

Armipotent 1631

Chapter 1631 Wickeddd 2

Tang Shaoyang's eight heads then turned toward the fort once more, "Where's your commander!?" He raised his voice as his aura exploded as well. His aura overwhelmed the whole fort, causing everyone to freeze.

Hearing no answer from them, one his head opened his mouth and breathed out the black fire. He aimed at the fort wall. The fire swept the wall, burning the soldiers and destroying the canons along the wall.

The black steel was melting by his dark fire, and his fire spread out to the side, "This is the last warning! HAND OVER COMMANDER GARTUDA!"

Maybe because of their loyalty, or they maybe could not speak out of fear. Once he did not hear the answer after twenty seconds, he burned the fort with his dark fire. Then he jumped into the fort, starting to smash everything in sight.

That was the plan, threatening the three kingdoms to hand over their commanders and kings. If it did not work, then he would destroy them. He did not care if these people called him Evil Dragon or Demonic Dragon. This was the first time he lived up to his bloodline as Wicked Dragon.

Halfway through destroying the fort, finally, someone spoke out, "Stop! Stop! I will tell you where Commander Gartuda is! Stop destroying the fort!"

Tang Shaoyang looked toward the voice, and a man standing on the roof of the biggest building called him out.

"He's fleeing to the north! He's fleeing to the north after he saw you!" The man pointed in a direction.

"He is another Vice Commander. Maybe he is telling the truth!" Queen Cecilia recognized the man. She remembered all the big shots from the three kingdoms, so of course, she easily recognized the man.

However, Tang Shaoyang did not follow where the man pointed at or listen to Queen Cecilia. He looked through the biggest building, and he saw an underground bunker. Through his Chaos Eyes, he saw through the bunker. A man was sitting behind a table, enjoying his tea.

Rumble! Boom!

Following the rumble, a black thunder struck the man on the roof, burning and killing the man instantly. The moment the man pointed his finger toward the direction, he knew the man was lying. His Chaos Eyes were on the fort, and no one fled from the fort.

His tail swept the building, and then he dug up the ground. He grabbed the bunker and pulled it out from underground. He slammed the bunker to the ground, and then the dark fire blazed out from his hand, melting the bunker. It was then revealed a man was on the ground, in a mess.

"Is he the commander?"

"That's right! That's the Commander!" As soon as he received the confirmation, Tang Shaoyang froze the man. From the neck down to his toes before throwing the man to his back. He acquired the first target, the next target would be the king.

After securing the commander, his eight heads breathed out Dark Poison. Soon the entire fort was filled by the dark gas. The agony screams from the soldiers echoed, asking for his mercy. He ignored those voices and flew to the sky.

Following Queen Cecilia's direction, they arrived at the capital of Kingdom Sovaria. The city where the King and the Queen were. Tang Shaoyang landed next to the castle, he easily found where the king was after seeing the magnificent castle.

Tang Shaoyang made the same announcement, commanding the people and the soldiers to hand over the king. Slightly better than the soldiers in the frontline, the soldiers in the capital did a little fight back. But they were all burned by the dark fire, and he destroyed everything around him but the castle.

The King and The Queen came out on their own from the castle, wearing their Royal Robe. The soldiers were loyal enough not to hand over the king. They fought until their death.

The King was a man who looked to be in his mid-fifties. His hair had turned white, but he still had his vigor, still strong despite his age. He looked up at the eight-headed dragon.

"Why are you looking for me, Sir Dragon?" The King maintained his composure and asked.

"To kill you of course!" It was Cecilia who answered him. Along with Zhang Mengyao and Viona, they came down from Tang Shaoyang's back to confront the king.

She had not killed the captured Commander and Vice Commander. She brought the two down with her and showed the two to the king. The gesture was to tell The Kingdom of Sovaria's king that no one could help him.

"I am here to claim your life, King Albertos! You will pay with your blood for what you have done to my family!"

King Albertos smiled when he saw Queen Cecilia. He was about to come closer to her, but one of Tang Shaoyang's heads went down, right in front of King Albertos.

"Don't try anything funny, Albertos. Stay where you are and accept your death!" Tang Shaoyang could sense that Albertos tried to do something, "If you try to fight, then I will kill everyone related to you. I will make sure that no one from your bloodline exists in this world, anymore!"

Of course, that was just a threat. Tang Shaoyang would not go that far to kill everyone related to Albertos. He just wanted the man not to do anything funny that would endanger Queen Cecilia. He still needed Cecilia to finish the hidden quest, and that worked.

King Albertos was shocked and fell back. If not for his wife, he would fall. The Queen supported her husband, letting out a sigh but she did not say anything.

King Albertos looked at the eight-headed dragon, "Will you promise me not to kill my children and destroy my kingdom if I surrender?"

Tang Shaoyang clicked his tongue and opened his mouth. He breathed out the frost air and froze the King and The Queen. The same with Commander Gartuda, Tang Shaoyang did not freeze his head.

"Kill them and let's go to the next kingdom!" He ordered Queen Cecilia.

"I want to execute them in front of their people. Just like how this man executed my parents in front of The Kingdom of Ariot's people."

"I have a better idea than that. Kill them now, and I will show you how things should be done!"

1632 Additional Reward 1

The Sovaria Kingdom's Queen covered her eyes from the dust as the dragon flew off to the sky. Her heart was still beating furiously, not expecting she would survive after seeing Queen Cecilia on top of the dragon. As the dust settled down, she looked up at the sky. The dragon was nowhere to be seen.

With a sigh, she glanced to the side. Her husband along with his commanders were frozen in the ice tablet. The ice tablet was thirty meters tall, and the ice had some lens that magnified her husband inside the chest.

Her husband's terror face was displayed along with the headless body below the head. The dragon said that no one could break the ice. So yeah, the dragon preserved the dead bodies as a reminder for them, for the Kingdom of Sovaria for what they had done to the Kingdom of Ariot.

Then she sensed the tremor on the ground. An army was coming toward her. It was not like the army's late arrival would change anything. If the dragon could capture the commander and the vice commander at the main fort, then these soldiers would not be able to do anything to the dragon.

The Leader of the army rushed toward her, calling her name and her husband's name. The soldiers gasped in shock when they saw the three bodies inside the ice. The three bodies looked five times bigger, so everyone could see their King's dead bodies and head from a distance.

"Try to retrieve their bodies!" She ordered the leader to break the ice.

The Queen believed the dragon's words when the dragon said the ice could not be broken. This was just an attempt to satisfy her curiosity. The army barraged the ice with the fire spells, but it did not even melt the ice slightly. In fact, the temperature around here started getting colder because of the ice.

