

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7077

At this moment, Sara is closing his dojo.

Her dojo, at the deepest part of the Antarctic island, is more than 300 meters below sea level, surrounded by icy rocks. The reason why Sara chose to build a base for a broken meeting near such a remote Antarctic circle On the one hand, it is more hidden and safe here, on the other hand, because the environment here is more suitable for repair.

In recent years, Sara has been closed for very few long periods of time, each time it is closed, as short as a few days, and as long as a few months. Unlike the three elders, the closing time is in units of years.

The reason why Sara did not close for a long time was not to worry that the development of the clearing meeting would be out of her control, but that as she grew older, it became more and more difficult to sink into her heart to practice. 80% of the time has passed. She hasn't found a Dan who has turned a thousand times back to Dan. The rest of the time seems to be a hundred years, but if it's really used for cultivation, It can be said to be fleeting.

The older you are, the more Sara feels that life sometimes fits the so-called energy perseverance.

Although the monk lived for a long time, it was not much stronger to feel the world and really enjoy life than an ordinary person who died at the age of 6 or 70, or even worse.

In the past four hundred years, she has spent at least three hundred years in practice. The rest of the time is either used to find Lin Waner (Alani), or to develop a clearing meeting, and the time to enjoy life is almost zero.

In retrospect, the best time in life is actually the time that was deliberately practiced on the 100,000 mountains with Brother Lin Kailu.

At that time, Shi Zun Meng Changsheng (Willie) did not often ask about them. After a few days of closure, he took half an hour to check their progress, pointed a few words by the way, and then failed to close for several days.

So, during that time, almost even the two-person world.

Sara enjoys the feeling that the outside world is in chaos, but he can be at peace with his beloved, which will double his happiness.

In addition to this, the refined experience also brought her great expectations and excitement, which is equivalent to adding a powerful buff to happiness.

It's just that the beautiful feeling completely collapsed at the moment when her sword was stabbed, and since then, life has lost happiness, and the rest is just a distorted desire.

Sara, who is closing the gate at this time, did not focus on cultivation, but wanted to calm himself down here and think about the next life plan.

Four hundred years of finger flicking, she knew very well that she had entered the twilight years of life. She had hoped to get a hundred thousand times back to Dan and then continue for another five hundred years, but last time she went to 100,000 After the mountain, she has realized that Shi Zun Meng lived without a real death. It is likely to be just a small step in the huge game laid by Shi Zun.

In this way, the hope of renewing for another 500 years becomes more slim.

She just never wanted to understand that Shi Zun had been dormant in the 100,000 mountains for 400 years.

When the brain was racked and could not be solved, someone in the consciousness felt a few hundred meters deep above the dojo was approaching, and Jadiel came.

Jadiel came above the dojo, where there was a thick stone door.

Entering Shimen is considered to be the first pass in Sara Dojo.

Within the stone gate, there is Sara's formation protection, and then there is a well more than two hundred meters deep. At the bottom of the well, there is a stone door. Behind this stone door is where Sara closed for repair.

Jadiel stopped in front of the first stone gate above, and respected across the stone gate: " British Lord, there is something important to report! "

Wu Fei's eyebrows fuelled, and immediately got up and walked out of the dojo. The thick stone door below was easily pushed away by aura, that is, she stood under the well, and when she thought about it, people quickly vacated, and came to the wellhead in the blink of an eye. Above.

Immediately afterwards, the stone door above pushed away from both sides, Sara stepped out and looked at a cold-sweat Jadiel, and asked coldly: What happened to ""

Jadiel made up his mind, and his tone was a bit heavy: " British Lord, the book calls together, something happened to the dead in Morocco, all... ruined..."

Sara's face was shocked: " Morocco?!"
