

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6485

By / February 28, 2024

“It’s not an illusion?!”

Master Jingqing was horrified.

From the moment he saw Nanako, he knew that Nanako would be able to enlighten, and the process of enlightenment would be faster than his own, because this was due to his talent.

Among millions of people, not one person may have the talent for enlightenment. That kind of person will not be able to attain enlightenment even in his lifetime.

However, for those who have the talent for enlightenment, enlightenment is actually just waiting for an opportunity.

However, enlightenment itself is too mysterious and has almost no rules, so it is still unknown when people with the talent for enlightenment will wait for the opportunity to achieve enlightenment.

Master Jingqing felt that he had told Nanako Ito the key to enlightenment. With her talent, if she went back and tried for a year or two, she should be able to enlightenment.

But he couldn’t imagine that Nanako could successfully understand it after two attempts.

So, he suppressed his fear and asked: “The donor said that the soul leaving the body just now was not an illusion. Could it be that...could it be that the donor’s consciousness has been integrated into the sea of consciousness?” Not only was he shocked, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) and Sun were in front of the monitor. Sister, I was even more shocked.

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) was stunned and said: “Nanako can really realize the Tao in such a short time? This... this is too unbelievable...”

Sister Sun asked from the side: “Madam, can’t Jingqing see whether Miss Ito has realized the Tao? An

Lydia (Ava) shook his head: "Jingqing's aura cannot leave the sea of consciousness. Others can't tell that he has aura, and he can't tell others."

After saying that, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) suddenly stood up and said, "I'll go see her!" "

Sister Sun asked hurriedly: "Madam, if you go to see Miss Ito, will you expose yourself? Miss Ito is so interested in the young master, she may have checked your information a long time ago. If she recognizes you, wouldn't it? ..."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) nodded: "You are right, let someone prepare a pair of masks."

At this time, in the Buddhist hall, Nanako said to Master Jingqing very respectfully: "Thank you, Master, for the enlightenment. Only by merging into the sea of consciousness can one achieve enlightenment, and I should have already fused into it just now."

"This..." Master Jingqing suppressed the shock in his heart and asked, "I dare to ask, how did the donor do it? "

Nanako thought for a while and said calmly: "I guess I have reached some kind of consensus with it."

"It?" Master Jingqing asked doubtfully: "Could it be...could it be that the donor mentioned it as the Sea of Consciousness?"

"Yes." Nanako nodded lightly.

"How is this possible..." Master Jingqing murmured: "It took the poor monk eight years to realize Taoism, and he would jump into the sea of consciousness almost every day, but the sea of consciousness has always been dead silent. How did the donor reach a consensus with the sea of consciousness?"

After saying that, Master Jingqing realized that he was a little abrupt and quickly said: "Amitabha, this question involves privacy, it is the poor monk Meng Lang."

Nanako said: “Master, I openly told my secrets and wishes to the sea of consciousness. , I hope it can help me realize it. Although it didn’t respond to me, I integrated into it immediately.”

Master Jingqing was stunned and murmured: “The donor is really talented. Looking back, the reason why it took the poor monk eight years to Enlightenment may be because the poor monk always thinks that he has abandoned the seven emotions and six desires, but in fact, he is always deceiving himself. And the poor monk can finally achieve enlightenment, I am afraid it is not because the poor monk has really reached the unconscious world, maybe, just At a certain moment, the poor monk and the sea of consciousness reached a certain tacit understanding...”

Nanako did not realize that Master Jingqing’s Buddhist heart had changed slightly. She said very seriously: “Maybe the master is understanding the direction of enlightenment. There is a certain deviation. Although the Purple Mansion and the Sea of Consciousness are both described in Buddhism and Taoism, enlightenment is after all the realm of those who practice Taoism. The idea of Buddhism is ‘no-self’, and the idea of Taoism is ‘true self’. ‘, originally one is south, one is north, one is left and one is right. However, Master uses the theory of Buddhism to solve the problem of cultivating Taoism. Perhaps he is putting the cart before the horse, or being pretentious.” “

Since the idea of Taoism is the ‘true self’, That may be to let the sea of consciousness feel the realm of ‘true self’, so that it can be integrated with my spiritual consciousness...”