The ice could not be broken, and this would be an eternal reminder for the Kingdom of Sovaria for at least three generations.

*** **

Meanwhile, Herman and his team left the city and followed the dragon-like creature to an area. Tang Shaoyang did not tell him anything about where they were headed. The only instruction was to follow the creature named Maldros.

There were so many questions in his head, but he refrained himself from asking Maldros. About the eight-headed dragon, where Tang Shaoyang went, and where they were going.

While he could not hold those questions, not the same for his subordinates. Especially his youngest subordinate, Henry. The young man came closer to him and asked, "What do you think about that eight-headed dragon, Sir? Is that maybe The Kingdom Ariot's guardian beast?"

Henry shook his head, "No! That dragon is not the guardian beast. Those people would not be scared seeing the dragon if that's the case. And the Kingdom of Ariot would not lose the war as well with that fearful dragon. What do you think, Sir?"

Herman had the same thought as Henry. The dragon was not affiliated with the kingdom they served. He thought that the dragon appeared because they chose the hell difficulty. They had to fight the dragon for hell difficulty. However, the dragon did not come to attack them.

He had one more guess. The dragon was one of the Tang Shaoyang's summons. That was the logical explanation. Tang Shaoyang was not with them, and he was asked to go somewhere else. The more he thought about it, the more he believed that the eight-headed dragon was Tang Shaoyang's summon.

Herman did not want to believe it because that would make the gap between The United Sovereign and The Tang Empire widened even further. He had united North America, and yet, the gap between them widened further.

"We have arrived!"

Herman snapped out of his frustration when he heard Maldros' voice. He looked up and saw more of Tang Shaoyang's summons. He had seen some of them on the previous floor.

There were ten summons, and they were watching over thousands of people. That was right, he saw it right. More than a thousand people were captured and guarded by the nine summons.

Maldros looked at Herman, pointing at the captured people, "They are all Demi-God Ranks. My Master captured them for you all. There are three thousand and four hundred Demi-God Ranks. Each of you gets to kill two hundred of them."

Herman took a deep breath when he heard that. He did not want to believe Maldros, but his Detection just proved Maldros. The Detection revealed that everyone in his range was Demi-God Ranks. After ten people, he gave up and accepted that all of them were Demi-God Ranks.

Herman let out a bitter chuckle. This was just another hit to his face. Tang Shaoyang alone could capture three thousand and four hundred Demi-God Ranks. All of them were alive.

He then imagined what if Tang Shaoyang decided to take over The United Sovereign? The pitiful seventeen Demi-God Ranks were far from enough to face the Tang Empire.

"We are still far from them, and I think we have to stop putting the Tang Empire in comparison, Sir," Herman's trusted subordinate, General Advisor for The United Sovereign said the bitter truth, "Then that eight-headed dragon is Sir Tang Shaoyang's summon."

"Your subordinate is right. You should not use His Majesty as standard," Maldros chimed in, delivering an unnecessary jab to Herman, "He can kill you all by just standing still. Be grateful for his generosity, mercy, and..." The dragonewt came next to Herman, whispering while looking straight at Chief Mason, "And watch for your subordinate if you want to keep your kingdom intact."

Even though Maldros was not summoned, he saw everything. What the guards at the teleportation gate tried to do, and also this Chief Mason. He remembered what happened and reminded Herman out of kindness. Herman had been respectful toward his Master, hence he warned Herman about his subordinates' doing.

"That's just a reminder, not a threat. Go kill your share. You all have to kill our share before His Majesty returns."

1633 Additional Reward 2

Herman understood what Maldros told him. The dragonewt was talking about Chief Mason. But he did not need to warn Chief Mason at this point. Chief Mason should be aware now of the gap between Tang Shaoyang and The United Sovereign. Even when they deployed their army, their chance of killing Tang Shaoyang was zero.

"Thank you for your reminder, Sir!"

Herman nodded and headed toward the captive. Following the order, they killed the captives one by one. The notification that he leveled did not make him happy at all. This was the same as getting spoon-fed by Tang Shaoyang.

These people were just like livestock, waiting to be slaughtered. With a thrust of his sword, he killed another Demi-God Rank. But of course, he was grateful to Tang Shaoyang since they got the information for the hell difficulty. This would be a reminder for him not to choose the hell difficulty without Tang Shaoyang.

Halfway killing the three thousand and four hundred Demi-God Ranks, Tang Shaoyang showed up. Not just Tang Shaoyang, Queen Cecilia was with him. That just confirmed that the eight-headed dragon was one of Tang Shaoyang's summons.

Tang Shaoyang did not say anything, but Herman noticed the slight frown. That was just for a moment, but he noticed it when Tang Shaoyang looked at the remaining Demi-God Ranks.

"Why are they so slow?"

That was what Tang Shaoyang thought when he saw the remaining Demi-God Ranks. He went to the three kingdoms and returned, but Herman had not finished killing these powerless Demi-God Rank. That was a disappointment, but he did not let it ruin his mood after receiving the two rewards from the hidden quests.

He got two new techniques thanks to Herman. That was why he did not say anything when Herman and his friends had not finished their quests.

The United Sovereign picked up their pace with Tang Shaoyang's present. His presence was akin to a stern instructor for them. They finally completed the quests in two minutes.

[Congratulations! You have completed the quest!]

Everyone received the same notification. The time froze as two treasure chests appeared out of nowhere. The time froze for Cecilia, but not for Tang Shaoyang and the other participants.

The two treasure chests slowly went down. The reward was two Primordial Treasure Chests. That was a decent reward from the dungeon. The two chests slowly went down and landed in front of Tang Shaoyang.

It seemed like the dungeon was aware of Tang Shaoyang's contributions. But as promised, he did not want to take the treasure chest even though it was a Primordial Treasure Chest. He gestured toward Herman to take the reward.

Herman dragged his body toward the treasure chest. His eyes glistened in greed at the sight of the chest. But when he remembered how he got the treasure chest, he felt so heavy. He barely contributed to this dungeon, especially on the last floor.

After dragging his body that suddenly became heavy to the treasure chest, he looked at the chest. No matter how shameless he was, Herman did not have the heart to take all of them. He took one into his inventory, and then he looked up at Tang Shaoyang.

"I insist that you take this one, Sir Tang Shaoyang."

As The United Sovereign's King, he was so embarrassed to take the second treasure chest.

