

Arceus 781

Chapter 781 The Navy's small meeting, a headache

Sakaski tore off the bandage on his hand. According to the ship's doctor's prediction, his hand should have healed long ago, but the reality is that this is not the case, and the healing speed of the wound is much slower than expected.

There is some kind of mysterious force interfering with the self-healing of his wound.

"According to the Science Corps, that guy should really have achieved the technique of reviving the devil fruit, and the fruit turned into a scorpion after he threw it out.

It feels very similar to an awakened animal-type ability user, and for some reason, that thing can attack my body, and elementalization seems to be ineffective against it. "

"Then how did your hand hurt?"

The office of the headquarters is full of high-ranking naval officials, even the major general who serves tea and water, and the lieutenant general here has to stand behind and listen.

Crane, Sengoku, Sakaski, Kuzan, and Karp formed the main body of the meeting, and there were several confidantes, as well as the Goat of Sengoku.

There is no need to publicize the news of Sakaski's injury on a large scale, as it will affect the morale of the army.

"That thing would explode. I avoided the main damage underground, but the arm that was in direct contact at the time was greatly affected."

"Devil Fruit Sakasky, you said that you couldn't help but want to deal with that scorpion first, is that right?"

"Exactly."

"We assume that the fruit is some kind of scorpion fruit of the animal department, and Quinn liberated it, it is the essence of the devil fruit, so this effect will be produced, is this more reasonable?"

He gave the result of her own analysis, which is the most realistic reason she can think of.

Devil Fruit has too many mysteries, and even Vegapunk only put forward his own hypothesis, so Crane analyzed new results based on the information brought back by Akainu. novelUsb.com

"No, if that's the case, why didn't Kaido's dragon Hydra fail to attack my entity during the G-1 incident?"

Kuzan raised objections. The eight-headed dragon and the scorpion made by Quinn are somehow related, but the eight-headed dragon failed to solve his natural body, and was even injured.

"No, according to Sakasky, the scorpion was completely transformed from a devil fruit, but the monster dragon may be some kind of creature that ate the fruit, Vegapunk is not 100% sure, The evil dragon is the devil fruit, but the ingredients are relatively high.

They are related, but not the same, at least the dragon won't explode, but that's good news. "

People will use what they can understand to explain what they see. This is what He thought of temporarily, and it makes sense on the whole. As for the research on the root cause, that is what the scientific army should do, not her chief staff officer. thing.

All she wants to analyze is the impact of this incident on the Navy.

"Good news? Crane, you won't be infected by Kapuna bastard, right?"

Hearing the slightly outrageous words from He, Zhan Guo felt that his head was about to start hurting again.

"First of all, we can be sure that the use of this ability is extremely energy-intensive. If even Quinn would lose weight, then ordinary pirates would not be able to use it, and it would not be universal.

The subsequent explosion means that it will consume devil fruits. Even if it is a hundred beasts, how many devil fruits can be found? Although the explosion is very powerful, if it cannot be popularized, its impact will be limited.

Sakaski was attacked by Hailoushi first, and then hit, which shows that the hit rate is not high.

According to his reaction, this kind of attack seems to be aimed specifically at those with abilities, and it should have certain limitations. It is troublesome, but it is still within the acceptable range. Compared with this, Sengoku, you should have another headache. "

"What trouble?"

"The accountability letter of the world government, to be precise, is the accountability letter of some Tianlong people."

Standing at the top of power and enjoying endless wealth, Tianlong people live a life of extravagance every day, and wine pools and meat forests are the real norm for them.

Their desires have different manifestations, some like to collect alien slaves, some like to search for women, collect stones, and some delicious dragons.

There are many things in Baishou Fruits that are positioned in the high-end market from the beginning, and Tianlong people are naturally included.

The damage to the banana plantation is an irreparable thing, but this time, Quinn's share has not been cut, he is the victim, and in order to express his breath for the victim, some of the shares of Tianlong people disappeared directly.

【Due to force majeure, the noble banana garden specially built for you was destroyed in the naval attack. We are unable to provide you with delicious food this year. The quality of food in other areas is not worthy of your noble status. Please forgive me. 】

This is Tezolo's prepared speech. He has already mastered the temperament of those Tianlong people and knows how to communicate with this group of people.

As a result, the letter of accountability came to the Navy.

In order to maintain justice and protect the sea, the Tianlong people are not interested in this kind of thing. They only care about themselves. Due to the action of the navy, the banana plantation was destroyed. They were very unhappy, so a group of Tianlong people jointly filed a protest.

If the navy has achieved results, the world government will not say anything, but they failed. In order to let these Tianlong people calm down, the world government chooses to use the navy's face to change, and when this is implemented in specific policies, it becomes Warring States. It's time for Marie Gioia to be lectured again.

"These mix"

"These bastards, scumbags, moths of the sea, just say what you want, there is nothing to bear."

"Karp!"

"Ah, you can't talk nonsense about this, just pretend you didn't hear it."

Sengoku, who was so popular with Tianlong, couldn't help complaining, but he only complained in his heart, but Garp said those words directly, even if this was something that the high-level navy knew well, only Garp dared to be so presumptuous.

"Okay, let's talk about those headaches later, what do you think about the reward, Sakaski?"

As a participant in this conflict, Sakaski's suggestion is more informative.

"If you don't consider those external forces, the threat of Lei Guang is much greater than the plague. It's just that the guy's technology is a problem, but if they are one-on-one, they will not pose a threat."

"I see, then report like this."

This level of reward is determined by the world government, and the navy will only provide reference opinions. In the end, two brand new reward orders came to the sea with the news bird.

Plague - Quinn

A bounty of 2.7 billion Baileys is offered, which is extremely dangerous.

ONLY ALIVE—

Lightning Zeraora

A bounty of 1.27 billion Baileys

Being able to fight against the general for a period of time without losing and retreating is extremely rare among the forces of the emperor of the sea. This directly increased Zeraora's bounty by 500 million, but compared to Zeraora, it is more attractive. It was still Quinn who attracted the attention.

Especially in Punk Hazard, Caesar Courant looked at the reward order with gritted teeth.

Chapter 782 Kechi Inu said so

Twenty-seven billion, this number is already a very scary number. Among the pirates who are still active in the sea, the pirates who offer rewards exceeding this amount can be counted with two hands.

Even in the Beast Pirates, only 4.677 billion Kaido and 3.08 billion Arceus exceeded this amount. Only the captain of other pirate groups has such a terrifying reward. The Red Hair Pirates are a bit special. Beckman The reward offered by him is much higher than that of other cadres.

Even if all the remnants of the Rocks era are found out, plus those monsters who have retired, this reward is enough to be among the best.

Moreover, the world government has also marked the extreme danger, which has already reflected the importance the world government attaches to it. In addition to the ONLYALIVE that has remained unchanged for thousands of years, he now suspects that if Quinn surrenders, the world government will not hesitate to Throw his second in command aside.

Let it take its place.

It can be estimated by looking at the experimental results of these years.

Human body giantization experiment, Caesar failed.

Quinn is a technology that has created terrifying war behemoths, and has been successfully applied in actual combat, and has even been added with a bloodline factor.

Devil Fruit replication experiment, Caesar failed.