”Ah... this...” Master Jingqing was suddenly stunned on the spot, and it took a long time before he suddenly realized the truth. “The benefactor’s words really enlightened the poor monk, and he was taught a lesson!”

Nanako quickly said humbly and respectfully: “Master, you are serious. Today, Ito Nanako can make a fortune from this. Thanks to the master’s guidance, this kindness, Nanako It’s unforgettable!”

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom), who had already put on a mask, was still standing in front of the monitor. When she heard Nanako’s words, she was naturally surprised and happy.

She has never thought deeply about the issue of selflessness and true self.

When she first enlightened Jingqing and helped him to achieve enlightenment, she mainly helped his spiritual consciousness realize inner vision and helped his spiritual consciousness find the sea of consciousness.

As for how to integrate his spiritual consciousness into the sea of consciousness, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) himself didn't know.

Half of the credit for her ability to realize the Tao was due to Bruce Wade, who owned Longge, because although she was able to master the way of clairvoyance, the integration of her spiritual consciousness into the sea of consciousness was only completed with the help of Bruce Wade.

Now, Nanako successfully entered Taoism after two attempts. This talent shocked her and filled her with joy at the same time.

She knew that Charlie Wade needed two roles most at the moment, one was a wise and almost demonic think tank, and the other was a Taoist companion who practiced Taoism together.

The Taoist couple mentioned here is not a couple who practices Taoism or takes a break, but a completely reliable companion who practices Taoism together.

The journey of spiritual cultivation is long and lonely. Being able to walk with a completely trustworthy and like-minded person is like having a companion on a long night road. It is of great significance and far-reaching.

In fact, in Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom)'s view, no one is more suitable than Lin Wan'er, whether as a think tank or a Taoist companion.

It's a pity that Lin Wan'er is somewhat similar to Jing Qing. Jing Qing's aura cannot come out of the sea of consciousness, while Lin Wan'er has mastered almost all knowledge, but can't cultivate aura.

Therefore, Lin Wan'er could only act as a think tank, but could not accompany Charlie Wade to practice Taoism.

And now, Nanako Ito finally has the necessary conditions for a second role.

In the Buddhist hall at this time, Master Jingqing was filled with endless sighs.

Today, he was influenced by Ito Nanako's remarks and questioned himself many times.

After reciting the Heart Sutra silently several times, he finally said: "Since the donor has been able to leave his body and perceive everything around him with his spiritual energy, he has attained enlightenment in the true sense. Compared with a poor monk whose spiritual energy cannot leave the sea of consciousness, There will be many more possibilities, but the donor's spiritual energy also needs to be constantly cultivated and refined. Now I am only sensing this Buddhist hall, but in the future I may be able to sense the entire temple, or even the entire Qixia Mountain."

At this point, Jing Qing The Master sighed with emotion: "It's just that the poor monk doesn't know any cultivation methods, so the way the donor attains enlightenment depends on the donor himself or the help of noble people."

Nanako nodded heavily and said, "Thank you, Master!"

"Amitabha!" .” Master Jingqing said noncommittally, and then said: "The poor monk will help the donor to consecrate and bless the amulet. I hope this amulet can keep the donor's sweetheart safe."

Nanako knew that Master Jingqing wanted to end the discussion about enlightenment. topic, so he said gratefully: "Thank you for your hard work, Master!"

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6487

By _ / February 28, 2024

To consecrate and bless an amulet is actually to have the mage personally recite sutras to give the amulet its so-called magical power.

Of course, this kind of magic power is not magic power in the true sense, but more of a kind of merit and beautiful meaning.