Tang Shaoyang was not going to refuse a Primordial Treasure Chest just like what he did to the Epic Treasure Chest.

"If you insist, then I will take it."

He then gestured to Zhang Mengyao to keep the treasure chest. They have cleared the dungeon and accepted the reward. However, there was no portal gate to get out of the dungeon.

[Congratulations! You and your party have cleared The Demi-God Dungeon!]

[You have freed The Kingdom of Ariot from the dungeon! They will follow you outside the dungeon!]

Tang Shaoyang expected the first notification, but not the second. Before he could say anything, he was automatically teleported out from the dungeon. They returned back to Earth, but they were not alone, not the same twenty people.

Queen Cecilia and her people, more than twenty thousand people were with them. The sudden flood of people shocked the guards from The United Sovereign. They thought it was a dungeon break, but Herman managed to stop his guards from doing something stupid.

Herman was happy to see Queen Cecilia and her people. This was his chance, the chance to make The United Stronger's force grow. If he absorbed The Kingdom of Ariot's people, he would get the Demi-God Ranks from the kingdom as well.

"Welcome to The United Sovereign, Queen Cecilia. I don't know what will happen with you and your people, but we are willing to accommodate you and the people from the Kingdom of Ariot for the time being, until you find a place to stay."

Herman was taking his time instead of forcefully inviting her to join the United Sovereign. He did not want to give The Queen's first bad impression.

"I am grateful for your offer. But we will not stay here. We are freed from the dungeon by Sir Tang Shaoyang. So we will follow him."

Queen Cecilia made sure that she was not being rude to Herman. She could tell that both of them were coming from two different factions.

"I did get a notification that I have freed you and your people," Tang Shaoyang nodded, then he turned toward Herman, "Didn't you get the same notification?"

He thought everyone received the same notification. It looked like it was not the case.

"No! I don't get that notification," Zhang Mengyao replied, and Viona nodded to confirm it as well.

"The Kingdom of Ariot's people will repay your kindness with our loyalty and dedication. From today onward, there will be no more The Kingdom of Ariot!"

Queen Cecilia's declaration was greeted with cheers from her people as well. More than twenty thousand cheered at the same time, causing the ground to shake.

Hearing that, Herman's body went weak. But he did not have the heart to resent Tang Shaoyang. Even without Tang Shaoyang, he would not be able to clear the Demi-God Dungeon, let alone free The Kingdom of Ariot from the dungeon.

1634 Yet Another Fool (1)

There was nothing Herman could do unless Tang Shaoyang did not want them. However, the chance for Tang Shaoyang to refuse their allegiance was lower than one percent.

"Then get ready to leave. I will have my people to arrange your new home."

The Tang Empire had many territories. He could accommodate even one million people, let alone a little over twenty thousand. He went over to Herman, "We will leave immediately. Thank you for your invitation, Herman."

Herman wanted to be shameless to get the Kingdom of Ariot's people to join The United Sovereign. He could bring up the promise about the reward. However, Queen Cecilia chose the Tang Empire instead. Even if he wanted to be shameless, he could not gain their loyalty.

He and Frans accompanied Tang Shaoyang to the portal gate. His guests were leaving. Although disappointed, he got many Treasure Chests, one of them being Primordial Treasure Chest. He cheered himself with those rewards. One Primordial Treasure Chest, four Myth Treasure Chest, and more than ten Epic Treasure Chests. That was a comfort for him as he watched his guests leave.

"Don't be so disappointed, Sir. Those rewards are not ours in the first place. We can clear the Hell Difficulty in the Demi-God Dungeon because of Sir Tang Shaoyang in the first place. Let's take it slowly and utilize the rewards well so we will be ready for the next Demi-God Dungeon."

The General Advisor, Frans comforted the King. He was telling the truth. Without Tang Shaoyang, they would not have chosen the Hell Difficulty. If they did not select the Hell Difficulty, they would not know that they could free people from the dungeon. That information itself was as important as the Hell Difficulty's experience.

Herman smiled, "You do really know how to comfort me, Frans. They are indeed not ours."

That made him feel better. His Advisor reminded him of the positive things from clearing the Demi-God Dungeon. Taking a deep breath, his expression was dignified, and he turned around with greater determination.

"You told me not to use The Tang Empire as the comparison, but you are wrong for that, Frans! If we want to get stronger than we are now, we must use The Tang Empire as the standard! There's a World Congress in two months for the next Dimensional Tower. Our target will be climbing to the twenty-fifth floor, clearing the current dimension before the next one!"

*** **

Tang Shaoyang returned to his home. He called over Li Shuang to arrange the people from the Kingdom of Ariot. Then he called more people with him for the next Demi-God Dungeon. The Africa Nation did not limit how many people he could bring. He called seven more people.

Moonsong from the Moonlight Tribe, Alissa from the Elven Kingdom, Lycasian Tribe of the Lycanthrope sent Denzo, Zhao Zhong, and Qin Shoushan from the Dungeon Division, Liang Suyin, and Aleesa. He wanted Aleesa on the team so it would be less awkward between him and Alissa.

Those sevens were the additional for the Demi-God Dungeon in The Africa Nation's territory. He chose them so they could lead the party to clear a Demi-God Dungeon in the Tang Empire's territory.

They departed to The Africa Nation, and Tang Shaoyang got a different welcome than when he came to The United Sovereign. The difference was like Sky and Earth. Two rows of beauties lined up, bowing at him and welcoming him in tune.

"Welcome to The Africa Nation, Honored Guests from The Tang Empire!"

Even though Zhang Mengyao did not inform The Africa Nation who was coming, the first president of Africa Nation came to greet the guest directly.

Gaius Barbarossa was accompanied by the highest-ranking officer in their military, Tadala Limbani. The Africa Nation was considered weaker than The United Sovereign based on their Demi-God Rank numbers. The Africa Nation only had seven Demi-God Ranks including The President and their five-star Admiral.

Gaius Barbarossa was surprised when he spotted Tang Shaoyang, leading the party from the portal gate. He did not know and did not expect The Emperor would come by himself to lend them an aid. He picked up his pace and reminded his highest-rank officer to watch his manner in front of The Emperor.

"Welcome to my humble nation, Emperor Tang Shaoyang. We are very grateful that you are willing to assist us! For now, we have prepared a small banquet for you. If I know you will come, I will prepare something bigger and better."

Tang Shaoyang reached the man's hand and shook his head, "This is much better welcome than The United Sovereign already. Let's not waste our time with the banquet and get straight to the job."

