In his opinion, he is Jacob's supervisor, and Jacob and Hong fifth master relationship friendship, he is now under pressure to deal with Jacob, should say hello to Hong fifth master, otherwise in case Hong fifth master turn back to blame to his head, he is not for no reason to offend him?

He had to make it clear to Master Don Albert that he had no choice but to deal with Jacob, but for the sake of Master Don Albert's face and his relationship with Jacob, he would do his best to secure a vice-presidency for Jacob.

When Don Albert received an unfamiliar phone call, he asked with some caution, "Which one?"

President Pei hurriedly and humbly said, "Hello, may I ask if it's Master Fifth?"

"It's me." Don Albert gave a hmmm and asked him, "Which one are you? What is it that you are looking for me for?"

President Pei hurriedly explained, "Hello Master Five, I'm Old Pei ah from our Painting and Calligraphy Association, we've met before."

"Ohhh." Don Albert remembered him and said, "It's President Pei ah, how do you have my phone number?"

President Pei busily said, "I also asked a few friends to help me enquire about your number, I hope you don't mind."

Don Albert smiled, probably guessing that his call should have something to do with Jacob, so he spoke, "What is it that you are looking for me you can just say it."

President Pei busy said, "Oops Master Five, is this Jacob with your men Zhang Ermao together to engage in that thing, recently is not in the antique circle is quite hot well do not know you heard about it? "

Don Albert said, "Well, I heard, you go on."

President Pei then said, "To be honest, this thing not only has a great impact in the antique circle, in our calligraphy and painting field as well as our city's literary and artistic aspects have a not insignificant impact, you also know that I have already mentioned Jacob to the executive vice president's seat before, and also intend to wait for me to leave the painting and calligraphy association, then find a way to raise him to the right....."

Said this, Pei will long sigh, helplessly said: "To be honest, I am very want to keep his executive vice president of this position, but the impact of this thing is too big, and also really bad, I now can not withstand this pressure, so can only let Jacob condescension, first to the executive vice president of this position to give up, and then I try to appease the staff as much as possible, and then arrange for him a general vice presidentI personally feel that the success rate is still relatively high, if in case this can't be resolved, I will at the very least leave Jacob with a director's position, what do you think?"

Don Albert knew his intention, that is, he was afraid that he would turn around and blame him because Jacob was demoted.

According to reason, he now hmmm, said a sentence then hard work President Pei, this matter basically also past, turn back Jacob should also be able to like President Pei said, at least stay a director's position.

However, he thought, charlie Ye master's attitude has been very clear, is to let Jacob long a little lesson, if he is at this time and then help him endorsement, is not the opposite of charlie's idea?

Thinking of this, he pretended to be surprised and asked President Pei: "Why do you need to tell me about the internal affairs of your calligraphy and painting association? I'm not a member of your association, so who does or doesn't do what, what does it have to do with me?"

"Ah?"President Pei didn't come back to his senses for a moment.

He could hear that Don Albert's tone seemed to be a little displeased, but for a moment he couldn't capture what the source of this displeasure actually was, was it dissatisfaction with his own behaviour of calling him for a report, or dissatisfaction with his own handling of the situation, or, was it that he didn't want to be involved in this matter at all?

Pei chairman who could not grasp the key point hurriedly said, "Master five, I report to you also do not want to turn back to you on this matter have any misunderstanding, I am also worried that in case you know that Jacob was demoted mood is not happy"

Hong fifth bluntly said: “and I have nothing to do with, I have what happy or not happy? Your Calligraphy and Painting Association, even if it were to be disbanded in place tomorrow, it’s still nothing to do with me.”

Saying that, he said with some impatience, “Alright, I have something on my side so I’ll hang up first, you don’t have anything to do and don’t call me.”

President Pei hadn’t reacted yet, the busy sound of beeping already came from the other side of the phone, prompting him that the other party had hung up.

This time it was Chairman Pei’s turn to be confused.

He couldn’t help but mutter to himself, “What exactly does Master Hong Fifth mean? He doesn’t want to care about Jacob’s life or death? Wasn’t he quite polite to Jacob before?”

