

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6801

By / May 27, 2024

charlie Wade and the An family did not expect that hank had considered this matter so comprehensively. It seemed that he already had a complete blueprint and was just waiting for the opportunity to put it into action.

Because of this, everyone's recognition of hank has reached an extreme level, and no one else would want the position of CEO except him.

An Kaifeng smiled and said, "Since everyone has reached a consensus, let's strike while the iron is hot and finalize it quickly. The An family and the Wade family will jointly invest, and Professor He will serve as the CEO. Let's work together to make this thing bigger and stronger!"

hank had also made up his mind at this time and did not want to miss such a good opportunity to display his ambitions, so he said, "When I come back from my wedding leave, I will tell the college about my resignation. It shouldn't take too long. I can participate remotely in the preliminary preparations."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "Then let my second uncle move forward normally. I will ask the Wade family to send someone to do it. Representatives came to sign an agreement with the An family and make an investment intention. "

Old man An Qishan said: "charlie, tell your grandfather about this matter and see if he is willing to come. We haven't seen each other for a long time. I have offended him before. Take this opportunity to have a good chat with him and apologize. " charlie Wade knew what his grandfather meant. After his parents were killed, the An family had always complained about the Wade family, so they ignored the Wade family for so many years. Now that the An family and charlie Wade have reunited, they also know more about the inside story of all the years, so naturally they don't have so much resentment towards Lord Wade.

It was precisely because he had ignored Lord Wade before that An Qishan wanted to take this opportunity to reconcile with the Wade family. Although his daughter and son-in-law were gone, his grandson was still there, so the two families were still in-laws and relatives.

Since they were relatives, it was reasonable for them to visit each other more often.

After hearing this, charlie Wade also hoped that the two families could truly reconcile. In the past, he also blamed his grandfather for driving his parents out of the house, but later he realized that everything was done intentionally by his father in order not to drag them down, so the resentment in his heart had disappeared. Although he had become the actual head of the Wade family, from the perspective of outsiders, the head of the family was still his grandfather, so he might as well take this opportunity to ask his grandfather to come to Aurous Hill so that the two sides could have a good reunion.

charlie felt that this was indeed an opportunity for the Wade family and the An family to reconcile.

After all, it was not convenient for him to show up for the time being, but the Wade family and the An family had been relatives for many years. Although there had been many complaints for a long time before, now that the An family had come to China, it was natural for them to want to restore their relationship with the Wade family, and it would not arouse suspicion from the outside world.

So, charlie agreed without hesitation, and planned to ask his grandfather to come to Aurous Hill when he returned, so that the two sides could meet and talk things out, and by the way, finalize the cooperation.

Hank was also ready to resign from Aurous Hill Finance and fully help the An family and charlie develop their car manufacturing business.

After the general direction was finalized, he asked the An family and charlie: "Since we are going to establish a new car brand, I wonder if you have ever thought about what brand name to give it?"

Everyone couldn't find inspiration for a while.

Tablita, who had been silent, said, "Since it is a collaboration between the An family and charlie, why not call it Anchen Automobile?"

charlie smiled and said, "Aunt, I can't invest this time, so the Wade family has to come forward. Calling it Anchen may not make sense to outsiders."

Tablita asked him, "What about calling it An wade?"

Asher shook his head and said, "An wade sounds weird, and it's not grand enough as a car name."

Homula smiled and said, "The Remi car is named after food, and it sounds okay."

Asher said, "That's because they have been in the mobile phone business for many years, and the company and brand awareness have long been established. The situation is still different."

Just when everyone couldn't think of a suitable name, the old man suddenly said, "Let me suggest one."

Everyone looked at the old man, waiting for his next words.

The old man sighed and said loudly, "I think we should call him Bruce!"

Bruce?

Everyone was stunned for a moment.

No one thought that the name proposed by the old man was actually the eldest son-in-law who had passed away nearly 30 years ago.

At this time, the old man sighed and said: "Bruce, Bruce, this name has been lingering in my mind for nearly 30 years. Whenever I think of the high-spirited figure of the year, I feel ashamed and feel that I owe him too much. If I can use his name to create a world-class car brand, it will be a part of my and your memories and grief for him."

