hiccups."

Looking at Arceus who appeared, Kaido seemed to see a new drinking buddy, walking over drunk with a wine tank in his arms, and talking about his plan.

It can be seen that Yamato's move is correct. She slipped away ahead of time and successfully protected herself, although it was only temporary.

But before Kaido did anything, he understood what the power of the fighting system slate is.

"You guys have regained your not so wonderful power, do you know how difficult it is for me to get drunk?"

Feeling the soberness in his mind, Kaido frowned. He had been woken up in battle before, but it was the first time he woke up so thoroughly.

"You're drunk every day, what's the problem? But it's because of you that I discovered the significance of this move."

Just now, Arceus' condensed energy hand slapped Kaido directly. The damage wasn't too great, but it completely wiped out his drunkenness.

This move is called Awakening Slap, which is a fighting style. It can cause more damage to sleeping targets and make them awake.

It's just that Arceus discovered at this time that the point of awakening the slap is not to target the target state, but to awaken it. Although the drunk state is not within the scope of the damage bonus, it can be forced to fly drunk and return to sobriety by this trick.

"Forget it, what about that girl Yamato?"

"She predicted the time of your return and slipped away ahead of time."

"Hmm, this girl is very clever, but she is still too naive."

For Kaido, if Yamato can run, the monk can't run away from the temple. Unless the reversal in combat power is achieved, Kaido can do it again when he is on top.

"You made too much noise before, and there was a little trouble on Tezolo's side. This will affect future plans."

"No, I know the virtues of the navy better than you, so they won't turn their faces because of this kind of thing. The big battle is good, but before the main course, you have to find some dessert."

"In short, give me a rest for a while, I just found you a new opponent. After bringing these things, you should be able to have a good fight."

Speaking of several golden belts were thrown to Kaido, they were specially strengthened power-limiting belts, but for Kaido, one might not be enough, so Arceus directly prepared three, except for the waist, his arms with a limiter on.

"How does it feel?"

"The feeling of suppressed power, why didn't you take out this thing earlier? With this, I don't have to be restrained when training with Yamato."

"This is the strength I just recovered, just right, let's meet your new opponent."

As Arceus' voice fell, the strange power that followed him was also enveloped by the tremendous power he gave, and turned into a four-armed giant.

Chapter 734 The shock of the giants, Doflamingo who appeared by coincidence

Under the shroud of red power, Weili's body began to swell, and it swelled to about twelve meters. Compared with the gigantic steel armored crow and Laplace, this size is much smaller, but it is more exquisite. The most important thing is Yes, this size is best for hand-to-hand combat with Kaido.

Neither too small to challenge, nor too big to fight.

Under the special control of Arceus, the size of Gigamax also becomes controllable, and if necessary, the strange power can reach the size of Oz.

This evolution did not allow the strange force to have more hands, and the gigantic strange force still has four arms.

It's just that the front sections of the four arms have slightly quaint lines, just like a titan.

The golden belt around the waist also increases with the change of strange power.

"It looks very good."

Looking at the four-armed giant who was much taller than himself, Kaido also became interested. He didn't use a weapon, and also hit the strange force with his bare hands.

The three power-limiting belts have greatly restrained Kaido's power and made it more controllable, but a lean camel is bigger than a horse. Even if Kaido is suppressed by the belt, he is not something ordinary people can deal with.

But this punch was steadily received by Weili. Kaido is not the only one who likes to fight. When encountering a strong enemy, Weili will also ignite his fighting spirit.

Just one punch made Wei Li understand the quality of the enemy in front of him, especially this person was wearing three belts.

One arm blocked Kaido's attack, and the other three arms also waved. The strange force's four arms are both offensive and defensive, and there are almost no dead ends in hand-to-hand combat.

The strangely powerful arm almost made an afterimage. This is the ability brought about by the powerful muscle response. It can throw countless fists in the moment before thinking.

"Hehehehe, it's really good strength, and it's still qualified as a training partner."

Kaido is still the same, using his body to experience the strength of the opponent to judge whether he can be a qualified opponent. At present, it seems that the strange power meets his needs. After all, the strange power's body already contains powerful power.

If all are liberated, the strange force can push a mountain with only one arm, and four hands can play extremely powerful boxing together.

The power of the gigantic monster power has been raised to an astonishing level, its arms are full of gigantic power, every punch is equivalent to the explosion of a bomb, and it is enough to lift a large ship that has been stranded.

Although Weili still wears a belt, Kaido wears three belts, which can be said to be just right.

And after several fights, Kaido's four arms grabbed Kaido in a special posture. The enemy throws it out.

Kaido and Kaili had a great time fighting, and it seemed that they could calm down for a while, and Arceus left here, but the battle here shocked another person-Sauro.

The rest of Beasts are used to this kind of thing, but for Sauro, the strange power that looks close to human is really special.

"Odin above, what the **** is that."

Odin, the king of the Elbaf giant country, the well-deserved king in the hearts of the giants, is also the strongest giant. When Sauro said this word, he had already expressed his inner shock.

He is a former vice admiral and a good friend of Kuzan. Before the O'Hara incident, he was also a lieutenant general in the Navy's trusted headquarters. Sengoku has given him several missions.

So Sauro knew that the navy once had a human giant experiment that was deemed a failure. There were many giant beasts before Beasts, but the meanings represented by giant beasts and giants are completely different.

