By / August 22, 2024

charlie Wade smiled bitterly and said, "That thing is almost as big as my head, and it's not convenient to carry it with me. Besides, I'm afraid that someone might see it and have bad intentions, so I left it in Jinling."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) nodded and said, "It's not the ring, nor the medicine cauldron... Then what exactly affected the aurora?"

charlie Wade asked her: "Could it be some kind of magnetic field effect?"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) shook her head and said, "It's unlikely. The formation principle of the aurora cannot make it have such a form..."

As she was speaking, Lin Wan'er (Alani) exclaimed again: "Look, sir! The aurora has changed again!"

charlie Wade looked closely and saw that the vortex-shaped light spot that was originally like the Milky Way suddenly began to split into four parts like a cake. The light spots in each area began to gather towards the center of the area. As the speed of gathering became faster and faster and the density became higher and higher, a shape like two crossed letters Z suddenly appeared in the air.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) looked extremely horrified, and murmured, "Master, how did the aurora... turn into a swastika?"

charlie Wade was just saying that this image looked familiar, it turned out to be the swastika used in many religions – “卐”!

At this moment, the shape of the swastika had been completely formed, and then slowly rotated in the air above the two people's heads.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) was stunned. She had been a devout Buddhist since she was a child. Seeing the aurora suddenly present such a spectacle, her piety drove her to kneel on the ground immediately, clasped her hands together, and silently said in her heart: "I am Lin Wan'er (Alani), born in southern Yunnan in the second year of the Longwu period of the Southern Ming Dynasty. I have believed in Buddhism and have been kind all my life. I hope that the Buddha will bless you to avenge your great hatred and achieve great success..."

Just as Lin Wan'er (Alani) was praying for Buddha's blessing for charlie Wade in her heart, charlie Wade looked up at the swastika slowly rotating in the sky and suddenly said, "From below, this pattern is a religious swastika, which has a good meaning, but if you look at it from the sky, doesn't it become the German Nazi logo? The two logos happen to be completely mirrored, and this thing is always rotating, so you can't tell whether it is tilted or straight. If someone saw it from the sky on an airplane, they would think that God is going to resurrect the Nazis...”

Lin Wan'er (Alani) had just finished praying for Charlie Wade in her heart and was about to stand up, but when she heard these words, she lost her balance and almost fell down. Charlie Wade quickly reached out to support her, and then she said quietly: “Young Master, please don't make fun of the Buddha in the future.”

Charlie Wade said with a wronged look on his face: “I'm not making fun of the Buddha, it's just that this swastika has two different meanings when you look at it forward and backward...”

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said helplessly: “This place is close to the Arctic Circle, and it is unlikely that there will be planes flying over, so this scene is naturally for people on the ground to see. In other words, it should be for us to see.”

Charlie Wade asked her: “You mean, someone wanted us to see this scene intentionally?”

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said, “Whether it was intentional or not, I don't know, but I believe that all this must be related to you, young master.”

Although Charlie Wade also felt that this strange phenomenon should be somehow related to himself, he couldn't figure out any clues for a while.

Just as he was puzzled, the swastika in the air spun faster and faster, and many scattered spots of light were even thrown out by the high-speed rotation. The entire swastika was like a rotating firework, constantly throwing out bright and dazzling light and shadow until it burned itself out.

Then, those spots of light scattered into the sky flickered alternately at different frequencies. For a moment, it was like the countless stars seen on the top of a mountain in summer, as if in a dream.

As the flashing frequencies of these light spots were different, Charlie Wade suddenly discovered that, with a certain flash, the light spots that were lit up at the same time in the air could just form an image. The image looked like a big hand, making incredible gestures in the air.

Afterwards, the flashing light made the previous gesture disappear, and after a few seconds, a new gesture appeared.

Charlie Wade asked Lin Wan'er (Alani): “Did Miss Lin see those gestures?”

Lin Wan'er (Alani) shook her head and asked him in confusion, “What gesture are you talking about, sir?”

charlie Wade pointed at the third hand gesture in the air and said, "That's it. Look, those stars shining at the same time, don't they look like a hand gesture? What I said may be a little abstract, but if you look at these stars with the same mindset as you look at constellations, you can see that it does form a pattern!"

