1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6452

Realizing that the possibility of asking China for the Sifang Baozhu was almost zero, Howard's emotions collapsed one after another without realizing it.

He recalled all the efforts he had made and all the losses he had suffered in order to recover the Sifang Baozhu, and he could no longer control his mentality.

His body trembled, and he yelled almost madly: "That damn Peter Zhou, how on earth did he send the Sifang Baozhu back to China?" "

I, Howard Rothschild, have no enmity with him. Why are you doing this to me!!!"

"This bastard not only stole my things, but also dragged me into the quagmire of public opinion, causing the Rothschild family to suffer the biggest crisis of public opinion in recent decades!!!"

"Now not only has my reputation been ruined, but Sifang Baozhuan has never come back, and all my investment in retrieving Sifang Baozhuang has been wasted!!!" "

The most disgusting thing is that he died and was returned to me. I planted a bomb like Po Qinghui that I don't know when it will explode!!! I hate it!!! I wish he could come back to life and kill him with my own hands again!!!"

At this point, Howard only felt a feeling on his forehead. His blood vessels suddenly bulged, his blood pressure rose instantly, and his brain was already a little dizzy.

The youngest son David hadn't noticed anything unusual about his father. When he heard the name of the Po Qing Society, he asked in surprise: "Father... what did the Po Qing Society you just mentioned do?"

As soon as David asked, he discovered Old father Howard's body began to twitch at this time, his eyes widened and his pupils began to turn up. /

Seeing his father's convulsions getting more and more serious, and his body falling backward uncontrollably, David quickly stepped forward to hold him up, and asked nervously: "Father, what's wrong with you, Dad?!"

Howard At this time, he was convulsing to the point of foaming at the mouth, completely speechless, and his body was shaking violently like an electric shock. Then, a foul smell came, and David was horrified to find that his old father had actually urinated and defecated. Incontinent.

He realized that the situation was not good, and was about to shout for help, but the housekeeper and family doctor had already rushed over.

There are special detection equipment on Howard's wrist and heart that can monitor his key body indicators and subtle changes in his heart in real time. As early as when Howard felt dizzy, the housekeeper and doctor had already received an alert.

The doctor rushed in and did a simple examination on Howard, and then said very nervously: "Sir, it is most likely that he has suffered a stroke. You must seize the time for emergency treatment. Housekeeper, please contact the medical department immediately and ask the emergency personnel to rush over immediately. Also notify Emergency doctors, get ready!"

As he said that, he quickly took Howard from David, let him slowly lie on the ground, tilted his body slightly, then took out an injection and injected it directly into Howard's body.

The Rothschild family's estate is like a small city. They have a complete medical institution here. This medical institution cooperates with the Mayo Clinic and Johns Hopkins Hospital, two top hospitals. Together, we provide the top medical services in the Western world to members of the Rothschild family at the estate of the Rothschild family.

With the full assistance of two top hospitals, coupled with the unparalleled financial ability of the Rothschild family, this "family clinic" that only serves core members of the family can provide the top emergency, rescue, and medical care in the West. Surgery and even radiotherapy and chemotherapy services.

Soon, multiple emergency doctors rushed over as quickly as possible, and they immediately pushed Howard, who had suffered a stroke, to the emergency room for emergency treatment.

When David saw his father being sent to the emergency room for first aid, he quickly notified all direct members of the family about the emergency.

As the eldest son, Steve Rothschild is currently staring at his mobile phone in Canada.

A few minutes ago, he had received news about Sifang Baozhuan's return to China, so he kept looking at his mobile phone, waiting for family members to send news about his father's sudden illness.

Steve also knew very well that the old man was old and had suffered many blows recently. If the news of Sifang Baozhu's return to China reached his ears, it would be a huge blow to him, and a serious illness would be a serious blow. It's mild, but he might actually die because of his excitement.

At this moment, a push notification suddenly popped up on the phone. It was the communication software used internally by the Rothschild family.

Steve was overjoyed and quickly opened the push notification, and then saw the message sent by his brother David in the group: "My father has suffered a stroke. Please rush back to the family as soon as possible. Those who are not in New York must also return as soon as possible!"

Seeing the word “stroke ” Steve was so excited that he couldn’t open his mouth from ear to ear!

Within the Rothschild family, Howard’s health was a top priority.

This is not only because he is the patriarch of the family, but also because once his health suffers serious problems, the Rothschild family will begin the transition between the heir and the current patriarch in accordance with regulations.

