

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6764

Sometimes, making the other party despair appropriately is also a strategic method.

If you meet a friend who you are not so close to and asks you to borrow 10,000 yuan, you can only lend him 1,000 yuan. But you can't directly say that I can only give you 1,000 yuan. Then your friend will have to curse you in his heart after taking the money. If a person is too weak, he will borrow ten thousand and only give one thousand.

The operation mode that is more in line with local characteristics is that you have to tell your friends first, my situation is worse than yours now. I borrowed a lot of money outside and still can't pay it back. That person hasn't lent me the money for three years. Give it back to me, just when my friend feels desperate, you can say it again, but if you are really anxious, I can cash out one thousand to you with a credit card.

In this way, when your friend gets a thousand yuan, he will not say he is extra grateful to you, but at least he will not say that you are not doing your best.

The same goes for President Bae.

He didn't want to offend Jacob, but he couldn't directly refuse Jacob and said don't think about the position of president. That would make Jacob think that if something happened to me, you would have nothing to do with me, and you wouldn't protect me or help me. It's not interesting enough.

Therefore, he first greatly lowered Jacob's psychological expectations. At this time, do you still want to be the president? To be honest with you, it is unknown whether you can stay in the association.

At this time, if Jacob is given a little more room to turn, he will definitely be grateful for Dade's agreement.

At this moment, Chairman Pei saw that the atmosphere was almost heightened, and Jacob was indeed beginning to fear being expelled from the association. He sighed and said, "Jacob, we are so close, I will definitely do this." I will try my best to protect you! Although I can't protect the position of executive vice president, I will try my best to protect you as a vice president. If I can't protect you as vice president, I will at least protect you as a director!

Don't worry, in this calligraphy and painting association, you will be there if you are with me!"

The psychological construction that Jacob did just now may be kicked out by the calligraphy and painting association.

But now the promise is to keep at least one director's position, and possibly even an ordinary vice-president's position.

This moment made him feel relieved as if he had survived a catastrophe.

It felt like being seriously ill and going to the hospital. The doctor said that my condition was very serious and there was a high chance that I would suffer from colds. In the end, I had two legs amputated and I survived. Although it was really miserable to lose both legs, at least I was still alive.

So he said with great gratitude: "Oh, President Pei, you are really my savior, President Pei! I really owe it to you this time!"

President Pei heard that he was so excited, and he also knew that he was a favor. Jacob was in debt, so he said: "Well, Jacob, you should play outside for a few days to avoid the limelight, and don't be in a hurry to come back. If you don't come back, you won't be the target of public criticism, and the matter will be decided. I'll handle it here."

Hearing that President Pei asked him to stay away from the limelight, Jacob was on the verge of tears and thought to himself: "My President Pei, this is Fifth Master's Heaven Springs and there are no private rooms, so I can't take care of it. I told you that I have already arrived in Aurous Hill, and now you want me to take shelter from the limelight. Isn't it all a waste of time to take a round trip of more than 10,000 kilometers and stay in economy class for eight hours? It's all for nothing, and the most damning thing is that I donated three hundred thousand for nothing! What kind of evil did I do!"

However, he only dared to say this in his heart, so he never dared to say it. He could only say with great gratitude: "Okay, President Pei, then I won't be in a hurry to go back... Can you tell me how you plan to operate this?"

President Pei said: "In the evening, you find a computer and write a resignation email, saying that you are old and have limited energy. You plan to resign from the position of executive vice president, but because you have deep feelings for the Painting and Calligraphy Association, you still hope to stay in the Painting and Calligraphy Association. The association is adding bricks and mortar, and as for new positions in the association, it will be subject to the arrangements of the association;"

"As for me, I will hand over the vice-presidents to have a small meeting tomorrow morning and make it clear to them, you Jacob Come down and be the lowest-ranked vice-president, while the others will be promoted on the spot, and Lao Xu, the most prestigious and senior among the several vice-presidents, will be appointed as the executive vice-president, so everyone should be convinced;

"If their opposition is not particularly strong, I can make a decision on this matter directly, and at least I can help you retain the position of vice president;"

"If they really disagree, then I will take a step back. Promote Director willson Zhao to the position of vice-president, and you will sit in Director willson Zhao's position. Director willson Zhao's position will be for you. What do you think?"

Jacob thought he was going to leave the association just now, but now he listens. When President Pei offered him the position of director, he naturally had no objections and hurriedly said gratefully: "Thank you so much, President Pei!"

President Pei also breathed a sigh of relief and said with a smile: "Jacob, I am your big brother after all. Why are you being so polite to me? Isn't this what a big brother like me should do?"

Jacob smiled from the bottom of his heart and said, "Big brother, yes. Your words make me feel at ease."

After saying that, he quickly asked: "By the way, President Pei, these vice-presidents have taken care of it. The people below won't make irresponsible remarks, right? What should I do if I'm not satisfied and continue to cause trouble?"

President Pei said with a smile: "Don't worry, our association doesn't have many people, but everyone has a small group, and they are all vice-presidents. Unite a few of your own people? Apart from my people, the remaining vice-presidents are basically covered. Think of them as squad leaders in our company. Here, as long as they don't have any objection to my decision, their soldiers will naturally not have any objection either. Even if they have objections, they will shut up those people."

Jacob said subconsciously: "Oh shit, that's what happened. What's the matter? Then why don't I have any soldiers under me..."

President Pei said sadly: "Who knows what you were thinking when I first mentioned you as the vice president? Unite a few of your own people from below.

How can you develop friends for yourself when you are not staying in the association all day long and are just running to the senior university? You spend all day in the senior university. Hey!" Jacob wanted to slap himself in the mouth and said cursingly: "I won't go to this stupid university for the elderly again!"