After Master Jingqing consecrated the amulet and blessed it, he handed the amulet back to Nanako and said, "Please keep the amulet. If the donor is interested in the future, he can study more Buddhism. With the donor's talent, he will definitely be able to understand it." Many modern people cannot understand the truth!"

Nanako knew that Master Jingqing was obsessed with studying Buddhism, so she nodded and said, "Don't worry, Master, I will definitely try to see more."

"Amitabha." Master Jingqing bowed slightly and said to Nanako Thank you.

Nanako also bowed respectfully, and then said goodbye to Master Jingqing. Master Jingqing walked her to the door and opened the door of the Buddhist hall himself.

When I opened the door, there were already several "believers" waiting under the stone steps outside. These believers were holding amulets obtained from the Dharma Material Circulation Office and queuing up to wait for Master Jingqing to consecrate them. The first one in the queue was a woman dressed simply and wearing a mask, whose age is indistinguishable.

This woman is Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom).

From the moment Nanako went out, Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) could tell that she had become enlightened. While he was surprised, he couldn't help but feel extremely relieved.

As she and Sister Sun said, Nanako successfully attained enlightenment, and Charlie Wade would have a close companion during the long journey of spiritual practice. This was of great and far-reaching significance to the lonely walker on the long journey.

When Nanako passed by Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom), she didn't pay much attention to the woman wearing a mask, because standing in line behind Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) was the young woman Nanako met in the elevator.

Nanako recognized her at the first sight, and her attention was completely attracted to her, so she didn't even notice Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom).

At this time, the young woman was accompanied by another woman of similar age. The two were whispering to each other. When the woman saw Nanako coming out, she said in surprise: "Ah, it's you!"

Nanako nodded slightly to her, Thanks: "I just asked Master Jingqing for an amulet. Thank you so much!"

The woman smiled and said: "You're welcome, it's just a little effort."

Nanako saw that she had friends around her, so she didn't talk to her anymore. After saying thank you again, he said goodbye and left.

The woman also enthusiastically invited her to visit her home, and Nanako simply agreed.

When Nanako left, Master Jingqing happened to instruct the next 'believer' to enter the Buddhist hall, so Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) stepped in.

After the door of the Buddhist hall was closed, she asked Master Jingqing: "Jingqing, what do you think of Miss Ito just now?"

Master Jingqing sighed softly and said with emotion: "Madam, Jingqing is really ashamed to meet Miss Ito. In the process, the Buddha's heart was disturbed several times. Once he wanted to introduce Miss Ito to Buddhism, once he thought that abandoning the seven emotions and six desires was the key to enlightenment. Once again, it was after Miss Ito's prompting that Jingqing realized that all this time, I had actually It is based on the foundation of Taoism to achieve the understanding of Buddhism. If Miss Ito had not reminded me, I would have attributed everything to Buddhism..."

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) smiled and said: "Miss Ito is indeed very smart, and this girl has a frank and persevering character. , for someone like you who likes to persuade people to worship Buddha, her frankness has become a weapon that can destroy everything, and her perseverance is even more incomprehensible to you.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6488

By _ / February 28, 2024

Since she already has her own sweetheart, even if Even if there are eight of you, it is impossible to persuade her to convert to Buddhism."

Master Jingqing nodded and said: “What Madam said is absolutely...”

After saying this, Master Jingqing said again: “Madam, since Miss Ito can leave the body, then she already has the qualifications to practice Taoism, but she has just started, and it is a critical period when she is in urgent need of a guide. Are you prepared to cultivate her personally?”

Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) shook his head: “She has her destiny, and Her talent in cultivating Taoism is far superior to mine, and I can’t cultivate it.”

Although Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom) successfully realized Taoism with the help of bruce Wade, she is not a genius in cultivating Taoism, and she is not as talented as Nanako. Compared with most of the geniuses who have Tao Wutong, they are naturally far behind.

Therefore, in Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom)’s view, Nanako’s development direction after enlightenment should be guided by his son charlie Wade, not himself.

Moreover, she knew that charlie Wade was already on his way back, and she felt that if charlie Wade knew the news of Nanako’s enlightenment, he would be very excited.