Quinn is currently suspected to have mastered the strange technology of devil fruit animation, and this suspicion seems to have been hammered recently.nOvElusb.com

In the bloodline factor experiment, Caesar has not shown much so far, while Quinn has copied all the techniques of Gage, and the previous devil fruit experiment is also inseparable from the bloodline factor.

Even his best weapon of mass destruction is now being compared, or rather, Quinn has never lost to him in this regard.

In contrast, Caesar suddenly felt that he had become a waste.

The two have known each other for too long, and they are all equally divided. When they first fought, they were 50/50. How could Quinn suddenly become a top scientist and even hurt the admiral?

There is no need to question the two-color domineering power of the general-level powerhouse. Facing a natural-type ability user who is proficient in knowledge and knowledge, it is basically * difficult to injure him, let alone a special injury that is difficult to recover.

"Let me tell you, there must be something wrong with your intelligence department! That guy Quinn can't do this, he doesn't have that ability, and it's impossible for humans to make his brain soar in just a few years, unless that guy sees Here comes a god!"

Before the accident, Caesar still had a bit of face here, and he also set up a kind personality for himself. Although Quinn has appeared a little nervous since Quinn started to appear frequently, the researchers and soldiers here have a lot of respect for him. He is still very respectful.

"However, this is what General Sakaski saw with his own eyes, not the speculation of the intelligence department."

"Eyes can be deceiving. The point is, it's impossible for Quinn to do such a thing, understand?"

"But that's General Sakalski"

"Why can't I explain it to you? The problem isn't Akainu, it's Quinn!"

"I know what you mean, but this time the information was obtained by General Sakasky through combat during his mission."

Caesar felt that something was hitting him in his mind, and he felt a headache for no reason. The three generals are the pillars of the navy, and their influence on the navy is very profound.

Especially Sakaski is the one who has the strictest military discipline on weekdays, who can't make any jokes at all, and is not a person who can tell lies no matter what he thinks.

What Akainu said must be true. No one in the navy has questioned this, so that this information has been unanimously recognized.

Vegapunk doesn't care who owns the technology, he just thinks it's a great breakthrough. If the mystery of the devil fruit can be further revealed, maybe eternal energy can appear in this world.

Enthusiastic about research, he didn't care about such things in the unexpected world, he just filled in a new plan on his plan list.

Only Caesar insisted on the original cognition, thinking that everyone has been fooled now, everyone is drunk and I am sober, and he is the only one who is still in a sane state.

"Sooner or later you will regret it!"

Seeing that he couldn't make sense with these people, Caesar simply turned his head and returned to his laboratory, and the three of them became tigers. After everyone insisted on a point of view, he also slightly doubted his own thinking, but his inherent cognition made him firm again own beliefs.

And made a new decision, what Quinn can do, there is no reason why he can't do it, and he also needs to conduct a new experiment.

The first step is to write an application to trick the world government into granting him some new funds.

The cost of eating, drinking and having fun is still quite high, and it is not enough without applying for some new funds.

He is not a Vegapunk type of person. Like Quinn, he is a hedonist himself. It is simply impossible for him to spend all his funds on research.

Meanwhile, other people reacted differently.

"Mom, mom, why did dad suddenly lose weight?"

"My silly son, that's not your father, this is your father."

A pirate ship was full of broken limbs and arms. A man who didn't look very smart was holding a reward to compare the difference, while the short woman in front of him held up another card belonging to Whitebeard. Reward order.

"Oh! Sure enough, this is more like this, mom, shall we go find dad now?"

"No no no, my silly son, it's still a little early."

The woman stuffed the newspaper into the coat, then walked into the cabin and began to search for treasure

On the other side, also Quinn's old colleague, Vinsmoke Gage, is also researching brand new things. Ever since he saw the power of Genesect back then, the idea of a mecha came into his mind.

Even if biological weapons continued to appear in the future, he did not change the direction of the main body. What he followed was the development route after the combination of blood factors, machinery, and biology.

At this time, a clone soldier is manipulating a seemingly cumbersome mech to transform, but it fails halfway through, and the soldier is also stuck inside.

"Father, it still failed. That kind of metal is too rare, and conventional methods cannot be decomposed and refined. Our extraction efficiency is very low, and a lot of materials will be wasted. Even if it is only used as a material for some core parts, it will consume a lot of money. of."

Reiju looked at the failed experiment and told the facts to Gaji very plainly, and the metal in her mouth was Arceus steel. As Arceus became more powerful, this ordinary creation became simpler and simpler. Now there is a warehouse full of Arceus Steel.

In addition to their own use, they also dissolved it and mixed it with other metals, and used the degraded version of the metal as a special military product in exchange for a large amount of money.

It's just that this metal can be seen everywhere on Onigashima, and even some Pokémon snacks are very rare in the outside world.

Chapter 783 If the sky wants to destroy it, it must first make it crazy

If it is an ordinary industry, such as casting a gun barrel, or wanting to act as a frame for a house, then it is not complicated, but it is more expensive, but these metals are also valuable.

But some people with strong technical ability have discovered the unique function of this metal. They can realize many fantastic ideas, so the purity of the export version is not enough, such as the deformed body armor envisioned by Jiaji.

To complete that concept, there are great requirements on the material of the metal. Before the advent of Wabo Metal, there was no substitute for Arceus Steel. Even if it came out, it could only replace Arceus Steel in some fields.

Generally, the purity is not enough, so he can only buy in large quantities and then purify it. Although there are certain results, the price he pays is extremely high.

He didn't intend to update the clones' equipment. Those clones produced are consumables. Instead of giving them expensive equipment, it is better to give them a powerful bomb to explode themselves.

It's just the upgrade equipment he designed for his children and himself. After years of hard work, there has been a breakthrough in technology. As long as the materials are solved, there is still hope for it.

"Money."

Vegapunk and Caesar are now relying on the world government. Quinn has Beast Fruit behind them, and they are not short of funds. Logically speaking, Germa 66 has sufficient funds, but their sources of money are plunder and war commissions. soldier.

Compared with those who have a stable source of business, Jia Zhi also felt a little short of money due to the large amount of investment. It just so happened that at this time, his subordinates also brought today's newspaper.

"Commander, the latest news."

"Twenty-seven billion? Is this guy already worth so much?"

Unlike Caesar, Gage is now focusing on money.

The essence of Germa 66 is a large group of bounty hunters. As long as the price is right, they will accept most of the tasks. Moreover, they are also one of the member countries of the World Government and have the right to participate in the World Conference.

As a member country, it is very reasonable to catch pirates.

But if the object is Quinn, he is only interested in the amount, and has no such idea. nOvElusb.com

Even if he can be caught, he won't be able to get those metals in the future. The Arceus steel flowing out of the world is a strange metal called God's Steel in the outside world.

Now its status is the treasure tree Adam in the metal world, and it has become a fantasy material. If something happens to Quinn, it can be expected that there will be changes in the market in the future.

Even the navy has adjusted some policies because of Quinn's problems. At present, it seems that the general of the headquarters may not be able to quickly deal with Quinn with helpers.

Since this is the case, it means that stronger forces need to be assembled against Quinn, and the situation in the sea does not allow this for the time being.

The complaint letter from the Tianlong people is also on the one hand. These people actually requested that the arrest of Quinn not affect other businesses, and the world government also agreed to this request.

From the perspective of the world government, they only felt that the other party was troublesome, but not to the point where they had to be eliminated, so they continued to maintain the original state without adding any power.