As the legal first heir, Steve must return to the family as soon as possible at this time and temporarily take charge of important family matters. However, this is only an escrow. How long will he be in charge? Or will he directly inherit the title of patriarch? The position depends on the physical condition of the current patriarch Howard.

If Howard recovers well, Steve will return the management rights to him. But if he fails to recover, Steve will continue to take charge until Howard dies or Howard himself voluntarily gives up.

Stroke is definitely a very serious sudden disease. If the rescue is not timely, it may be life-threatening. Even if the rescue is timely, it will be accompanied by many sequelae.

Hemiplegia, crooked mouth and eyes, incontinence of urine and feces, and loss of speech ability are all common sequelae of stroke. Especially for elderly people in their eighties, the prognosis is extremely poor. Even if it is not as serious as Hawking, it is at least It has to be 60-70% of Hawking’s.

Steve was so excited that he couldn’t contain himself when he thought that his old father might be speechless in the future and could only sit tremblingly in a wheelchair, struggling to control the wheelchair’s control lever with trembling hands.

If the old father can really succeed in Hawking’s 67th year, he must completely retreat to the second line or even completely withdraw from the family management and concentrate on recuperating. However, no one of the descendants of the Rothschild family has seized the opportunity of the Sifang Palace. The determined heir will surely reach the top smoothly!

So, he excitedly informed the pilot to prepare for takeoff, and then quickly went to report the news to charlie Wade, who had returned to Helena’s room.

At this time, Helena had already gone to the Capitol to attend the meeting scheduled in the morning. charlie was alone in the room, waiting for the news of Howard’s sudden illness.

Seeing Howard's mouth that was harder to suppress than AK's, charlie knew that something must have happened to his father, so he asked him first: "Steve, you are so happy, does something happen to your father?"

Steve subconsciously asked him He asked him: "Mr. Wade, I...do I look happy?"

charlie Wade nodded, pointed at the corner of his mouth, and teased: "The corner of your mouth is raised too high. You can tell at a glance that the 'recoil' is very I'm so strong that I can't suppress it anymore."

Steve quickly pulled the corners of his mouth twice with his hands, thinking to himself: "It's not that I don't want to suppress it, it's just that I really can't suppress it..."

Then, he suppressed a smile and said, He said with false sadness: "Mr. Wade, I just received news from my family that my father...had a stroke..."

charlie Wade nodded and was not surprised. After all, Howard was in his eighties and his health was How could it be better? He attaches so much importance to the Sifang Baozhu, and he has been subjected to so many and such big series of stimulations that he is already strong and old even if he doesn't die directly.

He was able to withstand this huge blow at the age of eighty-four, and the medical technology of the Rothschild family definitely contributed. Maybe it was the stem cells that were usually injected that made a difference at this moment.

So, charlie Wade said half teasingly and half seriously: "Steve, don't be too happy. Stroke can be cured with all your strength. When I say cured, I don't mean to be out of danger, but to be out of danger." Healed."

"Impossible! Absolutely impossible!" Steve waved his hands repeatedly with a look of disbelief and said to charlie Wade: "Mr. Wade, a stroke is like broken porcelain. The best situation is that it is not broken. It's just that it can be glued back. It's good that the porcelain glued back can still be used. How can it be restored to the original state?"

charlie Wade smiled and said: "In that case, I would like to congratulate Mr. Steve in advance on being crowned patriarch. Take the position!"

Steve suddenly felt a little embarrassed and chuckled: "Mr. Wade, don't say that, my father has a physical condition. Although I am very heartbroken, I also believe that he will be able to overcome the disease. If he recovers well, Maybe we can continue to lead the Rothschild family to greater heights!"

charlie Wade smiled and said: "There are no outsiders here, what else can you pretend to be like with me? If your father really recovers well, you may be able to You have to wait several years or even more than ten years before you can inherit the position of patriarch, and who knows if there will be other changes during this period? The more times like this, the easier it is to trigger Murphy's Law, and the more you feel that you In the last few years of my father's life, there must be no changes in the selection of his heir. Changes tend to happen more often."

When Steve heard this, most of his excitement had dissipated.

