

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6057 -

“Go to Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical?”

James Smith asked subconsciously, and then asked in surprise, “Why do you go to Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical?”

Arlo Hu said in a somewhat excited voice, “There is a friend, help me I settled the clinical trial quota of Jiuxuan Zaizao Pill with my girlfriend. He seems to have something to do with the senior management of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical. I asked him for a quota for Little Jimmy, and he agreed. We are rushing to meet there now. , you hurry up and bring little Jimmy over here too!”

James Smith couldn’t believe his ears, and asked doubtfully, “Haven’t the two of you already been brushed off by them? Little Jimmy can’t meet their points standard either, What is the origin of your friend? How can he have such a great ability?”

Arlo Hu said, “I don’t know what his origin is. He said that he has a very good relationship with Liam of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical, although there is nothing to prove that he is true. I know Mr. Liam, but I feel that he is not joking with us, so I am somewhat sure about this matter.” “How is it possible...”

James Smith said very seriously, “Arlo, Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical You don’t know much about the inside story, but I can tell you clearly that even Liam is just a spokesperson for the boss behind Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical, and he absolutely dare not open the back door to anyone in this matter.”

Arlo Said, “But what he said was very sincere. I don’t think he really seemed to be joking with us. Anyway, you are in Aurous Hill, and we have already returned. Bring little Jimmy to come and try with us, even if it doesn’t work. There is nothing to lose.”

James Smith hesitated for a moment, and asked him, “Arlo, what is the name of your friend? How did you meet?”

Arlo Hu said, “His name is Kaiden, and we We met while hiking.”

“Kaiden?” James Smith was even more surprised, “If the person you know is called charlie Wade, then this matter should be fine, but Kaiden... I have never heard of this person ah.....”

Then, James Smith asked again, "How old is this Kaiden you're talking about?"

Arlo Hu said, "It looks like he's in his early 20s."

James Smith muttered in a low voice with some disappointment, "In his early 20s...then look It should not be charlie Wade, charlie Wade is almost thirty years old..."

Arlo Hu asked him, "Mr. Smith, how is little Jimmy?"

"Not too good..." James Smith said in a very decadent voice, " The doctor in Aurous Hill said that little Jimmy's cancer cells had spread to many organs, and the cancer cells were already somewhat immune to chemotherapy drugs.If the course of treatment doesn't improve much, I'm afraid we can only use palliative therapy. In that case, it's basically the terminal stage..."

Arlo Hu asked, "Where is little Jimmy now? Are you at church with you? "

"No." "James Smith said, "Little Jimmy is undergoing chemotherapy in the day ward of Aurous Hill People's Hospital, and his mother is with him.

Arlo Hu asked in surprise, "Is your wife here too? " "

"Yes. "James Smith said, "She settled things in the United States a few days ago, sold the house, and then brought her daughter here. Recently, the two children have been entrusted to her to take care of them. My main energy is on Church here.

Arlo Hu sighed softly, and asked him, "Then...Mr. Smith, are you going to bring little Jimmy here?" If you are together, I will wait for you at the gate of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical. "

James Smith thought for a moment, gritted his teeth and said, "There is an old saying in Huaxia that it is better to believe what you have than to believe what you have not. How about this, I will go to the hospital to pick up little Jimmy now, and then I will meet you at the gate of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical!"

Arlo Hu said, "No problem, let's meet at the door of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical. "

Speaking, Arlo Hu urged again, “By the way, Mr. Smith, my friend said that this is a special operation to a certain extent, so let’s not make it public. “

James Smith said without thinking,” I understand! “

James Smith hung up the phone, and said to friends in the church, “I have something to go first, so I’m counting on you here.” “

Most of the friends in the church are from the United States like Smith. Several of them came to Aurous Hill earlier. Due to their religious beliefs, they quickly got acquainted with each other in the church, and then started some small charities together with the church.

James Smith is also a Christian. After bringing his son to Aurous Hill, he instinctively found the church and got acquainted with everyone.

Several people knew about his condition, and knew that he had a terminally ill son who was currently undergoing chemotherapy in the day ward of Aurous Hill People’s Hospital, but it was said that it was only a delay in the process of death. On the whole, Smith’s son was running out of time.

So, hearing that Smith had something to leave, one of them quickly asked, “James, is something wrong? Do you need our help?” This

James Smith shook his head and said, “I’m going to pick up my son, and try my luck at Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical to see if there is any chance.”