He told President Gaius about his trip to The United Sovereign and brought up the topic of clearing the Demi-God Dungeon. That was when he brought up the deal, sharing the information about the dungeon.

The African Nation set up the portal office next to the President's office. It did not take long for them to arrive at the room where this small banquet was. On the way here, Gaius agreed to share the information about the dungeon. He also agreed to Tang Shaoyang's condition where he would take the lead in the dungeon.

The Demi-God Dungeon in the Africa Nation was different from the one in The United Sovereign. The dungeon in here had thirty players maximum, ten more than the one in The United Sovereign. It could mean two things. The dungeon would be easier since it allowed more players to enter the dungeon. Or it could be a more dangerous dungeon.

Since The Africa Nation only had seven Demi-God Ranks. Gaius also invited The Kingdom of Sand as well or formerly known as The Uprising Guild. The Kingdom of Sand had eight Demi-God Ranks, and they arrived earlier.

The Africa Nation and The Kingdom of Sand were currently in a truce. The Kingdom of Sand agreed with the truce because of the threat from Europe. They could not afford to split their attention to the south and also Europe. That was why The Kingdom of Sand agreed with the truce proposed by The Africa Nation.

Chapter 1635 Yet Another Fool (2)

"He is The Kingdom of Sand's King, Igmar. He previously held a high position in the Uprising Guild. After we killed their leader and vice leaders, Igmar took over the Uprising Guild."

Zhang Mengyao told Tang Shaoyang about the person who was currently arguing with President Gaius. It seemed like Igmar did not like what President Gaius told him.

Tang Shaoyang was not interested in who those people were. He never set his eyes on them when he had a bigger problem.

Zhang Mengyao let out a sigh, shaking her head, "I know you don't have interest in them, but this is still your world, you know. You have to know these people who might pose a threat to us in the future."

"Let me in the future to take care of the issue then. I can't look at them the same when I look at The Nirvana Alliance and The God Alliance. Will you look at the ants when the lion is trying to eat you?"

Tang Shaoyang shook his head and chuckled. The way he worded it might be arrogant, but that was the truth.

Zhang Mengyao was speechless. She could not refute that as that was the truth. Then she thought about it, what if she was in Tang Shaoyang's position. She could not refute him.

The argument on the other side broke out. Igmar stood from the chair, and the atmosphere became tense. The President Gaius' guards were in a position if Igmar tried to attack their President.

Igmar shifted his attention toward Tang Shaoyang's side. His eyes did not last on Tang Shaoyang, shifting toward the two elves, Alissa and Aleesa. His eyes lit up as he licked his lips.

Igmar approached Tang Shaoyang, and Gaius followed Igmar closely. President Gaius did not want them to fight in his territory.

"I will let you become the leader of this party if you let me sleep with them!" The man grinned ear to ear.

The moment Igmar finished his words, Tang Shaoyang's figure disappeared from the chair. He appeared above Igmar, and he placed his right foot on Igmar's head. Then he pushed Igmar down to the ground.

The marble floor cracked, and Igmar's face was buried in the floor. Then it was followed by thousands of deep-red blades, filling the banquet hall. All the blades were pointing toward the seven Demi-God Ranks from The Kingdom of Sand.

"I don't think two years have passed since the war. What makes you think I will let you sleep with my wife?" He pressed further, causing more cracks on the marbled floor.

His aura and killing intent filled the banquet hall. He focused them on the people from The Kingdom of Sand. The aura forced them to kneel, and the killing intent made it hard to breathe.

Igmar was making suppressed noises, but no one understood what he said because his mouth was covered in dirt.

Tang Shaoyang lifted Igmar by the neck, raising them on the same level as him. He pulled Igmar's face closer to his, "You must think you have something that can hurt me. This is why you are so brave, right?"

It was not even two years after the war when all factions attacked The Tang Empire. It was still fresh, and he did not remember fighting The Uprising Guild. That meant The Uprising Guild never made it to meet him on the battlefield. The Uprising Guild was defeated by his people.

Zhang Mengyao told him that Igmar held a high position in The Uprising Guild. Igmar should know the most about the war than the others from the same guild. Yet, Igmar dared to make such a remark in front of him.

"I can pop your head easily, but that would be too easy for you, right. What I want is your suffering..." He turned toward the seven Demi-God Ranks from The Kingdom of Sand. Then he shot five ice needles, targeting five people.

The five ice needles hit five people, and it froze them in the Ethereal Ice. Five were freezing from the neck to their toes. They were alive, and the ice would not be enough to kill them. However, they could not break the ice as well.

Tang Shaoyang threw Igmar to one of the frozen Demi-God ranks. Instead of breaking the ice, it was like hitting a wall. Igmar's armor made a noise and the frozen Demi-God Rank slid on the smooth marble surface.

Instead of killing Igmar and the seven Demi-God Ranks, he froze five of them, crippling The Kingdom of Sand's main pillars. That was much better than killing Igmar and making him suffer.

"Let's not take them with us, President Gaius. Let's clear the dungeon without them, and you don't need to share the reward with them."

Tang Shaoyang noticed that President Gaius looked concerned. Then he understood why Gaius was worried and wanted to involve The Kingdom of Sand in the dungeon. The Kingdom of Sand might take this chance to attack The Africa Nation if they all left for the dungeon.

"You don't need to worry about your territory," He summoned The Helion Wolf brothers, Ronan and Hargug, "They will protect your territory while we are inside the dungeon. And if you follow my lead, it will not take a day to clear the dungeon!"

Tang Shaoyang ordered Ronan and Hargug to pack off the eight people from the Kingdom of Sand. Igmar and the two Demi-God Ranks who were not frozen tried to fight back. Despite using their bloodline transformation, the three Demi-God Ranks were packed by Ronan and Hargug with ease. It was not even a fight.

Watching how the event unfolded before his eyes, Gaius was shocked deep inside. That was enough to gain his trust and agreed to enter the dungeon with just sixteen of them for thirty people dungeon.

President Gaius left one Demi-God rank to oversee the territory while they were away. Even though Tang Shaoyang boasted that they would finish the dungeon in less than a day. He was afraid that might not be the case and left one of his trusted subordinates to oversee their territories.

Chapter 1636 Dinael's Decision (1)

Gaius Barbarossa did not believe it when Tang Shaoyang told him that they would clear the dungeon in less than one day. No matter how strong Tang Shaoyang was, less than one day was just impossible.

It took him six days to clear the Legend Dungeon. That was the fastest record in the Africa Nation. Even though there were no Demi-God Ranks in The Legend Dungeon, it took them that long.

