The Amazing Son In Law Chapter 7046

At this moment, Song Ruyu has figured out the current situation. Charlie Wade's strength is far beyond hers, and it is a pipe dream to get away. Although she doesn't understand why Charlie Wade could forge his own video in such a short time, she knows that this video is flawless. Once it is exposed, her family will surely die.

Therefore, the only thing he could do now was to cooperate with Charlie Wade as much as possible and not implicate his family.

Seeing that she had given in, Charlie Wade put away his phone and said to her: "From now on, whatever I ask you, you must answer, and you must know everything. As long as you cooperate well, I will not implicate your family, or even you. Maybe I can spare your life. Do you understand?"

Song Ruyu nodded repeatedly, and said aggrievedly and obediently: "I understand..."

Charlie Wade asked her: "What is your position in the Right Army Governor's Office, what are you responsible for, and who do you report to?"

Song Ruyu replied, "I am one of the six assistants of the Right Army Commandery. I have no specific responsibilities and I will obey the orders of Lieutenant General Yuan."

Charlie Wade asked again: "Who is Admiral Yuan and where does he come from?"

Song Ruyu said: "General Yuan is the lieutenant general of the Right Army Governor's Office. His official position is second only to the Grand Governor. He is responsible for the operation and management of all garrisons, and is also responsible for the safety of the Grand Governor and his family.”

Then Song Ruyu said, “The Grand Commander is named Wu Shutong, and he is responsible for everything in the Right Army Commander’s Office.”

charlie Wade nodded and continued to ask: “Where is the headquarters of the Right Army Governor’s Office?”

Song Ruyu answered truthfully: “My current location is in Naples, Italy.”

charlie Wade asked again: “How is the defense situation of the garrison?”

Song Ruyu said: “The station is located in the city center and is heavily guarded. The Grand Commander is a cultivator himself, and Adjutant General Yuan is second only to the four earls in strength. In addition, the station uses financial-grade security construction, and the security level is very high.”

charlie Wade asked her: “Is your Song family also in Naples?”

Song Ruyu said: “The Song family has been in France for many years. Under normal circumstances, we have no right to know the location of the Right Army Governor’s Office. It’s just that I have the opportunity to enter the Right Army Governor’s Office, so I know this.”

charlie Wade frowned and asked, "Isn't your family a branch of the Wu family? How come you don't even have the right to know the location of the station?"

Song Ruyu sighed and said, "The collateral family itself has no status to rely on. For hundreds of years, the Song family has only unilaterally followed the orders of the Wu family. We go wherever they tell us to go, never asking why, and we are not allowed to raise any objections."

Song Ruyu continued, "We say we are a branch of the Wu family, but we are actually a tool to provide the Wu family with women of marriageable age. The birth of a child in the family must be reported to the Governor's Office as soon as possible. The Governor's Office has a department specifically responsible for managing and monitoring us, similar to the ancient clan office. All the information about our offspring is in their possession, and the information must be updated every six months, including detailed physical examination data. Girls who are sixteen years old or older must face marriage. As long as the Wu family has someone selected, the Wu family will inform us, and then they will come to pick the person up at a certain time."

charlie Wade was very curious about the relationship between the Wu family and the collateral family, so he said to her: "Tell me in detail about your relationship with the Wu family, and how this so-called collateral family works."

geographical reasons. These five branches developed and multiplied in their respective territories. Each branch had at least three collateral families dedicated to reproducing offspring for it.

Among them, the Left Military Governor's Office and the Right Military Governor's Office were the largest, and these two branches of the Wu family had the largest number of people and the most collateral families.

Taking the Right Army Military Governor's Office as an example, they have as many as six collateral families, the largest number among them.

For the children of the Song family and other collateral families, marrying into the Wu family is not the best choice, because although the important descendants of the Wu family are protected by elixirs and can live a hundred years, their wives have no right and no qualifications to get any elixirs. In fact, because the Wu family has too many secrets, women who marry into the Wu family basically rely on the Wu family's own doctors to treat them when they are sick. If they have serious illnesses such as cancer, the Wu family simply does not have such medical conditions, and they will not be willing to give the elixirs given by Wu Feiyan to women from other families. Therefore, the average life expectancy of the wives of the Wu family is not long.

After hearing the introduction, Charlie Wade felt a little sympathetic towards the collateral family like the Song family. After a moment, he asked again: "Are you married now?"