There was only charlie Wade in front of him, and he didn't want to pretend anymore, so he sighed and said: "To be honest, Mr. Wade, I don't know the specific situation of my father. It is said that he is still in emergency treatment. In the Rothschild family, any Sudden illness can ensure that there will be no accidents in terms of timeliness and rescue methods, so my father will definitely receive the best stroke first aid in the world as soon as possible. If he is really fine, then I will I can only continue to wait patiently..."

After a pause, he said in a depressed tone: "If something happens in the future, I'm afraid I won't be able to change anything. I can only see if the goddess of fate favors me..."

charlie Wade said slightly Smiling, he said sincerely: "That's right! Keep your depressed mood now, so that when you return to the Rothschild family and appear in front of your father's bedside, you won't show your weakness. You have to know that your father suddenly suffered a stroke, and each of your brothers must be heartbroken. If you are pretending, it will easily be exposed. What if your father sees your pressure? If you don't keep your mouth shut, he will probably depose you temporarily."

Steve looked at charlie Wade with wide eyes, and said with some emotion: "Mr. Wade, it turns out you are thinking about me, I understand!"

For Steve, the current situation can be described as a sudden realization.

The old man suffered a stroke and suffered a stroke. No matter how well he recovers, there will definitely be many sequelae. More importantly, his morale will be greatly affected. These will reduce the possibility of him continuing to lead the Rothschild family. .

Therefore, now that he can directly inherit the family when he enters, and can take charge of all the family affairs as heir when he retires, he can be regarded as having real power.

Because of this, he couldn't understand that charlie Wade's words were warning him or inoculating him. He thought that charlie Wade deliberately told him not to be so optimistic, hoping that he could control himself better after returning to New York. Emotions.

As a result, for the first time, he was truly moved by charlie Wade.

Although this mandatory "partner" has always made me dissatisfied, I didn't expect that this mandatory "partner" actually did it for my own good.

This made him suddenly feel in his heart: “If I had the power and kicked him out immediately and turned against him, wouldn’t it appear that Steve, I, was not very kind?”

In fact, how did he know that charlie Wade was not thinking about him at all.

Because charlie Wade knew that he could never let Howard Rothschild, an old fox, rest like this.

He had already given the blood-dispersing and heart-saving elixir to Helena, and he still hoped to obtain various benefits from that elixir, and at the same time keep Steve in the position of first heir.

So, he stood up, patted Steve on the shoulder, and said with a smile: “Steve, take your son, hurry up and go back and have a look. Helena originally wanted to talk to you about cooperation between the two parties, but now look There is no chance for now, but don’t worry, you go back to bed first to fulfill your filial piety, and then ask Helena to go to New York in person. On the one hand, she will represent the Nordic royal family to visit the old man in person, and on the other hand, she will also help you in the future. Try to get more attention from the old man. After all, she went to New York because the chat with you was more speculative, and the Queen went to visit in person, so you look better.”

Steve was also wily, and he immediately heard that charlie meant in his words was to let Helena go to the family to fill up the scene for him. After all, the old man wanted to have some relationship with the Nordic royal family, borrowing the royal background of the Nordic royal family, and also borrowing Helena’s popular folk life. Popularity.

Steve was really touched when he heard that charlie could let Helena go to New York.

He couldn’t help but hold charlie Wade’s hand and said seriously: “Mr. Wade, don’t worry, I will always remember your words, don’t forget to be rich and noble! If I become the heir of the Rothschild family, the Ye family will Will definitely become our strategic partner!”

charlie Wade nodded with a pleased look on his face: “If you have this heart, it’s worth my help!”

Steve nodded enthusiastically, but the next second, I couldn’t help but wonder: “Damn this, who is helping whom? Hey, forget it, let anyone help whomever. Anyway, he successfully transported the Sifang Baozhuang out, and I took over the power smoothly right away. Win-win cooperation for everyone can be regarded as a successful business cooperation case.”

So, he said with gratitude: “Mr. Wade, thank you for your help!”

charlie Wade smiled slightly: “Come on, I am optimistic about you.”

In fact, charlie Wade He didn’t doubt Steve’s sincerity at this moment, but he also knew that this sincerity contained more or less impulsive elements.

It's like when people drink too much, they tend to become more generous and talkative than usual. If you promise something to others when you are drunk, you will probably regret it after you sober up, even if you don't regret it.

Therefore, Charlie Wade knew that he must not believe his verbal promises, otherwise he would be the one who would be passive in the future.

After all, the only way I could truly control Steve was that he betrayed the interests of the Rothschild family and helped send the Sifang Mansion out of New York and back to China.
