As soon as Don Albert said this, Jacob's face immediately showed excitement.

Claire said to the phone: "Actually, it's nothing big, it's just about my father-in-law. He resigned from the Calligraphy and Painting Association some time ago. You know about this, right?"

Don Albert also heard what happened, so he said: "I have heard about this matter. It seems that Mr. willson resigned on his own initiative."

Jacob heard this and said indignantly: "Master Don Albert, I am Jacob. I have to explain to you that it was not me who resigned on my own initiative, but the guy surnamed Pei set a trap for me. He lied to me and asked me to pretend to resign. I sent a resignation letter as a formality, but I never expected that... After I sent out my resignation letter, Pei approved it, leaving me no chance to regret. He is so shameless!"

Don Albert pretended to be surprised and said, "Is there such a thing? Pei was really a bit too much."

Jacob seemed to have met a soulmate, and said excitedly, "Mr. Don Albert, you are right! He is really too much! Please help me make a decision!"

Don Albert said straightforwardly, "Don't worry, Mr. willson, you are Master Wade's father-in-law, so I will definitely take charge of this matter. Just wait, I will call that Pei now and ask him what is going on!"

"Okay, okay!" Jacob felt relieved when he heard Don Albert take charge of everything, and said quickly, "Then I'll leave everything to you, Master Wu!"

Don Albert smiled and said, "Mr. willson is too polite. I'll contact him and ask about the situation." After

Don Albert hung up the phone, Jacob finally breathed a sigh of relief. He said with emotion, "Good son-in-law, it seems that Master Don Albert still gives you face. If he comes forward to help me vent my anger, maybe I can really return to the Calligraphy and Painting Association."

Claire nodded and said, "He does have a certain influence in Aurous Hill. Since he agreed, let him help with this matter. We can just wait for his news."

Jacob nodded and said, "Okay! Waiting for good news from Master Don Albert!"

At this time, Don Albert had already called Chairman Pei's mobile phone.

Before Chairman Pei wanted to fire Jacob, he specifically looked for Don Albert's mobile phone to ask Don Albert for instructions. That time, he wrote down Don Albert's mobile phone number. At this time, he suddenly received a call from him, and the whole person was a little surprised.

Although he didn't understand why Don Albert called him, he knew that Don Albert had a high social status and great influence, and he must not neglect him, so he quickly answered the phone and said respectfully: "Master , what do you want to tell me?"

Don Albert asked in a bad tone as soon as he came up: "Mr. Pei, why did I hear that you fired Jacob?"

When Chairman Pei heard this, he suddenly became nervous and explained: "Master Wu, didn't I tell you about this matter when I called you to report last time... Jacob was confused for a while, and he did cause a big scandal, which made me quite stressed. It happened that he sent an email to resign voluntarily, and I approved his resignation request. There was really nothing I could do."

As he spoke, President Pei was afraid that Don Albert would cause trouble for him, so he quickly added: "By the way, Master , I asked for your opinion on whether to try my best to protect Jacob. You said it had nothing to do with you, so I..."

How could Don Albert not hear the meaning behind his words, and immediately asked coldly: "Mr. willson is your colleague and friend. Why do you ask me whether you want to protect him? I am not familiar with you."

After that, Don Albert continued to attack: "And why is the version I heard different from yours? I heard that Mr. willson had never thought about resigning, and it was you who tricked him into writing the resignation letter. After he wrote the resignation letter, you turned your face and really fired him! How do you explain this?"

President Pei had planned everything, but he didn't expect that he would trick Jacob into submitting his resignation application.

In fact, his original intention was not to trick Jacob. He really wanted to keep a director position for Jacob, but later his wife whispered in his ear that it was no longer worthwhile for him to help Jacob at the time, and it was a losing business. So he simply used the resignation application that Jacob had already submitted to kick him out of the Calligraphy and Painting Association.

In his original expectation, this matter would not have any other negative impact except causing Jacob's dissatisfaction with himself. After all, even Master Don Albert was too lazy to care about him, so what else did he have to worry about.

However, he was just playing around and didn't expect that Master Don Albert could actually come back and punish him with the resignation application right away, which made him unable to cope with it.