Hearing charlie's reminder, Lin Wan'er (Alani) looked carefully at the air, only to see countless light spots flickering, and there seemed to be no discernible pattern. There were too many light spots that lit up or dimmed at the same time. If she didn't find the right frequency, it would be difficult to see what kind of pattern changes there were.

She told charlie truthfully: "Sir, in my opinion, these light spots flash without any pattern, and I really can't see any graphic gestures..."

charlie suddenly said at this time: "Look, another gesture!"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) quickly looked closely, but there was still no discernible pattern to the light spots in the sky.

But in charlie's eyes, the gesture changes were very clear. The light spots in the sky were like a group of human-controlled performance drones, showing him patterns made up of light spots according to a predetermined program.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) stared with her eyes wide open, not daring to blink, but staring intently for a long time without seeing any clues.

On the other hand, charlie had already figured out the eighth gesture from the chaotic changes in the light spots.

At this time, charlie had already realized what these eight gestures represented.

These are not just 8 different gestures, but 8 different transformations.

These eight different transformations, when combined together, form a hand print.

There have been related records in the Jiuxuan Tianjing. Both Taoism and Buddhism have the magical skill of pinching fingers and making seals. The fingers and palms are in a specific way, in a specific position, and in a specific posture, and then through a specific series of changes, they evolve into a coherent hand seal. This is the key to pinching fingers and making seals.

Strictly speaking, this hand seal is a formation composed of hand gestures and driven by spiritual energy. If one has sufficient supernatural power, it can even have the ability to destroy the world.

At this time, charlie had memorized the eight hand gestures by heart. At the same time, he was even more confused. He really couldn't figure out what kind of power could transform the aurora in the sky into hand prints and let himself see them.

This is clearly imagining oneself preaching, but who is the preacher?

Could it be that in this uninhabited place near the Arctic Circle, there is a master who is practicing and hiding?

Thinking of this, charlie subconsciously wanted to release some spiritual energy to carefully examine the surrounding environment.

But after thinking about it, he gave up the idea, because since the opponent could even control and influence the aurora, and could perform such extreme micro-manipulation of the aurora, this strength was far above his own, and it could not even be said that he had supernatural powers. In this case, since the opponent was unwilling to show up, why should he bother himself?

What's more, he didn't have any bad intentions. Instead, he wanted to take this opportunity to preach to me.

Moreover, I am in the open while others are in the dark, and I am not as strong as them. It is probably just a pipe dream to want to find them.

So, charlie did not do anything impulsive, but instead kept staring at the handprint in the sky.

It is said to be eight hand seals, but in fact there are eight hand seals and seven variations.

From the first hand print to the second hand print, it is not as simple as just making two different hand prints. Every detail of the evolution of the hand print must be completely consistent.

Just like when you stretch out your five fingers to make a fist, you normally think that you can make a fist by simply pulling all five fingers inward at the same time.

But if it is a hand seal, the real effective hand seal may require the five fingers to be alternately put together into a fist like when folding a folding fan.

There may even be a requirement that the little finger must come first and the thumb must come last. There are also strict requirements on the angle and distance between each finger. If there is even a slight mistake in the evolution process of the two hand seals, the hand seal will have no effect.

At this time, after showing charlie 8 kinds of hand seals, the light spot in the sky started from the first hand seal and demonstrated it again.

charlie also stared at it intently, afraid of missing any details.

After standing in the snow for more than an hour, charlie finally memorized all the details, and the light spots in the sky also showed signs of gradually fading.

As the patterns in the sky became fainter, most of the aurora spots returned to their aurora state.

After waiting for about 20 minutes, everything returned to normal. The aurora turned into a beautiful curtain that seemed to hang in the air and hang from the sky to the ground, mysterious and beautiful.

During the whole process, Lin Wan'er (Alani) had been trying to see the scene as charlie described, but he was like a child who couldn't understand the so-called intelligence test chart circulated on the Internet. Others had already seen twenty faces in the picture, but she hadn't even seen one.