Under such circumstances, it is even more impossible for Jiazhi to take the initiative to provoke a sea emperor. He still knows the strength gap between the two sides.

Among the other forces, most people don't understand any technology, and are just shocked by Quinn's exaggerated reward and extremely dangerous signs.

The navy did not indicate that Sakaski was injured, and they could only secretly guess how powerful a pirate Quinn was.

Doflamingo is affirming the importance of his cooperation, Crocodile is still doing archaeology, Moria is autistically collecting shadows to form zombies in the Devil's Triangle sea area, and the new world is not peaceful as always.

As the central figure of public opinion, Quinn has returned to Wano Country.

"Quinn! Come out! You said there is no danger, just fighting with the general!"

It was less than half an hour before he returned to his laboratory, and the door had already been knocked on in an instant. She didn't know what happened outside, but she could read the newspaper. Before Zeraola and Quinn came back, she saw the report of the world government.

Even if the World Government only reported part of it, she could still guess what happened, which was far from what Quinn said was no danger.

Not long ago, Zeraora came back, which means that Quinn has also returned to Wano Country, and she has come to Xingshi to question her.

"Eh? Isn't Quinn here? Uncle, do you know where that * Quinn is?"

After entering here, she looked around, but she didn't see where Quinn was.

"No, are you one of his relatives? Your breath is a bit similar"

"I am Quinn! What are your eyes for?!"

Listening to this familiar voice, Shi Mo rubbed his eyes, his tone still full of suspicion.

"Are you... Quinn?"

"Yeah, my uncle said a long time ago that I am handsome when I lose weight. Before that, I was only worried that others would fall in love with me, so I maintained that figure. How is it? Do you feel how handsome I am?"

"Heh, you are indeed right for this shameless look, please explain to me, why did you meet the general of the headquarters when you said nothing?"

At the beginning, Quinn was very round, which was the result of his large intake of sweets, but after using the grace of nature, his fat quickly disappeared, and he became skinny after being sucked dry.

Now, on the way back, Quinn has recovered a lot by eating, and looks almost the same as the MADS period. At this stage, Quinn can still see the past, but it is not so good with the current hairstyle.

The haircut back then looked a bit ruffian, not like a comedian now.

"Isn't it okay, and you have to trust me, it's just a general, Zeraora and I are enough to deal with it, mhahaha!"

Quinn's words silenced Setsuna, for a moment she didn't know how to explain to him, this person's face seemed to break through the sky, it seemed that Zeraola was the assister, and he even tied the general by himself Same.

This is the change in Quinn's state of mind. After experiencing great joy and sorrow, and another big battle, he found that the general is not so scary, and his heart has become unprecedentedly swollen.

It's just that as the saying goes, if the sky wants to destroy it, it must first make it crazy. A slightly excited voice came from Quinn's ear.

"Quinn, you're finally back, and you're offering a reward of 2.7 billion Baileys, second only to me and Arceus. It seems that you've been hiding a lot before."

Quinn's laughter stopped abruptly, and he didn't even dare to look back.

"Well, I must have been hungry for too long and had auditory hallucinations, right?"

"Mr. Kaido, Quinn said he can deal with the admiral!"

Setsu didn't answer Quinn, but just artistically processed what Quinn said just now.

Chapter 784 Kaido's subjective initiative, Arceus' mysterious gift

Retribution sometimes comes quickly, and Kaido has already appeared behind him before he has been screaming for a long time.

The stronger his subordinates, the happier Kaido will be. Whether it is a foreign war or a fight with himself, only strong subordinates can exert better effects, so after hearing that they are back, Kaido naturally came to him.

Kaido's character, people of all beasts are not clear. Seeing Kaido who obviously wanted to practice with Quinn, Setsuna conveyed Quinn's words without hesitation, but the result of the message was a bit tortuous.

It seems to be what Quinn said, but it is very different from what he wanted to express.

"He also said that Zeraora can only serve as his deputy!"

"Don't talk nonsense! When did I say that!"

Listening to Setsuna being bewitching Kaido, Quinn hurriedly tried to defend himself, but then, a familiar voice came from Setsuna's hand.

【Isn't it okay, and you have to trust me, it's just a general, Zeraora and I are enough to deal with it, hahaha! 】

"General, these are your original words, and what you mean is that Zeraora can assist you~"

"Why did you come to me with a tape recorder!!"

Listening to his own voice from the tape recorder, Quinn felt that Setsuna had conspired a long time ago, how could a normal person bring this thing here.

"Oh, this is what I'm going to tell Zeraora, let him hear how you argue with me, he has defended you a lot, saying that you don't know, and now it just comes in handy.

Mr. Kaido, you heard it, he said it himself. "

Is Kaido easy to fool? The answer is that it is not easy to be fooled. In a waking state, he can understand that Quinn is just twitching.

But sometimes, he likes to be fooled.novelusb.com

The leader values you, and you will be upgraded because you walk into the office with your left foot first. If you don't like you, no matter how well you do, you will be put on a shoe. The subjective purpose of Kaido now is to fight Quinn.

So no matter what Setsuna said, he would find a reason to take Quinn away. At this time, Setsuna had already laid the steps under his feet, and it was impossible for him not to step on them.

"Hey, come on, Quinn, let me experience your strength. By the way, your previous appearance is more pleasing to the eye."

Quinn was taken away by Kaido under his arm, and Setsuna also returned to Kuri's residence.

Compared with the skinny Quinn, Zeraora, who had been swimming all the time, didn't suffer any injuries. During the time he came back, he simply got a haircut.

After shaving off the hair scorched by the magma, and regenerating it with a method similar to returning life, there was no trace of fighting left.

Quinn could do the same, but that way of eating would make him lose the joy of eating, so he chose the path of slowly gaining weight.

At this time, Meowna and Worf are watching Zeraola's new reward order.

"Dad, you are amazing."

"Yeah, one, ten, 1.12 billion, what a high reward, much higher than mom."

Wolf counted the zeros behind the reward order one by one, leaving only admiring eyes in the end. For children of this age, parents are omnipotent, and there is nothing they cannot do.

Most qualified parents will become heroes to their children at this time.

Because they are the children of Zeraora and Setsuna, their cognition is also different from that of ordinary people. If they are children of ordinary people, they will be told that the rewards are all villains and bad people, and they must stay away from them.

For the descendants of the navy, they probably want to bring them to justice, but in the group of pirates, these common senses do not apply.

Even if the beasts are getting closer and closer to a special regime, their definition is still pirates, and this definition will not change as long as the world government still exists.

For the pirates of Beasts, rewards have already become an object to flaunt their strength. Without high rewards, they are ashamed to hang out in the new world.

The education that children receive is that the world government and the navy are enemies. In their view, this is just the enemy's certification of the strength of their parents.

"What are you talking about, if it weren't for the fact that we rarely go out after giving birth to the two of you, the reward wouldn't be like this."

"Come back? How did Quinn explain it to you?"

"That's it. This is a recording. If you are interested, you can listen to it yourself, but he was taken away by Mr. Kaido, so he should have a good time."

Setsuna doesn't know the specific result, but according to the gossip from the Onishima Pirates, Kaido smiled happily that day.

