

Armipotent 1711

Chapter 1711 Meeting Eleven Executive Administrators (1)

They were shocked when they first heard about The Emperor. But then they were struck by a realization. They made an exaggerated shocked expression as they turned toward their Captain.

If The Emperor came to save a cult member, that meant their Captain fought The Emperor. He fought an Emperor from the Void Cult, and he was still alive. That proved how strong their captain was.

But soon doubt overcame their shock. If they fought, they believed their captain would be dead. The reason The Void Cult still existed was because no one could kill The Three Emperors. They cut down the Void Cult so many times, but as long as The Three Emperors were still alive. The Void Cult would always make a comeback and become stronger.

"Did you fight him!?" Anne held Tang Shaoyang's shoulder and scanned his body.

She was the only one who did not doubt Tang Shaoyang. There was no reason for him to lie to them. And she believed that only The Three Emperors and The Eleven Kings could open such a massive gate to The Void Realm.

Tang Shaoyang shook his head, "I don't think it can't be called a fight, but we exchange one move. He almost split my body into two, and I took his right arm."

He took out a dark-skinned arm. Dozens of slices wound, the vessel ruptured, the flesh cut open and revealed the bone inside. Looking at the hand, they believed Tang Shaoyang now. Not because of the dark skin, but because of the strong Void Energy that permeated from the hand. It was so strong that everyone immediately took five steps back.

They found out that the Void Energy could not hurt Tang Shaoyang. That might be the reason why he survived The Emperor.

"We are wasting too much time already with the Salyra Kingdom. Let's finish the mission and return."

The following step was much easier than the early missions. They just needed to get rid of the Void Creatures from Sulan instead of doing some arduous and boring investigation. Tang Shaoyang thrived in this kind of mission.

*** **

Three days have passed since the Void Gate incident. The Daenelis Clan had followed the trail of the Void Creatures that led to a destroyed city. The city was in ruin and the area was contaminated by Void Energy.

However, the contamination was not as severe as they thought because the civilians survived in such an environment. It should not be a problem for those who have reached The God Rank.

Khaya motioned her hand to enter the city. They split up and asked the survivors.

"The monster is already dead. A knight with a black dragon appeared out of nowhere and killed the monster. They took the monster's corpse with them because it would ruin the land if they left the corpse."

That was the answer Khaya got from asking the survivors. She asked five people and five of them gave the same answer. She clenched her palm into a fist, frustrated. This was not the first time that her target was killed before she could see them.

This was the thirtieth Void Creature they tracked down in the last three days. Before they could fight or even see the Void Creature. The Void Creature was killed by someone else.

Khaya knew it was not on purpose because the ones who killed the Void Creature were a different group. A group of monsters, then there was also a bear warrior, then there was also a black phoenix, then there was a chimera, and this group was also different. A knight rode a black dragon, and the knight was accompanied by three monsters. The three monsters were three-headed wolves this time.

The group was consistently made up of five monsters. There was one explanation for this, Tang Shaoyang's spirits. When she thought about it, she realized that Tang Shaoyang was scarier than she thought.

Five groups of five spirits that could kill a Void Creature. How quick they killed the Void Creature, showed how strong these spirits were. Then she recalled the woman who tried to provoke Arsus into attacking her.

"I don't think I can't survive either if a fight breaks out back then."

"What fight!?"

Nandra returned and overheard what her captain said.

Khaya shook her head, "Nothing. What do you find?" She could not show her weakness to her team members.

Nandra got the same answer as her captain. Everyone said the same thing. A giant dragon suddenly appeared with a knight to kill the monster. But she got extra information. This knight, a dragon, and three wolves killed the Void Creature in a few minutes, just a few minutes. The others also returned with the same result.

"F*CK! He does really try to hog all the contributions! He doesn't even give us one Void Creature to kill! This is ridiculous! We must report them!"

Arsus was the only one who complained instead of reporting what he found. Despite knowing it was the work of Tang Shaoyang, he did not show restraint. He became even more spiteful when it came to Tang Shaoyang. He still failed to see the bigger picture behind this, not realizing he was in a big problem if he became an enemy of Tang Shaoyang.

Nandra had given up even to scold Arsus. She straight ignored him and looked toward her captain, "What should we do now, Captain? I think our pursuit of Void Creature is pointless."

Khaya shook her head, "We have to keep hunting the Void Creature. We don't know they might miss one."

They were about to leave the area and look for another Void Creature when a notification rang in their heads.

[Congratulations! You have completed the mission! You will be teleported back in 30 seconds!]

They exchanged glances in surprise. Khaya was certain that more than one hundred Void Creatures came down from the gate. More than one hundred, and they were all hunted down in just three days?

A name came into her mind, and the only person who was capable of achieving this was one person, Tang Shaoyang. That meant Tang Shaoyang had more than twenty-five spirits that were capable of Void Creatures. He might have more than a hundred spirits, or else he would not be able to hunt all of them in three days.

Chapter 1712 Meeting Eleven Executive Administrators (2)

Tang Shaoyang returned to the portal gate and was frustrated when he saw the time. It took them eight days, almost nine days to finish the mission. The Earth Tournament started tomorrow, and he might not have enough time for the third mission.

He was not annoyed because of The Emperor who suddenly came and released the Void Creature. He was annoyed about the five-day investigation. Spending five days investigating the culprit, and it ended up not being the biggest problem they had to solve.

The bigger problem was the Void Creatures released by The Emperor. Yet, it was much quicker for him to hunt down more than a hundred Void Creatures than doing the pointless investigation.

"We should just get rid of the nobles, the royal family, and their military. That would solve the problem."

That was what he said as soon as he stepped out from the portal gate.

"That's not how you're supposed to complete the mission, and I will never agree with that. I can concede for the thing that makes sense, but not the mindless massacre."

Anne was the first one to respond. She looked straight at Tang Shaoyang with a solemn look on her face.

"We have a disagreement with how we handle things, so it's better to make it clear right now. If you ever happen to use the method you just said, then that will be the day I will quit your team. Just like how you don't want me to force my belief in you, please don't force me to do something against my belief!"

Tang Shaoyang was just letting off some steam because of the frustration. Yet it turned out to be a serious conversation. Of course, he would not dismiss Anne's concern lightly. He might not agree with her, but he should not take her principles lightly.

He would never do what he said. Even in the war against the other factions back on Earth, he made sure that his army did not touch anyone but the enemy soldiers. Anne did not know him, they were not close enough to know each other's character. What they saw in each other in the short time was merely the surface.

