

the Amazing Son In Law Chapter 6926

By / July 18, 2024

After the meal, Steve reluctantly said goodbye to Charlie Wade and embarked on his journey back to the United States.

Charlie Wade sent Zhou Liangyun back to the Antique Street, and ordered Don Albert to place secret sentries in the Antique Street to keep an eye on Zhou Liangyun's Zhen Baoxuan at all times to prevent anyone from causing trouble for him.

Afterwards, Charlie Wade called Helena and confirmed with her the time to go to Northern Europe.

On the phone, Helena told Charlie Wade that according to the AI team's estimate, the entire model will be officially put into comprehensive operational testing tomorrow morning. Since the entire model is copied from their Silicon Valley model, the operational testing will not take too long. It will take about two days to sort out all the details, and it can be officially delivered in three days.

As Party A, Helena will personally attend this closed-to-the-public delivery ceremony three days later. Howard will also secretly attend the ceremony as Party B's representative.

Helena knew that Charlie Wade would definitely come to Northern Europe in person, so after reporting the specific schedule, she couldn't help but ask Charlie Wade on the phone: "Mr. Wade, are you going to attend the delivery ceremony in person?"

Charlie Wade smiled and said, "I will not attend the delivery ceremony. You can just connect with Howard. From now on, we will each connect with one person from the Rothschild father and son. You will connect with Howard, and I will connect with Steve."

After that, Charlie Wade added: "But I will bring Howard's pills in advance. If there are no other arrangements, I can also join the technical team of the recipient to witness it on the spot."

Helena asked hurriedly: "Mr. Wade, when will your technical team arrive?"

charlie Wade replied: "A friend and I will set off from Aurous Hill the day after tomorrow morning. The friend traveling with us has a special status, so we need your help to greet the customs when we enter the country. The technical team will come from the United States, and I will meet them in Northern Europe."

Helena said in a somewhat excited voice: "Okay, Mr. Wade, I will make arrangements in advance and meet Mr. Wade at the airport in advance!"

charlie Wade smiled and said, "Your identity is sensitive now, so don't go to places like the airport casually. Just arrange a royal family vehicle to pick us up from the airport."

Helena said respectfully: "Okay, Mr. Wade, I will follow your instructions."

With the help of her adopted son Sun Zhidong (Meir), Lin Wan'er (Alani) can leave the country without leaving any record. To be honest, charlie Wade didn't have this ability before, but now he is benefiting from Lin Wan'er (Alani).

As long as Helena can ask the Nordic customs to exempt the two people from the normal entry procedures, there will be no official record of their trip to Northern Europe.

In addition to not leaving any records of entry and exit, charlie Wade also plans to stay in Northern Europe for a few more days this time, because once the AI model is activated, it will begin to analyze the locations of the Qing Po Society from companies around the world. If the results can be obtained quickly, he will most likely follow the clues of the AI analysis to track down the case, and he may not be able to return in a short time.

Therefore, as for his family, charlie Wade did not want to let them know that he was going abroad this time, but on the other hand, he also wanted to warn them that he might be away for a long time.

So, in order to make everything seem more real, charlie Wade asked Don Albert to act out a scene for him.

In the evening, after charlie Wade's family had just finished dinner, they all sat on the sofa in the living room watching TV. Since Jacob returned to work at the Calligraphy and Painting Association, his mental state has recovered a lot and his smile has gradually returned. Although he lost the position of executive vice president, being able to go back is already a very satisfactory result for Jacob.

At this time, Jacob was making tea while a news program was playing on TV. After the male host finished reporting a piece of news, the female host next to him said, "This morning, the leaders of our city organized relevant departments to hold a special meeting to actively implement various support for the construction of Bruce Automobile's super factory in the city. The heads of the power, water supply, gas supply, transportation and other departments have signed a military order for the Bruce Automobile Super Factory to be completed and put into production within one year;"

Jacob frowned as he heard this, and muttered in dissatisfaction, "It's Bruce Automobile again. Why do they keep reporting on it?"

Elaine on the side said casually: "Didn't they say it on TV? This is the largest single investment since the establishment of Aurous Hill City. Such a big thing will definitely be reported in the news for a while."

After hearing what Elaine said, Jacob felt even more upset and said depressedly, "I really can't understand. Are the two families behind Bruce Automobile blind? Why not find someone else to be the CEO? Find Hank, a lousy professor. How can he manage such a big mess?"

Elaine came back to her senses and asked him quickly: "This Hank is Matilda's husband, right?!"

"Yes..." Jacob became even more annoyed and said angrily, "I don't know what these rich people are thinking. They invited both of them to the company. In order to avoid conflicts of interest, don't big companies even allow couples to have relationships? How can they let a couple work in the same company? I think they are so unprofessional, this thing will definitely not work out."

As he was talking, the TV changed to a male announcer to announce the next piece of news. He said slowly, "Reporters learned today that the scientific research and education cooperation between Bruce Automobile and various universities in Aurous Hill has been launched. Today, the CEO of Bruce Automobile signed a talent training and special technology scientific research and exploration cooperation agreement with Aurous Hill University. In the first phase, Bruce Automobile will invest 30 million US dollars to build a silicon carbide motor laboratory with Aurous Hill University. Please see the report sent back by reporters from Aurous Hill University this afternoon."

