Steve on the side remembered and said, "I'll have someone call their boss now."

Then he said, "Oh no, I'll call him myself!"

Then Steve asked the butler for the other party's phone number and asked the butler to greet the other party in advance, informing the other party that Steve Rothschild took the initiative to talk to him.

Ellis' boss, Knight Ellis, was so excited when he heard the butler of the Rothschild family say that the heir of the family Steve was going to call him.

He thought that his handling of Jimmy's affairs had been recognized by him, and he was going to call him personally to praise him, so he excitedly waited in front of the phone, waiting for Steve's call.

When Steve dialed his number, he picked up the phone instantly and said politely, "Hello! I'm Nate Ellis!"

Steve hummed and said lightly, "I'm Steve Rothschild."

Nate Ellis said respectfully, "Hello, Mr. Rothschild! It's my honor to receive a call from you! What do you want to talk to me about?"

Steve said lightly, "I called to tell you that from now on, you must never embarrass Jimmy Smith again."

"Ah?" Nate Ellis asked in astonishment: "Mr. Rothschild, it was your butler who called and said that you wanted to teach him a lesson, so I fired him... I didn't intend to embarrass him..."

Steve said coldly: "I know, but the situation has changed a bit. The reason why I met Jimmy was because I was attending the wedding of a close friend of mine in China. I didn't expect that he was a distant relative of my close friend, and we have already cleared up all the misunderstandings, so you must not embarrass him again, otherwise I will not be able to explain to my close friend. If you make me lose face in front of my close friend, then I will definitely not forgive you! In addition, I tell you, I have already answered Ying is my best friend, so you must take good care of Jimmy. If you dare to do anything to him, I will definitely not forgive you, do you understand?"

Nate Ellis wanted to slap himself in the face, cursing in his heart: "Damn it, there are such things in this world? You wanted me to teach him a lesson, and after I taught him a lesson, you said such things again, isn't this being a hooligan? You have to know that I have offended Jimmy Smith so much, letting him know that I deliberately designed to leave him with a handle, letting him know that I wanted to send him to jail to please you, aren't you cheating me?"

Seeing that Nate Ellis was speechless for a while, Steve said, "I'll let Jimmy talk to you."

After that, he handed the phone to Jimmy.

Jimmy gritted his teeth and took the phone. He opened his mouth and said sarcastically, "Oh, boss, I'm so sorry to disappoint you!" When Knight Ellis heard this, he immediately smiled and said, "Jimmy, don't say that. It was all misunderstandings before. It's okay to have misunderstandings. It's good that they can be resolved! I will hold a board meeting as soon as possible to vote on your joining the board of directors. When you come back, you will be a member of the board of directors!"

After that, he quickly asked, "By the way, Jimmy, when are you coming back? I will pick you up at the airport in person!"

Jimmy naturally hated his boss very much. When he heard that he was going to pick him up at the airport, he immediately said, "Okay, I just happen to have something to talk to you about in person. I'll send you the flight number after I book the ticket."

Nate Ellis said without hesitation, "No problem, no problem. Send it to me when the time comes. See you at the airport!"

Jimmy hung up the phone and handed the phone back to Steve. At this time, Nate Ellis, who was in the United States, was pacing back and forth in the room in a panic, and kept muttering, "This is over, Jimmy will definitely not let it go easily..."

His wife asked in surprise, "What's the matter? Didn't you fire Jimmy? Why do you want him to join the board of directors and pick him up at the airport in person?"

"Don't mention it..." Knight said depressedly, "Steve Rothschild, the heir of the Rothschild family, called me and said that there was only a misunderstanding between him and Jimmy... What the hell is this? In order to please him, I handed over all the dirt on Jimmy and wanted to send him to jail, but he called and said that it was all just a misunderstanding, and he also said that he promised his friend to take good care of Jimmy. Isn't this going to kill me?"

His wife exclaimed, "Did Steve Rothschild call you personally?"

"Yes..." Knight sighed, "I have served the Rothschild family for so many years, but I have never had direct contact with any member of the Rothschild family. In other words, someone like me is not qualified to directly contact the Rothschild family members. I am not qualified at all. It is good enough to contact their butlers or business managers. As a result, the No. 2 person in the Rothschild family actually took the initiative to call me and said that he would take care of Jimmy. Just think about it, they must have contact information for each other. If I can't satisfy Jimmy this time, he will definitely complain to Steve!"