Patted himself on the head, Sauro picked up the **** and walked towards his farm. In the past, he might have worried about some things, but now he has seen through some things and turned into a pastoral giant instead.

"Robin hasn't been back for a while, I hope her journey goes well."

At this time, Robin, whom Sauro was worried about, was looking for some secret information on a certain island. Her recent trip was generally smooth, and most of the occasional troubles were avoided.

Today, her luck was not very good. When she was looking for some secret information, she happened to encounter a fight between two groups of pirates, and she was involved.

She is not a weak woman with no strength to restrain a chicken, but when she wanted to make a move, those people suddenly stopped their movements.

"What...what's going on?! Body... body is out of control!"

"Dodge! Dodge quickly!"

The two who were targeting Robin suddenly started fighting with each other, and shouted very strange words, almost all the pirates in the entire area fell into this state, and began to attack people around them indiscriminately.

"Is this the .line?"

Through the sunlight, Robin vaguely saw thin lines in the sky, some of which were hung with blood beads, all of which seemed to be being manipulated by a big hand.

And the person behind the scenes seemed to realize that Robin had noticed all this, and then sped up his own progress. The rocks on the ground squirmed, and a big hand quickly stretched out, sweeping away all the pirates here.

"轰轰轰轰轰, I didn't expect to meet here, Miss Robin, long time no see."

Doflamingo slowly descended from the broken eaves, and finally sat on a chair beside him, and the rock on the ground also changed into the shape of Pica, which was just the masterpiece of these two people.

"Don Quixote Doflamingo? Why are you here."

Looking at Doflamingo Mingo in front of him, Robin's expression didn't change. This is one of the few people who knows that she has the banner of beasts on her body. According to his character, he will never offend those monsters in the new world .

"Don't be so vigilant, we can be regarded as partners now."

This is an exaggerated act of subsidizing gold, because Doflamingo is only considered a relatively good dealer. There are many such people and beasts, which are far from being called cooperation.

"As for why we're here, it's just fulfilling the duties of Shichibukai. After all, we also have to eliminate some pirates to hand over to the navy. Of course, it's just these guys who are eliminated."

Now he already has a series of titles. Over the years, he has been developing his family's secret line. At this time, he has become a well-known middleman in the underground world under the name of joker, and at the same time, he has become the king of the seven warriors under the nickname of Amayasha. one.

As he said, Shichibukai was established to check and balance pirates, so he had to eliminate some pirates from time to time. As for meeting Robin, it was really just a coincidence.

"Hey, Ms. Robin, we are also destined. After all, because of you, I can get online with Beast. I have a message for you today, but I don't know if you are interested or not."

Chapter 735 Doflamingo's gossip

Meeting Nicole Robin here is a complete coincidence for Doflamingo, as he said, he was just hunting some pirates and fooling the navy, not only him, but all Shichibukai are doing similar things.

This is also the significance of the establishment of Qiwuhai. Although their existence is intended to check and balance the increasingly powerful sea emperor, it is basically unrealistic to want them to fight those monsters in the new world.

Even the world government restricts large-scale wars for the sake of balance in their mouths. The so-called checks and balances are completely verbal checks and balances. They are more cleaning up the sea area at their doorstep and fooling around with the navy.

Moria in the Devil's Triangle Sea Area, Crocodile in Alabasta, Jinbe in Murloc Island, and Hancock in Hydra, they all regularly clean up some pirates in their own ways.

The most special thing is Hawkeye, who can't do things most of the time, but he may be chased to the ends of the world by him due to some accidents.

Compared to those Shichibukai, Doflamingo is the most special one. His territory is in the New World, and there are a lot of pirate-related households outside. It might be a subsidiary force of some sea emperor.

So when he fools the navy, he usually comes to the first half. Anyway, Dressrosa's position is not far from the first half, and he just met Nicole Robin on the island.

Beasts have been getting a lot of attention lately. After the Navy's official intelligence, Morgans' newspaper also disclosed the situation of G-1. His character will not let go of this opportunity to gain attention.

As for where did he get the photos and information, there were too many people who saw the incident, and the World Government didn't deliberately keep it secret, so some of it naturally spread out. Through two newspapers and his own unique information channel, Doflamingo Brother roughly figured out what happened.

This made him understand that if he wants to mix in the underground world of the new world in the future, he must have a friendly relationship with all the beasts. There seem to be seven kings of the underground world in the new world today, but those six people add up, and There is no comparison between Hundred Beasts.

They don't have the force to make the navy a headache, and they don't have the horrible biotechnology. After doing that kind of thing, they can let the world government put it down lightly.

The first encounter with Nicole Robin and this time have one thing in common, that is, there are some things from ancient times, and he can boldly speculate that the other party is looking for something related to history.

This is a risk-free gamble. If he wins the bet, he can gain a lot, and if he loses the bet, he will not lose anything.

"What?"

"Let's talk in another place, this is not a place to talk."

Taking a slightly arrogant pace, Doflamingo took the lead and left here. Now that Robin has developed curiosity, it is not so easy to extinguish it. novelUS&.com

On the pirate ship of the Don Quixote family, after the family members prepared the tea, they left here under the signal of Doflamingo.

"What? You found what we want? If you trade, you should have a stable channel by now."

"哆哆哆哆哆, unfortunately, I also want to find those things, but it is a bit difficult."