This can be regarded as a little surprise prepared by me as a mother for her son.

This morning, many believers came to consecrate the consecration. Among them were people arranged by Lydia (Ava) (Charlie’s mom), and there were also real believers who hurriedly came after the news was released on a small scale.

At noon, the news that Master Jingqing was going to give a lecture at Qixia Temple in Jinling was officially announced, causing a sensation among Jinling believers.

At the same time, it was late at night in the United States on the other side of the ocean.

In the Rothschild family manor, every direct member of the Rothschild family is still awake.

This evening, in this manor, it can be said that one family is happy and the other is sad.

The old man suffered a hemiplegic stroke and lost his fighting spirit. He suddenly summoned all family members and had to rush back to the manor in New York for a meeting before tomorrow morning. From this action alone, everyone could guess that the old man was preparing to give up his throne.

Moreover, no one had seized the opportunity of Sifang Baozhu before, so there would definitely be no surprises in the choice of successor, and it must be the eldest son Steve.

Therefore, while everyone was feeling sad and upset, they couldn't help but start thinking about their future.

Once Steve successfully succeeds to the throne, the first thing he will do is consolidate his control over the entire family.

The family's most core and most profitable business will inevitably be taken into his arms. At that time, it will be a process of constantly cutting flesh from them. Although they are unable to resist, they must also think of some countermeasures.

There were also some shrewd ones who immediately planned to approach Steve alone.

Unexpectedly, after Steve's meeting with the doctor, he went to see the old man again. After giving the old man a recovery massage with his own hands, he locked himself in his villa and closed the door to thank the guests.

After evening, a group of brothers and sisters came to visit with their children, but they were all blocked by Steve's housekeeper.

Steve was very shrewd. He knew that these younger brothers and sisters who came to visit wanted to take advantage of this opportunity to express their loyalty to him in private, hoping to make a good impression and even gain a good position after he took charge of the family. And he really needs a few useful men to help him take charge of the entire family faster.

However, at this critical moment, he knew that he could not meet alone with anyone.

In his opinion, he can wait until he successfully succeeds to the throne and then slowly select useful subordinates. However, once he expresses his intention to win over others or form a team before taking the throne, it is considered to be an act of subversion. It would have unforeseen consequences for his eventual succession.

Therefore, he closed the door to thank guests, did not see anyone, and did not communicate with anyone except his own family, in order to minimize all risks.

Steve was so excited that he didn't sleep a wink all night.

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6489

By / February 28, 2024

The next day before dawn, he got up quickly. After getting dressed and packed, he personally took a helicopter and set off towards Ottawa in the night.

He planned to go to Canada in person to bring Helena, the Queen of Northern Europe, to New York.

In the early morning, Helena took a blood-dispersing and heart-saving pill that Charlie Wade gave her and boarded the Rothschild family's helicopter.

The reason why Charlie Wade was relieved that Helena would go to New York alone was because the Rothschild family had unparalleled strength and influence in the United States. This influence was enough to allow Helena to enter the United States quietly without being accessed by any third party. Get the news.

More importantly, Charlie Wade knew that Sara was suspicious and cautious by nature. She was in New York and would never dare to take action against the Rothschild family. Moreover, in the process of blocking New York, the Rothschild family accidentally integrated the AI. With this high technology, the security strength has been greatly improved. With Sara's character, she does not dare to take risks easily.

After a flight of about two hours, the helicopter landed on the top floor of Rothschild Manor Medical Center.

Staring at a pair of dark circles and thick bags under his eyes, Steve happily took Helena to the special care ward where Howard Rothschild was.

Howard in the ward also didn't sleep all night.

When he thought that today was the day when he would hand over control of his family, he naturally felt extremely unwilling to do so.

The patriarchs of these big families in the United States almost never hand over the baton to their sons until the last moment of their lives. If Howard hadn't suffered a stroke and his pride prevented him from showing himself like this, even if he was paralyzed and lying on the hospital bed, he would still be there. Will continue to run the Rothschild family.