As for Quinn, his life is not easy. The grace of nature is powerful, but it is simply useless in this environment. The inappropriate place is one thing, and on the other hand, his physical condition does not allow it. .

Use it again now, and Quinn will really be drained.

After a while, Yamato, who went out to play, returned to Onishima with a large bag of local specialties. During the time outside, she was very happy without Kaido's oppression, but just returned to Onishima, and saw a The figure of overeating in the cafeteria.

Quinn is working hard to restore his body shape, and he regained the signs of roundness in a short time, but he is still close to getting back completely fat.

"Uncle Quinn, I heard that you have done a great thing. I have read the newspapers outside."

"Shh! Ms. Yamato, don't mention that matter again, I don't want Brother Kaito to notice again."

Seeing Yamato dressed up just after vacation, Quinn was full of envy. From the perspective of identity, it was obvious that Yamato should attract the attention of the navy, but they all focused on themselves.

Thinking of this, his grief and indignation turned into appetite, and Quinn began to frantically destroy the food in front of him, converting them into heat and storing them in his body.

"Don't be so sad, foster father said, he prepared a new gift for you this time, you should like it."

"Ahem. Master Arceus prepared a gift for me?!"

Listening to Yamato's words, Quinn almost choked to death on his own rice cake and red bean soup, but still confirmed Yamato's words with a little surprise.

Arceus seldom gives gifts to others, but as long as he makes a move, it is an unimaginable treasure.

"Well, I met the adoptive father before, and he said that it is not easy for you. According to the adoptive father's intention, you can weld the pot on yourself, you are unprecedented, and you have to gain something."

“.”

He didn't know how to evaluate this painful fact, but he still looked forward to this thing. Whether it was power or other things, it was a rare good thing for him. With the harvesting feature, it was good for him to accelerate the growth of the banana on his chin. Said to be a huge benefit.

Not to mention this mysterious gift.

Chapter 785 Quinn's Paranoia, Beast Immigration Bureau

Time passed, and 1516 was coming to an end. Quinn waited eagerly for the return of Arceus, imagining his own bright future in his mind, and his figure became more and more bloated day by day.

By the end, he had regained his original roundness.

At this time, Quinn had just left the Beasts Pokémon Center. He didn't come here for inspection, but to inspect others.

The self-expansion at the beginning has disappeared with the help of Kaido, and he once again realized the gap in his own strength. Being able to fight does not mean that he can win.

But the idea that I didn't even want to come up with before has disappeared a lot.

Just to prevent himself from encountering misfortune again, he still checks the internal security environment from time to time, and the permanent population in Hezhi country can now be divided into four parts.

The natives of Wano, the pirates of Beasts, the fur clan of Zou, and the technical talents attracted under the policy of Beasts.

The pirates stationed on the island are basically old people, and he is not worried about the isolated aborigines and fur tribes of different races. Those who are attracted by high salary conditions are the targets of his suspicion.

Relatively speaking, this group of people is most likely to have problems.

Although these people have lived in Wano Country for a long time, it does not affect Quinn's periodic persecution paranoia. nOvelUsb.Com

After some investigation, he reconfirmed the safety of these doctors.

In fact, after so many years, if there was a real problem, it would have erupted long ago. Quinn was just a little nervous, but when he wanted to leave, a doctor found him.

"Master Quinn, please wait a moment, I have some questions and would like to consult with you."

"Huh? What's the matter?"

"That... I had some friends back then, but now because I offended some people, I can't get along in the local area. I want to live in another place. He is also a very good doctor. Do you see any new immigration policies recently?"

Except that the world government will always check the identity documents, most islands and countries don't care about this kind of thing.

I just want to live in another place, and it is not an easy task in this sea.

The franchise countries also have their own passenger ships to ensure the safety of shipping as much as possible, but ordinary people are completely gambling on luck. No one knows what the ship will encounter on the sea and whether it can reach the destination smoothly.

Umit's shipping business includes this part. As long as the money is in place, most of the cases can reach the destination safely.

Beasts are also attracting people from the outside world during their development, and even have special preferential treatment for talents, so he asked Quinn.

"It's impossible on the main island, but the islands in the outer territories are fine. You know the rules. Go back and write an application yourself."

Some things are lost if they are missed. Now Wano Country has entered a new era. The same level of technology could have come more than ten years ago, but not necessarily now.

Quinn was responsible for things like personnel flow, which was also related to his current mental state. He didn't want to give other undercover agents a chance to sneak into the island, and he had been trying his best to prevent such things from happening.

"Ok, I see."

The internal recommendation system has always existed within Beasts. If there is a relationship, it is usually easier to complete some things.

For ordinary people, the most trustworthy ones are still the world government and the navy. Residents in the towns of Marin Fando are also the residents with the highest sense of security, but not everyone has this luck.

Those who are not nationals of allied countries and residents of some islands on the great route will not have this luck. In the changing times, they will also make their own choices.

A certain island in the New World. There used to be a country here, but it was destroyed in a war with the allied countries. In order to pay the heavenly money, that country attacked here and plundered a lot of wealth. Since then, this place has become an illegal place.

But then, a new order was born here. Due to its geographical location, this island was used as a transit station. Goods, people, and a large amount of resources were concentrated here and resented to all parts of the world. A special gray center.

"Honey, is this really okay? It's a place for pirates."

At the port, the family gathered together nervously. Regarding the move, the conditions of the family were not completely unified.

"Believe me, I found out with House that even some rich people from the New World have moved to the island ruled by beasts. If it is really that bad, do you think they will go?"

Those people may be immoral, they may be vicious, but they are not fools if they can get to that point, they value their lives very much, and they will not move to a dangerous place. "

The feelings of family and country basically do not exist in this world. In the context of the age of great voyages, there are very few people who have a home for the country. In order to live a better life, they don't mind moving, especially for those who can't say that they have a country. .

"Hope it sucks! Honey, the wallet is gone!"

"Forget it, it's just a little money, and I can earn more."

"But. That's our last savings."

"Let's start over from the beginning, and we'll talk about it when we leave here."

There is order here, but only relatively speaking. Compared with the disorderly illegal zone, at least there will be no turmoil on the surface here. The rulers of the underground world do not allow them to affect the operation here.

But in private, petty theft and human trafficking are not uncommon.

They just came here to wait for someone according to the address given by their friends.

Many people around were staring at them, as if they were looking for an opportunity. At this time, a pirate ship at the port began to dock, and the flags of beasts fluttered in the wind. Even the ship that was already ready to enter the port It has also given way.

"Step aside."

Several people climbed down from the boat along the ladder. Compared with the pirates around them, they were dressed very formally, and their looks were above average.

They are a special team of Beast Pirates, responsible for bringing some high-value talents into the territory, and they are a special immigration management bureau.

There is a hard requirement for being selected, you must be good-looking, at least let others look like you are a good person.

In Beasts, this requirement is not too much. No matter men or women, they have many good-looking people online, and it is enough to select some people with certain strength.

As for the more special people, it has nothing to do with them, some cadres will invite them in person.

Relying on the prestige of beasts, the people on the pier quickly gave way, and he also found the person he was looking for.

"You are the Wilsons, right? Dr. House entrusted us to pick you up to your new home. Please come with me."

After comparing the photos in his hand, he quickly determined his goal.

Chapter 786 Returning Arceus, the mysterious hedgehog

First impressions are very important, which is why this team has requirements on appearance. At least now, the Wilson family relaxes a lot when they look at the well-mannered people in front of them.