Of course he knows what the beasts want most. It is nothing more than slate and animal fruits. Animal fruits are not too difficult to find, but there is no need to tell Robin about these things. As for the slate, it is hard to find.

The number of islands he can reach is much less than that of the beasts. Even Pika merged into the islands to search, but there is no effect. He does not have the ability of the beasts to include all parts of the world in the search range.

"This matter may only be related to you, Miss Robin, you seem to be very interested in history."

"Um?"

"Don't get me wrong, even if you want to blow up Mary Joya, I will only applaud, but I happen to know a very historical place."

There are many pirates with the banner of beasts, but they are just ordinary people on the surface, but they wear the banner of beasts in their private capacity. He has not seen the second one.

To be precise, he is not an ordinary person. Doflamingo has quickly integrated into the underground world of this new world over the years, and he has also learned some secrets.

Nicole Robin, a woman with outstanding business ability, with her, most of the business of a company or faction can be handled in an orderly manner, and she is also very talented in negotiation, but there is one problem, the faction she joined Usually live less than half a year, there will always be accidents.

There is currently no evidence that she has a problem, so there have been unbelievers trying to absorb this talent.

But to Doflamingo, all this seems very reasonable. The person in front of him is a man of beasts. No matter which force she joins, it is impossible to join sincerely. At best, she is an undercover agent.

Although undercover agents will do their best to help this force in order to achieve their goals, and it is very useful, but when undercover operations, the impact can be very serious.

Some people also suspected that she had a problem, but they were fascinated by her ability and felt that they could control this woman, so she can be said to be in a good mood.

The Black Widow of the underground world, this title has already gained a certain amount of popularity. Some people think that this is her own fate of "Boss Ke", while some people think that she is hunting those people, and have made different interpretations of this title. .

Doflamingo has no opinion on this, he doesn't want to offend the beasts at all.

"When it comes to history, you can't get around the mysterious hundred years. This is something that the world government expressly prohibits, but Miss Robin, you have to know that a group of people have experienced that era, and they still have a complete continuation to this day. ."

"Dragon people? Why, do you think Marie Joa is safe?"

No one knows O'Hara's identity, and everyone who knows about it lives on Ghost Island, so she doesn't care about talking about history. Doflamingo's reminder is obvious enough, and it has continued from eight hundred years ago to the present. Only the Celestial Dragons are left.

It's just that the Celestial Dragon lives in Mary Joa, and that place is not convenient for her to move around.

"No, no, the descendants of the 20 kings who formed the world government 800 years ago became a privileged class above the world, but only 19 families lived in the holy land of Mariejoa, and one family did not immigrate to Mariejoa. Joya."

As he spoke, Doflamingo spread out a map and pointed to a country in the first half of the great route.

"One of the 20 kings, the Neferutali family, their family refused to move to Marijoya, but insisted on staying in the original kingdom. The name of this country is-Alabasta."

"Why do you know such a thing?"

"Hey, Miss Robin, people have to have some little secrets, but I can assure you that these are true."

Chapter 736 Neferutari and Alabasta

Outsiders don't know about this matter, even the people in the world government, most of them don't know who the royal family that disappeared is.

But Doflamingo is different. As a former Tianlongren, he has countless information unknown to outsiders, and this is where his capital lies.

He is familiar with the virtue of the world government, so he exchanged the heavenly gold for Qi Wuhai's identity, and guaranteed his own status with that secret.

Ever since he was rejected to return, he has hated all Tianlong people. Under the right circumstances, he doesn't mind pushing the table, but he won't go to the front of the stage, he just wants to be the one behind the scenes. informant.

And if he remembers correctly, Crocodile seems to be making some big moves there. Although it is not good for him to trouble him, it is not bad.

He doesn't believe that the sand crocodile is really a national hero. Today's Shichibukai has a lot of minds, or they used to have a lot of minds, and no matter how bad they are, they have their own brains around them.

"If you are interested, you can stop here for a while. I can send you to an island with convenient shipping. I also have a way to get the permanent pointer of Alabasta. If not, just pretend I didn't say it."

Doflamingo is a person who likes investing very much. Although many investments are forced, he still likes this kind of investment without cost.

"Then I will interrupt."

"Hey, it's good to use it, but isn't the companion next to you going to say hello?"

The topic he didn't want to talk about was discovered. After dismissing his little brother, knowledge and knowledge enveloped the nearby area, and he also discovered the life form outside the cabin.

It's just that he hasn't made it clear all the time, and now he has barely reached a "cooperation", and he has also expressed his strength in this way.

"Little Lizard."

Robin shouted lightly, she has never dealt with Qi Wuhai, but if these people have no strength, they are not worthy of this position.

In the corner, a phantom figure appeared for the first time, a figure wearing a cowboy hat and dressed like a western cowboy appeared here.

During her traveling career, Lizard has also evolved from being a lizard to a thousand faces.

However, after the evolution, there was a little trouble. They are both guards with thousands of faces, and Lizard and Elizabeth are too similar. Except that they cannot change their forms, there is almost no difference.

Elizabeth is the partner of Phantom Calamity, which is well known in the New World. Because of Elizabeth's own fighting style, her reputation is not particularly prominent, and most people outside the New World don't know much about it.

Only the pirates in the new world know that compared to the phantom disaster alone, the phantom disaster combined with Elizabeth is the real killing machine.

