

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6081 -

In Eric Wang's eyes, Charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er (Alani) are his gods of wealth. Since they are going up the mountain, of course he has to cooperate with all his strength.

So, he immediately said to the two of them, "You two distinguished guests, wait a moment, I will gather some people and bring more lighting equipment to go up with you!"

Charlie Wade waved his hand and said, "No need, we are still in the stage of secret investigation. I hope the news leaks out. You don't have to deliberately arrange it. Let other people get off work and take a rest. Remove all the staff and security guards on Zhicheng Mountain. In addition, let the security guards stop all surveillance on Zhicheng Mountain. The two of us just go up and have a look."

In the past, if someone made such a request, Eric Wang would never agree to it. Although the mother tree on Erlang Mountain is not the best Pu'er tea tree, it is at least a well-known one in southern Yunnan. It is also the core competitiveness of the entire Zhicheng Group. If someone steals the branches and goes back to graft and breed, it will be a great threat to the Zhicheng Group.

But now Eric Wang doesn't need to think about this. As long as he takes good care of the two in front of him, the entire Zhicheng Group will be the property of the Su Group after the contract is signed tomorrow, and the mother tree on Erlang Mountain will naturally become part of the assets of the Su Group, what else do I have to worry about?

So, he immediately agreed and said with a smile, "Wait a minute, I'll arrange it!"

Soon, the security guards on Erlang Mountain who were on duty 24 hours to guard the mother tree were withdrawn.

All surveillance cameras on Erlang Mountain have also been cut off from power supply.

After doing all this, Eric Wang said courteously, "The two of you may not know much about the situation of Zhicheng Mountain. It may be inconvenient to climb the mountain at night without a guide. How about I go up with you?" charlie Wade exchanged ideas with Lin Wan'er (Alani)

. With a glance, seeing that Lin Wan'er (Alani) seemed reluctant, she said to Eric Wang, "No need for Director Wang, we have already learned about the situation of Zhicheng Group, and the situation of Zhicheng Mountain. Thank you for your support at the foot of the mountain." , don't let anyone other than us go up the mountain."

Eric Wang said without hesitation, "No problem, no problem! You two feel free to go up the mountain, and I will arrange the rest!"

Eric Wang brought charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er (Alani) two bright flashlights, brought them to the intersection up the mountain, and did not follow them up the mountain again.

charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er (Alani) went up the mountain all the way, and there was indeed no trace of other people along the way, and all the monitoring probes were indeed cut off.

Since Erlang Mountain has been operated by Zhicheng Group for many years, Zhicheng Group has built the entire Erlang Mountain into a layer-by-layer terraced field model, and a large number of tea trees are planted on each layer.

In addition, Zhicheng Group also built a stone step road up the mountain and a freight cableway specially used to transport fresh tea.

When the tea harvest season comes, the workers walk up the mountain to pick it. After picking a certain amount of each layer, the tea is collected and transported down the mountain by cableway for processing.

On the way up the mountain, Lin Wan'er (Alani) would often pick a leaf from the tea tree at hand and chew it gently in her mouth.

Seeing her tasting all the way, charlie Wade couldn't help but ask, "How's the quality of these teas?"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) smiled slightly, and said to charlie Wade, "The higher the level of the tea here, the better the quality, but the overall level is still a lot worse. , can't reach high quality, but the new teas seem to have this kind of problem. Over the years, the good Pu'er tea I've tasted, except for the tea produced by the mother of Pu'er tea, there is nothing left. One exception is tea cakes with a history of more than a hundred years, and the new tea leaves in recent years are actually not very good."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said, "My family thinks that this should also have something to do with the development of science and technology. In any case, the tea trees can't grow as densely as they are now. In other words, the output of the current tea varieties is at least three times that of before; Each piece of tea is very plump and has a very good color. What's more, it can control insect pests very well, so the yield rate is also is tall, she grows more, and the damage is less, so the overall output is much stronger than in ancient times. "

