Jadiel nodded and asked her: "Lord Ying, how can we find that mysterious man?"

Sara said with a somewhat worried look on her face: "Don't worry for now. There are some things that I haven't figured out yet. Before I figure it out, I'd better continue to tighten up and don't give others an opportunity to take advantage of it."

After that, she said to Jadiel: "Pay attention to the movements of the An family and the Wade family, and tell me as soon as there is any new news."

"I obey your order!"

The next day.

As the news fermented, more and more media began to report on the cooperation between the An family and the Wade family.

However, the An family and the Wade family did not disclose more details to the public, such as what the name of the joint venture car brand is, what its positioning is, who will be the CEO, etc. Although the outside world is very curious, it has never been able to find out.

The city of Aurous Hill attached great importance to this news. They visited the An family early the next morning and showed 200% sincerity. They decided to rent a piece of land of nearly two million square meters beside the South City Ring Expressway to the An family for free for 30 years, on the premise that the An family and the Wade family could fulfill the rumors that the actual investment in Aurous Hill would reach 15 billion US dollars in the next five years.

The only requirement of Aurous Hill was to write the investment amount into the gambling agreement to avoid the land being given out but the investment not being in place.

The Ring Expressway is connected to the three vertical and three horizontal expressway networks in Aurous Hill, and the road traffic is very convenient.

The logistics mode of domestically produced automobiles in China also mainly relies on land transportation. Specialized automobile logistics is more flexible and mobile than railway transportation. Starting from here, the East China area can be reached on the same day, North China and South China can be reached in the morning, and the southwest and northwest can be reached in two days.

The An family was naturally very satisfied with this location, and the area of 2 million square meters was almost twice that of Tesla's super factory. It was definitely enough, and even more than enough.

As for the gambling agreement, the An family naturally had no objection. Not to mention the investment of 15 billion in five years, as long as it was officially launched, the money would be directly credited.

charlie's second uncle Homula synchronized this news to charlie, and charlie agreed without thinking. According to his plan, after hank finished his honeymoon and completed the resignation procedures, he could let his grandfather come to Aurous Hill to hold a press conference with his grandfather and hank to officially announce the brand of bruce Automobile.

However, the gambling agreement with the city can be signed first. The city must want to fix the investment of 15 billion US dollars. A gambling agreement is enough to make them feel at ease and lock in the land.

So, Homula, on behalf of the An family, came forward to sign an investment memorandum with the city. After the joint venture company between the An family and the Wade family was registered, the gambling agreement could be signed directly.

In the afternoon, charlie was about to go out for Professor hank's family's dinner, but suddenly he received a call from hank.

On the phone, hank said apologetically: "charlie, I'm really sorry, Paul's uncle suddenly came from the United States, and our dinner tonight may have to be cancelled."

charlie didn't think much about it, and smiled and said: "It's okay, you have something to do at home, just go first, just take the time to list tomorrow's process and send it to me, I will prepare in advance."

“Okay.” hank breathed a sigh of relief and said quickly: “Thank you for your understanding! I will send you the process arrangement in a while!”

Since both hank and Matilda were getting married for the second time, and they had lived overseas for many years, the process of this wedding was much more streamlined compared to the local Chinese rules.

The two did not have a wedding process, they just welcomed the guests at the hotel and held the wedding at an auspicious time.

Not many guests were invited. In addition to the children and close friends of both parties, there were also several colleagues of hank at Aurous Hill University of Finance and Economics.

charlie Wade, the witness, did not have much work to do, mainly the work of a host.

So, the next morning, charlie Wade took a suit and went out to Shangri-La.

The reason why he brought a suit instead of wearing it directly was mainly because he did not want his wife Xiao Churan to know that he was attending Matilda’s wedding.

When they arrived at the Sky Garden of Shangri-La, it was not yet time for the guests to arrive, and hank was busy here with the staff.

Seeing charlie Wade, he took the initiative to step forward and said, “charlie Wade, thank you for your hard work. You came here so early.”

