The others immediately raised their hands to show their agreement.

What they feared most now was that these evidences would be used by Knight to sue them. Once Knight waived this right on behalf of the law firm, there would naturally be no legal risk. Even if the FBI came to investigate, it would be useless because the company allowed it.

In addition, their second demand was to draw a clear line with Knight. After all, no one wanted to continue to work hard for such a disgusting and sinister person. Terminating the employment contract was the best solution.

When Knight heard these two demands from everyone, the nervousness and anxiety just now were instantly swept away, and replaced by uncontrollable anger.

He looked around at everyone and said in a cold voice: "I took the initiative to give you a chance just now, hoping that everyone can keep peace and continue to make money together. If you want to leave Ellis, why should I give in to you? I tell you, the reason I left evidence is because I am afraid that you will turn against me. If anyone dares to turn against me, I will definitely send him to jail!"

After that, he quickly looked at Jimmy again and said in a flattering way: "Jimmy, the matter between us is written off. You are different from them. Don't let them pull you into their camp. They want to drag you into the water!"

For Knight, if these people really want to tear their faces with him, then for his own interests, he naturally can't retreat to the end. Anyway, they have the handle in his hand, not him.

Besides, if this matter gets out of hand, he will only lose his reputation, but they will all face huge compensation and imprisonment without exception.

In this case, how can he be controlled by them?

The only one who can control him is Jimmy.

Therefore, everyone looked at Jimmy, fearing that Jimmy would not stand with everyone at this time.

Jimmy naturally understood what Knight meant. If he was not still being controlled by charlie, he would definitely seize this opportunity to get rid of the risk, and he would never go forward and retreat with this group of people.

But the situation is different now. Knight still doesn't know what his real purpose is. He wants to leave ten people here to work for charlie with him, and Knight will pay his salary. At this time, it is a good opportunity to find a way to establish a personal image, and he must seize it.

So, he looked at Knight and said coldly: "When you set a trap for us, you have already tacitly acknowledged that we workers are the same group. Now you want me to take myself out of it. Where should I put myself?"

Knight hurriedly said: "You are now a member of the board of directors! There is an essential difference between you and them!"

Jimmy shook his head and said: "I did not accept your option shares, so strictly speaking, I am not a member of your board of directors."

After that, Jimmy looked at everyone and said loudly: "In this matter, I want to go forward and retreat with everyone!"

As soon as Jimmy said this, everyone cheered and applauded.

Before today, everyone was actually quite annoyed with Jimmy. He had many shortcomings, and his stinginess and greed were the most disgusting. Even being his colleague would be very difficult to accept, because he would take advantage of others in countless small details and treat others as fools.

But at this moment, he burst out with the brilliance of humanity that theoretically did not belong to him at all. He was able to have such a broad mind and sense of responsibility on such a big issue, which made all the resentment and dissatisfaction towards him disappear in an instant.

Jimmy didn't expect that he would feel so good when he pretended to be a righteous man.

Steve saw that he was pretending, so he couldn't help but whispered to charlie: "Mr. Wade, Jimmy and Knight are so tit-for-tat, how will it end later?"

charlie smiled and said: "You will definitely be the one to end it later. You see, Jimmy has already started to pave the way for his future. He knows that he will stay in China for a long time in the future, and he will be with ten colleagues. Naturally, he wants to be the leader of these ten people. Now he is doing this to establish his prestige."

charlie said: "But he is just bluffing now. If you don't endorse him, Knight will not take him seriously. It will be different if you endorse him. Knight will definitely not dare to make trouble with him."

Steve nodded and asked charlie: "Then I will directly support him and settle this matter directly?"

charlie smiled: "Don't be so blunt. After all, you are in our Chinese territory. Everything must be balanced;"

Steve asked in surprise: "Harmony of yin and yang?"

"Yes!" charlie said: "Sometimes, two opposites are not so incompatible that one side must destroy the other. For us, more often, the two opposites are more like the collision between ice water and hot water. If handled well, the two will merge into warm water, which is more comfortable to drink;"

"When we Chinese do things, as long as we don't completely tear our faces apart, we usually leave some leeway for everyone. So in this situation, I think you are more suitable to be a peacemaker. Let them continue to be on the verge of a fight, and when the time is right, you will come forward with your status and position to give both parties a step. Of course, this step will make Knight gain some face and lose some money, while for others, it will be a loss of face and some benefits. On the one hand, make sure that Knight will not use their handle to blackmail them, and on the other hand, make sure that Knight is willing to pay them.

Steve didn't understand the Chinese way of thinking.

When he was growing up, he was taught that there was no so-called yin and yang harmony in dealing with enemies. It was only a matter of life and death. If you were not as strong as the other party, you would learn to be patient. If you were stronger than the other party, you would kill them with one blow.

However, charlie Wade's reminder also helped him open up new ideas. It turned out that in addition to enslaving and driving people like slaves, you could also control them like cattle and horses.

After understanding this, he was no longer anxious and said with a smile: "Let's see how far they can go."

charlie Wade looked at the excited but uneasy crowd and smiled calmly: "I think they should soon fall into a stalemate. One side finds that it can't do anything to the other side, and the other side is also afraid of it, but the object of fear has not stood up to express its attitude for a while, so it will also be unpredictable, so I guess everyone will be in a dilemma after shouting.”

