James Smith didn't speak, the speed under his feet was a little faster, and he ran out of the hospital like escaping.

Jenny hurriedly chased him out of the hospital. Seeing James stopping the car at the door, she stomped her feet angrily, crying and asked, "James, what are you doing? No matter what, you can't make fun of your son's life!"

Arlo Hu said, "I don't know the specific situation, can you let me make a call first?"

The security guard nodded and said, "Calling is fine, but the time can't be too long, because we also have regulations here"

charlie smiled lightly "You're welcome."

After finishing speaking, he hung up Arlo Hu's phone and called Liam.

The phone rang twice, and Liam's voice came over, "Master Ye, what do you want to call?"

charlie asked him, "Liam, has the clinical trial quota for Jiuxuan Zaizao Pills been finalized?"

"Liam hurriedly said, "Master wade, there is still the last batch of places, a total of 50 people, and they are evaluating quickly. It is expected that the final ranking will be released in two days, and the final list of the final batch will be determined by then." "

Okay "charlie smiled slightly and said, "By the way, because I called you, I wanted you to add three quotas. You remember what I said, it is to add three quotas, not to let you go from the last batch of fifty Among individuals, three places are evenly allocated."

Liam asked, "Master wade, do you mean that the last batch of big names should be fifty-three people?"

charlie hummed, "Yes."

Liam said, "Master wade, now The doses of the medicines are well adapted, and there is no way to even out the doses of the three extra people, if I dilute part of the medicines from the other fifty people, can I divide it into 53 parts?" "No." charlie said casually “After you take the three of them into treatment, give them the normal course of medication. I’m out of town for a few days, and I’ll give you the missing medicine when I go back in two days.” Liam said without hesitation, “Okay, Master wade charlie said again, “By the way, the three of them are at the gate of Jiuxuan Pharmaceutical now. You can pick them up in person. One is Arlo Hu, the other is Hallie, and the third is your old acquaintance. The fda’s James Smith.”
