

The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6846

By / June 14, 2024

It was late at night in China.

Paul, who was sleeping soundly, suddenly received a call from his uncle Jimmy.

After being woken up by the phone call, he saw that it was Jimmy calling and wanted to hang up directly, but after thinking carefully, although his uncle had always been annoying, he was about to become his mother's subordinate in Bruce Automobile. He probably didn't dare to do anything wrong now, so calling at this time should not be looking for trouble.

So, he pressed the answer button and asked, "Uncle Jimmy, what do you want to talk to me about so late at night?" Jimmy said excitedly, "Paul, listen to me, I'm on my way home now. After I go back and settle your aunt and your brothers and sisters, I will go back to China early tomorrow morning!"

Paul asked in surprise, "Uncle Jimmy, Mr. Wade means that you should report to Aurous Hill in half a month. Even my mother and stepfather don't have to go to work for the time being. What are you doing here so early? It's better to stay at home and spend time with your family."

Jimmy said quickly, "I have already talked to Knight. Tomorrow I will charter a plane with all the board members and senior partners to Aurous Hill for team building, and meet Mr. Rothschild by the way. All the senior partners can be picked at will, and we might as well leave ten people in Aurous Hill waiting to start work. Anyway, I have With the evidence that Knight has set a trap for them, they will definitely not refuse to stay in China!"

Paul said: "Uncle Jimmy, since you already have the evidence, you won't be in a hurry, right? Why don't you take a good rest in the United States for a few days? When my mother and stepfather come back, it won't be too late for you to organize them to come here, and it will be just right for my mother to screen them personally."

Jimmy said impatiently: "Paul, I'll tell you the truth, I just don't want Knight to be so arrogant anymore. While he is in high spirits now, I will take him directly to China and pour a basin of cold water on him, and then cut off a few pieces of his meat, so that I can get revenge. Besides, this kind of thing is afraid of more dreams at night. Talents and money are the same, and they all emphasize a pocket for safety!"

Paul asked him helplessly: "Have you contacted Mr. Wade or Mr. Rothschild?"

"Steve Rothschild?!" The wife was shocked and said, "He...didn't he just become the first heir of the Rothschild family some time ago?! Matilda's new husband actually knows him?!"

Jimmy glared at her and said angrily, "I told you to call me sister-in-law, you don't understand, right?"

The wife was startled by him, but seeing his eyes wide and angry, she knew he was not joking, and hurriedly said, "Okay, call me sister-in-law, call me sister-in-law, tell me, what is the background of this new husband of sister-in-law? What happened to you when you went to Aurous Hill this time?"

Jimmy sighed, "It's really a long story..."

Then, he told his wife the whole process of his trip to Aurous Hill without reservation.

The wife was stunned at first, then her face turned pale, and even covered her heart at the critical moment, fearing that Steve Rothschild would not let them go.

When she heard that her husband had to go to Huaxia to work for Matilda for ten years, she no longer felt any anger, and the rest was the relief of surviving the disaster.

Everyone knows what the consequences of offending the Rothschild family are. They will die without a burial place.

Now they have such a situation, which is a blessing in disguise.

She just couldn't control her anger towards Knight Ellis, and gritted her teeth and said, "That bastard Knight is not a human being. He deliberately set a trap for you to step on. He is simply a beast!"

Jimmy comforted her, "It's okay, don't worry about him. He will have a hard time when he goes to China tomorrow. I estimate that in the next ten years, Ellis will probably find it difficult to make a profit. The income of the eleven of us may need to be supplemented by Knight himself. Ten years later, he will probably become a pauper."

The wife nodded and gritted her teeth and said, "

He deserves it! We have to beat him to death!" After that, she looked at Jimmy and said seriously, "Don't worry, husband. We have survived this disaster. We will be low-key and down-to-earth in the future. Sister-in-law is sister-in-law after all, and she will definitely not make things difficult for you maliciously."

Jimmy nodded and said, "I think so too. Anyway, I can still take home four million US dollars from Knight every year, which is enough for our family expenses."

The wife said, "The children are all grown up, and there is no need for me to stay in the United States. When you settle down in China, I will go to China to accompany you!"

Jimmy heard this and felt relieved. He was moved and said, "Thank you, wife!"

A few hours later.

It was already early morning in Aurous Hill.

charlie Wade got up early and made breakfast. His wife Claire also got up early and rushed to the company after breakfast.

charlie Wade had nothing to do. When he was hesitating about going to Zijin Villa and Champs Elysees Hot Spring, Paul called him.

On the phone, Paul reported his uncle Jimmy's plan to charlie Wade and asked for charlie Wade's opinion.

charlie Wade didn't expect that Jimmy would pull his boss and colleagues over as soon as he returned to the United States, but he knew very well what Jimmy meant by doing so.

After all, Jimmy was a weak person in front of his boss. Even if he held the imperial sword given by Steve, he might not be able to kill him with pleasure. It would be better to bring him to Steve and let Steve kill him in person.