Ira was about to speak up for Tang Shaoyang but reminded her of her recent trauma. It was the session after the trial, the award ceremony.

Tang Shaoyang almost killed all Administrators in that hall back then, including the Chief Administrator. While she was not attacked, she received the impact from the battle. However, that same moment made her choose to join Tang Shaoyang's team as well.

"Yeah, you don't need to worry about that. I also don't like the mindless massacre, but I will not show mercy to the people who want to kill me."

After he said that, the portal moved. Everyone's attention was on the portal. The Reds were the first ones to return. During the Void Creatures hunting, the five teams did not communicate and work together. They were on their own.

They did not know what happened to the other four teams. But considering that he took most of the Void Creatures. They all should be fine.

The second team was The Daenelis Clan. The team of eleven was surprised to see Tang Shaoyang. Arsus could not hide his anger and hostility. His gaze shot straight at Tang Shaoyang.

Arsus could not hold his emotion anymore as he walked at a quick pace toward Tang Shaoyang. He was pointing at Tang Shaoyang with his finger, but Anne and the others were standing in front of Tang Shaoyang.

They knew that this prick could not hurt Tang Shaoyang. Here or anywhere else, this male snow elf is simply much weaker than Tang Shaoyang. The only reason he dared to act like this was because they were in the Administrator Space.

Arsus knew Tang Shaoyang could not hurt him here, "WHY!? WHY DID YOU TAKE OUR PREY!? WHY ARE YOU HOGGING ALL THE CONTRIBUTION!?"

His voice was loud enough to attract the other Administrators nearby who were about to leave for their mission or return from their mission. A fight between two teams was common after the mission, not a surprise. However, they never got tired of watching the drama unfold.

Tang Shaoyang laughed as he found it funny that the snow elf just made himself look like a clown.

"WHY ARE YOU LAUGHING? DO YOU THINK YOU CAN DO IT WITHOUT BEARING THE CONSEQUENCE!?"

Arsus got angrier when the person he talked to was laughing. The lowly human took him as a joke, in front of many Administrators.

Nandra could not hold her emotion either. She was so mad that Arsus did not realize that he just embarrassed his team, especially Khaya. He basically just admitted that they were incompetent.

She was about to stop Arsus from doing those stupid things. To her surprise, Khaya stopped her and shook her head. She did not understand why her captain did so.

'Did Captain Khaya tell Arsus to do this? No, Captain Khaya will not do such a thing. But why?'

Nandra could not understand her captain, but she followed the order. She stayed next to her captain.

"I am laughing because it's funny, no? You just admitted that you are slow and weak. How is it that I am stealing your prey when I found and killed it first? If you want to get the kill, then you just need to find The Void Creature first. If I found it first, it meant you were the one who tried to steal my prey, no?"

Tang Shaoyang tapped the side of his forehead, mocking Arsus further. He was basically telling Arsus to use his brain. And what he did was the same as Avyn back then. Provoking Arsus to attack him so he had a justification to attack. He was not going to kill, but he would make sure that Arsus would never forget about the experience.

"That's enough, Arsus!"

Right when Arsus was about to attack, Khaya stepped in, "You will get demoted to Admin Helper if you attack him. You already got the first warning!"

Chapter 1713 Meeting Eleven Executive Administrators (3)

Khaya did not like Arsus as a person, but he was part of the clan. Her clan could not afford to lose a Junior Administrator they had nurtured for a silly reason like this.

The reminder stopped Arsus from causing trouble. He was clever enough not to continue the argument after realizing that he just embarrassed himself and his team.

"Come here, Arsus!"

Khaya came off the portal and took a further corner from Tang Shaoyang to avoid further argument. She glanced at Tang Shaoyang for a moment, and the latter smiled at her.

Then the third team returned. The Vigamaur Dgaror was the third team, and their team was in a worse state compared to when they left the Administrator Space. Half of them were missing from the team. Four of them had a symptom of getting poisoned by The Void Energy. Their skin turned dark, their eyes darkened, and their wounds could not regenerate.

The Vigamaur Dgaror ran their injured and poisoned team members to be healed, leaving just five of them. One of them was the captain, and he could not contain his surprise when he saw The Reds and The Daenelis Clan.

The two teams had all their team members, and no one looked injured. As if they were not coming back from the same mission.

The next team to return was White Knight. They did not lose anyone, but five of them were poisoned by Void Energy. Two knights were severe enough, unconscious, and his white skin turned black from the face down to the toes.

They were rushing out, but Tang Shaoyang stopped in front of them. Centurion looked up at Tang Shaoyang, maintaining his composure even though he blocked them.

"We are in a hurry. If you have something against me for what I did before, then you can come to me after. We will continue our fight later!"

"What are you talking about?" Tang Shaoyang glanced at Centurion, shaking his head. He then came to the two unconscious vampires. He placed his hand on their chests and pulled out the Void Energy in their system.

He was getting rid of The Void Energy from their bodies. That might not help with the symptoms, but their condition would stabilize instead of worsening since he got rid of the Void Energy.

"What—" One of the knights tried to stop Tang Shaoyang, but Centurion stopped his knight. There was no reason for Tang Shaoyang to risk losing his class just to hurt his team members.

Then he continued with the three with light symptoms. He got rid of all the Void Energy from their bodies, and Centurion could see it. He no longer sensed the Void Energy in his team members anymore. That was when he realized what Tang Shaoyang tried to do, and he was glad that he did not stop Tang Shaoyang.

"I have gotten rid of the Void Energy, but they still need further treatment."

Centurion bowed his head toward Tang Shaoyang, "Thank you! I vow to repay the favor tenfold for saving my team."

He then gestured to his team members to bring them to the Healing Center in the Administrator Space. He was relieved that they were no longer in danger.

Meanwhile, Khaya watched everything from the side. She was surprised at first when Tang Shaoyang blocked The White Knight. She thought he had a grudge against The White Knight and tried to stall them to kill the two vampires. Tang Shaoyang might get away with it because he technically did not kill them. They died because of The Void Energy.

To her surprise, Tang Shaoyang got rid of the Void Energy from their bodies. The surprise was that Tang Shaoyang could get rid of the Void Energy. Not anyone could handle the Void Energy.

At this moment, The Vigamaur Dgaror's Captain rushed toward Tang Shaoyang, but he was met by Anne and his Admin Helpers.

"WHY!? WHY DON'T YOU SAVE MY TEAM?"

Vigamaur Dgaror's Captain pointed his finger at Tang Shaoyang, shouting loudly. His team members were poisoned by the Void Energy, and Tang Shaoyang did not save them. The pressure and stress from losing half pushed him to the edge. He exploded when he saw Tang Shaoyang save The White Knight.

