1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6481

In the other courtyard, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) looked at Nanako on the monitor and asked Sister Sun next to her: "Sister Sun, it took Jingqing eight years to realize Taoism. How long do you think it will take Nanako?"

Sister Sun smiled and said: "Madam, it only took you half a year to realize Taoism. Come to think of it, it will take at most two or three years for Miss Ito to reach enlightenment."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) shook his head gently and said: "Nanako is more talented than me, and the time it takes for her to reach enlightenment must be shorter than mine. Maybe, a You can achieve enlightenment within a month."

Sister Sun asked in surprise: "Madam, do you think so highly of Miss Ito?"

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) nodded and said: "She is purer than most adults in the world, and the purer the person, the more pure she is. , naturally it will be easier to realize the Tao."

At this time, Ito Nanako in the Buddhist hall had come to sit cross-legged in front of the futon, then closed her eyes, skillfully mobilized her true energy and spiritual consciousness, and entered the realm of inner vision.

Since she had already mastered the entire process of endoscopic examination, Ito Nanako came to the sea of consciousness again with ease.

The sea of consciousness at this moment is still as before, extremely calm and without any ripples.

Nanako Ito kept pushing her consciousness upwards. As the height continued to increase, her consciousness became further and further away from the sea of consciousness below. The higher she went, the greater the nameless resistance became. After she tried her best to reach the highest point, , he could no longer hold on and let his consciousness begin to fall from the sky.

At this time, Ito Nanako was thinking about how to be selfless and unconscious. She tried hard to control herself and not let herself think about anything. But the more she did, many things came to her like a tide. Enter your own consciousness.

She thought of her childhood, her parents, her first meeting with Charlie Wade, and that snowy night in Kyoto...

Then, her consciousness suddenly paused and rushed into the sea of consciousness, but her consciousness. The sea seemed to have been cast by a spell, and there were still no waves on the surface.

Nanako, who was surrounded by the sea of consciousness, felt a huge force coming towards her from all directions before she could adjust her consciousness. Then, a huge force began to push herself upstream.

She felt that her consciousness was like a bubble on the bottom of the sea, being squeezed by the ubiquitous sea water and rushing towards the surface of the water at the fastest speed.

Immediately afterwards, Ito Nanako's consciousness jumped out from the surface of the sea of consciousness.

The moment her consciousness was pushed out of the sea of consciousness, Ito Nanako suddenly opened her eyes and gasped for air. At some point, her whole body was dripping with sweat.

Master Jingqing on the side said: "The donor must have been pushed out by the sea of consciousness, right?"

Nanako Ito nodded slightly and said a little tiredly: "Controlling the consciousness to go as high as possible is really very tiring, but there is no thinking about it, the process of being pushed out of the sea of consciousness is even more painful, and the ubiquitous pressure is suffocating. The most important thing is that the more I want to be selfless, the more I remember many things related to myself..."

Master Jingqing said seriously: "Enlightenment is indeed as difficult as climbing to the sky. Not only is it difficult to succeed, but the process of experiencing and trying is also difficult. The poor monk tried in this state for eight full years. During those eight years, I don't know how many failures he made. times, but the donor's talent is higher than that of the poor monk, so it won't take too long to figure it out."

After saying that, Master Jingqing added: "When the donor looked inside just now, his expression changed several times in just a few seconds. I think it was because of what he was thinking. There are too many interferences. If you want to reach the unconscious world, you must first let yourself have no desires or desires. Otherwise, it may be difficult to succeed."

Nanako Ito pursed her lips and said, "I want to try again..."

Hearing that Nanako wanted to try again, Master Jingqing didn't think much about it. He nodded in agreement and said, "If the donor wants to successfully enter the unconscious world, the safest way is to abandon the seven emotions and six desires."

Nanako was silent for a moment and murmured. "If you cut off the seven emotions and six desires, what's the point of living?"

Master Jingqing said without thinking: "Only by cutting off the seven emotions and six desires, can we have the chance to become a Buddha and better save all sentient beings."

Nanako shook her head and said seriously: "With all due respect, isn't it a kind of seven emotions and six desires if you wholeheartedly seek Buddha? Isn't it also a kind of seven emotions and six desires if you wholeheartedly think about saving all sentient beings? Of course, it is true to save all sentient beings, but not everyone has the same feelings for themselves. If he is not satisfied with the current situation, if he lives a happy and contented life, why does he need others to help him?"