Seeing that he looked a little haggard, charlie Wade asked with concern, “Didn’t Uncle hank get a good rest last night?”

hank nodded, sighed, and said, “Paul’s uncle made a fuss at home all night last night, which made your Aunt Matilda and I exhausted.”

charlie Wade asked curiously, “Why did Paul’s uncle fly over from the United States at this critical moment? What is he making trouble for with you?”

hank said, "He wants to split the Smith Law Firm's business in the United States from Paul. To put it bluntly, he is here to divide the family property."

charlie Wade frowned and said, "Since the Smith Law Firm was founded by Paul's father and Aunt Matilda, what qualifications does Paul's uncle have to divide it?"

hank sighed, "That's true, but when they founded this law firm, Paul's grandfather once funded a start-up fund and also mobilized some connections to help them. He thought this was also a kind of angel investment. Now Paul's uncle thinks that Paul has left the United States, which is equivalent to leaving the Smith family. In addition, your Aunt Matilda wants to start a new family with me, so he thinks Paul can't take the entire Smith Law Firm away, and he must cut out the American part and return it. To the Smith family."

charlie Wade asked curiously, "What is the main business of the Smith family? Is the family in decline now?"

hank said, "I heard from your Aunt Matilda that the Steve family is a family of lawyers. Paul's grandfather is a well-known lawyer. Although this person has strong professional ability, he did not start a business. Instead, he became a senior partner in a top American law firm and then became the private lawyer of some American celebrities and politicians. Paul's uncle also took the same path as him, but the old man passed away a few years ago."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "It is estimated that the family has fallen into decline and wants to gain some benefits from Aunt Matilda and Paul. This kind of You don't have to pay too much attention to him. Since he has come at this time, just invite him to attend your wedding with Aunt Matilda. After the wedding, you will go out for your honeymoon. He can go wherever he wants and do whatever he wants. Just ignore him. " hank nodded and said, "Your Aunt Matilda and I are planning to do the same for now, but if he refuses to leave, Paul will probably have a headache, and I don't think he will be easily sent away this time."

charlie Wade smiled and said, "It's okay, Uncle hank, this is Aurous Hill, not the United States. The famous Steve Rothschild is here, so shouldn't he be polite to us? What's more, he is a nobody, don't worry, if he really dares to cause trouble, he will be in trouble."

As he said charlie Wade asked him, "Did you and Aunt Matilda invite him to the wedding?"

hank said, "I don't want to invite him, because this guy is here to cause trouble. Inviting him to the wedding is like inviting a wolf into the house, but since he is here, we must invite him out of courtesy. Besides, he came here because he heard about the wedding. Even if we don't invite him, he will probably come uninvited. He also promised to come to the wedding today. Paul arranged for him to stay at Shangri-La last night. He will probably come in the morning, but I think he will definitely take the opportunity to cause trouble when he comes."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "It's okay, let him come. As long as he dares to act presumptuous here, someone will naturally be able to deal with him."

charlie Wade said, "I'll call Steve to come again. Even if the people in Aurous Hill don't know Steve, he will definitely know him."

hank subconsciously asked, "Is this... appropriate?"

"There's nothing inappropriate." charlie Wade smiled and said, "He came to Aurous Hill to be a grandson. It's not easy to get a chance to be a grandfather. He must be looking forward to it."

hank was relieved a little. charlie Wade asked again, "By the way, Uncle hank, where are Aunt Matilda, Paul, Ziva Hank and others?"

hank said, "They are getting their hair done in the dressing room. Ziva Hank is the bridesmaid today, and Paul is my best man."

"Very good." charlie Wade nodded and said with a smile: "Don't worry, Uncle hank, today's wedding will be a complete success."

While the two were talking, Matilda, wearing a white wedding dress, came out of the dressing room at the back accompanied by He Ziva Hank and Paul. Seeing charlie Wade, He Ziva Hank said very politely: "Hello, Mr. Wade."

charlie Wade nodded slightly, and Paul on the side was obviously a little nervous and said: "Ye... Hello, Mr. Wade..."

Seeing that Paul was not very natural, charlie Wade guessed that he should have known his identity and was not quite used to it for a while, so he smiled and said: "Paul, why are you still restrained?"

Paul said hurriedly: "No, no, I heard my mother talking about you last night, and I haven't come back to my senses for a while."

charlie Wade smiled slightly and said: "Don't worry too much, we are all friends."

"Yes." Paul nodded quickly and said: "You are right, we are all friends!"

Matilda said at this time: "The guests will be here soon, Old He, let's go to the door and wait for the guests."

"Okay." hank nodded and said to charlie Wade: "charlie Wade, let's go out and wait for the guests, you three can chat."

charlie Wade nodded and said: "Okay Uncle hank, you go first."

hank and Matilda walked out of the hall arm in arm. Paul looked at charlie Wade and whispered: "Mr. Wade, my mother said that you are from the wade family in Eastcliff. Is that true?"

charlie Wade smiled and asked him: "Do you still doubt what Aunt Matilda said?"