"Why do I have to save your team? Why do I have to kill the people who want to kill me? Does that even make sense? I am not obliged to help or save your team."

The Vigamaur Dgaror's captain was lost for words. He could not say anything in return.

At this moment, the portal moved again. The last team returned, Sheydos. They lost one of their teams, but that was it. They were all fine and sound, their loss was minimal, one Admin Helper, not a big deal.

Sheydos' team captain, Erva, scanned the surroundings. The four teams returned earlier, and his team was the last. He was surprised when he found out that The Reds and The Daenelis Clan were intact. They did not lose a single team member.

Erva looked at The Vigamaur Dgaror and shook his head, "How are you going to kill a dragon if you can't even handle The Void Creature?"

With all five teams returned, they were allowed to leave the portal. The woman inside the booth reminded them to submit the report in three at the latest.

Tang Shaoyang glanced at Ira, "You are in charge of making the report. It seems like she expected a long and detailed report."

She in his mouth was the attendant inside the booth. She did not remind them about the report when they finished the first mission. This time she asked for a detailed report.

"I will help!" Anne took the initiative to help, "I am in charge of writing the report in my previous team." She added an explanation at the end.

As everyone was about to leave the portal gate, including the people who watched the drama. They were gasping in surprise when they saw a woman and a man with a black coat.

"They are from the same team, the most famous team in the Administrator Space or known as the strongest team, Kalisto. The woman was the captain, and the man was the Vice Captain. They only have five members in the team, three Chief Administrators and two Senior Administrators, no Admin Helper..."

Nayla was passionate to give the explanation and suddenly stopped. She blinked her eyes a few times to make sure that she did not see it wrong. But she did not see it wrong, or maybe there was something wrong with her eyes.

"Am I the only one to see this? Aren't they coming to us?"

That was right, the two people from Kalisto were walking toward them. Sure enough, both stopped in front of Tang Shaoyang.

"Are you Tang Shaoyang?" The man asked.

"Yes, and who are you?"

"It doesn't matter who we are. All Executive Administrators summon you to meet them. They have questions regarding your recent mission!"

Chapter 1714 Meeting Eleven Lazy Dogs (4)

The people around him were confused and surprised at the same time. The Executive Administrator's summon meant a serious matter. That made them curious about what mission they took.

His Admin Helpers were concerned about the summon, but Tang Shaoyang was not. He expected the summon because of The Emperor. They should have their own way to find out about that.

"I will be fine, just make sure to submit the report."

That was his words before leaving with the two celebrities in the Administrator Space. He had not really explored the Administrator Space. There were a lot of places that he did not exist in this Administrator Space.

Tang Shaoyang followed the pair and looked around. He soon got bored because they were in a long white hallway. He broke the silence first, "So what's your name?"

"Atilla."

The woman answered, but the man refused to give his name. He even complained to his captain.

"Why did you tell him your name? He doesn't deserve to know our name."

"You should tell your name too because I have a feeling we will work together with him soon enough."

The woman's answer surprised Tang Shaoyang. It was as if she implied they would work for the same mission soon.

"We have arrived!"

Atilla cut her friend off before he continued rumbling non-stop like a little girl. They indeed arrived in front of the double door, at the end of the hallway.

"From this on, you will enter by yourself. The eleven lazy dogs are waiting for you!"

[Mind your language, Lady Atilla. They are the helm of The Administrator!]

Tang Shaoyang was surprised that Atilla dared to insult the eleven Executive Administrators. He was even more surprised to hear Adam's voice.

"I don't care whether they are core or the helm, or whatever. It doesn't change the fact that they barely do anything as Executive Administrators. Also, you don't have the right to reprimand me, Adam!"

"You are not my superior. Those lazy dogs are not my superiors either, even though they are higher in rank than me. I don't work for you! I don't work for them. I am working for myself."

"In fact, you are working for us, Adam. You must treat everyone equally, even if they are Executive Administrators instead of playing favor. Do you think I don't know how you give minimal information to the newbies, including Tang Shaoyang? Shut the f*ck up and just do your job! You can't even do your job properly to assist the newbies."

After saying that, Atilla left Tang Shaoyang alone while the man followed him. The smart Ai, Adam, did not say anything in return.

Tang Shaoyang thought about what Atilla said just now, and she was right. Even though there were people higher in rank than him. They were his direct superior. He did not work for them.

'I see... She is telling me not to obey anything those Executive Administrators ask me to do.'

Atilla was reminding him of that fact. While the Executive Administrator could take his class as an Administrator. They needed a reason to do so because, in the end, The System had the final decision, not them.

With that in mind, he pushed the door and entered the room. The first thing he saw was a small path with two tall walls on both of his sides. He could see the white marble floor ahead of him.

Following his path, he got to see the hall. It was a tall and round platform and missed a chunk of it which was where he came from. There were eleven white pillars above the platform, and on top of the pillar were where the Executive Administrators seated.

However, Tang Shaoyang could not see their faces because they covered themselves with a curtain. They were surrounded by the white curtain, from the top and the four sides. His Chaos Eyes could not see through the white curtain, but he could see their shadows. Five women and six men.

There was one Executive Administrator with an open curtain, and he recognized the person, Arion. He was smiling at him, waving his hand. Excited as if he met an old friend.

"Let's not waste our time and get straight to the problem!"

Someone spoke, but Tang Shaoyang could not differentiate whether it was a woman or a man. The tone was flat, almost like Adam speaking to him.

"Look at me, Tang!"

Tang Shaoyang looked at Arion, furrowing his brow. He made sure they showed that he did not like the situation. He was more like a prime suspect who was about to be interrogated and waiting for the judgment.

"We know you met one of The Emperors from The Void Cult, and we want to have questions for that matter. You don't have to worry about anything if you follow my advice: be honest and answer all our questions. You don't have to speak unless you are answering us."

"And I have one piece of advice for you all," Tang Shaoyang scanned the eleven Executive Administrators, "be quick, or else I will leave this place!"

"Hahahaha... This one has guts." Laughter echoed, but it was creepy because he could not differentiate whether it was a woman or a man. The laughter was so sore, and he couldn't tell the tone as well.

"What do you know about Void Cult?"

Arion was the first one to ask. Tang Shaoyang looked at Arion and answered, "A few things, here and there. Not much though because I only found out about them in the last mission."

Arion furrowed his brow, "Make it clear, Tang! I have been lenient with you, but it doesn't mean you can take me lightly."

