Seeing that the other party accepted the offer, Li Yalin struck while the iron was hot and said, "Let's sign an agreement. I will pay you 50% first, which is 200,000 US dollars. You don't need to go through the transfer procedures with me immediately. You just need to help me appease all the workers and completely free up this place for me to complete the upgrade. I will pay you the remaining 200,000 US dollars within two months."

After that, Li Yalin added, "The factory is not in a hurry to change, so it is still under your name, and you don't have to worry about me defaulting on the debt."

The other party thought for a while and felt that what Li Yalin said was not wrong. If the factory is not changed, then he does not have to bear any risks, and he has received the 200,000 US dollars in advance. What

's more, no matter who buys his own factory now, it is probably impossible to pay the money directly. It is okay to encounter such a plan to upgrade and transform. If you encounter the kind of people who do not plan to upgrade and only plan to continue to open the existing hardware, it will be more troublesome, because they will definitely evaluate all the equipment. There are many problems with those old equipment, and it will take a long time to argue.

So he nodded and said, "As long as you can guarantee that the remaining funds will be given to me within two months, I will have no problem."

Then he added, "Since we have to sign an agreement, should we also include this clause? If I don't get the remaining 200,000 within two months, do I need to have any punishment or compensation?"

Li Yalin said readily, "Sure, we'll draft an agreement and include the payment cycle. If something happens to me within two months and I fail to give you the remaining 200,000, then the factory will be returned to you, and you only need to return me 100,000 of the 200,000 US dollars I gave you, which is equivalent to you getting 100,000 US dollars for free."

The man looked at Li Yalin in surprise and asked him, "Are you serious?"

"Of course." Li Yalin smiled and said, "Let's put this clause in the agreement."

The other party was completely relieved when he heard this. In this way, not only would he not face any risks, but he would be able to advance and retreat freely. It was simply perfect.

So, he said very straightforwardly: "No problem, I'll do as you say!"

After that, he smiled slightly and whispered to Li Yalin: "In fact, when you upgrade the production line, there is no need to pay the workers outside. As long as I tell them to stop working today, they have to go back home obediently. In a few days, I will tell them to go back to work, and they have to come back obediently. It doesn't matter if they find other jobs in the meantime, because in this small town, working in my food factory is definitely their best choice for work!"

"My place is only a few kilometers away from home, and it is very easy for them to ride a bike or even walk. As for the salary, although it is not very high, it is the highest salary they can get near home. If they want to earn more, they have to go to the port dozens of kilometers away from home, or even go out to sea with fishing boats. In that case, they may earn dozens of dollars more per month, but the commuting cost will be much higher. Sometimes they can't go home for a long time, so they won't go to the port unless it is absolutely necessary."

Li Yalin looked at the other party's confident face and smiled and said, "I have always been a safe person. If I upgrade your place, I will gradually build it into a large factory with high production capacity and high quality. Some competitors may not take you seriously before, but once they know that I am going to upgrade here, they will definitely regard me as a big threat;"

"If I were a competitor, I would poach all the potential workers here before the upgrade and renovation is completed. It would only cost a small price to prevent the start of work on time. Your workers should all be skilled technicians in canning. If they are poached, temporary recruits will have to be trained and adjusted, and the place may not be able to start work normally for several months. For those who do not have sufficient capital chain and are anxious to start work and collect payments, the capital chain may be broken if it is delayed for a few months.

The other party was surprised and said with some enlightenment: "I have never thought about what you said... It seems that I am not cut out for business... I only know to keep the business in front of me and make money, and I have never thought about how to make it bigger and stronger. But with my brain, I don't think I have the strength to make it bigger and stronger, let alone the vision."

Li Yalin nodded and said, "So you just do as I said. After the contract is signed, let these workers go home first, but tell them that this is just paid leave. Half of the salary will be paid and the remaining half will be given to them when they come back to work. In addition, they must keep the money a secret and must not go to work elsewhere, otherwise we will ask them to return it and claim compensation from them."

The other party nodded repeatedly: "No problem, I will tell them more seriously. They are all afraid of me and will definitely not dare to violate the rules."

Then he asked Li Yalin: "By the way, you just said that you would give them a paid leave of two hundred US dollars a month. Pay half first. For more than three hundred people, it will be more than thirty thousand US dollars a month, and more than sixty thousand for two months. You have to bear this money, right?"

"Of course." Li Yalin said, "This money is not included in the down payment of 200,000 US dollars. I will bear it."

When the other party heard this, he immediately smiled and said, "Then I have no other questions! We can sign the contract at any time!"

Li Yalin nodded, and said, "By the way, when you give them a holiday, don't tell them that you have sold the factory."

The man asked puzzledly, "Why? Don't you want them to know that you are the new boss here?"

Li Yalin waved his hand and said, "I am a foreigner here and I don't have any roots. If they knew that you have sold the factory to me, they may not keep their promise. They may even take the money I gave them. "They just ran away without paying their basic salary."