The man nodded and said, “I have something to do If you can help, please contact us at any time.”

Since they came to Aurous Hill, they first took their children and set up a file in Aurous Hill People’s Hospital, and then began to use the same regimen as in the United States for chemotherapy here. At the beginning, he lived in a hotel near the hospital and waited for his wife, Jenny. After arranging everything in the United States and rushing to Aurous Hill with their daughter, they rented a house near the hospital.

James Smith followed charlie's advice and was busy doing charities in Aurous Hill every day. His wife Jenny, according to the hospital's requirements, took the child to the hospital when chemotherapy and examinations were needed, and took the child to the hospital at night Go home and rest.

Little Jimmy's cancer has basically entered the terminal stage. The chemotherapy drugs currently used are the best and the latest on the market, but even so, they cannot cure the cancer. What can be done is to delay the spread of cancer cells as much as possible.

For cancer patients, the best result is to find carcinoma in situ, which can be completely cured after resection. If the cancer has metastasized, the best result is to find available targeted drugs.

However, different people have different genes. Some people are lucky enough to find the target of targeted drugs in their genes, and they can rely on targeted drugs to achieve very good therapeutic effects.

Some people are unlucky and cannot find any target in their genes, so they cannot be treated with targeted drugs. There is no targeted drug available, so only traditional chemotherapy and radiotherapy remain.

In the current situation of little Jimmy, chemotherapy is the last barrier, but James Smith is very clear that this last barrier is already in jeopardy, and the time it can last may only be a few months.

James Smith came to the day ward of the hospital with ease. At this time, every bed in the ward was lying on a cancer patient undergoing chemotherapy.

Among these cancer patients, little Jimmy was the youngest.

Originally, there was a 5-year-old child with end-stage leukemia. Some time ago, the child passed the approval of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical, got a place for clinical trials, and was transferred to the internal laboratory of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical for treatment. .

At that time, James Smith was very envious, but I can't help it if I'm envious. According to the points system of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical, children who are young, have severe symptoms and have difficult families are often given priority for selection.

At this time, Jimmy was lying on the hospital bed. His body was already emaciated, his hair had completely fallen out, and he looked very fragile. At this moment, his eyes were slightly closed, and he seemed to have fallen asleep.

James Smith's wife, Jane James, was sitting tiredly on a stool by the bed.

Seeing her husband coming in, Jenny asked in surprise, "James, why are you here? Isn't the church going to prepare relief for the homeless this afternoon?"

James Smith didn't answer her question, but looked at the child on the bed, asked her "Is Jimmy asleep?"

Jenny nodded slightly, and said distressedly, "His vomiting is getting worse and worse. The doctor added some anti-emetic drugs to her chemotherapy drugs, but the newly added drugs will make her feel sick." He's lethargic."

As she spoke, Jenny said in a low voice with red eyes, "Smith, the results of enhanced CT two days ago came out, and Jimmy's cancer cells are still growing and spreading. This week's chemotherapy basically didn't improve. The doctor said, right now His physical condition has begun to decline rapidly, like an elevator falling out of control from a high altitude. The chemotherapy drugs can barely slow down his falling speed, but at most it will be extended from two months to two and a half months, or even three months. It's hard to reach it for a month..."

At this point, Jenny covered her face and broke down in tears.

James Smith hurriedly stepped forward to embrace her in his arms, and comforted her in a low voice, "Don't cry, there may be other opportunities."

Jenny shook her head and said, "I don't want to hold any hope blindly anymore, I'm thinking now, Should Jimmy's chemotherapy be stopped, and for the remaining few months, take him back to the United States. His grandparents, maternal grandfather and maternal grandmother are all waiting to see him. Returning to the United States can at least make the last stage of his life and The family is together."

James Smith said, "There is still one last chance, although I don't know how likely this chance is to succeed, but as long as there is still a chance, it must be much better than no chance."

As he spoke, he said to Jenny, "Let the nurse pull out Jimmy's needle, I'm going to take him out!"

Jenny asked in surprise, "Where are you taking him?"

James Smith remembered that Arlo Hu had told him not to go out revealed, so he said, "Don't ask so many questions first, I promised the other party not to talk nonsense, but don't worry, if there is any result, I will tell you as soon as possible!"