"Take you lightly? Do you think so?" Tang Shaoyang shook his head.

He never took Arion lightly, or even respected Arion just because he had authority. Their relationship remained as a business partner. Arion helped him, and he gave Arion something in return. Similar to what they do in the Dimensional Tower.

"Just give me a clear answer, Tang!" Arion raised his voice, and his smile disappeared.

"Is that not clear enough? I only knew about them in the last mission, so I only knew a few things about them. Is that not clear enough? Which part you don't understand, Executive Administrator Arion? Why don't you change your question and be more specific if you want a specific answer?"

Arion could no longer maintain his expression and cracked into a smile. Then he looked at his comrades, "I can't really do it. You guys should ask the question yourself."

Then he blinked his right eye at Tang Shaoyang, "They asked me to roleplay as a dignified Executive Administrator in front of you to maintain the Executive Administrator's dignity which doesn't exist in the first place."

Arion slouched against his seat. His seat changed in shape, following his posture. That was a good chair for sure.

"You can give me that chair, and that will make us even."

Chapter 1715 The Void Gate

"Enough joking around, Arion!"

One of the Executive Administrators immediately interrupted. Even though it sounded toneless, Tang Shaoyang could feel the anger in it.

Tang Shaoyang was surprised with how far they went to hide their identity, even masking their voices. Covering their faces was not enough for them to go this far.

The problem was that was the same voice as someone who spoke earlier. He could not tell where the voice came from, and the voice was exactly the same. But he had a feeling that it was different people. He did not know who.

"This is weird. I don't know who I am talking to..." He muttered, loud enough for everyone in this hall to hear.

"You are talking to the Eleven Administrators, and you should be honored because not all Administrators could meet us!"

Again, the same flat and toneless voice. Tang Shaoyang gave up and did not care about these people anymore.

He chuckled, looking at the shadows behind the curtain, "That's a lame joke. How can you say that I am meeting you guys when you all hide behind that curtain. And why would I feel honored just to meet old fogies that I don't even know the face of."

Tang Shaoyang shook his head and could understand why Atilla did not respect these people.

"The reason you all sit there is not because you are better than me, but because you have been here far longer than me. Let's not waste our time with this pointless talk and get straight to the point. I have to complete my last quota of the month!"

"Oh, you don't have to worry about your quota for this month. Since you defend a world from The Void Cult and also fight an Emperor, that's enough to meet your quota for this month. Of course, you can take more missions if you want to."

Tang Shaoyang accepted that he might miss the World Congress again. However, he was glad to hear he already met the quota for the month from Arion.

'I guess I will watch Earth Tournament too,'

"Then let's waste our time. Why didn't the Emperor didn't kill you? Why are you still alive after meeting an Emperor?"

He immediately understood why he was being summoned by these people. They were suspicious of him being a spy from The Void Cult.

"Maybe because I am strong enough that he could not kill me," Tang Shaoyang shrugged.

He felt like he was kind enough to answer that question. If not that, he wanted to get all of this done quickly. He would not bother answering them and left right away after that one stupid question. However, he knew that they would not stop bothering him even if he left.

"Or maybe because you are one of them. With an excuse for surviving from an Emperor. The Void Cult expects us to promote you to Chief Executor quickly. But that would never happen!"

"That makes no sense, and your accusation is based on your imagination. But okay, let's not prolong the useless accusation. What do you want me to do to make you believe that I am not part of the Void Cult?"

Tang Shaoyang did not want to argue with them. These people were being delusional to accuse him based on their imagination, with no proof or logical basis. He only needed to prove to them that he was not one of the Void Cult. They wanted him to do something.

"It's simple. Take a special mission from us. You have to guard one Void Gate for ten years. That will be enough to clear you out of suspicion. Kill as many as Void Creatures, then we will trust you that you are not one of them!"

"Hah..."

Tang Shaoyang let out a sigh as soon as he heard their condition. He then looked up at Arion, the only one who seemed to cooperate with him.

"So, what is this Void Gate?"

"As its name implies, a gate connected to the Void Realm. We usually send a few or a group of Administrators to help guard the gate."

Tang Shaoyang furrowed his brow. Why did they guard it instead of destroying the gate?

"We can destroy it, but the gate will appear in another area. So it's better to set up a defense and guard the gate than destroy it. There are four Void Gates in total, and they all are located in the God Realm."

Then it made sense to guard the gate if the gate would appear in another place if it was destroyed.

"One more question, does one of your friends have a connection to The Nirvana Alliance or The God Alliance?"

He could not help but be suspicious because they were asking him to guard the Void Gate for ten years. It was the same duration as The Nirvana Alliance and The God Alliance's punishment. He was stuck in that Void Gate for ten years, not being able to make a progression in his Administrator Class or anything.

On top of that, he did not know if he could return to his world or not. If he was not allowed to get back, then it would be dangerous if his Empire was attacked by force from the other world. Or even if the other world initiated a war against his world. It would be dangerous, especially since Earth had been exposed to many other worlds because of him.

By this time, all his enemies in the Administrator Space must have found out about his world. If they knew that he was at the Void Gate, then they might attack Earth.

Of course, it did not mean guarding the gate had no benefit for him. He could use Void Creature as a sacrifice. Maybe the System would value Void Creature higher as sacrifice, so he might use them to his benefit. Summoning and advancing more spirits until he had an army of spirits.

Arion made a surprised expression and nodded his head, "You are quite smart. One of them is close to The God Alliance's leader." He did not forget to wink his right eye.

Tang Shaoyang observed the shadows, but none of them made movement. He hoped to catch the person related to the God Alliance.

"So one of you try to use this moment to help your friend. So this is what The Emperor mentioned about the dark side of The Administrator. An Executive Administrator tried to kill the high prospect Administrator to help his friend. I can understand why three Executive Administrators changed sides, maybe they were cornered by you guys."

"We don't need to hear your nonsense. Will you prove your innocence or not?"

"This will take so long if I have to argue with you guys..." Tang Shaoyang did not finish his words as he sensed movement from behind. He did not react cautiously because the movement did not trigger Absolute Sense, meaning it was not dangerous for him.

He turned around and saw a similar chair that Arion sat in and stopped right behind him.

It looked like the chair was made from hard material, similar to stone. But when he sat there, he did not feel like it was stone. In fact, it was more comfortable than any chair he had tried in his entire life.

"Don't worry, Tang. You can take your time. We are all idle anyway." Arion made a gesture of: "Don't thank me" when Tang Shaoang looked toward him.

He tried to lay down and the chair changed shape, following his body movement. With the new chair, he did not need to look up anymore.