"In recent years, the same is true of tea breeding ideas. The higher the yield, the better the appearance, the better the appearance, and the stronger the pest resistance, the better. Combined with chemical fertilizers and pesticides, the output per unit area is naturally geometric times Growth,"

At this point, Lin Wan'er (Alani) changed the subject, and said, "However, with the continuous cultivation of new varieties in this direction, the yield and yield rate have increased, but the taste of tea is actually decreasing. If there is a chance, I can try it in the future. Cultivate new varieties in the opposite direction to see if you can get back the taste of the tea of the past, but the premise is to find a good planting tree first, and the good planting tree that I said is to inherit as much tea tree genes as possible The variety is not the variety that is now improved by technology.

charlie Wade nodded and said, "Aren't we still going to Banna? " In the place where the mother of pucha grew up, you should be able to find her descendants, right? "

Lin Wan'er (Alani) couldn't help but said with some anticipation, "I also think so. When I was in Banna, I once taught the local tea farmers how to use the mother plant of the mother of Pucha for grafting and breeding. I just don't know that so many years have passed. Does anyone continue to breed the daughter plants of the mother of pucha? If they can find them in Banna this time, they will bring some back and cultivate them here. "

The two chatted while walking, and the distance from the mountain was getting closer and closer.

As the huge tea tree got closer, Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s mood became more and more excited

. It's been more than three hundred years, but she still recognized this tea tree.

Seeing that her body was trembling slightly, Charlie Wade couldn't help asking her, "Should it be here? "

"It's here..." Lin Wan'er (Alani) nodded heavily, and said softly, "I can recognize this tree, and I even remember the scars on its body." "

Speaking, she couldn't help feeling, "Hundreds of years is an unimaginable time span for people, but for a tree, there is almost no change. After three hundred years, it is still the same. It is here, although it is more lush and thicker, but the appearance has not changed much. Immediately, she pointed to a bowl-sized scar on the tree trunk, and said to Charlie Wade, "The slave family used this scar as a mark at that time, and buried their parents' ashes three steps away from the scar. After she finished speaking, she walked three steps along the direction formed by the tree scar.

After standing still, Lin Wan'er (Alani) did not shed tears, she just bent down silently, gently stroked the soil on the ground, and murmured, "Father, mother, Wan'er I'm coming to see you. "

After such a long time, Lin Wan'er (Alani) returned to her parents' spirits for the first time. Lin Wan'er (Alani) was in a very complicated mood, but she was not very sad. After so many years, it's just that Wan'er is alone and weak, unable to fight against Sara, so I haven't come to visit you for so long, and I hope you don't blame Wan'er..." Seeing this, Charlie Wade only wanted to do his best to help Sara

. Lin Wan'er (Alani) solved all the problems, so she said, "Miss Lin, don't worry, I will ask the Banks family to build a helipad here and buy another helicopter. If you want to come over in the future, take the Banks family's private plane directly from Aurous Hill to Poole Airport. When you get out of the airport and take a helicopter to come here, it's the same when you go back. Let the whole traffic process form a closed loop. Even if Paqing will stop dormant, it's impossible to find you. At that time, you can often come from Aurous Hill. “

Lin Wan'er (Alani) was slightly taken aback, and said, “The slave family thought that the son spent a lot of time buying this place for the slave family, so that the slave family could live here in the future. “

charlie Wade hurriedly said, “Farewell, to deal with Sara and the Po Qinghui, I'm afraid I'm not capable of doing it alone. Ms. Lin knows the Po Qinghui quite well. If I can stay in Aurous Hill, it will definitely help me a lot. As for Here, I will let people seize the time to renovate, and then replace a batch of people here. After ensuring safety, Ms. Lin will be able to come here often. Lin Wan'er was overjoyed, she couldn't help smiling, and said softly, “Thank you for your trouble, my lord!” It is the blessing of the slave family to be able to share the worries for the son! “