For charlie Wade, it was Jimmy's gang who were tossing around anyway, so he just had to wait and watch the show in Aurous Hill.

Then, he said to Paul, "Let them come, tell Jimmy to choose the Buckingham Palace as the hotel for their team to stay. When they have a meeting at Buckingham Palace, I will go there with Steve and keep all the ten senior partners."

"Okay, Mr. Wade." Paul said respectfully, "Then I'll tell him so." It was already night in the United States at this time. Jimmy was packing his luggage while anxiously waiting for Paul's call back.

He felt that Charlie Wade should not oppose his decision, but he was still a little unsure in his heart.

Soon, Paul called, and he and his wife became nervous instantly. Jimmy quickly answered the phone and asked him: "Paul, have you contacted Mr. Wade?"

Paul said: "Uncle Jimmy, I have contacted Mr. Wade. He said that you can go at any time. Remember to stay at the Buckingham Palace Hotel. When you have a meeting, he will go there with Mr. Rothschild."

"Great!" Jimmy said excitedly: "We will set off early tomorrow morning and arrive in Aurous Hill the next morning local time. Then we will go directly to Buckingham Palace!"

"Okay." Paul said: "Let me know when you have settled down, so that I can say hello to Mr. Wade and let Mr. Wade see when it is more appropriate to meet you."

"No problem!" Jimmy responded happily, "I'll report to you as soon as I get there!"

The next morning, a Boeing 777 charter plane departed from New York's Kennedy Airport.

All the core members of the Ellis Law Firm boarded the plane and flew to China happily under the leadership of their boss, Knight Ellis.

The happiest person among them was the boss Knight himself. He was so excited that he couldn't close his mouth, and the muscles on his face were a little stiff because of his irrepressible smile.

The reason why Knight was so happy was that before the plane took off, Jimmy personally promised him that Steve Rothschild would definitely attend their meeting.

After getting Steve's promise that he would definitely attend, Knight was so excited that he wanted to jump up on the plane.

For him, this feeling was like a village in the United States planning to hold a village representative meeting, but suddenly heard that the vice president was going to attend the meeting. It was extremely rare.

At this moment, he looked at Jimmy like a dog looking at a goddess. The more he looked, the happier he was, and the more he looked, the more excited he became.

If it weren't for his normal sexual orientation, he really wanted to hug Jimmy's old face and give him a few kisses.

He couldn't help but sigh in his heart: "I didn't expect that Jimmy would become my biggest blessing in my years of entrepreneurship! As long as I can establish a certain friendship with Steve Rothschild this time, won't I have a bright future?! By that time, what will a mere law firm mean? Even if I want to run for a seat in parliament, the Rothschild family will definitely be able to help me realize my wish, and then I can smoothly give up business and go into politics!"

After more than ten hours of flight, the elites of Ellis Law Firm finally landed in Aurous Hill.

In order to mobilize everyone's enthusiasm during the boring flight, Knight Ellis deliberately told everyone that the famous Steve Rothschild was about to attend the internal meeting of Ellis.

This made everyone except Jimmy excited.

Of course, Jimmy was in a good mood, but more of a gloating waiting to see the show.

After the group landed in Aurous Hill, the high-end ground handling company that had been contacted long ago arranged three Coasters to take the mighty group to Shangri-La.

As soon as Knight checked in, he couldn't help but want to see Steve Rothschild quickly.

So he came to the door of Jimmy's room, knocked on the door, and said to Jimmy: "Jimmy, can you contact Mr. Rothschild as soon as possible? We only came to Aurous Hill for this business this time. After we finish it, we can relax and have a good time in Aurous Hill for a few days!"

Jimmy was a little surprised and asked him: "Are you in such a hurry? We just landed not long ago, and everyone has not adjusted to the time difference."

Knight said: "The time difference doesn't matter. Our meeting won't take too long. I estimate that it will take at most an hour. The main thing is to ask Mr. Rothschild to come and give us guidance. I believe everyone can understand."

Jimmy thought, since you can't wait to die early, I might as well help you.

With this thought, he said to Knight: "I will make an appointment with Mr. Rothschild now to see when it is convenient at the earliest."

"Okay!" Knight said without hesitation: "The sooner the better!"

Seeing this, Jimmy immediately called Paul and asked him to help make an appointment with Charlie Wade and Steve.

When Paul turned to Charlie Wade for instructions, Charlie Wade was also very straightforward. He asked Jimmy to set the meeting time at three o'clock in the afternoon, and then called Steve and said, "Steve, come to Shangri-La at three o'clock in the afternoon. People from Ellis Law Firm are here."

Steve asked in surprise, "Mr. Wade, why are they in Aurous Hill? Didn't we ask Jimmy to go back and solve this problem?"

Charlie Wade said, "Jimmy brought people from the United States. It's not bad to solve it in Aurous Hill. The selected people can stay directly."

