

The Amazing son in law (charlie wade) - The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6363

In order to make a quick decision, charlie Wade did not open the wooden box immediately.

He just scanned it with his spiritual energy and immediately felt two things placed inside.

One piece was a thick book, and charlie Wade guessed that it should be a photocopy of the “Preface to the Nine Mysteries Sutra”; the other piece was a metal pagoda-like thing.

After confirming that the things were fine, charlie Wade subconsciously wanted to take back his consciousness and quickly left the Zhou Manor with the things. However , the moment charlie Wade’s aura swept past the pagoda, the pagoda seemed to be aware of his presence, and then, charlie Wade felt his own aura. Without any warning, he was forcibly attracted to the pagoda.

What made him even more unexpected was that because his own spiritual energy was controlled by his divine consciousness, which was an invisible extension of his spiritual consciousness, when the spiritual energy was absorbed by the pagoda, it was also drawn from his own spiritual sea. A ray of consciousness was forcibly taken away!

At this moment, charlie Wade felt that the world in front of him seemed to be in chaos, and everything he looked at was dark, except for a hazy light directly in front of him. There was nothing in this chaos, just like a gray The thick fog had a suffocating sense of oppression.

Immediately afterwards, charlie Wade felt a loud rumbling sound in front of him, and even the ground was shaking continuously. Just when he was at a loss, the ground suddenly opened several cracks, and dazzling golden light burst out from the cracks.

At this moment, the world around charlie Wade was shaken, and to his disbelief, a golden square pagoda actually burst out of the crack.

This golden pagoda was glowing with golden light. As more parts were exposed to the ground, the golden light became more dazzling. Charlie Wade started by looking down at the top of the pagoda, watching the pagoda getting higher and higher, even as high as standing at the foot of the pagoda. Looking up, the top of the tower can no longer be seen.

This square pagoda is majestic and intimidating.

Just when Charlie Wade was in shock at that moment, the two golden doors of the pagoda opened from the inside to the outside. The golden light was dazzling when the doors were opened, and it was impossible to see what was happening inside.

Charlie Wade couldn't tell whether he did it intentionally or not, and his legs began to move towards the door uncontrollably.

The closer he got to the pagoda gate, the more dazzling the golden light became. Charlie Wade felt that the bright light in front of him was even brighter than looking directly at the sun at noon, but he never expected that when he actually walked into the pagoda, the golden light in front of him suddenly stopped.

His vision went dark for an instant, and then he saw thousands of monks sitting cross-legged and chanting sutras in an open space. Directly in front of them was a busy construction site, where countless ancient craftsmen were building a In the Sifang Pagoda, the leading monk sits cross-legged on a high wooden platform, wearing a golden cassock.

When Charlie Wade saw the square pagoda, it looked a little familiar, but also a little unfamiliar. He always had a feeling of déjà vu, but for a while he couldn't remember where it looked familiar.

At this moment, the scene in front of him suddenly quickly left the construction site and passed over the imperial city.

Charlie Wade "overlooked" the city, and combined with the history he had learned and the historical documents he had read, he suddenly understood.

The city in front of us at this time is actually Chang'an in the prosperous Tang Dynasty more than a thousand years ago!

It was also at this moment that he finally understood that the square pagoda he just saw should be the current scenic spot in Chang'an, the Big Wild Goose Pagoda.

And what I saw was what the Big Wild Goose Pagoda looked like when it was being built!

The reason why it looks both familiar and unfamiliar is probably because the Big Wild Goose Pagoda was rebuilt several times after it was built. The appearance, features, and even the number of floors of the Big Wild Goose Pagoda itself have all undergone great changes

Moreover, the many reconstructions of the Big Wild Goose Pagoda happened hundreds of thousands of years ago. People have only seen the appearance of the Big Wild Goose Pagoda after five major modifications and it has been handed down to this day. No one knows its original appearance, so Charlie Wade has such a look. A feeling that seems familiar but dare not confirm.