So Xiao Li dressed himself up a bit. In addition to the cowboy-like style of painting, he also wore sunglasses on his face. In this world where prosopagnosia is very serious, most people can't recognize what it is.

Moreover, Thousand Faces' invisibility ability can also be extended to its own close-fitting clothing. After all, its mother's prototype is the local basilisk lizard, and the ability to affect clothing is very common here.

"It's really terrifying biotechnology."

After observing this creature carefully, Doflamingo came to his own conclusion. The blindness in this world is very serious, but Doflamingo is different.

He is quite normal in this aspect, and because the sunglasses are his own body, he has a higher ability to distinguish the face wearing sunglasses.

The outside world's perception of beasts is powerful biotechnology. When a similar creature appears, this subconscious influence usually plays a big role.

"It's these things, get them here as soon as possible."

"Understood, but Dover, are we really going to do so much for that woman?"

Pika's shrill voice sounded, he didn't quite understand why Doflamingo did this, preparing permanent pointers, sorting out local maps and information, the cost of doing so was not high, but it took a lot of work.

"It doesn't matter who she is, this person has a lot to do with the people of the beasts, Pika, can you give the family logo to someone else besides me?"

"cannot." noVELusB.com

"That's right. She has the banner of Beasts, and she is very special. Even if it's not Kaido himself behind her, she is also a high-ranking person in Beasts. This small investment is nothing. As long as she gains something, we can get more income.

Just wait, I have a hunch that the business will not lose money this time, 嘖嘖嘖嘖嘖. "

"Alabasta, a superpower in the first half of the great route, has a standing army of more than 600,000.

The royal family is the Neferutali family. The current king is the twelfth generation king Neferutali Cobra, the princess Neferutari Titi is deceased, and the only princess Neferutari Vivi. Little lizard, it seems like a very long journey. "

Browsing the information compiled by Doflamingo, Nicole Robin judged that this trip should be able to gain a lot. According to O'Hara's records, Alabasta is also a country with a very rich history.

Compared with a lonely island in the sea, a country with a large land area like Alabasta is easier to preserve history. This place was originally part of her plan, but because of the information provided by Doflamingo, she advanced the plan That's all.

At this time, it was the end of 1515, and she had already arrived in Alabasta by regular shipping, and was heading to the royal capital to investigate the local situation along the way.

People outside can't believe everything. Although Doflamingo provided a lot of information, she still re-confirmed it through the way of beasts.

At this time, it is the third inspection, and I collect the most timely information from the local area to prevent any accidents.

Although Crocodile has come to Alabasta at this time, he has not started any action yet. Baroque Works is only a gathering place for pirate hunters, and Alabasta is peaceful.

Although it is a desert country, relying on the oasis, the national economy has developed very well.

According to Doflamingo, those secrets should be secrets inherited by the royal family, and only those in the royal family know the news, so her first goal now is to sneak into the royal palace, which is the most effective way to get close to the royal family method.

Looking at the news of the recruitment of court teachers in the local newspaper, Robin has made some arrangements for the future, but first, she has to deal with the troublesome things in front of her.

"Little lizard, find a way to deal with them yourself."

"Cha"

"Look, I can't do anything, after all, they are looking for you."

At this time, the two of them were already surrounded by a large group of kung fu manatees, and these kung fu manatees also learned the attacking posture of avoiding service with thousands of faces, putting their round hands in the pose of a pistol.

There are two changes today, and four changes tomorrow.

Chapter 737 Court Teacher and Crocodile

Alabasta, a desert country, has bred many strange creatures, which is also the magic of this sea, so those Pokémon that spread to the outside world are considered to be products of nature.

In this sea, there are no examples of artificial creatures being popularized on a large scale. The kung fu manatee is one of the unique creatures in Alabasta.

It looks like a manatee, but has a special structure like a turtle shell. It is an amphibious creature, entrenched in the desert rivers of Alabasta and the surrounding oceans.

Cute in appearance, but troublesome in character, they are kung fu fanatics, and most people who want to pass through their territory will be entangled.

Looks like ordinary animals, but they have stronger fighting power than ordinary people. People who have not been trained are really no match for them. Even if they win, they will seek apprenticeship with teary eyes.

In most cases, there are still more good people than bad people. People who can beat these manatees don't have the heart to do anything to these little guys. Most of the locals in Alabasta will choose to bypass them.

But Robin didn't look for the local guide, just walked along the map alone with a camel and a small lizard, and strayed into their territory.

The individual combat power of the little lizard is not as good as that of its mother, but it is still very easy to deal with these kung fu manatees. The water gun fired continuously, and quickly knocked down these surrounding manatees, and let them understand, in the general environment, what is Hot weapons crush unarmed combat.

These kung fu manatees did not expect that there would be people who would not talk about martial arts and fight with water guns. Whether it was long-distance combat or close-combat, they would have no way to deal with that tall and thin man.

"Cha"

At this time, Robin has put away her sketchbook, and Huahuaguo is also very convenient in this respect. She can sketch in a short time and record what she wants. Records of relics and magical creatures.

These interesting creatures are also something that Ghost Island has a little interest in the process of searching for stone slabs and devil fruits.

"Cha~"

Looking at the kung fu manatees surrounded in front of him, Xiaoli squirmed his mouth a few times, and then spit out a small water arrow towards the rock next to him.