"you."

"If you are worried, you can call House, he is on vacation today."

The new world is not peaceful, and it is normal for people to have worries. It has not been a day or two since he has been doing this, so he naturally has plenty of patience. Soon, Wilson confirmed through the phone that the person in front of him is the one who came to pick them up .

"Thank you."

"You're welcome, but you seem to be in a little trouble?"

He has first-rate ability to observe words and expressions, and he can tell from his expression that the family seems to be in some trouble.

"It's nothing, I just lost my wallet."

Wilson replied casually, and didn't expect the other party to be of any help, but in the eyes of Beasts, this matter was an opportunity to show off their skills.

"Wait a mininute."

It wasn't the first time he came here, he knew exactly who was gathering on this pier, and he quickly found the person in charge here.

"Hey, our guys lost their wallets here."

At this time, there was no sense of politeness in his tone, his back was facing the Wilson family, and there was even a trace of murderous look in his eyes.

This team is not a good guy either. They have few combat missions, but they are still a part of Beasts. He also wears two earrings on one side of his ear, and the combination happens to be the number 99.

Even if he is at the bottom, he is still a member of the numbered group.

As the well-deserved overlord of the sea and the giant of the New World's underground world, the people here are not worthy of his face.

"How could this be? This must be a misunderstanding, give me 30 minutes, and I will definitely get my wallet back!"

"10 minutes, no more."

"clear."

Everyone knows the twists and turns here. To be the manager of this pier, he also has someone to rely on, but this object is nothing compared to the emperor of the sea.

Even if the person in front of him is just a small cadre, he can't afford to offend him.

Turning around, he picked up the phone bug and reprimanded him a few times. In less than ten minutes, several wallets appeared here.

In this kind of place, only fists can maintain order. To find the person they should be looking for, even if they lose a needle, they can dig three feet to find it, but without that relationship, they can basically only consider themselves unlucky.

"Be careful next time, if you touch someone we want again, be careful with your hands."

After looking through the documents in the wallet, he determined which wallet he needed, and then he turned around and left here, taking the Wilson family with him. nOveLusb.coM

On that ship, Wilson met people from all walks of life, including chefs, doctors, craftsmen, and accountants, covering almost all aspects, and the people of beasts also maintained a kind expression.

Seeing how easy these people were to get along with, he mustered up the courage to step forward and ask a question.

"That... Excuse me, I heard that you have a kind of magical creature that can judge the situation in the human body just by listening, can you let me see it?"

"Huh? You are not qualified enough now. After you prove yourself, you will naturally see them when you work in a more advanced place, but they may not cooperate with you."

【After all, that is the life created by that adult】

This time he only spoke half of what he said, and some things he still wouldn't say, and the Arceus he was talking about also returned to Wano Country when the New Year came.

"What is this Quinn doing?"

Shaina threw away the ribbons scattered above her head, and looked at Quinn holding a bunch of paper fireworks. She felt that this guy must have something wrong with his brain.

"I guess I heard what Ms. Yamato said."

Emmaline on the side echoed, they all knew that Arceus had asked Yamato to reveal the news in advance, and it seemed that Quinn was quite excited.

"I've never seen him so excited before, Lord Holy Beast, I don't think you need to reward that guy, this guy usually doesn't take you seriously."

Shaina turned around and made a suggestion that made Quinn's liver hurt, but he who was still above the port didn't hear it.

"It's okay, people like him are too rare, and it's okay to let him lose his composure once in a while."

As a blame man, Arceus will definitely guarantee his safety. In the past, he has been allowed to take so many blames without encountering any danger. If he doesn't go out this time, nothing will happen.

It's just that there are many people who are blamed, but Quinn can be said to have set a precedent for those who are willing to weld the blame on themselves.

At this time, Quinn also came to the boat with a flattering face, and it was self-evident what he wanted to express.

"Master Arceus, welcome back, that."

"Quinn, please pay attention to me, the holy beast has never broken his promise, why are you so impatient?"

"Ahem, understand, I have had a hard time during this time, okay, you have no idea how terrible the days when Master Arceus and Miss Yamato are not here at the same time."

This means that Kaido will lose control and lose the first taunting target. Whoever is unlucky will become a probability event, and due to reputation problems, Quinn has become Kaido's second pick after Yamato. After taunting the target, it is easy to meet Kaido's additional training.

"Oh, you should think about it. Will it be troublesome for you to go out in the future? You should have never left Wano Country after the incident, right? You are in the limelight at sea now, and many people want to use your head. The head is on top."

"???"

Quinn was at a loss when he heard what Shaina said. He really didn't pay much attention to the outside world.

"You really don't know? There are quite a few people who want your head, and you know about those stunned youths. Besides them, there are also some pirates from the New World who plan to use you to make their name."

In fact, there will never be a shortage of people in the sea who want to step on the seniors, and Quinn's huge reward of 2.7 billion has made him the target of many people.

No one knows how strong the Sea Emperor is, so before taking action, it is a very suitable choice for a big cadre like Quinn to be his small target.

"I wish you good luck, I hope you can live smoothly, after all, I can't find a sandbag that is smoother than you."

“.”

Quinn didn't refute. He didn't think about it before, and even forgot that fame would bring more troubles. For some reason, he once again felt that the future was gloomy.

"Master, did you really let Mi follow this guy? He looks so useless."

At this time, a delicate female voice came from Arceus' feet. Quinn was sure that he had never heard this voice before. When he followed the sound, a creature that looked like a hedgehog was shrinking in Arceus looked at him from behind his legs.

Chapter 787 Ice Sky's Bouquet - Xie Mi

It looks similar to a hedgehog, but it is very different from ordinary hedgehogs. Not only is the body white, but even the thorns are replaced by dense and fresh green grass. You can also see a few yellow similar to the hedgehog inside. Seed-like objects.

There are a pair of pink flowers on each side of the cheeks.

The meaning of talking Pokémon in Beasts is not simple. So far, Pokémon that mastered language ability from the day they were born were either Phantom Beasts or had special jobs.

But this time is special, because the opponent is just a hedgehog.

Zeraora, Darkrai, Diancie, Genesect, Manaphy, they all have human-like body structures, and they look like some kind of demihuman.

This kind of pure animal-shaped Pokémon is rare, but no matter what, this Pokémon in front of me must be extraordinary, and Arceus has never disappointed.

"My lord, look at that guy's eyes. Does he look at Mi like a pervert, or is that guy a pervert? Mi thinks this guy is very dangerous."

"Don't say that, little guy, I'm not a pervert, do you want to eat?"

Based on past experience, most Pokémon can get along well with food through food. The Pokémon in front of me seems to be made of plants, so no matter how you look at it, it is vegetarian.

Although the oral habit is very strange, it should not be difficult to get along with, at least not like the spiny ammonite, who is used to greeting him with a water gun, oh, to be precise, it has been upgraded to a spiked cannon.

After thinking for a while, Quinn made a gamble. After transforming, he picked off the original banana on the tropical dragon's chin, and then pushed it in front of the opponent.

Charlotte Lingling couldn't help but want this banana, but at this time Quinn took the initiative to take it out, which was already costly for him, and the purpose was to reverse the other party's stereotype about himself.

"Try it, it's delicious."