Those doubts disappeared when they entered the dungeon. Even when they fought the monster waves in city defense. Tang Shaoyang wiped out the monster wave before they could reach the wall. The one that delayed them was the time for each monster wave to appear.

There was also the normal exploration dungeon. It took them some time to find the boss floor. The survival quest took even less time than the normal exploration dungeon.

Without him realizing it, they were already at the last level of the Demi-God Dungeon. He was shown the choices for the difficulty. He heard about it from Tang Shaoyang, and they selected the Extreme Difficulty per their agreement.

That was when he found out that the scenario was different. For this scenario, they were asked to subjugate a young dragon instead of putting them into a war scenario.

The reward was one Primordial Treasure Chest, and the materials from the young dragon. Then they were teleported out, and as Tang Shaoyang told him, less than a day.

His guards who guarded the dungeon looked as confused as him. That was just too fast. Especially since it was for the highest rank dungeon. He had not proceeded with the fight against the young dragon. When he received the quest, it scared him a little bit when they had to face a dragon.

But Tang Shaoyang severed the dragon's head in one strike. Even though it was young, it was still a dragon. Yet, Tang Shaoyang killed the young dragon effortlessly.

"Tang Shaoyang has reached God Rank!"

That was his conclusion. He saw everything from the first floor and how Tang Shaoyang handled the Demi-God Ranks monsters. It was as if they were weak zombie mobs.

"We need to split the reward, Sir."

Gaius Barbarossa snapped out of his thoughts. That was right, he forgot to bring up the reward. He was glad that his General reminded him.

He came over to Tang Shaoyang, "How are we going to split the reward, Sir? How about you take eighty-twenty? We will take twenty."

Gaius thought of giving all the rewards, but he could not do so. He needed those rewards, so he shamelessly asked for twenty percent.

"We don't want the reward. You can take them all," Tang Shaoyang declined the reward.

The top reward was the Primordial Treasure Chest and the dragon materials. It was nothing much. Maybe the dwarves would get mad at him for not taking those materials. Even though it was still a weak and young dragon, those were still materials from a dragon.

"No. We will just take the dragon materials if you are okay with it?" Zhang Mengyao took a step ahead of Tang Shaoyang and asked for the reward.

"Ah, yes. You can take them. It's not like we have a blacksmith that can use the materials anyway," Gaius immediately agreed to what Zhang Mengyao said. That would make him feel better to share the reward.

That was the end of their cooperation. Zhang Mengyao shared the information about the Demi-God Dungeon in the United Sovereign and the one they just cleared.

The dungeon here had one more level, eight floors dungeon. That might be the reason why this dungeon allowed ten more people. Each floor had the same type of quests, but not exactly the same for each floor.

After sharing the information with The Africa Nation, Tang Shaoyang returned to his home. They held a small meeting for the Demi-God Dungeon.

"I hope I have more time and let you guys have a proper run for the Demi-God Dungeon." That was his regret.

It would be better to test out how a full team of Demi-God Rank fared in the Demi-God Dungeon. However, he had only five days left until his first mission as Administrator. He needed to see the team that Ira made as well. He had to leave again in four days.

"But that's good enough than entering the dungeon without prior experience," Zhang Mengyao answered while browsing her notes for both dungeons, "I think we can clear the dungeon with a full team of Demi-God Ranks as long as we don't take the Hell Difficulty."

"I believe you, but we still need more data to make sure that all Demi-God Dungeons are the same. We don't know if somehow there's a God Rank monster in the Demi-God Dungeon."

Tang Shaoyang was still worried about the possibility of a God Rank inside the Demi-God Dungeon.

"If Demi-God Dungeon spawns and I am not around. You must bring Ophelius and Ophelia. Even though they are not as strong as me, they are above the average for the God Rank."

The fifteen-minute meeting was over as everyone returned to their respective post. Zhang Mengyao left to the north, heading to the Temujin Region in Mongolia to take care of the zombie issue. She brought the main army from Tarrion for the zombie.

Tang Shaoyang also headed to the God Realm to meet with the dwarves. He had not received any message from them after he dropped them there.

"We have in mind what and how to build the castle with the best defense, Your Majesty. Now we need materials and people. Can we stop the infrastructure construction temporarily and bring my people here?"

President Engin of The Dwarven Confederation made his report with an excited gleam in his eyes.

"Let's discuss it with Li Shuang first. I can't make the decision yet," Tang Shaoyang did not know the progress of their project. He could not just stop the construction because he wanted to. Li Shuang should know more than him about it, so yeah, he needed to consult his Chief Minister.

Chapter 1637 Dinael's Decision (2)

He had a seven-day break after his return from the Trial of God Rank until his first administrator mission. He spent two days on the dungeons issue. Then he brought the dwarves for a discussion with Li Shuang about their territory in the God Realm.

Tang Shaoyang hoped he could spend the remaining five days with his daughters and his wives. But he could not do so. The problem with The Zheng Kingdom spreading out. It became a poison to his Father-in-law's heart.

Kang Jiayi requested a private meeting with him, and he wanted to resign from his position. That was right, his father wanted to resign after making sure everyone from the Zheng Kingdom was caught.

The Chief of TEIS was ashamed that he fell for such a trick. He felt like he was not qualified enough to hold the position.

If he was good with words, Tang Shaoyang would try to persuade the old man not to resign. TEIS was built by Kang Jiayi, with his vision for the internal security of the Tang Empire.

Tang Shaoyang closed his eyes, tapping the table with his index finger. Kang Jiayi was accompanied by his eldest son, Kang Zian. They were waiting for his approval. Kang Jiayi came to Li Shuang first, but Li Shuang sent them to him.

"Do you have someone in mind to succeed in your position? We haven't had anyone to replace you since this is so sudden."

He looked at his brother-in-law, squinting his eyes, "What do you think about your son? Is he qualified to succeed in your position?"

"No, I can't, Your Majesty. I am not part of TEIS, and I don't think they will accept me as their leader. And I don't have a plan to leave my post in Tarrior as well."

Kang Zian's answer surprised Tang Shaoyang.

Tang Shaoyang thought Kang Zian was part of TEIS since he followed his father around. This meeting and when they met him in the throne hall as well.

"TEIS has two Deputy Generals. You can choose one of them to succeed me, Your Majesty."

Tang Shaoyang did not like the way Kang Jiayi worded the sentence. While his father-in-law proposed someone to succeed in the position, it sounded like he was not confident with his choice.

"Do you think that person is qualified to succeed in your position? Can that person do better than you?"