President Pei’s wife came out from the bedroom, looked at the bewildered President Pei, couldn’t help but ask: “Old Pei, what did Master Hong Fifth say on the phone?”

President Pei said, “He said that the matter of the calligraphy and painting association has nothing to do with him, said that even if it is disbanded it has nothing to do with him

President Pei’s wife immediately said, “Is there any need to think? It must be that he doesn’t intend to care about Jacob’s affairs!”

“Hong fifth master doesn’t care about Jacob’s matter?”

President Pei exclaimed, saying, “But but he was very respectful to Jacob before that we went to eat at the Heavenly Fragrance Mansion, not only did he take out the best box, but he also took the initiative to send the wine, took the initiative to come and toast the wine.....”

His wife waved her hand and said, “Old Pei, you have been in the calligraphy and painting association this kind of pension for a long time in the arts and culture unit, smell sensitivity is really greatly reduced! Even if two people slept together yesterday, they might draw swords today, let alone the two of them.”

Said the wife and said: "And you have to know, that Zhang Ermao is his Hong five master's military division, the result of Jacob with him to collusion set up fraud this kind of bad thing, Hong five master can be happy?"

"And according to Zhang Ermao's circle of friends said, fraud money into the pocket of Jacob, this proves what? This proves that Zhang Ermao is acting as Jacob's patsy in this matter, and is working on behalf of Jacob."

"He Jacob dared to use Master Hong's military advisor as a horseman, and also caused such a big scandal, can Master Hong's face hang on? At a time like this, when Master Hong Fifth gets angry, he will definitely break with Jacob in the process ah!"

Hearing this, President Pei exclaimed, "Wife, then according to your meaning, Master Hong Fifth doesn't care about Jacob's death or life anymore?"

"Definitely!" Wife said, "If he cares, he would definitely show his attitude just now, people don't even let you call him, that is, he doesn't want to care about this matter and is not willing to say it explicitly."

"I go" President Pei bit his lip, some depressed said, "Early to know that he is this attitude, I will not give Jacob to make a guarantee, I want to keep him a vice president of the position, it is just to please the Hong five masters, alsolest Master Hong Fifth would blame him in the future, but now that Master Hong Fifth is too lazy to care about him, why would I bother to help him with so much pressure?"

"Yes!" The wife said without thinking, "Since Master Hong Fifth has already taken a stance, you don't need to help him at all in this matter, and you have to know that as long as you help him in this matter, everyone will feel that you are just siding with him, and this will surely leave you with something to talk about, and if you can be fair and impartial in this matter, it will surely win you a wave of good reputation for yourself. "

Said his wife and could not help but remind him, "Old Pei ah, there are some things you can not be too optimistic, you have to consider one thing, that is, in case you do not get promoted up this time what to do?"

“If you don’t rise up” President Pei smacked his lips, “If you don’t rise up you can only continue to do it in the Calligraphy and Painting Association.”

The wife nodded, and asked: “If you have to continue to stay in the future in the painting and calligraphy association, then you this time whether it is favouritism, or impartiality, will directly affect your future in the association’s majesty and status, my personal opinion is that this situation is now completely unnecessary for the sake of Jacob, and affect your own image.”

President Pei nodded thoughtfully and said awkwardly, “But I have promised him ah”

The wife asked rhetorically, “Promise what? Promise others can be a lot of things, my sister when she bought a house to borrow money, I also promised her, but she turned her head to borrow two million, I can give her? She sold the old house for a new house, a total of two million to make up the difference in price, you say she looked for me to borrow a million is also reasonable ah, two million all open mouth looking for me to borrow, then it is not I help her change the house? Sisters do not have such an open mouth ah, since she has the good sense to open this mouth, then I have the good sense to refuse.”

President Pei asked her, “Then you mean, I simply do not bother to protect Jacob chant?”

The wife came up with the idea, “Didn’t you ask him to send an email to resign? He just needs to send that email, so you can just take the opportunity to agree to his resignation, right?”