"Yeah, I will not try to argue with you guys. It's useless anyway, so I don't want to waste my time with you guys. I will play your game. I will guard one of the Void Gates but with conditions."

Chapter 1716 Palmas

"First condition, let's make it one year instead of ten. Ten years guarding the Void Gate sounds more like a punishment than anything. I don't think I have done anything wrong to deserve that punishment."

"Second condition, I can return anytime to my world. Let's say I am allowed to return once a month, and so I have twelve days off in a year."

"Third condition, upon finishing my duty guarding the Void Gate. I want to be promoted to The Chief Administrator. In exchange, you can send me to the most frequently attacked gate."

"If you agree with those three conditions, I will take your special mission!"

If he thought about it, guarding the gate might not be as bad as he thought. It would be worth it if they agreed with those three conditions.

"Do you know that you just make yourself even more suspicious? Now you make us think you are part of the Void Cult."

Tang Shaoyang chuckled lightly, finding the accusation funny to him. They forced the theory that he was part of The Void Cult based on their assumption. The worst part, the accusation did not even make sense, illogical.

"Which part makes me even more suspicious? About me wanting a deserved reward for risking my life and staying away from my faction? If you are not going to reward me, why would I take the mission?"

"To prove your innocence!"

"Ah, yeah. We are back at it again. To prove my innocence? Am I guilty? Guilty of what? Just because I survived after meeting one of the Emperors from The Void Cult, and that makes me guilty? So that I need to prove my innocence now?"

"It was supposed to be a feat, a heroic feat and yet you make it like it was the wrong thing to do. All administrators must die when they meet an Emperor from the Void Cult. Nice logic."

Tang Shaoyang was not mad, in fact, he was giggling, "I heard a theory from my world that as you get older, your brain also gets smaller. How long have you lived? You all are too old, maybe your brain has shrunk this small?"

He showed the tip of his pinky finger, telling these people their brains were this small.

"Insulting us will only make things worse for you."

Tang Shaoyang shrugged, "Oh really? Then let's call it off. You can't force me to take the mission anyway, or else you can just force me to take the mission instead of calling me here."

"Before coming here, someone reminded me that even you are all higher-ranked administrators. You are not my superior, and I never work for you. You can't force me to take the mission. You summon me to coerce me to do something stupid like guarding The Void Gate for ten years with no benefit. It will work if it's someone else, but not me."

That was what made Tang Shaoyang act casually in front of these people.

"I guess you are a newbie for a reason. Do you know that we have authority so you and your team can't take any missions. You can't take a mission, and you will lose your class. Not just you, but your team as well."

Tang Shaoyang shrugged at the threat, "Then do it. I also want to see how The System will react to it. It's not that I don't want to take the mission, but because I can't take the mission. I am curious about the outcome."

There was no response from the Executive Administrator. It seemed they were not expecting his reaction to the threat. Or maybe the threat worked all the time, but they were at a loss that the threat did not work this time.

He did not care if he lost his Administrator Class. To him, Administrator was one of many paths for him to get stronger. If he lost the class, then he would find another way to get stronger. However, it was a pity that he would lose such an easy path since the Administrator Class was more straightforward.

It was followed by silence for thirty seconds. Tang Shaoyang smiled, rubbing his chin. He guessed the Executive Administrators were discussing something behind him. That was possible. He suddenly thought of an idea, a brilliant idea. At least, it was brilliant to him.

He stood up from the chair, "I have a better idea to prove my innocence!"

There was movement in the shadow behind the curtain, at least five out of ten shadows moved.

"You all agreed that I am suspicious because I survived after meeting The Emperor, right?" A wide grin formed on his lip, and his crimson eyes shone in excitement, "Then fight me! Let's take the stage and fight, and you will find out if I can survive an Emperor or not."

Arion burst out in laughter as soon as he heard the challenge. He knew what his friends tried to do against Tang Shaoyang, but he could not stop the majority. But nothing worked on Tang Shaoyang, and the scheme backfired. The proposal made sense, they would find out if Tang Shaoyang was strong enough to survive an Emperor in a fight.

"I told you! Your threats will never work on him. He is a madman!"

Tang Shaoyang did not put Arion on his fighting list since Arion was on his side. He observed the remaining ten Executive Administrators, waiting for their response. He expected them to accept his challenge because it would be embarrassing for the Executive Administrator to dodge the challenge.

Ten seconds passed... thirty seconds passed... then a minute passed...

Tang Shaoyang was not mad, and it was not funny either. He did not know how to react to their devoid reaction. He was speechless, not only were these people illogical, but they were cowardly.

Tang Shaoyang could understand why Atilla insulted them as dogs. No, dogs were better than them. It would be an insult to a dog to call them dogs. A dog would fight anything, even a bear to protect its owner. That was what he saw in a video back then.

"Enough! This is enough! I can't watch this anymore! This is so embarrassing, Palmas!"

Even though the voice was flat and toneless, Tang Shaoyang could feel the anger this time. And he heard a name this time, Palmas. One of the Executive Administrators called Palmas, and most likely the one who tried to set him up for ten years to guard The Void Gate.

Then a curtain was pulled open. Arion was at the rightmost pillar, at the very end. The one who just opened the curtain was three pillars away from Arion. It was a woman in a violet dress. She had long, burgundy-colored hair.

She looked like someone in her early thirties, but he knew that her look was deceiving. With how she pulled her curtain, it showed that she was annoyed and mad. Unfortunately, she looked straight at him instead of looking at one of the shadows. If she looked at one of the shadows behind the curtain, he might guess who Palmas was, whether this person was a woman or a man.

"You want to dodge your duty call by sending him in your place, but you are also using this chance to help your friend, and you are trying to delay him from progressing. You want him dead, and I have enough of this stupid shit!"

"The Void Cult is getting aggressive with their movement these days. And yet, here we are, playing a little stupid politics. The worst part, is you are trying to drive away the highest prospect Administrator from us!"

There was a pause for a moment. It seemed like Palmas was communicating secretly with this woman.

"No! No! No! I will not stop, Palmas. You set up all this bullshit, and when he challenges you. You don't have the f*cking courage to take the challenge! You cower from his challenge. You are an embarrassment! You are a disgrace to the Executive Administrator. And that's what makes me mad!"

"I don't care about your little stupid politics, or even if you are doing a favor for your friend. You can do whatever you want, but I can't let you embarrass me! So shut the f*ck up and let me clean your stupid mess. I will not stop unless you accept his challenge!"