President Pei, who was extremely nervous, hurriedly defended himself, "Master, this matter is not what you imagined. I am indeed under too much pressure. You should know that the incident that Jacob had with Zhang Ermao (Cade) before had a very bad impact. Countless eyes are staring at me, waiting to see how I deal with it. If I don't deal with it impartially, it will be difficult to convince the public!"

Don Albert said coldly, "Of course there is no problem with impartiality, but your behavior of deceiving others to submit resignation applications and then taking the opportunity to drive them out of the association, is it a means of impartiality? Is the so-called impartiality of your calligraphy and painting association so despicable?"

President Pei was speechless.

He also knew very well that Don Albert's entry point for asking for punishment was perfect. He could always use how serious Jacob's crime was to excuse himself, but no matter how he excused himself, the resignation application could not be explained away.

At this moment, he couldn't help but curse his wife in his heart: "This prodigal woman is getting smarter and more self-righteous every day! If she hadn't given me this bad idea, I would definitely protect Jacob. In that case, Master Don Albert would definitely not come to me to blame. Maybe he would even thank me for my loyalty to Jacob. Now, I've become a villain in front of Master Don Albert."

Seeing that President Pei was silent, Don Albert's tone became a little colder, and he asked: "What's the matter, President Pei, don't you want to pay attention to me?"

Don Albert said: "Although you handled this matter very unfairly, I will not make it too difficult for you. I will not ask you to re-assign Mr. Willson the position of executive vice president, but you must at least find him a middle-level management position. In addition, I hope you can find an opportunity to express your apology to Mr. Willson in person. You handled the matter so ungraciously, and it is essential to apologize in person."

"Okay, okay! I will definitely do it!" President Pei dared not say a word to Don Albert, and could only agree. It was not difficult for him to apologize to Jacob in person, but how to find a middle-level management position for Jacob. If he had not listened to his wife's instigation and did not mess around before, it would have been a good opportunity to deal with Jacob, demote Jacob, and let several key positions be promoted one level.

But after all, he missed that good opportunity to go with the flow, and now it is like sailing against the current to do it again, which is somewhat difficult.

However, although it is difficult, he did not dare to bargain with Don Albert.

Don Albert nodded coldly and reminded him, "Since you said you can do it, then give me a clear answer by this time tomorrow."

"Okay!" President Pei gritted his teeth and agreed, saying, "Don't worry, I'll call a meeting to discuss it right away!"

Don Albert smiled and reminded him casually, "President Pei, I don't think you can leave the Calligraphy and Painting Association for a while. You will have a long time working together with Mr. Jacob in the Calligraphy and Painting Association in the future. I hope you can get along well." After Don Albert finished speaking, he hung up the phone without giving him a chance to react or respond.

His wife subconsciously asked: "Pei Qidong, what do you mean? How did I recruit you?"

President Pei was afraid that people outside the office would hear him, so he lowered his voice and roared angrily: "It's all your fault for giving me bad advice and telling me not to help Jacob. Now, he has connected with Master Don Albert again! Master Don Albert just called me to question me!"

President Pei's wife asked in surprise: "Why did he come to you to question me? Didn't you tell him? This matter was caused by Jacob himself. How could he come to you?"

President Pei scolded: "Master Hong came to me to question me about my resignation application! Can I wash my head off?"

"This..." Huang Qiuyun on the other end of the phone was silent for a moment, then comforted him: "Old Pei, listen to me, let's not care what Master Don Albert said, he can't do anything to you even if he blames you for this matter, your transfer order will be issued soon, right? When the time comes, report to the new unit, and the Calligraphy and Painting Association will be your subordinate unit. These bad things will not bother you anymore in the future. As for Master Don Albert, at most we won't have any intersection in the future, we don't want anything from him, and now we live in a society ruled by law, no matter how capable he is, he can't cause trouble for us, don't you think?"

"Bullshit!" President Pei blurted out, "I just received a notice from President Chen today. Do you know what he said?"

Huang Qiuyun asked nervously, "What did he say?"

President Pei said, "They said that the department is now being streamlined and laid off. The position left for me has been removed! I have no hope of promotion!"

Huang Qiuyun said puzzledly, "Why haven't I heard about the layoffs? If there are really layoffs, there must be a public announcement document. Moreover, the policy adjustments for personnel positions in such units are generally not put in this time period. They must wait until after the New Year to hold a meeting to discuss and announce it to the public. They are all favor units. Who would lay off before the New Year?"