After that, the old man said: "Besides, the name Bruce is of great significance to us Chinese people. The great man once said that when the long tassel is in hand today, when will the blue dragon be tied? These two words not only represent the revolutionary power and spirit, but also the artistic conception of fearlessness and heroic spirit on the battlefield. If you close your eyes, it's like seeing a young ancient general riding on a warhorse and sweeping through thousands of troops. A pair of red ribbons behind his helmet flutter in the wind as he gallops on his horse, which is fascinating!" When everyone heard this, their eyes were still a little red.

Bruce, the second son of the Wade family, was such a dazzling existence among the Chinese people around the world at that time.

It's a pity that he died young and didn't get to show his talent on the global stage.

The artistic conception described by the old man was really exciting.

Everyone seemed to see the general galloping on the battlefield and the red tassel fluttering in the wind.

Asher was the first to express his opinion, and said in great agreement: "Good! Great! Bruce Automobile, I have no objection!"

"I have no objection either!" Homula raised his right hand: "The person I admire most in my life is my brother-in-law. I agree 100% to name it after him!"

Third uncle Olin also expressed his opinion: "I have no objection either!"

"Me too!" Tablita raised his hand immediately.

Hank couldn't help but admire: "Bruce Automobile, what a good name! Absolutely a good name! If the logo can be designed as a flowing red long tassel, it will definitely be very colorful!"

Li Yalin raised his hand at this time and said embarrassedly: "That... Although it has nothing to do with me, I still want to say that Bruce Automobile, this name is really domineering! Perfect! Uncle An, it has to be you!"

An Qishan smiled and said: "Don't flatter me, kid."

After that, he looked at charlie and said seriously: "charlie, Bruce is your father's name. Whether to use his name on our car brand depends on your opinion. You have the final say!"

charlie's eyes were already wet at this time.

It has been nearly 30 years since my parents left, and I have never thought about how to commemorate them.

Now, my grandfather proposed to use his name as the car brand to be established, and charlie was very excited.

If one day, Bruce Automobile can spread all over the country and even the world, wouldn't it be a comfort to my father's spirit in heaven?

With this thought, charlie said, "I have no objection!"

An Qishan was waiting for charlie's statement.

Seeing that charlie had no objection, he immediately slapped the table excitedly and blurted out: "Since charlie has no objection, then this matter is settled! The registered name of the company is Bruce Automobile Co., Ltd., and the car brand is Bruce Automobile. Hurry up and arrange trademark registration immediately, and register all the categories of trademarks that Bruce can register!"

After that, he said: "We must find the best design team to design the most imposing Logo. The idea should be based on Professor hank's. We need a long tassel fluttering in the wind, and the color should be Chinese red. Whoever can design a Logo that satisfies me, I will personally give him 10 million!"

Hank couldn't help but sighed: "Mr. An decided on the name, and I suddenly felt a little excited and confident, as if this matter already has a soul. If the soul has it, it will definitely work!"

Hank's words did not mean any compliment.

He really felt that the decision on the name was like the finishing touch, which instantly sublimated the matter.

Bruce Automobile, apart from other things, the momentum and artistic conception of the name alone are definitely unmatched among domestic new energy vehicles.

What's more, this name is of great significance to Charlie, the Wade family, and the An family.

He is Charlie's father, the second son of the Wade family, and the son-in-law of the An family!

Gathering the strength of Charlie, the An family, and the Wade family, in the name of Bruce, if it fails at this time, it will be unjust.

And Hank also felt that he was carrying a heavy weight on his shoulders. He must do his best and live up to everyone's expectations, otherwise, he would be ashamed to face the elders of Jiangdong.

The old man was also very excited when he heard what Hank said. He couldn't help but burst into tears and said loudly: "Professor Hank is right! Bruce is the soul of this brand! Now that the soul is there, I will work hard for Professor Hank and the others to perfect the flesh and blood of this brand bit by bit. I have only one request, that is, you must not let down the name Bruce no matter what! The tone of this brand is just like Bruce himself, it must be ready to fight, fearless, and invincible!"