Nanako said, "Besides, since I have my own family and sweetheart, I can't put them out of my mind. Abandon; even if I can leave them all behind, but since I wholeheartedly want to enlighten, pursuing enlightenment is another desire of mine. The moment I enter the sea of consciousness and jump down, it is for enlightenment, but I To deceive myself, or to deceive the sea of consciousness, I am clearly here for it, but if I want it to think that I have no desires or desires, wouldn't that be tantamount to deceiving it?"

Master Jingqing was startled for a moment, then sighed softly: "What the donor said... is not unreasonable..."

After that, he asked her: "Then what does the donor plan to try this time?"

Nanako shook her head: "I don't know, I just want to try again, no matter success or failure, today I won't bother Master anymore."

Master Jingqing said: "The poor monk has plenty of time, so the donor doesn't have to worry." Nanako nodded gratefully, then closed her eyes, and once again used the method of introspection to let her spiritual consciousness come to the sea of consciousness. .

As before, Nanako was still trying his best to push his consciousness to a higher level this time. However, the previous attempt consumed a lot of energy. This time, it was obviously much more difficult to push up.

However, despite the difficulty, Nanako is still trying her best to make this attempt.

It was also during this process that she finally understood why it took Master Jingqing eight years to reach enlightenment. He always tried so hard to move his spiritual consciousness to higher places, which consumed a lot of energy and physical strength. After trying it twice, I don't know how long it will take to relieve this mental fatigue.

In addition, enlightenment is a matter of thousands of continuous attempts. A few years of enlightenment is already considered a short time in the long process of cultivation.

Nanako tried her best to push her consciousness to the extreme that her state could reach. When she realized that all her energy had been exhausted, she instantly relaxed completely and allowed her consciousness to fall freely from the height. .

During this time of falling, all kinds of thoughts were still frantically attacking her consciousness. Just like the last time, they were all about her parents, relatives, and Charlie Wade, who she thought about day and night.

Nanako finally realized that the reason why so many thoughts suddenly came to her at this time must be because of this feeling of free fall, which gave people a feeling of dying.

And this feeling of dying will naturally make people think of many people and things.

Nanako did not try to forget everything and abandon the seven emotions and six desires as Master Jingqing said. She just subconsciously thought: "Master Jingqing said that you cannot jump directly into this sea of consciousness, but you must integrate into it. Then Does this mean that divine consciousness and sea of consciousness are inherently fusionable? The only difference is that some people have mastered the way of fusion, but some people never get it?"

Thinking of this, Nanako's heart suddenly moved: "The Sea of Consciousness is in my body, in my Purple Mansion, so it should understand me best. It must know that it is impossible for me to abandon the seven emotions and six desires. If so, it will require me to abandon the seven emotions and six desires in order to be with it. Integration, then this itself becomes an unsolvable paradox..."

"Does this mean that my consciousness has no chance to integrate with it?"

"If that is the case, I will not be able to integrate with it in this life. Maybe enlightenment."

At this moment, Nanako's consciousness fell into the quiet and picturesque sea of consciousness again.

The powerful impact smashed her consciousness into the depths of the sea of consciousness, and Nanako's consciousness was severely damaged again. The entire consciousness had no strength to resist.

Then, the huge pressure from the sea of consciousness swept over her again, and her consciousness was about to rush towards the sea.

Ito Nanako was a little desperate at this time. It was not that two failures made her give up, but she knew herself. Even if she could let go of her deceased mother and her father who had recovered from health and was enjoying his old age, she could not let go. Next charlie Wade.

Her new life was given to her by charlie Wade.

At this moment, although she was still being pushed to the surface by the sea of consciousness, she felt ready to struggle and resist for the first time.

Her consciousness couldn't help but silently mutter: "If I never realize the truth, I will die one day. Death is not terrible. My mother passed away long ago, and my father will also pass away before me. What about charlie Wade? There must be someone. Accompany him to go on, right? If so, then I hope that the person who accompanies him to go on is me!"

At this thought, her consciousness couldn't help but become excited. She struggled hard and tried to dive deep to fight against the sea of consciousness. While feeling buoyant, he said loudly in his subconscious: "I know! I know that charlie Wade is a married man, and I also know that falling in love with a married man is shameful and morally lacking, but I just love him deeply, no matter what. I can't stop loving him!"