Seeing that the aurora had returned to normal, Lin Wan'er (Alani) knew very well that everything that should be shown had been shown. When she thought that she didn't understand anything, she couldn't help feeling a little depressed.

charlie, who was standing by, also came to his senses at this time and said to Lin Wan'er (Alani): "Miss Lin, let's go back."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) asked hurriedly, "What did you see from the aurora just now?"

"A set of hand seals." charlie said truthfully: "A very complicated set of hand seals, it should be some kind of magic spell.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) exclaimed, "It's actually a spell? Sir, would you like to try it out to see what its effects are?"

charlie said: "I wanted to try it again after I go back. Now that I think about it, if it is some kind of offensive spell, it might be dangerous if I try it indoors."

After that, charlie said: "Then I will try it here, and let in a little spiritual energy first, so as not to make too much noise."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) looked expectant. She also felt that today's events were a little too surprising, so she really wanted to know what the use of the magic that Charlie had comprehended from the aurora was.

Charlie closed his eyes and recalled all the details of the eight hand seals. He then gathered some spiritual energy between the five fingers of his right hand, and then quickly performed the eight hand seals from beginning to end according to his memory.

Charlie has a good memory, especially in this aspect, so the first time he practiced it, he performed the whole set of hand seals smoothly without any deviation.

After completing the eight hand seals, Charlie did not feel any offensive formations surging from his fingertips, and the spiritual energy that he had just gathered at his fingertips was not lost at all.

Just as he was looking at his five fingers that had worked in vain, feeling confused and puzzled, Charlie suddenly felt as if an extremely weak electric current was generated between the five fingers of his right hand.

At this moment, he was instantly excited and said excitedly: "Miss Lin, this set of hand seals can actually generate spiritual energy!"

"Generate spiritual energy?" Lin Wan'er (Alani) was shocked when she heard it. She subconsciously asked, "Sir, doesn't air exist in the strange treasure? In the Dharma Ending Age, there is no natural spiritual energy to absorb in the normal world. How can a set of hand gestures increase spiritual energy for no reason?"

Charlie shook his head and said seriously: "I don't know, but I feel that after running that set of hand seals, the spiritual energy has not decreased, but has increased a little bit. But I can't say how much it has increased, but it feels like every time I run the hand seals, there will be a one-ten-thousandth or even smaller increase."

Having said that, he immediately sat down on the ground, spread his hands on his legs, and made hand seals with both hands at the same time. This time, the feeling of increased spiritual energy became more obvious!

Confirming that the growth of spiritual energy was not his illusion, Charlie was overjoyed.

He said to Lin Wan'er (Alani): "It seems that this set of hand seals is a kind of practice method specially used for cultivation. When I gather the spiritual energy in my body on my hands and make hand seals, the hand seals will generate additional spiritual energy to me. Perhaps this is like a formation, a formation that can make spiritual energy produce more spiritual energy."

Although Lin Wan'er (Alani) did not understand cultivation, she had lived for so many years after all, and was very clear about many things in cultivation. When she heard charlie say this, her first thought was to say to charlie: "Sir, mastering this set of hand seals is equivalent to eradicating the biggest drawback of the Age of the End of the Law?"

charlie nodded and said excitedly: "Whoever masters this set of hand seals is equivalent to finding a way to conquer the Age of the End of the Law."

The Age of the End of the Law is like the entire industrial society suddenly losing its power supply. People cannot get electricity to produce, and industrial development will naturally stagnate.

If a method of continuously generating spiritual energy is found in the Dharma Ending Age, it is equivalent to finding a solar generator in an industrial world where no one else has electricity supply. This is indeed of great significance.

Since obtaining the Nine Mysterious Heavenly Scripture, charlie has only absorbed spiritual energy from two things, one is spiritual stones, and the other is elixirs.

Before the Dharma Ending Age, cultivators could directly extract and absorb spiritual energy between heaven and earth from the air when they practiced, but when the Dharma Ending Age came and spiritual energy no longer existed naturally between heaven and earth, this most fundamental way of practice became a thing of the past.