Steve knew that he had to help Charlie Wade to deter Knight Ellis, so he said, "Mr. Wade, don't worry, I will be at Shangri-La on time at three o'clock in the afternoon."

After that, he asked Charlie Wade again, "Will Mr. Wade attend together in the afternoon?"

Charlie Wade nodded and said, "I'll ask Paul to join me in the afternoon, but you and Jimmy are the protagonists of this scene, and Paul and I will be your followers in Aurous Hill."

Steve said without hesitation, "Okay, Mr. Wade, I understand."

...

When Paul told Jimmy the news that Steve would arrive at Shangri-La at three o'clock in the afternoon, he told Knight immediately.

Knight was so excited that he quickly asked his assistant to make an appointment with the manager of Shangri-La in the afternoon meeting room, and gathered all the employees in the meeting room an hour in advance.

While Steve was not there yet, Knight said to everyone excitedly: "In another hour, Mr. Steve Rothschild, the second-in-command of the Rothschild family, will arrive here to attend our internal meeting. Ladies and gentlemen, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for us. Everyone must cheer up and present our most professional side to Mr. Rothschild!"

Everyone was naturally excited, and they were already rubbing their hands and eager to try.

Afterwards, Knight connected his laptop to the projector in the conference room. There was a PPT he had prepared, which was used to explain and introduce himself and the Ellis Law Firm he founded. This was also carefully prepared for this time, hoping to leave a deep impression on Steve.

At this moment, he led everyone to preview the contents of the PPT, and did not forget to remind everyone where the data was beautified, so that everyone would not let it slip. At 2:40, when Knight was busy with everyone previewing the materials, Steve Rothschild had already arrived at Shangri-La. charlie Wade arranged for someone to invite him to the VIP reception hall, and he asked Paul to pick him up and arrive in ten minutes. After the three met, charlie Wade said to Paul: "Paul, call your uncle and tell him that we have arrived, and ask him to prepare to come out to pick us up."

"Okay, Mr. Wade." Paul nodded respectfully, and then called his uncle Jimmy.

When Jimmy heard that charlie Wade and Steve were here, he immediately became excited. He interrupted Knight who was presenting the PPT and said, "Boss, Rothschild and his two men are here. I'll go to meet them."

Knight stood up excitedly and said quickly, "Go and invite them, go and invite them! How about I go with you?"

Jimmy said, "They specifically asked me to go and pick them up, but didn't say I could bring other people. Boss, you'd better wait here. I'll come right over after I pick them up." Knight thought about it and said, "Okay, then you go quickly, we'll wait here!"

Jimmy got up and left the venue, and came to the VIP room under the guidance of the staff.

As soon as they entered the VIP room, Jimmy took the lead in bowing to charlie Wade and said, "Mr. Wade, I have brought all the people from Ellis. Knight has leverage over all the senior partners, and I have also obtained it."

charlie Wade nodded and said, "We will go in later. After you introduce Steve to your boss, find a chance to make trouble for your boss, and the rest will be left to Steve."

Steve smiled and said, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade, it will be easy to deal with such a bastard."

charlie Wade smiled and said, "I don't care how you deal with him. What I care about are these lawyers."

Then he said to Paul, "Paul, when the time comes, you should take a good look at the resume of each lawyer and select the ten most useful ones to us. Once Changying Automobile gets on the right track, various patent barriers and traps will certainly be encountered frequently. Be sure to select more lawyers who are good at intellectual property."

Paul said respectfully, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade, I have investigated the list of senior partners of Ellis and have some good candidates. I will carefully consider each one at that time."

"Okay." charlie Wade nodded and smiled, "Then I will focus on watching the show today. Let's go."

Jimmy quickly made a gesture of invitation and said, "Mr. Wade, Mr. Rothschild, please follow me!"

The four of them walked through the corridor and came to the door of the conference room. Jimmy did not knock on the door, but pushed the door open directly, and then stood aside respectfully. After Steve Rothschild, charlie Wade and Paul entered the conference room, he followed behind and walked forward.

When Knight saw Steve, he stood up excitedly and came forward, his voice trembling a little, saying: "Mr. Rothschild, I am Knight Ellis, the founder of Ellis Law Firm. It's my honor to meet you!" Steve nodded lightly and introduced Paul and charlie Wade to him, saying: "These two are Paul and charlie Wade. They are my subordinates in Aurous Hill. You should also meet them."

Knight had been competing with Smith Law Firm for many years, so he naturally recognized Paul at a glance. He couldn't help but think to himself: "How could this Paul become Mr. Rothschild's subordinate? Could it be that their Smith Law Firm has taken the lead and established a cooperative relationship with Mr. Rothschild?"

Although he was confused, Knight still said very politely: "Paul, Mr. Wade, it's nice to meet you two."

charlie Wade looked at him and smiled, "You are too happy too early!"