Then he added, "Tell them that you are about to get an investment to upgrade the place, so you can give them paid leave first. However, due to commercial confidentiality, this matter must not be known to any competitor, so they must work together to keep the secret, otherwise, if there is a problem with your business, their work will also be affected, and they will continue to be afraid of your majesty, which makes it easier to keep the secret. "

Li Yalin felt that if Charlie sent everyone here, this place would not be discovered by the Qing Society, and the people here must keep the secret.

For him, who has been doing criminal investigation for decades, if people are hidden in such a remote place that is difficult to find even on the map, as long as no clues are left on the way here, the Qing Society will want to find this place, and I am afraid that only a carpet search is possible. In such a small place, the population mobility is almost zero, the foreign population is almost zero, and the news is extremely closed. The possibility of being focused and leaking the wind is extremely low.

If these hundreds of workers can also control their mouths and not talk about it everywhere, it will be more secure.

Therefore, if we want to stop the work here, but we can't let these workers get emotional, make trouble, or talk nonsense, we should just give them some wages, let them go home with gratitude, and wait for the work to resume.

Moreover, the workers here work all year round except when they are sick. If they want to take a vacation, they will not get paid. If they take too much vacation, they may be fired by the boss. If they can be given paid vacation and let them take a vacation at home, the only requirement is not to disclose the secret of paid vacation, they will most likely comply. It only costs tens of thousands of dollars a month to turn them into the most loyal allies. Not only will they not dare to bother, but they will also keep the secret. This money is really worth spending.

In addition, the reason why Li Yalin agreed with the boss that if he did not pay the balance after two months, the factory would be returned to him, and he only needed to return 100,000 US dollars to himself was because he planned to stand up the boss.

Because he knew very well that once Charlie moved all the people out of here, he would naturally not want this place, and he would give it up directly no matter how much money he spent here.

However, if he bought this place completely, and then suddenly left it empty one day, and directly abandoned the factory worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, it would definitely cause a great shock in the local area. Maybe the news would soon leak out and attract unnecessary attention.

Although I will definitely run away, it is best to let the boss continue to take over after running away.

In that way, the factory will continue to operate and the boss will not change from beginning to end, and outsiders will not notice anything unusual.

Therefore, the setting of such a clause is to make the boss a ready takeover man at any time.

When I suddenly disappear from the world, he will be surprised, but more surprised, because he can take back his factory and get a compensation of 100,000 US dollars.

Although he should return me another 100,000 US dollars, I will disappear from the world at that time, so it is naturally impossible to ask him for it. For this boss, it is equivalent to getting 100,000 US dollars and picking up 100,000 US dollars for nothing.

Due to the terms and conditions, the boss needs to return the 100,000 US dollars, but I, the creditor, have disappeared, so in this way, the boss is equivalent to taking advantage of me 100,000 US dollars. At that time, while he got the advantage, he must be a little worried, afraid that I will suddenly come back to ask him for money, or even afraid that I have an accident and my family will come to him for money.

Once he is dragged into this state of anxiety, he will strictly abide by the secret and will not tell anyone about it, making this ill-gotten wealth in silence.

At that time, these employees will know nothing. They only know that the boss wanted to attract investment for upgrading at first, but later the plan failed. However, the failure did not affect everyone's salary. They just came back to work as before. It is impossible for them to know that this factory was used as a transit point for the Qinghui's assassins.

At that time, the factory will resume work, and everyone will act as if the previous incident did not happen. The boss will keep this secret even more, and no one will know that he used this place for other purposes, and everything will be smoothly concealed.

Li Yalin was very fast. After reaching an agreement with the other party, he paid the other party 20,000 US dollars as a deposit, and then began to let the An family's spokesperson in Africa prepare the remaining cash.

Since they had to leave no trace, they naturally could not use the method of remittance. Cash was the best solution.

For the An family, preparing more than 200,000 US dollars was not a difficult task. They not only had to prepare US dollars for Li Yalin, but also had to prepare a so-called construction team to rush to the food processing plant with some daily necessities. At the same time, they had to make a comprehensive security upgrade for the factory to ensure that everything was foolproof.

In order to have a look after him, charlie had also notified Wan Pojun to take his most elite members and find a way to enter from Algeria and go to Duke Mining to wait for his orders. These people disguised themselves and flew from Lebanon to Algeria. It would take less than a few hours to arrive. With their strength, it would not take too long to cross the border. I think they would arrive in 24 hours.

As for charlie himself, what he had to do now was to rush to the freight yard before the loading was completed in the afternoon, and then sneak into the carriage that was about to be sent to Duke Mining with the help of psychological suggestion, and go into this dangerous place alone.