"I can't destroy charlie Wadejun's marriage and family, but I don't want to give up the opportunity to be with him. This is as contradictory as you need me to abandon my emotions and desires, but I can't do it at all!"

"However, there is still a chance to resolve all these contradictions. If you and I can become one and let me successfully achieve enlightenment, I will also have the opportunity to seek a longer life. As long as I can survive, I can keep waiting. Eight I don't care if it takes ten years, one hundred years, or even two hundred years!" "

So, don't try to push me out!"

In an instant, Nanako swam desperately toward the depths of the sea of consciousness.

In order to resist the ubiquitous buoyancy of the sea of consciousness, Nanako exhausted almost all her energy to fight against it. She was like a marathon runner who exhausted all her strength in the competition. Her legs had lost all strength and could not even stand up. At this time, I was still moving forward mechanically.

As she continued to resist desperately, she felt that her consciousness was gradually blurring in the resistance, just like the blackout that divers fear most, her consciousness was gradually blurring.

At this moment, her consciousness suddenly stagnated in the sea of consciousness.

1. The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6484

The huge buoyancy of the sea of consciousness seemed to disappear instantly at this moment.

Originally, her consciousness was like a bubble, pushed to the surface of the sea by the buoyancy force.

But now, her consciousness is being squeezed crazily by the sea of consciousness, and the pressure and buoyancy have actually reached a delicate balance in the sea of consciousness.

Nanako's consciousness had almost been lost, but at this moment, she was still instinctively trying her best to continue diving.

The original delicate balance was instantly broken, and her consciousness seemed to lose all buoyancy and began to slowly fall deeper.

All her consciousness gradually disappeared, and then the world fell into a dark silence, and even her consciousness had completely disappeared.

I don't know how long it took, but a small light spot suddenly appeared in the dark sea of consciousness. As soon as this light spot appeared, it quickly sank to the bottom. Immediately afterwards, more light spots inexplicably appeared in the sea of consciousness. These light spots Like small cells, they all began to converge towards the bottom of the sea of consciousness.

Nanako Ito, who had lost all consciousness, suddenly woke up. After waking up, before she opened her eyes, she felt that the entire Buddhist hall seemed to be in front of her, and she seemed to be outside, overlooking the entire temple from a God's perspective. Buddhist temple.

She could see that in the Buddhist hall, Master Jingqing was looking at her while silently reciting scriptures, his expression seemed a little anxious, but she was still sitting cross-legged on the futon, as motionless as a wax figure.

At this time, she felt an unusual commotion on the roof of the Buddhist hall, so she thought slightly, and her consciousness came to the unusually turbulent roof, where she saw a gecko cautiously approaching a fly. , and then, the gecko suddenly stretched out its tongue and rolled the fly into its mouth at an extremely fast speed.

At this moment, Nanako could even hear the sound of a gecko swallowing a fly.

Then, she felt a subtle rustling sound again, and with a thought, she came to the corner of the Buddhist hall and saw a row of ants crawling in line.

This wonderful feeling surprised Nanako. She couldn't help but want her consciousness to leave the Buddhist hall, but her spiritual consciousness could not leave the Buddhist hall at all.

Just when she was doubting, she suddenly felt a sharp pain in her head. Then, the God's perspective completely disappeared. The next moment, she opened her eyes, and her consciousness returned to herself.

However, what was different from the last failure was that when she woke up this time, Nanako felt refreshed and indescribably comfortable.

Seeing her open her eyes, Master Jingqing breathed a sigh of relief and said subconsciously: "The donor has been in meditation for more than ten minutes this time, which is much longer than last time. I wonder how it feels?"

Nanako said truthfully: "How does it feel? It seemed like the soul could leave the body, but the feeling disappeared after not lasting too long. I don't know if it was an illusion."

Master Jingqing nodded: "The soul leaving the body is actually using spiritual energy to sense the surroundings. This is a successful enlightenment. It can only be realized later. People like poor monks who have no aura and cannot leave the sea of consciousness simply don't have this ability. Even the donor must have been too tired and hallucinating just to try it twice in a row."

Nanako nodded slightly and was about to speak. Suddenly, there was a slight movement on the roof. She quickly looked up and saw a gecko chasing a spider. The gecko seemed to be the one she had just seen from God's perspective.

She stared closely at the gecko and couldn't help but say: "It seems...it's not an illusion..."