The woman let out a steam. She was clearly embarrassed by this Palmas, and instead of letting it go like the other Administrators. She embarrassed Palmas instead by coming out.

Even though the words were meant for Palmas. She never made a gesture or even looked at where Palmas was. She kept Palmas hidden from Tang Shaoyang. Then it was followed by a silence after the woman vented out her anger, no one dared to speak after her.

The person called Palmas also did not talk back to this woman. That showed the women's position even among the Executive Administrators.

"That's what I thought. Keep hiding like a coward and don't you dare to interrupt me. Let me clean your mess!"

Then the woman focused on Tang Shaoyang. Her anger had not subsided yet.

Chapter 1717 Special Mission With Special Reward (1)

"And you! You know you can leave this place as soon as you hear his nonsense! You know he has nothing against you! Why don't you leave then when you know you can leave!? Why do you have to stay and insult us? I am doing you a favor by sending Atilla, and you dare to insult me!? You are the one with a small brain, you stupid little shit! You want to fight!? I will fight you!"

*cough* *cough*

Arion coughed two times, "Let's leave him and continue our meeting instead."

At the same time, Arion looked at Tang Shaoyang and shook his head fiercely. He was telling Tang Shaoyang not to accept the challenge for a fight.

The woman immediately glared at Arion, "We have many things to talk about too, Arion. Do you want me to start with you first!?"

Arion pretended to recline on his chair, but his lip moved. He was speaking without making any noise, 'Don't fight her. She is one of the strongest among us.'

Tang Shaoyang was bewildered to witness this. He was even surprised that no one dared to talk back to this woman. It seemed like there was a hierarchy among the executive administrators, and this woman was feared by the other executive administrators.

The woman then let out a long sigh, shaking her head, and calmed down. She closed her eyes for a moment, then she focused on Tang Shaoyang again.

"At this point, I trust him more than you, Palmas. I would rather send him to take your Guardian Draft than send you."

She muttered in a low voice, in utter disappointment of her comrade.

"As you heard, It's supposed to be Palmas' turn for the Guardian Draft routine. We usually send an Executive Administrator with a few teams to help Guardian to defend the Void Gate. But for some reason, he tried to dodge the Guardian Draft call this time."

"What do you think? Do you want to take the mission? Of course, you will be rewarded. I will agree with your conditions, but the length of the mission. The Guardian Draft call is usually four years, so the duration will be four years. You will lead the team to defend The Void Gate."

"I have seen your performance in your special mission. I don't think Senior Administrator is the right position for you, but everything has a process. Let's say, the four-year-long mission will be proof that you are worthy to receive a promotion to Chief Administrator."

"I will add one more condition, you can return to your world anytime if there's a special event in your world, including your once-a-month leave of absence. And of course, you will be rewarded for every Void Creature you kill as well."

Tang Shaoyang did not expect that the summon would turn into a special mission like this. Especially after the first discussion where they accused him of being part of the Void Cult. He thought it would end with him leaving the hall with nothing or maybe he would lose his Administrator Class at the worst. That was what he thought, but now he was offered a special promotion as a reward.

The promotion to Chief Administrator was the most tempting one. After taking his first three missions, he realized that it would be a dream to reach Chief Administrator in a few years. It had been almost three months since he became Senior Administrator. He only completed three missions so far, including the Special Mission.

He had twenty-two missions completed under his belt with the highest contribution reward from the special mission. But the special mission took a long time to finish, and it took him two months to finish the first special mission.

The bad thing about this special mission was that he did not know how dangerous or bad the situation near the Void Gate was. They said he was sent to help, which meant there was a force that guarded the Void Gate. The condition should not be that bad there.

Despite the external risks other than The Void Creature, he might get sabotaged by his enemies. That was not big of a threat compared to what he would get. Each mission had its risk, after all. He did not mind taking the big risk for the bigger.

"I will take the mission. Can you give me one week to prepare? There are a few things that I need to settle back into my world."

Tang Shaoyang made his decision. He decided to take the mission even though it meant it would be hard for him to return to his world. He could not get back to his world all the time. However, he had a solution for that. He might as well create a portal at the base near the Void Gate and Earth.

"You will have two weeks to prepare!" The woman added one more week.

"What about my team? Will they get promoted as well if they join me in this mission?" Tang Shaoyang remembered his team.

Even though he did not know if they wanted to follow him or not, he still asked whether they got the same benefit. If they decided to follow him, he must make sure they got some benefit. Or he could just disband the team, that might be better for them too than waiting for his return from his special mission if they decided not to follow him.

If an Executive Administrator like Palmas wanted to avoid the draft call to guard The Void Gate. He could understand why they did not want to follow him. Disbanding the team would allow them to join the other teams without receiving a bad profile. Kicking them out of the team would make the others hesitate to pick them.

"If you killed ten thousand Void Creatures during your mission, then you can promote one of your Admin Helper to Junior Administrator without using your promotion quota.

"If you killed a hundred thousand Void Creatures, you can promote one Junior Administrator in your team to Senior Administrator and an additional three promotion quota for Admin Helper."

"If you killed one million Void Creatures, then you can promote three Junior Administrators and five Admin Helpers. With the condition that only the people who join you in the special mission could receive that special promotion. How does that sound?"

Chapter 1718 Special Mission With Special Reward (2)

The woman was not only asking Tang Shaoyang, but the other Executive Administrators. To propose such an idea, she must obtain the other Executive Administrator's consent.

She received their voices through telepathy, seven yes-es, and three nos. That was more than enough to go through with her proposal to the System.

Tang Shaoyang nodded in agreement as well, "That's fair," Then he smiled at the woman, "Then I have a gift for you as well!"

Tang Shaoyang took out the Corrupted Immortal Emperor's severed arm. He placed the arm that had a heavy stench of Void Energy on the chair.

"I don't know if you can tell, but this is The Emperor's hand. I cut his hand even though he grew his arm so quickly."

He told his shadows to get the severed arm, in case he would need it for the report. He kept it himself instead of giving it to Ira because it was too dangerous. Now he did not need to include the hand in the report when he could give the hand directly to The Executive Administrator.

Tang Shaoyang turned around and left the hall.

"I will speak first before any of you utter any nonsense! Why are you trying to get rid of him? Is it not enough that we have lost three Administrator Spaces already? Is it not enough that we lose three Executive Administrators for your stupid politics!?"

She did not scream, but her voice was filled with pressure. No one answered her, even Palmas who initiated all of this.

"When can you learn!?" She was frustrated

The woman came down from her pillar and arrived next to Tang Shaoyang's chair. She took the hand and furrowed her brow. Then she looked up at Arion.