Fortunately, before Li Yalin left, he taught him some French that he would use. In addition, charlie had learned some basic terms from his parents when he was a child, so it was not too difficult to master some basic terms. In addition, Li Yalin also wrote him some notes in French, writing down the complex instructions that charlie needed on them, so that even if charlie's language skills were not good enough, it would not affect those people's smooth acceptance of his instructions. At 4:30 in the afternoon, when the loaders were about to seal one of the carriages sent to Duke Mining, charlie, accompanied by the person in charge last night, came to the freight yard again.

charlie gave all the person in charge and the loaders on the scene psychological hints, so that they would not remember that he had appeared at all, and did all the follow-up work for him. After making sure that they received the order accurately, charlie hid in one of the carriages.

After the loaders locked and sealed the carriages as usual, all 20 carriages destined for Duke Mining were loaded. After the marshaling was completed, they slowly accelerated to Duke Mining. The train transportation time was about three hours. charlie in the freight car first communicated with Li Yalin on the phone about the details of the food factory, and then sat cross-legged in an open space in the carriage and continued to repeat the hand seals.

In the evening, when charlie was less than an hour away from Duke Mining, Li Yalin had already received the cash sent by the spokesperson of the An family.

He completed the agreement with the boss and handed the US dollars to the boss, and then the boss began to lay off his employees.

These employees never took a vacation on weekdays. They wished they could work 360 days out of 365 days a year. The reason was that they were reluctant to lose their wages by taking a vacation.

Now the boss has given them at least two months of paid vacation, and the only requirement is that they keep the secret and wait to be called at home at any time. There is no reason for them to refuse this, and they can also take this time to have a good rest. After all, if you don't take advantage of a good opportunity, you are a bastard. This is an eternal truth everywhere.

After the employees explained everything clearly, the boss asked the workers to temporarily stop the production line according to Li Yalin's request. All the processed canned food was sent to the warehouse as soon as it came out of the industrial steamer. The canned food in the warehouse would become the food for the dead soldiers who had to transfer.

The boss also temporarily stopped cooperation with all the seafood raw material suppliers at the docks, saying that there were big problems with the production line and it was necessary to stop production and rest, and temporarily stop purchasing raw materials. There are many food processing factories that have temporarily stopped production due to various reasons. After all, they are in the economically underdeveloped areas of Morocco, which did not arouse the suspicion of suppliers.

After getting these done, the boss happily drove back to his home with the US dollars given by Li Yalin.

From this moment on, the factory was completely handed over to Li Yalin, and no former employees were left on the scene.

Li Yalin immediately classified and divided the scene, and asked the An family to dismantle all the machines and neatly stack them in the center of the factory, dividing the entire factory into two. The huge factory will be used for temporary residence of the dead soldiers and their families. The reason for dividing it into two is to temporarily separate men and women to protect privacy.

All doors and windows have been shielded. The factory walls and factory buildings in the factory area are equipped with a large number of surveillance cameras on the top and sides. Although it is temporarily impossible to withdraw high-tech equipment, it is completely sufficient without being exposed.

Although the ingredients in the factory warehouse are relatively simple, the employee cafeteria still stores some other ingredients. Li Yalin has already issued a purchase order and asked the An family to secretly purchase some other kinds of canned food and deliver them to the scene. It just so happens that the cold storage is large enough to store at least dozens of tons of raw materials at ordinary times, and it can also store ingredients for thousands of people.

After finishing all this, Li Yalin called Charlie and told him, "Mr. Ye, I have almost prepared everything here. The basic food and medicines have been prepared, and the on-site environment has been cleaned and disinfected. The weather is cool now. Although the living environment is a little worse, the physical feeling will not be too bad. Next, I will wait for your news to see when to arrange the first batch of people to come."

Charlie asked him, "Inspector Li, have you checked the traffic conditions from Duke Mining to your place?"

Li Yalin said, "I have checked the map and the information on the skyline. Although this road is basically a small road, it can be passed. The power should be acceptable, and the driving distance is not far, about 100 kilometers, and it will definitely take two or three hours to get there. "What I am more worried about now is that when we start to mobilize large numbers of people, we will inevitably use large vehicles. I want to start tonight to investigate the actual traffic conditions of this road and see what kind of vehicles usually run on this road. We will prepare in advance. Didn't you ask me to acquire a logistics company? I plan to see which logistics company runs more on this route. After acquiring it, I will use our people to continue running this route and deliver people here. "

"Okay." Charlie said: "You will be fully responsible for these matters, Inspector Li. If everything goes well on my side, as soon as Po Jun arrives tomorrow, I will let him take a group of people there first. Most of the dead soldiers have the strength of three-star warriors or even above. Let the dead soldiers try the land forced march first. For them, a hundred kilometers march is no problem. They can arrive in one night, and the target is the smallest. With their strength, ordinary people will not find them. If most people can reach the destination by forced march, then the pressure we need to transport will be much less. It's just some old people, children, women and children."

"Okay!" Li Yalin said: "I will also prepare the vehicles as soon as possible, and provide support at any time if needed!"