President Pei said with some difficulty, “This this is too much of a grandson, I let him send an email resignation, is the first to give up the position of executive vice president, and then go to mediate with those vice presidents, we internal problems internal solution, Jacob let a step, we further, all happy, but if I am Jacob directly stroked off, this is not with the bank maliciously draw loans a nature? If he knows that I have tricked him, he will hate me to death.”

However, he is no longer planning to protect Jacob.

Therefore, Jacob's resignation email has just become a good opportunity for him to cut ties with Jacob.

He could have replied to the email bluntly and approved Jacob's resignation in the email, so that Jacob could pack up and get out of the association.

However, he was afraid that Jacob would come to find his own trouble in the middle of the night, combined with the fact that Jacob would have to take a plane back to Dubai tomorrow morning, so he decided to approve Jacob's resignation tomorrow, so that when Jacob knew that he had already arrived in Dubai, he could also give him a few days to digest.

So, Jacob's resignation email was just sent out, not five minutes, President Pei replied to the email, Jacob clicked to see, only to see President Pei replied: "Vice President Jacob took the initiative to resign, it's a great loss to our association, however, Vice President Jacob's personal situation and willingness to be respected, so please ask all the vice presidents to come to my office tomorrow morning at 10:00 am to discuss this matter together. discuss this matter together."

Jacob was still wondering how President Pei replied to his own email to get the other vice presidents to go to his office for a meeting, followed by a closer look, President Pei had copied everyone.

Copying everyone when replying to an email was the same as forwarding that email he sent to others as well.

Jacob heart feel, this kind of thing, the president and a few vice president internal discussion can be, completely unnecessary to copy everyone, so they hurriedly sent voice on weibo to ask President Pei: "President Pei, you just replied to the email copy everyone, is not accidentally point wrong ah?"

President Pei replied: "Jacob, you this matter in fact, we all know, so there is no need to hide, so that we can appear to do things just and open, you can rest assured, tomorrow's meeting, I will discuss with a few presidents discreetly."

Jacob thought, President Pei said also makes sense, their own thing, in the circle of antiques and art circle has long been known, there is really no need to hide within the association, anyway, it is a theatre, do it for all to see is actually more persuasive.

So he put his heart down and said to President Pei: "President Pei, I'll return to Dubai on tomorrow morning's flight, please take care of this side of things!"

President Pei said, "Don't worry Jacob, I will definitely take care of it."

Jacob also did not doubt him, smilingly said, "Then it's hard for you President Pei, when I come back I will treat you to a good drink at Tian Xiang Fu!"

After President Pei heard this message from him, he couldn't help but mutter, "Still Heavenly Fragrance Mansion, Master Don Albert doesn't even care about you anymore, maybe in the future in Heavenly Fragrance Mansion, you're not as good as I am."

Sighing, President Pei threw his mobile phone aside and said to his wife in a self-congratulatory manner, "I'm not really falling on my sword, after all, the matter of fraud is something that Jacob did on his own, right wife."

His wife busy said: "Of course you are not falling down the well, you just in time to draw a line with him, I see ah, you do not convene a few vice president tomorrow to open a small meeting, you simply call up all the people, everyone together to open a general meeting, and then Jacob still do not want to stay in the association this matter, to engage in a full association of the vote by a show of hands, to see the meaning of the people;"

"If everyone thinks that Jacob and Zhang Ermao do not matter, hope to keep him, then you do not have to worry, directly to keep him good;"

"But if everyone takes a stance and wants him to leave the Calligraphy and Painting Association, you don't have to completely take the blame for this, after all, it's the decision of the entire staff, you can count on being able to give yourself a block."

President Pei picks up, "I'll put it to you this way, Jacob even if there is no such thing, to engage in a full vote he must also have to leave, he is in our association inside the worst personnel, all know that he has no professional level, purely indiscriminate, I used to mention that before he came up, but also tops the great pressure."