This brought great difficulties to practice, because most cultivators could not find the source of spiritual energy at all.

Spiritual stones are a product of the period before the end of the law, when the world was full of spiritual energy and spiritual veins. After the long end of the law, all the cultivators tried their best to find and collect spiritual stones, so that spiritual stones are now extremely rare; charlie nodded, and then hurriedly sat cross-legged on the wool carpet in the living room, spread his hands with his palms facing up, placed between his legs, and then began to make hand seals with both hands simultaneously.

Because the movements were not very skilled at the beginning, the speed of completing the whole set of hand seals was relatively slow, but as time passed, charlie became more and more familiar with this whole set of skills, and the speed of completion became much faster and more efficient.

Unknowingly, more than ten hours had passed in charlie's continuous seal making.

During these ten hours, charlie only knew to complete the handprint with all his heart and soul. It was not until the moment he woke up from meditation that he hurriedly checked the spiritual energy in his body. As a result, he was pleasantly surprised to find that he had almost increased the amount of spiritual energy in his body by about 10%!

Such an obvious increase in spiritual energy made charlie very happy! What surprised charlie even more was that the extra 10% of spiritual energy was gathered in the dantian at this moment, making the entire dantian fuller than ever before.

charlie felt that the benefits of this handprint were not only that it could continuously generate spiritual energy, but also that it could continuously improve and expand the spiritual energy carrying capacity in his body.

Moreover, this kind of spiritual energy filling is very different from the filling supplemented by elixirs.

If you rely on elixirs, the spiritual energy in your body will be replenished to Limit, the remaining spiritual energy in the elixir will forcefully impact the body, and will naturally dissipate after the impact. This kind of elixir that is replenished little by little by handprints is more like raising the limit of the dantian little by little, allowing the dantian to accommodate more spiritual energy, rather than allowing the excess spiritual energy to flow out of the body.

To a certain extent, spiritual energy is like magic in the game, which is the key to the release of skills of characters such as mages and warlocks. There are many factors that affect the actual combat capabilities of these characters. Equipment, level, talent and even Buff are important factors. However, the total amount of magic is also a very important dimension. If A's comprehensive attack power is 100 and the magic capacity is 100, and B's comprehensive attack power is also 100, but the magic capacity is 150, then B has a much greater chance of winning when fighting A.

Therefore, increasing the capacity of spiritual energy in the body, to a certain extent, can also be regarded as enhancing one's own cultivation.

Moreover, what made charlie even more excited was that in one night, the spiritual energy increased by about 10%. In this way, within ten days, the spiritual energy in the body could be doubled!

charlie had already begun to think about the use of the excess spiritual energy in his mind. If the Dantian could bear it, he would continuously circulate more spiritual energy to increase the limit of the Dantian. If the Dantian could not bear it, then all the spiritual energy that was circulated would be transferred to the ring that Lin Wan'er (Alani) gave him. Over time, it might be possible to activate other uses of the ring!

With this thought, charlie couldn't wait. He wished that he would not go anywhere these days and practice in seclusion in this remote and deserted holiday home.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) pushed the door open from outside at this time. Seeing that charlie had opened his eyes, she hurriedly asked him: "Young Master, are you awake? When I went out, I saw that you were in a deep state of meditation. I thought you would be in meditation for three to five days!"

charlie said: "The effect of the handprint last night was really amazing. I plan to continue to meditate after a short rest. Where is Miss Lin?"

Lin Wan'er (Alani) said: "I went outside for a walk. I was out for only an hour in total. It was just dawn when I went out, and now it is almost dark."

charlie nodded: "After all, this place is close to the Arctic Circle. If it is inside the Arctic Circle, it is estimated that the polar night has begun."

After saying that, charlie said: "If Miss Lin has nothing to do, then I will enter meditation again."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) hurriedly said: "Young Master, wait a moment. Inspector Li Yalin called a few hours ago and said that the AI model has made a discovery!"