As soon as the host finished speaking, the screen immediately switched to the conference room inside Aurous Hill University. On the podium in the conference room, hank sat in the center position, and next to him was the president of Aurous Hill University.

When Jacob saw hank's high-spirited look on TV, he resisted from the bottom of his heart, so he simply picked up the remote control to turn off the TV, picked up the purple clay teapot he used to make tea, and said, "The more I watch this TV, the more boring it becomes. Come on, have some tea, have some tea!"

As he spoke, he poured four cups of tea in front of him.

At this moment, the doorbell suddenly rang. Jacob picked up one of the cups of tea and took a sip. Then he stood up and said to the other three people, "You drink first. I'll go see who it is."

After saying that, he quickly walked out of the living room.

Recently, although Jacob's mood is generally good, the premise is that he cannot read any news related to hank. In his subconscious, he is the defeated general of hank, and he was defeated miserably by him. Now he has even lost the position of executive vice president of the Calligraphy and Painting Association, while hank has become the CEO of bruce Automobile. It is like he accidentally fell halfway up the mountain while climbing a small slope, while hank suddenly stood on the summit of Mount Everest. The gap is simply like heaven and earth.

When the depressed Jacob arrived at the gate, he couldn't help cursing inwardly: "Damn it, wait until you drive bruce Automobile into bankruptcy, and then I'll make fun of you! I'll buy a hundred strings of firecrackers and set them off at the gate of bruce Automobile!"

As he spoke, he came to the gate, took a look at the surveillance camera, and was surprised to find that the person standing at his door was Don Albert.

Overwhelmed, he quickly opened the door and walked outside the yard. He could not wait to open the iron gate, looked at Don Albert outside the door, and said flatteringly: "Hey, Master Albert, what brings you here? You want to come home, why didn't you call me in advance so that I can prepare at home and don't neglect you..."

Don Albert smiled and asked carefully: "Mr. Willson, is Master Wade at home? I have something to ask him!"

"At home, at home!" Jacob said with a smile: "We have just finished dinner, Charlie Wade is drinking tea now, come in quickly!"

After saying that, he invited Don Albert in.

When Don Albert entered the house, Jacob took two quick steps in front and said excitedly to his family, "Master Albert is here, welcome him quickly!"

Charlie Wade naturally knew Don Albert's intention, as he was the one who arranged it. However, Claire and Elaine were a little surprised, not knowing what Don Albert was going to do in their home.

However, Elaine knew the value of Don Albert in Aurous Hill, so she quickly stood up and said with a flattering smile: "Oh, it's Master Albert! Please sit down, please sit down!"

Don Albert nodded to her and said politely, "Hello, Ms.."

After that, he looked at Charlie Wade and Claire again and said politely: "Hello, Master Wade, Hello, Madam Wade!"

Claire smiled and nodded, and Charlie Wade pretended to be curious and asked him, "What's the matter with Mr. Albert?"

Don Albert hurriedly said, "Master Wade, I came here this time to ask you for an urgent favor, you must agree to it!"

When Jacob heard this, he knew that Don Albert wanted to ask Charlie Wade for help. Since he was able to return to the Calligraphy and Painting Association this time, it was all thanks to Charlie Wade asking Don Albert for help, and he would have to rely on Don Albert for protection in the future, he quickly said to Charlie Wade: "Good son-in-law, Master Albert has helped our family a lot in the past, you must not refuse Master Albert this time!"

Charlie Wade said: "Then Mr. Albert needs to tell me what it is and whether it is within my ability."

Don Albert said quickly, "It's like this, Mr. Wade. An old man of mine developed a coal mine in the northwest frontier and invested more than 1 billion yuan. It just started to produce, but I didn't expect that the mine would have accidents every other day. Today, the tunnel is flooded, tomorrow there is a landslide, and there was even a gas leak. Fortunately, it was discovered in time, otherwise the consequences would be disastrous."

At this point, Don Albert looked at Charlie Wade and said, "Master Wade, my elder brother suspected that there might be some problems with the Feng Shui of the mine, which is of great importance, so he asked me to ask a Feng Shui master to take a look. I thought that you are the one who knows Feng Shui best around me, so I hurried to ask you for help..."

When Claire heard this, he subconsciously said, "It's too dangerous. Accidents happen all the time. Husband, let's not get involved in this muddy water. It's too dangerous."

Charlie Wade hurriedly said: "It doesn't matter, wife, you don't have to worry about me checking the feng shui of the mine. I'm looking at the overall situation, and there's no need to go under the mine."

Don Albert also agreed, "Yes, Madam Wade, my elder brother's mine is in the middle of the mountains. I think it may be that the Feng Shui of finding dragon points is not done well. Let's see if Master Wade can help."

Charlie Wade smacked his lips and said, "If the Feng Shui is not done well, it will be troublesome to move it. It's a big job..."

Don Albert immediately said, "Master Wade, don't worry. My elder brother said that if you do a good job, I will give you 10 million!"

Elaine on the side blurted out: "Give...how much?"

Don Albert repeated: "Give me 10 million!"

After that, Don Albert added: "But it's not easy to make money. The conditions in the northwest mountainous area are terrible. Sometimes there is no signal. It may take at least ten days or half a month to go there. It's very hard."

Elaine said subconsciously: "Give me 10 million, don't even mention going to the northwest mountain area for ten days or half a month, it's worth going to a primitive tribe in Africa for ten days or half a month!"