The usual fighting method of Thousand Faces is to fire water guns from their fingertips, but this does not mean that they can only fire water guns from their fingertips, this is one of the differences in evolution.

Thousands of Faces are more flexible in this respect, but after the evolution of Blastoise, due to the special structure of the barrel, the mouth can no longer continue to spray water.

The water arrow left a hole in the rock, which also attracted the admiring eyes of many kung fu manatees.

"Exactly [When you can also do this with water, I will come back and teach you more things.]"

Kung fu manatees have a strong learning ability. Their special body structure allows them to do many actions that ordinary people cannot. Water storage and emission organs.

Little lizards were just looking for a reason to get rid of them, but these naive manatees really believed it. From now on, Alabasta has a group of kung fu manatees spitting water at the rocks every day.

Looking at this group of innocent creatures, it felt a little guilty in its heart.

However, it left here with Robin and went to the capital of Alabasta - Albana.

Little lizard never imagined that those kung fu manatees had actually practiced something through their perseverance after a long practice. Because of its behavior, this part of the kung fu manatees seemed to have developed a new way of fighting.

After a period of time, Nicole Robin has arrived in Albana and sent a copy of her resume to the kingdom. Now she is not a wanted member, but through the fruit of beasts, she has the legal authority of the world government. ID proof of person.

Excluding those shady experiences, her own resume is also very exciting. She has worked in many world-class large enterprises, and she is definitely a successful person. At least compared to those competitors, she has much more knowledge than them.

"Your Majesty, this is the right candidate. If you want to choose a man, these are good choices, but women... no one can compare with her."

Icarem with big curly hair recommended a suitable candidate to Cobra.

"23 years old. She's still young enough, and her resume is rich enough."

Nicole Robin's resume clarifies the reason why she came here. The work pressure is too great. Due to some mistakes, she is no longer suitable for the original job. She wants to enjoy some different scenery of the sea and fills in her journey. experience.nOveluS&.cOm

The information on this sea is relatively occluded as a whole. If nothing else is mentioned, as far as the islands and some descriptions are concerned, people who have never been there may not be able to make them up.

He didn't pay much attention to the resume of Beast Fruit. The company is very large now, and there are branches all over the world. Most of them are ordinary employees, and only the core executives are members of Beast.

As the king of a member country, he is still clear about this.

"Princess Weiwei is only 11 years old this year. If it's a woman, maybe they get along better."

"These few have been recruited together, let them try it out."

Cobra did not choose a single person, but recruited all the selected people. After all, they are the royal family of Alabasta, with a big family and a big business. It is still affordable to hire a few more teachers.

As time goes by, Robin gradually stands out among a group of teachers. Although she is only in charge of economics, it doesn't mean she can't do anything else. After all, 11 years old is still a child, even if Weiwei is more mature.

In terms of coaxing children, she thinks she still has some experience. Relying on the description of other islands, she quickly gained Weiwei's favorability.

As for the little lizard, it is only used as a special bodyguard. Alabasta also has animal-type abilities. A "weak woman" travels around the sea, so it is reasonable to have a bodyguard.

Due to a relatively good relationship, she even followed Vivi when she followed Cobra to the port city of Rapeseed Flowers, and also met Crocodile, a character highlighted in Doflamingo's intelligence.

At this time, he had just wiped out a group of pirates who had invaded the port, and quietly exited amid the cheers of "heroes" from the surrounding people.

"There really is a secret here"

She doesn't believe that Qi Wuhai will be a good person here in peace and order. Although her own strength is not top-notch, she has honed her eyesight after living in Beast for so long.

A person with natural abilities can deal with ordinary pirates without much trouble. Just now, he was just playing handsome to increase his impression in the eyes of the public.

It's just that what is his purpose, Robin can't think of it

Chapter 738 The Gathering of Beasts

Her professional habits determine her acting style, and she will not act until she is sure that she has gained enough trust. It has been a long time since Crocodile appeared here, but no matter how long this time is, it cannot compare with The royal family of Alabasta. NoveluSB.com

Her current plan is to find some clues from the royal family. Even if there is no progress, the identity of this palace teacher can help her a lot. Sometimes entering a company is not for working hard, but for preparing for her job-hopping.

It takes a lot of time to discover the background of Alabasta. No one knows how many things are hidden under the vast desert.

In the new world, all forces began to pay attention to the Beasts again. The Beasts who had been expanding around went uncharacteristically and re-entered a defensive posture. Even some unstable territories were temporarily abandoned, and their forces returned to their headquarters.

"Captain, did we win?"

Looking at the receding pirate ship, the pirates who originally occupied the island were very happy, and they could make all the beasts retreat, which is something worth showing off.

"Maybe? Let's observe again. If we really leave, we will hold a banquet to celebrate."

"Stupid! Do you think this is a good thing?!"

Before these people finished speaking, another member of the pirate group next to them made them understand what reality is.

He is no different from these pirates. They are all pirates who have not joined the Emperor of the Sea, but he has lived in the New World for a longer time.

It is not a good thing to be targeted by Beasts. Unless there are very special circumstances, it is impossible for them to leave voluntarily. If they voluntarily leave under headwinds, it means that the top management of Beasts is dissatisfied with the actions of this cadre and plans to replace them.

But so far, the people of Hundred Beasts are in an absolute advantage. Combined with this time point, the activity of Hundred Beasts is coming again.

At certain nodes every year, they will reorder the internal cadres. When this sorting is over, they have a high chance to face a stronger cadre.

