

LET'S DIVORCE AS AGREED

Chapter 13

After leaving, Gu Shaoting called He Ming and asked him to bring Fu Shaohuai to Shining Gold for drinks.

He drove recklessly and arrived at the destination. A private room had been reserved for them.

He opened a bottle of imported liquor, poured a glass, and downed it, but it couldn't alleviate the frustration in his heart. According to reason, seeing Shu Laide in his current state should bring him great satisfaction, but the image of Shu Pan sobbing and looking pitiful kept bothering him.

Soon, both He Ming and Fu Shaohuai arrived.

"Brother Ting, what's going on? You have time to invite your brothers for a drink. Isn't Tong Fei back? She asked me for your number. Weren't you two together today?" Fu Shaohuai teased.

When Gu Shaoting was still with Tong Fei, they often hung out together. For some reason, the two broke up, and Gu Shaoting married Shu Pan. They didn't dare to mention Tong Fei's name in front of her. However, based on Gu Shaoting's attitude towards Tong Fei before and now his attitude towards Shu Pan, there was a clear difference. Subconsciously, Fu Shaohuai felt that Gu Shaoting still couldn't let go of Tong Fei. After all, they weren't even on the same level in terms of appearance.

"Get lost," Gu Shaoting glanced coldly, scaring Fu Shaohuai's heart to race.

"He's in a bad mood, don't provoke him," He Ming, seeing Gu Shaoting's expression, guessed part of the situation. "Did you have a confrontation with Shu Pan?"

"Shu Laide deserves it. Come, let's toast." Gu Shaoting's tone was low, but his words were sharp and emotionless. They all understood the entanglement between them and didn't say a word. They filled their glasses with wine and drank.

Suddenly, Fu Shaohuai's phone rang. "Tong Fei, we're here at Shining Gold, Room 302. Come over." After hanging up, Fu Shaohuai informed them that Tong Fei was coming.

“Brother Ting, I heard you went to the hospital with Tong Fei today. What’s the situation?” Fu Shaohuai was gossiping.

“She wasn’t feeling well. I know the doctors there, so I took her.” Gu Shaoting remained in his initial position on the sofa, smoking.

Twenty minutes later, the reddish-brown door of the private room was pushed open, revealing a tall figure and a stunning face. “Are you all here?” Tong Fei’s voice was soft as she sat beside Gu Shaoting. At that moment, Gu Shaoting exuded charm, with two of his shirt buttons undone, revealing his sexy collarbone.

Tong Fei was instantly captivated. She thought, “In this world, there’s probably no one else who can perfectly blend elegance and unruliness like him.”

She suddenly regretted her impulsive decision. If she had accepted Gu Shaoting’s proposal back then, perhaps they would already have children now. She made him wait three years for her career to stabilize before going abroad. But after just one month, she heard the news of Gu Shaoting’s marriage. However, she thought he was just trying to spite her, so she planned to return to him once her career was stable. But it was too late. Gu Shaoting had already married.

Today, feeling unwell, she called him for help. In the past, he would have been very concerned, but this time, he only took her to the hospital, introduced her to a doctor, and left in a hurry.

She started to panic. She had been convinced that he hadn’t changed, but now she was uncertain. So, when she learned that he was at Shining Gold tonight, she didn’t want to miss this opportunity. She wanted to win him back at any cost.

Tong Fei pushed her long hair behind her ears, displaying a charming demeanor.

“Shaoting, drink less. Alcohol is harmful to your body.” She lightly touched his arm with her hand. Her whispering voice and gentle tone were hard to ignore.

“It’s fine, keep drinking. Bottoms up.” Watching Gu Shaoting’s rogue behavior, Fu Shaohuai and He Ming could only reluctantly accompany him.

Later, Fu Shaohuai and He Ming had to leave for something. Tong Fei took the initiative to take care of Gu Shaoting. The two observant individuals understood Tong Fei’s intentions and bid their farewells.

Gu Shaoting had drunk quite a bit, and his consciousness was a bit unclear. He staggered as he walked. Tong Fei supported him, opened the car door, and drove to her own home.