Looking at the banana that was bigger than his body, the hedgehog began to smell it.

"Mimi, give it a try for now. You gave it to me on your own initiative. You won't regret it."

"No, no, just eat slowly."

The tropical dragon's bananas are still very attractive to vegetarian Pokémon. So far, Quinn has achieved initial success, and then he looked at Arceus.

"Master Arceus, did you prepare this for me?"

"It's about the same. Her name is Xie Mi. Don't underestimate her. Whether your plantation can recover depends entirely on her."

"This little guy, does he have so much energy?" novelUsB.cOm

His banana plantation was basically scrapped. With the meteor volcano in Sakaski and his grace of nature, the two big explosions have destroyed the ecology of the island, and even the microorganisms in the water are almost extinct.

Under normal circumstances, that island will be in a barren state for a long time to come.

This is not a small loss for Quinn. There are many islands in the New World, and the choice of that island as a banana plantation has gone through several investigations.

The climate, soil, and that island are all the most suitable places for him to grow bananas.

Caesar and Sakasky were on his blacklist because of this. He originally thought that Arceus would at most help him get some new seeds, but he didn't expect to restore them there.

"This is Shamy's ability, if she wants, she can still do it."

Xiemi is also a member of the Mythical Pokémon, and has his own unique abilities.

Its body can decompose toxins in the atmosphere, just like a natural filter. Galar's double-bomb gas is also inferior to her in this respect, but this is only one aspect. She also has the ability to revive everything on the barren land.

According to legend, when people rejoice in the end of severe winter with the change of seasons and offer their gratitude to the heavens, Shaymi will appear and fill the desolate land with flowers.

Flowers are just a form of expression, flowering and fruiting is the life of a plant, and it is also Xie Mi's essential power.

"what do you mean"

"Shamy can restore the ecology of that island, and your plantation can still be restored."

The soil will be rejuvenated, the harmful gases produced by the volcanic eruption will be purified, and the island will only become more perfect.

These words sounded like heaven to Quinn. He thought of more things. The island was destroyed like that and can be restored. If it is used on other normal islands, wouldn't it make the crops grow better? good.

Even some of the special products he cultivated can only be grown in the laboratory, and now there is the possibility of mass production.

This is not a hedgehog, it is simply a big baby.

Quinn looked at Xie Mi with strange eyes again.

"You guys still have problems, I think you can't believe it."

"Little guy, it's not good to talk like this after eating my food."

"You gave it to Mi on your own initiative. It has nothing to do with Mi, but if you give it a little more, Mi can help you."

"It's up to you whether you can eat better food or not. As long as we cooperate well, I promise you will have enough to eat every day. Would you like to show me your ability?"

"No, it comes from the power of gratitude, right now it's not enough."

"Grateful? I am very grateful for the grace of Lord Arceus."

"Mi isn't talking about gratitude. Although it is very important to be grateful to the Lord, it is not enough for you now, and the flowers haven't bloomed yet."

Quinn couldn't understand what Xie Mi was talking about at first. According to Arceus, Xie Mi is a Pokémon that can rejuvenate all things. It can make plants bloom, but it has to wait for the flowers to bloom. This is simply a contradiction. things.

Before he could ask anything, a seed suddenly appeared on his hand.

"Master Arceus, this is"

"The flower seed of the Gracidia flower is Xie Mi's favorite plant. When this flower is in full bloom, she can show another posture of herself when she smells the fragrance of the flower. It can be regarded as a test for you.

When you can get it to bloom, Shaymy will help you, right, Shaymy? "

"The Lord has said so, so the result is certain. When it blooms, Mi will help you."

Xiemi in the form of a hedgehog is also known as a land posture. If she feels the gratitude of human beings, the flowers on her body will bloom. The flowers on her body did not respond before, so it is said that Quinn does not understand gratitude.

And when the Gracidia flower is also known as the rare flower, its floral fragrance will allow Xie Mi to show his sky posture. At that time, Xie Mi will have stronger fighting power and the ability to fly freely.

Task executor: Quinn

Reward: Xie Mi, has been issued

Hidden mission opened: plant Gracidia flowers

Reward: brand new banana plantation, not distributed yet

Chapter 788 Quinn's "ancestor" and "accompanied by the prince"

From this day on, Quinn has two more ancestors in various senses, and Xie Mi is almost confessed by him, so that Xie Mi can successfully help him revive the banana plantation.

And the second ancestor is the Gracietia flower, which has become his most important goal at present, and because he does not know the planting conditions of the Gracietia flower, he planted those seeds in various regions of the Wano country .

Whether it is indoors or outdoors, there are his planting areas, even the Linghou area that is covered with snow all the year round. What if Gracietia is a cold zone crop?

He even bought a few surveillance snails from Wano Country to monitor his crops 24 hours a day.

He is not Vegapunk, he created a bunch of clones for himself, and he chose to stay in Linghou, where the climate is the worst. The flowers here are most prone to problems, and other places use this method to monitor up.

Xie Mi is not as persistent as Quinn in this matter. Although she also likes the smell of Gracidia flowers, she still chooses to stay in a warmer and more comfortable environment.

This is also a special "test" for Quinn. Planting flowers is not difficult for him, it just requires some perseverance.

When a foodie struggles for food, he always uses enough patience.

"Hey! You two stay away from here to play, and be careful not to get my flowers!"

"But it hasn't grown yet."

"It's the same, it's all the same, go over there and play, or you won't think of me making toys for you in the future."

Quinn waved away Meowna and Wolf. Compared with their parents, these two little guys had a better impression of Quinn. They didn't understand so many things. In their view, Quinn was a person who often brought it's just a fat man who is delicious and can make toys.

The two brothers and sisters are approaching the age of six, and the range of activities has gradually expanded. Apart from Jiuli, they can often be seen in other areas.

This time I will be behind Ling, just because I want to have a snowball fight.

It is now the end of December. Although the temperature in other areas has dropped, only Linghou and the top of Fujiyama have such a large-scale snow accumulation. If you want to have a snowball fight, Linghou is the best choice.

For the sake of fun toys, Meowna and Worf stayed away from here for the time being.

Generally, snowball fights will not affect flower seeds that have not yet broken their shells. The problem is that people who play snowball fights are different.

For normal people, the focus of snowball fights is on the snow, but for the two brothers and sisters, the focus of snowball fights is on the fight, and they really know how to fight.

After the venue was transferred, the brother and sister quickly rolled into a ball on the snow and started their own playfulness.

"That. Really don't need to stop them?"

On the snow next to it, a rabbit fur uttered its own doubts.

"Ah, no, they have been playing like this all the time. The Duke himself is not worried, so we don't have to worry about it."

Bepo explained the daily life of the two brothers and sisters to the fur tribe who had just arrived in Wano country. In Wano country, Setsuna and Zeraora were not worried about the safety of their children. It's crazy, and no one will be found by then.

The rabbit fur is similar to the role of "Prince Accompanying Reading", used to accompany the growth of one's own children.

You can't be too young, otherwise you won't know who will take care of whom, and your talent shouldn't be too weak, otherwise they might not be able to play together. In this case, Garrot, who is three years older than them, appeared here.

"is that so?"

Take out a carrot, Garrott's tone is still a little suspicious, being chosen by the new Duke is not a bad thing, at least everything in Wano is much richer than Zou.