Kang Jiayi lowered his head, ashamed to look Tang Shaoyang in the eyes. He did not answer the question.

The silence was an answer for Tang Shaoyang.

He let out a sigh, "Isn't this the same as running away from your responsibilities? Honestly, I am disappointed that you fell for the skill, but you can't be blamed for that. But I am even more disappointed in you now. Instead of trying to fix your mistake, you choose to run away from your responsibility instead."

Kang Jiayi just sat in silence, with no words.

"You should have heard about the war that will most likely happen in ten years. Did you know?"

Kang Jiayi was not in the meeting when he discussed The Nirvana Alliance and The God Alliance. However, Li Shuang should have sent Kang Jiayi the report for the meeting. Kang Jiayi was the leader of one of the biggest divisions in the Tang Empire. He should be informed about the matter.

Kang Jiayi responded with a nod. He received the meeting report, and that was the last push to make such a decision. He felt he was not good enough to lead TEIS and hoped Tang Shaoyang would appoint someone more capable than him to take the position.

In this kind of situation, someone in his position should not make such a big mistake. He should not make Tang Shaoyang worried about the security of the Tang Empire. But he failed and made a big blunder.

Tang Shaoyang pushed back the resignation letter toward Kang Jiayi, "If you know, then you should not resign and recommend someone that I can't trust to replace your position. Keep this and lead TEIS until I resolve the problem with The Nirvana Alliance and The God Alliance."

Kang Jiayi raised his head slowly and looked at Tang Shaoyang in surprise.

"If by the time I get rid of those two alliances you still want to resign, then I will accept your resignation. If you really want to resign by that time, then you must prepare a proper candidate to succeed you to lead TEIS. Can I still trust you for my people and the empire's safety, Chief Kang?"

Kang Jiayi looked at his resignation for the last time before locking his gaze with Tang Shaoyang. Despite his old age, he did not lose his vigor and spirit for his work. He took the resignation letter and stood up from the chair.

"I am grateful for your trust in me, Your Majesty!" Kang Jiayi bowed, "I will make sure not to disappoint you for your trust. You can leave your people's safety to TEIS!"

"That's what I want to hear from you. You can leave me now."

Kang Jiayi bowed once more, and Kang Zian also bowed before turning around to leave the room.

"Ah, meet the dwarf in two days. They could make some kind of amulet that could resist abnormal status. That will help you if you ever face someone like that Zheng guy."

After the father and the son left, Tang Shaoyang leaned back in his chair. He was genuinely disappointed with Kang Jiayi. Not because his father-in-law fell for the hypnosis skill, but because of the resignation letter. If his father-in-law insisted on resigning, then he would not choose someone to succeed Kang Jiayi, but to merge the Intelligence Division into TEIS.

Lu An would be the new Chief of TEIS, but The Intelligence Division would be part of the TEIS. That was the plan if Kang Jiayi was stubborn to resign. He would not choose someone he did not trust for such a big position.

Tang Shaoyang was about to leave the room as well. Today would be his last day before he went to the God Realm and Administrator Space as well for the mission. He wanted to spend his remaining day with his daughter, then a last night with his wives.

[Dinael requests to meet you, Your Majesty. She wants to discuss your proposal.]

Chapter 1638 Dinael's Dilemma

Dinael thought she would need months before she could make the decision. She had an intense communication with his family. Then she spent some time strolling around the city as well when she was so stressed up.

It has been almost a year since her stay in The Tang Empire. She was fond of the city, the people, and the food. This place was much better than The Divine. She felt free here.

Back in the Divine Church, people would look at her with expectation because she was The leader of the Divine Church's daughter. People put a big expectation on her, especially from her performance before she was Epic Rank.

But those expectations became a burden for her as time went on. Once she failed a mission, and she remembered those scorn. People spoke ill behind her just for one fail. They forgot all the success she had before the failure. They focused on one mistake and her streak of achievement.

Dinael liked the Tang Empire, but the Divine Church was her family. Her family was the core part of the Divine Church. She was in a dilemma for a while, and she finally came up with something in mind.

She stood in front of the wooden door. Behind this door was The Emperor. Recalling the past battle against The Emperor always made her nervous. Back then, The Emperor was just a Demi-God Rank. Knowing the Emperor had reached The God Rank made her even more nervous.

Opening the door, Tang Shaoyang was behind an elegant yet classic table. The crimson eyes were on her. She flinched slightly when she saw his eyes.

Tang Shaoyang gestured for Dinael to sit across from him, "Let's skip the useless chit-chat and get straight to your answer. What's your decision?"

Dinael's buttock had not touched the chair yet. She paused slightly before sitting before Tang Shaoyang. Closing her eyes, then she took a deep breath, "I want to hear what will you do to my family if I join your side? I want to know this first! My answer depends on your answer, Your Majesty!"

Tang Shaoyang did not expect that Dinael cared so much about her family. He thought what he said back then would be enough to create a rift between her and her family. But that was not enough.

"Let's make it easy, what will make you want to join my side? State your condition!"

Dinael furrowed her brow slightly, "You can't kill them! As long as you spare my family, then I will join your side and help you!"

"Them!? Can we be more specific? Who are they? Just your parents? Or it's including your uncles and cousins?"

"All of them if possible, but I want to put priority on my parents, brothers, and sisters. You can't kill them." That was Dinael's decision.

She was willing to take over the Divine Church and join the Tang Empire. There would be no difference whether she worked for The Nirvana Alliance or The Tang Empire.

"That's your condition, then let me state my condition. As long as your family has no intention to kill, then I will not kill them. It's that easy. If they don't fight me, then I will spare their lives. But can you convince them to step aside?"

Dinael fell silent. She opened her mouth, wanting to say something. But now words came out. Looking at Tang Shaoyang's perspective, the condition made sense. But she did not think that her parents, especially her father and her big family would give up that easily.

"Then what about if it's just my parents and my blood brothers and sisters? If we ever fight them, then I want you to spare them. You can capture them and jail them. Then I will try to convince them to join you as well after!"

Tang Shaoyang shook his head. He would not fight a war with in mind to spare his enemy's life. That might lead to his doom, sooner or later.

"That's not an option, Dinael! Convince them not to fight me, then I will not kill them. Because I know no matter what I do, I will never get their loyalty. I don't want to keep someone like your father on my side. Because the moment your father has the chance, he will betray me!"

"Don't forget, they will not be grateful to you just because you convinced me to kill them. They will resent you, they will hate you because you are the reason they lose The Divine Church!"