President Pei sneered, "Otherwise, you, Huang Qiuyun, are smart and capable! You know all the tricks of the relevant units in Jinling and the province."

Then, President Pei said, "Let me tell you, layoffs are just an excuse for Chen to fool me. Just now, Master Don Albert said on the phone that I will work with Jacob in the Calligraphy and Painting Association for a long time in the future, and asked me to get along well with him. Isn't that a clear sign of me? This means that for a long time in the future, don't even think about leaving the Calligraphy and Painting Association!"

Huang Qiuyun exclaimed, "You can't get promoted, is it Master Don Albert who is behind you?!"

President Pei hummed and said unhappily, "Who else could it be except him? I'm completely finished now. Not only have I lost my chance of promotion, but I have to find a way to get Jacob back! If I can't get him back, I don't think I'll be able to keep my position as the president of the Calligraphy and Painting Association!"

Huang Qiuyun quickly asked, "Then Master Don Albert wants you to get Jacob back to the Calligraphy and Painting Association, right? Does he have any requirements? You can't let Jacob be the executive vice president, right?"

"That's not the case." Chairman Pei said, "Master Don Albert meant to at least give him a middle-level management position."

Chairman Pei got angry again, and said angrily, "I originally said that I would give Jacob a director position, but you, a spendthrift woman, insisted on being smart and told me not to care about his life or death. Now, I have cheated him and ruined my own future! Think about my age now. If I can't get promoted this time, I will enter the retirement reserve team in a few years. By then, there will be no chance of promotion. You really hurt me!"

Huang Qiuyun also blamed herself very much and said, "Husband, this is all my fault, but don't be angry with me now. Hurry up and find a way to get Jacob back."

Chairman Pei sighed, "I want to get him back, but it's not easy to do! Positions are originally one for each person. Before, a director's position was reserved for Jacob, and that was because the previous director was promoted to vice president, so the position was vacated. But after Jacob was fired, that position was filled by other people below him. How can we let people make room for him now? After all, he has been involved in a scandal. If we really force people to make room for him, others will definitely complain and report him. "Husband

, how about this? You should invite all the key people out now and have dinner together in a restaurant. I will book a restaurant now. You can go directly there after work, and I will go too. Have a good chat with them at the dinner table. I will make sure that they agree to Jacob's return tonight, and that the newly promoted director will be willing to give up his position to Jacob!"

When President Pei heard his wife was trying to take on too much responsibility again, he immediately got angry and said in a sarcastic tone: "Huang Qiuyun, don't bother with this. Isn't it a big deal for you to handle this matter? You still have to talk to them. After you finish talking, I'm afraid I will lose my position as the president of the Calligraphy and Painting Association!"

Huang Qiuyun was not angry at being squeezed by him. She said, "Husband, I messed up this matter. Give me another chance to make up for it."

President Pei asked her, "Tell me how you plan to talk to them about this matter first? They have already been against Jacob for a long time. "Huang Qiuyun asked him, "Husband, do you know what it means to keep the funeral secret?" President subconsciously, "Isn't it just like the ancient emperor who kept the news secret after his death, and took the opportunity to finish the political struggle, and those who should fight for the throne fought for the throne, and those who should rebel rebelled."

Pei said

“Yes.” Huang Qiuyun said, “Our current situation is similar to this. Think about it, who knows that you can’t get promoted this time? They must think you are going to be promoted soon, right?”

“Yes.” President Pei said, “Even I just learned the news. They probably won’t know it for a while.”

Huang Qiuyun said, “That’s it. When you invite them to dinner today, you still have to act like you’re getting promoted right away, so that they think you might be leaving soon and the position of president will be vacated soon. In this way, they will think that you are inviting them to dinner to arrange their promotion, just like you originally planned to get rid of Jacob. After Jacob is removed, everyone can be promoted one rank later. Now that you are making a gesture of promotion, they will definitely think that everyone can be promoted another rank soon. In this way, won’t the position of director that you want to reserve for Jacob be vacated?”

President Pei pondered for a moment, then said, “That’s the logic, but the final result is that someone must take a step back to make room for Jacob!”

Huang Qiuyun said, “Whoever occupies the position to be given to Jacob should give up this position first.”