His wife rubbed her nose and said worriedly, "I know Jimmy a little bit. He is very smart and not a good guy. There are many excellent lawyers in your law firm, and he is one of the most aggressive lawyers. He has various means. He may have known that you deliberately set a trap for him and left him with so many handles. If you can't make him forgive you, he will definitely become a big trouble." Knight said helplessly, "I don't know if I can deal with him now. I don't know if he will be satisfied if I let him join the board of directors. If not, just give him more stock options and use the money to appease him!"

His wife asked with some pain: "How much money do you plan to give him?"

"Okay!" Knight said with a smile, "My car is outside, let's go!" After the two came out of the airport, Knight invited him into his Bentley. Then, Knight drove and Jimmy sat in the passenger seat, and the car drove towards the office of Ellis Law Firm in Manhattan.

On the way, Knight said with great regret: "Jimmy, I have always regretted what happened yesterday. You and I have worked together for many years, and I have a high opinion of you. If it weren't for the Rothschild family's butler who has been putting pressure on me, I would never have ignored you. I hope you can understand."

Jimmy asked him back: "You said on the phone yesterday that you have leverage over every senior partner in the law firm. I want to know what kind of leverage they are?"

Knight touched his nose and said embarrassedly: "Actually, it's similar to your situation. For some cases that are easier to win and the bids are high enough, I will ask people to induce clients to find lawyers to reach a private cooperation, which can reduce at least half of the attorney fees. Because the case is high and relatively easy to win, the client also actively expressed the idea of wanting to close the deal privately. Most lawyers find it difficult to refuse. I will also ask people to induce these clients to leave relevant evidence to avoid future risks, and then find a way to get the evidence in my hands."

As he said, Knight defended himself. "Jimmy, you also know that every senior partner has a lot of client resources in addition to his own fame. Once they are poached by other law firms, or simply go out to start their own business, they will inevitably take away Ellis' clients and potential clients. This is something I cannot tolerate. So for the stability and safety of Ellis, I must also keep a hand, so I want to keep some evidence in my hand as a trump card for counterattack..."

Jimmy nodded and said lightly: "I know you want me to stop pursuing this matter. For the sake of options and board members, I can consider this matter, but I have one condition, you must promise me."

Knight hurriedly said: "You said, as long as I can do it, I will do it!"

Jimmy said: "I want the black material and evidence of all the senior partners in your hand. To be honest, you made me feel very insecure this time. My black material is already in your hands, so I must also know the black material of others to increase my sense of security."

Knight thought for a moment and said cautiously, "Jimmy, if these materials are leaked, it will greatly affect the internal stability and unity of our law firm. Besides, your affairs are protected by the Rothschild family, so there will be no problem even if they are leaked, so you should not feel insecure because of this..."

Twelve hours later, Jimmy landed at New York's Kennedy Airport with a furious heart. His boss Knight was already waiting at the airport with the option agreement.

Jimmy didn't sleep for a minute in the twelve hours since he came back.

He only thought about one thing, how to do his best to torture his boss Knight who lacked great virtue. The annual net profit of Ellis Law Firm is about 500 million US dollars. Among them, the boss Knight, as the founder and major shareholder, can get at least 150 million US dollars. Jimmy calculated the annual salary, bonus and share of the ten most capable people in the firm. The total amount of these ten people's annual salary, bonus and share is about 100 million US dollars. Although the income of these ten people only accounts for 20% of the profit of the firm, the output value they create accounts for 80% or even more of the entire law firm.

Jimmy felt that since he had Steve, the sword of the imperial court, he would naturally take away all the ten most capable people in Ellis Law Firm, leaving no one for Knight.

As long as these ten people leave Ellis, Ellis's revenue next year will probably be at least halved.

The most frightening thing is that these ten people no longer create value for Ellis, but Ellis still has to continue to pay them full salaries, which will take away another 100 million from Ellis's profit next year. So, Ellis will probably start to lose money next year.