Charlie Wade couldn't help but murmured, "So, the eminent monk I just saw is the famous Tang Monk, Tang Xuanzang?"

Just as he was thinking about it, the scene passed by the bustling Chang'an City and came to a building in the south outside Chang'an City. Among the Taoist temples in Qingshan.

From the terrain, Charlie Wade recognized that this place was the northern foot of Zhongnan Mountain, and the three characters "Zongshenguan" on the gate of Taoist Temple made him immediately recognize that this place was known as the most blessed place in the world and the holy land of Taoism. Tower viewing platform.

Louguantai is the birthplace of Taoism, and it is also said to be the place where the founder of Taoism, Laozi, preached. In the Tang Dynasty, Taoism was pursued by Li Yuan, who named it Zongshenguan.

In the picture at this time, a group of thin-boned Taoist priests wearing green shirts, long hair, and buns were sitting cross-legged on a platform in Zongshenguan, and they were making uniform handprints in the void. Devotion and focus.

Charlie Wade could tell at a glance that without exception, they were all monks who mastered spiritual energy, and every hand seal they made contained surging spiritual energy, and they seemed to be working together to complete some kind of huge formation.

What's even more amazing is that in front of these Taoist priests, a square treasure tower made of pure gold is suspended in mid-air and slowly rotating. This square treasure tower is exactly the one contained in the wooden box just now!

The handprints made by these Taoist priests, without exception, all disappeared into the treasure pillars. As they continued to use their spiritual energy and formations to support them, the four treasure pillars also glowed with golden light, reflecting each other with the Big Wild Goose Pagoda dozens of miles away!

At this time, the leader DaoThe man said, "When we complete the formation of this treasure tower, and Master Xuanzang completes and consecrates the pagoda, these two will complement each other and ensure the prosperity of the Tang Dynasty for eight hundred years! All the brothers and sisters have spent their whole lives on this, which can be regarded as a blessing." We have dedicated our lives to the people of the Tang Dynasty!"

A group of Taoist priests looked extremely pious and said in unison, "We only wish that the country of the Tang Dynasty will last forever, the country will be prosperous, and the people will be healthy!"

charlie Wade was even more horrified in his heart.

Unexpectedly, the four directions treasure tower was built by these attained monks working together.

What's more, I didn't expect that the four-sided treasure tower built and blessed by these Taoist priests and the Big Wild Goose Pagoda built under the supervision of Master Xuanzang were actually important national weapons that complemented each other and protected the country of the Tang Dynasty!

But he couldn't help but secretly wonder, "Since these two things, the big one and the small one, are magic tools made with the hard work of eminent monks and Taoists, why did the Tang Dynasty fail to flourish for eight hundred years as the Taoist priest said? Even, the Tang Dynasty The lifespan of the dynasty was less than three hundred years."

Just when charlie Wade was surprised, he suddenly thought that he did not recognize the Big Wild Goose Pagoda at the first time just now because the Big Wild Goose Pagoda has been rebuilt several times. It is said that only In the Tang Dynasty, three versions were changed. Could it be that the changes destroyed the Feng Shui structure jointly constructed by the Big Wild Goose Pagoda and the Sifang Baozhuang?

In doubt, charlie Wade felt that the scene in front of him was gradually fading away like the tide at low tide, and his consciousness gradually retreated back to the pagoda rising from the ground.

But the pagoda did not retain its own consciousness. It pushed the ray of its own consciousness out of the door, and then closed the door tightly. The entire pagoda collapsed back to the ground little by little, and everything around it returned to the original chaos!

But charlie Wade didn't notice that the moment the pagoda collapsed back to the ground, it also left a ray of divine consciousness, and this ray of divine consciousness actually disappeared directly into charlie Wade's ray of divine consciousness. Without knowing it, I merged with his consciousness...