Having lived in the new world for a long time, this matter is no longer a secret, but those pirates who have just entered the new world do not know what it means.

Looking at those pirates who still didn't take it seriously after being warned by him, the old pirate felt that it was time to remind his captain, whether to surrender or run away, it was time to make a decision.

It's just that he didn't know that the shrinking force of the beasts this time was even greater than before.

On the Pokémon, Yamato, who ran to avoid Kaido, also received new news.

"Huh? This year's sorting battle isn't held in Onijima?"

"The movement this time seems to be a bit big. Governor Kaido seems to have summoned all the cadres in the sea area. The scale of this sorting battle should be the largest ever. It seems that he wants to review the current combat power of the pirate group."

"What, this old man is doing this, what about the guards in other territories?"

As soon as the voice fell, Speed lost his grip for a moment and dropped the record pointer in his hand. Fortunately, the record pointer was relatively strong, and he only broke the pointer ball of the insignificant side route.

The binoculars in Solitia's hand also slipped, and Mizeka almost knocked over the dessert they just brought over. They couldn't believe what their eldest lady said just now, she actually cared about other territories!

"Hey, hey, what kind of eyes are you guys looking at?"

Looking at their three dull eyes, Yamato felt that they were thinking about something disrespectful.

"Ah no, Lord Shaina, Lord Jhin, Lord Zeraora, and Lord Olga have all been sent out to guard the territory temporarily, and those giant beasts created by Lord Arceus have also been sent out. Just ordinary cadres"

Shaina and Zeraora were not involved in this, and the disaster-level cadres were the same, so Arceus asked them to temporarily take charge of the defense of the surrounding territories, and called back those who needed to participate.

Although the number has decreased, the quality has been greatly improved. As long as there is no war outside for the time being, the defense of the territory is still no problem. This is why the beasts began to shrink their territories. When this event is over, they will fight back.

This behavior is unreasonable, but Kaido wanted to do this without considering other things at all, so this largest sorting battle was launched.

Just caring about this kind of thing, obviously not what Yamato should do.

"Oh, the three of you are also participating, right?"

"No, in fact, only Speed is going to participate. We are still too early for now."

This ranking match is completely a grand event for those with abilities, and those without abilities will generally choose to wait and see to save wasting time.

"It's all the same, just wait a little longer for the abilities of the two of you, don't worry, let's go back, father should almost return to normal."

As Kaido's daughter, she has never been absent from this event, even if she doesn't have to participate in the competition in person. As the number and territory of Beasts continue to increase, there are fewer and fewer opportunities to bring all the cadres together.

This is a rare time when the number of people is complete, and it is also the time to train Yamato and contact the team of beasts.

As she grows up, her status as the second generation of Beasts has been firmly established. This is already paving the way ahead of time. Of course, the way of succession of Beasts is not so gentle.

In the case of Kaido, the situation of voluntary abdication is very small, and Yamato wants to develop the future beasts according to his own will. If he wants to do this, force has become the only choice.

Kaido, who knew what Yamato was thinking, was even more excited. This is the daughter he wanted.

The Pokémon changed its course, and similar things happened in various territories.

Winter Island, Scotch handed over the defense of the island to Gt-4 Genesect, and set foot on the ship back to the island.

Sky Island, several cadres sent here to collect supplies also started their return journey ahead of schedule, only one person jumped off the clouds, spread his bat wings behind his back, and flew in the direction of Ghost Island.

On the Red Earth Continent, An is also heading towards Ghost Island as the host. According to the latest anonymous internal voting, An Li beats Quinn and becomes the host who is more expected by the audience. However, the host during the battle can only be hosted by Kui. Because to do.

Among the disaster-level cadres, only Quinn remained in the base camp. On the one hand, he could act as an opponent for those who wanted to challenge the disaster. On the other hand, he didn't want to go out to perform tasks at all.

For your own safety, it is safer to stay with Kaido or Arceus.

The sky, the sea, and the cadres in each region are returning to Onijima in their own ways. At the same time, this has also mobilized the nerves of the navy. One Kaido has done enough things, and the whole beasts have begun to gather. Who knows what they will do? something happened.

Mandelfish's territory, Zeraola has already arrived here. Among the big cadres who went out, he arrived here the fastest. Setsuna himself has to participate in the competition as NO.0, so he only came out alone.

Here is the same as in the past, but the number of mermaids and murlocs has become a little more.

"Master Zeraora."

"Stop gossiping, it's time for you to go, go and come back quickly."

Since he was promoted to his father's class, he hasn't gone out to perform missions much. The last time it was the sky island incident caused by the appearance of Enilo, this time it was a rare trip.

"I'll be there as soon as possible, don't worry, Rusaka! Let's go!"

Mandelfish shouted back, and then fired a jet of water into the ocean, and soon, a huge Gyaradosaurus revealed its figure.

Leaving here with Mandelfish and others.

"This guy has to drag his family around in the game."

Looking at Mandelfish going away, Zeraora complained a little, and then snapped her fingers towards the sky. The originally pure white clouds gradually turned black, and a lot of thunder and lightning began to brew in them.

"Come on, let me see if there is any blind guy."

After a while, in the new world, a naval surveillance ship, the soldiers on board are now in a state of stress.