Dinael took a deep breath. She understood the reasoning, and everything that The Emperor said made sense. Her family betrayed The Tang Empire the moment they had the chance was likely to happen. Especially after Tang Shaoyang stripped them of their authority from the Divine Church.

"I tried! I tried talking it out with my father. He can't betray The Nirvana Alliance. He is afraid of The Nirvana Alliance more than you, Your Majesty. I don't mean to disparage you and The Tang Empire. But that's the case, I can't..." She paused for a moment.

"What about if you convince them not to fight you? Instead of targeting The Divine Church, what if you change your target to The Metarnian Dragon Clan first? If you destroy The Metarnian Dragon Clan. That might be enough to convince my parents not to fight you!"

That was a brilliant idea, at least, that was what She thought.

"It seems like you misunderstand something, Dinael. I want you to join my side, and I want to lead the Divine Church. Your family will never agree for you to take over the Divine Church. They will do whatever they can to stop you from taking over the Divine Church. You can't convince them!"

Tang Shaoyang let out a sigh, "I see, you haven't really made up your mind, Dinael. Let's stop for now. You have time to think about it. One year, I will give you one year to make up your mind. This is your last chance!"

Chapter 1639 The Best Gift

Tang Shaoyang did not plan to give Dinael that much time to make the decision at first. But after hearing what she had to say, he decided to give her more time to think. She was inclined to take his side, so he did not mind waiting a bit longer.

The plan was to take down the factions in the Nirvana Alliance one by one. Before their punishment expired, they could not work together. That was his chance, and he planned it in five or maybe six years.

Five or six years would be enough for him to get even stronger, adding more Archaic Spirits and upgrading them all at least to Intermediate or Advance Archaic Spirits. That was the general plan, and he would start it from their weakest faction, The Divine Church. That was why he needed Dinael in his plan.

Dinael let out a sigh and nodded. She returned with two choices, either convincing Tang Shaoyang or her family. Both sides were hard to convince. If Tang Shaoyang started with another faction, taking at least two factions down, then it would be easy for her to convince her family.

However, she had no way to convince her family if Tang Shaoyang did not show how capable he was. From her family's perspective, The Tang Empire was just a weak faction from a lower world. There was no way they would change sides just because she told them to.

She bowed toward Tang Shaoyang and left the room. Right outside the room, she exhaled deeply. Deep inside, she also did not believe The Tang Empire could win the war against The Nirvana Alliance.

No matter how strong Tang Shaoyang was, he alone could not take down the giant alliance. But she did not want to lose this place. She was fond of her new home. She wanted to stay here for the remainder of his life. On top of that, she had a deep attachment to Elinova.

"Let's see what I can do..." She muttered in a low voice.

*** **

What Tang Shaoyang wanted from Dinael was The Divine Church's worlds. He needed the coordinates so the dwarves could work with the teleportation gate. And of course, it would be better if he could use the Divine Church to fight the Nirvana Alliance. That was the bonus if he replaced the current faction leader with Dinael.

If It did not work with Dinael, then he would work with Arion. He did not really want to involve someone like Arion in his affair. He did not know yet what kind of person this Arion was. Despite his big influence that could force The Nirvana Alliance to agree with the truce. He did not know Arion's real identity yet.

The risk was also higher involving him. If the other side had something interesting for Arion. Arion might turn against him anytime. Arion was a last resort.

"There's no more meeting for me, right Origin?"

He asked Origin, in case, there would be more people who wanted to meet him. He might as well finish everything and make sure no one disturbed his time with his family.

[Lady Kang Xue wants you to visit the academy, check on their progress, and maybe give the students some encouragement. But Lady Kang Xue does not want to bother you because you will leave tomorrow. She wants you to spend more time with Little Miss Xiulan.]

"Nah, let's skip that. I am not going with words, it would be better if I don't speak," Tang Shaoyang shook his head, "But you have to remind me when the final exam for the first generation is. I must attend the final exam and their graduation as well."

He did not want to encourage them. Joining the academy meant they must have their resolve. If they did not have what it took to be part of Tarrion or TEIS or maybe other divisions, then they should not work for the empire. That was for the best, not just for the Tang Empire but for themselves as well.

Tang Shaoyang ended his work with the last meeting with Dinael. He returned to his home and spent his time with his daughters. He wanted to try to meet with Viona's children. But with the little time he had right now, he better meet them later.

*** **

In the following morning, Tang Shaoyang sat at the edge of his bed. The sunlight got into his room through the small gaps in the curtain. He did not sleep a whole night, spending his time with all his wives except for Delia, Avyn, and Zara.

Delia was trying to familiarize herself with the new bloodline. She entered the Dimensional Tower with Zowen's party. Avyn and Zara were too shy for the party. There were just too many of them. They were shy despite Rosalie's attempt to get them out of the Spirit World.

He stretched out, a satisfied smile etched on his lips. That was a great night for sure. Two women were missing in the bedroom. He remembered Ava the former Elven Queen and Elinova left first earlier in the morning.

The others were still sleeping soundly, in their random positions. He slowly made his way out of his room, taking a shower, and getting himself ready to leave. Ira had been messaging him to come to the God Realm. He needed to meet with the new members.

After getting himself clean, he went to Tang Xiulan's room. Ava stayed in this room, and Xiulan was sleeping in her embrace. He slowly made his way to the bed. He got up on the bed and stared at his baby's sleeping face.

His smile widened at how peaceful she was in her sleep. He kissed her forehead and was about to leave until he heard a voice.

"Bye Didi~"

Tang Shaoyang was surprised and immediately looked at Xiulan. She was awake, her violet eyes stared at him, then she smiled, waving her tiny hand at him, "Bye-bye, Didi~!"

That was the biggest gift ever for Tang Shaoyang. Xiulan calling him first over her mother was the biggest gift, better than those God Rank equipment rewards from the trial.

Chapter 1640 Executive Administrator

"You are late!" That was the first thing Ira said when they met in the Starter City.

She was not alone, there were five people with her. Two men and three women. They were the Admin Helpers that Ira chose for him.

Tang Shaoyang recognized one of the women, Agnes. It was a surprise to see Agnes here. He thought Ira would not get Agnes into the team.

He scanned the other four: two humans and two beastmen. It was the tiger beastmen and elephant beastmen. This was the first time he saw the beastmen of the elephant version.

The long snout and two long ivories made the beastmen easy to identify. The elephant beastmen had a big build, covered with thick hide, and his eyes looked like a stone.

"I will trust you once more. Let's add them to the team and get ready for the mission."