"You are in charge of monitoring him. Is it real?" She was talking about the hand.

The shadow moved and turned toward Arion.

Arion nodded as his face crunched unpleasantly. He remembered how Tang Shaoyang's body was almost split into two. That was right, he was there when The Emperor descended. But he prioritized closing the Void Realm, stopping the Void Creatures from crossing into Sulan.

However, The Corrupted Immortal Emperor sensed his presence and left along with the closed. He watched the fight and their exchange.

"Yeah, he did it by himself. His spirits did not fight with him. In fact, he recalled his spirits to protect them. He is a lunatic, he would rather die than let his spirits die."

Arion shook his head. He was speechless when Tang Shaoyang recalled the spirit. If he was Tang Shaoyang, he would use the spirit to block the attack.

"Finally we have a decent candidate to be one of us."

The woman turned toward Palmas who still hid behind the curtain. She knew where Palmas was, the last pillar on the left, right across Arion, where a man shadow seated.

"This time you are not going to touch him ever again, Palmas. If I find you trying to do something funny behind my back, then I am going to use everything to strip you of your position. I have been holding back because we are friends, I have enough of your bullshit."

"Wow! Wow! That's over the line, Clementine! You don't have to go that far. You are aware that we could not lose another Executive Administrator, right?"

The woman named Clementine shot toward the shadow three pillars away from Palmas, "We need an Executive Administrator who can fight and lead the other Administrators. Not someone who loves to play his mini-political game and act on his interest! If he can't fight, he should lead, but I don't think he is fit to lead either."

"Look what he did. He found someone who could stand with us here, and what he tried to do was to get rid of that person instead of nurturing him."

Clementine threw the severed arm in her hand toward the person she spoke to. It went through the curtain and the person inside caught it.

"That's real. I don't think that hand belongs to the ordinary member of The Void Cult. And I heard he also brought back one Void Cult member alive. He did good for us, and yet he was rewarded with a nonsense accusation."

The person inside the curtain examined the hand and nodded, "It's indeed a real deal."

The curtain opened and revealed a beastman with wolf ears. There was a huge scar across his face, a crossed scar on his chest. He had gray hair, grinning widely at Clementine.

"Whether he did good or not, you should still side with Palmas. Even though he is trash, he is our trash. He is one of us, and that Spirit Contractor guy is not one of us. That's too far for you to resort to such a thing against one of us, even if he is trash."

The beastman kept repeating the word trash. Even though it looked like he stood for Palmas, he kept calling him trash.

"It's just a matter of time. He would be one of us in a matter of time, Andre."

Clementine stated the obvious. Who did not want to be the Executive Administrator? With all the privilege they had, no one could refuse the position despite the big responsibility.

The beastman named Andred turned toward Arion, "What do you think, Arion? You are the closest one to him. What do you think of this guy aside from being a lunatic? Will he join us? Will he be useful to us?"

"Certainly he is useful to us, especially with his luck. He keeps finding new things in this old system. That strange powerful energy that could dominate most of the energy. The skill that could be used to tame calamity."

"Will he join us? He will join us if he sees benefits in joining, but I don't think he will prioritize Administrator work over his family or faction. If he had to choose between us and his faction, he would certainly choose his faction."

"We are not that close enough because he keeps a certain line from me. I could understand why he did so. I think the trial incident and this incident just convince him that's the right decision for him."

Arion reported his assessment of Tang Shaoyang during their short interaction. In fact, Tang Shaoyang became even more wary of him after knowing his real identity as Executive Administrator.

Chapter 1719 Special Mission With Special Reward (3)

"That trial manipulation is also Palmas doing..." They tried to settle it down by sending the Chief Administrator after finding out the root of the problem.

The Executive Administrator helped an outsider to kill the people who joined the trial, a System Event. They did not want Palmas' involvement to be exposed. It ended up with the System stepping in to solve the problem by sending an Avatar.

"I think it's actually better for Palmas to step down from his position. It's for his own good. He would end up killing himself for the stupid thing he did. It's not clear enough that The System favored him by sending an avatar to solve the incident?"

Clementine shook her head and massaged her head. Then she waved her hand at Andre, "You better watch him closely if you want to keep Palmas in his position. And he better not touch that Spirit Contractor from now on, or I will get involved too."

After warning Palmas, she returned to her position, "Let's continue the meeting. I just received a report that The Cult Void developed a new tool to summon Void Creature. It seems like they are still experimenting with this summoning scroll in the new world. We need to think of a countermeasure for this summoning scroll."

"Ah, we have Void Cult members too. One of us needs to interrogate that thing to find out more about this summoning scroll," Clementine took the lead in the meeting.

"If it's interrogation, you can leave them to me," Andre volunteered himself, "I will make sure to make him speak whatever he has in his head. I can make them speak even in his death."

The meeting continued as the black scroll was brought to them.

*** **

Tang Shaoyang walked through the same white hallway again. There was a lot in his mind, a lot of preparation.

First, he needed to take care of the issue of the Dimensional Tower. With him going to guard The Void Gate, he thought about changing the Dimensional Tower's level. He thought of choosing the Hell and Heaven Dimensional Tower for the second Dimensional Tower. Skipping Ancient Level Dimensional Tower after Sky Level Dimensional Tower.

He was afraid that Hell and Heaven Level Tower might be dangerous to explore without him. Now he thought that this was the worst timing for the special mission with four years duration, "Should I ask for an extra month?"

Tang Shaoyang was thinking of asking for an extra month so he could explore the Dimensional Tower for one month before leaving.

The second problem would be his territory in the God Realm. He had one year of protection, and it would expire in less than ten months. He thought of defending the territory by himself, but now he had this mission in hand.

If the situation in the Void Gate was that bad, he did not think it would be possible to leave his position there and defend his territory from a takeover. The more he thought about it, the more problems came up.

The third problem was that his wives. He did not know if they would agree to him leaving them for four years. They complained even when he left for two months. They complained about how little time he had to spend with them.

Atilla who guided Tang Shaoyang to the meeting was leaning against the wall in the hallway. She looked like waiting for Tang Shaoyang. However, Tang Shaoyang was so occupied with his own problem that he did not notice Atilla.

Since he was in the Administrator Space, he lowered his guard. No one would attack him here, so he was at ease. He went past Atilla, and the latter could not believe that Tang Shaoyang did not even say hi to her. But then she became less angry with how serious Tang Shaoyang looked.

She caught up and asked, "What do you think is so serious? Does the summon not go well for you?"