They are the naval soldiers with the highest death rate. They are responsible for monitoring the sea emperor. Their safety is not guaranteed at all. Once those monsters make any big moves, they will be the first to suffer.

In a sense, the mission they performed was not to monitor the pirates' actions at all, but to send an early warning to the Navy headquarters with their lives, so all they dispatched were small warships, and several teams were scattered around a sea area to reduce the possibility of casualties occurred.

At this moment, one message after another was being sent back to the Navy headquarters.

They know that Beasts will engage in ranking battles at every turn, but no one can guarantee whether these guys will use this opportunity to gather strength and do some terrible things.

Kaido dared to raid the G-1 branch with one man and one dragon, plus those horrible cadres and biological weapons, no one dared to gamble.

"Report, this is surveillance ship 177, No. 1 of Beast Pirates, and Mandelfish has arrived."

"Report, here is the 176 surveillance ship, the chief cadre of the Hundred Beasts Pirates, Plague Quinn has appeared, and seventeen captains of the subordinate pirates have been found to correct, and now there are twenty-one"

The captains of these subordinate pirate groups are not numbered, they are just here to watch the battle, and these are only part of the subordinate pirate group, their qualifications are stronger, so they were invited by the island.

There are also strong people among these people, and they may not be weaker than those with lower numbers. Just like the Whitebeard Pirates, the captain of the subordinate pirate ship will not be weaker than the ordinary members of the team.

It's just that due to various reasons, they didn't fully join, but became a subsidiary force. It is much more difficult for them to obtain the things of the beasts.

"This is the 174 surveillance ship. I found Kaido's whereabouts. Arceus is also following Kaido. Most of the beasts have appeared."

At the end, the communicator's tone trembled slightly. From the binoculars, he seemed to feel that Kaido's eyes were staring at him.

But Kaido didn't plan to take care of them these little shrimps this time. The Navy's surveillance ships will send a new batch after they destroy one batch. went.

"I just saw Brother Kaidou flying over here, why did he disappear?"

"It seems to be going to the middle of the island, but was this kind of event the same as a banquet before? It's my first time here, can anyone explain it to me?"

Both belong to the pirate group under Beasts, but some captains have met for the first time in their lives. This is not their usual character, but they are very polite when facing a large number of cadres directly under Beasts.

At this time, the ground shook slightly, and an unknown object seemed to be moving underground towards here, and it just stopped in front of their feet.

A bald man with a beard also came out directly from inside. His body was covered with yellow scales, and he looked like a mountain rat as a whole.

In the original timeline, the armadillo man of the Pirates of Beasts, now NO.51 of the Pirates of Beasts, the benefactor, the ability - the mountain rat.

The reason why I chose to dig a hole here is to show off my ability on the one hand, and to warm up before the game on the other hand.

"Don't worry about what Master Kaido does, anyway, what he did is definitely right, you should take advantage of this honor, being able to watch this battle is something that many people dream of, and being able to come here with your captain, you should Thanksgiving is right."

As direct members, they always have a kind of arrogance, and they always look superior to those affiliated members of the pirate group. Even the captains of those affiliated pirate groups, they are also on the same level, not to mention that these are just ordinary members.

But at this moment, an arrow without an arrow shot from the sky towards the top of his scale-wrapped head. After bouncing several times, it finally fell aside.

"Bastard! What are you doing?!"

"Hahahaha, don't be angry, don't be angry, isn't there no arrow, it's just that you are educating newcomers in a serious manner, and I feel very uncomfortable."

In the sky, a fat man waved the bat wings on his back, holding an empty bow in his hand, and apologized without sincerity.

Facing the stones thrown by the other party, they only dexterously avoided them. After exchanging courtesy, the two of them had finished their greetings.

In the original timeline, the batman of Pirates of Beasts, known as the sixth emperor, is now NO.49 of Pirates of Beasts, a benefactor, with the ability of big mouth bat.

"Didn't you guys go to Sky Island?"

"Brother Kaidou means that I am also on the summoned list. What question are you asking? You see, almost everyone has come, and the scale of the competition is not small."

"Yeah, I hope those young people don't work so hard. It's getting harder and harder to maintain their position these days."

Wow! Wang!

Before they could say a word, another pirate ship docked. Amidst several barks, two big wolf dogs ran off the ship, and two white figures could still be seen on their backs.

"Sorry, Master Setsuna, I didn't expect the two of them to get acquainted with the big wolf dog so quickly."

There are a lot of Pokémon living in Wano, and many of them are already familiar with the pirates of Beasts, so not only the pirates came to watch the battle, but also some Pokémon with partners, the two big wolf dogs is one of them.

It's just that before the pedals for landing are put down, Meowna and Worf have already run out on their dogs.
no?ElusB.cOm

"It's okay, I don't blame you, I should have thought of it earlier, but Bebo! Didn't I tell you to keep an eye on the two of them!"

Chapter 740 Inheritance and ambition

She didn't do anything else just now, she just had a phone conversation with Zeraora. She knew very well what was going on with her two children.

On this ship is not only the big wolf dog who is the partner of the patrol team, but also many Pokémon figures such as Haobaixing, Three Bees, Tianzhuzhu, Haoli, and Little Fist Stone.

In this environment, these two little guys must have something to do, so she specially asked Bepo to pay attention to the two of them. As for Perona, it is daytime now, and she is catching up on sleep, and she slept very well along the way. Comfortable.