Even though Setsuna has been helping Zou improve the quality of life, due to environmental problems, there is still no direct comparison with Wano Country, and the snow here is also a novelty for Garrot.

"Of course, and this is just the beginning, more troubles are yet to come."

As he spoke, Beppo looked around, as if he was looking for something, but he couldn't find it in the end, and instead built a city wall with snow.

"Stop watching, you can help too."

Although the original Bebo was with Setsuna, his status was definitely the lowest in the family. In addition to his own personality, three sentences cannot be separated from an apology. Now that he has an ordinary junior, he also shows the look.

"Shall we play too?" NOveluSb.COM

"No, this is to avoid snowballs, I don't want to get my fur wet."

Before Garrett understood what this meant, Meowna and Worf had already changed their tactics. They were no longer fighting alone, but started "long-range bombardment".

The snow around the two people who opened the distance continued to rise, and finally condensed into snowballs one after another in the sky, and then flew towards each other like a rain of bullets.

Some of the snowballs got out of control due to improper manipulation and flew towards Beppo. The city wall he had just built was blown down just like that.

"That's amazing, how did they do it?"

"That is inherited from the Duke, and is called the power of waveguide."

"Is it that the Duke can communicate with the power of the elephant master?"

"Well, Lord Arceus bestowed upon Lord Duke that power, and the two of them inherited a lot, and Lord Duke also let them exercise themselves in the process."

Miaona and Worf can be said to be the most talented fur tribes for hundreds of years. In addition to their original physique, they also inherited the power of the waveguide of the moment and the power of thunder and lightning of Zeraora.

Even if the current waveguide can only be used for snowball fights, it also confirms their distant future.

The fighting between the two is also a way for the fur clan to become stronger, but compared to the average fur clan, their level is more intense. In the end, the clothes on both of them were wet, and Bepo and Garrot took the They took the Qixi blue bird and returned to Jiuli.

"Dad, Mom, Lord Arceus gave Uncle Quinn a very cute hedgehog!"

"We want it too, that hedgehog looks so cute!"

As soon as they jumped off the back of the Tanabata blue bird, they looked for Setsuna and Zeraora, and said their appeals, but they didn't see Setsuna and Zeraora at home as usual.

Finally saw them in the farmland not far from home.

"Slow down, slow down, you guys don't run so fast!"

Meowna and Worf followed Garrott, and Bepo behind him was carrying all kinds of strange things on his back, panting slightly before catching up.

"Bepo, your physical strength is not good enough."

"I'm sorry, I didn't expect these things to be so heavy. Hey, my lord, is this something special?"

In the farmland at this time, Setsuna and Zeraora were holding bundles of green onions taller than a person, and they seemed to be planning to plant them here.

Chapter 789 Who can refuse a duck with green onions?

Behind Setsuna and Zeraora, you can still see the wearing bear plowing the fields. In the past, the things that Bepo carried on his back were carried by the wearing bear.

Bepo saw that wearing a bear was always easy, and he thought those things were not heavy. He didn't know how much those things really weighed until today when he wore a bear to help in the farmland.

At this time, the bear in his clothes was plowing the field, Setsuna and Zeraora were planting green onions, and the Lotte Kappa skipped past, and the lotus leaf hat on his head sprinkled a lot of water, completing the irrigation work.

It seems that they are having a good time, but it is very rare for Setsuna and Zeraora to personally farm, let alone grow green onions.

Miao Na stretched out her hand to compare, and found that the green onion was thicker than her own arm, and Worf's movements were more direct. Although it was wolf fur, he took a bite directly.

"Sweet, mom, let's make oden tonight."

"I just know how to eat it, let's talk about it later, these onions have other uses for the time being, let's talk about them after they are selected."

"They?"

"Master Arceus prepared birthday gifts for you, they will accompany your training in the future, and they are coming soon, by the way, don't want everything you see.

You can only take what Lord Arceus gives you, and you can't force what you don't have, you understand. "

Su Mo bent down to educate her child, and Zeraora also listened silently.

Xiemi's appearance is very special, but she is not Quinn's pet, at most she is a partner or partner, and in terms of kinship, Xiemi is a generation older than the two little guys.

In the sky beside it, a few yellow-billed duck-like birds also flew over, and after landing, they rushed towards the green onions immediately.

"Kamoo"

The whole body is covered with dark brown feathers, and several special feathers stand on the top of the head.

There are eyebrow-like V-shaped markings on the forehead, and with the slightly sharp eyes, these ducks look a little handsome.

Scallion Duck-Galar region form, for them, these green onions are their second life, and they come here in a hurry just to find the green onions that suit them.

The reason why Setsuna and Zeraora planted green onions here is also to welcome the arrival of Galar's green onions.

Different from ordinary scallion ducks, Galar scallion ducks have a fighting attribute, but this does not affect their ability to fly.

Their muscles are more developed than ordinary ducks with green onions, and their body structure has not changed significantly. They rarely fly because it is inconvenient to fly with the green onions.

They will also fly when they are desperate to find new green onions.

As for putting down the scallions, it is not impossible, but it is not necessary.

The reason why they evolved into regional forms is mainly due to the unique scallions of Galar, which are similar to the combination of leeks and scallions, and are a relatively special stem-shaped plant.

Due to the weight problem, the green onion duck that is active in Galar gradually has more developed muscles, a more combative personality, and a unique evolutionary type.

As for why it is Galar's scallion duck instead of ordinary scallion duck, in the face of the increasingly lively Meowna and Worf, fighting-type Pokémon can compete with their energy.

Setsuna and Zeraora grow this unique Galar scallion, which is very important to the scallion duck. It is not only a weapon, but also a nesting material, and an emergency food reserve in case of emergency.

Each scallion duck fights in a different way, because there is more than one way to swing a scallion.

As far as ducks with scallions are concerned, they cannot survive without that scallion, and these onions are both good and bad, so ducks with scallions sometimes fight with each other for scallions.

At this time, these scallion ducks are still carefully selecting the scallions, looking for the one that suits them best.

In the pond next to it, a group of ordinary ducks also saw the onion ducks that landed here, and many ducks even had hearts in their eyes.

This is also the development trend of Scallion Duck. Like Kentaro, the original Scallion Duck is still an ordinary Pokémon, but the hybrid offspring of Scallion Duck will become a new poultry product in the future just like the Wagyu of Wano Country.

"It looks delicious."

Looking at the duck with green onions in front of him, a drop of saliva dripped from the corner of Beibo's mouth. For the fur tribe, fish, sea beasts, and birds are their meat sources, and birds are even more rare and delicious.

Although Beibo was just complaining, he was heard clearly by the onion duck who was picking green onions next to him.

"Ka Moo?" 【Does he want to eat us? 】

"Ka Moo." [It seems to be]

"Kamoo!" 【Beat him! 】

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean that, I didn't want to eat you, I just thought you were delicious."

The Scallion Ducks didn't seem to want to hear Beibo's explanation, so they rushed up with their own scallions and started a gang fight against the white bear.

Scallion ducks hate this topic, and they were almost extinct because of this incident.

Their meat itself is very delicious, and the scallions they carry are also a special condiment, usually of high quality. When the scallions and ducks meet, a wonderful chemical reaction will occur and become a rare delicacy.

What's even more outrageous is that it is the most suitable seasoning for cooking scallion duck, which is always carried with you.