He was so happy right now because of Tang Xiulan. That was why he was late to this meeting.

After giving a quick observation to the five, he did not want to do the short interview. There was no need to make things awkward in front of her friends. He would assess them during the mission. It was not too late to kick them out of the team after the mission.

Ira was stunned, her right eye twitched. She shook her head and was not going to question her Boss. The boss seemed in a good mood, and she did not want to ruin it. It was better to make the boss happy all the time.

Ira's friends exchanged glances, but none of them said anything either. There was no conversation or even introduction. It looked like Tang Shaoyang did not care that much about that as they got into the Administrator Space.

Ira seemed familiar with the Administrator as she guided the team to the location. There was a short briefing before the mission. She guided the team to this place.

As they made their way into the hall, everyone's attention was on them. It was the last six hours before the mission. They were the last team to arrive.

Ira led them to the small unoccupied space, a long table with a long chair. It was similar to a canteen table. They sat on the table, and his Admin Helpers were quite nervous.

These people did not bother to hide their gaze. They openly observed Tang Shaoyang and his team. It was understandable since Tang Shaoyang's team was the smallest team in the room. One Administrator and six Admin Helpers. The fact that Tang Shaoyang was the only Administrator on the team was enough to be the center of attention.

The other teams averaged around thirty to forty members in the team. While most of them were filled with Admin Helpers, they would have more than one Administrator.

Ira left to get the document, the details for the special mission in the front. Tang Shaoyang did not shy away from those gazes. He also observed the other teams, trying to see if there were familiar faces.

His team was supposed to be eight members, but Castor had not accepted his invitation. It said the invitation was still pending, awaiting the response from Castor.

'It's rare that these people did not pick a fight against me.'

The thought crossed his mind. When he was usually in this kind of place. People would come to him to make trouble out of nothing.

"Ah, I jinxed it..." He muttered as he saw a male human with long black hair standing up from the chair. The man headed to his table. His instinct told him that this man was coming for him.

The five admin helpers had not noticed it since they did not dare to look at other administrators. Only when they heard Tang Shaoyang's voice did the five of them look at where Tang Shaoyang looked.

Tang Shaoyang's guess was spot on. The long-haired man approached their table, "What do we have here, guys? A team with just one administrator and six Admin Helpers? Who let this lousy team join in a big mission like this?"

Tang Shaoyang did not respond to the man, he just looked at the long-haired man like the others. It was as if he did not know that his team was the man talked about.

Bang!

That was enough to piss the long-haired man. He slammed the table and raised his voice, "I am talking about you and your team, newbie! Don't you have any shame? How dare you join a special mission!?" He looked straight at Tang Shaoyang.

Looking uninterested, Tang Shaoyang looked away from the long-haired man. He completely ignored the man.

At this moment, Ira returned with a scroll in her hand. She glanced at the long-haired man, and then she looked at Tang Shaoyang, "Your friend?"

Tang Shaoyang shrugged, "Don't know. I heard a dog barking, but I didn't see the dog. This Administrator Space is quite mysterious."

The long-haired man's aura burst out. He was about to hit Tang Shaoyang, but a voice interrupted, "Get back here, Durman! Remember where you are!"

The first stopped halfway. They were in the Administrator Space. They were not allowed to fight here, or they would be punished. The long-haired man, Durman realized that immediately when his team leader called him.

"Shoo Shoo! Your owner is calling you, go back." Tang Shaoyang kept provoking Durman, expecting the latter would hit him. He did not mind getting hit once.

However, Durman held back while gritting his teeth before returning to his team. He planned to humiliate Tang Shaoyang, but he was the one who was humiliated instead.

Ira returned to her seat and looked at Tang Shaoyang, "I don't know you are quite cool-headed. I thought you would kill that guy."

"Will you kill the dog that barked at you on the street," He replied as if it was something obvious. His voice was loud enough that Durman could hear it.

Ira shrugged and pushed the scroll toward Tang Shaoyang, "This is the details of the abandoned world! It contains most of the types of calamity in that world. There are still some unidentified calamities as well."

Tang Shaoyang raised his eyebrow, "Aren't you supposed to brief me instead?"

Ira took back the scroll, "I thought you wanted to read yourself. I remember someone said to me that he could not trust me anymore."

"Then you will not be here if that's the case."

They stayed in the hall for the remaining few hours until their departure. Aside from giving the Administrators the details about the abandoned world. This event was supposed to make the Administrators get to know each other for the mission.

However, the Administrators used this occasion to show off. Ninety percent of Administrators and Admin Helpers stayed together with their team. A few of them mingled with the other team, just a few.

[Get ready to depart to Osmanduro!] The Smart AI, Adam reminded everyone.

Right after the reminder, the door opened as a man in a black tunic entered the hall. The moment this man entered the hall, everyone stood up from their seats except for Tang Shaoyang.

The man looked like in his mid-thirties with a thick beard and mustache. The man glanced toward Tang Shaoyang's direction. That was the first he did as soon as he entered the hall. The man smiled at Tang Shaoyang before proceeding toward the front hall.

Everyone caught the man's smile for Tang Shaoyang. While no one said anything, they were surprised.

"Why didn't you stand up and give proper respect!? He is The Executive Administrator who will lead the special mission. He is Executive Administrator Arion!" Ira immediately called Tang Shaoyang out.

Even though he did not know who entered the hall, at least, he should follow the others when everyone stood up.

Tang Shaoyang furrowed his brow when he heard the name. It was too familiar, someone he knew.

"Arion is a common name, right?" He muttered in a low voice. Then he remembered what Arion said before.

Arion once said that he would know when Tang Shaoyang got into the God Realm. If Arion was the Executive Administrator, it was possible.

"Do you know Executive Arion!?" Ira was surprised when she heard and immediately asked in a low voice. She created an invisible barrier to ensure no one listened to them.

"I know someone named Arion. He helped me in the last stage trial. How do you think I can get rid of their vision of me?" When mentioning the last part, he looked at Agnes.

Agnes should know what he talked about, and of course, Ira and the people behind her should also know that.

Ira and her friends were shocked to hear that. Executive Arion was capable of doing what Tang Shaoyang said. The Executive Administrator was more capable in fact. Arion could intervene directly and stop the trial if he wanted.

"But I don't know if it's the same Arion. I never met the man in person. But I should be able to recognize his voice."

Ira turned off the barrier and looked at the front hall where the Executive Arion was. A short speech before departing for their mission.

"Thank you to the teams who decide to take the risk by accepting the special mission..."

"He is the same Arion!"