"Huh? Your Excellency the Duke, but the young master and young lady asked me to get them something to drink."

"Forget it, who did they learn from?"

"sorry"

"Don't keep apologizing, I've said it's all right."

"I'm sorry."

She patted herself on the head, and gave up resisting for a moment. Now she really wanted to ask herself ten years ago why she had such a big obsession with the Duke at that time. She had two biological children and one Beibo, and her head was big. It would be scary to think about managing an entire fur clan.

"No, the seven-year period is not far away, I have to think of a new method, and I don't know if the method of not writing the date will work."

"What are you talking about?"

Ling appeared behind Setsuna, looked at God's daughter, and asked curiously.

"Ah? It's nothing, it's just a little thing, but Mom, why do you think Miao Na and Worf have such personalities?"

"Ask me? Is this not your genetic inheritance? You didn't inherit Zeraora's stability at all, but you have learned your bad habits all over the place."

"How can I be so unbearable."

"Yes, you were more than the two of them back then, at least they won't run away from home alone for no reason."

With just a few words, Shi Mo succeeded in setting herself on fire. Even if she is now the nominal Duke of Zowu, the first waveguide king who can communicate with Zowu's giant elephant in a thousand years, and the most powerful person of the fur clan, in Ling's eyes, she is still It's just that disobedient child.

Meowna and Worf rode two big wolf dogs and ran wantonly on the beach. Even if they accidentally fell off, they could grab their tails and climb back again. Thief's attention.

"Such beautiful dogs, captain, let's get two as well when we go back."

"Poof!"

"Hahaha, did you hear what that guy said? He actually wanted to get two big wolf dogs back. No way, today's joke is so interesting."

"Hey, don't be like this, he just doesn't understand anything, don't laugh at him like that."

The overall quality of the pirate group is not very high, but under the suppression of absolute power, these people will be unusually honest, but most of them will not be too friendly when facing people whose qualifications and strength are not as good as their own .

"That's a Pokémon, the great creation of Master Arceus. It's not something you can get if you want. Either let Master Arceus give it to you, or get their approval yourself. Don't say such stupid things in the future."

A pirate with a more easy-going personality talked about the situation to the ordinary member of the affiliated pirate group, and let him know part of the inside story of the beasts. He was only brought by his own captain to gain insight. There is nothing to understand at all.

"They seem friendly?"

"Don't think about it, if you have their parents, they will be very friendly to you. You can't go this way, so work **** your own."

Because their biological father is Zeraora, their starting point is naturally much higher than these ordinary pirates. If they want to catch up with them in a certain aspect, it will not be enough to put in a little effort and sweat.

Not long after the Fur Tribe appeared, there was a wave of waves in the sea, and a Gyarados emerged from the water, and Mandelfisch also jumped out of it, but there was one more person following him than before. In Rusaka's arms, a The little one is looking at the world curiously.nOVeIUs&.cOm

Although she has a human appearance, the traces on her neck have indicated her ancestry-half-mermaid.

As the No.1 of the numbered person, he has one thing in common with the current No.0. He has a happy family, and his life is basically complete except that his wish to finally retire has not been realized.

I found that my good brother had also arrived at the scene, and Jack, who had been here a long time ago, also came over, and then discovered this new life.

"Brother Mandelfish, is this your child?"

Jack leaned over curiously, looked at the little one who was not much bigger than the Frost Fairy, and asked in a little astonishment.

"Yeah, not long after you were born, you have been busy with tasks during this time, so I didn't tell you, look, it's cute, right?"

"Well, indeed."

After affirming, Jack also lost his voice. He is really not good at this kind of situation. Fortunately, Mandelfisch discovered this problem and broke the deadlock.

"Hasn't it started yet? I should be the last to arrive, right?"

"Not too clear, mainly because Yamato hasn't arrived yet, she went out to take refuge before, and has disappeared for a while."

As soon as the sound was changed, there was a new ship on the horizon. The Pokémon was already running at full power, rushing towards here at the speed of a jet ship. At the same time, a huge explosion happened on the island. shock.

The entire island seemed to come alive. Amidst the huge shock, a large number of stone pillars rushed out of the beach, like a lifting platform, bringing everyone to the top of the island. The plants on the island were also growing wildly, and finally formed a giant tree on the top. A huge platform.

"Master Arceus' handwriting? It's really a grand stage, Jack, how are you preparing? You want to become a new disaster, and Setsuna and I are the opponents you must defeat."

Looking at the rock pillars tens of meters high, Mandelfish, as a veteran, has already thought about who did all of this, and also slightly sighed that these newcomers who have grown up, especially the little murloc boy, has already walked out The way to fight against yourself.

"I've been preparing, but...maybe next time, this time my planned goal is NO.2."

Their talents are stronger and younger, but they lack the precipitation of time. With the accumulation of time, these new generations will explode with stronger combat effectiveness. Among the current new generation, the youngest Peggy Wan is just 13 years old, but The strength has surpassed many veterans.

In about five years, this new generation will all enter adulthood. At that time, the cadres of the older generation are still at their peak, and Yamato is also continuing to grow. It can be said that the beasts at that time are the complete beasts. .

"The span is not too small, then you should work hard, and I won't let the water go by then."

"Don't worry, I will defeat you head-on, Brother Mandelfish."

At the same time, a giant projection made by An also appeared in the sky, and with the sound from the loudspeaker, the game kicked off its own curtain.