Paul said: "No, no, I just think it's too incredible, so I want to confirm it with you. Now it seems that there is no need to confirm it..."

charlie Wade smiled and said: "My identity does not affect our cooperation and friendship. In the future, Aunt Matilda will be responsible for the legal work of the new company. If she is too busy, your law firm will be temporarily recruited. You are not allowed to shirk it."

"That's no problem!" Paul said without hesitation: "The entire Smith Law Firm is at your service at any time!"

Soon, a few guests began to arrive, and charlie Wade changed into a suit and waited for the wedding to officially begin.

Just when most of the guests had arrived and the atmosphere was harmonious, a blond American walked in and said in a sarcastic tone: "I thought Professor He had a good network of contacts, but I didn't expect that there were only so few guests at his wedding. With such little ability, he still wants to marry my sister-in-law. Is he determined to live off her after marriage?"

The blond man's voice immediately attracted everyone's attention.

This man looked like a completely Westerner, but he spoke fluent Chinese. He just walked with his nose up in the air, with a look of arrogance and disdain. When Paul saw this, his face froze and he hurried over. charlie also walked in front of the man with him.

Paul was about to speak, but charlie blocked him. He frowned at the other person and asked, "Sir, it's not appropriate for you to make personal attacks on others on their wedding day, right?"

The man didn't know charlie. Seeing that he was a young man, he didn't take him seriously and said disdainfully, "You should be a family member of the man, right? Please go back and tell the groom that he is indeed not worthy of my sister-in-law." charlie said lightly, "Who is worthy of whom is not for others to say. As long as two people are in love with each other, there is no question of whether they are worthy of each other."

The man looked around and curled his lips and said, "Look at this shabby wedding. It's okay to choose a small, unknown city like Aurous Hill. Are there any celebrities or politicians among the guests present? Are there any mayors? Are there any councilors? Are there any CEOs of well-known local companies?"

charlie smiled and said, "The wedding invites are naturally family members and close friends. What do you want people at the mayor and councilor level to do? To hold a meeting?"

The man sneered, "Our Smith family is a well-known and reputable family in the American legal community. My sister-in-law is going to remarry now. As half of her family, I should at least make sure that the groom has enough ability to provide her with a worry-free married life, right?”

He pointed to the simple decorations around and said disdainfully, “The wedding is so shabby, which proves that there is not enough financial strength. There is not even a celebrity as a guest, which proves that there is no strength in terms of connections. Without money and connections, how can we guarantee the quality of our married life?”

Jimmy deliberately raised his voice and said in a cold voice: “I don’t want to get involved in these trivial matters, but you two left the United States directly and brought the law firm named after our family name to China. This kind of behavior of leaving without a care in the world is not appropriate, right?”

When these words came out, the guests were a little surprised.

Seeing this, Paul said angrily: “Uncle Jimmy, although the Smith Law Firm uses the Smith family name, it was completely founded by my father and mother. As their only child, I have absolute decision-making power over this firm. Do I need your consent to come to China?”

Jimmy immediately said: “Paul, what you said is a bit too conscienceless. You don’t know how the Smith Law Firm was established, but your mother doesn’t know? If it weren’t for your grandfather’s help in providing connections, this law firm would only be a joke! Moreover, Smith’s reputation in the American legal industry was earned by your grandfather’s hard work. Your father and your mother used this name to borrow money. “

Paul wanted to argue with reason, but charlie stopped him again, turned to look at Jimmy, and said, “Aren’t you here to attend the wedding as half of the bride’s family? Why did you mention the ownership of the law firm again? Are you here to find fault with others, but you want to take the shares of Smith Law Firm?”

Jimmy was asked by charlie, and his face was a little embarrassed. He said, “The two things are one by one. The matter of shares is our Smith family’s internal affairs. We can talk about it after the wedding.”

charlie nodded: “Then it’s mainly about the wedding, right?”

“Yes.” Jimmy took the opportunity to say no, nodding his head, “My sister-in-law is the co-founder of Smith Law Firm and is worth more than $100 million. It’s okay for her to marry someone, but if the other party has no money and no status, then he is just a gigolo, right? Maybe after a while of marriage, the little fortune my brother left to my sister-in-law will all be taken away by him!”

At this time, Matilda and hank, who had been welcoming guests outside, stopped listening to the noise inside and hurried in.

Just when she heard Jimmy mocking hank for being a gigolo, Matilda angrily shouted, “Jimmy, if you really want to attend the wedding, stay. If you have other intentions, please leave. I don’t want to talk to you about the equity and business issues of the firm today. If you want to talk, let’s talk about it tomorrow!”