Tang Shaoyang snapped at his thoughts after hearing the familiar voice. He looked to the side, then looked around. He was making sure that Atilla talked to him.

"Nothing. Do you need something from me, Atilla?"

"Do I need something from you? I don't think so. Didn't I say before that we will meet again for the same mission? My team will be joining your special mission, so I just want to say hi."

Tang Shaoyang halted his steps and furrowed his brow, "How did you know about my special mission."

"I see, you are connected to one of the Executive Administrators. That makes sense. But I don't hear anything about you joining. And I don't plan to bring any teams with me, so yeah, I don't think we will meet for the same mission."

The reason was that he did not want to share the Void Creatures with the other teams. He wanted them all, the kill and the bodies. He would not share them with anyone. That was why he did not plan to bring other teams to the mission.

"But that's different from the order I received. Executive Administrator Clementine ordered me to watch and protect you," Atilla shrugged.

"Clementine?" Tang Shaoyang did not know which one was Clementine. He only knew two names in the Executive Administrator: Arion and Palmas.

"Ah, right, she indeed mentioned that you might not know her since she hasn't told her name yet. She is the woman who issued the special mission for you."

"Can I just go by myself?"

"I am afraid no. At least, I will not speak for you, but you can walk back to that room again and tell her that you don't want any team to join the special mission. I think they are all still inside because of your report from your last mission."

Atilla pointed the way back to the hall with her thumb, "I will not miss the chance to have fun."

Tang Shaoyang looked back. He considered walking back to that room, but he decided not to. He did not feel like arguing with them again.

"Whatever. But you should stay with your duty, watch and protect me instead of joining me to fight. Let's meet again before the mission. I am busy right now, there are a lot of things to take care of before I can leave for the special mission."

Tang Shaoyang walked away, waving his hand at Atilla.

Chapter 1720 Special Mission With Special Reward (4)

Tang Shaoyang returned to meet with his team in his room. He called them to his room, not just for the special mission but also for Torben and Prodan.

"There's another thing before I speak about the summon with The Executive Administrator."

He turned toward Torben and Prodan, "I am sorry Torben and Prodan, but I don't think you two are fit in my team. I don't see your impact on my team. You can't offer me any idea to solve our problem, and you are too cowardly to fight as well."

Torben and Prodan widened their eyes in shock. At first, they planned to quit the team as well because they did not like Tang Shaoyang who liked to take unnecessary risks. However, they changed their mind after the last three days of the last mission. They wanted to stick with Tang Shaoyang for an easy quota mission for their required promotion and also free credits. They did not expect that Tang Shaoyang wanted to kick them out.

"WHY!? We are listening to all your orders!? What's the difference between us and them!" Torben pointed at the Admin Helpers, Tang Shaoyang's Admin Helpers.

"Exactly because of that. I don't need Junior Administrators who act like Admin Helpers. If you can't fight, then you should offer me ideas to solve the problem. We wasted too much time in the investigation, and you two barely contributed anything at that time. You don't even speak during the meeting. I am doing the work by myself, why do I need to share the credits with you? You can choose to quit on your own, or I will kick you out of the team."

Prodan let out a sigh. He received this better than Torben as he realized that he was still acting like Admin Helper. He could not deny that, but because he was recently promoted to Junior Administrator.

"I can't accept this!" Torben stood up and pointed his finger at Anne, "What about her?"

"She is a Senior Administrator and a good talker. She solves the problem with Sheydos before the mission, and she is willing to fight too. Even though she was quite annoying at one time, at least, she was not a puppet that just followed my orders. I expect that from the Administrators in my team."

Anne put herself in the front when they fought a Void Creature while Torben and Prodan stood behind their Admin Helper. She made a good decision when she needed to, killing Baron Navares and his force when she realized the bigger issue. She could make a decision on her own instead of waiting for an order from Tang Shaoyang. On top of that, her stature as Senior Administrator added value to the team more than two Junior Administrators combined.

"You don't need to argue. Your arguing with me only convinces me to kick you out of my team. Not realizing what you are lacking is even worse. Now make your decision, do you want to get kicked out or quit the team on your own."

Tang Shaoyang was decisive and firm in his decision. He made the decision during the mission. Listening to Torben convinced him even more to kick them out.

Torben expected Prodan to fight together with him.

Prodan stood up and bowed, "I will quit the team on my team. Thank you for your advice, and I will work hard to improve."

He quit on his own and left the room with his three Admin Helpers.

Torben was surprised, gritting his teeth in frustration. He chose to quit the team on his own and chased after Torben.

"Will you kick me out as well if I can't contribute to the team?"

Anne asked after the two Junior Administrators left the room.

"Yes, but I don't think I will kick you out as long as you can make a decision in the team's interest instead of your own interest and willing to fight."

"I don't think you will kick them so quickly. You should give them more time. They were recently promoted to Junior Administrator. They had not adapted to their new role yet. You should give them more time instead."

Ira thought of giving them a second chance. She just did not expect that Tang Shaoyang would kick them out without discussing it beforehand.

Tang Shaoyang waved his hand at her, "I have to kick them out now," Then he turned toward Anne, "I will not kick you for now, but you need to work harder. That's enough for this. There's something more important than that. It's about my meeting with the Executive Administrators."

For them, the Executive Administrator was like a king. They revered them as a king, that is what it looked like from his perspective. They were excited to hear what the meeting was about. They wanted to know what the eleven Executive Administrators looked like as well.

Tang Shaoyang told the meeting how one of them accused him as part of the Void Cult and the special mission. When he mentioned The Void Gate, he could see their expression changed. They were deterred by the mission. It seemed like they were still afraid of the Void Creature even though they fought them before.

He then mentioned the reward for killing the Void Creatures. The moment he mentioned the special promotion. Their eyes were lit in excitement. A quick promotion was too tempting for them.

"As for who will get the special promotion, you will have to fight for that. Whoever killed the most Void Creatures will get the four special promotions."

Nayla raised her hand, "Why four? Don't you have five promotion slots if we kill one million Void Creatures?"

Since Tang Shaoyang said for special promotions, that meant he aimed to kill one million Void Creatures. But he said to fight for the remaining four slots instead of five.

"Ira will get one special promotion. I think she deserves it since she created this team, no?"

No one protested when he told them the reason. Ira was the reason they were on this team. He needed Ira to be in a higher status, so she would be a better representation for the team.

"What about me? What's my reward for joining the special mission? Will I get that special promotion too?"

Anne did not hear anything about the Senior Administrator promotion, meaning there was none. That meant there was no benefit for her to join.