Song Ruyu shook her head: "Not yet. When I was sixteen, I broke through to the Transformation Realm. Since then, I am no longer an option for the Wu family to marry."

Charlie Wade was dumbfounded when he heard this: "You broke through to the Transcendent Realm at the age of sixteen?!"

"Yes." Song Ruyu nodded: "I am indeed sixteen years old. To be exact, I am less than half a month away from my sixteenth birthday."

Charlie Wade was so shocked that he was speechless. He had never heard of any kind of genius who could break through to the realm of transformation at the age of sixteen.

Martial arts are not about cultivation. After a cultivator attains enlightenment and masters spiritual energy, his strength will advance by leaps and bounds in an instant, which is equivalent to a one-stop direct access.

But in martial arts, there is no such possibility. You can only move forward slowly, step by step.

Therefore, although masters in the transformation realm cannot beat cultivators who have just attained enlightenment, the road of martial arts is long and arduous. Many martial arts masters have not been able to enter the dark realm until they are sixty years old. Song Ruyu reached the evolution realm at the age of sixteen. He is truly an expert among experts and a genius among geniuses!

Song Ruyu's talent of entering the realm of transformation at the age of sixteen really shocked Charlie Wade. Apart from anything else, if he were to tell Wanlong Hall about this situation, I'm afraid everyone in Wanlong Hall would be ashamed.

Wan Pojun is already a martial arts genius, but he only entered the dark realm with his help in his twenties.

If he were to break through with all his strength, it would be an extraordinary performance to enter the realm of transformation at the age of forty.

But Song Ruyi not only entered the dark realm at the age of sixteen, but even successfully realized the truth in her early twenties!

This kind of talent and strength is the first time Charlie Wade has heard of it.

Surprised, Charlie Wade couldn't help asking her: "You entered the realm of transformation at the age of sixteen. Did you have the guidance of a master, or did you encounter some opportunity?"
Song Ruyi

thought about it, shook her head and said: "No, I just have a martial arts mental method, which is the same as the mental method practiced by the death warriors and cavalry guards of the Poqing Society."

Charlie Wade asked again: "Did the Poqing Society give you any help?"

"No." Song Ruyi said, "I just practiced hard according to the mental method. Although there was no one to guide me, I did not encounter any difficulties. The breakthroughs along the way were very smooth. In two or three years, I had already reached the Great Perfection of the Bright Realm, and in three or four years, I had entered the Dark Realm. After another three or four years, I broke through to the Transformation Realm. They all say that it is as difficult as ascending to heaven to break through each realm of martial arts, and it is even difficult to find an opportunity for a breakthrough. But for me, everything seemed to happen naturally."

Charlie Wade sighed, "Sometimes people are not considered the same species. Your attainments in martial arts are truly the only one I have ever seen in my life."

Song Ruyi said self-deprecatingly, "Although my attainments in martial arts are very strong, martial arts are after all more than one dimension lower than cultivation. It's like no matter how powerful a martial arts master is, he can't beat guns and missiles. I am in Wade's Sir, there is no way to resist you at all."

Charlie Wade asked her, "How did you become enlightened? Explain the whole story to me."

Song Ruyi said, "I never thought that I would have the opportunity to become enlightened. I just know that in the Poqing Society, martial arts masters have a high status, and monks have an even higher status. For the descendants of a collateral family like me, whether male or female, the most promising way out is to become a monk and serve the Poqing Society. Only in this way can the fate of the family be truly rewritten."

Song Ruyi continued, "It is not difficult for the Wu family to become monks. In order to favor the family of the Lord of the Crown and improve the survival strength of the family, the Lord of the Crown will screen the new generation of children of the Wu family every few years. She will choose one or two of the best talents to help them become enlightened;"

"After all, enlightenment is as difficult as ascending to heaven. If there is no external interference, it would be a blessing if the Wu family could produce one person who enlightened on his own in hundreds of years. So, in order to make his own family's strength account for a higher proportion, Lord Ying will use his own cultivation and elixirs to help the descendants of the Wu family enlighten themselves.”

“But the cost of forcibly helping people to enlighten themselves is also very high. Even Lord Ying cannot train cultivators in large quantities quickly. It basically takes an average of two to three years to train one or two entry-level cultivators, and this is already the limit.