The Amazing son in law (charlie wade) - The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6364

Moreover, the many reconstructions of the Big Wild Goose Pagoda happened hundreds of thousands of years ago. People have only seen the appearance of the Big Wild Goose Pagoda after five major modifications and it has been handed down to this day. No one knows its original appearance, so charlie Wade has such a look. A feeling that seems familiar but dare not confirm.

charlie Wade couldn't help but murmured, "So, the eminent monk I just saw is the famous Tang Monk, Tang Xuanzang?"

Just as he was thinking about it, the scene passed by the bustling Chang'an City and came to a building in the south outside Chang'an City. Among the Taoist temples in Qingshan.

From the terrain, charlie Wade recognized that this place was the northern foot of Zhongnan Mountain, and the three characters "Zongshenguan" on the gate of Taoist Temple made him immediately recognize that this place was known as the most blessed place in the world and the holy land of Taoism.

Tower viewing platform.

Louguantai is the birthplace of Taoism, and it is also said to be the place where the founder of Taoism, Laozi, preached. In the Tang Dynasty, Taoism was pursued by Li Yuan, who named it Zongshenguan.

In the picture at this time, a group of thin-boned Taoist priests wearing green shirts, long hair, and buns were sitting cross-legged on a platform in Zongshenguan, and they were making uniform handprints in the void.
Devotion and focus.

charlie Wade could tell at a glance that without exception, they were all monks who mastered spiritual energy, and every hand seal they made contained surging spiritual energy, and they seemed to be working together to complete some kind of huge formation.

What's even more amazing is that in front of these Taoist priests, a square treasure tower made of pure gold is suspended in mid-air and slowly rotating.
This

square treasure tower is exactly the one contained in the wooden box just now!

The handprints made by these Taoist priests, without exception, all disappeared into the treasure pillars. As they continued to use their spiritual energy and formations to support them, the four treasure pillars also glowed with golden light, reflecting each other with the Big Wild Goose Pagoda dozens of miles away!

At this time, the leader DaoThe man said, "When we complete the formation of this treasure tower, and Master Xuanzang completes and consecrates the pagoda, these two will complement each other and ensure the prosperity of the Tang Dynasty for eight hundred years! All the brothers and sisters have spent their whole lives on this, which can be regarded as a blessing." We have dedicated our lives to the people of the Tang Dynasty!"

A group of Taoist priests looked extremely pious and said in unison, "We only wish that the country of the Tang Dynasty will last forever, the country will be prosperous, and the people will be healthy!"

charlie Wade was even more horrified in his heart.

Unexpectedly, the four directions treasure tower was built by these attained monks working together.

What's more, I didn't expect that the four-sided treasure tower built and blessed by these Taoist priests and the Big Wild Goose Pagoda built under the supervision of Master Xuanzang were actually important national weapons that complemented each other and protected the country of the Tang Dynasty!

But he couldn't help but secretly wonder, "Since these two things, the big one and the small one, are magic tools made with the hard work of eminent monks and Taoists, why did the Tang Dynasty fail to flourish for eight hundred years as the Taoist priest said? Even, the Tang Dynasty The lifespan of the dynasty was less than three hundred years."

Just when charlie Wade was surprised, he suddenly thought that he did not recognize the Big Wild Goose Pagoda at the first time just now because the Big Wild Goose Pagoda has been rebuilt several times. It is said that only In the Tang Dynasty, three versions were changed. Could it be that the changes destroyed the Feng Shui structure jointly constructed by the Big Wild Goose Pagoda and the Sifang Baozhuang?

In doubt, charlie Wade felt that the scene in front of him was gradually fading away like the tide at low tide, and his consciousness gradually retreated back to the pagoda rising from the ground.

But the pagoda did not retain its own consciousness. It pushed the ray of its own consciousness out of the door, and then closed the door tightly. The entire pagoda collapsed back to the ground little by little, and everything around it returned to the original chaos!

But charlie Wade didn't notice that the moment the pagoda collapsed back to the ground, it also left a ray of divine consciousness, and this ray of divine consciousness actually disappeared directly into charlie Wade's ray of divine consciousness. Without knowing it, I merged with his consciousness...