However, Jimmy thinks that this is not enough.

He wants Knight to pay a higher price.

So, he spent twelve hours to come up with a very sinister plan.

The board members of Ellis Law Firm had already been waiting in the high-level meeting room of the law firm.

They also knew that Jimmy had established a connection with the Rothschild family, so they did not dare to neglect him. Those who often stayed in New York and those who did not often stayed in New York all came early to wait.

This feeling was very much like a third-rate family in a feudal kingdom, which was not even close to the royal family, but suddenly a beautiful girl was given the title of Changzai by the emperor.

It was as if the whole family finally had someone who could be heard by the emperor. Everyone was looking forward to her being able to perform a "Zhen Huan Zhuan" in the palace, upgrading from Changzai to become the queen, so that the whole family would be glorious.

Even Ellis had the same idea.

His appeasement of Jimmy was only one of the reasons. In his opinion, appeasement of Jimmy was not a problem. The key was how to make Jimmy make greater contributions to Ellis Law Firm after appeasing him.

When the two came to Manhattan and met with all the board members in the meeting room, the whole meeting room burst into thunderous applause. Everyone looked at Jimmy with admiring eyes. The meaning was very clear. From today on, you are the hope of the whole village.

Jimmy looked at these directors who were usually high and mighty, and now were fawning on him in every way, and his heart was filled with emotion. This was the influence of the Rothschild family in the United States, which was enough to make the so-called elite class bow down.

After thunderous applause, Knight Ellis said proudly: "I invited everyone here today to announce my decision in front of everyone, which is to formally nominate Mr. Jimmy Smith as a member of the board of directors of our Ellis Law Firm. The current 11 board members are all on the list, so we will vote on the spot. Please raise your hands if you agree with my nomination."

As soon as the voice fell, the other 10 directors raised their right hands without hesitation. One of them even said impatiently: "Chairman, an employee as contributive as Jimmy should be quickly absorbed into the board of directors. In addition, our option agreement has been prepared for a long time. Let Jimmy sign it quickly."

"It often takes a lawyer five to ten years to accumulate experience. If he performs well, we will give him a promotion and a raise. If he performs very well, we will include him in the partnership plan."

"You know the partnership plan very well. It is a salary and option incentive plan. Once he enters the partnership plan, he will become a quasi-partner. We will give him a higher salary and certain options. These options will be gradually redeemed and exercised over five to ten years to bind him to stay in Ellis and create greater surplus value for us."

Jimmy stretched out his hand to interrupt him: "These are all old news. I mainly want to know how the black material part is operated and what specific black material you have on them."

"Well..." Knight said awkwardly, "Once a partner makes outstanding contributions and is promoted to senior partner, we need to make preparations for the future. Senior partners are very capable and have their own customer base. Their appetites will become bigger and bigger. They will ask for a higher ratio of options and even ask to join the board of directors as a member of the board of directors. However, our options are also limited. A company's shares are at most 100%. Everyone wants a share, but in the end, the share will be less and less. This will cause a group of senior partners to be dissatisfied. So before they become dissatisfied, we will create a series of opportunities for them to make mistakes;"

"The purpose of our law firm is to make every senior partner make mistakes and leave evidence of their mistakes. It's like buying a remote-controlled bomb on them. Whether it will explode or not, or when it will explode, is entirely up to the board of directors."

Knight brainwashed Jimmy again, saying, "Jimmy, don't over-interpret this kind of thing. You will be a member of the board of directors in the future. By then, you will know that those senior partners outside are actually tools for us to make money. Only when they do their jobs well and create more profits and value for the law firm can we sit back and relax and get a lot of cash every year. In other words, those people are our cattle and horses. We must tie them up with the best chains to prevent them from escaping.”

Jimmy nodded and said, “I understand what you said. What I want to see now is the specific black materials of these people.”

Knight said, “Don’t worry, I will pass all the information to you now, but Jimmy, you must keep this information 100% confidential and don’t let those people outside know it. Otherwise, once they want to fight us to the death, it will be a huge loss for us.”

As he spoke, Knight sent some documents to Jimmy one after another.

After reading these materials, Jimmy’s face became more and more ugly.