Now, no matter how unwilling he is, he can only give up his position as the helm of the family to his eldest son Steve.

If it weren't for the Rothschild family's two- to three-hundred-year-old royal complex, Howard would not have been able to meet the Nordic Queen Helena when he was crooked. Today, before handing over the baton, he met Helena and got closer to the Nordic royal family. The last thing he did for the family as the current patriarch of the Rothschild family was to build relationships and strive to integrate a royal bloodline into the Rothschild family.

At this time, Howard, with the help of medical staff, had put on a neat and elegant top-notch suit and was half-lying on the hospital bed waiting.

When Steve brought Helena into the ward, Howard looked at the young, beautiful and dignified Helena in front of him, and couldn't help but sigh in his heart: "Royal blood may not be so outstanding in terms of making money, but the nobility in the heart is really very good." It's amazing, if the Rothschild family can introduce such a bloodline, it will also bring shame to the descendants of the family!"

The mentality of the Rothschild family is very similar to the wealthy people in Hong Kong and other countries around the world who prefer entertainment stars.

They also know that those celebrities in the entertainment industry are actually nothing special. They want money but no money, and no power. They just have good looks and good temperament. In terms of strength, they may not even be able to compare with a heir from a wealthy family.

But I can't help but these rich people just like these entertainment stars.

It's even more than just liking it, it's super loving, the kind of love that will kill you.

After all, the Rothschild family's class is much better than these ordinary rich people, so what they love most is not the stars of the entertainment industry, but the royal family of the European aristocratic circle.

When Helena saw Howard, an old man who almost controlled the most wealth in the world, she was not at all nervous. After all, she had seen the big world on Yeling Mountain and knew that the power of absolute strength could not be compared with money, so in her eyes, Howard is a head shorter than Charlie Wade.

So, she looked at Howard and said with a smile, neither humble nor condescending: "Hello Mr. Rothschild, I am Helena Iliad, the current Queen of the Nordic Royal Family. I am here to represent the Nordic Royal Family to you. and the entire Rothschild family, sincere regards."

By _ / February 28, 2024

The more Helena is neither humble nor arrogant, and always maintains the confidence and generosity of a royal noble, the more Howard admires her in his heart.

As almost the richest man in the world, Howard knew that many people in this world would always bow down to money, and very few people could maintain this attitude after seeing him.

Because of his appreciation, Howard also had a little more respect. While struggling to sit up straighter, he said: "Her Majesty... Her Majesty, can you... can you come to the Rothschild family to be... a guest? , is... is... the... honor... honor of... the entire... Rothschild family."

Helena smiled and nodded, and then said: "I heard that Mr. Rothschild has some physical problems. , so I made a special trip to visit. I wonder how Mr. Rothschild is doing and feeling now?"

Howard said somewhat dejectedly: “The doctor said... that I... had some signs of... a stroke. In the future... some time in the future, I...I may have to...focus...on rehabilitation...later...I will...call a meeting...with all the...members of...the Rothschild family... ..is...officially announcing...that Steve has become...the next...the next head of the family...and...also please...Her Majesty the Queen...to witness...”

Steve on the side ... Her husband felt happy in his heart, but his face was still extremely sad as he said: “Father... I believe... I believe you will recover as before!”

Helena turned around and looked at Steve, seeing that he was sincere and sincere. , looking like he was about to shed tears, smiled slightly, nodded and said: “Sir, I think the same as you. I believe that Mr. Rothschild will be able to recover as before, and even be healthier than before.” “

That’s right!” Steve The husband nodded repeatedly and blurted out: “Her Majesty the Queen said so, I believe God will definitely have a miracle come!”

When he said this, Steve was complaining in his heart: “Bah, bah, bah! I’m just being polite, Helen. Na, you’d better not be too talkative at this critical stage!”

Howard felt a little more comforted when he saw his son showing his true feelings.