The quarrel at this time was indeed somewhat weaker than before.

Although Jimmy expressed his willingness to stand together with everyone, Knight's focus was not on Jimmy, but on Steve Rothschild.

In his opinion, he was only afraid of Steve in the whole audience today.

Just now, Steve said that he was Jimmy's friend, which meant that he would support Jimmy.

Therefore, he really didn't dare to offend Jimmy.

But now, Jimmy has obviously gone too far. He has not even asked Steve for his opinion, but has directly stood up for all the senior partners. Now it depends on whether Steve will continue to endorse him unwaveringly. If Steve expresses his position, it means that he has completely lost.

Because of this, he has been secretly looking at Steve, wanting to see if Steve will stand up and speak for Jimmy at this time.

And those who have experienced the same thing as Jimmy are also waiting for Steve to speak up for Jimmy. After all, Jimmy is now fighting for the initiative for them, and Knight has already made his attitude clear. He will not embarrass Jimmy again, but will not let others go. If Steve does not support Jimmy, Knight will definitely not give Jimmy this face.

However, Steve, who everyone is paying attention to, has no intention of standing up and stating his position at this moment.

He saw that both sides were quietly looking at him, and he understood what Charlie Wade had just said.

If I directly express my position on behalf of Jimmy, the situation today will be out of control. Knight's majesty and threat in front of these people will be swept away. These people will leave Ellis Law Firm as soon as possible and rush to the next stop, Fugui, without looking back.

In that case, the possibility of getting them to serve Charlie Wade in China is almost zero.

Therefore, these people still have to rely on Knight to restrain and check.

In this case, I absolutely cannot stand up and support Jimmy directly.

So, the scene soon fell into a deadlock as charlie Wade said.

Jimmy finished his ambitious words, Knight did not respond, and the senior partners standing behind Jimmy were unsure and did not dare to express their opinions rashly. The scene suddenly became quiet, even a little awkward.

charlie Wade was almost transparent in the eyes of these people, so he watched everyone's expression changes coldly from the side.

The longer this awkward state lasted, the more nervous and uneasy the expressions of those behind Jimmy became. On the contrary, Knight on the opposite side became more and more relaxed.

This is because Knight knew very well that Steve had enough strength and face to stand up directly and make him compromise, and he would definitely not have any possibility of resistance.

But the key is that Steve has not expressed his opinion yet.

This proves that Steve does not want to do this.

This is of course a good situation for himself.

At this time, the colleagues behind Jimmy could no longer hold back. Someone whispered in Jimmy's ear and said anxiously: "Jimmy, you are quite familiar with Mr. Rothschild. Ask him to say a word for us! Our future depends on him..."

Jimmy knew very well what Steve was doing. Others treated charlie Wade as transparent, but he knew that charlie Wade was controlling the rhythm of everything. Steve must follow charlie Wade's requirements on these issues, such as when to show up, how to show up, and what kind of plan to come up.

At this point, Steve subconsciously glanced at charlie Wade, and then said: "There is an old saying in China that flies don't bite seamless eggs. You yourself have a lot of loopholes and weaknesses, so it is natural for others to conquer you. And don't forget that the mistakes you made are not only moral, but also legal."

Everyone was even more gloomy at this moment. Steve said so, it seems that he will not side with them.

At this time, Steve looked at Knight and said: "Of course, Knight, as a boss, it is not glorious to use this method to control your employees. Try to avoid it in the future."

Knight didn't expect that Steve would talk to him so politely, and classified the other party's behavior as a dual problem of morality and law, and classified his own behavior as not glorious, which clearly showed that he was biased towards himself. This made him extremely excited, and he hurriedly said respectfully: "You are right, Mr. Rothschild! I will pay attention in the future and never do such shameful things again!"

"Yeah." Steve nodded gently, looked at him very sincerely and said: "Knight, I personally admire you very much. If you can expand your vision a little bit and don't leave too much room for criticism, your prospects in the American judicial field and even in the political field are limitless."

Knight widened his eyes and asked in surprise and joy: "Mr. Rothschild... Do you... Do you really think so?"

Steve nodded and said: "To be honest, many outstanding politicians in the United States are lawyers. In this regard, you already have a great innate advantage. What's more, no one knows how to use and destroy the law better than lawyers. This is your weapon that will never fail. In addition, you have already made extraordinary achievements in the legal field. In this case, why don't you expand your vision a little bit and look upward instead of downward as much as possible? "What do you mean, Mr. Rothschild?"

Knight asked carefully, "Mr. Rothschild, what do you mean?"

Steve said, "What I mean is that you can obviously seek broader prospects and a brighter future, but you mistakenly focus on your employees, on how to tie them up and make them serve you forever like slaves. You are like a farmer who desperately exploited black slaves in the 19th century. You pointed your gun at them and told them not to escape, but you never thought that if you pointed your gun outside your estate, you would have a great opportunity to continue to expand your territory and double your farm, or even tenfold or a hundredfold. "When Knight heard this, he immediately realized what Steve meant, and said very ashamedly, "Mr. Rothschild, you are right, I really shouldn't limit my vision to these employees..."