The Galar Scallion Ducks are stronger, and their muscles are tighter. Relatively, they have also experienced similar situations, and finally ended the farce when they were stopped by a bear, and Bepo promised that he would never think about it again aspects of things.

"Are they a birthday present?"

"They are your new friends, you can play with them in the future, don't underestimate them, they are very strong."

Jeraora introduced new partners to the children, but they didn't seem to believe in the strength of these ducks. The leader, the green onion duck, seemed to see the problem, and picked up the green onion in his hand and smashed it at the stone beside him.

Break it into pieces with just one blow, which can be regarded as proving his own strength, and at the same time attracted the attention of the two children.

Bringing the joy of their new partners, Mowna and Worf are looking forward to the arrival of the New Year Festival, and the Wano country is gradually covered by the joy of the New Year, but not everyone is like this, some people seem to be a little bit lonely.

"It's been 14 years, Oda-sama has been away from us for 14 years, and these people have long forgotten who is the master of Wano country! Kozuki and her are not worthy of the name of Kozuki! It is because of her that these people will lose their hearts Bloody!

If this continues, even if we wait another six years, who else will be willing to resist! "

A dagger was inserted on the table, piercing through the portrait of Kozuki Hiyori, and several slightly aged faces could be seen in the room. These were the last group of people in Wano who firmly believed in Kozuki Oden. There has been no action, but today, they can't sit still.

Chapter 790 The night is coming

14 years ago, the Great War in the Capital of Flowers changed everything in Wano Country. After that, Wano Country ushered in a period of rapid development.

The puppet regime of Guangyue Rihe made most people let go of their resistance, and the benefits brought by reality also made them gradually accept their current life.

The prophecy left before the disappearance of Guangyue is gradually forgotten, and fewer and fewer people are willing to stick to it.

There are not many people at the table, and they all look old. They refuse to accept the changes brought about by the beasts, and stubbornly follow the old way of life. Low-yielding crops require more labor to fill their stomachs, so they look only older.

"Do assassination days and generals really make sense?"

"She is not a general! Have you ever seen a general who is willing to be the enemy's puppet?! If she had any ambition, she should have died to show her ambition! More and more people have forgotten all this.

Only by killing her and making the beasts lose their legitimacy, can the people of Wano country have the courage to resist, stand up to challenge their rule in the future, and give Momonosuke-sama enough troops!

Even if Oden-sama is still alive, he would not be willing to see the current situation. "

The leader continued to proclaim his own strength. According to his description, Kozuki Hiyori has become a heinous person.

"But... shouldn't the enemy be Kaido? Shouldn't we defeat him? Hiyori-sama may also be forced to do nothing. After all, even Oden-sama is dead, so what can she do?"

"Don't call her an adult! That woman no longer has the qualifications!"

The root problem of Wano Country is the Hundred Beast Pirates stationed here. He is very clear about this matter. If he can drive away the beasts, it is far more meaningful than assassinating Kozuki Hiyori, but the problem is, what he did less than.

Kaido's force is not directly proportional to Kozuki Hiyori's. Even if Kozuki Hiyori has countless people around him to protect him, it is much easier to deal with than an invincible Kaido.

Assassinate Kaido?

If he had this ability, he wouldn't have to conspire in this small shabby house.

The assassination of Kozuki Hiyori was because they felt that they had to do something. In the current Wano country, a person may not know the general, but he must have heard of the beasts. This kind of situation is the last thing these people want to see of.

And many things prompted their actions, such as a posthumous photo of a person who had just passed away on an empty seat on the table.

Not long ago, a seriously ill old man was brought here at the Beasts Pokémon Center.

He didn't want to come here, but his children forced him to the Beasts Pokémon Center against his will.

After a series of examinations, the doctor came to a conclusion that it was too late.

Conventional means are no longer effective. It is suggested that they climb Fuji Mountain and use the healing spring water above for treatment.

In other countries, this is just psychological comfort, but in Wano country, this is human power beyond human power. As long as you have perseverance, it is not difficult to complete this task, but the patient firmly disagreed, and finally died of illness.

This also sounded a wake-up call for them. They are already old, and if they wait any longer, even if someone does come, they may not be able to hold their own weapons.

And Quinn also contributed a lot to this process. The identity investigations of the people across the country were randomly reviewed every now and then, making these people suspect that Quinn was guarding against them.

People's eyesight restricts many things. Their perception of imperial fields is very strong, but they don't know how strong it is. A farmer in the deep mountains will think that the emperor's life is to farm the land with a golden * and eat white flour steamed buns.

They also have a very simple logic, people will die if they are killed, and Quinn is also worried about their assassination.

In fact, they only guessed half right. Quinn was indeed afraid of being assassinated, but it wasn't them who were afraid. Just these people, if he lay there and let them beat him for three days, he might not recover as quickly as him.

"Think carefully, can you still afford to wait? Now they have almost forgotten about Guanyue, what will it be like in another six years, do you dare to imagine!"

"It's just because we people can't enter the palace of the Flower City at all?"

The fact that they can gather here shows that they all have their own beliefs, but this belief is to expel Kaido, and now it has evolved into the assassination of Kozuki Hiyori, which makes many people hesitate.

But they thought the other party was right, so they just asked their own questions and didn't leave directly.

"This is an opportunity. There are still a few days until the New Year's Festival. People from Hundred Beasts will celebrate on Oni Island and will not stay in Wano Country. Kozuki Hiyori will also participate in the celebration in Wano Country. This is our chance!"

For more than ten years, there has been no incident, and the protection of the general is no longer as strict as when the Heitan family rebelled. Compared with the palace, it will definitely be much easier to attack during the celebration.

But he could still see that many people were afraid, and the reason was clear. At this time, he started to play the emotional card again.

"We all grew up together. Do you remember what we said in the test of courage when we were young? People value themselves too much, so they are afraid. Empty your mind, give it a go, and give up your name and wisdom!"

The tradition of the Wano country, abandoning the name and wisdom, and giving it a go like a beast. At this time, this word was brought up again.

"Give up your name and wisdom!"

"Give up your name and wisdom!"

Similar voices rang out one after another in the room, and finally turned into a uniform shout. After gaining the support of everyone, an action was launched.

It's just that those who discussed the plan didn't notice at all that there was a special frog hanging upside down from the eaves outside.

The frog that appears here is naturally the Koga Ninja Frog, the Pokémon responsible for the ninjas in Wano.

Beasts are now implementing a non-terrorist rule, as long as they don't clearly resist, their own safety will not be a problem.

Although these people did not act, they are also key monitoring targets.

Every time they gather, they are under the control of the beasts. Some time ago, something was wrong with them, so the Koga Ninja Frogs have been eyeing them for a long time.

Not long after they dispersed, Koga Ninja also left here.

He did not return to the Capital of Flowers, but took advantage of the darkness to come to Ghost Island.

"Master Arceus, that's the way it is, those people don't cherish your kindness, do you need me to do it?"

Flicking his finger across his tongue, the meaning of Koga Ninja Frog is self-evident.

These ninjas are good at assassination. As long as Arceus needs them, these people will disappear before the New Year Festival, and no one will notice the accident.

"No need, arrange someone to control the situation, just to let the little girl understand that we are the ones who most want her to live in peace in the current Wano country."