His wife nodded, laughed: "that's just right, this time even if it's a borrowed knife to kill, if he came to you after the fact to ask questions, you say that this is everyone's intention, you can't do anything about it, who let that fraud is his own do it? If you want to blame, you can only blame him, not you!"

After sending the email, Jacob didn't know yet that this email would be the key to his leaving the Painting and Calligraphy Association.

He didn't sleep well in the shabby express hotel that night, and hurried to the airport early the next morning with two dark circles under his eyes.

Security check, departure, and boarding all went very smoothly. At ten o'clock in the morning, his plane took off from Aurous Hill Airport and went straight to Dubai.

At this moment, at the Painting and Calligraphy Association, several vice presidents had arrived at President Pei's office.

These people all have a common goal, which is to put pressure on President Pei and make Jacob leave the association no matter what.

Of course, these people also understand in their hearts that Jacob has some connections in society and has a close friendship with Mr. Don Albert. President Pei will probably protect him out of face when he grows up.

And they all knew very well that if President Pei really wanted to protect him, they would definitely not be able to insist on it, because that would easily reach Jacob's ears and make him hate him.

Several people came to President Pei's office. As soon as the door was closed, one of them couldn't help but ask him: "President, what are your plans for Vice President Jacob?"

President Pei said: "I Didn't I come here to discuss it with you? "

" Us?" A few people looked at each other and one of them said, "I think the impact of this matter is quite bad. The outside world is watching our association. If we can't handle it properly, we will definitely fall into the trap and make people think that our association is protecting our shortcomings."

Another person also nodded in agreement: "I think Lao Liu is right, the circle is only so big. Everyone's eyes are on us."

President Pei said: "Since everyone is talking about this matter behind closed doors, you should stop being vague here. Do you want the association to deal with Vice President Jacob?"

You guys look at me and I look at you. In the end, the vice president who has the best chance to succeed Jacob said: "Yes, the impact of this matter is so bad, he must be dealt with in a certain way."

He said, testing . Said: "In my opinion, no matter what, we have to take down his position as vice president, right?"

Another person couldn't help but said: "Jacob has already sent his resignation email, so why not just follow his email and agree to his resignation request?"

third person looked at President Pei and said He said: "Then this matter mainly depends on what our President Pei wants. If President Pei feels that Vice President Jacob's matter is not serious, he can mediate and find another way to keep Vice President Jacob. President Pei quickly waved his hands and said: "This matter is our association's business. Don't blame me personally. Otherwise, when word gets out, everyone will think that I am covering up Vice President Jacob. What will happen to me in the future?" In front of everyone?"

The man chuckled and said a little embarrassedly: "President Pei, I have no other intention. I just don't want to make it difficult for you."

President Pei asked him, "What do you think? What is the best and fairest solution?"

The man said subconsciously without thinking, "For fairness, everyone must vote together. There is nothing more fair than this."

Several others also agreed.

In this situation, no one wants to be the key person who drives away Jacob.

But without exception, they all want Jacob to get out.

In this case, no matter who you ask, they will definitely feel that it is most reasonable for everyone to vote together, bear the responsibility for voting, and be responsible for the results of the voting together, and there is no such thing as shooting the first bird.

The most important thing is that each of them knows that Jacob is not popular in the association. Many people privately complain about his lack of professional ability. In addition, the scandal caused this time is relatively serious. Everyone will definitely want him to leave the association. .

President Pei was waiting for someone to propose a public vote, so he immediately hit the ground running while the iron was hot: “In this case, let’s not discuss it behind closed doors, but call everyone to the big conference room and do it anonymously on the spot. When voting, I counted the votes in front of everyone. If I agreed with Jacob to stay, I would write “stay” on the note; if I disagreed with him to stay, I would write “go” on the note. The results of the vote will be announced to the public. Which one has more votes? Just press which one.”

Everyone was immediately happy and said in unison: “Okay!”

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6780

By / May 20, 2024

There were not many people in the Calligraphy and Painting Association, only about twenty people in total, so President Pei made a request for everyone to gather in the conference room at one o’clock in the afternoon.

The reason why we chose one o’clock in the afternoon was because several people were doing outreach outside. For example, Xiao Wu, who took over from Jacob to teach at the University for the Elderly, received a notice from the meeting that he had to go back to attend the meeting at one o’clock in the afternoon.

By one o’clock in the afternoon, everyone in the association, except Jacob, was sitting upright in the association’s large conference room.

President Pei did not waste any nonsense. After everyone arrived, he spoke directly: “Everyone, we have called everyone together today because of some personal issues of our Vice President Jacob Jacob two days ago. The impact of this matter is indeed relatively large. It’s terrible. Vice President Jacob sent me another resignation email last night, so after some research, several vice presidents and I decided to hold a public vote among all members within our association. I think it's just a matter of mentioning it. Do you want to retain Vice President Jacob's resignation..."

As soon as he asked whether he wanted to retain Jacob, many people immediately exploded.

Naturally, they were 10,000 unwilling to keep Jacob.

President Pei saw that everyone was talking in confusion, so he patted the table and said, "Everyone, please be quiet first and listen to what I have to say."

Everyone gradually quieted down, looked at President Pei, and waited. His next statement.

President Pei cleared his throat and said: "Everyone of you has a piece of paper in front of you. Next, you can write on that piece of paper, or keep it. If you want to retain the vice president, just write it." If you don't want to stay, just write 'go'. It's a secret vote, so you don't have to write your name. You just need to write one of the two options: 'go' or 'leave'. Of course, you can also abstain from voting and write 'abandon'. "If you write a letter, you will abstain;"

"After writing, everyone passes the note to me from back to front. I will publicly vote and tally the results. If there are more people who support staying, then we will stay; if there are more people who support leaving, then we won't. If the number of people who choose to stay and the number of people who choose to stay are the same, then we will choose a compromise and let Vice President Jacob give up the position of Executive Vice President."

When everyone heard this, they were instantly happy.

The voting will be anonymous and the votes will be passed to President Pei on the spot and the votes will be counted at the same time. This is definitely not cheating. In this case, who will support retaining Jacob?

So, everyone bowed their heads and wrote the word "Go" on their notes.

President Pei picked up his pen, thought for a long time, and wrote the word 'abandon'. Then he put the pen down and secretly took a photo of the note in front of him with his mobile phone.

No matter what, he had left some room. If Jacob came to find him, he said that his palms and backs were full of flesh, so he simply voted to abstain. Those who really asked him to withdraw from the association were those who wrote “Go” , has nothing to do with yourself.

After all the votes were in his hands, President Pei began to count the votes publicly.

He picked up the first one, opened it, and read loudly: “Go.”

Someone immediately made a note on the blackboard.

He picked up the second one, opened it, and continued to read: “Go!”

After reading twenty-six of them in one breath, only President Pei’s own note remained. Everyone’s face was filled with a New Year’s smile, which made everyone President Pei couldn’t help but sigh: “Jacob’s popularity is so damn good.”

After sighing, he picked up his note and said loudly: “Abstain.”

After that, he turned his head and glanced at the blackboard and said : “Twenty-six people chose to go, and one person chose to abstain. It seems that this result is what everyone expected. Since the vast majority of people support his resignation request, then we will ask the personnel director to reply to Vice President Jacob’s invitation after the meeting. He sent a resignation email, agreed to his resignation request, and informed him that he would come to the association to complete the resignation procedures as soon as possible after returning from Dubai!”

I don’t know who took the lead in applauding, so the entire conference room was immersed in deafening applause.

The vice-presidents all smiled brightly. With Jacob gone, not only did everyone have one less thorn in their side, but they were also able to make further progress, which was naturally a real good thing.

President Pei was also relieved and said to the HR director: “By the way, when you reply to Vice President Jacob’s email, please also attach the minutes of our meeting.”

“Okay!” The HR director nodded repeatedly. He said, “Don’t worry, President, I will take care of it.”

“OK.” President Pei breathed a sigh of relief, stood up and said, “Okay, that’s it for today’s meeting, adjourned!”
